YOUR BUILDINGS will look a hundred times better, last many years longer, and fetch a higher price in case you wish to sell if you keep them well and handsomely painted. A fine coat of paint is like a dress suit, and puts a building in proper shape for show. Nothing pays better than keeping a house up. It costs something to build and paint is a cheap preservative.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

IN SEARCH OF A DERELICT.

Revenue Cutter Sent Out to Find a Schooner With Valuable Merchandise.

Washington, May 14.—The secretary of the treasury has received a telegram from the North American Commercial company at San Francisco stating that the schooner General Siglin, one of their vessels, with eleven lives aboard and considerable treasure and merchandise, was seen on May 5, derelict, about 100 miles west of Queen Charlotte island, British Columbia. One body was distinctly seen lashed to the helm.

The secretary was asked to send a cutter in search of the missing vessel. This request was repeated in a telegram signed by the San Francisco chamber of commerce, the Union Iron works and the collector of the port at San Francisco.

In compliance with these requests, Captain Shoemaker, chief of the revenue cutter service, has directed the cutter Perry, now at Port Townsend, to proceed at once to the point indicated and if necessary to cruise in the vicinity for ten days.

The Corwin is also directed to sail at once and assist in the search. The Grant and the Rush in their cruise north will also aid in the work. If the Siglin is afloat it is very probable that she will be found within the next few days.

Italians Arrested For Assault.

Utica, N. Y., May 14.—Three Italians were arrested here charged with assault in the first degree. On the night of May 4 Frank Doxtader was shot and wounded in the village of Herkimer. It was supposed that his assailants were Italians who worked on the canal, but it was very difficult to obtain any clew. A few circumstances were patched together by Utica detectives, and three men were arrested. Inadvertently one of the number betrayed the fact that Colota, one of the trio, was the one who fired the four shots at Doxtader, two of which caused wounds. The prisoners have been removed to Herkimer.

Verdict Against Insurance Company.

Pittsburg, May 14.—In the United States circuit court the jury in the case of Mrs. Louise Morris against the Fidelity and Casualty company of New York rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $11,790, full amount of the policy, with interest, from March 19, 1894, the date of death. Morris was killed by falling from a skiff into Lake Chautauqua. The insurance company had refused to pay on the ground that he died from heart trouble and was not drowned.

Must Pay Their Taxes.

Boston, May 14.—A finding for the defendant was rendered by Judge Sheldon in the superior court in the case of the New England Theosophical Corporation versus the city of Boston. The action was brought to recover taxes paid under protest which were levied on the corporation's property in this city. The plaintiff contended that it was a religious society within the meaning of the law and that its property was exempt from taxation.

Whole Family Poisoned.

Hartford, May 14.—A family of four persons, that of William Kelley, residing at 2 Oak street and employed at the factories of the Pope Manufacturing company, have been seriously poisoned. When their condition was discovered, four physicians, who had been summoned, pronounced it a case of ptomaine poisoning, which may have resulted from impure milk or water. Two of the victims will probably die.

Cuban Rumors Denied.

Havana, May 14.—There is no truth in the report that the city is excited by rumors of an intended attack by General Gomez. There is no truth in the report that the forts have been regarrisoned and that new earthworks have been thrown up. No attack by General Gomez is expected. He is now in the eastern part of the province of Puerto Principe and has not been able to come westward.

Danger of a Flood.

Gardiner, Me., May 14.—The situation at Lake Cobbosseecontee, where the dam is very weak, has not improved. A large crew of men has been working hard to strengthen the dam of the Gardiner Water company, but the torrent has carried away many of the planks and logs, and the task is proving a difficult one. Property owners in the vicinity are greatly disturbed.

Object to Our Tariff.

Vienna, May 14.—At a large conference of Austrian manufacturers held here it was resolved to call upon the government to endeavor to conclude international agreements with European powers with a view of "effectually meeting the common danger to European economy arising from the prohibitive tariff policy of the United States."

To Inspect Forests.

Albany, May 14.—Lieutenant Governor Woodruff, State Engineer Adams and Commissioner Babcock, the forest preserve board, together with the forest expert of the fisheries, game and forest commission, Colonel Fox, have gone to inspect some 250,000 acres of land which have been offered to the state for sale in the vicinity of the Black river watersheds.

Suicide of a Wealthy Farmer.

Olean, N. Y., May 14.—Benjamin Hinman, a well to do farmer of Hinsdale, committed suicide at his home in that village. He shot himself through the temple. He was a brother of M. E. Hinman, president of the Brooks Locomotive works of Dunkirk, N. Y.

SITUATION IN CUBA.

Action May Be Taken For the Relief of the Inhabitants.

DESTITUTION AMONG THE AMERICANS.

The President, However, Will Ask For More Information Before Taking Any Steps Toward Sending Relief to the People of the Island.

Washington, May 14.—There was a sudden and violent outbreak of Cuban sentiment at the capitol, and during the early hours the drift of opinion was strongly toward speedy and radical action by both congress and the executive, but later there was somewhat of a reaction, upon its becoming known that the president, while keenly alive to the situation and anxious to learn everything possible that could guide his conduct of our Cuban and Spanish relations, felt that further information was necessary and that for the immediate present the question was not one of recognition of the belligerency or independence of the Cuban insurgents, but of relief for the American citizens destitute and helpless in the towns of the queen of the Antilles. The senate foreign relations committee, it should be stated, while agreeing with the necessity for relief of the suffering Americans, is favorable to more radical measures, and a number of its members are earnestly desirous of instant action by the executive in aid of the insurgents, but have not succeeded in converting the administration to their views that present action is appropriate and imperative.

The event of the day was a report to their colleagues by the subcommittee of the foreign relations committee, which examined the state department Cuban reports. This statement, though not given to the public, was so far disclosed in character as to give rise to a good deal of excited comment among senators and members.

Destitution Among American Residents.

The report, based upon facts presented by the United States consuls, it is said, brings out in strong relief the destitution which exists not only among the Cubans, but among the Americans and pacificos now on the island, who were driven from their farms and into the towns by Weyler's orders and thereby prevented from supporting themselves.

For several days past the subject matter of this report has been under discussion quietly among a few of the friends of Cuba in congress, and they have lost no opportunity of impressing upon the president their conviction that it is his duty as the chief executive to delay no longer in taking active steps to terminate the present condition of affairs in Cuba.

These representations, however, have not been sufficient to induce hasty action. The president is moving steadily and with all speed that safety and sound judgment warrant in the collection of facts touching the conditions that exist upon the island today. To this end Mr. Calhoun is now in Cuba officially on another mission, but also charged with the observation of the conditions that prevail. When he has reported to the president and the latter has gathered what he regards as a sufficient store of information based on facts that cannot be questioned, he will be ready to take himself or to suggest to congress such action as these facts will warrant. Meanwhile he has under earnest consideration the best means of affording relief to Americans suffering as a result of the conditions on the island.

The president saw by appointment Mr. Edwin T. Atkyns of Boston, who is largely interested in Cuban sugar plantations. Mr. Atkyns was in Washington on personal business, which brought him in contact with Secretary Long, an old friend. To further Mr. Atkyns' business the secretary took him to the White House and presented him to the president. The latter, learning that Mr. Atkyns had just returned from Cuba, began to chat with his visitor as to the state of affairs as they revealed themselves to a business man, and Mr. Atkyns gave him a faithful picture of the economic conditions that prevailed in Havana and in other portions of the island when he left. His story was so interesting that the president summoned Judge Day, assistant secretary of state, across to the White House to hear it. Mr. Day, had very little to say about the military situation in Cuba, and what he did utter in that connection did not indicate any leaning on his part toward either the Spanish or the insurgent side.

At the Spanish legation the news of the developments at the capitol was received with composure. Of course the action of the committee could not be openly discussed without violation of the strict etiquette which governs the diplomatic body in its relations to congress, but it was suggested that the fact that the entire attention of the senate for months to come would be engrossed by the tariff bill might have determined the friends of the Cubans to endeavor to secure some sort of action by congress before the tariff debates begin.

Spanish Attempts at Alleviation.

It is not denied at the legation that suffering exists in Cuba, but such suffering, it was said, is almost always incident to war. It is contended that the Spanish government has done all that it could with the means at hand to alleviate this distress. It was pointed out that Spain has granted permission to the Red Cross through Miss Barton to extend its good offices to the destitute in Cuba and moreover will not place any obstacles in the way of any proper charity in the United States which has the same end in view. All that is asked is that the food supplies contributed for the relief of the destitute are not used to maintain the Cuban insurrectionary forces in their resistance to the Spanish government.

Rhode Island's State Flower.

Providence, May 14.—The school children of Rhode Island, who have been casting ballots for a state flower for several days, favored the violet by a vote of 10,013 out of the total number of 42,209 votes cast.

Against Foreign Convict Goods.

London, May 14.—In the house of commons the bill to prevent the importation of goods manufactured in foreign prisons passed the second reading.

MARSHAL SMALLEY RESIGNED.

Would Not Stand Trial on the Charges Preferred Against Him.

Marshal Walter Smalley, of the borough, against whom charges were preferred, has tendered his resignation which has been accepted by the License and Marshal Committee. The marshal was watched at different times and it was learned that they were never able to find him, and on one occasion Chief Marshal Wilson searched for him with the same result. About 5 o'clock in the morning the officer was seen coming out of his house, and instead of making a trip about his territory to see that everything was all right, he walked to the station house, reported, and went home. This, it is understood, is only one of the many such performances; and he has been closely watched by his superior officers who came to the conclusion that the man was not doing his duty.

HELD FOR THE GRAND JURY.

Golanski to Answer to the Charge of Felonious Assault.

The case of Mrs. Kiedy Zaremba against Valentine Golanski, charged with felonious assault on two different occasion, was tried yesterday afternoon before Justice Mosher. Judge DeMeza represented the plaintiff and William Sweeney appeared for W. K. McClure; counsel for the defendant. Judge DeMeza employed the services of a court interpreter, for the woman was unable to talk English. She told the Court, through the interpreter, that on two different occasions Golanski entered her house and assaulted her.

Justice Mosher held the man for the Grand Jury in the sum of $200. No objection whatever was made on the part of the defendant and he had nothing to say.

Leveling the Bridge Approach.

The people of Plainfield who have had occasion to feel grateful for the temporary foot-bridge erected on Watchung avenue over the brook, will be pleased to learn that J. Fred MacDonald, the grocer, intends to have the uneven ground about the bridge made even and he will also have a bridge placed across the raceway on a line with the sidewalk passing the Y. M. C. A. building so that people can walk in a straight line from Front street to the borough or vice versa. At present persons going that way are obliged to walk over uneven ground and go a considerable distance around to reach the new bridge.

in the gymnasium and one after, showing the all-around development attained. The only demension not increased, he explained, was that of the head which was just the same size. He also explained how the Christian influences were quietly brought to bear on the boys working in the gymnasium.

After Mr. Haywood's remarks, President Murray announced that arrangements had been made with Mr. Haywood to have him remain for another year. The statement was received with applause.

Mr. Murray said that one of the greatest attractions of the association was the assistant secretary and he called on Assistant Secretary F. O. Bristol for a few remarks on the advantages and pleasures of the Northfield encampment. Mr. Bristol's remarks were well received.

The membership committee had two announcements to make. H. M. Maxson gave them in the absence of the chairman of that committee. One was that every member who secures three new members will be credited with a free membership, which can be kept or transferred to another, and that one-third of all the value of the new memberships brought in will be credited to the account of the member bringing them, to be used to pay for his own membership or who else he designates.

The other announcement was that all members who have the $2 membership shall be entitled to all the gymnasium, swimming pool, and wheel room privileges between June 1st and September 15th.

The report of the nominating committee was called for. Nelson Runyon, chairman of the committee, nominated the following: President, William D. Murray; vice-president, E. L Bonny; recording secretary, A. B. Beers; corresponding secretary, John Valiant; treasurer, H. O. Newman; directors, Ernest R. Ackerman, Geo. H. Batchelor, Stephen Cahoone, Geo. S. Clay, George M. Rittenhouse, James W. Jackson, Curtis M. Thorpe, A. C. La Boyteaux, Henry M. Maxson, Nelson Runyon, R. H. Radford, George A. Strong, George A. Chapman. They were all unanimously elected on one ballot.

Roger F. Murray introduced a resolution thanking the proprietors and reporters of the daily papers for their kindness and courtesy in extending the use of their columns to the association. That motion was unanimously carried. Another vote of thanks was given to J. Wesley Johnson for his gift of six dozen knives for use in the culinary department of the association. The meeting then adjourned.

The dinner that was served in the early part of the evening was under the charge of the following committee; Mrs. J. W. Gavett, Mrs. Frank T. Clauson, Mrs. William D. Murray, Mrs. Roger F. Murray, Mrs. S. R. Struthers, Mrs. L. M. French, Mrs. J. H. Manning, Miss Carrie Dewey, and Miss Ella Osborne.

A NEW DISCOVERY by the SHAKERS.

For more than a hundred years the Mount Lebanon Shakers have studied the cultivation of medicinal plants and sought to extract from them their healing essences. Their labor has not been spent in vain. They have made a discovery that will prove a blessing to mankind. It consists of a cordial that causes immediate relief in cases of indigestion. The importance of this discovery will be apparent when we realize that nearly nine-tenths of our suffering are caused by dyspepsia or indigestion. Nearly every person you meet has this digestive trouble in some of its varied forms—sick headache, distress after eating, pain and fullness in the chest after eating, palpitation of the heart, etc., are but symtoms of indigestion. To relieve these sufferings has been the study of the Shakers, and they have succeeded. The reason the Shaker Digestive Cordial has such an immediate and salutary effect is that it causes the food eaten to be digested, for it is undigested food that causes the distress. The Cordial causes the food to be digested before there is time for it to ferment and sour on the stomach. When the food is so digested it gives strength and vigor to the feeble body, makes one feel bright and cheerful, and makes one gain in flesh.

The Digest Cordial is so prompt in its actions that the very first dose will have a perceptibly favorable result. It gives immediate relief.

Every druggist has been sent a supply of our handsome Donkey Puzzle Books, and a copy may be had for the asking. It tells all about the Cordial as well as Loxol, the new castor oil.

Try a twenty five cent bottle of Digestive Cordial and see what it will do for you.

HE WAS HEIR TO RICHES.

Huff Died Before Receiving $4,000,000 Left Him.

Lawyer Robert Carey's office, Davidson building, Jersey City, has been besieged in the past few days by citizens of Rahway and Plainfield, who during the year 1893 loaned money and sold property to one John Huff, who awoke one morning to find himself sole heir to a fortune of $4,000,000 left by a Californian.

The story is that Charles B. Easthoff, who bequeathed the estate to Huff, in 1876, came on from San Francisco, Cal., in company with his father to see the Centennial Exposition. The father was taken ill at Plainfield where he was attended by Dr. Gerard. Chas. Easthoff, who was then a lad of 12 years, formed a strong attachment for Huff, who was at that time employed by Dr. Gerard. They soon became fast friends, and later when old Mr. Easthoff had recovered and was about to leave for the West he gave $500 to Huff.

A few years later both Mr. and Mrs. Easthoff died. Charles, the son, was the only heir. In his will his father gave all his property to his son, with the condition attached thereto that none of the money should be given to his only living relative, an uncle, James Easthoff. Young Easthoff occasionally visited Huff.

After his death lawyers wrote Huff apprising him of his good fortune, at time advising him to keep quiet and not disclose to any one his windfall. This Huff did until 1893, when the news leaked out. The uncle then came on and protested the will, on the grounds of "lack of capacity" and "undue influence."

The case is still in litigation.

Huff, expecting that there would be no trouble in getting his money, bought a house from J. T. Vail, a Plainfield real-estate dealer, for $13,000, agreeing to pay for it when he got his money.

He formerly boarded with Mrs. Neighbor, on East Front street, Plainfield, she agreeing to wait for payment until Huff received his millions.

Huff, according to Mrs. Neighbor, received only enough money up to the time of his death to pay his expenses to and from Philadelphia during the trial of the contest. At one time, she asserts, the executors drew up a check for $25,000 to Huff, but through the interference of the uncle some technicality was raised which prevented Huff from cashing it.

While waiting for his fortune Huff died.

R. V. Ohl, of Jobstown, a well-known lover of horse racing, at the present time one of the Judges in the racing circuit, visited Plainfield today for the purpose of interesting owners of cattle and poultry in the coming inter-State fair at Norfolk, Va., October 5th to 14th.

REPORTS OF THE Y. M. C. A. COMMITTEE ON EDUCATIONAL WORK.

The Studies Include Several Courses and Each One the Pupils Have Been Progressed in a Very Creditable Manner.

The following is the report offered by the educational committee at the annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening:

This department of our work was formerly opened on Tuesday evening, October 13th, with puplic exercises in this hall. There were ninety-one present, principally young men, who were privileged to hear a most instructive address on education by Dr. Richards; after the meeting an opportunity was afforded to those who wished to join the classes, to enroll their names, and also to meet with the teachers, and members of the committee.

Class work began about October 15th and closed in April, some classes finishing early in the month. The average attendance for the year was fifty-three, in seven classes, and the details of work in those are as follows:

"Three Years Mechanical Course" is the title of our most important class, that is, if we have any right to distinguish it in this manner. It is composed of young men from the different machine shops in Plainfield, and is divided into three sections, "Mechanical Drawing, Mathematics, Primary, and Advanced." The instructors are George H. Scull, Jr., and Frank D. Randall, assisted by W. A. Mitchel and Joseph D. Fuller. Counting the three divisions as one class there has been an average attendance of eighteen for the current year, and the examinations held at the close of term demonstrated the fact that excellent work had been accomplished. April closed the second year in this three years course of study, and the decrease in attendance indicates the thorough nature of the work, as some students who would not give the attention and study required left the class, and others were no doubt somewhat discouraged at the standard of work to which the instructors have adhered.

Stenography has always had a prominent place in our educational work, and as was noted in last year's report many practical results have been evident, showing the value of this study to young men, in enabling them to secure positions which they could not have obtained without the knowledge acquired in this class. Edgar F. Sheppard has been in charge of this branch of study, and there has been the same falling off in attendance; the class, commencing with eleven, and only six finishing the course. The average attendance for the term was eight, and the six scholars who completed the prescribed course were qualified to act as stenographers, at a fair rate of speed, and we hope to report in the future what some of these men have been able to accomplish as the result of their study.

Our book-keeping class has been under the charge of G. E. Fuller and Max Moraller, who have this year planned and carried out a course of work covering the entire term. Commercial arithmetic, penmanship and business correspondence have been taught in this class, and the scholars have been carefully drilled in elementary work, and also instructed in book keeping, the teachers using Coleman's text-book, average attendance twelve.

Our German class has suffered a loss this year in the removal of Rev. Mr. Kionka from Plainfield. He was a faithful and most acceptable teacher, having taught the class from the time of its organization. Rev. Mr. Hauser, who has taken Mr. Kionka's place, speaks well of the class and seems to be greatly encouraged by the interest shown on the part of its members. The average attendance for the year has been eleven.

Spanish has been taught for the last two years by J. A. Costales; the increasing use of this language in commercial life making it a necessity for young men entering certain lines of business. The class has been small, the largest attendance only six and the average four.

While we may be somewhat disappointed that a larger number of young men have not availed themselves of the privileges afforded by these classes, yet we can survey the work of this past year with a considerable degree of satisfaction, knowing that the work has been thorough, and that both teachers and students have entered into it with great interest and have been faithful and persevering. The quality has certainly improved, if the numbers have not increased, and this is a substantial gain that we fully appreciate. There are a large number of young men in the machine shops in Plainfield who need just these ad-

AN ENDEAVOR SERVICE.

PRAYER, PRAISE AND TESTIMONY MADE A STIRRING MEETING.

The Senior and Junior Endeavor Societies of the Park Avenue Baptist Church Held a Union Service Last Evening.

A union meeting of the Young People's and Junior Endeavor Societies of the Park Avenue Baptist church was held last night, with Mrs. Wheaton S. Lowry and Miss Emma Virginia Fish, Junior superintendents, and Miss Delice Purdy, president of the Junior Society, as leaders. The service, which was an interesting and helpful one throughout, opened with a song by the Juniors, who were seated in the front of the room. A song, "There is a Green Hill Far Away," with autoharp accompaniment, was sung by Miss M. G. Morse, of the Congregational Christian Endeavor Society, after which prayer was offered by Miss Fish, the Scripture lesson was read by Miss Purdy, and Miss Fish said a few earnest words on the topic of the evening, "Why I love Jesus." The meeting then being thrown open for testimony, the Juniors outstripped the older Endeavorers in their readiness to tell of their love to the Saviour. Scripture verses were read, helpful words of testimony given, and sentence prayers offered. A pretty little song, "A Little Golden Sunbeam," was very sweetly sung by a tiny Junior, Miss Florence Smalley, another solo, with autoharp, "I Love my Lord and Master," was given by Miss Morse, and all the Juniors united in a very interesting Scripture exercise. Then Mrs. Lowry, who had been the real leader of the meeting, asked Miss Florence G. Hawkins, secretary of the local union, to say a few words to the children. Miss Hawkins has often addressed far larger audiences, but never one more appreciative than the children who listened, absorbed, to her story of a New York State Junior Endeavor Society and their meetings at the home of a little blind girl, who, the day six of her little friends graduated from the Junior into the older society, graduated into the great assembly of Christ's people in heaven. In closing, she said, "These Juniors found a beautiful work to do for the Saviour they loved. What are we doing, what can we do, for Jesus?"

"God be with you till we meet again" was now sung by the members of both societies, then the Mizpah benediction closed a meeting which could not fail to be helpful to all present, and which reflected great credit on the faithful Christian work done among the children by the Junior superintendents.

THE GRIST OF CITY COURT

MINOR OFFENDERS WHO APPEARED BEFORE JUDGE DE MEZA.

A Man Who Swore, Two Women Who Fought, a Health Ordinance Violator and a Hackman Made Up the Arraigned

City Judge DeMeza convened his regular session of the City Court this morning to mete out judgment to several offenders of different kinds.

Charles Carr, colored, caused Plainfield avenue to assume a bluish tint and sulphurous odor by an unusual amount of profanity last evening. His language was so bad that Patrolman Myers took him to the city jail to disinfect it. This morning he was brought before the Judge and pleaded guilty. A crowd of relatives and friends came down to hear his trial. The Judge ordered him to the county jail for ten days or offered to take $3 for the city treasury instead.

Mrs. Comiskey and Mrs. Murphy have been having all kinds of times together. Clubs were used and words flew about in a highly exciting manner until one of the matrons made a complaint on the otner. After listening to the stories and hearing innumerable corrections, the Judge dismissed the complaint as being beyond the ken of man to discover what the trouble was over. He placed them both under $100 bond to keep the peace in the future.

Charles McCarty explained that it was a bad mistake on the part of Board of Health Inspector Addis that he was brought before the Judge, but the Inspector did not agree. A complaint had been made against McCarty for violating the health ordinance and the Judge set the trial down for next Sunday morning.

Hackman Charles Barry was up again. Roundsman Flynn said that he had been soliciting passengers from the sidewalk, but Barry said that he could explain everything. The Judge suspended sentence without hearing the evidence, but warned Barry if he was brought up and convicted of violating the hack ordinance, the court would revoke his license and he would drive a hack no more.

CLAWSON GAVE ADVICE.

WROTE TO HIS RELATIVES TO LIVE AS THE BIBLE TAUGHT.

The Whole Tone of His Letters Was to Avoid Living in Ignorance of the Scripture—He Seemed to Be Willing to Die.

Elmer Clawson, who was executed at Somerville last Wednesday, wrote the following letters to the persons named in them:

Somerville, N. J., May 11th, 1897.

My Dear Loving Mother—As this will be my last letter to you, I bid you farewell. How often I have regretted the good advice given me when now I see my folly. I hope it will be a lesson to my brothers and associates.

The time is fast approaching when I am soon to meet my God and my leader to eternal rest, and I am ready in body and soul, only too anxious for the hour to arrive. I hope it's God's will that I shall meet you there.

May His blessings rest upon you and father and my brothers and sisters.

We will soon understand it all. Your life and mine will soon be over. Thanks be to God Who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

It is my last wish that you teach my brothers and sisters to love God and keep His commandments, and not follow the life I led here on this earth. It is my sincere wish that God's blessing will rest upon Mrs. Hodgetts, and her dear little children

May God's blessing rest upon Sheriff Wyckoff and the turnkey, Johnny Amerman, for they have been very kind to me, and also upon Mr. Steele and Jimmy Meehan, for it is beyond my power to thank them enough.

Farewell, dear mother, until we meet again.

Elmer Clawson.

P. S.—On Christ the solid rock I stand, all other ground is sinking sand.

ELMER CLAWSON.

Somerville, N. J., May 11th, 1897.

Dear Brother George—As this will be my last letter to you, and I am going to meet my God, I hope with all my heart that you and your wife will surely meet me there. Dear brother, I hope that you will never lead the life I have on this earth. How often have I regretted that I had not taken my kind friends' advice. I sincerely wish that George, if you have any good advice given on this earth, try and live up to it. But above all, look to God for He is your Saviour. Oh, George, what a comfort He has been to me. If I had only given myself to Him before, I would not have to suffer for this crime. I find it's very easy, George, all you have to do is to put your trust in God and do what is right. It is my wish, George, that you live a straightforward, upright life. May God's blessing rest upon you and your family. Hoping that we will all meet in Heaven.

Farewell until we meet again.

Elmer Clawson.

Somerville, N. J., May 11th, 1897.

Dear Brother Charley—As the time is fast approaching when I will have to leave this world, I can feel that I am going to a better world, and my sincere wish is that I may meet you there. But, dear brother, you have a long ladder to climb: by going one round at a time, you will surely get there. It is very easy if you only believe. Put your trust in God and do what is right. Go to church and Sunday-school and pray to God to give you salvation. Read good books and associate in good company; serve God and keep His commandments

Dear brother, don't put off until tomorrow what you can do today, for if you reach the top round of the ladder, you want to improve each shining hour, for you have a great work to do It is very easy. All you have to do is to trust in God and do what is right.

Hoping I will meet you in Heaven, I bid you a farewell. Elmer Clawson.

P. S.—Drop the anchor, furl the sail, I am safe within the vale.

Wednesday morning, Clawson dictated the following letter to Sheriff Wyckoff:

Somerville, N. J., May 12th, 1897.

W. H. H. Wyckoff:

My Dear Friend—I want you to say to all of my young friends that they must remember this warning, let strong drink alone, and never be found in bad company, for I am sure that these have been the folly of my life. And now, young friends, take warning, for I now can see the folly of both. I am a happy boy now and want to meet you all in Heaven.

Sincerely yours,

Elmer Clawson.

Cadets Exhibition Drill.

The cadet corps of Rutgers College held its exhibition drill in Nelson Field, New Brunswick, yesterday afternoon, before a large audience. The cadets now number over 100 and are divided into four companies under the command of an officer of the U. S. Army. The college boys made an excellent showing in the role of soldier boys and passed through the manoeuvres creditably. A feature of the drill was a sham battle in which all four companies took part.

After dress parade the new appointments for the year were read and the drill was over There were a number of visitors from Plainfield present at the drill.

MUST RESPECT THE COPS!

TWO YOUNG MEN FINED $10 EACH FOR SASSING OFFICER CASH.

The Finale in the Police Court Comedy Where in the Prologue the Officer Had Made His Fat Body a Human Barricade.

The two young men who figured so prominently in the collision with Patrolman Cash, a week ago, appeared before City Judge DeMeza this morning. The young men in question were Fred Stack and Fred Vieweg, both book-keepers at the Scott Press Works.

It will be remembered that they were riding home from New Brunswick, late last Saturday evening, and that Stack had no light, his lamp having been stolen in New Brunswick. Cash ordered them to stop, and when they did not, he interposed his ponderous form in the path of the first cyclist, Viewig, with serious results. The young men, Cash claims, swore at him roundly, and Vieweg admitted that he did call Cash unpleasant names, but because he thought he deserved them.

Last Monday morning, the young men appeared in court in a rather unpleasant humor and were quite free in their comments.

This morning they appeared before the Judge in a different humor. The Judge had been looking into the matter and had heard both sides of the story. A number of well-known citizens had appeared and spoken for the good character of the young men

The Judge censured them both for their language and said that young men in their position should have known better than to do what they did. He also said that the police of this city should not have allowed such actions to go by without locking up the offenders.

Stack had already been fined $2 for riding without a light and the Judge sentenced him to pay a fine of $8 Vieweg was ordered to pay a fine of $10.

BABY CARRIAGE RAN AWAY.

A Young Son of Charles Hook Narrowly Escaped Serious Injury.

The five-year-old son of Charles Hook, of the Crescent flats, Watchung avenue, met with an accident last evening that came near proving fatal. The child is an invalid and was being wheeled about in a baby carriage, last evening. The first drops of the storm were felt and Mrs. Hook was hurrying home. She brought the carriage up on the broad stone at the head of the steps which lead to the entrance to the flats and turned to open the door. Not knowing that there was a slight incline to the stone, she released her hold on the handle of the baby carriage and it rolled along the stone and down the steps. As the last step was reached, the carriage was overturned and the child thrown out.

An Array of Fine Musical Talent.

P. Ludwig Conde, whose skill as a violinist is well known, will hold his annual concert in the Y. M. C. A. hall, on Tuesday evening. He will be assisted by W. Paulding DeNicke, 'cellist, Charles Lester Eick, pianist, and Miss Charlotte Cave and Clarence Mills, two of his pupils. There will be an orchestra of twenty pieces. Miss Clyde Burnet will act as accompanist for the soloists. Mr. Conde believes in popular prices and so he has fixed the price of admission at twenty-five cents.

To Furnish Hotel Music.

P. Ludwig Conde, the well-known musician of this city, has accepted an offer from Manager Charles E. Leland, of the Windsor Hotel, Fifth avenue, New York, to furnish music and conduct the orchestra for the Hotel Childwold, Lake Massawepie, in the Adirondacks for the season. This hotel is one of the leading society resorts in the Adirondacks during the summer months and is every year thronged with guests from New York and surrounding large cities. Besides the concert that is given in the dining hall every evening, hops and informal dances are frequent.

A Contrast.

The greatest velocity attained by a whale when struck by a harpoon is nine miles an hour. When people are struck with a proper consciousness of the care required to prevent the evils that follow neglect of the eyes, they make better time than that in the direction of Collier's, where reliable advice as to the preservation of the sight is assured to all who call.

Handsome Residence to be Built.

David C. Smalley, the North avenue butcher, has purchased a fine building lot on East Front street, near the residence of Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, and will erect a handsome dwelling house on it. The plans for the residence have already been drawn and it will be erected this summer.

THE BURGLAR AT LAST?

NOTED CROOK WHO MAY HAVE ROBBED FIRST NATIONAL BANK.

Patrick Flannigan Arrested in Ohio, Charged With Being Concerned in the Robbery of the Yonkers Bank.

After over two years from the time the First National Bank robbery took place in this city, the police have made a capture of a notorious thief who they believe was concerned in it. He is Patrick Flannigan, best known in the world of crooks as "Little Patsey." Flannigan was arrested in Elyria, O., yesterday, charged with being one of the men who robbed the Yonkers Savings Bank on April 12th last.

It is said that ever since the robbery of the First National Bank was enacted on April 22d, 1895, when $22,675 was got away with, the Pinkerton detectives have been working to ferret out the burglars. Time and again they have followed up all kinds of clews, but always without capturing their man.

Though it was never possible to determine just how many men were concerned in the operation that relieved the First National Bank of the above sum of money, the detectives believe that six skilled burglars were in the deal.

Flannigan was only twenty-two years old at the time the crime was committed, and it is believed that it was he who did the sneak act by carrying the money out of the bank vault by some hocus pocus. Since then he has been concerned in several robberies.

The events leading up to the arrest of Flannigan are most interesting. At the time of the Yonkers sensation no one seemed able to give anything like an intelligent description of the men in the job. Lyman Cobb, the aged cashier of the bank, was so bewildered by the affair, that he was able to give the detectives little aid. A few days after the robbery, however, he recalled quite distinctly the faces of the men who had held him up. He visited the detective agency in New York and inspected the pictures of many noted bank thieves. One after another was passed by the aged cashier, until his eyes rested upon a photograph of "Little Patsey."

Flannigan kept out of the way for several weeks. It is believed that he came back to New York soon after the robbery with "Wally" Connors. If so, he did not stay long. He soon went west, and was traced to Elyria, his old home.

Flannigan in addition to his nickname of "Little Patsey," is known also as Parker, John Moran and "Patsey" Harrington.

RECEPTION TO DRUMMERS.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Terry Acted as Pleasant Hosts Last Night.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Terry, Jr., of Manning avenue, gave a pleasant reception last evening to the Independent Fife and Drum Corps, of which Mr. Terry is a member. About 8 o'clock the corps marched from their rooms to the home of Mr. Terry, and popular music was discoursed on the way over. When they reached their destination they were given a hearty welcome to the new home. All formalities were dispensed with and everybody went in for a good time.

During the evening there were vocal solos by Frank Manchester, Edward Vail and Mr. Clark; banjo solos by Willard Force and James Stryker, and sleight-of-hand performances by Horance Adams. Every number was well received and in many instances encores were given. After this part of the programme all present were invited to adjourn to the dining room where a sumptuous repast was in waiting. While the inner man was being filled there was sociability and a good time in general. At a late hour the guests departed for home all wishing Mr. and Mrs. Terry many happy days and prosperity.

Did She Take the Money?

Vetell Missicks, of No. 532 West Fourth street, appeared before Justice Mosher yesterday and had a warrant issued for the arrest of Mrs. Estranga, of Rock avenue. It is charged that on Thursday the woman entered the house of the former and seeing a small amount of money on the table she picked it up and walked away with it. Missicks now brings action to recover. The case will be heard tonight at 8 o'clock.

TRINITY NEEDS ROOM.

PLAN FOR THE ENLARGEMENT OF THE SUNDAY-SCHOOL QUARTERS.

H. E. Gayle Suggests That the Church Proper Be Elevated Seven Feet and the Improvement Built Beneath It.

For a long time the need of more church room has been urgently felt by the church workers and attendants of Trinity Reformed church, and the lack of ample facilities has, in a way, often times deterred them from progressing further in their efforts to extend the gospel. This has been especially so of the Sunday-school, which is now the second in size of attendance in the city, as the room allotted to its use is filled to overflowing. While, of course, none who desire to enter the school are turned away, it is a fact that the officers are unable to invite those who do not now attend a Sunday-school, simply because there is not room to quarter them in.

At a meeting of the consistory of the church last Thursday at the home of Elder Geo. L. VanEmburgh, the matter of providing more room was taken up and a plan that seems entirely feasible, discussed. H. E. Gayle, the well-known contractor, who is a member of the consistory, offered a plan that would seem to remedy the trouble if put into operation.

It was to elevate the present building seven feet, and then beneath it construct a Sunday-school and lecture room that would be the size of the present auditorium floor, whereas, the present basement is only one-half the size of the floor surface of the church. The improvement, he proposes, would be divided into seven class rooms, ladies' parlors and other rooms needed in church work. The elevation of the church proper would make the new room two feet below the surface of the ground, thus making only three or four steps to get inside. There will be entrances on either side of the church instead of on one side as is now the case.

The present basement would be utilized as a storeroom and cellar for the heating apparatus.

In front of the elevated portion of the building would be constructed a broad piazza, with steps leading up in the centre of the church.

If the improvements are made the whole edifice will probably be renovated, redecorated and new carpets laid, so as to appear as bright and handsome as a new building.

The whole matter of the improvements has been referred to G. L. VanEmburgh, H. E. Gayle and E. E. Anthony, and they will report at a future meeting of the consistory.

AN AFTERNOON RUNAWAY.

A Horse Belonging to Henry DeMott Ran Through Crowded Business Streets.

A lively runaway occurred on Park and North avenues, yesterday afternoon. The horse attached to Henry DeMott's express wagon was going down North avenue in the direction of Park avenue, when the wagon started up an unusual effort of the horse, struck against his hind feet. The horse, frightened by the contact, started to run. Alonzo Smith was driving and managed to guide the horse into Park avenue where he was thrown into the body of the wagon by a sudden bounce. The horse ran up Park avenue narrowly missing the vehicles with which the street was thronged. The frightened animal turned up Fifth street and ran for some distance before being stopped. No damage was done.

UNION'S GRAND JURY.

Brings in the Smallest Number of Indictments Known.

The Union County Grand Jury finished its labors for the May term yesterday. The outcome was the smallest number of indictments that has ever been found at any term since the county was formed, and also the lowest in the magnitude of complaints considered.

The most serious of the lot was a case of breaking and entering, and nearly all the other indictments are assault and battery cases.

The Grand Jury brought in a presentment against Patrick Faughnan, William J. Corbett and Percy Van Houten for constructing an ancient water-course in the suburbs of Elizabeth, thereby causing a pond of putrid water to form.

The offenders were ordered to abate the nuisance immediately.

Dr. Lassing Dead.

The death of Henry Lassing, M. D., occurred this morning at the residence of his brother-in-law, Charles Hunter, of West Seventh street. Heart failure was the cause of death. The funeral services will be held Monday morning at 11:15 from the residence of Mr. Hunter. Interment will be at Perth Amboy.

TALK ON TARIFF BILL

Democratic Members of the Committee Differ as to Its Policy.

SOME PREFER A SUBSTITUTE BILL.

A Large Number, However, Agree to Stand by the Wilson Bill, Which, Though Not Perfect, Is Still a Democratic Measure.

Washington, May 14.—There is some difference of opinion among the Democratic members of the senate committee on finance as to the policy to be pursued in regard to the tariff bill. Some of them, notably Senator Gorman, are of the opinion that the Democrats should prepare a substitute bill and introduce it. They suggest that this substitute should embody the Democratic idea as to the tariff, giving uniformly lower rates than the Republican bill, either as prepared in the house or as amended by the senate committee on finance. They contend that the Wilson law is not a clear embodiment of Democratic tariff doctrine in that it not only does not produce sufficient revenue, but that it carries many features which were inserted at the instance of Republican senators in order to secure its passage through the senate.

There is, however, quite a pronounced opposition to this programme on the part of many Democratic senators, including several members of the committee on finance. They take the position that the safest course for the party to take is to stand by the Wilson bill, which, while it is not perfect, is still a Democratic measure. The party, they say, has taken the position that no tariff legislation is necessary. The campaign was fought on another issue, and they hold that to raise the tariff question on their own motion would be inconsistent and unwise.

Those who hold to this idea are willing that amendments should be offered covering all the schedules, and it seems probable that this course will be pursued. The amendments will provide amendments practically on the line of the Wilson law.

Discussion on Cuban Affairs.

The conference between Assistant Secretary Day and Senor Dupuy de Lome lasted for over an hour and was confined entirly to a discussion of the extension of relief measures. No objection was made in behalf of the Spanish government to the supply of food, medicine and clothing to the distressed Americans in Cuba, but it was clearly understood that the relief is to be extended only to Americans, through agencies not yet decided upon.

The Spanish authorities have not recorded any objection on their part to a general distribution, provided this is not carried to the extent of provisioning the insurgent forces in their resistance to Spain. On this point it can be stated positively that it is the present idea of the administration that it will have fulfilled all of its proper functions when it has cared for its own citizens.

Attention was called by the Spanish minister to the fact that the Red Cross had been given full permission to operate in Cuba and that in the distribution of its charities the society makes no distinction in nationalities, so that the distressed Spaniard, Cuban or American might with equal right claim its bounty.

Exports of Gold and Silver.

Washington, May 15.—The comparative April statement of the exports and imports of merchandise of gold and silver of the United States issued by the bureau of statistics shows as follows:

Merchandise.—Domestic exports, $76,176,997; increase as compared with April, 1896, $6,775,000; imports, $101,305,131, of which nearly 50 per cent was free of duty. As compared with April, 1896, there was an increase in dutiable imports of over $20,000,000 and of over $22,000,000 in nondutiable merchandise. For the ten months the exports of domestic merchandise exceeded those of the same period in 1896 by over $151,000,000. The imports of merchandise during the last ten months, however, were over $66,000,000 less than for the same period last year.

The amount of gold which was exported in April was $6,629,419, and the imports $619,452. During the last ten months the excess of gold imports over exports was $58,482,106.

The exports of silver during April amounted to $4,896,895 and the imports $587,124. For the last ten months the exports of silver exceeded the imports by $42,313,692.

Receivers Will Pay a Dividend.

Willimantic, Conn., May 15.—George E. Stiles and John M. Hall, receivers for the defunct Dime Savings bank of Willimantic, secured from the superior court an order to pay a dividend of 20 per cent to depositors of the defunct bank. This is the second dividend which has been ordered. The Willimantic Dime Savings bank, it will be remembered, was wrecked by irregular operations, which came to light after the death of the cashier, O. H. K. Risley, and the crash was one of the biggest in the history of Connecticut.

Found Guilty of Embezzlement.

Marion, Ills., May 15.—After being out 18 hours the jury in the case of Colonel William R. Brown and W. P. Bruner, indicted for the embezzlement of money deposited in their bank at Metropolis prior to its failure two years ago, brought in a verdict of guilty and fixed the penalty at one year in the penitentiary and a fine of $410 each. Great sympathy is expressed for the defendants on account of their old age—70 and 72 years. A motion for a new trial was made.

Ex-County Judge Dead.

Syracuse, May 15.—Ex-County Judge Henry Riegel is dead. He was for 20 years a county judge, which, at the expiration of his last term, 15 years ago, was said to be the longest period any one had served in that office in this state. He was 72 years old, prominent as a lawyer, a Republican and a citizen. He was the father of Charles F. Riegel of New York, the actor.

Ordered to Leave Paris.

Paris, May 15.—Tom Mann, the English labor agitator, who arrived here Monday to address a labor meeting, has been given 24 hours by the police to quit France. He replied that he would obey the order. The meeting was to have been held last night.

THE GOULD MILLIONS

Heirs Dissatisfied With the Surrogate's Appraisal.

WANT A REVISION OF THE DECISION.

The Other Side Is Also Displeased and Will Apply to Have a Change Made In the Ruling of the Court.

New York, May 15.—Some eighty odd millions of dollars left by Jay Gould were involved in a legal argument when an appeal from the order of the surrogate was heard in the appellate division of the supreme court.

The fact at issue was the determination of the value of the estate as a basis for the inheritance tax, and the title of the suit, as set forth in the papers, was: "In the matter of the appraisal of taxation, under the act in relation to taxable transfers of property, of the estate of Jay Gould."

Both sides appealed from the surrogate's decision. The Gould executors thought the surrogate erred when he refused to allow 1 per cent (among other things) to be deducted from the estate's value of $80,934,580.79 for the expenses of administration, instead of the $150,000 allowed.

The sum of $5,000,000 was allowed by the surrogate to George Gould for his services in his father's employ during the last ten years of Jay Gould's life. The comptroller claimed that this $5,000,000 was a bounty and that it should be taxed. He appeals from the surrogate's order, which holds that it is not taxable.

Dillon & Hubbard and Winslow S. Pierce appeared as attorneys for the executors—George J. Gould, Helen M. Gould, Edwin Gould and Howard Gould. The state comptroller and the comptroller of the city of New York had as attorneys of record ex-Senator David B. Hill and Benjamin F. Dos Passos.

The total value of Jay Gould's estate, as determined by David M. McClure, the appraiser, was $80,934,580. This appraiser found debts and liabilities of over $6,500,000, which included, however, the $5,000,000 for George J. Gould.

The surrogate decided that the state's inheritance tax should be paid on a sum between $72,000,000 and $73,000,000.

All the justices—Van Brunt, Ingraham, Williams, Patterson and Rumsey—were on the bench when the case was called.

Argument Begun.

The arguments in the case were begun by Lawyer Dos Passos, representing the state and city. He made a plea against the exemption from taxation of the $5,000,000 which went to George Gould under the eighth paragraph of the second codicil of the will, as follows:

"My beloved son, George J. Gould, having developed a remarkable business ability and having for twelve years devoted himself entirely to my interests and during the last five years having taken entire charge of all my difficult interests, I hereby fix the value of his said services at $5,000,000."

"We contend," said Mr. Dos Passos, "that this $5,000,000 was a gift and that the state is entitled to its proper tax on the money; that Appraiser McClure erred in omitting it from the taxable property in his report."

Ex-Judge Dillon, replying for the Gould estate, attempted to prove that the $5,000,000 was not a bounty, but a bona fide payment for services rendered and consequently not subject to the state tax. He quoted from two papers belonging to the late Jay Gould to show that for years previous to his death and previous to the making of his will it was his intention to reward the services of his son.

On the second round of the argument, Lawyer Dos Passos said it was absurd to appraise the value of a big block of securities at the price they would bring if all were thrown on the market at once, because such a sale would cause a semipanic in the market and put quotations abnormally low.

Mass Over Duc d'Aumale.

Paris, May 15.—The remains of the late Duc d'Aumale, who died on May 7 at his villa in Zuccos, Sicily, from shock experienced at hearing the news of the death of his niece, the Duchess d'Alencon, one of the victims of the charity bazaar fire, have arrived here from Sicily and been taken to the Church of the Madeleine, where a requiem mass will be celebrated on Monday next, at which M. Faure, president of the republic, will be represented in his capacity of officer of the Legion of Honor.

Pardoned by the President.

St. Louis, May 15.—A. B. Crawford, who has been serving a term in the state penitentiary at Jefferson City, Mo., on the charge of fraud in connection with the American National bank of Springfield, Mo., of which he was cashier, has been pardoned by President McKinley and released from prison. He was sentenced to five years, but President Cleveland commuted his sentence to three years, and the time would have expired on May 22.

Assault Was Justifiable.

Westfield, Mass., May 15.—Contractor Strong of Chicopee was acquitted in the district court on the charge of assaulting Deputy Sheriff Hosmer of this town. The case grew out of an attempt by Hosmer to seize property owned by Strong. The judge ruled that Hosmer had no right to make the seizure and that the assault by Strong was justified. Strong will bring suit for $10,000 against High Sheriff Clark of Springfield for false imprisonment.

Supposed Murdered Man Found.

Lancaster, N. Y., May 15.—The decomposed body of a man was found in the woods a short distance from here. What appears to be a bullet wound directly below the left ear indicates foul play. From the appearance of the body, death must have occurred three or four months ago.

Connecticut River Overflows.

Lancaster, N. H., May 15.—The Connecticut river here is very high, and the water has flooded the interval for miles. The Boston and Maine tracks are under water, and trains are delayed. Reports from other sections indicate high water in all the streams.

Weather Predictions.

The weather will be clear in the early morning; cooler; fresh westerly winds.

Spring Humors

During the colder season impure humors accumulate in the blood.

The surface of the body being chilled, the pores are closed and clogged, and impurities which might pass off in perspiration are forced back into the blood. Besides this, winter's hearty food, fats and sweets, contribute more impurities.

This briefly explains the existence of Spring Humors—those unsightly eruptions, painful boils, annoying pimples and other affections, which make the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla absolutely necessary at this season.

But with some people, impurities in the blood cause very different symptoms. The kidneys, liver and bowels are overmatched in their efforts to relieve the clogged system. Dizzy headaches, bilious attacks, failure of appetite, coated tongue, lame back, indigestion or that tired feeling are some of the results.

From the same cause may also come scrofula, neuralgia sciatica or rheumatism.

All these troubles and more may properly be called "Spring Humors," and just as there is one cause, a cure is found in just one remedy, and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the impure blood.
Hood's Sarsaparilla enriches that which is weak and thin.
Hood's Sarsaparilla vitalizes that which lacks vitality.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.
(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty-five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. SNEAK THIEF IN YALE

HE ROBBED ONLY THE RICHEST MEN.

Son of John D. Rockefeller Among the Victims of the Rascal—Suspects Are Being Watched by the Police, Who Think They Have a Clew.

New Haven, May 15.—It is now Yale's turn to have a student robbery. Old Eli could not well help but follow in the footsteps of Vassar, and so it is furnishing one of the most interesting cases of the spring.

The thief in this case made one of the most daring and successful raids in the history of the institution. He seemed to know all the possibilities, and he went to the right places and robbed the right students. His victims are the richest young freshmen in the university, and his gains are very large.

It appears from the stories told to the police that Percy A. Rockefeller, one of the sons of John D. Rockefeller, the great Standard Oil magnate, David D. Tenny and a number of other freshmen were in the swimming tank of the gymnasium and were having a very good time in the water.

They left their clothing in the dressing room attached to the gymnasium and had no thought of any robbery. From time to time students came from the dressing room and joined in the sport. There was splashing and ducking and other rough fun all the time the young men were in the tank, and so little attention was paid to the dressing room.

The Robbery Discovered.

After being in more than an hour the young men in the freshman party went to dress. They were laughing and joking over their sport when suddenly one of them felt for his watch and startled the other young men by exclaiming:

"By Jove, there's been a thief in here! My watch is gone!"

There was a hurried search of clothing that had contained valuables. Several of the boys had taken off rings before they went into the water. Some had had watches, and all had more or less money.

One after another reported the loss of some article, and immediately an alarm was given to the students who were still in the pool. Most of them rushed out, dripping with water, and hurriedly searched their clothes. The late comers found that their valuables were still intact. The robbery therefore must have occurred soon after the rich young men entered the place.

The heaviest loser was young Percy A. Rockefeller. He is always well supplied with money, and the thief caught him on one of his prosperous days. In his pocketbook he had left $150 in bills and a small check. These were taken, as well as some jewelry which he had left in his clothing.

David D. Tenny reported to the police that he also had lost a considerable sum of money and some valuable jewelry. It could not be learned just what students were losers and what was the amount of their losses, as the gymnasium and university authorities were extremely reticent.

Students Do Detective Work.

The intelligence of the robbery spread through student circles, and many of the young men started to do some quiet detective work. Several young fellows who were suspected of being capable of such actions were shadowed, but none could be found who had suspicious packages or large sums of money. If the thief had been apprehended, he would have received very rough treatment at the hands of the indignant students.

The losers put their case in the hands of the police, and detectives are now working on it. There is no suspicion that the thief is a professional from the outside, as it seems almost impossible for any one but a student to get into the gymnasium.

The sleuths therefore are looking into the actions of every student who was seen to enter the dressing room at the time of the robbery. They hint that they have a clew and that they will be able to fasten the crime on a young man who was seen to leave the room only a short time after the rich freshmen went into the swimming pool.

Some Other Robberies Here.

This is not the first case of thievery at Yale. The gymnasium committee has been bothered at intervals during this whole winter by complaints of students who have lost articles left in their clothing. Even the lockers have not afforded security, for several times watches have been taken from clothing left in them, and it is suspected that some one has duplicate keys.

A student was discovered going through the clothing of other students in the dressing room a year ago. He was arrested, and it was the purpose to make an example of him. He was let out of jail, however, and disappeared.

Sued For Reckless Driving.

New York, May 15.—The trial of a suit brought by Mary D. Tate against Father Bill Daly, the well known turfman, to recover $10,000 damages for alleged personal injuries was begun in the supreme court, Brooklyn. On July 3, 1892, Mrs. Tate was crossing Surf avenue, Coney Island, when, she alleges, she was struck and knocked down by a horse known as Guesswork, which Daly was driving. She says her shoulder was fractured and that she was cut and bruised internally. She also alleges that Daly was owner or part owner of the horse and that he was driving it in a careless and negligent manner. Daly makes a general denial.

Troops For Philadelphia's Dedication.

New York, May 15.—Lieutenant Hinkle and 13 men from companies A, H and I of the Third artillery, stationed at Fort Hamilton, went to Governor's Island to take charge during the absence of the three companies of the Thirteenth infantry stationed there, who are going to Philadelphia to take part in the ceremonies incident to the dedication of a Washington monument in that city.

Damages For Loss of Husband.

Fonda, N. Y., May 15.—In the supreme court Mrs. Margaret B. Swart was awarded damages to the amount of $1,600 from the Central Hudson Railroad company for the death of her husband, who was killed at the West Shore crossing in Amsterdam, last September. Mrs. Swart sued for $5,000.

RIGHTS OF A NEWSPAPER.

Those New Jersey judges who are want to look upon their courts and persons as sacred objects, regarding which it is sacrilegious to say anything that is not reverential or complimentary, says the Tribune, may study with interest a decision given in the Cleveland Circuit Court this week by Judge Hale. In reversing the decision of a Common Pleas Judge who had fined an editor $200 and sentenced him to imprisonment for ten days for contempt, Judge Hale said: "Newspapers have a perfect right to criticise courts and judges with reference to cases which are past. Their are two classes of newspaper articles which are contemptuous—first, those tending to affect the decision in pending cases; second, those purposing to bring the court into discredit. The article in this case has reference to a transaction, in our judgment, wholly past."

FEW IMMIGRANT ARRIVALS.

The returns received by the Immigration Bureau in Washington for several months show a marked falling off in the number of immigrant arrivals in this country. The arrivals in the nine months ending March 31, 1897, was 142,941, as compared with 209,630 for the same period in the preceding year. Commissioner General Stump estimates that the decrease for the fiscal year ending on June 30 will be not less than 93,000.

Streams Overflowed Their Banks.

The rain that has visited this section for the last five days swelled the little streams far above their regular size and in some places overflowed their banks. Green brook became for the time a raging torrent and poured into surrounding fields in the neighborhood of Sebring's mills. At Bound Brook the streams rose quite high and overflowed the low meadows on the outskirts of the town, but did no damage to the place itself. The Raritan was quite high, but not dangerously so. The river road between Bound Brook and New Brunswick suffered the most. The water came across it in many places and washed out the water breaks in many places and left the road itself a sea of mud.

The Boy Was Penitent.

Louis Golstein, a young lad living on West Front street, was arraigned before Justice Mosher yesterday on a charge made by George Fisher who claimed that the boy broke his bicycle. Goldstein said that he knocked the wheel over and broke three spokes, but he cried so hard and felt so penitent that the Justice discharged him on the promise that the wheel should be repaired at his expense. Mrs. Goldstein was in court and she promised to have the wheel fixed.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. vantages which our association offers, and realizing that they will not to any great extent come to us, we have gone after them. Notices in the papers, circulars and letters setting forth the particulars of our Educational Work distributed in the various shops, as well as personal solicitation by our General Secretary and others; all these means have been freely used and we expect to employ them all, and others also, in our canvas for scholars during the coming months

Our reading room, which is free to all men, as well as to the members of the Association, is a feature of our work that should serve a most important end, and we wish that more readers would use it. There are forty one publications on the tables; magazines, daily, weekly and religious papers, besides papers and periodicals relating to technical subjects. In our Directors' room is a Bible reference library of about one hundred and thirty volumes, valuable for Sunday-school theachers, and Bible students, and recently a book-case partially filled with books, the gift of one of our members, has been placed in the parlor. As stated in last year's report, the old library taken from our former rooms contains books, some literally worn out, others for which there is no call whatever; no renewals had been made to this library for a long time, and it is now practically unavailable in its present condition. During the current year an arrangement has been made with the Plainfield Public Library, by which its books may be ordered and obtained from our building, the Association becoming a branch or distributing station for the Library, and in this manner we are enabled to supply our members with suitable reading matter.

In closing, your committee express their appreciation of the faithful services rendered by the teachers and their assistants, and we especially ask those in Plainfield who employ young men, to bring to the notice of their employees, the advantages which the Young Men's Christian Association offers through these educational classes.

On behalf of the Committee,

Stephen Cahoone,
Chairman.

WESTFIELD

A LAD'S RARE FORTITUDE.

NOT A WHIMPER WAS HEARD, THOUGH HE WAS PAINFULLY HURT.

Merrill Todd, a Westfield Youngster, Was Thrown on to a Stone Curb and His Head Gashed so as to Bleed Freely.

An exhibition of fine fortitude on the part of a very little chap was witnessed on Broad street, Westfield, yesterday afternoon, when Merrill Todd, was thrown headforemost against the curb, receiving an ugly gash across the forehead, and scarcely whimpered at the injury. The little fellow was seated in a miniature express wagon which his brother Stewart, a boy about 10 years old, was drawing. At Elm and Broad streets the older boy attempted to guide the wagon over a narrow bridge which crosses the deep gutter. The wheels slipped over the side of the bridge and the wagon and its small occupant were pitched into the gutter. When the child was picked up, his face was covered with blood from the cut upon his forehead He hardly uttered a cry, however, and maintained his sang froid during the painful process of dressing and bandaging.

THE AMERICAN QUEEN COMPETITION.

A Columbia FREE!

A lady's Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, will be given to the winner in THE AMERICAN QUEEN competition, which will be open to all the subscribers to THE AMERICAN QUEEN until June 30, 1897.

The Columbia, the standard bicycle of the world, has been selected for this competition, because the publishers of THE AMERICAN QUEEN are convinced that it is the best and that the woman who wins it would have it in preference to any other make.

The Columbia is now on exhibition at our store and will remain on exhibition until June 30th, when the competition will close and the Columbia will be awarded to the fortunate winner.

The contest which we have just inaugurated, by or through which some subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN is going to win a fine, high-grade $100 Columbia Bicycle, is already well under way. The contest will remain open until June 30, 1897. The conditions and plan of this contest are simply these: We purpose presenting a Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, to the lady subscriber who furnishes the best menu, for one week, for a family of five, the cost of such menu not to exceed $10 for the week. The merits of the menus submitted will be passed upon by the Editor of THE AMERICAN QUEEN, Miss Mary L. Bisland, and the person furnishing the best menu, in Miss Bisland's judgment, will be presented with the bicycle.

The menu submitted should be enclosed in one envelope and the name of the sender in a separate one, the two being handed in or sent in together, addressed to us. The envelopes containing the menus will then be numbered and sent to Miss Bisland and the envelopes containing the names reserved by us, and when Miss Bisland makes her choice of the menus she will inform us of the number of the winner and we will then announce the result in local newspapers and THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The only requirement necessary to admit you to this contest is that you be a subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The splendid wheel which will go to the winner is on exhibition in the store and may be seen at any time.

We want everybody to feel free to go into this contest and we hope that hundreds of our customers will fix their minds on good things to eat and mould them into an acceptable menu for the week, and at the same time keep the cost down to $10.

THE COMPETITION.—Our aim in offering this competition is to have every lady we can reach with this announcement become a reader of THE AMERICAN QUEEN. THE QUEEN is published at $1 a year, but to give all our friends a chance to get this splendidly useful home publication for the ensuing year and at the same time have a chance to become the proud possessor of the standard cycle, we shall until the 30th day of June receive subscriptions (only one, however, will be taken from each family) for the nominal fee of 25 Cents a year. Come to the store at once, register your name, receive your receipt for THE QUEEN for one year and try to win the Columbia.

STRANGE TALE OF THE SEA.

A Ship's Boat Upset by a Sudden Rush of Fish.

New York, May 15.—The fishing smack Annie Greenlaw, which has arrived at Greenport, L. I., brings a strange tale of the sea. The captain, John Greenlaw of Gloucester, Mass., reports that last Wednesday night six of the crew were in the smack's boat setting seines about a big school of mackerel. An exceptionally good catch was made, but just as the men were tightening their ropes the immense school of fish made a peculiar rush in one direction.

The boat, which was firmly secured to both ends of the net, began to settle and in a few minutes was dragged under water by this writhing school of fish. The men were good swimmers and in a short while were all taken aboard the smack. By this accident over 380 barrels of mackerel were lost.

Asks For a Change of Venue.

Chicago, May 15.—President Charles W. Spalding of the failed Globe Savings bank, who is under arrest on several indictments for embezzlement, filed a petition in Judge Ball's court asking for a change of venue on the ground that 19 of the circuit and superior court judges, who are ex officio criminal court judges, were prejudiced against him. Judge Ball was named as one of the 19. This leaves only four judges before whom Spalding is willing to be tried. The petition was opposed by the state's attorney on the ground that the statutes only permit the swearing to prejudice of two judges. The petition was taken under advisement.

Revolution In Uruguay.

Washington, May 15.—Recent mail advices from Uruguay received here state that the revolution has been checked after a bloody battle at Tres Arbales, in which a large number of the revolutionists were killed and their leaders driven to the frontier. At the same time the government has seen fit to allay public discontent by taking into the ministry several persons who heretofore have been regarded as leaders in the seditious movement. The minister of war, General Diaz, gave way for this purpose to General Perez, who was acting president of the committee officially denounced as seditious and revolutionary.

Murder Sentence Confirmed.

Albany, May 15.—The court of appeals has affirmed the order of conviction for murder in the first degree of John Henry Barker, convicted of murdering his wife, Henrietta Barker, Aug. 30, 1895, in the town of Harrison, Westchester county. The evidence showed the defendant to have been a quarrelsome man, who abused his wife and often threatened to kill her; that he pursued her through one house and drove her before him on a path toward home, and when she tried to escape deliberately shot her with a double barreled shotgun, killing her almost instantly. The defendant's plea of accident was not accepted.

Alleged Forger Arrested.

Buffalo, May 15.—Fred W. Simpson, a young New York man, was arrested and locked up at police headquarters on a charge of forgery. So far little evidence has been secured of any of Simpson's work in this city, but he is wanted by the New York police. He was a clerk in Charles F. Noyes' office in Temple court, New York city, and is said to have used Noyes' name on several checks. He disappeared about a week ago. Simpson will be taken back to New York if no complaints are lodged against him here.

Battle With Smugglers.

St. Johns, N. F., May 15.—A serious encounter has taken place in Fortune bay between a band of smugglers and the crew of the revenue cruiser Fiona. The revenue officers endeavored to arrest the smugglers for carrying venison to St. Pierre. The smugglers resisted and succeeded in driving off the officers. Reinforcements are being sent by the revenue authorities, as it is feared that the disturbance may assume serious proportions.

An Ingenious Suicide.

Canajoharie, N. Y., May 15.—The body of Joseph Chamberlain, aged 40 years, was found hanging to a tree in the woods near Sprakers. Chamberlain was employed as lock tender on the Erie canal and is supposed to have committed suicide. The rope was arranged in such a manner that when his body fell the rope tied his hands together across his neck. The coroner is investigating.

Sunday Ball Playing Not a Crime.

Syracuse, May 15.—Police Justice Thomson discharged John Malarky and Mace Mason of the Syracuse Baseball club, who were arrested on May 2 on the charge of Sabbath desecration in playing baseball with the Wilkesbarres on that day. He held that it was not shown that a breach of the peace had been committed or the law violated. Buffalo will play here next Sunday.

Held on a Charge of Arson.

Providence, May 15.—Frank Watson, who was adjudged probably guilty of having attempted to burn the Continental hotel at Narragansett Pier, was brought to this city on a writ of habeas corpus and before Judge Tillinghast of the supreme court was admitted to bail in the sum of $3,500. Bail was furnished by the former surety, Louis F. Bell of Wakefield.

BIGAMY IN ITALY.

Government and Church not in Harmony, which Accounts for such License.

Italy enjoys at the present moment the distinction of being the only civilized country in Europe where it is possible to commit bigamy without exposing one's self to any danger of punishment. Since the constitution of the kingdom in 1870 the authorities have insisted that only a civil marriage is legally binding. On the other hand, the Church refuses to recognize this form of matrimonial union as valid, and requires the faithful to go through the religious service, venting its displeasure on those who seek any civil sanction to their alliance. The Government has repeatedly tried to secure the enactment of a law providing for the punishment of any priest who should have performed the religious marriage service without the latter having been proceeded by a civil ceremony. But the vast body of the people in Italy are Catholic to the core and would not tolerate any measure which had the appearance of encroaching on the rights of the Church. The result is that to-day large numbers of unscrupulous people take advantage of this condition of affairs to have two wives, one in the eyes of the Church and the other in the eyes of the civil authorities. And they can do this without the slightest danger of being called to account or of being punished.—New York Tribune.

The Czar's Feat.

Physicians who have been instructed to deny reports of the Czar's ill health tell remarkable stories of his physical achievements. They say that he is out every morning as soon as it is light, and keeps himself in condition by running a verst (1,160 yards, or about five furlongs), watch in hand, to see that he can do it in his average time.

One of his amusements is said to be shooting from a bicycle, and he can bring down a crow even when he is going at a good speed.—New York Journal.

Bridal Wreaths.

The bridal wreath is usually formed in Germany of myrtle branches; in France and England, of orange blossoms; in Italy and French Switzerland, of white roses; in Spain, of red roses and pinks; in the islands of Greece, of vine leaves; in Bohemia, of rosemary; in German Switzerland, of a crown of artificial flowers.

A Kindness Remembered.

The anthem for Queen Victoria, "Dominie 'salvam fac Reginam nostram," has been sung daily by the nuns of the Benedictine Abbey of Princethorpe, England, throughout the whole of her reign. This has been done in gratitude for the cordial welcome and hospitality extended to the Benedictine community by the English Government when they fled to England from Montargis during the French revolution.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

The Latest Discovery.

A London Physician Succeeds in Extracting Iron from Bullocks Blood with which Human Blood Can be Enriched and Diseases Cured.

While the X Rays have upset many of the medical theories of the past they have not upset the established fact that Anæmia and all the diseases of the blood are the direct result of exhausting the blood of its natural iron or Hæmoglobin, which in time causes the supply of oxygen necessary to healthy tissue, active brain steady nerves, strong muscle, to fall below the standard.

Artificial preparations of iron, while widely used by physicians, are known by them to be inadequate to supply the corpuscles of the blood with the requisite amount of vitality. Strive as they would no method could be discovered by which this mineral could be dissolved so that it would not damage the teeth, rasp the stomach and fail of its purpose of even really getging into the blood itself. The first light thrown on this dark problem was the recent discovery by Dr. Campbell that bullock's blood and human blood contained iron in identically the same form. To extract this iron from the blood of the bullock and retain it in such form that it could be used by anyone was a difficult task, but science was equal to it and today it is possible for the wornout man, the weak and ailing woman and the sickly child to have their blood reinforced with the vital element of life.

For convenience in taking it, Dr. Campbell dissolved this natural iron and enclosed it in small pointed globes of pure gelatine which he named Capsuloids. In this form it is now sold throughout England in large quantities, being used in the largest hospitals and by the leading physician in stubborn cases of anaemia, chlorosis, nervous prostration, nervous debility, indigestion, St. Vitus' dance, Bright's disease, locomotor ataxia and many other diseases having their origin in impoverished and impure blood.

To fully establish the efficacy of this new remedy it has been decided to distribute a quantity of Capsuloids to the weak and ailing. This distribution will take place at L. W. Randolph's druggist, 143 West Front street, on Monday, May 17th, between the hours of 1 and 8 p. m., when any adult presenting this notice will receive without charge, a box of Capsuloids.

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids are sold by all leading druggists at 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, or sent direct at the same price from the office of The Capsuloid Company, Room 1011, Downing Building, 108 Fulton street, New York city.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

A TRAIN HELD UP.

Masked Men Board the Cars and Open Safes With Dynamite.

San Antonio, Tex., May 15.—The west bound Southern Pacific passenger train was held up by masked men and robbed about 250 miles west of here. As the train pulled out of the little town of Lozier three men jumped aboard, and pointing pistols at the engineer and fireman compelled the former to stop the train about a mile and a half west of the town. After forcing the doors of the express car one of the robbers entered the car and dynamited the two safes of the Wells Fargo Express company. Both the through and the local safes were opened and the contents secured.

The local safe contained about $2,000 or $3,000. The amount secured from the through safe is unknown, but it is believed it will not fall below $7,000 or $8,000.

The express car was badly wrecked by the force of the explosion of the dynamite. The top was blown off and the sides and floor badly shattered. The mail was not molested by the robbers, but it was greatly damaged by the force of the explosion.

It is claimed that the bandits are part of a gang that came into this section recently from New Mexico.

WOULDN'T AID THE THIEVES.

Beaten Because He Refused to Help Dispose of Stolen Property.

Rome, N. Y., May 15.—A man who gives his name as Charles Runio from Syracuse says that while he was walking along the Central railroad about five miles west of here he was accosted by a well dressed man who offered to put him in the way of earning $3 to $6. He conducted Runio about a quarter of a mile into the woods on the north side of the railroad, where there were four other men.

All were well dressed and wore watches and rings. They had several grain bags filled with boots, shoes, shirts and other merchandise and a number of bottles of whisky. They wanted Runio to sell the goods among the farmers, offering to give him half the proceeds. He refused, and they beat him and made him swear at the point of a pistol not to betray them.

Runio conducted officers to the place where he says he met the men, but they were gone, with all the goods. It is supposed that the goods were stolen from freight cars.

Cruiser Nashville a Success.

Bridgeport, Conn., May 15.—"The fastest vessel of her class in the world" was the verdict accorded by the officers of the trial board at the conclusion of the speed trial of the new cruiser Nashville on Long Island sound. The speed required by the government was 13.07 knots. The average speed made by the vessel was 16.706 knots, making an excess of speed of very near three knots. With a bonus of $20,000 for each excess knot, this means a total of $60,000 for her builders.

Closed on Account of Increased Duty.

Montreal, May 15.—J. M. Fortier's cigar and cigarette factory has been closed. This throws nearly 200 people out of work. It is due to the fact of the increased duty put by the Liberal government on tobacco combined with the decision given by the courts against Fortier and in favor of the American Cigarette company when Fortier complained that the latter company would not allow its goods to be sold to any one who sold his goods.

GREECE YET DEFIANT

The Operations In Epirus Complicates the Situation.

FIERCE FIGHTING AT VARIOUS PLACES

The Sultan Is Sorely Perplexed by Influences Which Advise Against Leniency. The Grecian Minister Complains of the Action of the Powers.

London, May 15.—The correspondent of The Times at Athens says:

"The resumption of offensive operations in Epirus greatly complicates the situation and tends to hamper the negotiations for peace. The evident intention of the Greek commanders is to capture the Turkish positions there in order to show that they have not been defeated.

"In an interview M. Ralli, the premier, repeated his statement that humanitarian motives are responsible for the advance in Epirus, but he did not deny the advantages which might be hoped for from the capture of Prevesa and the occupation of the adjoining Turkish teritory.

"'We are still at war,' he said, 'and until an armistice is concluded Greece retains her liberty of action. We cannot allow our activity to be confined to Thessaly, where the Turks are preponderant. The powers have hindered us from acting in Crete, but Greece cannot be barred everywhere nor compelled to restrict her operations to a limited area.'"

The correspondent of The Times at Constantinople says:

"The sultan is sorely perplexed and embarrassed by the Islamic influences, military and theological, which are united in vehement protests against leniency to Greece as defrauding Turkey of the legitimate fruits of victory."

Except for the fighting in Epirus, the Turco-Hellenic situation is virtually unchanged. It is tolerably certain that only a few Greek troops remain in Domokos, the bulk of Constantine's army having withdrawn to Lamia, where he will be in closer communication with General Smolenski. This probably explains the reported movements of the Turkish army, as a number of Edhem Pasha's troops have been marching from Trikala to Volo. Without doubt the respite of the feast of Bairam is very welcome to the fatigued men.

The fighting in Epirus has been indecisive. It is believed that Nicopolis is not yet captured, but only the heights commanding the town. The Greeks make a pretext of the protection of the peasants, but they evidently have information as to the reasons for the apparent inactivity of the Turks in Epirus. This is the seventh time the Greeks have attempted to advance to Janina and have met with a repulse, which the Turks have never followed up.

Evidently, there is something wrong with the Turkish forces at that point. The recent report that a number of officers were taken from Janina to Constantinople in chains may perhaps explain it; or, possibly, Turkey is holding her forces there through fear of a movement from Bulgaria.

A dispatch to The Daily Telegraph from Athens says that the Greek government learns that Turkey has decided to resort to piracy against Greek merchantmen, and that M. Skoloudis, the foreign minister, will protest to the powers.

The Constantinople correspondent of The Daily Telegraph says:

"The sultan, acting upon the advice of the Emperor William, has declared to M. Cambon, the French embassador, that he cannot agree to granting an armistice until the basis of peace has been decided upon and approved by him."

Fighting Near Griboro.

Arta, May 15.—Desperate fighting has been in progress all day near Griboro, on the road to Filippiada. Two brigades of Greeks, with many guns, two companies of sappers and a squadron of cavalry attacked the Turks, who were almost without artillery. The Greeks forced the first Turkish line of defense, but met with a stubborn resistance at the second. In several places the bayonets were so close to the cannon that they (the bayonets) could not be used. Five hundred of the Greeks are hors du combat. The battle still continues as this dispatch is being sent.

The gunboat flotilla has been attacking Nicopolis from inside the gulf of Arcadia with a simultaneous attack proceeding from the land side. The Turkish batteries replied vigorously and firmly resisted the attack. The coming of darkness stopped the engagement. All the Greek efforts are now concentrated upon capturing Nicopolis and Prevesa before advancing to Pentepigadia.

In a game of baseball this morning the Young Stars defeated the White Stars by the score of 24 to 7.

A very good game of baseball was played yesterday afternoon on the Washington avenue grounds between the team from St. Mary's Cadet Corps and the Black Diamonds, of Morristown. The former team won by the score of 7 to 6.

It was expected that Margaret Townsend would dance the jig with Douglass Waring but owing to illness the former was unable to be present.

LINCOLN'S CAR.

Dismantled and Decaying in Omaha Railroad Yard.

In an obscure corner of the yards of the Union Pacific car shops in Omaha, in a dilapidated and abandoned condition stands a truly historic relic known as the Lincoln car. Its sides are cracked and weatherbeaten, and the glass in its windows and the brass railings on its platform are long ago gone. All the compartments and sumptuous interior furnishings and decorations have been removed, and it stands like a barren, decaying hulk of its once proud self. This car was built specially for Mr. Lincoln in the United States military car shops in Alexandria, Va., in 1864, by B. P. Lamason, master car builder, and was certainly one of the handsomest private railroad coaches in its day. It was used by the President repeatedly on his visits to the Army of the Potomac down in Virginia, and also to New York and Philadelphia.

The Lincoln car is forty-two feet long by eight and one-half feet wide, and during the time Mr. Lincoln used it was divided in three compartments.

The car was considered in that day a triumph of the car builder's art. The walls of each of the compartments were padded with rich, corded crimson silk upholstery reaching half way to the ceiling, and the frieze of the President's room was decorated with painted panels of the coats-of-arms of the different States of the Union. The car was ironclad, armor being set in between the inner and outer walls, rendering it bullet proof. This added considerable to its weight, so much so that its builders thought it necessary to mount it on four four-wheeled trucks.—Chicago Tribune.

A Sandstorm at Sea.

The Royal Mail steamship Volta, which has arrived at Liverpool, reports that when between Cape Blanco and Cape Verde, a sandstorm was experienced which lasted for two days. The sand had been carried from the deserts of Northwest Africa, and was so thick that it was like a mist on the sea. The sun was partially obscured, and soundings had to be taken. The vessel from stem to stern was covered with sand of a red color, and looked as if she had been painted red. There were also flocks of birds which had been blown from the land, and these settled on the ship from time to time. The sand had a troublesome effect on the crew and the passengers, who could scarcely remain any time on deck without being seized with violent sneezing.—Westminster Gazette.

The Average Life of a Wheel.

"What is the average 'life' of a wheel?" is a question often asked. The bicycle, although an extremely delicate piece of mechanism, will last for many years, even though its first owner may keep it only a season, if it receives but ordinary care. But long life for a wheel can only be assured by careful attention. The cyclist who wipes his or her bicycle on returning from every spin, and cleans it, or has it cleaned thoroughly, say once a month, and lubricates it properly at stated intervals, will find that the machine will not only last longer, but the rider will derive more benefit from its use and experience fewer mishaps than would be the case if the machine be left to take care of itself.

Danger in Early Rising.

Until now people have been content to accept the theory that early rising—in conjunction, of course, with a correspondingly early habit of going to bed—is conducive to health. But this belief, like many others, has been shattered by the latest scientific research.

"People who get up early," says an eminent scientist, "are more liable to go mad than others."

In support of his theory he cities the prevalence of insanity among those engaged in agricultural pursuits. Though it is sad to see a time-honored doctrine thus exploded, one is disposed to favor the new opinion at the expense of the old. In any case, there can be no harm in being on the safe side, and after all, it is so easy not to get up early.

His Impression of Washington.

"What most impresses you in regard to George Washington?" asked the teacher.

The boy debated with himself for several minutes before answering. Then he said:

"The easy time he had when he went to school."

"What do you mean by that?" demanded the teacher.

"Well, he didn't have any long list of Presidents to learn in their regular order."—Chicago Post.

CAMPANINI'S LARGE SALARY.

He is Said to Have Been the First to Receive $1,000 a Night

Campanini is said to have been the first tenor to receive $1,000 a night, and he received that amount from Henry Abbey, who wanted to get him away from Col. Mapleson. Mr. Abbey's name has been chiefly associated with the large salaries paid to foreign artists in this country. When he conducted the first season after the Metropolitan Opera House was built and opened in 1882-83 the high salaries for the first time became one of the burning questions which divided the interests of the American public with the singers' own merits. Salaries have increased since that day probably to the same extent that wealth in New York has increased, and it is doubtful if they are proportionately higher to-day. Mlle. Calve in her arrangements for a concert tour to follow the season of opera at the Metropolitan demanded $2,000 a concert. She gets between $1,400 and $1,500 at the Metropolitan and forty performances guaranteed. Mme. Emma Eames is receiving this year about $900 a night, with a guarantee of at least forty performances. After Mme. Klafsky's death Mme. Nordica demanded of Mr. Grau $1,500 a performance, a guarantee of ten performances a month during the season, and exclusive right to the role of Elsa. Plancon gets $400 a night and Lassalle about $700. Mme. Litvinne, who has had the hardest work of the season, gets $300 a night. These salaries will give some idea of the expense at which the opera performances are given.—New York Sun.

THE HIGH SCHOOL GAMES

GEORGE P. SMITH CARRIED OFF THE HONORS OF THE DAY.

The Plainfielder Won All Five of the Field Events—Track was in Poor Condition, Though—The Results in Detail.

Good sport, pleasant weather and a large crowd aided to make the semi-annual field games of the Plainfield High School Athletic Association, held at the Crescent Oval, Saturday afternoon, a great success. Considering the number of good competitors entered from other cities, the showing made by the local athletes was very encouraging. George Proctor Smith, of Plainfield, carried off the honors of the day by winning all five of the field events.

The games were held on the track, which was in poor condition. The recent rains had cut it up badly and although the Crescent Wheelmen did their best to put it in order for the scholastic athletes the time was too limited. That prevented any fast time being made in either the bicycle or running events.

As far as the general interest of the audience was concerned, the bicycle events were the principal attractions of the meet. All the competitors, except one, lined up as entered. There was a surprise to the local contingent in the poor showing that Lindley M. Hillman, the crack rider of the High School, made, and also in the wonderful work done by Harry Cuming, of the same school, a newcomer on the track team. Hillman rode unplaced in every event while Cuming secured three seconds and made a strong fight for first.

A. R. Allan, of Montclair High School, won the quarter mile bicycle race by a length. Hi team partner, Anderson, made things lively for Cuming, but could not catch him on the spurt. Hillman finished a close fourth. There was some loafing in the mile, but W. M. McCully, of Pingry's School, Elizabeth, finally finished ahead of the rest. Allan and Hillman ran together on the turn, but neither fell. They finished fourth and fifth respectively. Hillman's poor showing was due to insufficient training and illness. The two mile was the prettiest of them all. McCully pluckily took the pace, rather than have another loafing match, and set it for the two miles. He had the requisite spurt ready, however, and won fairly from Cuming by a length. His conduct was loudly praised. Allan and Hillman had a hard fight for third, but the Montclair man crossed the line an inch ahead, just to be passed by Hillman after the tape was crossed.

The Pingry cracks, H. E. Manvel and C. A. Sultzer, had everything their own way in the runs, the former winning the 230-yard dash and the quarter-mile run and Sultzer the 100-yard dash. It was expected that Manvel would try for a record in the quarter, but he took it very easy winning from his schoolmate, Howe, by a foot. Hervey Doane, of the Plainfield High School, started and kept with the bunch to the end, finishing fourth.

Smith's easy victory in the field events was a surprise to many. He had little to compete against except in the pole vault and broad jump, for his most prominent competitor in the weights, Carroll L. Runyon, was not in shape. Runyon has been throwing the hammer and discus far beyond Smith in practice, but when the time for the games came he fell far below his usual records in those events and Smith had no trouble in defeating him in both. Runyon will have a chance to turn the tables at the games of the New Jersey Interscholastic Association, next Saturday.

The events were run off smoothly and without the delays that usually are so tiresome. Great credit is due William A. DeLong, Jr., chairman of the committee, for his success in managing the meet. While the meet was a success from an athletic point of view, it proved to be financially successful also, over $19 being cleared.

The summaries were as follows:

THE Y. M. C. A. ATHLETES.

THE GYMNASIUM CLASSES END THEIR WORK FOR THE SEASON.

The Exhibition Under the Direction of Physical Director Heywood. Under Whom the Work Has Been Accomplished

The Y. M. C. A. gymnasium class held its closing exercises Saturday evening, and the work for the season was concluded. The exhibition and entertainment was a most creditable one in every respect and the very large and appreciative audience present seemed to be highly gratified with the affair. Physical Director Heywood was in charge of the exhibition and S. B. Joseph announced the numbers on the programme which were as follows: Boy's dumb-bell drill, led by F C. Bonney; business men's wand drill, led by Mr. Heywood; tug-of-war, business men's class against evening class won by latter; pulley machine, right arm against left arm, by the class; gymnastic contest, Edward Duffy, E. Moraller, Walter Long, won by latter; travelling rings, by the class.

At this time President W. D. Murray, of the Association, presented the medals to the winners in the different contests. In the boys department Hazelwood Keller was awarded the prize for the best all-around work. For the best bowling, Clarence Sutphen secured the highest honors. His best score in ten games was 141 9-10. The gold medal for the best record and work in a contest of twenty events, was presented to Walter Long. George Proctor Smith was awarded the silver medal as second prize, while the third prize, a bronze medal, was given to E Duffy. The last prize for the best all-around work in the gymnasium, which carries with it the championship of the Association, was presented to Walter Long. The prize was a silver medal.

As each winner was presented with his prize there was a hearty outbursts of applause on the part of those present.

A feature of the programme was the appearance of Fred Zick and James Barckley, of the Twenty-third Street Branch of the New York Y. M. C. A. They gave an exhibition of tumbling and all around gymnastic work. They were cordially received and their work was certainly fine.

Mr. Heywood deserves great credit for the excellent work produced through his class, and when Mr. Murray announced that Mr. Heywood would remain another year, the members of his class gave him a great ovation. The work gave evidences of marked improvement and everyone present congratulated Mr. Heywood and the members for it.

HORSES SUNDAY RUN.

WITHOUT A GUIDING REIN THEY WRECKED THE CARRIAGE.

The Runaways Belonged to Francis Wood and Were Left by the Coachman Only to Run Wild and Cause Much Excitement.

Just as the bells were ringing for church, yesterday morning, a team, with a carriage dragging at their heels, rushed down Franklin place on a mad gallop, and only came to a standstill after crashing over an iron fence and colliding with a tree.

The team was the handsome pair of sorrels owned by Francis Wood, of Franklin place. The coachman had just harnessed them and was preparing to take the family to church, when he remembered that he had left something in the barn and ran back after it. When his back was turned they started first on a walk, then a trot and at last on a gallop.

They came out the driveway and went across the street on a run. They jumped the curb and carried the closed carriage on to the sidewalk. Frightened by the noise, the team plunged down the sidewalk in the direction of Putnam avenue, barely missing the trees at the side and scattering the pedestrians who were going to church.

The horses continued on their mad career directly toward the iron fence that surrounds the residence and lawn of B O Bowers. They crossed Putnam avenue, jumping both curbs and then took the fence, clearing it together. The heavy carriage struck the fence with a loud crash and two of the wooden posts gave way while the iron rails were splintered by the shock. The carriage was not injured and the horses continued on their way across the lawn, bringing up against a tree. The horses passed on either side of the tree and slightly damaged the carriage and took the bark off the tree.

The frightened animals stopped and were held by Mr. Bower's coachman, who had seen the runaway and hurried to the scene of action.

BURGLARSUSPECTSHELD

DENNIS MURRAY AND JOHN NEUMAN MUST ANSWER TO GRAND JURY.

Their Side of the Case was Not Heard by Recorder Thomas, who Committed Them to the County Jail Without Bail.

After more or less delay the hearing in the case of the State against Dennis Murray and John Neuman, charged with suspicion of being responsible for the burglaries committed in Pride ville, North Plainfield, last Friday morning between the hours of 1 and 4 o'clock, when the homes of Marshal Kliner and John Ryman were entered and relieved of several valuable articles, was held Saturday afternoon before Recorder Thomas, of the borough. The men were held for the Grand Jury.

The arrests occasioned considerable interest among the friends of the two men, and in consequence a great crowd gathered. But there was disappointment for them as no one but those directly interested were allowed to be present.

The case was called promptly at 4 o'clock. Judge DeMeza and his brother, William DeMeza, appeared for Murray and Neuman, while for the State Councilmen T. J. Carey and George T. Rogers were present, besides a number of witnesses for both plaintiffs and defendants. At the beginning the recorder informed the counsel that according to law he had no jurisdiction to try the case, and he would only ascertain if there was sufficient evidence to hold the defendants for the Grand Jury. The counsel for the defendants recognized the law, but held that they had a right to demand justice in that as much as the court would not allow them to place their witnesses on the stand it certainly ought to release the prisoners unless there was a sufficient amount of evidence to hold them.

George W. Kliner, son of the marshal, was the first witness called, and he told what he knew of the circumstances surrounding the case. He was at home when the burglaries were committed and it was his goods that were stolen from his room. He testified to having found a front window open and also to seeing foot-prints about the house. He traced the steps and learned that they led to the shed where he discovered Murray and Neuman asleep. He then notified his father who returned home as soon as possible.

Marshal Kliner was the next witness and he related what he knew. He said that his son came after him and that after reporting at the station house when going off duty he returned to his home and found the two men asleep in the shed in the rear of his property. He called them out, but at the time he did not know either one of them. Incidentally he felt about their clothes but did not find the stolen articles. For the time being he placed the men under arrest and walked as far as Wilson avenue with them. At the latter street all three stopped and talked a few minutes. They then returned to the marshal's home when the foot prints were measured. They seemed to tally exactly. After that the men were allowed to go and they came to Plainfield.

John Ryman was next placed on the stand. He was one of the losers as a result of the burglaries. All he could tell was that the foot-prints seemed to tally with the shoes worn by the defendants, and he found these foot-prints about his house. David Allen also testified that an attempt had been made to enter his home, but the effort was not successful. He also found foot prints the same as discovered by the other witnesses.

At this point a rest was taken and Judge DeMeza, for the counsel, made a strong plea for their clients. He stated that as yet no evidence had been produced whereby the two men could be held, and he rehearsed the case to prove his statements. He asked the recorder to give them the privilege of placing a few witnesses on the stand to prove that these two men had nothing to do with the burglaries. The recorder refused, however, and said that he had no authority to try the case or to extend such privilege. It was his duty to ascertain if the suspicion was sufficient to hold the men on the evidence produced. This he decided had been proved, and he therefore held the men for the Grand Jury. As such a case is not bailable in a Justice court the men were committed to the county jail at Somerville, and they were taken to that place Saturday night by Constable Hansen.

INVASION OF A BURGLAR

ENTERED THE SLEEPING APARTMENTS OF WESTFIELD PEOPLE.

Caught in the Act of Stealing and Chased Out of the House by Edward C. McMann—He Was Chased by an Officer.

The people of Westfield are exercised over a rather bold burglary which occurred in the town, this morning.

Edward C. McMann is employed in the grocery store of J. T. Mattlage, and lives with his family on Walnut street. At 2:30 o'clock, this morning, Mrs. McMann was awakened by a noise and saw a man standing in the room, with his back toward her, leisurely examining the contents of the bureau drawers. Mrs. McMann awakened her husbund who, upon catching sight of the intruder, jumped out out of bed, caught up a water pitcher for a weapon, and chased the intruder downstairs. The fellow crawled through the open parlor window upon the front porch. Here he received a stinging blow from the water pitcher in the hands of McMann. The latter says that when struck the burglar gave a groan of pain, but he escaped and with a confederate, who was on watch outside, ran down Elm street toward Broad.

McMann called out Constable J. M C. Marsh and the two started upon a still hunt for the burglars. On Broad street they caught sight of the men a block away and gave chase. They ran up Mountain avenue and taking the road for Springfield soon struck into the woods and succeeded in throwing their pursuers off the trail.

The burglars were evidently professionals, from the thorough manner in which their work was planned and carried out. They were provided with padded stockings which were worn over their boots. Their cleverness is shown by the fact that a pair of trousers were removed from under the pillow of Mr. McMann, while the latter was asleep, and $7.44 was taken from the pockets and the trousers hung upon a chair. A gold brooch was taken from the bureau. A small box containing deeds and insurance papers was also taken. In their flight the thieves dropped the box and papers upon Mountain avenue where they were picked up this morning by William Stitt. None of the papers were missing.

Mrs. McMann, who caught a good look at the burglar who was in the house, describes him as a heavily built man with dark hair and moustache and wearing a black suit and black derby hat.

A description of the man has been sent out and a sharp lookout will be kept for them in this vicinity.

MRS. BOOTH'S PRISON WORK.

The Noted Volunteer Leader to Talk in this City Tonight.

Mrs. Ballington Booth, of the American Volunteers, who will speak at Grace church tonight, expects to have for her subject the question of making better men of the convicts in state prisons. Mrs. Booth will have labored among this class of people just one year a week from tonight. On that date she entered Sing Sing prison for the first time. This was the first institution. Now this wonderful woman is well known in seven of the largest prisons in the country. The work is of great magnitude and the fact can only be appreciated when it is considered that in Sing Sing alone in 1895 there were 1,375 prisoners, and in Auburn 1,126. Mrs. Booth will probably describe her plan of work quite thoroughly. She is in communication with each prisoner who wishes to try to lead a better life. In this way she comes in personal contact with the men. When they leave the New York prisons those that cannot find employment and wish to go are taken to Hope Hall, a home established for them in the northern part of New York city. The meeting tonight will be an interesting and instructive one to those concerned in the welfare of their fellow men.

An Exchange of Pupils.

Rev. A. P. Peeke, pastor of the Reformed church at East Millstone, exchanged pulpits with Rev. C. Schenck, Ph. D., of Trinity Reformed church, this city, yesterday morning and evening. Mr. Peeke was greeted with a good sized congregation at both services and delivered his discourses very acceptably.

FIRST EPWORTH LEAGUE

EIGHTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE FIRST CHAPTER ORGANIZED.

Reports Show That it is Doing Good Work—Dr. Snodgrass Says That the Young People Help Along a Very Great Movement

Eight years ago the Epworth League was organized. Today it numbers over a million members. Last evening, Chapter No. 1, of the First M. E. church, celebrated the anniversary of the anniversary of the organization of the League with appropriate services held in the church. The meeting was led by Robert Davis, president of the local chapter. Rev. Dr. Whitney offered prayer and Rev. Winfield C. Snodgrass, pastor of the church, made the address of the evening.

After the opening devotional exercises, a collection was taken for the benefit of the League by six young women members, and then James A. Stafford, secretary, read his report, which included a comprehensive review of all that had been accomplished during the year. A young men's auxiliary, he reported, had been organized at which the subjects for the meetings of the League were studied. An attempt had been made to form a reading circle, but it had not met with success. Thirty-two calls had been made on the sick, also a number of social calls on new members. On last Thanksgiving Day the League donated dinners for twelve families who were in want. The membership at present is one hundred, eight have joined during the last year and ten have resigned on account of change of residence. Mr. Stafford also reported as to the condition of the treasury. The sum of $63 was received and $49.54 disbursed, leaving a balance of $13 55, of which $9.55 was for the library fund.

The address by Rev. Dr. Snodgrass followed. His text was from the second chapter of Acts, 17th verse, "Your young men shall see visions and your old men shall dream dreams." It is necessary for people to see visions if they are to be successful, said the doctor. The vision is the concept of the future, while the dream is the recalling of the past. The Epworth League is a vision of the young people for the young people. The League is now not only a vision but a realization growing day by day.

Dr. Snodgrass then referred to the aims of the League, and said that they should be understood as they included great opportunites and consequently great peril. The Epworth League does not include the church, neither does it take the place of the church as a few are inclined to believe. It does not aim to seize upon the church and manage it. It is to help along in the great movement.

FOOTED IT ON A FAIR DAY.

ANNUAL MAY WALK OF THE GESANG AND TURN VEREIN SOCIETY.

The Objective Point Was at Mr. Krausse's Farm on Johnston's Drive Where a Highly Enjoyable Day Was Spent by the Party

The annual May day walk of the Gesang and Turn Verein was held yesterday. The members and their wives and friends left the city about 5 o'clock, the objective point being the farm on Johnson's drive owned Mr. Krausse, of this city. The Plainfield delegation was joined by a delegation of about twenty members of the bicycle section of the Newark Turners. In all there were over one hundred people in the party.

All sorts of games were indulged in by the merry party. In the morning an attempt was made to play a game of base ball, but the ground was too wet and it had to be given up. In the afternoon a tug of war was enjoyed between a team from the home society and a picked team from the visitors. The result was a tie. A feature was the presence of the Scandinavian Glee Club and some excellent music was rendered. There were solos by Joseph Martin, Charles Dresselt, and selections by the singing section of the home society and the visitors.

Of course, the refreshments was a highly important feature and everybody was treated to the best the market affords. It was about 5 o'clock when the start for home was made and all was testified to having spent a pleasant day.

DEATH OF I. D. TITSWORTH

A WELL-KNOWN RESIDENT OF THIS SECTION PASSES AWAY.

He Was Formerly President of the First National Bank—A Prominent and Active Member of the Seventh-day Church.

The death of Isaac D. Titsworth, which occurred at his home in New Market, Saturday afternoon, removes from this locality one of the very oldest and most respected citizens. If he had lived he would have been 92 years old next June. For sometime past he has been somewhat feeble and owing to his advanced age it was only a question of a short time when he would pass away. Previous to a few months ago he was able to be about and it was his custom to come to Plainfield every week and call at the First National Bank, of which institution he was president for many years. He finally became so feeble that he was obliged to give up his short trips and remain at home. He was always very active and his mind seemed clear to the last.

Isaac D. Titsworth was born in Piscataway Township, near Metuchen in 1805, and was one of ten children, three of whom are now living, Mrs. Isaac S. Dunn, of Randolphville; Mrs. Phoebe Ross and E. B. Titsworth, of this city. His father, Isaac Titsworth, was a farmer, and his son attended school at Metuchen and New Durham part of the time and at other times he worked on the farm. When a young man he secured a position with Randolph Dunham at his tannery which was located back of where the First National Bank now stands. Mr. Titsworth worked there long enough to learn the trade and he then purchased the business which he conducted for many years.

Shortly afterward he was married to Miss Hannah Ann Shepard, of South Jersey. The two lived in this city for some time. Finally, Mr. Titsworth disposed of his business and moved to South Jersey, where he purchased a farm and a country store. He remained there for several years, when he made another change by moving back to Plainfield and took up his residence on the Simeon Randolph farm, which he purchased. He disposed of thirty acres of the property for building purposes. The rest of the land he farmed for several years. Following this he purchased some property at New Market near the Larkin place, and here he again engaged in the business of tanning. This was previous to the war, and he conducted the business till after the war. Soon after he purchased the property on Prospect street, where he died, and there he erected a large dwelling house. At times he bought other property near by and for the past thirty years he has resided at that place. From time to time he would sell off pieces of property to those seeking land. However, he still retained a large amount of property. He always took a great deal of pride in having his land in the best of condition and everyone for miles around knew what a careful man he was in this respect.

Mr. Titsworth was a man of sterling worth and character. He was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him. As a business man he was careful and diligent. Many people have sought his wise counsel and profited thereby. In the home he was a loving husband and father, and his great interest was centered there. A singular coincident was that he was one of ten children and that he also had ten children. Of the latter eight are now living as follows: Mrs. Anna Larkin, Mrs. Rebekah Rogers, Mrs. Reilly Potter, Adoniam Judson Titsworth, Thomas Titsworth, Louis Titsworth, Alfred A. Titsworth, and Frank Titsworth. Alfred Titsworth is a professor in the Grammar department at Rutgers College. Adoniram Judson Titsworth lives in Milwaukee, where he is pastor of a church, while Frank Titsworth lives in Illinois. The rest of the children live in and about this vicinity. Abel Titsworth and Wardner Carpenter Titsworth are the two children who died. Mr. Titsworth's wife died about this time of the year two years ago.

Mr. Titsworth was a staunch and faithful member of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, of New Market, and was one of the fifty-seven constituent members of the Plainfield Seventh-Day Baptist church at its organization, February 9th, 1838. He served the church at New Market as deacon for many years, and he was also a member of the denominational Tract Society and Missionary Board. He was a firm supporter of the church in every way possible and his liberality was a source of strength and help. He was ever ready to lend a helping hand to those in need and his kind and loving disposition was felt in the PORTE'S CONDITIONS.

The Demands Are Objected to by the Embassadors.

THEY RAISE A VERY GRAVE ISSUE.

A European Conference Is Not Improbable if the Terms Are Not Modified, Which Is Considered Extremely Doubtful.

Constantinople, May 17.—The porte has replied officially to the note of the powers and declines to agree to an armistice until the following conditions are accepted: The annexation of Thessaly, an indemnity of £10,000,000 and the abolition of the capitulations. The porte proposes that plenipotentiaries of the powers should meet at Pharsala to discuss the terms of peace and declares that if these conditions are declined the Turkish army will continue to advance.

The demand for the annexation of Thessaly is based upon the fact that the province was originally ceded to Greece on the advice of the powers, with the object of ending brigandage and Greek incursions into Ottoman territory, the porte believing at the time that the cession would attain these objects; but the recent incursions of Greek bands and the events immediately preceding the war have proved to the contrary. This is the substance of the reply.

The embassadors met to consider the porte's answer, which is regarded as raising an extremely grave issue. It is believed that representations will be made to the sultan personally to induce a modification of these terms, but it is foreseen that this will be very difficult, owing to the attitude of the powerful old Turk war party.

If the porte should prove obdurate, a European conference is not improbable, although at present Russia is opposed to such a step.

It is regarded as quite certain that the powers will not consent to a retrocession of Thessaly. Even Germany is believed to be resolute on this point, because it would involve a violation of the Berlin treaty and imperil the peace of the Balkans.

Altogether, the reply of the porte has caused the greatest surprise. It appears that during the discussion of the note from the powers by the council of the sultan's ministers news reached the council that 3,000 Greeks had landed at Palona and were marching to Janina with the intention of co-operating with other forces from Arta. This created a bad impression among the ministers.

The council of ministers met again, and the sultan has ordered a distribution of troops at various points along the Salonika railway.

Official dispatches have been received from the commandant at Janina, who says that a division of the Greek forces approaching the town by a narrow gorge from the direction of Gremenitza charged the heights of Griboro and Kokoarin, but suffered heavily, losing 200 killed, while on the other side the Greeks were driven back upon Baskenpru (Paraskevi).

The commandant states also that fighting has occurred at Kumuzades. No further details are given, except that all these battles lasted until evening and that the imperial troops retained their positions, with the probability that the Greeks will be re-enforced and the fighting renewed. No statement is made as to the Turkish losses.

"The outcome of a desperate battle lasting two days against a force of 15,000 Greeks is that the latter have abandoned the positions on the heights they had previously captured and have withdrawn to the olive groves of Gremenitza.

Powers Willing to Act.

London, May 17.—The Times' correspondent at Athens says:

M. Rallí, the premier, visited the various legations and obtained assurances that the powers would undertake to prevent any offensive action on the part of the Turks provided the Greek forces maintain a strictly defensive attitude. On this understanding he immediately wired the commanders of the Greek divisions at Domokos, Sourpi and Arta instructing them to abstain from all hostile action unless attacked by the enemy.

The only Greek force now on Turkish territory is the band of Epiroti volunteers, led by Botzaris, which landed at Prevesa and advanced along the banks of the Luros. This force will now proceed westward along the coast, where it will be taken off by the Greek fleet.

The losses at Griboro were the heaviest since the beginning of the war. Seven officers were killed. Requiems were sung in all the churches, and the Opposition papers accuse the government of wantonly sanctioning needless bloodshed.

Plans For the Capture of Domokos.

Larissa, May 17.—Edhem Pasha's plans for the capture of Domokos are being rapidly perfected. Re-enforcements are arriving, and all the Greek positions are carefully watched. The bad condition of the roads and the heavy rains delay the operations for which the Turkish officers are anxiously waiting, but a general advance began at dawn.

A number of Greek deserters who have been captured say that 25,000 Greeks are behind the fortifications and intrenchments at Domokos, but that the whole organization is rotten, and that the medical and transport services have completely collapsed. They say that for 36 hours the only ration was a half loaf, and that the forces are becoming demoralized and deserting by [illegible]

Greek Army Demoralized.

London, May 17.—The Daily Mail's correspondent at Copenhagen says The Politiken publishes the following dispatch from Athens:

"The remnant of the Greek army is a mass of utterly demoralized and undisciplined men, hostile to their officers, never pretending to salute the crown prince, without food or shelter and suffering the greatest hardships. Fever is spreading among them. General Smolenski is cold shouldered by his officers and unpopular with his men."

Greeks Driven Back.

Athens, May 17.—The Greek army in Epirus has been compelled to fall back on Arta, but continues to occupy a few positions beyond the bridge. The Greek losses at Griboro were 558 killed and wounded, 33 being officers.

It is stated that the government has ordered the forces in Thessaly and in Epirus to remain strictly on the defensive.

Germany Advises the Sultan.

London, May 17.—A dispatch to The Daily Mail from Constantinople dated Saturday says:

"Germany is urging the sultan to insist upon the European control of Greek finances as the only means of securing the payment of an indemnity. Representatives of the Deutsche bank will arrive next Saturday to realize on the promise of important concessions which the sultan has made to the bank."

Greek Fleet Inactive.

London, May 17.—The correspondent of The Times at Almyros, under date of Thursday, says:

"The Greek fleet is inactive. Half the vessels are off the island of Skiathos. The other half are in Almyros bay. It is said that the officers are furious with the admiral, who is evidently held back by orders from Athens."

More Demands of the Porte.

London, May 17.—A dispatch from The Daily Mail from Constantinople says the porte's reply demands in its concluding paragraph an extradition treaty with Greece and that the ports of Volo and Prevesa be kept open for vessels carrying food supplies to the Turkish troops.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Revised figures show that the new gunboat Vicksburg, on her builders' trial off the Maine coast, made 12.38 knots an hour.

It is officially announced that 58 persons were killed in the accident to the military train wrecked Thursday evening between Rockenhof and Eliva, Russia.

Leo and Frank Stevens of 361 West Twenty-fifth street, New York, were picked up at sea in a boat, which they cut adrift from a balloon which was blown away in a storm and lost.

The jury at Owingsville, Ky., in the case of John D. Young, Jr., a son of Hon. John D. Young, for the killing of Clinney Fossett, returned a verdict of manslaughter and fixed his punishment at 18 years in the penitentiary.

A dynamite bomb was hurled into a three-story brick business block at Huntington, W. Va., owned by Colonel D. E. Abbott and occupied by offices of various kinds. No one was injured, but the building was considerably damaged.

An agent of King George of Greece has purchased the Villa Klusemann at Muhlwang, on the river Traun, a small place near Gmunden, in upper Austria. According to current gossip, King George will eventually retire to his new estate in Austria.

A steam launch in which there were 16 persons seeking a view of the dedication ceremonies was swept over the dam in the Schuylkill river, Philadelphia. The boat capsized, and a woman named Ewen and two young sisters named Matthias were drowned. The others were rescued.

Panic In a Church.

Bridgeport, Conn., May 17.—A panic was created during the services in the Slavonian church owing to the decorations on a statue near the altar taking fire. Somebody shouted "Fire!" in the confusion, and there was a general rush for the doors by the congregation. In the stampede, however, there were no serious injuries, though a number were severely crushed, and several women fainted. Two men in the congregation tore off the burning decorations before the flames had a chance to spread and were burned severely about the hands. The fire was caused by a portion of the decorations being blown against a lighted candle.

Thousands of Feet of Lumber Afloat.

Newburyport, Mass., May 17.—The whole of the city's water front down to the lower harbor was covered with floating logs, which came down the Lawrence river from the Litchfield broken boom. The yachts Eli W. Hoyt, Spurt and Hoodoc were forced from their moorings by the crush and were picked up at Flat Rocks. Squads of men are working on rafts securing the timber, the shipyard squad having secured 3,000 feet, while several thousand feet have been corralled by other parties.

No Sailing Orders Yet.

New York, May 17.—At the Brooklyn navy yard it was said that no sailing orders had as yet been received regarding the flagship New York, although Rear Admiral Sicard had been ordered to coal the ship up and have her in readiness at a minute's call. The coal bunkers are full, but the destination of the ship in case of being ordered to sea is utterly unknown.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.

(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

GREAT RETICENCE IS OBSERVED.

The Deed Said to Have Resulted From the Depressed Mind of an Unsuccessful Suitor — His Condition Is Critical.

Louisville, May 17.—Preston Thornton, a member of one of the most prominent families in the state and the south, lies at the home of Milton H. Smith, president of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, on Fourth evenue, this city, suffering from a self inflicted and possibly mortal bullet wound in the cheek. That he made an attempt upon his life in the parlor of the Smith mansion is about all the information obtainable as to the circumstances surrounding the affair because of the extreme reticence of all in any way connected with young Thornton or the Smith family.

Soon after the shooting a special train was hurriedly sent to Lexington to bring the family of the wounded man to his bedside. His father is Colonel R. H. Thornton of Lexington. His grandfather was the late General William Preston of this state, and the wife of General William Draper of Massachusetts, United States embassador to Rome, is his aunt. The family is well known throughout the country.

Preston Thornton is about 21 years of age. He is said to have paid assiduous attention for some time to Miss May Bell Smith, the young daughter of M. H. Smith. That the happenings resulted from the depressed mind of an unsuccessful suitor is generally believed. Young Thornton's condition is said to be critical.

ATTACKED BY AN INSANE LAD.

He Cuts the Throat of a Child Where He Was Visiting.

Philadelphia, May 17.—Frank Machemer, an insane lad of 19 years, cut the throat of Mabel Kurtz, the 7-year-old daughter of Adolph Kurtz, in the cellar of the little girl's home. She was removed to the Samaritan hospital, and the physicians there say there is very little hope of saving her life.

Machemer is in custody. He has for some time been confined in the Norristown hospital. He was lately brought to the home of his sister, a neighbor and acquaintance of the Kurtz family, and was taken to see the Washington monument parade as a digression from his hospital life.

The demented youth visited the Kurtz residence and chatted with Mrs. Kurtz and the little girl. When he left, Mrs. Kurtz went upstairs to lie down. Shortly afterward she heard her child scream, and on running down stairs was horrified to find her daughter lying on the floor with blood gushing from a gaping wound in her throat.

Assistance was called, and the suffering child was hurriedly taken to the hospital. A butcher knife covered with blood was found on the floor, but there was no evidence to indicate by whom the crime had been committed. Suspicion pointed to Machemer, but he could not be found.

Shortly afterward he walked into the house from the street and was placed under arrest. He at first denied any knowledge of the crime, but subsequently acknowledged that he cut the child's throat. He gave no explanation whatever for the deed.

Train Goes Down an Embankment.

Ardmore, I. T., May 17.—Southern bound Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe passenger train No. 1 went through a trestle 16 miles south of here and tumbled down a 20 foot embankment. Fifteen passengers and members of the crew were injured, some of them fatally. No one was killed outright. The train consisted of six passenger coaches and one Pullman. All save the engine and sleeper went through the trestle, which had been washed out by high water. Many of the passengers had to chop their way out of the coaches.

Drowned In the Bronx.

New York, May 17.—Two unknown young men were drowned in the Bronx river, Westchester county. The young men were rowing in a skiff and capsized their boat while attempting to change places. One of them attempted to swim, but was seized by his companion, and for a few moments they struggled together in the water. The bodies of the young men were recovered half an hour later.

Sewall's Ship Long Overdue.

San Francisco, May 17.—The American ship Dirigo, owned by Arthur Sewall of Maine and commanded by Captain Goodwin, is 35 days overdue on her voyage around the Horn. She sailed from New York 170 days ago, carrying a crew of 40 men. Much anxiety is felt for the safety of the ship and crew.

Moody's Election Affirmed.

Oneonta, N. Y., May 17.—Judge Lyon of the supreme court has rendered a decision in the case of the people ex. rel. Albert Shafer against A. C. Moody, being an action to oust the latter from the office of trustee of the Second ward of this village. The judge finds for the defendant, with costs.

Earthquake and Hail.

Rome, May 17.—Advices received from Trapani, a seaport town of Sicily, are to the effect that an earthquake shock occurred there yesterday afternoon. Reports from Messina say that a severe hailstorm took place there, great damage resulting, the nut trees especially suffering.

Drowned While Fishing.

Bridgeport, Conn., May 17.—Joseph Pardo, aged 24, while fishing off the Fairfield avenue bridge, fell into the harbor and was drowned. The body was recovered.

George A. Arms Dead.

Greenfield, Mass., May 17.—George A. Arms, 81, one of the most prominent and wealthy men in Franklin county, died here last night after a long illness.

Death of J. H. Starin's Son-in-law.

Managua, Nicaragua, May 17.—J. D. Spraker, son-in-law of John H. Starin, died here of malaria and heart affection.

JERSEY AND THE TARIFF.

New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey are trying to have continued the provision of the Wilson law which permits the makers of perfumery bottles to manufacture that article for export in bond. According to letters received from leading firms, this feature of the existing tariff is repealed. Senator Platt, of Connecticut, has stated that there is an entire misapprehension about the matter; that the action of the finance committee does not repeal the provision as to manufactures for export in bond. Another topic of complaint on the part of New Jersey manufactures is linoleum. The oil-cloth makers say that the House was right in imposing a specific duty of 20 cents on the square yard and 20 per cent. ad valorem on imported linoleums, but that the finance committee inflicted an injury on an important industry when it reduced the specific duty to 15 cents on the square yard. They ask that the House specific duty be substituted and that no other change be made in that item

WORDS OF CONGRATULATION

W. J. Leonard, formerly editor of the Central New Jersey Times, and now of Bolton, Mass., writes the following anent the tenth anniversary of The Press, celebrated a week ago:

My Dear Force:

I have just received the circular letter and souvenir issued by the Daily Press in commemoration of its birth. They awakened old memories and led me to look up the files of my old newspaper to see what kind of a welcome it gave the child on that auspicious May day in 1887. Among the congratulatory words I find these:

"It presents a neat and attractive appearance. The first number only has been received at the present writing, and that appears printed on a delicate pink-tinted paper. It looks likes the first rose of summer and the Times hopes it is not

* * * 'Born to blush unseen and waste its sweetness on the desert air.'"

I congratulate you that the hope of that day expressed by an esteemed contemporary has been fulfilled so abundantly during the first decade of the paper's existence. Long life and prosperity to it and to its publisher.

Yours sincerely,

W. J. Leonard.

—The Bound Brook Chronicle names Senator Charles A. Reed, of Somerset, for the Republican nomination for Congressman from the Somerville district. As it is nearly two years before the people will elect a member of Congress in that district we can see no reason why The Chronicle should not amuse itself by flattering the Senator. When the time comes perhaps the name of the district's nominee may be Reed, or it may be Jones, Smith or Brown, or even Mason!

HISTORICAL HOUSE BURNED.

A Structure in Metuchen That Was Built in Revolutionary Times.

Yesterday morning fire destroyed the historical old house in Metuchen, near Manning Freemen's lumber yard, that has been used as a wheelmen's rest for some time past. The house was built in 1775, and during the Revolutionary war it was used a post station on the stage route between New York and Philadelphia. It was formerly a part of the Noble estate, but became the property of an insurance company, through the foreclosure of a mortgage a year ago. It is believed that the origin of the fire was incendairy.

URGE WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

SCHOOL SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT WILL WELL BE DISCUSSED TONIGHT.

The Meeting in the Y. M. C. A. Hall Will be Addressed by a Number of Well Known Advocates of Women's Voice in the School.

The meeting in the Y. M. C. A. upper hall this evening will be of special interest, both on account of the number and importance of the speakers, and on account of the timeliness of the subject to be discussed.

Plainfield has from the beginning of the agitation of the matter, taken a decided stand in favor of the restoring of school suffrage to the women of New Jersey. and the petitions to the Legislature were signed by many of the most influential citizens, men as well as women.

The delegates present at the meeting of the Federation of the Women's Clubs, at Englewood on Thursday last, passed the following resolution:

Resolved, That the delegates of the New Jersey State Federation present at the Englwood meeting are in favor of the Amendment to the Constitution restoring School Suffrage to the women o the State.

The convention also expressed the hope that club-women would use their influence in favor of the passage of this measure. It should be borne in mind that it is an educational, not a political measure. Women's Clubs are, as a rule, averse to taking any part in politics.

This resolution was presented by Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, of this city, who had previously read a paper on School Suffrage to the Convention.

Among the speakers this evening will be Rev. Wm. R. Richards, pastor of the Crescent Avenue church, Rev. Jocelyn Johnson, of North Plainfield, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron M Powell, Mr. Charles W. Opdyke, Mr. and Mrs David P. Hall, (Florence Howe Hall). Rev. E. M. Rodman was to have made an address, but owing to another meeting he may be detained.

Miss Margaret Chanler, of New York city, who has recently returned from India, will be the only non-resident speaker. Miss Chanler is a sister of William Astor Chanler, the African explorer, and a cousin of Mrs. Hall. Although young and charming, and a favorite in New York society's most exclusiusive circle, she is deeply interested in the civic duties of women, and active in reforms and good work.

WANTED--TEAM AND MAN

A FARM HAND DEPARTS WITH MONGREL TEAM OF HIS EMPLOYER.

The Police Notified to Arrest One Peter Brighton For Stealing a Team Composed of a Horse and Mule

A horse, a mule and Peter Brighton are wandering at large about the country. James Brown, of Oak Tree, wants the horse and the mule and he would not mind getting hold of Brighton. The police of the nighboring cities are also looking for Brighton and the mongrel team. Brighton is wanted on the charge of horse stealing.

James Brown has a farm about one mile from the Oak Tree station on the Lehigh Valley Railroad. Three weeks ago he employed Brighton as a farm hand. The man appeared to be a good worker and to be honest. Friday morning Brown sent his hired man to the station after some freight that he was expecting, and gave the money to Brighton to pay the charges. Brighton had the horse and mule harnessed up to a box wagon and drove down to the station. He left the house at 9 o'clock. He was seen at the depot later, but drove past. Neither he nor the team returned.

At first Brown thought there had been a delay in the arrival of the freight; then he thought of an accident, but now he believes that Brighton has skipped with the team, wagon and money.

Brighton wore a light fedora hat, dark coat and brown trousers. He is six feet high and of dark complexion. The police in the neighboring towns have been notified of his disappearance.

The Roselle baseball team came to Westfield on Saturday resolved to defeat the local team or die in the attempt. The score was 12 to 4 in Westfield's favor. Roselle's remains departed for home on the 7:14 train. Game was called at half-past four on the South Broad street grounds. Roselle was first at the bat and managed to secure one run. Westfield scored two runs in this inning, and in the second, third and fourth their score mounted up to twelve runs, while the visitors could show nothing but goose eggs for their labors. Higgins, Westfield's pitcher, gave an exhibition of fine twirling in the third inning, when with three on bases, he struck out the next three batters in succession and prevented the visitors from scoring a run. In the fifth, Roselle was allowed to score three runs, but when the Westfield's came to the bat, their opponents refused to play any longer. The game was then called, with the score 12 to 4 in Westfield's favor. Noteworthy features of the the game were the excellent battery work of Higgins and Kelly, of Westfield, and the fine fielding of Smith, at second base. All the Westfield players pounded the ball hard, and hits could be depended upon where they were most needed. A large crowd, including many Roselle rooters, witnessed the game.

Saturday, Charles Sebring, the superintendent of the Bound Brook Electric Light Company, has a large gang of men engaged in erecting the electric light service.

Saturday, the New Jersey Mutual Realty Company made a contract with I. W. Stout, formerly Street Commissioner of North Plainfield, for laying over 3,000 feet of twelve-inch sewer pipe with connections for every lot on Mountain avenue and the Lincoln Boulevard. In this respect Lincoln differs from most new towns, as every purchaser of a lot gets the improvements of water, sewer, electric light, trees, etc, without additional cost, and is assured at the outset that he will not be burdened with assessments or taxes for these improvements. It is expected that for many years to come the town will have the benefit of the nominal taxes of township government.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. THE AMERICAN QUEEN COMPETITION.

A Columbia FREE!!

A lady's Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, will be given to the winner in THE AMERICAN QUEEN competition, which will be open to all the subscribers to THE AMERICAN QUEEN until June 30, 1897.

The Columbia, the standard bicycle of the world, has been selected for this competition, because the publishers of THE AMERICAN QUEEN are convinced that it is the best and that the woman who wins it would have it in preference to any other make.

The Columbia is now on exhibition at our store, and will remain on exhibition until June 30th, when the competition will close and the Columbia will be awarded to the fortunate winner.

The contest which we have just inaugurated, by or through which some subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN will become the proud possessor of the standard cycle, is going to win a fine, high grade $100 Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, to the lady subscriber who furnishes the best menu, for a family of five, the cost of such menu not to exceed $10 for the week.

The contest will remain open until June 30, 1897. The conditions and plan of this contest are simply these: We purpose presenting a Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, to the lady subscriber who furnishes the best menu, for a family of five, the cost of such menu not to exceed $10 for the week.

The merits of the menus submitted will be passed upon by the Editor of THE AMERICAN QUEEN, Miss Mary L. Bisland, and the person furnishing the best menu, in Miss Bisland's judgment, will be presented with the bicycle.

The menu submitted should be enclosed in one envelope and the name of the sender in a separate one, the two being handed in or sent in together, addressed to us. The envelopes containing the menus will then be numbered and sent to Miss Bisland and the envelopes containing the names reserved by us, and when Miss Bisland makes her choice of the menus she will inform us of the number of the winner and we will then announce the result in local newspapers and THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The only requirement necessary to admit you to this contest is that you be a subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The splendid wheel which will go to the winner is on exhibition in the store and may be seen at any time.

We want everybody to feel free to go into this contest and we hope that hundreds of our customers will fix their minds on good things to eat and mould them into an acceptable menu for the week, and at the same time keep the cost down to $10.

THE COMPETITION.—Our aim in offering this competition with this announcement become a reader of THE AMERICAN QUEEN, if a year, but to give all our friends a chance to get this splendid ensuing year and at the same time have a chance to become the proud possessor of the standard cycle, we shall, until the 30th day of June receive subscriptions (only one to the store at once, register your name, family) for the nominal fee of 25 Cents a year. Come to the receive your receipt for THE QUEEN for one year and try to win the Columbia.

Are you interested?

Are you going to paint this season?

Have you solved the question of paint economy—and does ready-mixed paint suggest itself?

You are prepared to admit that its advantages over the product of the primitive mixing-tub are cleanliness, lack of waste, uniformity of color and consistency of body, but the uncertainty of its material—that's the rub!

Cheap pigments, where white lead is replaced by whiting, have shaken public faith in ready-mixed paints.

No experiment is made when buying Harrisons' Ready-Mixed Paints. They are backed by a business record that has made "Harrison" and "Honesty" synonymous.

Harrisons' READY "TOWN AND COUNTRY" MIXED Paints

Are the product of a house that has been continuously in the manufacture of paint for one hundred and four years, and continued success is due to the employment of able talent, the highest grade of material and the best manufacturing facilities. The Harrison Ready-Mixed Paints are made only of the finest quality of white lead, zinc white and linseed oil, with the requisite coloring material, and this of such fine quality and strength as to insure by the use of the least quantity the standard shades or tints of greatest brilliancy. By a special invention absolute uniformity of shade is maintained. We claim for this paint maximum durability under severe exposures—as at the seashore; good and free working qualities under the brush—in short, the working qualities demanded by a thorough practical painter; a large percentage of white lead that will keep indefinitely without becoming fatty or otherwise spoiling—any other paint containing white lead in any considerable quantity and keeping well in dealers' hands is not known to the manufacturers. The trade-mark "H" in red is on every can.

FOR THE INSURGENTS

An Enthusiastic Meeting Held In Washington.

DISTINGUISHED MEN WERE PRESENT

Senator Allen of Nebraska Addressed the Assemblage and Gave His Views on the Subject—Resolutions Read by Senator Butler Adopted.

Washington, May 17.—An enthusiastic audience of men and women, many of them well known in Washington, packed the Columbia theater to its doors at a monster meeting held in behalf of the cause of the Cuban insurgents. The theater was appropriately decorated. Seated on the platform and participating in the exercises were Senators Gallinger and Allen, ex-Senator Butler of South Carolina, Rev. Hugh Johnson, pastor of the Metropolitan Methodist church; Rev. Howard Wilbur Ennis and a number of others identified with the interests of the insurgents.

General William Henry Browne, president of the Cuban league, called the meeting to order and introduced Senator Gallinger as the presiding officer. The latter made a brief address and read a number of letters and telegrams of regret, among them being those from Senators Chandler, Frye and Burrows and Commander Clarkson of the G. A. R.

Mr. Karl Decker of Washington, who, as correspondent of a New York paper, spent some time in Cuba, much of it with a branch of the Cuban army in Santa Clara province, gave a description of the condition of affairs existing and of the pitiable plight of many of the people suffering for the necessaries of life.

He ridiculed the claims sent out by General Weyler that the island had been pacified and said that if the Cubans were granted belligerent rights by the United States they would certainly win. Mr. Decker has just returned from Cuba.

In the course of some interesting remarks Senator Allen of Nebraska humorously declared that there was no division in the Populists ranks on the question of Cuban liberty. In this whole matter, he thought, there had been too much sacrifice to a spirit of commercialism, and it was time this government had a little more humanity and a little more Americanism.

He declared that the United States could not afford to have a decaying monarchy with a foothold on this continent, and he would be delighted to see Spain and the Ottomah empires wiped from the map of Europe. If the president were to send a fleet to Havana, war in the island would cease in 30 days, and it would not be necessary to fire a gun. If the United States should say to Spain, "You shall not war upon the hospitals, upon women and upon children," Weyler's occupation would be gone.

Mrs. Clara Belle Brown of the Woman's National Cuban league said the league had but one platform, one aim and one end, and that end was the establishment of the republic of Cuba. Remarks were also made by the Rev. Dr. Kent, Mrs. Lincoln, vice director of the Woman's league, and Rev. Howard Wilbur Ennis.

Ex-Senator Butler of South Carolina read a series of resolutions which had been prepared, and these were unanimously adopted. They earnestly protested against the "barbarous and inhuman methods" of Spain in conducting the war in Cuba, declared that this government should recognize the insurgents as belligerents and that Cuba had demonstrated that it was her manifest destiny, like Mexico, to be free and independent without the payment to Spain of any indemnity.

Capsuloids.

Dr. Campbell's Wonderful Method of Restoring Natural Iron to the Blood, and Thus Curing Disease, to be Applied in America.

Capsuloids, the great medicine which has cured thousands in London, England, and which is endorsed and prescribed by the most eminent English physicians, has come to America. It is not a patent or secret medicine. Capsuloids are little, soft pointed globes of pure gelatine filled with the only natural iron yet discovered. This iron is exactly the same as the iron in your blood when healthy, and is not like the iron in any pills or mixtures that you have ever taken. The well-known London physician, Dr. Campbell, found that iron medicine disagreed with almost every person, and after a series of experiments discovered that the iron in human blood, called Hæmoglobin, is identical with the iron in the blood of cows and bullocks. A means of extracting this natural iron or Hæmoglobin from the blood of healthy bullocks was discovered. It was re-dissolved, enclosed in a covering of pure gelatine in the form of a small pointed globe known to physicians as Capsuloids. Many experiments made by Dr. Campbell and other London physicians demonstrated that when a Capsuloid was swallowed, the gelatine covering melted in a minute, and the dissolved iron or Hæmoglobin passed directly into the blood vessels, and within a few minutes was giving richness and color to the fluid of life, renewing the strength of all the nerves and tissues of the body.

To fully establish the efficacy of this new remedy it has been decided to distribute a quantity of Capsuloids to the weak and ailing. This distribution will take place at L. W. Randolph's druggist, 143 West Front street, on Monday, May 17th, between the hours of 1 and 8 p. m., when any adult presenting this notice will receive without charge, a box of Capsuloids.

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids are sold by all leading druggists at 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, or sent direct at the same price from the office of The Capsuloid Company, Room 1011, Downing Building, 108 Fulton street, New York city.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. A MEXICAN TRAGEDY.

A Young Man Elopes With His Sweetheart After Exciting Adventures.

San Antonio, Tex., May 17.—Henry Bridgman, an American stockman living near Monclova, Mexico, has arrived here with news of a quadruple tragedy just enacted on the hacienda Del Cedral, near his ranch. Macedonia Frausta, a 17-year-old boy of that neighborhood, was in love with Anita Moyas, the pretty daughter of a ranchman. The family of the girl opposed the marriage, and Frausta determined to get possession of her by force.

He armed himself and started for her home. On the road he met Manuel Solis, manager of the hacienda, accompanied by one of the girl's brothers. The boy and the two men had some warm words, and Frausta deliberately shot and killed them both.

Another brother of the girl arrived on the scene, and he was also shot and killed. Before the boy got away from the scene of the crime Manuel Herrera came up and attempted his capture. Herrera was also killed. The murderer then proceeded to the girl's home, and the two eloped and have not yet been captured.

BOGUS MONEY ORDERS AFLOAT

Warning Sent Out About Some That Were Stolen Near Albany.

Albany, May 17.—United States Superintendent of Mails Guernsey of this city warns all persons to beware of accepting postoffice money order blanks between Nos. 362 and 400. They were stolen from the postoffice at Slingerlands near this city yesterday, together with $300 in stamps of various denominations, ranging from 1 cent to 10 cents.

The robbers, supposed to be the same gang that operated successfully at Coeymans a short time since, blew open the safe with a dynamite cartridge. The explosion broke nine lights of glass, but did not seem to have been effective in awakening the sleeping populace of the village, for the robbers made their escape with their booty without trouble. There is no clew.

At Cleveland the police made good their promise to prevent Sunday baseball there if an attempt was made to play yesterday. At the end of the first inning between the Cleveland and Washington teams all the players on both sides and Umpire Tim Hurst were arrested and taken to the Central police station, four miles distant, where President Robinson gave bail for the prisoners, and they were released.

Cornerstone Laid.

Derby, Conn., May 17.—The cornerstone of the new parochial school of St. Mary's parish was laid with impressive ceremonies in the presence of 5,000 persons. A large number of clergymen from this and adjoining dioceses were present, and several of the city officials were among the laity that occupied seats on the platform. Right Rev. Bishop Tierney of Hartford officiated at the ceremony, and the sermon was preached by Mgr. Mooney, vicar general of the archdiocese of New York. The services were preceded by a parade of the different Catholic societies. The new building will be of brick and will cost $40,000. It will contain eight rooms, a spacious hall, the parish library and the quarters of the parish club.

Fatally Wounded His Wife's Assailants.

East Stroudsburg, Pa., May 17.—Crazed with drink, Clinton Rouck, Newton Fritz and Harry Hufford entered the house of Henry Vanbuskirk near here and attempted to assault his wife. The husband was in bed with pneumonia. Hearing his wife's cries for help, he secured a revolver and fired. The ball entered Rouck's stomach. The latter fired four shots in return, one striking Vanbuskirk in the right breast, penetrating the lung. Neither man can recover. Rouck and Fritz are now under arrest, but Hufford has so far eluded capture.

Alleged Forger Held.

New York, May 17.—J. B. Watson, who was arrested in Poughkeepsie and who is wanted in this city on the charge of forging several checks which, it is alleged, he passed on J. C. Hartman of 1 Broadway was held in $500 bail for examination. Baxter, Watson's alleged accomplice, is now confined in the Tombs awaiting trial. Watson said that he passed a check given him by Baxter and did not know that it was forged.

Drowned by Overturning of His Boat.

Waltham, Mass., May 17.—Svene Petersen, a Swede, 50 years old, was drowned in the Charles river a short distance above Forest Grove. He was fishing with William Morton, and in some way the boat was overturned, both being thrown into the water. Petersen went to the bottom, and Morton managed to reach the shore. Petersen leaves a wife and three daughters.

THEME TO BE CUBA.

The Senate to Thoroughly Discuss the Question.

THE HOUSE ALSO WILL ACT UPON IT.

Among Other Matters That May Be Considered Are the Pacific Roads, the Immigration and the Indian Appropriation Bills.

Washington, May 17.—The proceedings in the senate this week are by no means settled. All will depend upon the course the Cuban question may take. Senator Morgan's joint resolution occupies the favored place on the calendar. Still there is a possibility that the expected message of the president may cause a postponement and that the character of his recommendations may have a bearing that will influence the tenor of the resolution that ultimately will be adopted. The Alabama senator will not stand in the way of action in accordance with such a recommendation as the president may make upon this subject, but he will insist that it shall be independent of and that it shall in nowise interfere with his resolution providing for recognition of Cuban belligerency.

With the Cuban question in its present shape and with no other pressing business before the senate, the debate on this subject will be of uncertain duration. It may continue practically all the week, and it may come to a very sudden and speedy termination. There is little or no doubt that the Morgan resolution will pass when a vote is reached, and the indications are that the majority for it will be the greater for the recent delay. There will continue to be some opposition, and the plea will be made that any material aid given in accordance with executive recommendations is all that can be reasonably expected.

If Cuba does not occupy the entire attention for the week, much of the time is likely to be given to the general calendar. Senator Gear will make an effort to have the Pacific railroad bill considered, while Senator Lodge will, if the opportunity offers, make the same effort in behalf of the immigration bill. Senator Pettigrew will try to call up the resolution for the investigation of the Pacific railroad land patents. The Indian appropriation bill will be brought in on a conference report. In it there remains only the one point of difference on the Uncompaghre lands to be settled. The sundry civil conference probably will be postponed until Senator Allison's return to the city. Senator Mallory, the new Florida senator, will be inducted into office early in the week.

Senator Aldrich will make the opening statement in behalf of the tariff bill on the part of the majority of the finance committee tomorrow, but it will rest with individual senators whether the debate shall be continued beyond this speech at that time. The probabilities are that the statement will produce some badinage and that after this the senate will adjourn until the following Monday, when the debate will begin in earnest. Senator Aldrich is expected to fully explain the position of himself and colleagues and to make quite an elaborate presentation of the subject.

House's Probable Action.

The house leaders have not yet decided upon the methods by which they will make their response to the president's prospective message asking for relief for the starving Americans in Cuba. That the response will be quick and complete, however, there is no reason to doubt.

In the present condition of affairs in the house three methods of procedure are open. Ordinarily the message would go to the committee on foreign affairs for consideration, and that committee would report a bill which would come back to the house for action through the regular channels. The speaker could in the present emergency simply appoint this committee and let the whole subject take the regular course. But it is hardly likely that this will be done.

The subject is so well understood that it probably will be thought that the members, with the message and the accompanying documents which the president will transmit before them, can act intelligently without a committee report. If the committee is not appointed, two other courses will be open. First, after the receipt of the message a bill may be formulated by the leaders and a special order reported by the committee on rules for its consideration.

This would bring the whole question at once before the house for action, but this method would be disadvantageous perhaps in that both houses, struggling to the same end simultaneously, would act on different bills, thus entailing delay for adjustment of differences in conference.

The most likely course is that the house will await the action of the senate, if action is had promptly, and then consider the senate bill or joint resolution under a special order. The sentiment in favor of the recognition of the Cuban insurgents is strong in the house, and a very radical measure might be passed if the house were allowed free action. With a senate measure dealing only with the question of the relief of the suffering Americans before the house under a special order, possibility of amendment would be cut off, and the house would be compelled to accept or reject it as passed by the senate.

The conference report on the Indian bill probably will come before the house this week.

O'Connell Medallion Unveiled In Italy.

Genoa, May 17.—A bronze medallion in memory of Daniel O'Connell, the celebrated Irish patriot and orator, was unveiled in the facade of the Palazzo de Asarta, where he died, on May 15, 1847. The unveiling was preceded by a solemn mass and procession in the Cathredral of Sana Siro, the most ancient Christian foundation in Genoa.

lives of many with whom he came in contact. He will be greatly missed in the home where he was cared for by loving hands. His last days were passed in the full enjoyment of a Christian life well spent and he was ready and willing to go and be with his Heavenly Father. His death was not unexpected by those in close touch with him, for it could be seen that he was failing and the end was looked for at any time.

The funeral services will be held from the house Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 and from the Seventh-Day Baptist church at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Titsworth was for a number of years a member of the Board of Directors of the First National Bank, and previous to 1890 he was elected vice-president. In 1890 he was elected president and served in that capacity until 1893. He still retained his membership in the Board until two years ago, when he was obliged to resign owing to his health.

GRACE M. E. CHAPTER.

Their Fourth Anniversary Celebrated Last Night, Too.

The Epworth League of Grace M. E. church celebrated their fourth anniversary last evening and the eight anniversary of the founding of the society. President Charles Hummer, of the local society, was in charge and he was assisted by Mr. Powell. After the devotional exercises a paper was read by Mrs. Knowlton, chairman of the devotional committee, in which a general sketch of the organization at large was given.

After an offering had been made for the benefit of the local Chapter, President Hummer gave an interesting sketch of the home society. The Chapter was organized in 1893 with a membership of 35, and after a four years' growth the membership has reached 74, of which number there are 50 active and 24 associate members The Junior League has a membership of 108.

A. A. Taft served the chapter as president for three years, when Mr Hummer was elected. All committees have done good work and the Chapter has since its organization raised about $350, all of which has been expended in pushing the work of the League Following the reports the pastor, Rev H. A BLAZING BEAR STORY.

The Hunter was Treed but Gave Bruin a Warm Reception.

They were spinning yarns at the chase, and this was the contribution of the Congressman: "After a pretty hard campaign I went with a hunting party to the upper peninsula. One morning I had tramped an unusual distance from camp and suddenly came upon three half-grown cubs rolling and tumbling over each other in play. I shot one and the other two beat a clumsy retreat. Setting my gun against a tree I reached my cub while he was still kicking.

"Hearing a noise, I whirled around to find the mother coming at me, her mouth wide open and her eyes glaring. There was no chance to reach the rifle. I'm no sprinter, and took the only alternative by shinning up a tall pine tree. She stopped a minute to examine the victim of my shot, and was more enraged than ever as she came climbing after me. Once in the tufted top of that pine I did some faster thinking, gentlemen, than I ever did on any question of state. The bear was coming, and losing no time. I was without weapon of any kind. It looked as though bruin had the drop.

"But a man in my predicament overlooks no chances. In my vest pocket I had a well-filled match safe. In my hip pocket was a pint of brandy, minus one moderate nip. In my hunting jacket was a bunch of tow. I saturated that with brandy, and, as the bear approached, I anointed her with the remainder. Dividing the tow so as to have two shots, I lit the first half and dropped it on the bear. I didn't need the other half. There was a flash of light as though a pan of powder had been ignited. The air was filled with the odor of burning hair. The bear let go and fell down, because it was quicker. Then she left a fiery streak toward the horizon, and made more noise than any ordinary thunder storm."—Detroit Free Press.

BEECHER'S ONLY POEM.

$10,000 Offered for It, but the Author would not Accept.

It was related by Mrs. Beecher that during their courtship Mr. Beecher once "dropped into poetry," and wrote a few lines of verse teeming with affection for his sweetheart. But the verses were always kept sacred by Mrs. Beecher, and nothing could win them from her.

One day Mr. and Mrs. Beecher were in the office of Robert Bonner, the publisher.

"Why don't you write a poem, Beecher?" said Mr. Bonner.

"He did once," said Mrs. Beecher.

"Recite it for me, won't you, Mrs. Beecher.

But the eyes of the great preacher were riveted on his wife, and she knew that he meant silence.

"Come," said Mr. Bonner, "I'll give you $5,000 if you will recite that poem to me," addressing Mrs. Beecher.

"Why, it ran——" quickly said Mrs. Beecher.

"Eunice," simply said Mr. Beecher.

And although Robert Bonner offered to double the sum first offered, he never got the poem from Mrs. Beecher. It had been hidden away ever since by Mrs. Beecher, and cherished as one of the dearest treasures her husband left her.—Boston Globe.

Beefsteak Comes High in Alaska.

The first beefsteak that ever reached Circle City, Alaska, sold for $48 per pound a few weeks ago. The steak consisted of a ten-pound piece of the Thorp beef that was slaughtered at Forty-mile Creek, and was carried from that place to Circle City, a distance of 250 miles, by Thomas O'Brien. When O'Brien reached camp the miners turned out en masse to see the steak. It was placed on exhibition, and attracted much attention. The prices offered were such as would have resulted in a mining-camp quarrel or bloodshed if it had not been decided to raffle the steak for the benefit of a hospital which Bishop Rowe is trying to establish for the miners at Circle City. At first only $5 per pound was offered for a slice of steak, but bidding became brisker as the meat was sliced, and as high as $35 a pound was offered. Finally, in order to avoid complications, it was decided to sell tickets at from 50 cents to $2.50 for the privilege of drawing for a slice. After $480 worth of tickets had been sold the drawing began and was ended peacefully.—Tacoma Cor. Galveston News.

MR. BLAINE'S PROPHETIC WORDS.

He Foretold in a Measure His Political Future.

I first made the acquaintance of Mr. Blaine during the Congress session of 1865-'66. He was then beginning his second term in the House. At that time I owned and edited a country newspaper in General Garfield's district. One day in the fall of 1865 Garfield wrote me to come up to his hilltop home in the little cottage town of Hiram. He told me that he thought it would be a good thing for a young newspaper man to study National politics in Washington and get acquainted with National men, and that he would undertake to get me a clerkship in the House of Representatives. In due time he spoke to his old friend, General Robert C. Schenck, who was chairman of the Committe on Military Affairs, and the result was I was given the clerkship of that committee.

Colfax was Speaker of the House, and for some reason or other he seemed to have little liking for the ambitious young member from the Augusta district of Maine, for he appointed Blaine to a position near the foot of that committee. Now, Blaine had not served in the Army and had no knowledge of military legislation and no taste for that kind of work. He used to be a country newspaper editor himself, and he appeared to take a fancy to the young clerk from Ohio. He would often drop into the committee-room and, standing before the wood fire would talk freely to me about his newspaper and political career and his plans and hopes for the future.

I remember that he said one day: "I do not like this Military Comittee business and ought not to be here. Next Congress I am going to be on the Committee on Appropriations or Ways and Means. Financial questions will soon be the dominant ones in Congress. Two years later I expect to be chairman of my committee. Then I think I shall be Speaker of the House and after a while I hope to go to the Senate."

Everything came about exactly as he planned. He had wonderful prescience concerning his own future, as well as in relation to political events. When he was a candidate for the Presidential nomination in 1880 he said to me: "My career has thus far closely paralleled that of Henry Clay. He was Speaker of the House and then Senator. His party refused to nominate him as long as it had any chance of electing a President. When it had no longer any chance it gave him the nomination he had so long sought. I believe that it is going to be my fate."—Chicago Times-Herald.

A Place for Dress Waists.

In these days, when space is a matter of deep importance in one's home and bedrooms the young housekeeper has to devise all kinds of makeshifts to replace the wardrobe and drawer space to which she has been accustomed. Couches are to be had made so that the top turns back easily and discloses an air-tight storage space where nice dress skirts may be spread out at length and still be as accessible as if hung in a wardrobe. And now some one has solved the problem of where to put the betrimmed dress waists so that they shall not be crushed and still may be quickly gotten out, thus giving further relief to overcrowded closets.

Brass bedsteads are now made with two dust-proof drawers underneath. The length of the drawers is the same as the width of the bed. One drawer opens at the upper end of the bed, and on the opposite side the drawer is at the lower end. The pleated valance to match the draperies of the bed is fastened separately to the front of the drawers, and when they are closed they are not noticeable, as the folds hang together, and the lace-trimmed bed-cover falls over the top of the valance. The drawers are so made as to clear away any doubts of those who may object to the idea on the score that they may become close and stuffy. There is a space between the closed top of the drawer and the bed, thus allowing ample circulation of air all around.—New York Sun.

She Was All Heart.

Mrs. Tawker—"I was at the theatre last evening. It was an awfully sad play about a man being thrown out of work and his family dying from starvation: I couldn't keep from crying to save my life. I don't know when I have been so affected."

Enter Servant—"Mum ,there's a woman at the door as wants some cold victuals. She do say her children haven't had a bit nor a sup fer two days."

Mrs. Tawker—"Tell her to go away; that we don't give anything to beggars. As I was saying, Mrs. Brown, it was a very sad play. Mr. Tawker says I ought not witness such performances, they take hold of me so. He says that I am all heart."

ADJUSTING TAX MATTERS

DELINQUENTS PUT IN FOUR CLASSES UNDER THE MARTIN ACT.

Common Sense, as Suggested by Individual Cases, Will Direct the Action of the Officials in Collecting the Back Taxes.

At the adjourned meeting of the City Council held last evening every member was present and there was plenty of business to occupy the attention of all. A batch of petitions were first considered. John Tier and others asked for an electric light on Watchung avenue, near the recently erected temporary foot-bridge over the brook, and it was referred with power. A statement of charges for the laying of sidewalks where the city performed the work was presented and was referred to the Finance Committee. W. H. Burrows and others asked for a cross-walk at the corner of Clinton avenue and West Front street, and the same was granted. The bond of the Plainfield Sanitary Company, which was referred back for correction, was presented and referred to the Finance Committee. The Council confirmed the officers recently elected to the various companies in the fire department. A proposition was received from Charles H. Hand to erect a suitable city jail and the matter was referred to the proper committee. The Mayor, in a communication, stated that the Plainfield Board of Health had condemned the city jail as being in an unsanitary condition and he suggested that steps be taken to secure other quarters. This matter was referred to the Police Committee with power. Regarding the request of Charles H. Hand and J. F. McIntyre asking that they be released from the bond of former City Treasurer Titsworth, Mr. Baker said that upon inquiry he had learned that the Council has no jurisdiction in the matter, and he moved that the City Clerk be authorized to instruct the bondsmen to that effect. Mr. Frost reported unfavorably on the cross-walk asked for at the Babcock building by J. A. Hubbard and William M. Stillman, and the walk was not granted. The same councilman reported favorably on the walk asked for at the corner of East Second street and Berckman street, and this was granted. Regarding the twelve walks asked for on Plainfield avenue, between Front street and Seventh street, Mr. Frost recommended that six be granted after the property owners had complied with the city ordinance in laying sidewalks. The recommendation was adopted.

Mr. Frost stated that he had received two tax bills from the collector for the sewer farm property. He said that the assessor was not aware at the time of assessing that property that the city was going to buy the property. This matter was referred and later was adjusted in a satisfactory manner so that the city will not have to pay the amount taxed.

Mr. Westphal made a statement regarding the completion of the Industrial Home, and said that the same would be ready for occupancy about the first of next month. He then offered a set of rules to govern the Home. A digest of the rules are that that the Home shall be under the immediate control of the alms committee and subject to the control of the Council; that no tobacco shall be used in the Home; that visitors shall be allowed to call once a month for one hour only; that the inmates shall take a bath at least once a week.

There was considerable opposition to some of the rules and the members of the Council indulged in a free discussion of them. Mr. Barrows said that while he was not a smoker he thought it was rather hard to compel a man to give up his tobacco. Mr. Westphal and Mr. Frost offered what seemed to be good reasons for having this rule. They said that there was a chance of fire in the Home and that they did not think that those who do not smoke should be compelled to breathe the smoke made by others.

Regarding the one hour a month allowed to visitors there was much said. Mr. Barrows thought that the rule was a very strict one. He thought that it was like prohibition and that it was liable to have a contrary effect. The inmates may have seen better days and the council as well as others should treat them charitably.

Mr. Frost said that it was not proposed to have the place open at all times so that people could come there merely for curiosity. The discussion was finally brought to a close by a resolution which was to the effect that the Alms committee have the power to relax the rules if necessary.

On the recommendation of Mr. Tolles a light was ordered placed at the corner of Madison avenue near Stelle avenue.

At this point Mr. Serrel offered a report for the Committee on the Assessment and Collection of Taxes. In the

THIEVES GOT A BIG HAUL

A WESTFIELD MAN LOSES $110 IN CASH AND JEWELRY.

The Burglars Were Evidently the Same Ones Who Were Discovered Operating in McManus' House—Mr. Simpson, Victim

Burglars entered the residence of Wm. Simpson, on Sussex street, Westfield, about 3 o'clock Monday morning, and carried off a quantity of silverware, $110 in money, two pairs of gold eye-glasses and a gold watch and chain.

The thieves were evidently the same ones who entered a house on Walnut street at about the same time, as described in yesterday's Press. They gained entrance through a parlor window by sliding back a catch. All the clothing was removed from the sleeping rooms upstairs and carried to the parlor, where it was leisurely looked over. From Mr. Simpson's trousers $110 in cash was taken. Bureaus and closets throughout the house were also ransacked and everything containing gold or silver that the thieves could lay hands on was taken. A peculiar circumstance about the robbery was that although the burglars did their work leisurely and thoroughly, invading every part of the house, none of the inmates were awakened by their operations.

Mr. Simpson was suffering with a severe headache when he awoke about 7 o'clock Monday morning, which leads him to believe he was chloroformed. The suspicious silence during the night of a very large watch dog that is kept on the premises, gives some plausibility to the chloroform theory.

HE LEFT WELL-DRESSED.

SEVERAL MERCHANTS FLIM FLAMMED BY A COACHMAN.

He Was Employed by T. B. Penton, Where He Had the Goods Sent—Promised to be Around and Pay for Them—He Left Town

John Kelly, up to last Saturday evening, was coachman for Thomas Penton, of Rockview avenue. He attended to his duties with care and appeared to be the model of a coachman. He was quiet and well-appearing and made a favorable impression on all who saw him.

Last Saturday afternoon, Kelly came down town and visited the rooms of Sternberg & Co., clothiers. He bought a $14 suit and ordered it sent to the house where he said that he would pay for it. He also went to the store of James D. Blair, on Park avenue, and purchased a $2 hat, which he also requested might be sent to the house. He said that he would pay for it there. Then he went to the gents' furnishing goods store of Eugene A. Laing, of Park avenue, and bought $8 worth of shirts and socks. These were to be paid for also on their arrival at the Penton residence.

About five o'clock, all the goods arrived at the house and Kelly was there to receive them. He explained to the three boys that brought the three packages that he had not received his pay, but that Mr. Penton would give him the neecessary cash at the dinner hour and that he would come down town at 6:30 o'clock and settle all of the accounts. The three boys departed satisfied.

The time came but not John Kelly. Arthur Jennings, the young clerk in Blair's store who had sold Kelly the hat, became anxious and went over to Mr. Penton's to see what had become of Kelly and the hat. In response to his inquiries, he was informed that Kelly had left the employ of Mr. Penton and had left town a short time before. The hat was supposed to have accompanied him. Also the suit and the rest of his purchases.

From that time nothing has been seen or heard of Kelly although many inquiries have been made for him by the interested parties.

FOR SCHOOL SUFFRAGE.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETINGS OF ADVOCATES OF WOMEN'S RIGHTS.

Addresses Made by Many Prominent in the Movement—C. J. Baxter, State Superintendent of Public Schools, Favors Claims.

The meeting in the Y. M. C. A. hall last night was rather a one-sided one in that all present were advocates of the adoption of the new constitutional amendment giving women the right to vote for school trustees, but the speeches were interesting and presented the different views of the subject. It was a meeting of the Union County Equal Suffrage Association. The hall was filled by an enthusiastic audience.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Aaron M. Powell, president of the association, who delivered a short address. She said that the association had been organized two years ago this month, so that this meeting was an anniversary meeting. The object of the association, she explained, was to regain the right of the women of of New Jersey, taken from them by the Supreme Court, of voting for trustees at school meetings. To recover that right it is necessary to pass an amendment to the constitution of the State. Three times has the amendment been passed by the Legislature, and this fall it will come before the male voters of the state to act upon. This amendment, continued Mrs. Powell, does not satisfy the aims of the members, as it merely gives the right to vote for trustees in the rural districts and the members want cities as well.

Although the special efforts of the association are devoted in securing school suffrage, the association firmly believes in general suffrage for women. She told of the growth of the latter movement in the west and how well it worked in the places where it has been tried.

Mrs. Powell introduced Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, president of the State Woman's Suffrage Association, who acted as chairman of the meeting.

Mrs. Hall, after a few introductory words, introduced David P. Hall, who stated the law regarding the school suffrage as it is at present and the effect of the amendment if passed. In 1887, he said, the Legislature gave the women the right to vote at school meetings. School meetings are only known in the rural districts of the State, the affairs of schools in cities resting entirely with a Board of Education elected at the city election. He explained how the school meeting was called and how conducted. The powers of women at the meeting he gave very concisely. They can preside, act as tellers at the election, are entitled to speak on all questions, have a vote on all questions, including the settlement of the tax and the bonding of towns for school purposes. All these rights they are now entitled to, but the constitution says that for all the officers in the State only the male voters shall have a right to vote. The object of the amendment is to extend the right of woman to vote for the school trustee as well as decide on the school tax or bonding of the town.

Miss Margaret Chandler, of New York, was next introduced. She drew a word picture of the country school and how hard it was for the teacher to accomplish anything if she did not have the interest and assistance of the parents.

Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards was the next speaker. He said that although he had no particular knowledge of the subject, he was much interested in it. He thought it would pass. After learning that the amendment did not affect cities, he said, he had rather lost interest in it. He had hoped that it would affect Plainfield for he had an experience with the subject of School Boards here. He had run for a position and could not have been turned down more thoroughly if the ladies had voted.

Mrs. Hall explained that an effort had been made to have the school suffrage extended to cities but it had been unsuccessful.

Rev. Jocelyn Johnstone made an eloquent speech in which he declared that woman is the real educator of the child from the first and certainly should be given a voice in the choice of the instructors of her children. He went on to say that civilization and education had advanced as the powers and rights of women had been increased and he drew examples from history to prove his statement.

Before the next speaker, Mrs. Hall explained that there were two other amendments to be acted upon in September at the same time as the one regarding school suffrage. One of these related to gambling at race-tracks.

Rev. J. A. Nickerson told something of a town in New England where

SQUIRE MAD AT SHERIFF.

MR. KIRKS EDICTS ABOUT THE COUNTY BUILDINGS DENOUNCED.

A Cranford Justice Who Run Amuck of the Sheriff's Orders for Conduct in Court and Corridor Became Very Much Agitated.

Sheriff Kirk has issued an order which threatens to bring down on his head the wrath of all the Dogberries of Union County. The Sheriff last week decided that no one should be allowed inside the bar inclosure during the sessions of the county court except lawyers and representatives of the press. This shut out from this favorite lounging spot Police Justices and Justices of the Peace, who, with some veteran professional jurymen, used to stroll inside and appropriate some of the best seats within the railing, to the annoyance of the lawyers who had cases to try in the court.

Squire William W. Mendell, of Cranford, was the first one to violate the Sheriff's new edict. The Justice, who is one of the founders of Cranford, came to Elizabeth on Friday to settle a case in the District Court. He had a tilt there with Judge Atwater, who threatened him with arrest for contempt of Court. The angry squire defied the Judge and left the court in high dudgeon. He repaired to the County Court, still boiling within from the indignity put upon him.

When he reached the court he sauntered up the aisle to take his usual seat inside the bar inclosure, but was rudely held up by Constable James White, of Springfield, who had been placed on guard at the wicket by Sheriff Kirk, to see that no interlopers passed through. The astonished Justice demanded to know what the officer meant and Constable White curtly told him of the Sheriff's order. The irate Justice fumed at this outrage to his feeling and said he would go and give the Sheriff a piece of his mind.

The Squire went out to the Sheriff's office, but Mr. Kirk was not there, so pulling out a Havana and lighting it, the Justice began pacing up and down the corridor, cooling his heels until the Sheriff should return. Another new order of the Sheriff is that there shall be no smoking or lounging in the Courthouse corridor and Constable James Carey, whose duty is to see that this is obeyed, stepped up to Mr. Mendell and told him he would have to stop smoking or loafing in the corridor and must get out of the building or else go into the courtroom lobby and sit down.

This was the last straw, and the Justice fairly exploded with rage. He informed the Constable that he had smoked in that corridor before the officer was made a citizen and that he had been attending court there before half the fellows now employed in it were born. His angry protests were unavailing, however, as the Constable insisted on his retirement and Squire Mendell left the Courthouse in a furious passion, bitterly denouncing the Sheriff and the new order of things.

A Helpful Discussion.

Mrs. Jones conducted the devotional exercises at the meeting of the Primary Teachers' Union held yesterday afternoon, and Miss Beeching taught the lesson, "The Conference at Jerusalem," and the topic, "Children's Day," was conducted by Mrs. Powlison. The general discussion was very helpful and brought out many valuable points for the teachers.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

A CHARMING SOCIAL TIME GIVEN BY LITTLE MISS TERHUNE.

The Occassion was the Passing of Her Eighth Birthday—She Made a Pleasant Hostess for Here Many Young Friends.

One of the most charming events of the season among the young folks of Plainfield was the celebration by Miss Edith Litchfield Terhune, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Terhune, of Sandford avenue, of her eighth birthday anniversary, which took place last evening between the hours of 7 and 9:30 o'clock, when she entertained a number of her friends.

The beautiful home was decorated with taste, the prevailing color being pink. In the dining room there was a profusion of cut roses and carnations prettily festooned about the table.

The young hostess did the honors in receiving her guests and she was assisted by her brother, Master Harold L. Terhune. The former was richly gowned in white.

All of the young ladies appeared in evening dress and the scene was a most attractive one. The guests indulged in the playing of games, which helped to pass the time all too quickly for the young people. One of the exciting features was the drawing of favors from a Jack Horner pie. The favors were hidden and to them were attached silken ribbon. The pink was for the young ladies, while the white was for the boys. Everyone secured a favor, so that none were disappointed.

The serving of a dainty and pleasing supper added greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion, after which the guests indulged in dancing. The ease and grace displayed in the part of the programme was highly pleasing to the older guests present.

Miss Edith Terhune was the recipient of many pretty and useful reminders of the celebration. When the hour arrived for departure the guests as well as the hostess expressed regrets that they were obliged to separate. The guests were the Misses Edith Leslie, Martha Codington, Mamie Dunham, Carrie Moore, Irene Dunham, Mollie Slocum, Ruth Murphey, Edna Martin, Linda Cave; Masters Douglas Murphey, Chauncey Murphey, Leslie Slocum, Leslie Leland, Erwin Leland, Albert Codington, Robert Longman, Charles Nightingale, Louis Slocum, Frank Howard. Other guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schultz, Mr. and Mrs. Nightingale and Mrs. Murphey.

GOOD WOMAN'S "BOYS."

MRS. BALLINGTON BOOTH TELLS OF HER WORK AMONG PRISONERS.

The Volunteer Leader Says that the Indifference of Many People to the Fate of Others is One of the Great Difficulties.

There was scarcely an unoccupied seat in the beautiful Grace Protestant Episcopal church at 8 o'clock last night; a very large congregation came together before the time for the opening of the service, drawn by the announcement that Maude Ballington Booth, the wife of the commander of the American Volunteers, would be present and describe her work in the prisons of the United States.

At the appointed hour the vested choir followed the cross into the church, Rev. Erskine M. Rodman, D. D., and Rev. Floyd Appleton closing the procession. The processional hymn, "Onward, Christian Soldiers," ended, a part of the evening prayer service was said by Dr. Rodman, and the lesson was read by Mr. Appleton. After another hymn Mrs. Booth was very happily introduced by Dr. Rodman as "one of the very best things that America has imported from the other side." As Mrs. Booth stepped into the pulpit every eye was turned in love and admiration upon the small, graceful figure, and the sweet, earnest womanly face. She wore the regular cadet blue costume of the Volunteers, plain, but perfectly fitting, and the large bonnet, which was very becoming to her lovely face.

Mrs. Booth began by saying that her chosen work was not the hard lot many considered it. It seemed, indeed, at first, as if the barriers between her and the hearts in the great prisons that she fain would reach were almost insurmountable. Feeling that they were helpless of themselves, the Volunteers took the matter to God in prayer, and, as a result, instead of having to beseech the prison officials for admittance, an invitation came to her, unsolicited, from Sing Sing. And now, after less than twelve months' work, the work has been begun in seven states, and they have a membership of over 1,600 in the prisons. Mrs. Booth has come to live in this new work; she thinks of it, dreams of it, prays about it, continually. Her "boys" have a very warm place in her heart. Most eloquently she pleased that her hearers should not regard the criminal only as they read of him in lurid accounts of trials and prison episodes; she had learned to realize that he is a man like other men, with a heart and soul, thoughts of good as well as of evil, and that the problem of the criminal can be solved by opening to him the new gateway of the new life. She had seen the transformation of many lives, and though the fight would be a long one and a hard one, there was nothing but gladness and encourgement in her heart when she thought of this convict problem. But, she tells her "boys," it is they alone that can solve the problem; it is only by their own lives after leaving prison that they can make the way easier for those who shall come after. It is necessary, however, that she fight their battle in the outside world. It is so easy to judge, and to draw the robe of one's own righteousness around us when perhaps the reason that we have never fallen is that we have never been tried. How do we know what we would do, in the circumstances of suffering and starvation that have caused so many to fall? Yet, a man once branded as a convict, even though he may have been innocent, is stigmatized forever, and it is almost impossible for him to rise, when he comes from prison. There is one class of people who are simply indifferent on this subject who have nothing to say against it, and nothing for it; who have not come close enough to the problem to realize the suffering, the heartache, of those in the prisons, and their relatives. Another class is composed of those who wrap themselves closer in their robe of righteousness, and say "Well, those fellows deserve all they get" That is the class, said Mrs. Booth, that, as they grow colder and colder, make me wax hotter and hotter, till I feel like saying "I would like to see you get six months yourself, that you may see how it feels!" Oh, suppose it came close to you; suppose your son, your husband, your brother, wore the stripes; would you be so sure then that nothing could be done to bring these men into a noble life, a beautiful Christianity?

But there is another class, whose hearts beat, whose eyes fill, with sympathy, who stand ready to help with money, influence, and work. If more would be ready to stretch out a helping hand, to give these men a chance, when they come out, there would be fewer behind the bars today.

Mrs. Booth now gave a brief outline of her work. First she goes into the

A SUBMARINE CRAFT

MYSTERY IS CONNECTED WITH HER.

Her Builders Have Carefully Guarded Her Construction and Kept Secret For Whom She Was Built—Makes a Good Showing.

Elizabethport, N. J., May 18.—The Holland submarine torpedo boat has been successfully launched at the Lewis Nixon Crescent shipyards.

Mrs. Lewis Nixon broke a gayly decorated bottle of wine on the nose shaped bow of the craft and exclaimed, "I christen thee the Holland."

As the cigar shaped stern struck and buried itself in the waters of Staten Island sound a cheer arose from the spectators, which quickly changed to exclamations of anxiety as the odd looking craft continued to disappear under the water, until it looked as though the Holland was bound for the bottom of the sound.

The next instant anxiety gave way to loud shouts and whistling of steamers as the turret and about 2 feet by 15 of the deck of the torpedo boat appeared on the surface of the water.

The Holland was towed to the dock, where she will be completed before any submarine experiments are made. Mr. Holland was greatly pleased over the successful launching.

The launching was made as secret as possible, lest everything should not work right. No one was admitted to the yard other than the employees and several friends of Mr. Holland and half a dozen newspaper men. There was no representative from the United States or any other government.

The original intention to have one of Mr. Holland's assistants launched in the boat was abandoned, and no one was aboard when the Holland left the ways. The only decoration was a small American flag on a temporary flagstaff attached to the small turret of the Holland.

Mr. Holland and Mr. Nixon refuse to state for whom or for what purpose the torpedo boat Holland is destined.

The craft, about which there has been so much speculation and mystery, is the invention of John P. Holland. Mr. Holland has been wrestling with the submarine boat problem for ten years or more. The vessel is the fourth he has made. The first, launched in 1877, was a small affair and not an unqualified success. Then Mr. Holland put in five years more on a second attempt that never even came to a launching. Two years later a third, that promised everything desired, was smashed in the launching. Besides the present boat a similar one is now building in Baltimore.

Dimensions of the Craft.

The Holland is 50 feet 3 inches long, with a 4 foot screw protecting extension. Its diameter is 10 feet 3 inches amidships and the molded diameter 10 feet 3 inches. It can travel under water eight knots an hour for eight hours and ten knots on the surface.

The power comes from a gasoline engine and a dynamo, the latter to be used when submerged and the former when the boat is sailing along on the surface.

It will take barely one minute to submerge the boat and not much longer to raise it to the surface of the water.

The armament consists of three torpedo tubes, one at the upper bow of the boat being an aerial torpedo thrower, with a range of one mile. Six projectiles, weighing 180 pounds each, with charges of 100 pounds of explosives, are to be stored for this gun.

Almost directly beneath the torpedo thrower is an expulsion tube for Whitehead torpedos. Only three of these torpedos will be carried, as each one weighs 850 pounds. At the stern of the boat is a submarine gun which, with a 100 pound charge of explosive, can hurl a 400 pound projectile 100 yards or more through the water. Five of these projectiles will be carried.

The craft will be manipulated by a crew of six men.

Workmen will get the craft in shape at once, and she will have her trial trip down the bay as soon as possible.

Three foreign powers are said to have made overtures to secure the craft in case it proves a success, but it is likely that the United States government will get it in case it comes up to expectations. The government has already officially indorsed the patents pertaining to the boat, and the navy department has had an official at the shipyard submitting reports constantly on the work of construction.

Women Cause a Bank Scare.

South Framingham, Mass., May 18.—A run on the Framingham Savings bank, which caused some uneasiness among business men, was precipitated here by the action of about two dozen depositors, mostly women, who presented themselves at the bank and demanded the amounts due them. All such calls were promptly paid. It appears that the fact of the May dividend, a semiannual one, which has recently been declared, being one of only 1½ per cent instead of 3 per cent, caused some uneasiness.

Shot Himself While Despondent.

Kingston, N. Y., May 18.—Egbert J. Kiersted, once a wealthy man, but now poor and in hard luck, shot himself here and will probably die. The bullet entered near the heart and lodged in the right side. He was alone at the time, and the indications are that the shooting was intentional.

Looms Started Again.

Biddeford, Me., May 18.—About 100 looms in the gingham department of the York Cotton mills were started. This department of the mills has been practically shut down for a year. The whole corporation is now running nearly at its full capacity.

Prisoner Released by the Spanish.

Washington, May 18.—Consul General Lee has informed the department of state that Jose F. Dumas, who was arrested in Cuba April 20 last, has been released by the Spanish authorities.

Death of Preston Thornton.

Louisville, May 18.—Preston Thornton, who, as reported in these dispatches, shot himself at the home of President Smith of the Louisville and Nashville road, is dead.

TRAIN CLAIMS OMAHA

He Has Placed the Matter In the Hands of Lawyers.

ALL TO GAIN AND NOTHING TO LOSE.

Got the Idea of Beginning Suit From a Conversation Had With a Stranger Whom He Met In the Park.

Omaha, May 18.—George Francis Train has reopened his claim to the city of Omaha, and he intends to press it to the last. If he wins, he will be worth $20,000,000; if he loses, he will be no poorer than he is now. Certain of his friends have investigated the matter, and they are convinced that his cause is just and that the claim, growing out of the old Union Pacific litigation and subsequent proceedings, in which he was declared a lunatic, is valid.

These friends have employed a large syndicate of eastern and western lawyers to conduct his case, and Proprietor Merrifield of the Continental hotel, where Citizen Train lives, and former Mayor Bemis of Omaha are protecting his interests.

Interview With Train.

New York, May 18.—The following characteristic interview with Citizen Train is published in a morning paper:

"Ten days ago," said the citizen, "a strange man, evidently a mechanic, came to me while I was sitting in the park. I didn't wish to talk with him at first, but he persisted, and I yielded. He said that a short time ago he made a trip to Omaha, and there he met a cousin of his, who is a lawyer and who lives in a handsome house in that city.

"'This is a nice place you own,' remarked the mechanic.

"'Yes,' was the response, 'but between you and me I really believe George Francis Train owns it, because he bought the ground on speculation many years ago, but was cheated out of it. There is a cloud on the title, though, and the same cloud rests upon hundreds of other pieces of land around here.'"

Citizen Train repeated the substance of that conversation to Mr. Merrifield, and the latter became deeply interested and with former Mayor Bemis made inquiry into the matter. The result was that they have decided to attempt to make the citizen a modern Crœsus at the age of 78.

Mr. Merrifield and Citizen Train refused to divulge the names of the lawyers in the syndicate, but they admitted that it had been formed. Full details for publication, they said, would not be given out until June 1.

New Postmasters.

Washington, May 18.—The following fourth class postmasters have been appointed:

New Jersey—Perrineville, W. A. Britton.

New York—Chenango Lake, E. J. Loomis; New Fan Station, W. E. Greenman; Orangeport, Marguerite Burke; Union Center, I. D. Brougham; Van Hornesville, Abram Simmons.

Wanamaker Buys the Harrison Cottage.

Cape May, May 18.—John Wanamaker of Philadelphia has purchased the cottage at Cape May Point which he and others presented to Mrs. Benjamin Harrison during the Harrison administration. The cottage is being repaired and made ready for occupancy. A rumor was started that President McKinley might occupy the cottage, strong efforts having been made to induce him to come here this summer. This rumor is now discredited, however.

Law Against Alien Labor.

Albany, May 18.—The bill which passed the New York legislature at the instigation of Superintendent of Public Works Aldridge prohibiting the assignment and subletting of public contracts without the previous consent in writing of the department or official awarding the same, has been signed by Governor Black. This measure was deemed necessary to prevent the employment of alien labor by subcontractors.

A Place For Mr. Lauterbach.

Albany, May 18.—The bill increasing the number of members of the New York state board of charities to 12 has been signed by Governor Black. The bill increases the number of charities commissioners that can be appointed from New York city to three. This bill was passed at the request of the governor so that he might appoint Edward Lauterbach of New York as a member of this board.

The Sixth Cavalry on the March.

Philadelphia, May 18.—The Sixth United States cavalry, which has been encamped in Fairmount park for the past week, broke camp today and started on their march to Fort Meyer, Va. About a week will be consumed in the march. Easy stages of about 25 miles will be covered each day.

A Denver Business Man Killed.

London, May 18.—H. B. Chamberlin of Denver was killed while bicycling near Satines. Mr. Chamberlin was formerly president of the Chamberlin Investment company of Denver and was connected with several New York insurance companies.

The first week I found great relief, and have improved ever since. I am now practically cured, having used four boxes of the pills. Chas. Jordan, 315 Potts street, Johnstown, Pa.

The Spring

At no other season are Pimples and Humors so abundant or so annoying as in the Spring.

An unseasonably warm day, before change of winter clothing, heats the blood, and these Pimples and Humors itch and burn, and their annoyance, the suffering they cause, is known only to those afflicted.

At no time is a blood purifying medicine more effective than just before and during this season.

If your blood is not right (and whose is?) you are liable to be one of these sufferers this Spring.

A course of Hood's Sarsaparilla begun now and faithfully pursued will save you suffering and give you rugged health, so that you can thoroughly enjoy all the pleasures of the coming summer.

Pimples on the Face.

"I have been troubled for three years with pimples on my face and body. I tried several remedies with only temporary relief. I am now taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and it is doing me a wonderful amount of good. My general health is greatly improved, and I feel very thankful for what Hood's Sarsaparilla has already done for me." MISS JANE JABROSKY, Burnham, Illinois.

A Clear Complexion.

"I have had a bad complexion owing to impure blood. I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and my skin is now clear. Hood's Sarsaparilla has done me much good by purifying my blood." ANNIE D. MCCOY, Watsonton, Pennsylvania.

Boils, Blotches, Sores, Pimples.

"I have been afflicted for many years with impure blood, which manifested itself in erysipelas, boils, blotches, sores and pimples. I have used many medicines and found Hood's Sarsaparilla to be the best. I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all who are affected with impure blood." ISAAC P. MARTIN, Walnut Hill, Ill.

Annoyed by Eruptions.

"I had eruptions caused by impure blood and at times they were very annoying. I was treated by physicians without benefit, and last winter I took a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and found it helped me. I kept on until I had taken five bottles, and I am no longer annoyed with eruptions." W. R. HUDSON, Natrona, Pa.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.
(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty-five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. INTERNATIONAL CHESS.

Game Between the House of Representatives and the British Parliament.

Washington, May 18.—The chess enthusiasts of the house of representatives, who have been practicing for some time for the coming match with the British parliament, held a meeting to arrange some of the details of the game.

A proposition had been received from the parliamentary players to have the game begin on May 24, but the congressmen decided to ask to have June 1 adopted, because some of their players cannot be in the city on the former date.

The games will be played in the room of the house committee on foreign affairs. Representative Pearson, who has been most active in bringing about the contest, being a member of that committee, has arranged to secure the room. A special wire connected with the Atlantic cable will be run into the room.

The house team of five players will be selected from the following members: Shannon, New York; Shafroth, Colorado; Bedine, Maine; Plowman, Alabama; Cousins, Iowa; Handy, Delaware; De Armond, Missouri; Wheeler, Alabama; Pearson, North Carolina; De Graffenried, Texas; Beach, Ohio; Parker, New Jersey; Bennett, New York; Foote, New York; Swanson, Virginia; Spalding, Michigan; Henderson, Iowa; Reed, Maine, and Weymouth, Massachusetts.

Mr. Hay, the United States embassador, will represent the house of representatives at the games in London, and Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British embassador, will represent the house of commons here. Speaker Reed is taking a lively interest in the match.

CUBA YET THE THEME

Crowds Besiege the Galleries to Listen to the Discussion.

SOME DISTINGUISHED LISTENERS.

The Relief of Starving Americans There the First Object to Be Attended to—The House Takes Up the Question.

Washington, May 18.—Cuba again engrossed the attention of the senate. The public interest in the subject was shown by the great crowds which besieged the galleries. Among the occupants of the diplomatic gallery were Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British embassador, and Minister Hatch of Hawaii, and in the reserve gallery was General Dan Sickles, ex-United States minister to Spain. Neither the Spanish legation nor the Cuban bureau in Washington was represented in the galleries so far as could be observed.

Two phases of the subject were presented. First came the question of relief to destitute and starving Americans in Cuba. This was presented in the president's message as soon as the session opened. Immediately following the reading of the message Mr. Davies, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, presented a favorable report on the joint resolution originally introduced by Mr. Gallinger appropriating $50,000 for relief of American citizens in Cuba. There was only one brief speech—from Mr. Galinger—and then the resolution went through by a unanimous vote.

The second phase of the subject was when the Morgan resolution declaring that a condition of war existed in Cuba was taken up. Mr. Wellington, the new senator from Maryland, came forward for his initial speech in the senate, making a vigorous protest against the resolution on the ground that it threatened war with Spain. He said the first duty of congress was to pass the tariff bill. The senator condemned "jingoism" and gave his indorsement to President Cleveland's conservatism on the Cuban question.

Mr. Daniel of Virginia spoke in favor of the resolution. He first presented an argument on the right of congress on the subject and closed with the vigorous assertion that it was a calamity greater than war for a nation to withhold justice through fear of war.

Subjects Before the House.

The house confronted the Cuban question, made a party issue of it and adjourned until Thursday without taking any action. President McKinley's message recommending an appropriation to relieve suffering Americans in Cuba was received without any demonstration, and on its heels Mr. Hitt, former chairman of the foreign affairs committee, asked unanimous consent for consideration of a bill to appropriate $50,000 in response to the president's request.

Mr. Bailey of Texas asked for consent to consider in connection with the bill an amendment embodying Senator Morgan's resolution for recognition of the Cubans as belligerents. Mr. Dingley would not consent to consider the amendment, nor Mr. Bailey to consider the bill without the amendment, so for a time the question was side tracked.

Then the house devoted two hours to debate on the conference report on the feature of the Indian appropriation bill opening to settlement the gilsonite lands on the Uncompaghre Indian reservation in Utah, refused to accept the compromise agreed on by the conferees and asked for another conference with the senate on the bill.

In the meantime the senate resolution, practically identical with Mr. Hitt's bill had been sent to the house, and Mr. Hitt asked unanimous consent for its consideration. The deadlock between Mr. Dingley and Mr. Bailey was re-enacted, and while Mr. Bailey was endeavoring to get consent for the consideration of the two Cuban propositions together Mr. Dingley put in a motion to adjourn. This motion was carried by a vote of 90 to 71, 13 answering present, but not voting.

It was practically a party alignment, only three Republicans—Messrs. Cooper of Wisconsin, Linney of North Carolina and Marsh of Illinois—voting against the adjournment and all the Democrats and the Populists, except Mr. Baker of Illinois, voting the same way. Under the rule for biweekly sessions recently adopted the adjournment carries the question over until Thursday.

Compensation For Carrying Mails.

In compliance with a resolution of inquiry the postmaster general sent to the senate a statement in regard to the compensation paid to the Southern Railroad company for the transportation of mails since 1894.

The report shows that since January last the compensation on the division between Washington and Lynchburg, Va., per mile was as follows: $698 for transportation, $215 for postal cars and $125 for special facilities.

The postmaster general says that the weighing of mails on this line last year was conducted with more than usual care and that all officers and employees of the railway mail service who had anything to do with it were instructed fully as to their duties and required to make reports of any unusual amount of mail matter received by them.

No report was received, and the division superintendent is quoted as saying that the mails received during the weighing were of precisely the same character as those received at other times.

He adds: "Regarding the weighing which has just closed on that portion of the road between Washington and Danville, I have to state that no mails which did not properly belong upon that line were received during the entire period of weighing."

Rearrested After Seven Years.

Rouses Point, N. Y., May 18.—Joe Racine, who escaped from Montreal about seven years ago while under arrest for passing $2 Dominion counterfeit notes, has been arrested here, being charged with the murder of Leon Mailloux, which occurred here last January. Mailloux's children are residents of Springfield and Pittsfield, Mass.

Taken Back to Chicago.

Toronto, May 18.—Charles Gurney, who was arrested here charged with robbing the United States mails, has been taken to Chicago by a detective from that city. He waived extradition proceedings.

AN EXPERT'S OPINION.

Arthur M. Plato, the well known advertising expert of New York, writes the following congratulatory letter to The Daily Press concerning its tenth anniversary:

New York May 17th. 1897.

Publisher Daily Press, Plainfield, N. J.

Dear Sir: Your very appropriate souvenir of the tenth and its interesting "Historic" at hand. Permit me to congratulate you on having passed to the degree of "We Do" which is far beyond the "We Promise." The concise history of the "Press of Force," incidentally outlining the growth of Plainfield, carries with it the conviction that the city owes much of its progress to the "Force of Press." My best wishes are, that you may continue to "print a newspaper which shall always be truthful," in which respect it may serve as a model to many among the fraternity with whom my commericial interests are identified. Hoping that future anniversaries will enable me to trace some of my placements in your columns, I am, respectfully yours, Arthur M. Plato.

CORRECT THE ERROR AND ADJOURN.

The New York Tribune has been sending letters of enquiry to State Senators and Assemblymen, soliciting their view of what the Legislature should do at the special session to be convened next Tuesday. The majority of the answers printed this morning are, that the Legislature should simply rectify the error that made it necesary to call the special session and then adjourn. Senator Reed's reply was as follows:

To the Editor of The Tribune—Sir: From my present standpoint it seems to me that the Legislature should correct the error which made the special session necessary and adjourn. Chas. A. Reed.

SHOULDER DISLOCATED

Morgan Turton Thrown Out a Wagon and Hurt.

Morgan Turton, an employe of A. M. Griffen, the Front street hardware dealer, met with a painful accident yesterday afternoon, about 5 o'clock, on Somerset street, near French's mill. He was driving his employer's horse toward the mountains, when the animal became frightened and at the same time the wagon struck a good-sized stone in the roadway. The two events happening together was the cause of throwing Mr. Turton off of the wagon. In the fall he struck another wagon close by and his shoulder was dislocated. Friends who were near by picked Mr. Turton up and removed him to his home on Washington street. Dr. Tomlinson was called and set the dislocated bone and the injured man is resting as comfortably as possible. He will be confined to the house for some time.

The horse Mr. Turton was driving did not run away neither was there any damage to the wagon.

THE MULE DISAPPEARED

RATHER NOVEL EXPERIENCE ENCOUNTERED BY A WESTFIELD MAN.

Allowed a Stranger to Leave a Team in His Barn, and Two Days Later the Mule Could Not be Found—Other Town News.

W. S. Clark, of South Broad street, has had a rather novel experience during the past few days, during which time he has had property, which was not his, fostered upon him and then stolen. A man whom Clark does not know stopped at his place last Friday and asked permission to leave his team consisting of a horse and a mule in his barn for a short time. The animals were taken in and the stranger departed, promising to return in a short time, and recompense Clark for his trouble. He did not return and the animals remained in the barn until Sunday evening, when for some reason Clark found it necessary to place the mule in an open shed for the night. Yesterday morning it was found that the animal had been stolen. Justice Collins was notified of the facts in the case, and last evening he received word that a man living at Oak Tree had lost two animals answering to the description of those left in Clark's care. He has not yet appeared to make good his claim, however. When he does an interesting question will arise as to Clark's liability for the loss of the mule.

The conference opened with a praise service, a prayer by Rev. Henry Ketcham and responsive readings, led by Rev. G. A. Francis. The report of the secretary setting forth the year's work was listened to with much interest. The Union includes societies in Westfield, Cranford, Roselle, Branch Mills and Willow Grove. The address of the evening on "The Importance of Junior Work," was made by Miss Alice B. Spangenberg, of Plainfield. Her talk was specially to the Juniors, who were seated in a body in the forward part of the church. LOYAL TEMPREANCE LEGION.

Special Exercises of an Interesting Nature Held Yesterday.

The Loyal Temperance Legion, (the children's temperence society under the charge of the W. C. T. U) held a special meeting yesterday afternoon. The exercises were conducted by the associate superintendent, Wickham Williams Beekman, and opened with prayer, the repetition of the pledge and the singing of a spirited song, "Temperance Girls and Boys," by the Legion. A recitation, "The Bird's Song," was then given by Dora Wilson, followed by a song "Some Glad Day," very prettily sung by five little girls, Anna Morrison, Dora Wilson, May Weigman and Clara and Ethel Gullberg. Another recitation, "A Child's Desire," was delivered with much expression by Anna Morrison, after which Mr. Beekman introduced Rev. A. E. Main, who was to speak to the children for a few moments. He tald the story of the prodigal son in a very realistic manner, applying its lessons to the present day, and especially to his young hearers. The short, practical address was listened to with much interest. Mr. Main's questions being quickly answered by the children. At the close, a very tiny member of the Legion, Alga Weigman gave a little recitation, "A Child's Walk," after which all sang, "We are Marching Onward." Mr. Main offered the closing prayer, and the meeting was closed with the Mizpah benediction.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. THE AMERICAN QUEEN COMPETITION!

A Columbia FREE!!

A lady's Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, will be given to the winner in THE AMERICAN QUEEN competition, which will be open to all the subscribers to THE AMERICAN QUEEN until June 30, 1897.

The Columbia, the standard bicycle of the world, has been selected for this competition, because the publishers of THE AMERICAN QUEEN are convinced that it is the best and that the woman who wins it would have it in preference to any other make.

The Columbia will remain on exhibition until June 30th, when the competition will close and the Columbia will be awarded to the fortunate winner.

The contest which we have just inaugurated, by or through which some subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN will be awarded a 1897 Columbia Bicycle, is already well under way.

The contest will remain open until June 30, 1897. The conditions and plan of this contest are simply these: We purpose presenting a Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, to the lady subscriber who furnishes the best menu, for one week, for a family of five, the cost of such menu not to exceed $10 for the week.

The merits of the menus submitted will be passed upon by the Editor of THE AMERICAN QUEEN, Miss Mary J. Bisland, and the person furnishing the best menu, in Miss Bisland's judgment, will be presented with the Bicycle.

The menu submitted should be enclosed in one envelope and the name of the sender in a separate one, the two being handed in or sent in together, addressed to us. The envelopes containing the menus will then be numbered and sent to Miss Bisland and the envelopes containing the names reserved by us, and when Miss Bisland makes her choice of the menus she will inform us of the number of the winner and we will then announce the result in local newspapers and THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The only requirement necessary to admit you to this contest is that you be a subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The splendid wheel which will go to the winner is on exhibition in the store and may be seen at any time.

We want everybody to feel free to go into this contest and we hope that hundreds of our customers will fix their minds on good things to eat and mould them into an acceptable menu for the week, and at the same time keep the cost down to $10.

THE COMPETITION.—Our aim in offering this competition is to have every lady we can reach with this announcement become a reader of THE AMERICAN QUEEN. THE QUEEN is published at $1 a year, but to give all our friends a chance to get this splendidly useful home publication for the ensuing year and at the same time have a chance to become the proud possessor of the standard cycle, we shall until the 30th day of June receive subscriptions (only one, however, will be taken from each family) for the nominal fee of 25 Cents a year. Come to the store at once, register your name, receive your receipt for THE QUEEN for one year and try to win the Columbia.

THE COCOANUT.

Some Facts About the Tree and also of Its Valuable Fruit.

The cocoanut is one of the most valuable fruits known. In its native land it furnishes food, shelter, clothing and a pleasant livelihood, says an exchange.

The majority of the cocoanuts used in this country come from Central America, as far down as Colombia and the Spanish Main. The different islands of the West Indies, especially the Islands of Caynon and St. Andrew, contribute large numbers. The little island of San Blas furnishes the nut of the heaviest meat, the handsomest nut and the easiest to work. The number of them, however, is extremely small.

The only cocoanut trees in this country are in Southern Florida, but they are insignificant in number. The trunk of the tree is a hard, firm wood, and is used largely for building purposes, wharves, dams and bridges.

The cocoanut is singularly wormproof. There is, however, one worm, a kind of borer, which attacks the tree itself. It starts from the ground, and works its way up through the middle of the tree (where the sap runs), and eventually kills the tree. The leaves of the cocoanut tree are like palm leaves, fifteen feet long.

The blossoms and buds are treated by the natives to produce a liquid called arrack, which is very intoxicating. The tree grows from fifty to 150 years, and yields every year about 100 nuts. There are on one tree at the same time buds, blossoms and fruit ripe and green and in all stages of ripening. The fruit drops off at night. A pulled nut is worthless. The milk inside of it turns sour shortly afterward and becomes green. Brushes are made of the fiber of the trees. The cocoanut wood takes a very fine polish, and is largely used for floors, being polished with the husk of the nut and a little beeswax. The nut in its native state is soft, tender and spongy. To take off the shell when the nut is perfectly fresh is very easy.—Philadelphia Press.

COST OF SPECIAL TRAINS.

Fixed Rates are About One and One-Half Dollars a Mile.

Special trains are readily provided to meet any emergency—such as illness, business necessities, or the unexpected delay of public entertainers and opera companies. In addition, there are numerous other occasions of almost daily occurrence where special trains are contracted for in advance to be used by parties making trips to conventions or other events, or for pleasure. Although circumstances, such as the amount of trouble experienced in securing the necessary rolling-stock and in arranging to keep other trains out of the way of the special, often must govern the cost of special trains requested upon short notice, railroads have a fixed rate of about one and one-half dollars per mile for a single car and engine. For an unusual distance a reduction is made in the cost, in that instance averaging one dollar. Where a number of persons desire a special, whether a "rush" order or requested in advance, the cost is equal to the full fare to the destination for as many as the train could accommodate with comfort. If the number in the party equals this number then the expense for each passenger is what the trip would ordinarily cost on a regular train. If the number falls short, of course the deficiency must be made up. For a short haul the rate is naturally raised to two and one-half dollars to three dollars per mile.

He Acted Upon the Postscript.

Miss Bessie Chandler, the writer of stories and verses for children, is a daughter of Commodore Chandler, of the Navy. At one time they had in their family a little negro-boy, who was not very industrious, and who spent his spare time idling about the rooms where the ladies sat. The ladies would puzzle their wits to keep the boy at work. One day Mrs. Chandler was busy, and sent Johnny into the adjoining room. "You may take your slate and pencil," she said, "and write me a letter." The boy obeyed. By-and-by there came a shrill call—"Please, missus, I'se got it wroted. It says, 'Dear Missus—Kin I go down to the tennis-court and see them play tennis? Respectfully yours, Johnny.'" Mrs. Chandler was not willing to spare him yet, so she replied, "Oh, well, write me a postscript!" Again there was silence, so prolonged that finally she went into the room to investigate. There was no boy there. The slate lay on the chair face upward. She read the message he had first read out, and underneath it was this addition—"P. S.—I have went."

Walrus Whiskers.

A peculiar but profitable industry among the natives of Alaska is the preparation and sale of walrus whiskers for toothpicks. Nature has armed the animal with whiskers that extend three or four inches from its snout, and the apparent use of which is to enable it to detect the presence of an iceberg before actual contact has taken place. These whiskers are quite stiff, and this quality increases with age. After a walrus has been killed, the natives, with the aid of rude pincers, proceed to pull out each separate hair. After a thorough drying, these hairs are arranged in neat packages and exported to China, where they are considered a necessary appurtenance of a Chinaman of the upper class.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

CHARGED WITH HOMICIDE.

A Well Known Chicagoan Arrested For the Alleged Murder of His Wife.

Chicago, May 18.—Adolph L. Luetgert, a well known sausage manufacturer, was arrested on the charge of having murdered his wife. Luetgert made an assignment about ten days ago, and about the same time Mrs. Luetgert disappeared. It was at first supposed that she had committed suicide as a result of her husband's failure.

The river was dragged, but with no result, and for several days detectives have been working on the murder theory.

The police claim to have direct evidence that Luetgert killed his wife in the basement of his sausage factory on Diversey street and that her body was destroyed, with the object of hiding all traces of the crime.

The place where the murder and destruction of the body of the woman are believed to have taken place is the factory at Diversey street and Hermitage avenue, near the tracks of the Northern road.

It is stated by persons connected with the case that the dead body was placed in a vat and burned by the use of chemicals. It is said that several bones are all that have been found and that these were taken from the vicinity of the vat. Two finger rings belonging to the dead woman were also found in the vat.

DENIAL OF A REPORT.

Consul General Lee Says He Did Not Make a Certain Statement.

Havana, May 18.—In view of the statement published in New York that Consul General Fitzhugh Lee had made a report to the American state department in the course of which he had attacked Captain General Weyler savagely and declared that the insurgents would be successful in driving the Spaniards from the island, a representative of La Lucha has interviewed General Lee on the subject.

La Lucha says on the express authority of Consul General Lee that no savage attack was made by him on Captain General Weyler in any report to the American government, nor has he ever asserted in any report or orally that the insurgents could expel the Spanish troops from the island under the conditions now existing.

Consul General Lee is greatly annoyed by the publication of this unfounded report and has written an earnest letter to the Marquis Ahumada denying it. Upon General Lee's desk is a portrait of Captain General Weyler with the following inscription, "To General Lee, as a token of friendship and with my best wishes, Valeriano Weyler."

On Trial For Bribery.

Buffalo, May 18.—Thomas F. Maloney, superintendent of the bureau of streets, at present under suspension by the board of public works, has been placed on trial in the criminal term of the supreme court before Justice Spring on an indictment charging an attempt to bribe Superintendent William S. Bull of the department of police. The indictment alleges that on the 27th of June last Superintendent Maloney attempted to induce Superintendent Bull to grant immunity to a gambling house.

For a Jubilee Dinner.

London, May 18.—The Princess of Wales fund, started at the suggestion of her royal highness to provide a dinner or some substantial meal during the week of the jubilee commemoration for the poorest of the London poor—the beggars, outcasts and tenants of the slums—received an anonymous contribution of £25,000. Lord Mayor Faudel Phillips has announced that with the receipt of this donation the fund is closed. The Princess of Wales headed the subscription list with £100.

A Whittier Memorial.

Amesbury, Mass., May 18.—A room in the Old Ladies' Home here is to be furnished as a memorial to the late Poet Whittier by the poet's niece, Mrs. S. T. Pickard of Boston, who will arrange the details this week. The room will be fitted up with furniture from Whittier's late home here, including some pieces of historical value. Mr. Whittier was one of the founders of the Old Ladies' Home and while alive assisted it greatly financially and served as a director.

Infringement Suit Dismissed.

Boston, May 18.—The bill in equity brought by John Crossley & Sons (limited) of England against William J. Hogg of Worcester in the United States circuit court for an injunction to restrain an alleged infringement by the defendant of patent No. 23,362, granted June 12, 1894, to Giulio Marchetti of Halifax, England, for a design of a carpet, was dismissed by Judge Colt on the ground that the plaintiff's patent is void for want of invention.

Steamer's Captain Dies at Sea.

New York, April 18.—The Prince line steamer Trojan Prince arrived from Montevideo and Brazilian ports in charge of Chief Officer Eagleton, Captain Hesketh, her late master, having died on May 16 of kidney disease. Captain Hesketh had been ill for several months. He was 54 years old and a native of Lancashire, England. His body was buried at sea.

Release of Suspected Man.

Watertown, N. Y., May 18.—Wilbur Crouch, who has been incarcerated in jail six weeks charged with the murder of Mary Crouch, his wife, and Mary Daly at Sackets Harbor, was released on the order of the judge. It is reported that another person has been indicted by the grand jury, now in session, but the indictment has not yet been made public.

Proofs of a Murder.

Milwaukee, May 18.—Evidence has developed which make it almost certain that H. B. Clark of Grand Rapids, whose body was found Saturday morning, was assassinated. Mrs. Herman Kaufer, who lives near where the body was found, says she heard shots on the fatal night and saw a man running away from the scene at the top of his speed.

Disastrous Fire In Nashville.

Nashville, May 18.—This city was visited last night by a disastrous fire, which consumed in an incredibly short time Warren Bros.' paint and oil warehouse, the large warehouse of Dickel & Co., whisky dealers, and other buildings in the business section of the city. The loss is estimated at $350,000.

BATTLE AT DOMOKOS

The Greek Line Broken by Fierce Turkish Onslaughts.

MOSLEMS CLAIM A GREAT VICTORY.

Prince Constantine Declares That He Is Not Beaten—Rumored Attempt to Assassinate King George at Athens. Sultan's Demands Ridiculed.

London, May 18.—The Daily Telegraph's special correspondent with the Turkish forces in Thessaly, telegraphing early this morning, says:

"Edhem Pasha has moved on from point to point and finally occupied Domokos. The Greeks have sustained a crushing defeat."

Greek Report of the Fighting.

Athens, May 18.—The following official account of the fighting at Domokos yesterday has been received:

"Over 50,000 Turks simultaneously and continuously attacked our whole line with the greatest fierceness. Our artillery and infantry did splendid work. Twice all the regiments of the enemy wavered and fled, though their attack was soon renewed with fresh forces, which in turn we were able to hurl back.

"The stubborn resistance and splendid vigor of our troops finally compelled the enemy to give way altogether. All the attacks on our left were similarly repulsed.

"On our right we did not fare so well. The first attack of the enemy was repulsed, but they massed in immense forces for the next attack. Our first line wavered and was broken, and the wing would have been turned but for the timely arrival of the reserves.

"The enemy had gained ground which it was then impossible to regain, and we therefore fell back on Bousi.

"The Turks had 50,000 troops, with 30,000 reserves. Our force was only 35,000. We have lost heavily, but the enemy must have lost thousands."

The following telegram has been received from Crown Prince Constantine:

"Our right wing, under Mastrapas, has been compelled to retreat. It still holds Voussi, but may find it necessary to retire on Phourka pass. It was necessary to bring up all the reserves in order to repulse the furious attacks of the enemy. Our wounded have been sent to Lamia. The conduct of the army was praiseworthy."

A dispatch sent from Domokos at noon by way of Lamia says:

"Thirty-five thousand Turks, infantry, cavalry and artillery, have attacked the Greek line at several points of the left wing and the center, with a view of penetrating southward and surrounding Domokos. Large forces are also attacking General Smolenski."

It is believed here that the attack on General Smolenski near Almyros is only a strategic operation and that the Turks will endeavor to cut between the two Greek armies, occupy the road leading to the Othry mountains and thus cut off the retreat of the crown prince.

A newspaper correspondent at Domokos, telegraphing at 1 o'clock this morning, says:

"The Turks, having occupied Kitiki, the Greek troops are retreating toward the Othry range, on the oid frontier."

Serious Defeat For Greeks.

London, May 18.—The latest from Domokos, the seat of hostilities, by way of Athens, indicates that the Greeks have suffered a serious defeat, and if the left wing has given way, as appears probable, Edhem Pasha may be able to cut off the Greek retreat and to separate General Smolenski at Sourpi from the main army.

This is Edhem Pasha's reply to the foolish attempt of Colonel Manos to snatch a victory in Epirus. If Greece had prevented Manos from playing this last card of a gambler, Turkey might perhaps have ceased hostilities. As it is now, she is in full possession of Thessaly, and the powers will find the task of protecting Greece more difficult than ever.

The dispatches from Athens represent the populace as astonished when the news of the fighting came. They had hoped to the last that the powers would prevent Turkey from going further. One report represents the Greek government as threatening to take extreme and desperate steps unless Europe arrests the progress of the invaders.

Thinks the Porte's Demand Ridiculous.

London, May 18.—The conditions proposed by the porte and the terms of peace with Greece have been freely discussed in the lobbies of parliament, and the idea of the retrocession of Thessaly and of such an indemnity as is already suggested is ridiculed as impracticable and absurd. At the outside an indemnity of £5,000,000 or £6,000,000 and a slight strategic rectification of frontier are considered as likely to be the terms finally settled upon.

Rumored Plot Against the King.

Berlin, May 18.—It is reported here that a plot to murder King George has been discovered at Athens and that many arrests have been made.

Guns For Karrarburun.

Salonika, May 18.—Eight armstrong guns have arrived here for the batteries at Karrarburun.

Want to Open a New Line.

Buffalo, May 18.—The Lehigh Valley Railroad company has made an application for a hearing before the railway commissioners as to the necessity and convenience of the proposed line known as the Depew and Southwestern railroad to be built between Depew and Blasdell. This is a renewal of the long struggle of the Lehigh and New York Central for a connecting link between these points.

To Celebrate Their Emancipation.

Middletown, N. Y., May 18.—The colored people of Orange county will celebrate their emancipation at Chester May 31. William Merrill, the colored ex-senator from South Carolina, will be one of the speakers.

Sunday Cars Send Stock Up.

Toronto, May 18.—The decision reached on Saturday to allow street cars to run on Sunday in the future has sent up Toronto street railway stock six points. It is now 80 against 74½ last Friday.

prison and tries to help the men individually, to bring them the truths of Jesus Christ. Then she corresponds with them, and encourages them in their good resolves. She also does work with their families, and then, when the men themselves come out, she endeavors to help them to a better life in the most practical way. For the almost helpless ones a home has been opened; for the others employment is obtained. Mrs. Booth told several most interesting stories of her "boys," causing much amusement by her account of a Greek who, on leaving prison, wandered over New York vainly searching for her, pointing to his Volunteer button and repeating, "I belong Mrs. Booth; I go Mrs. Booth!" The police wanted to have some fun with him, and pretended they did not know her, so that she declared she would send her photograph to the Rogues' Gallery, and ask them to study it!

She has had much encouragement in her work, and her special desire at present is to induce Christian business men who employ many men to agree to take one man a year, recommended by her. She considers herself greatly honored of God in being called to this work, and earnestly desires others to co-operate with her in it; by giving money, by giving employment, by putting their influence on the side of the work, sharing with her not only in bringing God's kingdom in the world, but in His blessing and His eternal reward.

At the close of Mrs. Booth's absorbing address, Dr. Rodman rose to announce the offering for her work, saying that he need not add a word; he was only afraid the congregation would go home penniless and their families might suffer!

While the offering was being received, the choir sang a beautiful anthem, "Awake Up, My Glory," with solos by Harry Messersmith and Arthur Freeman. The doxology and a hymn, "I Need Thee Every Hour," followed, after which the closing prayers were said by Dr. Rodman, and then the recessional hymn, "Soldiers of Christ, Arise," closed one of the most impressive services ever held in Plainfield.

PRISONERS BAIL EACH OTHER.

Schweinfurth and Clark, of Westfield, Provide the Mutual Accommodation.

About twenty prisoners indicted by the Union County Grand Jury were arranged to plead before Judge McCormick in Elizabeth, yesterday.

Among them were Matthew Schweinfurth and William Clark, indicted for keeping disorderly houses in Westfield. Each is a large property owner and each went the other's bail for $500.

County Prosecutor F. C. Marsh, in accepting it, said the best thing that could happen for the State would be for each man to run away and forfeit his bail.

Justice Newcorn's Court.

One contract case was tried in Justice Newcorn's court, yesterday, and a verdict was rendered for the plaintiff for the full amount. The case was that of Reed et als against Wyckoff et als. Summons were issued in the contract cases of Cole against Thorn et als, New York Hollow Ware Company against Ferris and Hand against Flack, all returnable on the 21st; and in the case of Sternberg against Wiseman, in tort, returnable on the 24th.

Loans Made at a Premium.

There are encouraging signs of a return of prosperity to business in the work of the Home Building and Loan Association, as reported at the meeting last evening. Four loans (one in Westfield) were taken, amounting to $8,500, and all at a premium, giving 6 4 10 per cent to the association for the use of the money. Eighty shares were taken in the nineteenth series.

report is a schedule which is explanatory in itself, and divides all taxpayers into classes for the collection of taxes prior to 1880. It is as follows:

"Class A embraces all those that in the judgement of the committee should be settled for the face of the tax without interest, cost or penalties, those actually petitioned for settlement and others who should make it in the opinion of the committee.

"Class B, C, D embraces those wherein peculiar and mitigating circumstances enter for the consideration of the committee with a view of influencing their judgment. These circumstances being set forth in the petitions of the respective petitioners; such for instance as where property on which taxes are claimed to be due are now in the hands of innocent purchasers, also where property has changed hands several times through foreclosure sales, and also where it appears questionable as to how much of the taxes claimed to be due may or may not have actually been paid during the periods in which they were properly due, and yet in which classes the petitioners are willing to make a payment in settlement in order that all future questions or trouble may be averted."

The following resolution was offered by Mr. Serrell in connection with the above: "Resolved, That the taxes be revised, altered, adjusted and settled according to the above schedule filed, providing the same be paid within thirty days from the date of the adoption of this resolution."

A member of the Council in speaking about the above matter said, "The names and amounts of taxes due from delinquent taxpayers are not made public, because some are well-known people who are innocent holders and the publication can do no good and might be unpleasant and discourteous, and on the other hand to some who owe the city this knowledge is unpleasant enough without the galling effect that must come from public presentment of the facts."

Mr. Serrell offered another resolution to the effect that the time for receiving petition for the adjustment of taxes be extended up to and including May 28th. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Frost introduced the ordinance for the opening of Sycamore avenue, and on his motion it was adopted on the first and second readings and ordered engrossed and advertised. By this action the city accepts the street practically.

A resolution was offered by Mr. Frost to the effect that curbing be set in front of properties on the following streets where there is none at present: West Ninth street to Plainfield avenue, East Ninth street to Watchung avenue, Grant avenue from Front street to West Fourth street, East Seventh street from Central avenue to Park avenue, Madison avenue from West Front street to Stelle avenue, Central avenue from West Front street to West Eighth street, First, Second, Third place, Crescent avenue, and East Ninth street.

Mr. Barrows offered an ordinance repealing the ordinance designating the city jail. It was adopted on the first and second readings and ordered engrossed and advertised.

Mr. Westphal offered a resolution to the effect that the $2,500 appropriated for the use of the Industrial Home be taken from the special fund, which is known as the building fund for the city poor buildings.

Mr. Barrows called up the amendment to the sidewalk ordinance and on on his motion it was adopted on the third reading. The Council then adjourned.

Attempted Shooting Reported.

Former United States Senator John R. McPherson, of New Jersey, had a narrow escape from being killed at his office, 149 Church street, New York, this morning. Wm. VanAken, according to the police, attempted to shoot him and was prevented by W. T. Low. An accomplice of VanAken escaped. VanAken was arrested.

The Suspects Released.

Dennis Murray and John Neuman, who were committed to the Somerset County Jail by Recorder Thomas, on suspicion of having committed several burglaries in the borough, were released from their confinement yesterday on bail furnished by Mr Trewain, of Orchard place, this city.

FOOD STRENGTH.

IT COMES FROM THE RIGHT FOOD PROPERLY DIGESTED.

Food strength is natural strength. It is new strength; created strength. That is, it is not stimulation.

The real strength of your body is your constitutional strength, your reserve strength. It is the result of eating proper food and digesting it.

Eating food does no good at all; rather harm—unless it is digested. So that everything narrows itself down to one proposition: How is your digestion?

One person in three of us have indigestion in some form or another. It is not really a disease, but a condition; a condition which may become serious.

We all wish to be strong, and we might all become so if we digested our food. The loss of your strength is a serious matter. It may be the beginning of a dangerous disease. It may mean that you cannot go on with your work.

Shaker Digestive Cordial is an aid to digestion. It is a strength maker. It makes your food nourish you. It makes you strong. It relieves at once all the symptoms of acute dyspepsia, tones up the system and creates flesh, energy and strength. Taken regularly it will permanently cure indigestion and make the weak, thin, irritable, nervous dyspeptic, strong, fat, hearty and well again.

A 10 cent bottle will show you what it will do.

Sold by druggists at 10, 25, 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle.

woman's suffrage was tried successfully. Aaron M. Powell remarked that it was the duty of every American citizen to right a wrong in a rational manner and that here was a good chance.

Charles J. Baxter, state superintendent of schools in New Jersey, declared that there would be a great increase in the morality and efficiency of the public shools if women had a hand in their management.

Mr. Powell moved that a letter by Mrs. Hall, recently published in The Tribune, be published in neat form and distributed before the time came for the vote on the amendment.

"Farmer Orator" James E. Martine, who had been an interested listener of the proceedings, was called upon for a short speech. He said that as a partizan he had not the slightest objection to women's suffrage any more for it would have been impossible to snow his party under any more completely than it was at the last national election. He believed in the gradual introduction of the subject and that he would favor the new amendment by voting for it and using what influence he had for its passage. The meeting then adjourned.

Fought on the Street.

Herbert Doyle and Joseph McGrath were arraigned before City Judge De-Meza, yesterday afternoon, charged with fighting on West Front street, Saturday evening. The complaint was made by Patrolman McCarty. This morning, John Thompson, colored, was brought before the Judge on the same charge and his trial was set down for the same time as the others.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

GREAT FETE IT WILL BE

TOWN IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION EVENT WILL SATISFY EVERY TASTE.

A Multitude of Attractions will be Offered to Those Who Attend—Mrs. Mali's Grounds to be Almost Fairy Land.

Anent the Fete Champetre of June 5th. Call it what you will—outdoor entertainment, open-air party, plain picnic; but if you fail to go you will always be sorry. It will be an event to talk about, to remember, the like of which Plainfield—perhaps, even, New Jersey—has never known. It will have features appealing to every taste, cultured or crude; to all conditions; to every age. It will be amusing, instructive, and always and everywhere interesting. Moreover, it will be thoroughly democratic. One entrance fee for all will level distinctions. Plain folk may gaze at the swell—if he be there to swell—as at a new variety of tulip. The swell may study the plain folk, perhaps to his own advantage. Music and dancing; fun and frolic; food and drink; all these and other good things will offer themselves at every turn within the Elysian field which lies in the very shadow of the Watchung mountains.

The country home of John Taylor Johnston—so widely known for its beauty—is a fair memorial of the refined taste of its lamented master. And, for this one fete-day, the resources of art and nature will be combined to produce a picture never to be forgotten,—a picture of many different phases which our knights of the camera (anglice, kodak-fiends) will surely not neglect.

For example, the southerly entrance, with its fine granite work, will, by the cunning art of George Wharton Edwards, become a mediæval Flemish gateway, gay with colored pennants and with gilded weather vanes. Again, faring on by circling drive or winding path, the visitor will come upon another mediæval picture, the May pole, garlanded with flowers and streamers, with a merry group of youngsters (already in training) "winding a dance" about the pole—perchance "winding" themselves up against it.

Passing further on you will come to running water; to the lake, with its boats and gondolas. Or, crossing by the rustic bridge, you are captured by a dark-skinned, red-shawled gypsy maid, (perhaps a demure member of your Sunday-school class,) whose hand you will cross with silver in expectation of a fortune told. Or you may sit in the gypsy tent and have audience of the Queen, the while a witch broth is brewing in a big pot hung from the regulation tripod of stakes.

Do the children want a pony ride, in the saddle or phæton? Here are the ponies, with careful men in charge. Are you an-hungered? Or is you whistle dry? You have not far to go for creature comforts, served, too, at reasonable prices, in dainty form.

Perchance you have come a'wheel from Morristown, from Trenton; you suspect a leak in your tire. Moreover you would not have your wheel out in the evening dew; all the while your inner man craves food. Go to, now; follow the signs to the place of wheels; explain to friend Rogers or to friend Lister what your wheel needs; receive from them a numbered coupon, and pass on to the supper tent where, with mind at ease, you may sip your hot coffee and munch your salad, your beef or mutton, with pastries and creams to follow, and later, you may even console yourself with a cigar while you watch the electric lights as they begin to gleam out of the shadows.

Have you brought along the family, the wife and children or, perhaps, a sweetheart? Have the roads been dusty, the sun warm? Well, here are soap, water and towels; combs and brushes; all the toilet-requisites of the civilized man and woman, close at hand.

Perhaps you have driven across country with the whole household. In that case you may find a place for the team, with feed and water, and later a hearty supper for yourself and your folks. If, however, you come from "the city" with dress-suit case or grip-sack, you need no advice from a newspaper man. 'Tis enough to say that you will find accommodations: that you are sure to have a good time, that there are trains by which you may return to New York throughout the evening and up to midnight. Or, on the other hand, you may find good lodging over night at the inns of Plainfield.

From time to time The Press will have more to say of this "coming event," whose shadow will grow from day to day. We confidently assure our readers that all news of the Fete Champetre printed in these columns may be accepted as authentic and reliable, and will appear as promptly as

ADAM BEEK'S PINK TEAS

FREE BEER IS SAID TO BE ON TAP THERE.

Two Roisters, Returning From the Tea, Were Captured by Patrolman Mattox, and Disclose a Very Wonderful Story

City Judge DeMeza was not favorably impressed with what he heard of Adam Beek's "pink teas" in city court Monday morning, neither were the police. Sunday morning, at 3 o'clock, Patrolman Mattox was attracted to Richmond street by sundry shoutings and howls. He found four men in the midst of what he declares was a drunken brawl.

The patrolman made a rush into the crowd and grappled the first one that came handy. There was a general scattering on the part of the participants. Mattox had a firm grip on the arm of one of them and had another by the necktie. The latter individual departed in a hurry leaving his necktie behind, but his short stay had been long enough for Mattox to recognize him. It was James Kearns and he was arrested at a later hour that morning. The prisoner was John Roantree.

The culprits explained that they had been down to one of the "pink teas" conducted by Adam Hubler, better known as Adam Beek, and were just coming home when they got into an altercation over some point and started to settle it among themselves.

They were arranged before City Judge DeMeza, Monday morning, as has already been told, and pleaded to the charge of being drunk and disorderly and fighting. They also explained some of the peculiarities of the already noted "pink teas." Beek, or Hubler, lives near Netherwood on the north side of the track. Sometimes he gives dances at his home, which the young men may attend by the payment of the sum of fifty cents. These dances have become known as Beek's "pink teas."

The prisoners said that the fifty cents not only entitled them to dance all the evening and part of the following morning, but it included an unlimited number of visits to the spout of the keg of beer that stood in the hall. The cups were free and all the guests had to do was to turn the spiget and drink.

The two offenders were fined $8 each and told to beware of "pink teas" hereafter.

There promises to be an investigation in this matter of "pink teas" with the accompanying free beer and more arrests are likely to follow.

The other two men who were in the scrap on Sunday morning are alleged to be John Staats and a man named Pize. Staats appeared at a late hour, and his trial will be held on Saturday morning.

CUPID CHEATED DEATH.

FREDA PETERSON AND NELSON GRAVE MARRIED AT LAST.

The Bride Became Despondent Over the Delay in the Nuptials and Tried to Commit Suicide Last Week—Now She's Happy.

Two of the happiest persons in Plainfield are Miss Freda Peterson, of Perth Amboy, and Nelson Grave, of this city, for last evening they were united in marriage, after an episode which nearly caused a life separation.

About a week ago Miss Peterson came to this city for the purpose of becoming the wife of Nelson Grave, the young man who had promised to marry her. Grave was not quite ready to be married and desired that his bethrothed should wait two weeks. This she did not want to do, and when she learned that he would not consent to the wedding at that time she drank a quantity of carbolic acid. She was removed to the hospital where for a short time she remained in a critical condition. She soon began to get well and finally was pronounced out of danger.

In the meantime Grave arranged his affairs so that he could plan for the happy union, and the date was set for last evening at 7 o'clock. The ceremony was performed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Claassen, of Liberty street. Miss May Thompson, of the latter street, acted as maid of honor, and Peter Hansen, brother of Mrs. Claassen, was the best man. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church.

Mr. and Mrs. Grave will reside in this city where the groom has a position as painter with Rushton & Hansen.

The bride wore a gown of steel gray trimmed with white lace, and the maid of honor was gowned in blue satin trimmed with white lace.

Following the ceremony, supper was served to those present and an evening of sociability was enjoyed.

FOR MORE SCHOOL ROOM

OLD SEVENTH DAY BAPTIST CHURCH LEASED FOR THAT PURPOSE.

To be Refitted, at a Cost of $3,700, Especially for Study Purposes.—The Structure Will be Leased for a Term of Five Years.

The old Seventh Day Baptist church is soon to be converted into a school house for the use of the children of the city of Plainfield. The steeple will probably be removed and such changes made in the interior as will fit the building for educational purposes. Such was the decision of the Board of Education of the city of Plainfield at a special meeting held at the High School building, Monday evening.

Ever since the completion of the new church edifice of the Seventh Day Baptist church society, the old wooden building, which was moved from the site of the new church to the corner of West Fifth street and Madison avenue, has remained unoccupied. When the Board first looked about for a suitable building in which to relieve the overcrowded condition of the school buildings in the Third ward by establishing several classes, their attention was called to the old church, which the Seventh Day Baptist society offered at a very reasonable rate.

A kindergarten was started in the old Rogers building on West Fifth street, near Central avenue, after the spring vacation, but it was plain that something more must be done before the opening of school in the fall. Monday evening, a special meeting of the Board was called to take action on the matter and hear the report of the building committee regarding the proposed sanitary changes to the Stillman school.

Mr. Lounsbury, as chairman of the building committee, reported that the committee thought it advisable to to lease the old Seventh day Baptist church for a term of five years to accommodate the pupils who are crowded out of the other schools. His plan concerning the alterations necessary to the building were that the first floor should be divided into four class rooms and that arrangements should be made so that four more rooms might be fitted up on the second floor when the increase in pupils made it necessary. The heating apparatus, he advised, should be put in so as to heat the first and second floors.

J. A. Hubbard was present and brought with him plans of the proposed changes, which, it was estimated, would cost $3,700. It is understood that the church society will remove the steeple.

After a thorough discussion, the president and secretary were authorized to consummate a lease with the society of the Seventh Day Baptist church for the property for a term of five years. The building committee was instructed to make such necessary alterations, according to report, after the lease had been signed.

The Board next talked over the question of putting a small addition on the rear of the Stillman building to accommodate two sets of toilet rooms. The present rooms in the centre of the yard will be removed and new sanitary ones, connecting with the sewers, put in place. The Board received a notification some time ago that connection must be made with the sewers and it was in compliance with this that the new toilet rooms were planned.

Plans for the proposed extension, drawn up by Architect Carr, were presented and the Board virtually decided to accept them and have the extension built during the summer vacation. Bids for the same were received and opened. The lowest bid for the sanitary plumbing was by D. W. Littell, of $850. For the mason and carpenter work and painting, the bid of J. P. Emmons of $1,409 was the lowest

Cyclists Collide.

Walter G Williams, of East Front street, met with an accident while returning from Metuchen, Saturday afternoon, on his wheel. He had just reached the corner of Park avenue and Seventh street when he was compelled to turn out to avoid a little girl who was walking across the street and then to prevent a collision with another cyclist. John Arden, of Morris avenue, was close behind Williams and unable to stop. A collision was the inevitable result and Williams' front wheel was ruined. Arden offered to pay for the damage.

A Benefit Entertainment.

An entertainment for the benefit of the athletic association of Leal's School will be held on Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. hall. The entertainment will be a lecture on Cuba and the war by one who has travelled extensively there. The subject is "Under the Cuban Star."

August Bloom, a former resident of Plainfield, but now of New York, spent yesterday with friends here.

BRIDGES TO BE BUILT.

UNION AND SOMERSET FREEHOLDERS DECIDE THE MATTER.

A Joint Meeting of the Bridge Committees of the Two Boards Held Yesterday—Discussion About Sycamore Avenue.

As stated in The Daily Press yesterday, the members of the Somerset County Board of Freeholders together with the Bridge Committee from Union County Board of Freeholders met in this city for the purpose of considering the erection of two bridges, one across Watchung avenue and the other across Sycamore avenue. The members met on Watchung avenue first and discussed the question of a bridge thoroughly. Some were of the opinion that a plank bridge ought be erected. The members of this opinion were all from Somerset county. The Union county members were all of the opinion that the bridge should be a concrete one. The question required considerable discussion and it was finally decided to have plans and specifications drawn for three different kinds of bridges, the same to be submitted at a meeting to be held two weeks from yesterday. It is the general opinion that the bridge, if a concrete one, will cost about $10,000. Following this the members adjourned to Sycamore avenue, where the question of erecting a bridge across the brook at that point was discussed. In this case the Somerset county members wanted to practice economy by erecting a bridge forty feet wide, which is not the full width of the road. The Union county members thought that the difference in the cost would be so small that a full width bridge should be built.

Former Mayor B. A. Hegeman, Jr., Senator Reed, George F. White and William J. Roome, interested owners of the property on the avenue, were present and used their influence with the Freeholders to secure a full width bridge. Mr. Hegeman made a speech before the assembled members in which he urged them to provide for the future and not only for a few days.

The Somerset county members caucused a great deal and for a time it looked as though the bridge would not be granted. Captain Hubbard finally called the members together and the question was called for. Every member, except Director Logan, voted to make the bridge full width. This bridge will cost about $5,000, and will be a low truss plank structure. In this case the members decided to have plans and specifications made and submitted at the meeting to be held in two weeks.

Plainfield and the borough are now assured of having two new bridges for the Freeholders so decided yesterday. The only question that remains is as to what kind of a bridge will be erected on Watchung avenue.

Among the interested persons present in addition to those named were Mayor Wilson, Councilmen Woolston and Carey, of the borough, J. Fred MacDonald and Sheriff Kirk, of this city.

The Bridge Committee of Union County consists of Captain Hubbard, chairman; John H. Tier, Sr., of this city; J. Robinson, of Fanwood; A. S. Clark, of Westfield; J. Martin Roll, of Springfield; J. C. Ogden, of Elizabeth. All of the above were present and the full membership of the Somerset County Board was present.

Somerset County Teachers to Meet.

The annual meeting of the Somerset County Teachers' Association will be held in the North Plainfield Public School building, Saturday next, at 10:30 a. m.

Miss E. Kiernan, of North Plainfield, will present a Mary Mapes Dodge literary exercise with class. An exercise in botany will be given, if suitable plants can be procured. Principal W. B. Wells, of East Millstone, will present a paper on "Herbart." Dr. A. D. Warde, of North Plainfield, will present a paper on "The Physical Causes that have Influenced the Location and Development of Cities." Officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

A Birthday Party.

A birthday party was enjoyed last evening at the First Church of Christ under the auspices of the Sunday-school. The programme consisted of vocal and instrumental selections, recitations, and an address by the superintendent, Mr. Staats. Those who took part in the programme were members of the Sunday-school, and every number was given with credit.

WANTED TO END HER LIFE

ANNA WILSON CHOSE A PENKNIFE AS THE MEANS.

She was Employed as a Servant at the Residence of F. E. Knight, of Woodland Avenue—Wounds Will Not Prove Fatal.

A young woman, despondent after a long period of ill health and other troubles, attempted to take her life in a Netherwood residence, last evening, and might have succeeded but for her ignorance of the location of the most important blood vessels in the body.

Miss Annie Wilson, a young American woman, of twenty-five years of age, has been employed at the residence of F. E. Knight, of Woodland avenue, near South avenue, as a servant for some time. She has been in ill health for over a year and as gradually grown despondent over the fact. Yesterday, she acted so queerly that the members of the family noticed it and kept a watch on her fearing that she might attempt violence to herself. A few minutes after 8 o'clock, last evening, she retired to her room on the third floor and locked the door.

When Mr. and Mrs. Knight learned that she had gone to her room, they went to the door to see what was the matter. The young woman refused to admit them. Her voice sounded weak and trembling and it was feared that something was the matter.

After long persuasion, the door was finally opened and the excited inmates of the house admitted. Their fears were by no means dispelled when they found the young woman covered with her own blood which was flowing freely from wounds at the neck and wrist.

It is supposed that Miss Wilson became temporarily demented and tried to take her life. There was a deep cut in the left wrist, three inches long, and two more cuts in the side of the neck, each an inch and a half long. These wounds had been made by Miss Wilson with a pocket knife with a comparatively small blade. The knife was found on the floor, covered with blood.

The would be suicide became hysterical after her condition was discovered, while all the family were much excited over the unwonted happenings of the night. Dr. Endicott was summoned and dressed the wounds of the woman.

The wounds were not of a serious character, although she lost much blood. No main arteries or veins are out, although such was apparently her object.

Her sisters in New York were telegraphed for and came to town this morning. They took the young woman with them to New York.

SURPRISED AN OLD SCHOOL CHUM.

Ray Snodgrass Visited by a Number of Newarkers, Who Came Awheel.

A very pleasant surprise was given to Ray T. Snodgrass, son of Rev. Dr. Winfield C. Snodgrass, the new pastor of the First M. E. church, Monday evening. Rev. Dr. Snodgrass came to this city from Newark where Ray Snodgrass attended the Newark High School, where he was a member of the Senior class.

Monday evening, soon after 9 o'clock, Ray Snodgrass was surprised to hear his familiar class yell given in front of his home on Central avenue. Knowing that only his friends of the Newark High School were capable of giving it, he hurried out to find twenty of his class-mates who had ridden over from Newark on their wheels to see him.

The party then spent a pleasant hour with their old class-mate and then departed for Newark. Among the party were George E. Pister, president of the class, S. M. Riker, manager of the Newark High School base-ball team, and Arthur E Hill and P. W. Muller, two especial chums of Ray Snodgrass.

In Court of Chancery.

The printed list of cases in the Court of Chancery which opened yesterday shows the following cases in which Plainfield parties are interested: Harriet J. Cleaver vs. Joseph B. Cleaver, William M. Stillman for complainant, G. R. Cushman for defendant. Also three cases in which William C. Stanbery is complainant and Eve M. Baker et als., defendants. The latter three cases were all decided by the court in favor of Mr Stanbery, who was represented by W. R. Codington. The defendant Eva M. Baker was represented by Mr. Angleman.

Senator Reed had eight cases in in which his firm appeared as counsel. They were referred to the vice-chancellor for hearing.

—Clarkson Mundy, who is now employed by Smalley Brothers, the North avenue butchers, has been taken into partnership with J. A. Blatz, the Front street butcher. Mr. Mundy will make the change next Monday.

ALL WENT UP IN SMOKE

CADMUS' STOREHOUSE AND ITS CONTENTS DESTROYED THIS NOON.

The Fire Supposed to Have Been Started by Three Small Boys Who Were Playing With Matches—Loss is About $2,500.

A large building located on South Second street, owned by Abram L. Cadmus, and used as a store-house for straw, wood, hay, etc., was totally destroyed by fire today noon. There is good reason to suspect that the building was set on fire by boys.

It was nearly 12 o'clock when Mrs. John Kneeland, who lives back of the store house, looked out of her back window and saw William McGrath, George Lindzer and Edward Honney, between the ages of 6 and 7 years, standing by the building which was burned. She told a Daily Press reporter that she saw a match lighted but she did not know which one of the boys did the act. Immediately afterward she saw the boys run away and almost instantly she saw the flames pouring forth from the building. The fire started in a quantity of straw and in a few seconds the whole contents were in a blaze.

The fire had made great headway by the time the department reached the scene and it was impossible to save the building. The best that could be done was to save the adjoining buildings. Several streams were used and the firemen did good work.

Charles Drake, who is employed by Mr. Cadmus, was present and rescued the wagons from the burning building, and while doing this both of his hands were bady burned. He was take to his home and a doctor was called to dress the wounds.

About this time George Zeisz, an employe of the Potter Press Works, was passing and he saw that the building was on fire. He hastened to the spot and secured a private hose and fastened it to the hydrant. In this was water that was used on the fire until the fire department arrived in response to an alarm sent in from box 45 by James Whalen, also an employe at Potter's.

Mr. Cadmus had the building insured for $250, and J. T. Vail is the agent. There was no insurance on the contents which is a complete loss. Mr. Cadmus estimates his loss at $2 500.

It was nearly two hours before the firemen entirely extinquished the fire, and during that time it was hard work owing to the dense smoke caused by the burning hay and straw.

Chief Doane is in Hoboken today attending the meeting of the Exempt Firemen's Association, and First Assistant James Martin was in charge.

Sergeant Kiely was present and he made a thorough investigation of the facts concerning the fire. He took the boys names and they will be found and closely questioned as to their presence at the building. The boys were not found while the fire was in progress.

SWEET MUSIC DISCOURSED.

Prof. Conde's Concert Was a Successful One in Musical Circles.

A very successful event was the annual concert of P. Ludwig Conde, Plainfield's well-known violinist, which was held in the Y. M. C. A. hall, last evening. From an artistic point of view the concert was very creditable. Mr. Conde was assisted by a number of his pupils, who showed the skill of their teacher as well as their own talent by the excellent rendition of the numbers to which they were assigned. There were also present two of Mr. Conde's professional friends, who took part in the programme and greatly pleased the audience by their ability on the instruments they had chosen. The orchestra, which was largely composed of Mr. Conde's pupils, was led by Mr. Conde. The selections were well received and deserved to be.

W. Paulding DeNike showed himself a master of the 'cello and he made the full rich tones of that instrument seem unusually sweet. The trio by Mr DeNike, Mr. Conde and Clarence Lester Eick, on 'cello, violin and piano, "Pizzicato Gavotte," by Pache, found great favor with the audience, so that the musicians were called back by the loud applause to repeat it. Mr. Conde was at his best in his solos and showed what a wonderful master of the violin he is. His selections were much enjoyed.

Enough Money Pledged.

The subscription committee of the East Third Street Mission held a meeting a few days ago and learned by comparison that the entire amount of money needed to erect a new chapel had been pledged. Next weet a meeting of the trustees will be held and the committee will at that time make a report of their work. It is expected that the work of building the chapel will be started in a very short time.

GOOD WOMAN'S "BOYS."

prison and tries to help the men individually, to bring them the truths of Jesus Christ. Then she corresponds with them, and encourages them in their good resolves. She also does work with their families, and then, when the men themselves come out, she endeavors to help them to a better life in the most practical way. For the almost helpless ones a home has been opened; for the others employment is obtained. Mrs. Booth told several most interesting stories of her "boys," causing much amusement by her account of a Greek who, on leaving prison, wandered over New York vainly searching for her, pointing to his Volunteer button and repeating, "I belong Mrs. Booth; I go Mrs. Booth!" The police wanted to have some fun with him, and pretended they did not know her, so that she declared she would send her photograph to the Rogues' Gallery, and ask them to study it!

She has had much encouragement in her work, and her special desire at present is to induce Christian business men who employ many men to agree to take one man a year, recommended by her. She considers herself greatly honored of God in being called to this work, and earnestly desires others to co-operate with her in it; by giving money, by giving employment, by putting their influence on the side of the work, sharing with her not only in bringing God's kingdom in the world, but in His blessing and His eternal reward.

At the close of Mrs. Booth's absorbing address, Dr. Rodman rose to announce the offering for her work, saying that he need not add a word; he was only afraid the congregation would go home penniless and their families might suffer!

While the offering was being received, the choir sang a beautiful anthem, "Awake Up, My Glory," with solos by Harry Messersmith and Arthur Freeman. The doxology and a hymn, "I Need Thee Every Hour," followed, after which the closing prayers were said by Dr. Rodman, and then the recessional hymn, "Soldiers of Christ, Arise," closed one of the most impressive services ever held in Plainfield.

PRISONERS BAIL EACH OTHER.

Schweinfurth and Clark, of Westfield, Provide the Mutual Accommodation.

About twenty prisoners indicted by the Union County Grand Jury were arranged to plead before Judge McCormick in Elizabeth, yesterday.

Among them were Matthew Schweinfurth and William Clark, indicted for keeping disorderly houses in Westfield. Each is a large property owner and each went the other's bail for $500.

County Prosecutor F. C. Marsh, in accepting it, said the best thing that could happen for the State would be for each man to run away and forfeit his bail.

Justice Newcorn's Court.

One contract case was tried in Justice Newcorn's court, yesterday, and a verdict was rendered for the plaintiff for the full amount. The case was that of Reed et als against Wyckoff et als. Summons were issued in the contract cases of Cole against Thorn et als, New York Hollow Ware Company against Ferris and Hand against Flack, all returnable on the 21st; and in the case of Sternberg against Wiseman, in tort, returnable on the 24th.

Loans Made at a Premium.

There are encouraging signs of a return of prosperity to business in the work of the Home Building and Loan Association, as reported at the meeting last evening. Four loans (one in Westfield) were taken, amounting to $8,500, and all at a premium, giving 6 4 10 per cent to the association for the use of the money. Eighty shares were taken in the nineteenth series.

Report is a schedule which is explanatory in itself, and divides all taxpayers into classes for the collection of taxes prior to 1880. It is as follows:

"Class A embraces all those that in the judgement of the committee should be settled for the face of the tax without interest, cost or penalties, those actually petitioned for settlement and others who should make it in the opinion of the committee.

"Class B, C, D embraces those wherein peculiar and mitigating circumstances enter for the consideration of the committee with a view of influencing their judgment. These circumstances being set forth in the petitions of the respective petitioners; such for instance as where property on which taxes are claimed to be due are now in the hands of innocent purchasers, also where property has changed hands several times through foreclosure sales, and also where it appears questionable as to how much of the taxes claimed to be due may or may not have actually been paid during the periods in which they were properly due, and yet in which classes the petitioners are willing to make a payment in settlement in order that all future questions or trouble may be averted."

The following resolution was offered by Mr. Serrell in connection with the above: "Resolved, That the taxes be revised, altered, adjusted and settled according to the above schedule filed, providing the same be paid within thirty days from the date of the adoption of this resolution."

A member of the Council in speaking about the above matter said, "The names and amounts of taxes due from delinquent taxpayers are not made public, because some are well-known people who are innocent holders and the publication can do no good and might be unpleasant and discourteous, and on the other hand to some who owe the city this knowledge is unpleasant enough without the galling effect that must come from public presentment of the facts."

Mr. Serrell offered another resolution to the effect that the time for receiving petition for the adjustment of taxes be extended up to and including May 28th. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Frost introduced the ordinance for the opening of Sycamore avenue, and on his motion it was adopted on the first and second readings and ordered engrossed and advertised. By this action the city accepts the street practically.

A resolution was offered by Mr. Frost to the effect that curbing be set in front of properties on the following streets where there is none at present: West Ninth street to Plainfield avenue, East Ninth street to Watchung avenue, Grant avenue from Front street to West Fourth street, East Seventh street from Central avenue to Park avenue, Madison avenue from West Front street to Stelle avenue, Central avenue from West Front street to West Eighth street, First, Second, Third place, Crescent avenue, and East Ninth street.

Mr. Barrows offered an ordinance repealing the ordinance designating the city jail. It was adopted on the first and second readings and ordered engrossed and advertised.

Mr. Westphal offered a resolution to the effect that the $2,500 appropriated for the use of the Industrial Home be taken from the special fund, which is known as the building fund for the city poor buildings.

Mr. Barrows called up the amendment to the sidewalk ordinance and on his motion it was adopted on the third reading. The Council then adjourned.

Attempted Shooting Reported.

Former United States Senator John R. McPherson, of New Jersey, had a narrow escape from being killed at his office, 149 Church street, New York, this morning. Wm. VanAken, according to the police, attempted to shoot him and was prevented by W. T. Low. An accomplice of VanAken escaped. VanAken was arrested.

The Suspects Released.

Dennis Murray and John Neuman, who were committed to the Somerset County Jail by Recorder Thomas, on suspicion of having committed several burglaries in the borough, were released from their confinement yesterday on bail furnished by Mr Trewain, of Orchard place, this city.

FOOD STRENGTH.

IT COMES FROM THE RIGHT FOOD PROPERLY DIGESTED.

Food strength is natural strength. It is new strength; created strength. That is, it is not stimulation.

The real strength of your body is your constitutional strength, your reserve strength. It is the result of eating proper food and digesting it.

Eating food does no good at all; rather harm—unless it is digested. So that everything narrows itself down to one proposition: How is your digestion?

One person in three of us have indigestion in some form or another. It is not really a disease, but a condition; a condition which may become serious.

We all wish to be strong, and we might all become so if we digested our food. The loss of your strength is a serious matter. It may be the beginning of a dangerous disease. It may mean that you cannot go on with your work.

Shaker Digestive Cordial is an aid to digestion. It is a strength maker. It makes your food nourish you. It makes you strong. It relieves at once all the symptoms of acute dyspepsia, tones up the system and creates flesh, energy and strength. Taken regularly it will permanently cure indigestion and make the weak, thin, irritable, nervous dyspeptic, strong, fat, hearty and well again.

woman's suffrage was tried successfully. Aaron M. Powell remarked that it was the duty of every American citizen to right a wrong in a rational manner and that here was a good chance.

Charles J. Baxter, state superintendent of schools in New Jersey, declared that there would be a great increase in the morality and efficiency of the public shools if women had a hand in their management.

Mr. Powell moved that a letter by Mrs. Hall, recently published in The Tribune, be published in neat form and distributed before the time came for the vote on the amendment.

"Farmer Orator" James E. Martine, who had been an interested listener of the proceedings, was called upon for a short speech. He said that as a partizan he had not the slightest objection to women's suffrage any more for it would have been impossible to snow his party under any more completely than it was at the last national election. He believed in the gradual introduction of the subject and that he would favor the new amendment by voting for it and using what influence he had for its passage. The meeting then adjourned.

Fought on the Street.

Herbert Doyle and Joseph McGrath were arraigned before City Judge DeMeza, yesterday afternoon, charged with fighting on West Front street, Saturday evening. The complaint was made by Patrolman McCarty. This morning, John Thompson, colored, was brought before the Judge on the same charge and his trial was set down for the same time as the others.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

GREAT FETE IT WILL BE

TOWN IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION EVENT WILL SATISFY EVERY TASTE.

A Multitude of Attractions will be Offered to Those Who Attend—Mrs. Mall's Grounds to be Almost Fairy Land.

Anent the Fete Champetre of June 5th. Call it what you will—outdoor entertainment, open-air party, plain picnic; but if you fail to go you will always be sorry. It will be an event to talk about, to remember, the like of which Plainfield—perhaps, even, New Jersey—has never known. It will have features appealing to every taste, cultured or crude; to all conditions; to every age. It will be amusing, instructive, and always and everywhere interesting. Moreover, it will be thoroughly democratic. One entrance fee for all will level distinctions. Plain folk may gaze at the swell—if he be there to swell—as at a new variety of tulip. The swell may study the plain folk, perhaps to his own advantage. Music and dancing; fun and frolic; food and drink; all these and other good things will offer themselves at every turn within the Elysian field which lies in the very shadow of the Watchung mountains.

The country home of John Taylor Johnston—so widely known for its beauty—is a fair memorial of the refined taste of its lamented master. And, for this one fete-day, the resources of art and nature will be combined to produce a picture never to be forgotten,—a picture of many different phases which our knights of the camera (anglice, kodak-fiends) will surely not neglect.

For example, the southerly entrance, with its fine granite work, will, by the cunning art of George Wharton Edwards, become a mediæval Flemish gateway, gay with colored pennants and with gilded weather vanes. Again, faring on by circling drive or winding path, the visitor will come upon another mediæval picture, the May pole, garlanded with flowers and streamers, with a merry group of youngsters (already in training) "winding a dance" about the pole—perchance "winding" themselves up against it.

Passing further on you will come to running water; to the lake, with its boats and gondolas. Or, crossing by the rustic bridge, you are captured by a dark skinned, red-shawled gypsy maid, (perhaps a demure member of your Sunday-school class,) whose hand you will cross with silver in expectation of a fortune told. Or you may sit in the gypsy tent and have audience of the Queen, the while a witch broth is brewing in a big pot hung from the regulation tripod of stakes.

Do the children want a pony ride, in the saddle or phæton? Here are the ponies, with careful men in charge. Are you an-hungered? Or is you whistle dry? You have not far to go for creature comforts, served, too, at reasonable prices, in dainty form.

Perchance you have come a'wheel from Morristown, from Trenton; you suspect a leak in your tire. Moreover you would not have your wheel out in the evening dew; all the while your inner man craves food. Go to, now; follow the signs to the place of wheels; explain to friend Rogers or to friend Lister what your wheel needs; receive from them a numbered coupon, and pass on to the supper tent where, with mind at ease, you may sip your hot coffee and munch your salad, your beef or mutton, with pastries and creams to follow, and later, you may even console yourself with a cigar while you watch the electric lights as they begin to gleam out of the shadows.

Have you brought along the family, the wife and children or, perhaps, a sweetheart? Have the roads been dusty, the sun warm? Well, here are soap, water and towels; combs and brushes; all the toilet-requisites of the civilized man and woman, close at hand.

Perhaps you have driven across country with the whole household. In that case you may find a place for the team, with feed and water, and later a hearty supper for yourself and your folks. If, however, you come from "the city" with dress-suit case or grip-sack, you need no advice from a newspaper man. 'Tis enough to say that you will find accommodations: that you are sure to have a good time, that there are trains by which you may return to New York throughout the evening and up to midnight. Or, on the other hand, you may find good lodging over night at the inns of Plainfield.

From time to time The Press will have more to say of this "coming event," whose shadow will grow from day to day. We confidently assure our readers that all news of the Fete Champetre printed in these columns may be accepted as authentic and reliable, and will appear as promptly as

FREE BEER IS SAID TO BE ON TAP THERE.

Two Roisters, Returning From the Tea, Were Captured by Patrolman Mattox, and Disclose a Very Wonderful Story

City Judge DeMeza was not favorably impressed with what he heard of Adam Beek's "pink teas" in city court Monday morning, neither were the police. Sunday morning, at 3 o'clock, Patrolman Mattox was attracted to Richmond street by sundry shoutings and howls. He found four men in the midst of what he declares was a drunken brawl.

The patrolman made a rush into the crowd and grappled the first one that came handy. There was a general scattering on the part of the participants. Mattox had a firm grip on the arm of one of them and had another by the necktie. The latter individual departed in a hurry leaving his necktie behind, but his short stay had been long enough for Mattox to recognize him. It was James Kearns and he was arrested at a later hour that morning. The prisoner was John Roantree.

The culprits explained that they had been down to one of the "pink teas" conducted by Adam Hubler, better known as Adam Beek, and were just coming home when they got into an altercation over some point and started to settle it among themselves.

They were arranged before City Judge DeMeza, Monday morning, as has already been told, and pleaded to the charge of being drunk and disorderly and fighting. They also explained some of the peculiarities of the already noted "pink teas." Beek, or Hubler, lives near Netherwood on the north side of the track. Sometimes he gives dances at his home, which the young men may attend by the payment of the sum of fifty cents. These dances have become known as Beek's "pink teas."

The prisoners said that the fifty cents not only entitled them to dance all the evening and part of the following morning, but it included an unlimited number of visits to the spout of the keg of beer that stood in the hall. The cups were free and all the guests had to do was to turn the spiget and drink.

The two offenders were fined $8 each and told to beware of "pink teas" hereafter.

There promises to be an investigation in this matter of "pink teas" with the accompanying free beer and more arrests are likely to follow.

The other two men who were in the scrap on Sunday morning are alleged to be John Staats and a man named Pize. Staats appeared at a late hour, and his trial will be held on Saturday morning.

CUPID CHEATED DEATH.

FREDA PETERSON AND NELSON GRAVE MARRIED AT LAST.

The Bride Became Despondent Over the Delay in the Nuptials and Tried to Commit Suicide Last Week—Now She's Happy.

Two of the happiest persons in Plainfield are Miss Freda Peterson, of Perth Amboy, and Nelson Grave, of this city, for last evening they were united in marriage, after an episode which nearly caused a life separation.

About a week ago Miss Peterson came to this city for the purpose of becoming the wife of Nelson Grave, the young man who had promised to marry her. Grave was not quite ready to be married and desired that his bethrothed should wait two weeks. This she did not want to do, and when she learned that he would not consent to the wedding at that time she drank a quantity of carbolic acid. She was removed to the hospital where for a short time she remained in a critical condition. She soon began to get well and finally was pronounced out of danger.

In the meantime Grave arranged his affairs so that he could plan for the happy union, and the date was set for last evening at 7 o'clock. The ceremony was performed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Claassen, of Liberty street. Miss May Thompson, of the latter street, acted as maid of honor, and Peter Hansen, brother of Mrs. Claassen, was the best man. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church.

Mr. and Mrs. Grave will reside in this city where the groom has a position as painter with Rushton & Hansen.

The bride wore a gown of steel gray trimmed with white lace, and the maid of honor was gowned in blue satin trimmed with white lace.

Following the ceremony, supper was served to those present and an evening of sociability was enjoyed.

FOR MORE SCHOOL ROOM

To be Refitted, at a Cost of $3,700, Especially for Study Purposes.—The Structure Will be Leased for a Term of Five Years.

The old Seventh Day Baptist church is soon to be converted into a school house for the use of the children of the city of Plainfield. The steeple will probably be removed and such changes made in the interior as will fit the building for educational purposes. Such was the decision of the Board of Education of the city of Plainfield at a special meeting held at the High School building, Monday evening.

Ever since the completion of the new church edifice of the Seventh Day Baptist church society, the old wooden building, which was moved from the site of the new church to the corner of West Fifth street and Madison avenue, has remained unoccupied. When the Board first looked about for a suitable building in which to relieve the overcrowded condition of the school buildings in the Third ward by establishing several classes, their attention was called to the old church, which the Seventh Day Baptist society offered at a very reasonable rate.

A kindergarten was started in the old Rogers building on West Fifth street, near Central avenue, after the spring vacation, but it was plain that something more must be done before the opening of school in the fall. Monday evening, a special meeting of the Board was called to take action on the matter and hear the report of the building committee regarding the proposed sanitary changes to the Stillman school.

Mr. Lounsbury, as chairman of the building committee, reported that the committee thought it advisable to to lease the old Seventh day Baptist church for a term of five years to accommodate the pupils who are crowded out of the other schools. His plan concerning the alterations necessary to the building were that the first floor should be divided into four class rooms and that arrangements should be made so that four more rooms might be fitted up on the second floor when the increase in pupils made it necessary. The heating apparatus, he advised, should be put in so as to heat the first and second floors.

J. A. Hubbard was present and brought with him plans of the proposed changes, which, it was estimated, would cost $3,700. It is understood that the church society will remove the steeple.

After a thorough discussion, the president and secretary were authorized to consummate a lease with the society of the Seventh Day Baptist church for the property for a term of five years. The building committee was instructed to make such necessary alterations, according to report, after the lease had been signed.

The Board next talked over the question of putting a small addition on the rear of the Stillman building to accommodate two sets of toilet rooms. The present rooms in the centre of the yard will be removed and new sanitary ones, connecting with the sewers, put in place. The Board received a notification some time ago that connection must be made with the sewers and it was in compliance with this that the new toilet rooms were planned.

Plans for the proposed extension, drawn up by Architect Carr, were presented and the Board virtually decided to accept them and have the extension built during the summer vacation. Bids for the same were received and opened. The lowest bid for the sanitary plumbing was by D. W. Littell, of $850. For the mason and carpenter work and painting, the bid of J. P. Emmons of $1,409 was the lowest

Cyclists Collide.

Walter G Williams, of East Front street, met with an accident while returning from Metuchen, Saturday afternoon, on his wheel. He had just reached the corner of Park avenue and Seventh street when he was compelled to turn out to avoid a little girl who was walking across the street and then to prevent a collision with another cyclist. John Arden, of Morris avenue, was close behind Williams and unable to stop. A collision was the inevitable result and Williams' front wheel was ruined. Arden offered to pay for the damage.

A Benefit Entertainment.

An entertainment for the benefit of the athletic association of Leal's School will be held on Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. hall. The entertainment will be a lecture on Cuba and the war by one who has travelled extensively there. The subject is "Under the Cuban Star."

August Bloom, a former resident of Plainfield, but now of New York, spent yesterday with friends here.

BRIDGES TO BE BUILT.

UNION AND SOMERSET FREEHOLDERS DECIDE THE MATTER.

A Joint Meeting of the Bridge Committees of the Two Boards Held Yesterday—Discussion About Sycamore Avenue.

As stated in The Daily Press yesterday, the members of the Somerset County Board of Freeholders together with the Bridge Committee from Union County Board of Freeholders met in this city for the purpose of considering the erection of two bridges, one across Watchung avenue and the other across Sycamore avenue. The members met on Watchung avenue first and discussed the question of a bridge thoroughly. Some were of the opinion that a plank bridge ought be erected. The members of this opinion were all from Somerset county. The Union county members were all of the opinion that the bridge should be a concrete one. The question required considerable discussion and it was finally decided to have plans and specifications drawn for three different kinds of bridges, the same to be submitted at a meeting to be held two weeks from yesterday. It is the general opinion that the bridge, if a concrete one, will cost about $10,000. Following this the members adjourned to Sycamore avenue, where the question of erecting a bridge across the brook at that point was discussed. In this case the Somerset county members wanted to practice economy by erecting a bridge forty feet wide, which is not the full width of the road. The Union county members thought that the difference in the cost would be so small that a full width bridge should be built.

Former Mayor B. A. Hegeman, Jr., Senator Reed, George F. White and William J. Roome, interested owners of the property on the avenue, were present and used their influence with the Freeholders to secure a full width bridge. Mr. Hegeman made a speech before the assembled members in which he urged them to provide for the future and not only for a few days.

The Somerset county members caucused a great deal and for a time it looked as though the bridge would not be granted. Captain Hubbard finally called the members together and the question was called for. Every member, except Director Logan, voted to make the bridge full width. This bridge will cost about $5,000, and will be a low truss plank structure. In this case the members decided to have plans and specifications made and submitted at the meeting to be held in two weeks.

Plainfield and the borough are now assured of having two new bridges for the Freeholders so decided yesterday. The only question that remains is as to what kind of a bridge will be erected on Watchung avenue.

Among the interested persons present in addition to those named were Mayor Wilson, Councilmen Woolston and Carey, of the borough, J. Fred MacDonald and Sheriff Kirk, of this city.

The Bridge Committee of Union County consists of Captain Hubbard, chairman; John H. Tier, Sr., of this city; J. Robinson, of Fanwood; A. S. Clark, of Westfield; J. Martin Roll, of Springfield; J. C. Ogden, of Elizabeth. All of the above were present and the full membership of the Somerset County Board was present.

Somerset County Teachers to Meet.

The annual meeting of the Somerset County Teachers' Association will be held in the North Plainfield Public School building, Saturday next, at 10:30 a. m.

Miss E. Kiernan, of North Plainfield, will present a Mary Mapes Dodge literary exercise with class. An exercise in botany will be given, if suitable plants can be procured. Principal W. B. Wells, of East Millstone, will present a paper on "Herbart." Dr. A. D. Warde, of North Plainfield, will present a paper on "The Physical Causes that have Influenced the Location and Development of Cities." Officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

A Birthday Party.

A birthday party was enjoyed last evening at the First Church of Christ under the auspices of the Sunday-school. The programme consisted of vocal and instrumental selections, recitations, and an address by the superintendent, Mr. Staats. Those who took part in the programme were members of the Sunday-school, and every number was given with credit.

WANTED TO END HER LIFE

She was Employed as a Servant at the Residence of F. E. Knight, of Woodland Avenue—Wounds Will Not Prove Fatal.

A young woman, despondent after a long period of ill health and other troubles, attempted to take her life in a Netherwood residence, last evening, and might have succeeded but for her ignorance of the location of the most important blood vessels in the body.

Miss Annie Wilson, a young American woman, of twenty-five years of age, has been employed at the residence of F. E. Knight, of Woodland avenue, near South avenue, as a servant for some time. She has been in ill health for over a year and as gradually grown despondent over the fact. Yesterday, she acted so queerly that the members of the family noticed it and kept a watch on her fearing that she might attempt violence to herself. A few minutes after 8 o'clock, last evening, she retired to her room on the third floor and locked the door.

When Mr. and Mrs. Knight learned that she had gone to her room, they went to the door to see what was the matter. The young woman refused to admit them. Her voice sounded weak and trembling and it was feared that something was the matter.

After long persuasion, the door was finally opened and the excited inmates of the house admitted. Their fears were by no means dispelled when they found the young woman covered with her own blood which was flowing freely from wounds at the neck and wrist.

It is supposed that Miss Wilson became temporarily demented and tried to take her life. There was a deep cut in the left wrist, three inches long, and two more cuts in the side of the neck, each an inch and a half long. These wounds had been made by Miss Wilson with a pocket knife with a comparatively small blade. The knife was found on the floor, covered with blood.

The would be suicide became hysterical after her condition was discovered, while all the family were much excited over the unwonted happenings of the night. Dr. Endicott was summoned and dressed the wounds of the woman.

The wounds were not of a serious character, although she lost much blood. No main arteries or veins are cut, although such was apparently her object.

Her sisters in New York were telegraphed for and came to town this morning. They took the young woman with them to New York.

SURPRISED AN OLD SCHOOL CHUM.

Ray Snodgrass Visited by a Number of Newarkers, Who Came Awheel.

A very pleasant surprise was given to Ray T. Snodgrass, son of Rev. Dr. Winfield C. Snodgrass, the new pastor of the First M. E. church, Monday evening. Rev. Dr. Snodgrass came to this city from Newark where Ray Snodgrass attended the Newark High School, where he was a member of the Senior class.

Monday evening, soon after 9 o'clock, Ray Snodgrass was surprised to hear his familiar class yell given in front of his home on Central avenue. Knowing that only his friends of the Newark High School were capable of giving it, he hurried out to find twenty of his class-mates who had ridden over from Newark on their wheels to see him.

The party then spent a pleasant hour with their old class-mate and then departed for Newark. Among the party were George E. Pister, president of the class, S. M. Riker, manager of the Newark High School base-ball team, and Arthur E Hill and P. W. Muller, two especial chums of Ray Snodgrass.

In Court of Chancery.

The printed list of cases in the Court of Chancery which opened yesterday shows the following cases in which Plainfield parties are interested: Harriet J. Cleaver vs. Joseph B. Cleaver, William M. Stillman for complainant, G. R. Cushman for defendant. Also three cases in which William C. Stanbery is complainant and Eve M. Baker et als., defendants. The latter three cases were all decided by the court in favor of Mr Stanbery, who was represented by W. R. Codington. The defendant Eva M. Baker was represented by Mr. Angleman.

Senator Reed had eight cases in in which his firm appeared as counsel. They were referred to the vice-chancellor for hearing.

—Clarkson Mundy, who is now employed by Smalley Brothers, the North avenue butchers, has been taken into partnership with J. A. Blatz, the Front street butcher. Mr. Mundy will make the change next Monday.

ALL WENT UP IN SMOKE

CADMUS' STOREHOUSE AND ITS CONTENTS DESTROYED THIS NOON.

The Fire Supposed to Have Been Started by Three Small Boys Who Were Playing With Matches—Loss is About $2,500.

A large building located on South Second street, owned by Abram L. Cadmus, and used as a store-house for straw, wood, hay, etc., was totally destroyed by fire today noon. There is good reason to suspect that the building was set on fire by boys.

It was nearly 12 o'clock when Mrs. John Kneeland, who lives back of the store house, looked out of her back window and saw William McGrath, George Lindzer and Edward Honney, between the ages of 6 and 7 years, standing by the building which was burned. She told a Daily Press reporter that she saw a match lighted but she did not know which one of the boys did the act. Immediately afterward she saw the boys run away and almost instantly she saw the flames pouring forth from the building. The fire started in a quantity of straw and in a few seconds the whole contents were in a blaze.

The fire had made great headway by the time the department reached the scene and it was impossible to save the building. The best that could be done was to save the adjoining buildings. Several streams were used and the firemen did good work.

Charles Drake, who is employed by Mr. Cadmus, was present and rescued the wagons from the burning building, and while doing this both of his hands were bady burned. He was take to his home and a doctor was called to dress the wounds.

About this time George Zeisz, an employe of the Potter Press Works, was passing and he saw that the building was on fire. He hastened to the spot and secured a private hose and fastened it to the hydrant. In this was water that was used on the fire until the fire department arrived in response to an alarm sent in from box 45 by James Whalen, also an employe at Potter's.

Mr. Cadmus had the building insured for $250, and J. T. Vail is the agent. There was no insurance on the contents which is a complete loss. Mr. Cadmus estimates his loss at $2,500.

It was nearly two hours before the firemen entirely extinquished the fire, and during that time it was hard work owing to the dense smoke caused by the burning hay and straw.

Chief Doane is in Hoboken today attending the meeting of the Exempt Firemen's Association, and First Assistant James Martin was in charge.

Sergeant Kiely was present and he made a thorough investigation of the facts concerning the fire. He took the boys names and they will be found and closely questioned as to their presence at the building. The boys were not found while the fire was in progress.

SWEET MUSIC DISCOURSED.

Prof. Conde's Concert Was a Successful One in Musical Circles.

A very successful event was the annual concert of P. Ludwig Conde, Plainfield's well-known violinist, which was held in the Y. M. C. A. hall, last evening. From an artistic point of view the concert was very creditable. Mr. Conde was assisted by a number of his pupils, who showed the skill of their teacher as well as their own talent by the excellent rendition of the numbers to which they were assigned. There were also present two of Mr. Conde's professional friends, who took part in the programme and greatly pleased the audience by their ability on the instruments they had chosen. The orchestra, which was largely composed of Mr. Conde's pupils, was led by Mr. Conde. The selections were well received and deserved to be.

W. Paulding DeNike showed himself a master of the 'cello and he made the full rich tones of that instrument seem unusually sweet. The trio by Mr DeNike, Mr. Conde and Clarence Lester Eick, on 'cello, violin and piano, "Pizzicato Gavotte," by Pache, found great favor with the audience, so that the musicians were called back by the loud applause to repeat it. Mr. Conde was at his best in his solos and showed what a wonderful master of the violin he is. His selections were much enjoyed.

Enough Money Pledged.

The subscription committee of the East Third Street Mission held a meeting a few days ago and learned by comparison that the entire amount of money needed to erect a new chapel had been pledged. Next weet a meeting of the trustees will be held and the committee will at that time make a report of their work. It is expected that the work of building the chapel will be started in a very short time.

HOT SPEECH FOR CUBA

Senator Mason Says Bayonets as Well as Bread Should Be Sent.

A LARGE AUDIENCE WAS PRESENT.

Every Member of the Senate Was In Place When the Illinoisan Made His Fiery Oration, and He Was Listened to With Rapt Attention.

Washington, May 19.—Senator Mason delivered a fiery address on Cuba when the Morgan belligerency resolution was called up.

He had been previously advertised as heading a combination of senators pledged to prevent action or prolonged discussion until a vote can be reached on the resolutions.

In anticipation of something sensational the galleries were full, and nearly every senator in town was in his seat.

Senator Mason made the point that the president's relief message was a recognition by the highest authority in the United States that a state of war existed in Cuba and that it was the duty of congress to still further emphasize the presidential declaration.

Mr. Mason read President McKinley's message to prove that a state of war exists in Cuba.

"If there is not war," he said, "then there ought to be with us."

He said the Americans in Cuba needed to be defended with bayonets as well as with bread.

He referred to Senator Wellington's reference to our indebtedness to England and said that he, too, acknowledged the indebtedness.

Refers to Arbitration Treaty Defeat.

"Thank God," he exclaimed, "we settled a small part of it at Bunker Hill. Another part of it we settled here in the senate two weeks ago."

This latter remark was directed at the defeat of the arbitration treaty and was the first public reference to it in the senate.

Senator Mason later on said "d——," thereby horrifying the dignified senate and shocking the proprieties.

It was the cause of a tilt between Senators Wellington and Mason. The Marylander disputed the statement by Mason that at the time Washington was at Valley Forge the Colonial government was not worth any more than is that of Cuba today.

Mason reiterated his statement and declared that on the occasion referred to the Colonial government wasn't worth a "continental damn."

This irreverence threw Wellington into a white heat, and he vigorously denounced the utterance as a falsification of history.

The dialogue between the new senators aroused eager interest. The senator from Illinois gave all the entertainment expected of him, and the Wellingtonian interruptions only added zest to the performance.

Then Mr. Mason read from reports sent to the senate by the committee on foreign relations in support of his statement that a Cuban government exists.

"Mr. Wellington was elected on the platform of independence for Cuba," he said. "So was I. So was Mr. McKinley. And I am here to stand by it so long as I continue on the payroll."

A Popular Feeling For Cuba.

He said that during the last campaign he had felt the pulse of thousands of people and was satisfied there was a deep general interest among the people in the interest of Cuban freedom.

He was for Cuba, not for commercial reasons or for the acquisition of territory after the English fashion, but for better reasons.

Mr. Mason predicted that this country would yet develop a Lafayette for Cuba.

Speaking of the newspaper reports of the Cuban war, Mr. Mason defended them as in the main correct. He said that 50 per cent of the men who had gone to Cuba to write of the war had lost their lives.

He proposed to vote on the resolution if it took all summer. Cuba was popular at St. Louis when the party wanted votes, and he appealed to Republican senators to stand by the declaration.

Mr. Mason said he did not believe the adoption of the resolution meant war; but, if an honest protest meant war, let it come.

He was followed by Mr. Hoar of Massachusetts in opposition to the resolution, who counseled temperate action.

Mr. Hoar spoke in his usual calm and dignified style, and took occasion to deride buncomb appeals to constituents and braggadocio as to our national strength. Mr. Hoar's criticisms, although impersonal, were clearly aimed at Mr. Mason. Senators Gallinger of New Hampshire and Hawley of Connecticut also spoke, the former for the resolution and the latter urging that the United States should not rush into war while our coast defenses are manifestly inadequate. No final action on the resolution was taken.

Agreement on Indian Appropriation.

Washington, May 19.—The conferees of the two houses of congress reached an agreement on the provision of the Indian appropriation bill concerning the Uncompaghre Indian reservation in Utah, the only item remaining in dispute between the two houses. Following is the text of the compromise provision: "The secretary of the interior is hereby directed to at once allot agricultural lands in severalty to the Uncompaghre Ute Indians now located upon or belonging to the Uncompahgre Indian reservation in Utah; said allotments to be upon the Uncompahgre and in Utah reservations or elsewhere in said state, and that all the lands of the said Uncompahgre reservation not heretofore allotted in severalty to said Uncompahgre Utes shall on and after the first day of April, 1898, be open for location and entry under all the land laws of the United States."

Strike of Tailors In Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, May 19.—The childrens' coat and jacket makers of this city to the number of 375 went on strike for an increase of 25 per cent in wages. The strikers include all of that class of garment workers in the city excepting 30, who are employed in one shop. These have also declared their intention of joining the strikers. Quite a number employed in other branches of garment making went on strike Monday, and it is said there are at least 1,000 garment workers now on strike.

THE TAILORS' STRIKE.

It Is Still Spreading and Will No Doubt Affect Other Trades.

New York, May 19.—Meetings have been held in all the big east side halls, at which garment makers generally discussed the strike question. The preponderance of opinion seemed in favor of adopting aggressive measures to force the contractors, and incidentally the manufacturers, to grant better wages.

At a conference of committees representing the United Brotherhood of Tailors and the Progressive Tailors it was decided that the latter, numbering 2,500, would go on strike.

Leader Schoenfeld, who presided at the conference, said he anticipated a general strike, involving at least 35,000 garment workers in this city, Brooklyn and Brownsville.

The Knee Pants Makers', Vest Makers', Overcoat Makers', Sailors' Jacket Makers' and other affiliated unions are expected to fall in line before the end of the first week of the strike.

Over 400 contractors met and after a protracted discussion of the situation decided to appoint a committee to confer with the strike leaders. This was taken as an indication that the contractors are willing to take sides with the strikers in the matter of forcing the manufacturer to pay higher prices, thus enabling the contractors and middlemen to pay the operators more.

At a meeting of hat makers it was decided to formulate a new price list and ask for a reduction in the toil hours.

It is reported that the shirt makers are contemplating a strike.

TWO IMPORTANT ACTS.

Governor Black Signs the Antiscalpers and the Mileage Book Bills.

Albany, May 19.—Governor Black has signed two bills of great interest to the railroads and incidentally to the people at large. Chapter 506 of the laws of 1897 is the so called antiscalpers bill, which absolutely prohibits the selling of railroad and steamboat tickets in this state except by agents authorized in writing to make such sales by the owners of the vessels or trains or companies operating them, and then they shall sell tickets only in the towns where their written authority gives them permission to make sales.

Chapter 484 of the laws of 1897 compels the acceptance by railroads of mileage books of any member of a purchaser's family or firm or any salesman of the firm upon surrender at any ticket office of coupons equal to the number of miles sought to be traveled, and such mileage ticket as is given in exchange for these shall be accepted by their conductor without presentation of the mileage book.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.
(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty-five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. TRUCE FLAGS RAISED

Turkey Consents to the Powers' Request For Armistice.

WAS FORCED TO DO SO BY RUSSIA.

Greeks Thoroughly Disheartened Over the Fall of Domokos, Which Ends Their Hope—Lord Salisbury Gives His Views on the Situation.

Constantinople, May 19.—Edhem Pasha, commanding the Turkish army operating against the Greeks, has been ordered to cease hostilities.

The official announcement is made that the sultan has proclaimed a suspension of hostilities with Greece, with the object of showing his good will toward the powers.

It transpires that the czar made a direct appeal to the sultan to order his troops to cease hostilities and arrange an armistice, and this, coupled with the fact that most serious results would have ensued if Turkey had persisted in her defiant attitude, brought about the present state of affairs.

Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish minister for foreign affairs, has called upon the dean of the diplomatic corps, Baron von Calice, and conveyed to the foreign minister the sultan's decision to arrange an armistice.

It is now believed that the terms of peace will be negotiated between Turkey and Greece.

Salisbury on the Situation.

The premier said he regretted that political reasons precluded him from saying much on the subject of foreign affairs. The armistice which had been declared was due to pressure exerted by six powers, especially by Russia. It was a very important step, giving time for reflection and negotiation, but it did not seriously diminish the difficulties which had to be faced. Neither Turkey nor Greece ought to be under an illusion as to the real state of feeling in the United Kingdom. He had mentioned both countries, he said, because in the dim future no one could know to which of the two it might become necessary to appeal for a solution of problems which must be solved.

"The peculiarity of this strange crisis," said Lord Salisbury, "is that the war cannot be left to work out its natural results. It is impossible that Europe should allow Christian communities to fall under the sultan's government, but it must not be supposed, because this doctrine throws its ægis over Greece, that therefore she is to be free from all penalties attaching to unwise or unrighteous actions.

"And in this connection I may say that the sending of an address such as was sent to Greece by a hundred members of the house of commons ought, in its thoughtlessness, to be recorded as a disgrace to the commons. They are guilty of the blood which has been shed in consequence of the false calculations generated in the minds of those they affected to support."

Continuing, his lordship referred to the sympathies of England for Greece as founded upon classic associations, liberalism in politics and community of religious convictions as well as upon other influences, but such considerations as these, he said, could not be suffered to guide the policies of nations, for their policy was to maintain peace by the strict observance of international engagements.

The Retreat From Domokos.

London, May 19.—Definite details of the battle at Domokos from the Turkish side are still wanting, though it is evident that the Greek defeat was complete and decisive. An Italian officer with the Greeks puts their killed and wounded at 2,000, but probably this is much exaggerated, as the Greek positions were well protected, and the retreat began as soon as they became untenable.

It is believed that Edhem Pasha will insist upon the surrender to him of the passes over the Othrys range before he consents to an armistice; but, save for a small force of Turkish cavalry following the retreating Greeks at a distance of 2,000 yards, the Turks have not attempted to attack the Greek rear guard.

The crown prince headed the retreat, and his headquarters are now established close to Devenfourka pass, a very narrow gorge through the Othrys range about 12 miles from Lamia.

The greatest depression exists at Athens. There is a complete collapse of the high hopes raised by the optimistic dispatches of Constantine, but as yet there are no disorders. While the battle was in progress the government vainly endeavored to get at the exact position and the number of casualties, but Constantine sent only evasive replies. Very feeble were the shouts raised when additional troops started yesterday for the front. The Athenians are completely disheartened.

MEMENTO FOR MORSS

Our Retiring Consul General at Paris Receives an Address

GIVEN BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

He Also Receives a Vase as a Token of Appreciation From His Fellow Countrymen—Happy Speeches and Responses Are Made.

Paris, May 19.—An interesting function took place when a deputation representing the American chamber of commerce in Paris presented to Mr. Samuel E. Morss, the retiring consul general, an illuminated address and a large silver repousse vase, bearing allegorical figures.

The address, which is a beautiful work of art, was designed by the well known painter, Mme. Louise Abema, and is inclosed in a frame about 18 by 24 inches in dimensions.

The address, which was read by Dr. Tyng, the president of the chamber, is a flattering expression of the personal good will of the members of the chamber toward Mr. Morss and their sincere regret at his forthcoming retirement. It says in part:

"Among the founders and first friends of this chamber, when its work and influence were in debate, Consul General Morss gave the aid of his name, position, talents and earnest efforts to the furtherance of its interests. Through the series of years which have passed since its organization he has served continuously, not only as honorary member, but also as honorary director in its active administration. He has contributed his long experience in affairs to the solution of the problems which have occupied its attention.

Its Good Name and Credit.

"His presence at the meetings of its board of directors, his counsel in connection with the several projects which have claimed its approbation and his intervention with the general governments of the United States and France, both in official reports and by personal recommendation, have tended to establish the good name and the credit of the chamber in both countries. To these memories, forming many reasons for the grateful recognition of the chamber, he has added the charm of his personal acquaintance and a generous friendship which has stimulated its officers and members in their common work."

In the second resolution of the address the chamber expresses to Mr. Morss "the profound interest which it will ever feel in his personal welfare and success as well as in such efforts as he may make for the acceptance of reciprocity in international commerce through the press, on the platform and in public office after his retirement from his present honorable position, which he has filled with so much intelligence and efficiency."

Mr. Morss replied feelingly in acknowledgment of the "exceptional honor conferred upon me by the chamber."

The presentation was followed by a reception, at which more than 500 were present, among them most of the leading members of the American colony in Paris.

Lunacy Commission's Wants.

Albany, May 19.—The state lunacy commission held a meeting and considered two requests from the managers of the Manhattan State hospital, one for the construction of a pavilion building at Central Islip, to cost $200,000, and the other for the construction of a cottage colony at the same place, at a cost of $500,000. No action will be given on the first proposition until the commission looks over the ground and determines whether there is a necessity for it, and the second proposition cannot be acted upon until next year, as no money is available for the construction of such an expensive work. John L. Parkhurst of Canandaigua, the newly appointed commissioner, sat with the commission for the first time.

A Romantic Courtship.

Lockport, N. Y., May 19.—Henry Redmond of this city, a widower, 45 years of age, member of Sprout Post, G. A. R., and commander of that post last year, left for Belmont, N. Y., to marry Mrs. Sarah Cantine, whom, it is said, he has never seen. Being of a romantic nature he inserted an advertisement in a matrimonial paper and received a reply some time ago. Letters and then photographs were exchanged, and at last the wedding day was set for today at Belmont, Alleghany county. Mr. Redmond and his bride are expected home Thursday evening.

Abandoned Vessel Floated.

St. Johns, N. F., May 19.—The French brigantine Croisine has been successfully floated off the shore, near Lamaline, with the help of a tugboat and towed to St. Pierre. Her cargo had all been landed at Lamaline by the local fishermen and had suffered but little damage. The Croisine is even now making but little water, and the opinion of the St. Pierre people is that she was abandoned too hastily.

MARRIAGE LICENCE BILL A LAW.

The Governor has signed the marriage license bill. He does not agree with many who have expressed themselves on this bill, that it was unconstitutional, he holding that any State has a right to make such police arrangements against the residents of other States as the emergency may require. The new law provides that in cases where the contracting parties are non-residents of the State they must procure a license from the clerk of the county in which the ceremony is to take place. For this a fee of fifty cents must be paid. In order to procure the license it must be established that there are no legal impediments to the marriage, and answers must be submitted to the questions propounded on this line. The questions are to be formulated by the Attorney General's office. In case of minors the consent of the parents or guardians must be obtained. No license is required in the case where one or both of the contracting parties reside in the State. The bill goes into effect on July 1

THEATRICAL.

A colossal, colored carnival is in progress at the Pleasure Palace, New York, where the Black Patti and her seventy-five troubadours are creating a sensation. This organization is the best of its kind ever combined, and the performance embodies a blending of opera, comedy, burlesque, and vaudville, embellished with magnificent costumes and beautiful scenery. The entertainment opens with a farce, "At Jolly Coon-ey Island," in which are faithfully and humorously depicted many types of characters for which Coney Island is noted for; then follows a strong vaudeville olio, introducing Bob Cole, monologue comedian, Billy Johnson, descriptive singer, Henry Wise, the Alabama Rube, Arthur Maxwell, trick bicyclist, Goggin and Davis, comedy acrobats, Coley Grant and Master Ratus, buck dancers, Hillman and Perrin, musical mokes, Stella Wiley, the Bella of Avenue A, De Wolf Sisters, duettists, Camille Casselle, soprano, Anthony D. Byod, phenomenal baritone, and Lloyd Gibbs, the Black Jean de Reszke. The performance concludes with a great operatic kaleidoscope, which is one of the novel and interesting musical medleys ever presented.

J. L. Ludlum's Admirable Character.

It is rare, indeed, that human life and character are permitted in this world to ripen so perfectly as did those of Mr. Ludlum, and that departure is so serene. He was in his eighty-fifth year. It is only within a few days that his mind has seemed to relax its natural activity and interest. He was a gentleman of broad culture, extensive travel and large observation of men and things. To these were added a native kindness and cordiality of feeling and demeanor, a keen and wholesome wit and humor, and a Christian generosity, quick to respond to all worthy demands. He was the best of neighbors and friends and was most tender and devoted in his home attachments. To such a spirit it is not for us to say "Good night." To him Immortality bids "Good morning."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

A VISIT TO THE VATICAN

A PLAINFIELDER WHO ATTENDED SERVICE CONDUCTED BY THE POPE.

It was Very Impressive, and Though the Pope Looked Aged and Feeble He Displayed Wonderful Vitality.

The following letter was written by a well-known Plainfield gentlemen who is travelling in Italy:

"By postal card I told you that I was at the Pope's mass in the Sistine chapel on Thursday. Tickets are very hard to obtain but we secured a couple. We arose at 6 o'clock and as soon as we had swallowed our coffee and rolls were driven over to the Vatican in the evening dress. By going early we managed to secure good places, though the chapel was quite crowded. To enter we had to show our tickets about half a dozen times to the gorgeous soldiers of the Swiss guard who stood with their long spears across each doorway.

A little after 8 o'clock a long procession of priests marched in followed by some of the Swiss guard with their plumes and helmets and spears. Then came the Pope way up in the air in his sedan chair born by twenty or twenty-five robed footmen. He is an old man of eighty-seven, very bent and quite thin, but otherwise he looks like the pictures which one sees. He was dressed principally in white silk and satin covered with gold and on his head was a white silk skull cap. As he came in everyone knelt before him while in the most benign and complacent manner he stretched out his hands and gave blessings right and left. As he reached the altar he was lifted down and the chair was backed out of the chapel while the guards stood around on each side of the altar and every few feet down the aisle.

"All the time the choir in a little gallery on one side was singing most beautifully. Maresche, the man soprano, could be heard even above the choir boys. There was no organ but all the sound seemed to come as from one instrument. It far surpassed the music in St. Peter's on Easter. As the Pope knelt before the altar there commenced a curious process of disrobing. His attendants took off robe after robe, shawl after shawl from his back and when he was divested of this apparel, they dressed him up again about sixteen deep with another set of robes and white shawls taken from the altar.

"Then the Pope read mass and his voice was quite distinct. As was the usual thing, he kissed the books, breathed on the tapers, bowed and kneeled repeatedly. Then he went to one side and knelt while an archbishop conducted a second mass. This was unusual but it gave us the opportunity of hearing more music. When the second mass was over the Pope was disrobed and robed again and carried out smiling and blessing as before. Before he went however he held an audience and many people were presented kneeling very reverently before him and kissing the gloved part of his hand. Altogether the service was as interesting as anything I have seen since I left home and I would not have missed it for a great deal. The service was really very beautiful and symmetrical and the audience very devout while the presence of so many of the clergy and the guard made it still more imposing. It was 10 o'clock before it was all over."

TRINITY'S IMPROVEMENTS.

Consistory Committee Have Discussed the Matter.

Messrs Anthony, Gayle and Van-Emburgh, the committee appointed by the consistory of Trinity Reformed church to report the feasibility and advisability of providing a new Sunday-school room under the church, held a meeting last evening and will make known the result of their deliberations at a special meeting of the consistory to be held at an early date. The committee would not divulge the result of the meeting, further than to say that the proposed plan as outlined in last Saturday's Press was a feasible one, and they intend to so report to the Consistory of the church and leave that body to go ahead with the building or not as they may decide.

Leggett's Refreshing Soda.

What is more refreshing than a glass of good soda? Leggett, the Front street druggist, has established a reputation of serving the best soda and its popularity has been marked this summer. Especially is this true of the people who attend the entertainments given at the Y. M. C. A. building. After the entertainments Mr. Leggett's place is thronged with people who thoroughly enjoy his soda. This was the case last evening when a large proportion of those at the hall stopped at the drug store and indulged in the refreshing beverage to be found at this place.

THE AMERICAN QUEEN COMPETITION!

A Columbia FREE!!

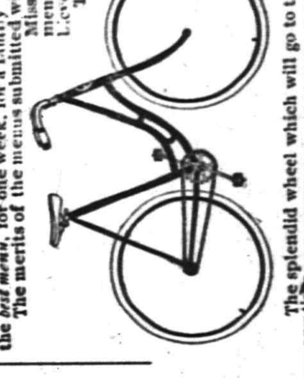
A lady's Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, will be given to the winner in THE AMERICAN QUEEN competition, which will be open to all the subscribers to THE AMERICAN QUEEN until June 30, 1897.

The Columbia, the standard bicycle of the world, has been selected for this competition, because the publishers of THE AMERICAN QUEEN are convinced that it is the best and that the woman who wins it would have it in preference to any other make.

The Columbia is now on exhibition at our store and will remain on exhibition until June 30th, when the competition will close and the Columbia will be awarded to the fortunate winner.

The contest which we have just inaugurated, by or through which some subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN is going to win a fine high-grade $100 Columbia Bicycle, is already well under way. The contest will remain open until June 30 1897. The conditions and plan of this contest are simply these: We purpose presenting a Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, to the lady subscriber who furnishes the best menu, for one week, for a family of five, the cost of such menu not to exceed $10 for the week.

The merits of the menus submitted will be passed upon by the Editor of THE AMERICAN QUEEN, Miss Mary L. Bisland, and the person furnishing the best menu, in Miss Bisland's judgment, will be presented with the bicycle.



The menu submitted should be enclosed in one envelope and the name of the sender in a separate one, the two being handed in or sent in together, addressed to us. The envelopes containing the menus will then be numbered and sent to Miss Bisland and the envelopes containing the names reserved by us, and when Miss Bisland makes her choice of the menus she will inform us of the number of the winner and we will then announce the result in local newspapers and THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The only requirement necessary to admit you to this contest is that you be a subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The splendid wheel which will go to the winner is on exhibition in the store and may be seen at any time.

We want everybody to feel free to go into this contest and we hope that hundreds of our customers will fix their minds on good things to eat and mould them into an acceptable menu for the week, and at the same time keep the cost down to $10.

THE COMPETITION.—Our aim in offering this competition is to have every lady we can reach with this announcement become a reader of THE AMERICAN QUEEN. THE QUEEN is published at $1 a year, but to give all our friends a chance to get this splendidly useful home publication for the ensuing year and at the same time have a chance to become the proud possessor of the standard cycle, we shall until the 30th day of June receive subscriptions (only one, however, will be taken from each family) for the nominal fee of 25 Cents a year. Come to the store at once, register your name, receive your receipt for THE QUEEN for one year and try to win the Columbia.

MIKE PERFORMED HIS DUTY.

And Jo Jefferson was not Allowed to Continue His Morning Nap.

A number of years ago Joe Jefferson played a one-night engagement in a small Indiana town, appearing in his favorite part of Rip Van Winkle. In the hotel in which he stayed was an Irishman, "recently landed," who acted as porter and general assistant. Judged by the deep and serious interest which he took in the house, he might have been clerk, lessee and proprietor rolled into one. At about six o'clock in the morning Mr. Jefferson was startled by a violent thumping on his door. When he struggled into consciousness, and realized that he had left no "call" at the office, he was naturally indignant. But his sleep was spoiled for that morning, so he arose, and soon after appeared before the clerk. "See here," he demanded of that individual, "why was I called at this unearthly hour?" "I don't know, sir," answered the clerk. "I'll ask Mike." The Irishman was accordingly summoned. Said the clerk: "Mike, there was no call for Mr. Jefferson. Why did you disturb him?" Taking the clerk by the lapel of the coat, the Hibernian led him to one side, and said in a mysterious whisper: "He were shnoring loike a horse, sor; and I'd heerd the b'ys saying something about how he were once afther shlaping for twinty years, so Oi says to meself, 'Moike, it's a-coming onto 'im again, and it's yer juty to get the cravthur out o' our house instantly!'"

More Official Tyranny.

"Thar's somethin' in this hyar paper, Josiah, about a Gover'ment bureau for the Indians," observed Mrs. Hayseed.

"Ha!" came from Josiah, accompanied by an angry snort. "Another expense to be saddled onto the sufferin' taxpayers of this tax-ridden land! Another scheme fer extortin' the dollars from the pockets of the downtrodden people! Of course thet blamed gang o' savages out West must hev a bureau. They couldn't manage to git along without it. A bureau is necessary to their heathenish happiness, and so this hyar Gover'ment steps in an' gives them a bureau to be paid for by the chaps who earn their bread by the sweat o' their brow. Oh, yes; the Indians must hev a bureau, while I, Josiah Hayseed, a citizen an' a taxpayer, hev to pay my share toward gittin' it fer them, an' I'm obleeged to content myself with a six by eight lookin' glass an' a dry goods box. Dod rot sech a dod-blanked country, anyhow!"—New York Journal.

Definite Instructions.

"The Albany Journal" tells a story of two green reporters, Englishmen, who were sent by the city editor of a certain newspaper to a suburban town to write up the burning of an orphan asylum. Late that night, when the news editor was wondering why no "copy" about the fire was coming by wire, a telegraph messenger rushed in and handed him a dispatch. He opened it and read:

"Dear Sir: We are here. What shall we do?'

It was signed by the names of the two men sent to write up the fire.

The news editor made a few remarks which, while they were appropriate to the occasion, would not look well in print; then he wrote on a telegraph blank this brief message:

"Find out where the fire is hottest and jump in."

Queer Beetles.

There is a species of beetle in Australia which acts the role of energetic undertakers who carefully bury carcasses left on the soil. As soon as they smell a field mouse, a mole, or a fish in a state of decomposition, they come by troops to bury it, getting under the body, hollowing out the ground with their legs, and, projecting the rubbish, they dig in all directions. Little by little, the carcass sinks; at the end of twenty-four hours the whole is several inches deep. They then mount it, cast the earth down into the grave so as to fill it and hide the body from sight. The females will then lay their eggs in the tombs, where the larvae will afterward find an abundance of food.—Golden Days.

Japs to Grow Tall on Meat Diet.

It has been written that no man by giving thought unto himself can add one cubit to his stature, but the enterprising Jap does not despair, and an ordinance has gone forth exhorting the people to eat more freely of meat, with a view to increasing the average height of the race. Whatever results may follow the method proposed, they are certain to be a long time coming; but it is only another instance of the determination on the part of the Japanese not to let the slightest chance slip for attaining all the advantages which they see, or think they see, in Western civilization.—St. James Gazette.

Deer Fear not Snake.

It is a curious fact that deer are not affected by the bites of poisonous snakes. They know this by instinct, and do not hesitate to attack the reptiles, stamping them to death and generally receiving many bites in the process of extermination. Undoubtedly there is something in the character of the animal's blood that makes it impervious to the deadly venom. Some believe that the liver of the deer does not produce gall, and that this accounts for it.—Golden Days.

He Improved It.

Bobby (at the table)—"Ma, chuck me a piece of bread."

Mother (shocked)—"Bobby, is that the way to ask for bread?"

Bobby (guiltily)—"Chuck me a piece of bread, please."

How It Happened.

"Sharpeack has got his appetite back again."

"How did he do it?"

"Got caught in a washout, and the railroad had to pay his board for a week."—Chicago Tribune.

A Cigarette Holder.

"Hear about that American young woman paying a million dollars for a cigarette holder?"

"Get out!"

"Fact. I belive it also had a title or something.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Information Desired.

"Paw' Say, Paw!" little Johnny began.

"Now, what do you want?" asked his suffering father, with the emphasis on the "now."

"Will my hair fall out when it's ripe, like yours?"—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Had Occasion to Know.

Fond Parent—I cannot interfere, Bobby. Your teacher writes me that she thrashed you on principle.

Bobby—Well, she didn't. Don't you think I know where she licked me?"—Life.

Hobson—I've seen a drop of water run an electric light plant, mill—

Dobson—Where did you see a drop of water do that?

Hobson—At Niagara Falls.—Buffalo Courier.

While two Irishmen were viewing the hieroglyphics on the obelisk in Central Park, New York, one remarked to the other:

"Can you make it out, Barney?"

"No, but I think if I had my flute I could play it."

Mrs. Goldstein: "Ikey, Ikey! Felix has svallered a penny."

Mr. Goldstein: "Vot a great poy! Already he vants to shtart in peeziness, as a penny-in-der-slot machine."—Tid-Bits.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then; sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

ATTACK ON J. R. M'PHERSON.

A Blind Man, Who Claims to Have a Grievance, Attempts to Shoot Him.

New York, May 19.—Ex-Senator J. R. McPherson, president of the Western stockyards, Jersey City, who lives at the Windsor hotel, came near being shot by a blind man in the Aldridge building, 149 Church street, yesterday. The ex-senator has an office on the fourth floor of this building, and about 10 o'clock William B. Van Aken of 15 Tenth avenue, who is supposed to be blind, was led in by another man, whose identity he refused to disclose.

It appears that Van Aken has a long standing grievance against McPherson. As far back as 1878 McPherson bought some land in New Jersey from Van Aken and paid him for it. Van Aken appears to have been content with the bargain for nearly 20 years, for he never said anything until about three months ago, when he started an action against the ex-senator for the recovery of something like $283,000, which, he alleged, was owing to him. Mr. McPherson was astounded at the claim and repudiated it.

He had never seen Van Aken until he presented himself in his office in the Aldridge building. He did not recognize his visitor when he came in.

After some conversation he said he had come to settle the suit and was referred to the ex-senator's lawyers.

Van Aken then attempted to draw a pistol, but was prevented by the ex-senator's secretary, who disarmed him after a struggle.

He was arrested and held for the grand jury in $3,000 bail.

TO BUILD RAILWAYS IN CHINA.

The Belgians Not to Have a Monopoly, as Originally Intended.

London, May 19.—A dispatch to The Times from Peking says that, in deference to the protests of Great Britain, the United States and Germany, the tsung li yamen have repudiated the monopoly scheme entered into by Sheng Ta Jen, the Chinese director general of railways, with a Belgian syndicate on behalf of the Chinese government, but authorize Sheng Ta Jen to sign a private contract with the syndicate for the construction of the proposed line of railway from Paotingfu to Hankau.

Under this arrangement the Belgians must provide £4,000,000 as a 4 per cent 90 year loan on the imperial guarantee. The existing railways are not to be given as security. Sheng Ta Jen must provide from other sources the sum of 13,000,000 taels.

The Chinese are to retain the control of construction, but the personnel of the construction staff is to be Belgian. Half the material is to be supplied by China and the other half by tenders from abroad.

The syndicate is to receive a 5 per cent commission on all material. In the contract is a clause apparently designed to provide against the transfer of rights under the contract to any other nation, but its terms are ambiguous.

Light Sentence For an Assault.

Springfield, Mass., May 19.—Peter O'Ferrall, who was convicted in the superior court of shooting his sweetheart, Miss Hannah Burke, in this city last December, was sentenced by Judge Maynard to a term of not less than four nor more than six years in the state prison. The lightness of the sentence was a surprise to all interested in the case. Farrell's aged mother and Miss Burke were much affected when sentence was pronounced, but the prisoner showed little emotion. His sweetheart is still true to him, and her evidence at the trial was given as much as possible in Farrell's favor.

Date of Presentation of Mayflower's Log.

Boston, May 19.—After corresponding with Thomas F. Bayard, ex-United States embassador to England, who has in his custody the Mayflower log, which is to be delivered to the governor of Massachusetts, Governor Wolcott decided that Wednesday, May 26, should be the date of the formal transfer of the manuscript. Governor Wolcott has invited Senator Hoar to deliver an address on the value of the document, the history of its loss, of its recovery and of its final return to the commonwealth. The governor himself will respond to Mr. Bayard when the manuscript is presented.

Alleged Conspiracy Confession.

Boston, May 19.—It is stated by the police authorities that James Overy, one of the employees of George A. Drysdale, who is under arrest on a charge of being connected with an alleged conspiracy to defraud Drysdale, made a confession, saying that he had delivered a team load of brass and iron bedsteads to Solomon Banewur, another of the alleged conspirators. Thus far 11 arrests have been made. All of those arrested were employees of Mr. Drysdale, who claims to have lost $10,000 worth of merchandise through the dishonesty of his help.

Escape of an Insane Criminal.

Newburg, N. Y., May 19.—Edward Sheridan, an inmate of the Matteawan asylum for the criminal insane, has escaped. Sheridan, with other inmates of the institution, was at work on the boulevard on the asylum grounds. Suddenly he ran for the woods. Keepers were sent after him and are still out, but have found no trace of the missing man.

Ran Into an Open Switch.

Wellsville, N. Y., May 19.—Train 30, on the Buffalo and Susquehanna, a fast freight, ran into an open switch just east of Nelson Run, Pa. The engine and six cars were badly wrecked. Brakeman John Krobb was killed instantly, while the rest of the crew escaped unhurt.

Ohio Democrats' Convention.

Columbus, O., May 19.—The Democratic state central committee decided to hold their state convention in this city June 29 and 30. Judge Ulrick Sloan of Hillsboro will be temporary chairman and Colonel W. A. Taylor temporary secretary.

Sheriff Closes a Top Company.

Buffalo, May 19.—The plant of the Niagara Top company at Black Rock was seized and closed up by the sheriff. Executions aggregating $2,500 were filed for levy with the sheriff. The concern employed a large number of men.

Groveton, N. H., May 19.—Joseph Gilbert was run over and killed in the railroad yard here by the noon train.

BLACK DID NOT SIGN!

Refused to Grant a Requisition For Two Alleged Thieves.

WANTED BY THE UTAH AUTHORITIES.

The Ogden Police Were Charged by Barton, One of the Accused Men, of Trying to Shield His Accomplice, Graves.

Albany, May 19.—Governor Black has refused to grant the requisition of the governor of Utah for the custody of Clarence Barton and Leon Graves, who are under arrest in New York city charged with the theft of $5,200 from the Utah Loan and Trust company of Ogden, Utah.

There was to have been a hearing on the requisition before the governor, and George Gordon Battle and Edward A. Scott, attorneys for Barton and Graves, appeared before the governor to protest against the granting of the requisition. The governor, however, was too busy with legislative matters to give the hearing. So Pardon Clerk Joyce examined the papers and advised the governor that the affidavits on which the request for the requisition was based were not strong enough to justify the granting of the same, and the governor took action accordingly.

Mrs. Barton, wife of one of the defendants, was at the executive chamber, and upon learning of the governor's decision, she made inquiries for a florist, saying, "I want to purchase a large bouquet to send back with the detectives to Utah."

Clarence Barton, who is 21 years old, had been living at 159 West Eighty-fourth street, New York city. He was held in the Center street police court on April 30 to await requisition papers from Utah. He was accused of having "sneaked" $5,200 from the counter of the Utah Loan and Trust company of Ogden. Chief of Police Davenport of that city traced the man to New York, and he was arrested by local detectives.

The Details of the Crime.

The alleged robbery was committed in December, and for a month the bank officers kept it secret, thinking to catch the thief.

Barton went to Jacksonville, Fla., where he spent money liberally. He aroused the suspicions of Detective Burgess of New York, who was there, and the detective telegraphed the authorities of several cities asking if they did not want Barton, but received no answer.

Burgess said Barton carried a belt full of gold eagles and lived in a house kept by a woman named Russian Belle. Barton lifted a mortgage for $800 that was on the woman's place. He was married in Jacksonville, and in March he and his wife went to New York. He had no money when arrested, but many pawntickets for diamond jewelry.

When the police called at his house, they found Mrs. Barton ill in bed. Barton asserted that he, too, was ill from appendicitis.

In the police court Barton said he was not alone in the commission of the crime. He said he had a companion and accused Chief Davenport of trying to shield him.

The prisoner asked the magistrate to commit him to Bellevue hospital, and this was done.

The counsel for the governor of Utah stated, after it had been announced that the governor had denied the requisition, that it was most unusual for the governor of one state not to give a hearing on the requisition of another governor even if he had decided to refuse the requisition. It was especially unusual in this case, because the governor of Utah had made a personal appeal for the requisition, inasmuch as he was one of the heaviest stockholders in the Loan and Trust association. The counsel further states that the pardon clerk refused to allow the case to go before the governor simply because he was of the opinion that the moving papers were defective.

Notified of Failure of Arbitration Treaty.

Washington, May 19.—Secretary Sherman has formally notified the British government, through Sir Julian Pauncefote, the embassador here, that the United States senate, having failed to ratify the treaty providing for general arbitration, that document has failed. The secretary was unable formally to inform Sir Julian of the reasons why the senate had rejected the treaty. Indeed, he is in the dark himself in that matter, for he has no notice save the statement of the vote in the senate, of which he must take cognizance. Of course it is actually known to all parties just why the treaty was objected to, but the absence of official objections prevents any attempt being made to meet the objections in an amended treaty.

Jersey's New Marriage Law.

Trenton, May 19.—Governor Griggs signed the Lloyd marriage license bill passed by the recent legislature. The bill as it becomes a law provides that in cases where the contracting parties are nonresidents of the state they must, in order to get married in New Jersey, procure a license from the clerk of the county in which the ceremony is to take place. For this a fee of 50 cents must be paid. In order to procure the license it must be established that there are no legal impediments to the marriage, and answers must be submitted to the questions propounded on this line. The bill goes into effect on July 1.

Colored Candidate Fails.

Annapolis, May 19.—John Smith, the colored candidate for the Naval academy, has failed in three out of four branches of the English examination. He passed in spelling, but did not reach the mark in grammar, geography or history. Under the rules of the academy he will be allowed a re-examination.

Bad Fire In White Mountains.

Twin Mountain, N. H., May 19.—Zealand, one of the largest lumber camps in the White mountain region, has been completely destroyed by fire. The camp consisted of three large mills, boarding house, store and several dwelling houses and was operated by Van Dyke & Sons. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

Death of Expert Kiersted.

Kingston, N. Y., May 19.—Egbert Kiersted, who shot himself, is dead. A coroner's jury will investigate.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage

Frank Schoonmaker, of Central avenue, has one of the new blue enameld Spalding wheels for '97.

Mrs. Will F. Williams, of Madison avenue, has purchased a wheel which she enjoys riding very much.

The members of the Epworth League of the M. E. church are planning to hold a League run in a short time.

Bert Moore, of Grove street, has purchased a new wheel in the place of the one which was wrecked last week in an accident.

The bicycle riders of Leal's School are preparing to put a team on the track this season to take part in scholastic events.

The members of the Cleveland Cyclers did not have their Sunday afternoon run last Sunday. It was postponed until another day.

The first race meet in the Metropolitan district will be held on Saturday on the Manhattan Beach track under the auspices of the Quill Club Wheelmen.

West Eighth street, between Arlington avenue and Grant avenue, is especially recommended to cyclists who care for a short spin after dinner, but before it grows dark.

Albert Steiner, of Somerset street, has just received his new Wolff American wheel, with the handsome transparent ruby enamel. He is greatly pleased with his choice.

A meeting of the Crescent Wheelmen will be held this evening. The meeting is an important one, and all members are requested to make a special effort to be present.

The Triumph Wheelmen of New York will have a run to this city on Sunday They expect to have over a hundred wheelmen in line and large accommodations are being made for their reception. Will Havens, of Plainfield avenue, is a member of that organization.

There will be a number of local riders in the opening race meet on May 31st on the Crescent Oval. William J. Dodd is getting in condition to ride on that occasion. Young Sorensen will make his first appearance on this track on that occasion. He has raced at other meets and now will try his luck at home.

Olaf Saugstad, superintendent of the Boys' Club, has again selected the Spalding as his mount for the summer He has received his new wheel which is of the latest model and he is greatly pleased with it. The wheel runs very easily. Of course, he made the purchase through the popular agent for the Spalding, W. H. Rogers.

Now is the season to begin to plan for a wheeling tour during the summer vacation. One of the advantages of the L. A. W. is a fine road book, which shows the good routes to places of interest and enjoyment all over the State. With such a book at hand the cyclist never is at a loss to find a trip for an afternoon, day or week.

F. L. C. Martin, the well known bicycle dealer of this city, has been invited to take his old place as one of the pacemakers in the Inter State Century run from Newark to Philadelphia on Saturday, June 12th. He has accepted the invitation and will take charge of the run from Plainfield to Princeton. Mr. Martin was one of the originators of this run and has always taken part in it

Lindley M. Hillman, of the track team of the Plainfield High School, has at last received his new Spalding track racer. The new wheel came on Saturday afternoon, just too late for the races. As his new mount was not to be had, Hillman rode the wheel belonging to Carroll L. Runyon in the races. The gear was much higher than he was accustomed to push, which may account for his unexpected poor showing He will ride the new wheel in the races in the State games at Bergen Point, Saturday.

A TERRIFIC EXPLOSION.

A SODA BOTTLING ESTABLISHMENT AT OAK TREE DESTROYED.

Caused by the Cylinder of a Gas Generating Engine Exploding—Afterwards Totally Destroyed by Fire.

People who live within a radius of four miles of the soda water bottling establishment of Silence & Armstrong, at Oak Tree, were startled by a terrific report of an explosion just after noon today. In the immediate vicinity of the bottling establishment the concussion was so great that it was thought that an earthquake had visited the section.

The cause of the unearthly noise and disturbance was an explosion of the cylinder used in generating gas for the soda water tanks supplied by Silence & Armstrong

The men employed in the factory, which is an elaborate establishment in the making and bottling of soft drinks, and left the building a few minutes before to get dinner to a house about 300 yards distant. Startled by an explosion they rushed out to see a strange sight. The roof of the building, which is a low one story affair, was torn all to pieces and scattered over the ground for a hundred feet around. The side of the structure was also wrecked near where the gas genering engine was located.

The men hurried to the scene of the explosion to find the whole interior of the building devastated. The explosion had scattered the live coals in the fire box of the boiler used to provide steam to run the engine and set fire to the woodwork.

The pipes used in the bottling process were twisted out of shape, bottles were broken into smithereens and everything presented a sight of ruin.

The woodwork commenced to burn fiercely and in a few minutes the whole interior was a mass of flames. There was no fire protection at hand, and in a short time the building was burned down.

The machinery and contents were totally destroyed, entailing a probable loss of $10,000.

A number of buildings adjoining were saved.

The burned structure was about 100 feet square and contained several hundred gallons of sweet cider and other soft drinks in store. They were all ruined.

The explosion brought people to the scene from all over that section.

No one was in the building at the time of the explosion.

A piece of the exploded cylinder weighing several pounds was found 100 yards from the factory,

—Miss Carrie Bullman, of Stone street, gave a birthday party Monday evening to a number of her friends. The evening was passed in playing games and dancing, and at a late hour refreshments were served. The guests wished the hostess many happy returns of the day and the event will long be remembered by all who were present.

—The members of Miss Lind Butler's Sunday-school class who have formed themselves into a circle of King's Daughters, met last evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Conover, of Elmwood place. The evening was passed in discussing plans for work and the social part of the affair was this feature. The members make useful articles and send them to missionaries in different parts of the country were needed.

The Crescent Oval is now open for training for the big Decoration Day meet of the Crescent Wheelmen. Owing to the continual rains of last week, there was a delay in placing the track in the condition that it should be, but now that the weather is delightful, every effort is being made to put the track in fine shape. Only contestants for the Decoration Day meet will be allowed on the track, as it is the wish of the race committee to prevent any accidents by keeping off all the crowd of boys that visit the track every day. The training quarters have been placed in good condition and everthing possible for the convenience of the contestants will be done.

a due regard for accuracy will permit. What we now present in this sketchy form will be supplemented from day to day by definite statements, and by the reports from official sources with which we shall be favored.

The people of Plainfield are rapidly learning to look beyond the mere fact that we are to have a new sort of show on the first Saturday in June. They are learning that a new public spirit is forming and organizing, which, ere long, will draw into its ranks all classes and conditions of people; which will arouse interest not only in public affairs, but in the improvement of private homes. Merely to outline what is implied by the growth of such a spirit would fill many columns. In vital importance it ranks with the spirit which supports public schools and charitable institutions. It will meet and answer the grudging question, What are these things worth in dollars and cents? and will prove that monies invested under its control and inspiration can and will pay great returns. Just now, however, hard work will do more for Plainfield's fete than will much philosophy.

OVER THE GREAT DIVIDE.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE ISAAC D. TITSWORTH HELD YESTERDAY.

His Life and Characteristics Reviewed and Commented Upon to His Credit by Those Prominent Among Seventh-day Baptists.

The funeral services of the late Isaac D. Titsworth were held yesterday afternoon from the house at 2:30 and from the Seventh-day Baptist church at 3 o'clock. At the house prayer was offered by Rev. F. E. Peterson. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends at the church and the services were very impressive. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Peterson, was in charge, and after a vocal selection by a quartette, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Titsworth, of this city, A. H. Burdick and Miss Lizzie Boice, of New Market, the Scripture lesson was read by Mr. Peterson. This was followed with a short sermon by Dr. O. U. Whitford, of Westerly, R. I., who was for years a member of Mr. Titsworth's family Dr. Whitford took for his text Psalm 116: 15—"Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints." Following the sermon Dr. Whitford read a biographical sketch of the deceased.

The next speaker was the Rev. Dr. A. B. Lewis, of this city, who spoke concerning Mr. Titsworth's relation to the Seventh-day Baptist Tract Society and the publication interests of the denomination.

Rev. Dr. A. E. Main, pastor of the Seventh-day Baptist church, this city, was the next speaker, and his remarks were along the line of Mr. Titsworth's relation to the Missionary Society of the denomination, of which society he was a life member.

The last speaker was Rev. L. E. Livermore, of this city. His address was in regard to the deceased's relation to the New Market church during Mr. Livermore's pastorate of twelve years. He spoke of Mr. Titsworth's intimate knowledge of the history of the church for the past 192 years of its existence, and said that there were now seven pastors living who were pastors during Mr. Titsworth's connection with the church, and that there were seven other pastors who preceded the seven now living. Mr. Livermore mentioned a few characteristics of the departed. First his Christian life, second his loyalty to God, and third his public spirit as shown in counsels and material help in the affairs of town, county, State and Nation, and his benevolence, especially in general interests. He was a warm supporter of the denominational and public schools and a promoter of temperance and other reforms.

The services closed with a prayer by Dr. Whitford and another selection by the quartette.

The platform was beautifully decorated with flowers, while a large wreath was placed on the casket.

The pall-bearers were four sons of the deceased as follows: Rev. Adoniram Judson Titsworth, of Milwaukee; Prof. A. A Titsworth, of Rutgers College; Thomas Titsworth and Louis Titsworth, of Dunellen. Interment was in Hillside cemetery, this city.

PAINLESS
DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

PASSING OF THE ROOKERY

CITY LOCKUP SOON TO BE A THING OF DISAGREEABLE MEMORY.

The Place Infested With All Sorts of Crawling and Repulsive Pests—Board of Health Took the Right Kind of Action.

After an exciting existence of a quarter of a century as the city jail, the "rookery" is soon to be no more. It has been condemned by the Board of Health as was stated at the Council meeting Monday evening, and the city is now looking about for a temporary abode for its offenders to occupy until the city hall is built. The condition of the city jail has long been the talk of the city, but the Common Council delayed action until a city hall should be built for they did not care to make any more changes than were necessary. The complaint of the Board of Health makes it necessary for a change without delay.

Twenty-five years ago, the little two story brick building, near the railroad, commonly known as the "rookery," was erected for the use of the city for a jail by Morgan C. Bird. The lower floor is three feet below the level of the surrounding ground and it is, in consequence, a chilly damp place, even in the warmest weather. The building was then new but the sanitary conditions have always been poor.

There are several tubs in the building that drain directly under the place, right by the driven well which supplies the occupants with drinking water There are two vaults in close proximity to the well and building. The walls of the building are of brick. As time went on, there came inhabitants for the walls and floors until the cells now swarm with crawling things Last fall, a respectable man was locked up in a cell over night and when he came out in the morning he brought a little cone of paper which contained one of the inhabitants of the cell that had crawled over his face during the night and disturbed him from his slumbers. It was a scorpion fully two inches in length. The prisoner called the attention of the court to this nocturnal visitor and explained that it was only one of countless numbers that kept him company during the night.

It was not the bugs, worms and other crawling things that caused the Board of Health to make a complaint. During his rounds of the city, Inspector Addis, of the Board, visited the jail and took a glance at the sanitary arrangements. He reported to the Board that the place should be condemned at once as it was not a fit place for anybody to live. He reported the manner in which the tubs were drained under the building and the nearness of the well.

There will be no attempt made to repair the "rookery" for its old use as a jail. The cost would be considerable and the city authorities are not anxious to continue to use the place for city purposes.

Charles H. Hand has offered to put up a suitable building if the city will lease it for a period of years but nothing has been definitely decided as yet. It is probable, however, that temporary quarters will be secured until the site for the city hall is selected and then the jail will be erected at once before the rest of the city hall is built.

THE FIRST STEP TAKEN.

To Construct a Trolley Road From Elizabeth to Cranford.

A meeting is to be held in Union on May 26th, at which application will be made by the Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railway Company, to construct a street railway over and upon Westfield avenue, from the city line of Elizabeth to the line of Cranford township.

It is intended to operate and maintain a double track railway, with electricity as the motive power, supplied from overhead wires.

It is thought the township committees along Westfield avenue, from Elizabeth avenue to Plainfield will favor the project on account of the greatest good to the greatest number, and that no delay will follow in the construction of a trolley road along this popular route.

HOME MISSIONARY WORK

A GRACE M. E. CHURCH SOCIETY CELEBRATES ITS ANNIVERSARY.

Besides the Money Raised and Contributed by the Members, Other Serviceable and Valuable Articles Were Sent Away.

The Woman's Home Missonary Society of Grace M. E. church celebrated its anniversary last evening in an interesting manner by listening to reports from the different mission fields. Mrs. A. A. Taft, president of the society, was in charge and after the devotional exercises a vocal selection was rendered by Messrs. Hummer, Ezra Loomis and John Steiner. This report showed that during the past year $130 had been raised by the society. A contribution of $10 was sent to the Rest Home at Long Branch, a barrel to the Peck Home in New Orleans, and entire outfit was sent to a minister in Tennessee, and a great deal of good had been accomplished in other ways.

Miss Della Voehl read the report for the Queen Esther Band. In this band there are fifteen active members and everyone has accomplished a great deal during the past year. To the Harwood Home, New Mexico, $5 was sent. A desk in a school at Jacksonville, Fla., has been named "North Plainfield, N. J.," and articles of use have been sent to this school. Another great mission of this society of young people has been that of sending flowers to the Children's Home and other institutions.

Mrs. Kirch read a paper on the "Missionary Work in China," and another paper on the same subject was read by Miss Lizzie Stafford. "Work among the Emigrants" was the subject of an article presented by Mrs. Charles Hummer, while Mrs. Sperry and Miss Hoagland told something of the work at the Deaconess's Home at Salt Lake City Mrs Stein reported on the work of supply and stated that during the past year $113.265 37 had been expended for supplies. "Work Among the Indians' was discussed in a paper presented by Miss Tingley, and Mary Hoagland read another paper on the same subject. The poor whites of the south were treated in papers presented by Miss Smalley and Mrs. Carney, while the general results accomplished during the year were read in an article prepared by Miss Stevens.

In closing Mrs. Taft urged all to take more interest in the work of the society and to subscribe for the society paper, also to contribute articles of clothing, etc., to be sent to mission fields. The meeting closed with a vocal selection by the quartette and the pronouncing of the benediction by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Johnston.

CHINESE CUSTOMS.

Interesting Lecture Delivered by Rev. C. E. Herring.

"Chinese Characteristics" was the subject upon which Rev. C. E Herring spoke at the regular weekly missionary meeting, held in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church, last evening, before a good-sized audience. The pastor held his hearers in close attention, as he related to them the manner in which the vast multitude of people in that far off country live. He spoke on various subjects in connection with the Chinese, but in closing he said he hoped that before long that they would see their error of worship and come to the Lord's side.

The lecture was very interesting and those who were gathered there were well repaid for their presence.

To Be Examined as to His Sanity.

There has always been a suspicion on the part of the police officials and the City Judge that John Benford was not right mentally. Benford is now serving a sentence of sixty days in the county jail for his last escapade when he tried to brain Patrolman Totten with a wooden bowl. Benford has acted queerly for some time but has been harmless unless provoked, when he became reckless in his actions. City Judge DeMeza has now ordered his examination by the county authorities at the county jail, and if it is decided that his mind is unbalanced, he will be committed to the State Hospital at Morris Plains.

Justice Newcorns Court.

The contract cases of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company against Woolston, and Tindall against Riker, were settled in Justice Newcorn's court yesterday. The case of Reed et als against Wyckoff et als, on contract, was tried and judgment in full rendered for the plaintiff. The case of Hope et als against Randolph, landlord and tenant, was also tried and judgment rendered for the plaintiff for possession of the premises. Summons were issued in the contract case of Reed et als against Lee, returnable on the 26th.

FLAMES WROUGHT RUIN

HARRY WERNER'S CLOTHING HOUSE GUTTED BY FIRE.

A Hanging Lamp Dropped to the Floor and the Spreading Oil Made a Fierce Blaze—Stock Ruined by Smoke and Water.

A fierce blaze, started by a falling lamp, gutted the clothing store of Harry Werner at 206 West Front street, last evening. The fire was in the rear of the store and hard to get at but after the fire department reached the scene of action it was not long before the flames were extinguished.

It was almost nine o'clock when Mr. Werner was preparing to close up for the evening. L. B. Woolston, one of the owners of the building in which the store is located, came in to see Mr. Werner just before that time and they had spoken about the spring to the front door which did not work well. Mr. Woolston removed the patent closing apparatus from the top of the door and then the springs worked without trouble. Mr. Woolston went out and a man and woman came in. They came to make a purchase.

Mr. Werner directed his clerk, Andie Van Arsdale, to close up as usual while Mr. Werner turned his attention to his customers. The rear windows and door were closed and barred and then Van Arsdale attempted to turn down the large hanging Rochester lamp in the rear right hand corner. Without warning the lamp fell and the next instant there was a burst of flame from the spot.

The cause of falling of the lamp was plain to see. The iron hook that fastened into the ceiling and held the lamp had pulled out and allowed the lamp and fixture to come to the floor with a crash. The force of the fall had split open the metal side of the lamp and allowed the oil to spill over the floor. The lamp held a gallon and was almost full at the time of the accident

The oil was ignited immediately and spread over the floor carrying the fire in its path. Van Arsdale narrowly escaped the lamp when it fell. As the flames rushed upward. he seized a bundle of suits that had been selected to put in the show window and tried to beat out the fire. Mr. Werner heard the crash and saw the blaze. He grabbed a blanket which happened to be near-by and rushed to the assistance of his clerk, followed by his customer.

The blazing oil set fire to the tables of goods on every hand and was soon far beyond control of the workers. Dashing through the flames, they reached the front of the store. The rear of the store was then a mass of flames and the dense smoke was nearly stifling them. Mr. Werner tried to open the door. It stuck fast. The spring was strong and he was unable to stir it. The woman who had come in as a customer, was greatly frightened and her shrieks added to the excitement.

"Murder! murder!" she screamed as the smoke grew thicker and more stifling. As they had run to the front of the store, Mr. Werner had stooped and picked up his little pet dog and carried him under his arm. The animal barked and whined with fear. Again Mr. Werner shook the handle of the door and nearly pushed it off its hinges; this time it swung open and they all rushed out into the open air.

Charles DeGraw, of the firm of Putnam & DeGraw, whose store is next door, hurried to box 12 and sent in an alarm. The whistle sounded one blast and then something caught and the rest of the alarm was not sounded. The bell in the headquarters of the fire department sounded all right and the apparatus came in a hurry. A carriage was left standing at Second street and Park avenue and there was a narrow escape from a collision between it and the chemical engine.

When the chemical engine reached the scene of the fire, it was under too much headway for the effective use of the stream from that engine. Two lines of regular hose were laid, one to the front entrance and one to the rear. The rear of the building was bursting into flames as the firemen reached there. The back door was broken down and the stream turned into the interior where the fire was raging. The skylight on the roof of the one story wing in the rear was opened and the last of the fire finally extinguished. The stream from the front entrance was turned into the building. It was nearly half an hour before the fire was practically extinguished.

The store was illuminated by Welsbach burners and the one hanging lamp. The smoke smothered the lights and extinguished them allowing the gas to escape. The room was soon filled gas and the fumes from the kerosene, which accounted for the

"I'M A GENUINE BUM," SAID ONE LEGGED PATTIE RYAN.

Pattie Hobbled in Town and Partook of Jersey Lightning so That he Wanted to Orate in Public—Law Took a Hand.

"What's your accupation?" asked City Judge De Meza to the one legged prisoner who hobbled up to the bar this morning charged with drunkeness.

"I'm a genuine bum," pompously replied the stranger. "I come from Milwaukee and my name's Pattie Ryan." The audience looked properly impressed at the statement.

"I never worked an hour in my life." he continued, "And I never will." And his audience believed him.

Pattie hobbled into town yesterday from some unknown quarter and visited the saloons of the city. The Jersey lightning took effect after he had partaken of liberal portions of it and he set sail down East Front street in a right royal frame of mind.

His imagination ran riot with his brain and calling to some of the passersby to halt, he began an oration. For the benefit of his auditors, he was giving Robert Emmet's last speech when the blue uniform of Patrolman McCue, with that officer inside, appeared around the corner. Pattie had just warmed up to his subject when the officer unceremoniously interrupted and put him in a cell in the rookery along with the crawling things.

Even a night in such a jail as Plainfield possesses did not hurt the spirits of Pattie for he was up bright and early this morning, chipper as ever.

The Judge heard the remarks of the stranger with disfavor and gave Friend Pattie just ten minutes to get out of town.

Only Lack a Horse.

The members of the West End Hose Company are now ready for business. All the necessary apparatus has been put in their new house, with the exception of a horse. The latter will be wanted very much, for the men will be unable to take the carriage to a fire without the aid of a horse.

WAS PENALITY TOO MUCH?

NEW POINTS RAISED AS A RESULT OF BEN HALL'S ARREST.

Prisoner's Counsel Argued That Judge De Meza Exceeded His Power—Judge McCormick Reserves Decision.

Benjamin Hall, a butler in the employ of Mrs. Theodore L. Currie, of 2 West Park street, Newark, was the cause of a long argument yesterday in the Common Pleas Court, Elizabeth, before Judge McCormick. Hall was sentenced April 26th by City Judge DeMeza to pay a fine of $100 or go to the county jail for 60 days, his offence being disorderly conduct on West Front street.

Hall had a day off from his employer and came to Plainfield to visit his wife, who lives here with her father, John Lee. The proceedings of the City Judge were reviewed on the petition of Hall by Judge McCormick under the Disorderly Conduct act. Lawyer T. M. Kelly appeared for the prisoner, while Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh appeared to defend Judge DeMeza's action. Hall's counsel claimed that Judge DeMeza exceeded his jurisdiction in imposing a greater penalty than section 6 of the Disorderly Conduct act specifies, which is thirty days in jail or $20 fine.

Corporation Counsel Marsh insisted that Hall had violated an ordinance of Plainfield, which prescribed for his offence the penalty imposed by the City Judge. Mr. Marsh raised as a second point that section 45 of the disorderly conduct act, which gives the Judge of the Court of Common Pleas power to review the proceedings of the committing Justice, was unconstitutional, as the title of the act did not fully specify the object of the act itself.

Counsel for the prisoner contended that Hall had simply been disorderly and had not violated any city ordinance. Numerous decisions were cited by counsel, among which was one lately rendered by Judge Fort, of the Essex Court of Common Pleas, in the case of Arthur Emmett, who was sentenced by a Montclair Justice of the Peace to pay a fine of $20 or serve forty days in jail. Judge Fort in this case reversed the decision of the Justice and set the prisoner free because the Justice imposed a greater penalty than was called for by the statute.

Judge McCormick reserved his decision until Friday. Justices of the Peace throughout Union County are much interested in the outcome of the case, it being the first time in the county that the act of a committing Magistrate was reviewed under the law of 1890.

BOYS TOUCHED THE MATCH.

West End Youngsters Responsible for the Cadmus Storehouse Fire.

William McGrath, Edward Linzer and Edward Honney, the three boys who were implicated in setting fire to the Cadmus store-house yesterday, were arraigned before Justice Nash in the afternoon. The Justice discharged them owing to their age. The boys admitted their guilt and the matter will be reported to Prosecutor Marsh. Just what disposition he will make of the case is not known, but it is not thought that they will be held. It is probable that they will be given a severe reprimand.

As will be seen above it is Edward Linzer and not George Linzer who was one of the three boys. The latter name was published yesterday by mistake.

Ran a Mile Before he Was Caught.

A horse owned by William Smalley, the Somerset street butcher, ran away on West Seventh street this morning and completely wrecked the wagon. The horse broke away from the wagon and ran nearly a mile before he was caught. When captured an examination showed that the horse had received several cuts about the legs. The driver was not injured. It will be several days before the horse can be driven again.

Smashed His Toe.

L M. Dunavan met with an accident while returning from the Cadmus fire, yesterday afternoon. He was just about to jump on the Alert hose wagon as it was passing along Second street near the headquarters, when he slipped and fell, part of his foot passed under the wheel of the wagon. His little toe was crushed and his foot badly bruised. He was taken to headquarteas where his wounds were dressed.

—A meeting of Iona Council, Degree of Pocohontas, was held last evening. Preparations were made for the presentation of the chief's regalia's at the first council fire in June. Arrangements for the trip to Carteret, this evening, were completed. The good and welfare committee had an enjoyable programme ready for the meeting which was greatly enjoyed.

CHARGES OF BRIBERY!

A STARTLING AFFIDAVIT IN THE PHELPS-HOWELL CASE.

Arthur Whitlock Made an Affidavit Saying That Miss Phelps Bribed Him to Perjure Himself—Now He Denies It.

Highly sensational and contradictory were some of the developments in the Phelps-Howell case, in the taking of testimony before Supreme Cour Commissioner Herbert W. Knight, at Elizabeth, yesterday. The taking of testimony was concluded last night. The sensation was sprung by the defendant's counsel when they offered in evidence the following affidavit made and sworn to by Arthur Whitlock before Justice Nash the first week in April:

Ques.—Do you know Adella C. Phelps?
Ans.—Yes.
Was you a witness in the case of Mr. Howell and Miss Phelps?
Yes, sir.
Did you testify in that case?
Yes.
Did you have anything promised you for it?
Yes, sir.
What?
She said she would give me a wheel.
Did Miss Phelps or anybody else tell yo what to say?
Yes, sir.
Who told you?
Only Miss Phelps.
Did she tell you to tell the truth?
She told me to tell to the Judge that a box dropped out of the wagon, and that he, the driver, was looking back at it.
Is that what you told him?
Yes, sir.
Was that the truth?
No, sir.
Did you see a box drop out of the wagon?
No, sir
Why did you tell that?
Because she promised me a wheel and some money for my mother.
Did you see any box drop out of the wagon?
No, sir.
Do you know whether there was a box dropped out?
No, sir there wasn't any.
Did you see the accident at all?
Yes, sir.
Did you see the driver at the time of the acciden?
Yes, he was in the right position and looking ahead.
Would you have sworn that he was to blame and the box dropped out if she had not promised you the bicycle?
No, sir.
Then you did it to get the bicycle?
Yes.
Has anyone promised you anything for telling me this story?
No, sir.
Have you told any other person about not telling the truth on the trial at Elizabeth.
Yes, William Sweeney.
Did Miss Phelps pay for you to go to Sheepshead Bay?
Yes, sir.
How long did you stay there?
I guess I was there for a month.
Who paid your expenses?
My sister and brother. Miss Phelps only paid my fare there and back.
Did Miss Phelps bring you home?
Yes, sir, she went over and got me.
Where did you go when you came back?
I stayed at Miss Phelps house for about three days before the case and afterwards until my mother came home from nursing.
Was Miss Phelps learning you what to say on the trial while you were there?
Yes, sir.
Can you tell me anything else she told you to say?
She told me to say Mr Howell's man was looking back at the box when he run into her.
Did she run into the horse or did the horse run into her wheel?
She ran into the side of the horse between the front and rear legs.
Then she fell over, did she?
Yes, she fell and the wagon did not run over her.
When did she tell you first to state that a box fell out?
A long time after the accident, nearly a month.
Did it worry you at nights after the trial because you swore as Miss Phelps asked you to?
Yes, sir.
Why did you come to make this statement?
Well, because young Sweeney asked me to tell the truth I refused at first and then I agreed to come.
Did Sweeney tell you that a clear conscience was better than lots of money or a wheel?
Yes, sir.
Did he say if I were you I would tell the truth?
Yes, sir.
Do you think it is?
Yes, sir.
Do you know if Miss Phelps was riding slow for a bicycle rider?
She was going fast for a bicycle.
Did you talk to Mr. Mallison about the case or did you show him and Sweeney where the horse was?
I showed him and young Sweeney where the horse was.
While you and Sweeny were drinking soda did not Mr. Mallison hear what you said?
I don't know, sir.

Young Whitlock was Miss Phelps' most important witness on the trial.

After the affidavit had been read, Whitlock was called to the stand by Miss Phelp's lawyer and admitted that he had made the affidavit, but that it was untrue and that he make it to get rid of William Sweeny, and that also he was frightened because someone told him he was going to be arrested. On the cross-examination he said that he made the affidavit in order to get a glass of soda water from Sweeny. He also swore that what he had testified to on the witness stand at the time of the trial was true.

Miss Phelps was also called and she denied in toto that she had ever made any promise to Whitlock to buy him a wheel if he would testify as she wanted him to or that she told him what to say.

CUBAN WAR REPORTS

Senator Foraker's Announcement Creates a Decided Stir.

ONE SAID TO BE FROM CONSUL LEE.

Extracts From It Deny That the Island Is In a State of Peace and Says That the Insurgents Are Still Under Arms.

Washington, May 20.—The secret archives of the state department, which have held the consular reports on the Cuban war from the public, have been partially disclosed by Senator Foraker.

During the past week the debate in the senate has been pregnant with intimations and innuendos of reports from United States officials in Cuba held at the state department which, if published, would disclose a condition on Cuban soil which would influence public opinion in a decided manner.

The facts therefore which Senator Foraker announced without stating from whom they came created a decided stir. Especially startling was the letter from Secretary Olney, in which this country offered mediation to Spain and the refusal of that country to accept the proffered aid.

While one of the consular reports was read without the name of the author being disclosed, it is stated to be a communication from Consul General Lee, which fully sets forth his idea of the condition that exists in Cuba. The extract was quoted as follows, no date being given:

"I cannot understand the truth of the claim that all the provinces of the island are pacified except that of Santiago de Cuba, because there are more insurgents under arms at this time than at the period I first reached the island, some ten months ago, and I do not think it a fair inference to draw from existing conditions that the war is approaching a termination, because, in pursuance of an established policy, the insurgents avoid as far as possible all serious engagements.

"The impossibility of expelling the Spanish troops from this island by force of arms is well known to them, and they do not propose to risk the lives of their men and the success of their cause upon one or more pitched battles. I conclude, therefore, that the war will drag its weary length along so long as the insurgents can dig sustenance from the ground on the one side or money be obtained by the other, with the continued result of untold human suffering, loss of human life, the murder of innocent men, women and children by both sides and the frightful havoc which disease makes in the ranks of the soldiers, particularly among the unacclimated Spaniards. The poverty and distress of the people are daily increasing and the loss of property of all sorts daily becoming more enormous. No one can fully appreciate the situation without being here in person. The number of poor, distressed, starving women, children and old men of all races have greatly increased in this city within the past few weeks, while at other points on the island the suffering has been proportionately greater."

Olney's Suggestion of Intervention.

The letter from Secretary Olney to Spanish Minister De Lome, under date of April 4, 1896, is the one in which intervention is suggested. In opening, Mr. Olney said:

"It might well be deemed a dereliction of duty to the government of the United States as well as a censurable want of candor to Spain if I were longer to defer official expression as well of the anxiety with which the president regards the existing situation in Cuba as of his earnest desire for the prompt and permanent pacification of that island. Any plan giving reasonable assurance of that result and not inconsistent with the just rights and reasonable demands of all concerned would be earnestly promoted by him by all means which the constitution and laws of this country place at his disposal.

"It is now some nine or ten months since the nature and prospects of the insurrection were first discussed between us. In explanation of its rapid and up to that time quite unopposed growth and progress you called attention to the rainy season which from May or June until November renders regular military operations impracticable. Spain was pouring such numbers of troops into Cuba that your theory and opinion that, when they could be used in an active campaign, the insurrection would be almost instantly suppressed seemed reasonable and probable. In this particular you believed and sincerely believed that the present insurrection would offer a most marked contrast to that which began in 1868 and which, being feebly encountered with comparatively small forces, prolonged its life for upward of ten years.

"It is impossible to deny that the expectations thus entertained by you in the summer and fall of 1895 and shared not merely by all Spaniards, but by most disinterested observers as well, have been completely disappointed. The insurgents seem today to command a larger part of the island than ever before. Their men under arms, estimated a year ago at from 10,000 to 20,000, are now conceded to be at least two or three times as many. Meanwhile their discipline has been improved, and their supply of modern weapons and equipment has been greatly enlarged, while the mere fact that they have held out to this time has given them confidence in their own eyes and prestige with the world at large. In short, it can hardly be questioned that the insurrection instead of being quelled is today more formidable than ever and enters upon the second year of its existence with decidedly improved prospects of successful results. Whether a condition of things entitling the insurgents to recognition as belligerents has yet been brought about may, for the purpose of the present communication, be regarded as immaterial."

Beheaded by an Elevator.

Boston, May 20.—Adelaide Cogswell, 18 years of age, residing in Somerville, had her head torn off by an elevator at 96 South street. It is thought that the young lady was looking up the elevator well when the guard doors closed on her and she could not extricate herself before the elevator dropped on her head, tearing it off. Her father, who is the engineer in the building, assisted in cutting the floor of the elevator away before the body could be released.

ODD MENTAL FREAK.

A Patient Who Is Unable to Tell His Name or Write It.

EVIDENTLY KNOWS HOW, BUT CANNOT.

When Examined, a Hole Was Found In His Head, Which Is the Probable Cause For His Present Condition.

New York, May 20.—An interesting case for physicians is at present at Bellevue hospital in the person of a patient who entered the institution over two weeks ago. When asked his name he did not answer, but attempted to write it. He wrote these letters, Morr, and could proceed no further.

For 15 days the man has been a patient in Bellevue, and it has been impossible to learn his name or where he came from, though every known means of ascertaining has been tried.

While in the full possession of all his other senses and suffering from no recent injury he is totally unable to speak or write. He cannot be called an invalid, as his physical condition is normal in every respect. As a matter of fact, he is a big, powerful man and appears to be in the enjoyment of robust health. He walks about Ward 19, where he is a patient of Dr. Carolan, and fully understands every word said to him. He also reads the papers with interest, but still he remains an "unknown man," for he has not the power to tell or write his name.

When seen in the hospital, he had not yet risen from his bed, but he was cheerfully scanning the morning newspapers. He appears to be fully 6 feet tall and is broad and weighs probably 220 pounds. He is of fair complexion, with light hair, just tinged with gray, and a well kept blonde mustache. His hands are rough, and his robust and rugged appearance convey the idea that he has been a hard working man. His manners, however, are refined, and his intelligence is evidently of a high order.

When he entered the hospital, he was well dressed and particularly cleanly. He had nothing whatever in his clothes, however, which could lead to his identity, and he had no money in his possession.

Suspected of Alcoholism.

This curiously afflicted man walked into Bellevue hospital on May 4 and by signs tried to convey the idea that he wanted treatment. His manner and his inability to speak intelligently suggested that he was suffering from alcoholism, and he was assigned to the inebriates' ward.

While there it was discovered that the man had an indentation or depression nearly an inch deep and about the same length at the top of his skull at the right side. The great gaping hole has the appearance of an old wound, probably caused by a blow from a sharp instrument, which had penetrated the skull. The hitherto supposed alcoholic patient was then transferred to ward 19, and Dr. Carolan diagnosed the case as one of aphasia, probably the result of apoplexy following an injury to the brain.

"The depression in the man's skull," said Dr. Carolan, "is immediately over the brain center controlling the faculties of speech and writing.

"There is no affection of the larynx or vocal tubes to render speech impossible, and there is no injury to the nerves or muscles to prevent the man writing, but the brain power or the will power to effect these acts is gone. There is just sufficient of this left to produce the desire to speak and write, and the man frequently tries, but never progresses beyond the nerve inception."

That the man's strange condition is due to the injury to his head, followed by a stroke of apoplexy, the doctors are all agreed, and they regard the case as one of the most perfect and curious instances of aphasia that has ever come to their notice.

Interesting Case Decided.

Portland, Me., May 20.—The jury brought in a verdict of not guilty in all of the 30 indictment counts brought by the superior court grand jury this term against John L. Best and his foreman, William Gunn, for holding diseased meat for sale. This is the case which grew out of the killing of Alonzo Libby's herd of 37 cattle afflicted with tuberculosis at the slaughter house of the respondent at Scarboro last January. After the verdict was received in these cases County Attorney Libby entered a record of no suit in the indictment charging the respondents with selling diseased meat.

Farmer Hangs Himself.

Herkimer, N. Y., May 20.—The body of Andrew Johnson, 30 years old, who resided near Salisbury, Herkimer county, was found hanging from a limb of a tree in the woods near his home. Johnson left his home ostensibly for the purpose of getting a horse from the pasture. He hanged himself with a halter. He leaves a wife and three children. No cause is known for the deed.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.

(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and, instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

THE SENATE'S SESSION.

The Cuban Question Continues the Theme of Spirited Debate.

Washington, May 20.—Another stirring debate on Cuba has occurred in the senate. It was of the give and take order, with sharp parliamentary fencing. The main speeches of the day were made by Senators Foraker of Ohio, Cannon of Utah, Lindsay of Kentucky and Hoar of Massachusetts.

It was the occasion of the first speech of any length made by Mr. Foraker since he entered the senate, and in addition to this the Ohio senator is one of the Cuban subcommittee of the committee on foreign relations. He spoke in favor of a reference of the resolution to the committee, but on the general question declared his purpose of supporting the resolution recognizing Cuban belligerency when it should be reported by the committee.

Mr. Cannon was bitter in his denunciation of Spanish atrocity, characterizing the captain general of Cuba as "that mad dog Weyler."

Mr Lindsay declared if the information furnished by United States consuls was so shocking as to subject them to danger of assassination if their names were disclosed, it was time to send warships to Cuba and to terminate all diplomatic relations with that country.

It was developed in the course of a colloquy between Senators Foraker, Morgan and Vest that the state department had withheld the names of United States consuls reporting on the serious condition of affairs in Cuba because it might lead to their massacre. Mr. Vest declared that this presented the most serious phase of the subject, as it was time to protect our officials with warships if their personal safety was threatened for making reports to their government.

A vote was not reached on the Morran resolution.

MESSENGER MISSING.

He Had With Him About $30,000 In Cash and Certificate.

WAS SENT TO THE CLEARING HOUSE.

Albert M. King Left the Boylston Bank For the Clearing House, Settled Balances With Other Institutions, and Then Mysteriously Disappeared.

Boston, May 20.—Albert M. King, the 19-year-old messenger of the Boylston National bank, at the corner of Washington and Essex streets, is missing, together with about $20,000 in cash and a $10,000 United States certificate; not negotiable except between banks. King started for the clearing house at 10:15 o'clock yesterday morning to settle the balance existing there against the bank, and on the way, according to instructions, transacted other business involving something like $45,000. As he did not return to the bank by 1 o'clock, the officials grew anxious and made a search for the messenger, besides invoking the aid of the police, but up to the present hour they have been unable to ascertain his whereabouts.

Deputy Superintendent Burrill and Chief Inspector Watts at once sent telegrams to New York, Montreal and all the large cities in New England, giving a description of King and asking the police to look out for him.

King has been employed at the Boylston bank about two years, coming highly recommended, and his honesty was never questioned. He has carried as much as $100,000 of the bank's money at a time on previous occasions and has never lost a dollar. He lived with his father, who is employed by the South End National bank, at 63 Beale street, Wollaston.

Made a Collection of $20,000.

When he left the bank for the clearing house, the balance against the bank was $15,590.71. To pay this he was given an order on the Union National bank, on State street, for $25,000, the balance to be returned to the Boylston bank. Besides this, King was instructed to go to the Freeman's National bank, at 64 Summer street, and collect $20,000, which he was to carry to the National Bank of Commerce, in the Sears building, at the corner of Court and Washington streets, and pay in there.

A part of his directions King carried out faithfully. All business at the clearing house is ordinarily finished by noon, and the messenger who does not arrive there by 12:30 is apt to arouse suspicion.

At the Boylston bank, Cashier D. Waterman waited until 1 o'clock before he decided that King should be looked up.

Then he called up the National Bank of Commerce and in reply to his query was informed that the messenger had not been there. This was sufficient to alarm Mr. Waterman, and he immediately notified Chief Inspector Watts of King's disappearance.

Officers of the bank squad were immediately detailed on the case and at once started in search of the missing man.

They soon learned that King had appeared at the Freeman's bank and had drawn the $20,000 which he was to pay at the National Bank of Commerce. Then, about half an hour later, he called at the Union bank, where he was given $25,000. Of this he was paid $15,000 in cash, while a United States certificate for $10,000 made up the balance. It was somewhere about 11:30, as near as the officers can ascertain, that King reached the clearing house.

Settled With the Clearing House.

He paid over the $15,000 in cash which he had received from the Union bank, and in order to balance the account he had to take $590.71 from the $20,000 which he should have paid to the National Bank of Commerce. Here all trace of the messenger was lost.

As nearly as can be figured, King had in his pocket when he left the clearing house the $20,000, minus the $590.71 which he paid to the clearing house, and the $10,000 certificate.

King, had he so chosen, might have gone to any bank where he was known and as a matter of accommodation to the Boylston bank could have obtained the cash for the certificate. So far as known, this is all the money that King had with him when he disappeared.

Although the police have been actively working on the case, nothing has yet been learned of the missing messenger's whereabouts.

In the telegrams sent broadcast by the police King is described as 19 years old, 5 feet 8 inches tall, weight 145 pounds, thin faced, light complexion, with light hair. He was dressed in a brown suit of clothes and wore a brown derby hat.

President Charles Torrey of the Boylston bank at once telephoned King's father, who sent to the bank and freely gave all the aid he could in locating his son.

THE INDUSTRIAL HOME.

There is considerable speculation in circles interested in the care of those not well off in the world's goods as to just what effect the operation of the Industrial Home, which is to be opened about June 1st, will have on the city's dependent people of today. There is but little doubt but what there will be a material decrease in the number of paupers, as many who now receive support, and are permitted to live and enjoy such privileges as they see fit to take in their own abodes, will decline to enter the Industrial Home and submit to the rigid rules and regulations to be enforced there. While under the present system of supporting the poor Superintendent Marx is obliged to assist this class of people, yet it will probably prove true that a good many of them will seek for themselves as soon as the time comes for them to enter the Home, and thus the city will be the gainer. Some will reason, then, that if it is possible for these people to live without the city's aid after the Home is established, it certainly was before; and therefore Superintendent Marx will come under criticism. But it will be undeserved. If such a state of affairs exists, it is beyond the power of the Superintendent to remedy them. None are now assisted unless their condition and circumstances really warrant it from a well guaged philanthrophic view, as well as a judicious interest for the public good. Still, when one's personal movements are to be determined by set rules in which the effected persons have no voice, there is a supreme incentive to activity to escape their enforcement, and that is what will take place when the Home is ready for occupancy and the dependent ordered to go there to receive help. There are at present about forty persons being helped by the city, and out of these it is figured that only about a dozen will be eligible to entrance, after the above element has declined to submit to the new order of things.

THE SPECIAL SESSION.

In a letter to the Tribune, Senator Voorhees says that he thinks that the Legislature, at its special session to be convened next Tuesday, should take up absolutety nothing in the way of Legislation. However, the Senator is particularly interested in the fate of the Judiciary amendment and he feels that some favorable action might be taken in this direction with entire propriety. He is indisposed, nevertheless, to take the initiative in the bringing up the matter though he says the amendment is distinct from Legislation. The Senator says that he is unalterably opposed to biennial sessions of the Legislature, because he believes that the only safeguard for the public is the frequency of the elections.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore equires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Richards, assisted by Rev. K. P. Ketcham, of Long Island. Both ministers spoke in the highest terms regarding the life of Mr. Ludlum, who had lived such an exemplary Christian life. Dr. Ketcham dwelt more at length on the early life of the departed.

FISTICUFFS AT A FIRE.

A Fireman and an Officer Indulge in Physical Argument.

There was trouble of another kind at the Werner fire last evening, which finally ended in several blows being passed between L. M. Dunavan, one of the firemen, and John L. Blackford, State detective. It is understood that Dunavan was hurrying to the scene of the fire and passed Blackford. Dunavan thought that Blackford was blocking the way with his wheel and told him so. It is alleged that Blackford used improper language and that Dunavan struck him. Other blows followed and Blackford was knocked down.

She was infatuated with the latter and nothing would induce her to leave him. It is said that she had a very comfortable home and was well taken care of by her husband. One child and a husband survive her.

One of the newsiest dailies published in this State, outside of the larger cities, is The Plainfield Press, which celebrated its tenth anniversary May 10th, when it issued a miniature copy of a recent edition, inclosed in a neat cover. It has grown to an eight-page sheet, and prints each day more original matter than some newspapers printed in cities of a much larger population. We extend congratulations, and wish Brother Force a continuance of prosperity.—Somerset Messenger.

After going to that city, he drove his single horse to Washingtonville and then to Plainfield and started for home, late in the afternoon. Master Oscar Kratzel was six years old yesterday, and a bright little fellow he is. To commemorate the day a party was held at the residence of his parents on North avenue last evening, to which a few of his young friends were invited. The playing of games and other childish amusements helped pass a pleasant evening away. Refreshments were also served.

A special meeting of the Borough Council, having been called by Mayor Brakeley, was held Tuesday evening in the Town Hall. Fanwood Council, No. 744, R. A., of Scotch Plains, held an entertainment and reception in Excelsior Hall last Tuesday evening. The programme rendered was as follows: Overture, Lambert's orchestra; short address of welcome by Regent Noble, of the Council; Mr. Noble was followed by Prof. Patti, of New York, who entertained with impersonations and comic songs; Harry Cook, pianist, late of Sousa's Band, was next on the programme. Mr. Cook demonstrated that piano playing was his business, his impersonation of a street piano being very realistic. Last but not least was Henry Schenck, billed as Prof. Schenck, in fancy jig and wing dancing. Henry was encored time and time again. After the entertainment the hall was soon cleared for dancing and the younger members were tripping the light fantastic toe to the strains of Lambert's orchestra. These receptions of Fanwood Council are looked forward to by the young society people, and the Council found this was no exception. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Robison, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Noble, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hand, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Buckley; Misses. Johnson, Squire, Bliss, Adams, Randolph, Hosinger, the Misses Frentz; Messrs. THE AMERICAN QUEEN COMPETITION!

A Columbia FREE!!!

A lady's Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, will be given to the winner in THE AMERICAN QUEEN competition, which will be open to all the subscribers to THE AMERICAN QUEEN until June 30, 1897.

The Columbia, the standard bicycle of the world, has been selected for this competition, because the publishers of THE AMERICAN QUEEN are convinced that it is the best and that the woman who wins it would have it in preference to any other make.

The Columbia is now on exhibition at our store and will remain on exhibition until June 30th, when the competition will close and the Columbia will be awarded to the fortunate winner.

The contest which we have just inaugurated, by or through which some subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN is going to win a fine, high-grade $100 Columbia Bicycle, is already well under way. The contest will remain open until June 30, 1897. The conditions and plan of this contest are simply these: We purpose presenting a Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, to the lady subscriber who furnishes the best menu, for one week, for a family of five, the cost of such menu not to exceed $10 for the week. The merits of the menus submitted will be passed upon by the Editor of THE AMERICAN QUEEN, Miss Mary L. Bisland, and the person furnishing the best menu, in Miss Bisland's judgment, will be presented with the bicycle.

The menu submitted should be enclosed in one envelope and the name of the sender in a separate one, the two being handed in or sent in together, addressed to us. The envelopes containing the menus will then be numbered and sent to Miss Bisland and the envelopes containing the names reserved by us, and when Miss Bisland makes her choice of the menus she will inform us of the number of the winner and we will then announce the result in local newspapers and THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The only requirement necessary to admit you to this contest is that you be a subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The splendid wheel which will go to the winner is on exhibition in the store and may be seen at any time.

We want everybody to feel free to go into this contest and we hope that hundreds of our customers will fix their minds on good things to eat and mould them into an acceptable menu for the week, and at the same time keep the cost down to $10.

THE COMPETITION.—Our aim in offering this competition is to have every lady we can reach with this announcement become a reader of THE AMERICAN QUEEN. THE QUEEN is published at $1 a year, but to give all our friends a chance to get this splendidly useful home publication for the ensuing year and at the same time have a chance to become the proud possessor of the standard cycle, we shall until the 30th day of June receive subscriptions (only one, however, will be taken from each family) for the nominal fee of 25 Cents a year. Come to the store at once, register your name, receive your receipt for THE QUEEN for one year and try to win the Columbia.

Regular meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union, held on Thursday, May 6th, at 2:30 p. m. All members of the Board were present. The minutes of the previous meeting, reading of bills being omitted, were on motion approved as read.

COMMUNICATIONS, PETITIONS, ETC.

From J. T MacMurray, City Clerk, Plainfield, as follows:

Whereas, The Common Council of this city has duly passed an ordinance for the laying out and opening of Watchung avenue, from East Front street to Green brook, and the assessments for benefits and damages have been duly confirmed,

Resolved, That notice of such action be given to the Plainfield members of the Union County Board of Freeholders, and that they be requested to take the necessary steps, in conjunction with the Board of Freeholders of Somerset county, for the construction of a proper bridge across Green brook, connecting said extension of Watchung avenue with the corresponding street in the borough of North Plainfield.

J. T. MacMurray,
City Clerk.

Adopted April 26, 1897.

On motion of Freeholder Roll received and place on file.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

By the County Road Committee:

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union county:

Your committee on county roads respectfully report that they have examined that portion of St. George's avenue, lying in the city of Rahway, beginning at what is known as Lambert's Hotel, and running to the Middlesex county line. Your committee report favorably on the advisability of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union county adopting said portion of St. George's avenue as a county road, thereby making a continuous county road from the city of Elizabeth to Middlesex county line, and your committee also report that in their opinion it would be advisable for the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union county to Telford and macadam such portion of aforesaid St. George's avenue as they deem best with trap rock. Signed, J. Martin Roll, James C. Ogden, George W. Littell, W. H. Swain, Henry Krouse, Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Farrell the report was received and adopted without dissent.

Resolved, That the county collector be authorized to pay John Keron & Son three hundred and twenty dollars and sixty cents, amount of three bills, when approved by the county prosecutor

PAINLESS

DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

will look a hundred times better, last many years longer, and fetch a higher price in case you wish to sell if you keep them well and handsomely painted. Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

FIRE IN JERSEY CITY.

Many Families Rendered Homeless by a Destructive Conflagration.

Jersey City, May 20.—Eight houses were burned to the ground, nine others were badly gutted, and 46 families were rendered homeless by fire yesterday in First street, near Newark avenue.

The following houses were totally destroyed: 318 and 320 First street, running through to Payne; four-story brick tenement, 322 First street, owned by J. W. Smith; the three-story frame tenement, 315, 317 and 319 First street, owned by J. W. Kennedy, James Fitzgerald and Patrick O'Harra respectively.

The following houses were partially destroyed: 311 First street, owned by J. W. Sheridan; 309, owned by Judge Brush; 307, owned by George Rapfogle, whose insurance, which he had kept up for 25 years, ran out yesterday; 308, 310 and 312, owned by John Scott; from 314 to 318 First street, owned by the New York Improvement company.

For four hours the flames kept spreading in every direction, and during that time it looked as if half a dozen blocks of buildings would go. Then the wind died out, and after half an hour's additional hard work on the part of the firemen the blaze was under control.

No lives were lost, but many persons had narrow escapes from being burned to death, and a number of heroic rescues were made. The loss, it is estimated, will foot up to at least $150,000.

Mayor Hoos issued a proclamation calling for a public meeting at the city hall for the purpose of taking steps to provide for the families who were made homeless by the fire.

The families lost everything they owned, and a majority of them are without a cent. Others have been sheltered by neighbors.

German Emigration Bill.

Berlin, May 20.—The emigration bill passed by the reichstag provides that the special permission of the imperial chancellor, with the assent of the bundesrath, is required for the transport of German emigrants, and this can only be obtained by German subjects or German companies having business in German territory. The Radicals opposed the bill on the ground that the new regulations would be used to direct emigration to South America, where it is more under the influence of the German authorities, and also on the ground that the new regulations may be used to hamper emigration to the United States, where the emigrants escape official German influence.

Important Bills Signed.

Albany, May 20.—Governor Black has signed two important bills. One provides that the maximum punishment for arson shall be 25 years instead of 15 for an offense in the second degree and 15 years instead of 7 if in the third degree. The second provides that a person who willfully, by loosening, removing or displacing a rail or by any other interference wrecks, destroys or so injures any car tender, locomotive or railway train or part thereof while moving upon any railway in this state, whether operated by steam, electricity or other motive power, as to thereby cause the death of a human being, is guilty of murder in the first degree and punishable accordingly.

Injured by an Explosion.

Jamestown, N. Y., May 20.—At Chandlers Valley a 100 quart torpedo of nitroglycerin was shot in a 900 foot well that had been drilled for oil. After the shot a dozen persons rushed into the derrick. One man struck a match to determine whether natural gas was issuing from the well. The consequent explosion blew out the sides of the derrick, seriously and possibly fatally burning William Dalton, postmaster of Sugar Grove. Dr. Kelley, I. W. King, a Mr. Ellis and his son of Chandlers Valley were among those who received serious burns. The well failed to flow oil in answer to the shot.

Strikers' Large Meeting.

New York May 20.—The mass meeting of garment makers held in Walhalla hall last night was so largely attended that all could not get inside, and most of the available space in the street near the building was taken up by strikers, who discussed the situation. Nothing of special importance occurred at the meeting. Mayer Schoenfeld, the leader in the strike, said there was nothing new to report and that no overtures had been received from the manufacturers or contractors in response to their demands.

Iron Foundry Ablaze.

Providence, May 20.—Fire, which broke out in the washroom of the Miller iron foundry in Olneyville, caused a loss of between $12,000 and $15,000. The blaze spread so quickly that the entire roof was on fire when the department arrived. The sparks dropped upon the adjoining houses, and within a few minutes these buildings caught but the damage to them was slight. The cause of the fire is unknown. The foundry was partly covered by insurance.

Coal Barge Hits Monitor.

Philadelphia, May 20.—The coal barge Henry Clay, which arrived here in ballast from Boston, collided with the monitor Terror in the Delaware river off Poplar street. A large hole was stove in the side of the barge, and James Collins, one of the crew, was thrown into the hold by the force of the collision. He fractured an arm and sustained internal injuries that will probably prove fatal. The monitor was not damaged.

Bank Excitement Subsiding.

South Framingham, Mass., May 20.—The run which began on the South Framingham Savings bank last Monday has moderated very much. There was very little excitement, and matters seem to be assuming their usual condition.

Large Lumber Receipts.

Tonawanda, N. Y., May 20.—The receipts of lumber at this port are enormous. Records are being broken daily. Ten million feet a day was looked upon as very large, but yesterday 30 barges arrived, bringing 15,000,000 feet. Another large fleet is now due.

Murder Trial Day Set.

Watertown, N. Y., May 20.—Before Judge Wright, Edward G. Haynes pleaded not guilty to the two charges of murder in the Sackets Harbor tragedy, and his trial was set down for Sheik ul Islam Tells the Sultan That Allah Wants Thessaly Reunited to Turkey—The Turks Violate the Truce.

Constantinople, May 20.—The sultan has telegraphed his congratulations to Edhem Pasha and the Turkish troops and asked him for a list of those who distinguished themselves in the advance to Domokos in order that he may reward them.

Edhem Pasha wires that the Turkish camp has been transferred to Domokos, where he has hoisted the Ottoman flag.

Ahmed Pasha telegraphs that after the defeat at Prevesa the Greeks left 200 corpses on the field, although they took many away by sea to Athens.

The Austrian mail steamer Minerva, bound from Constantinople for Volo, has been captured by a Greek vessel and towed to Oroi, on the north shore of Chaocis. The following official statement has been published. After briefly reciting the Turkish side of the war up to the battle of Domokos, it says:

"The czar sent the sultan a special telegram expressing his sincere sentiments, confirming the pacific views of the powers and appreciating the success of the imperial troops.

"The capture of Domokos, forming the natural limit of the defensive operations and the government being desirous of giving fresh proof of its pacific intentions, the cabinet decided, and its decision was confirmed by an irade, to cease hostilities upon conditions to be arranged by the respective commanders.

"The conditions of peace following the armistice will assure the future rights and dignity of the imperial government, the frontiers of Turkey and the preservation of general peace."

Turks Violate Armistice.

London, May 20.—The latest reports from Athens show that skirmishes took place in many places. The Turkish commanders in Thessaly, pending definite orders from Edhem Pasha, will only accept an armistice of 24 hours. There is little doubt, however, that a fortnight's armistice will be arranged.

It is difficult to ascertain exactly what occurred after the retreat from Domokos. Apparently the Turks continued to advance, and either in ignorance or willfully ignoring the armistice negotiations attacked the Greek rear guard. After several combats, lasting three or four hours, the Greeks were compelled, about 7 in the morning, to retire toward Lamia.

The news of the fighting caused a general flight from Lamia during the night. The telegraph officials fled with the rest, and this cutting of communications led to the wildest rumors at Athens until the clerks could be induced to return and communication with Lamia was restored.

The Greeks' Latest Positions.

Athens, May 20.—A dispatch from Lamia says that the bulk of the Greek army now occupies Phurka, and the crown prince is at Taratza, near Lamia.

A telegram received here announces the arrival of General Smolenski at Lamia, where his presence exerts a calming influence upon the population.

M. Ralli, on behalf of the government, has notified the crown prince of the conditions of the armistice concluded at Arta, upon the basis of a mutual occupation of the antebellum positions, adding:

"Impart these conditions to the commanders of the Turkish forces, declare that from this moment you suspend hostilities and will only resume them in the event of an attack. Disclaim all responsibility for any violation of the armistice and invite the Turkish commanders to suspend all hostilities."

Allah Wants Thessaly.

London, May 20.—According to a dispatch to The Daily Mail from Vienna, The Tageblatt says:

"The sultan has consulted the sheik ul Islam, who has declared it to be the will of Allah that Thessaly should be reunited to Turkey. Should he act upon this religious prompting, it may be extremely difficult for the powers to prevent his purpose from being carried out."

Garibaldians Gave Their Lives For Greece.

London, May 20.—A dispatch to The Daily Mail from Rome says that Ricciotti Garibaldi telegraphs that 60 Garibaldians were wounded and 10 killed at Domokos.

Guilty of Attempted Bribery.

Buffalo, May 20.—Ex-Superintendent of Streets Thomas F. Maloney was found guilty by a jury of attempting to bribe Superintendent of Police Bull. Some weeks ago Maloney publicly announced that he had given Superintendent Bull $500 to allow gambling in a resort on West Eagle street. Bull, when told of the story, demanded a retraction from Maloney, which was not forthcoming. Mr. Bull then stated that Maloney had attempted to bribe him. Maloney was suspended and put on trial. He will be sentenced.

National Guard Commission.

Albany, May 20.—Adjutant General Tillinghast has issued a commission to James E. Schuyler as captain in the Seventh regiment; also to Clifford G. Scofield as first lieutenant in the Twenty-third regiment. A full discharge has also been granted to William Holden Atkinson as first lieutenant in the Forty-seventh regiment.

Inspecting the Vanderbilt Roads.

Buffalo, May 20.—Chauncey M. Depew, president of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad company, accompanied by William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and several other railway officials, has arrived here. The party is making the annual trip of inspection over the Vanderbilt roads.

Sentence Confirmed.

Omaha, May 20.—The supreme court of Nebraska has confirmed the decision of the district court which sentenced Henry Boln, the defaulting city treasurer of Omaha, to 19 years in the peni-

William L. McClure, of Crescent avenue, has a new wheel, an Andruss.

William McCutchen has entered for the races to be held on the Crescent Oval Decoration Day.

O. M. Dunham, of West Front street, has purchased a Columbia bicycle of the Eldridge Cycle Company.

Thomas Cuming is doing some hard riding at present and he intends to ride Decoration Day on the Crescent Oval.

There is no use in putting off joining the L. A. W. until a later date. This is just the season to belong to that organization. Application blanks may be obtained at this office.

Frank Fulton and F. O. Bristol, assistant secretary of the Plainfield Y. M. C. A., went on a wheel trip to Princeton, yesterday, returning in the evening after a very pleasant day.

The Y. M. C. A. Cycling League of Northern New Jersey will hold another run, this evening. The destination will be Passaic. The party of riders from the Plainfield association will start from the building at 6 o'clock prompt under the command of Captain T. A. Cuming. The ride will be a delightful one and there will be no scorching but the riders will keep up a steady pace.

Local cyclists should not forget the race-meet of the Crescent Wheelmen when planning for their Decoration Day outing. The races will not begin until 3 o'clock so as to give all ample time to return from the Irvington-Milburn race and get their dinner. There are a number of meets scheduled for Decoration Day but the Crescent Wheelmen promise to offer greater inducements in the way of good racing than all the rest. The Crescents deserve hearty support from the people of Plainfield as well as from the visiting cyclists and there should be a large attendance of local enthusiasts at the races.

There are several bicycle events scheduled for the games of the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association at the grounds of the New Jersey Athletic Club, Saturday afternoon, and the Plainfield High School will be represented in them. Harry Cuming and Lindley M. Hillman will both start in the events. The track is a flat one without banking at the corners. Hillman has trained there for some time and is an expert in turning the flat corners which will be of great advantage to him in the races. Cuming has never been on the track but once and is utterly unacquainted with it. It he gets the knack of getting around the corners safely he is likely to repeat his performance of last Saturday when he won three second prizes.

AROUND THE BASES.

The Roselle nine will play at Bound Brook, Saturday afternoon, against the Bound Brook Athletic Club.

The baseball team of Reading Academy, has been challenged to play a game with the first team of Leal's School, on June 5th.

An effort is being made to arrange a game between the second teams of Leal's School, of this city, and Pingry's School, of Elizabeth.

A game of base ball was played on the Washington avenue grounds yesterday between the Leal Juniors and St. Mary's Cadets. The latter won.

The Somersets, Somerville's crack nine, defeated the Cranford team on the grounds of the latter team, last Saturday afternoon, by a score of 2 to 1.

Manager Albert Stevenson, of the first team of Leal's School, announces a game for Thursday afternoon, May 20th, with the nine from St. Paul's School, of Garden City, L. I.

A game of baseball will be played on the Washington avenue grounds Decoration Day morning, between teams representing the stores of S. Scheur & Sons and Woodhull & Martin.

There will be a nine on the diamond, this summer, representing the Plainfield Y. M. C. A., despite the reports to the contrary. It is understood that the team will play on Martine field out Park avenue, near Martine avenue.

The nine of the Bound Brook Athletic Club met with defeat at Flemington, Saturday afternoon, by a score of 9 to 4. Up to the seventh inning, the Bound Brooks were ahead but their catcher, Newhouse, injured his hand and the pitcher was compelled to slacken his speed. Flemington made seven runs in that one inning.

An exciting game of baseball was played Saturday morning between the first and second teams of Leal's School. The first team won by a score of 20 to 12. Dumont, Rittenhouse and Carrent did some wonderful batting for the first team, which was weakened by the loss of its captain. Dumont and White were the battery for first team and Crowe and Roome for the second.

The long-expected match between the first teams of Leal's and the Plainfield High School will probably be played tomorrow afternoon on the Washington avenue grounds. The High School team will be strictly composed of High School boys, but the other side will be strengthened in their battery. Brampton, the crack young pitcher of the Bound Brook Athletic Club, will be in the box for the Leal's boys. With such a team, Leal's should win.

The management of the Crescent Baseball Club have arranged with the Stelton Athletic Club for the opening of their grounds on the morning of Decoration Day. The above club is a very strong organization, having among its members Rutgers College students, and we may expect a close and exciting game. The contract to put the diamond in the best of condition has been awarded to Thomas Burke, and when the work is completed reserve seats to accommodate about 200 people will be erected. As everything will be in order in time for the opening game the club should be greeted with a large attendance. They are particularly anxious to have a large delegation of ladies present as the management will extend them every courtesy. A police force has been organized, with Robert Mattox at the head, who will have charge of the grounds and see that the best of order prevails.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

In the dual games between Yale and Harvard, last Saturday afternoon, Wesley Abbott, of this city, was third in putting the shot. His distance was 39 feet, 9 inches.

The annual field games of the athletic association of Stevens School were held in Hoboken, Monday afternoon. Nathan E. Lewis, of West Eighth street, was entered in putting the shot and won that event with ease. His put was 36 feet. There were six contestants in the event.

WHIST.

Another match for the Park Club challenge whist trophy was played last week. The Montclair Club, which held the trophy, succeeded in defeating the challengers, the N. J. Athletic Club, by 3 points.

AMONG THE STEPPERS.

There will be fine racing at the Gentlemen's Driving Park next Saturday afternoon. Admission will be free.

fierceness of the fire.

All the wood work in the store was charred. A large pile of winter overcoats in the rear of the store was found in the same condition. Most of the suits what were spread out on tables along the sides and centre of the room were ruined by the heat. A few that were saved from the flames were clempletely warer soaked. Mr. Werner, when seen by a Press reporter, this morning, placed his loss at $15,000. It is estimated that the damage to the building was $600. The stock was insured to the amount of $10,000, $3500 through Van Buren Brothers, $2500 through Elston M. French, and $ 000 through Lyman and Abbott. The fixtures were insured for $500 through Lyman and Abbott. The building is insured to the amount of $6,000 through W. A. Woodruff and E. M. French.

Arranging for Memorial Day.

Livermore was selected as grand marshal for the parade, and Rev. Dr. Robert Lowry was secured as the speaker for the afternoon service to be held at Music Hall. It was stated that Music Hall had been secured by the committee. Other interesting details were also reported and everything now looks as though the celebration this year will exceed that of any previous year.

DIARY OF AN OFFICE BOY.

Laughable Items That He Jotted Down During His "Spare" Time.

The boy in a certain downtown office keeps a diary. The following extracts are merely fragmentary and relate to his employer's experiences in securing a satisfactory typewritist, says the St. Louis Post Dispatch.

"Say, I nearly died a laffin' to-day. She wasn't much on looks, and was so nervous that her back hair shook down but I felt sorry for her, s'help me. The boss started in dictatin' and she banged away on the keys like a good fellow for about fifteen minutes, and then all of a sudden she went in a heap and said, 'Would you mind saying that over again? I forgot to put any paper on the machine.' Say, you can just bet the air was in rainbow shades for about fourteen minutes and a quarter.

"This one seems to be right in the swim with us. She's a troolylooler, and no mistake. Works her machine like a railway train behind time, and eats chocolate creams for lunch. She's a daisy looker, too. The boss told her to consider herself engaged, and I hope we have got settled at last. If I had to have kept on receiving and making myself agreeable to so many fairies as I have been doing lately the boss would have been struck for more dough. A man can't do that kind of work for any three a week. The neckties cost more money. This girl's name is Witchin—Miss Bewitching I called her, just for a jolly. She only laughed, but treated me to a cream, so I know I'm solid there.

"Say, the boss's old lady didn't drop in yesterday, mebbe! Oh, no; of course not. And she didn't have a wild look in her eye when she spotted Bewitching? I knew what was coming, you can bet. It was Bewitching, chase yourself, just as the boss had to tell her next morning. Although he did give her a whole week's dope in advance. He's good-hearted for a boss, but he lets his old pair of bloomers run the whole game for him. She'd a-been after me long ago if I hadn't told her that we used to live on Fifth avenue once, and that since me fadder lost all his money he would not let me go anywhere but to the wyemseea readin' rooms.

"This girl's face ain't in the running at all, but you can bet yer life that her muscle is. I tried to mash it, and she grabbed me by the collar and shook me till my back teeth rattled. But I say I wish there'd a-been a crowd to see her tackle the machine! The very first time she plunked on it she broke the capital M all to ballyhunk, and a piece of the steel flew up and took the boss over the left window.

"I told the boss that he ought to try a buck operator, and stop fooling with the lady push, and he said that it was the only sensible thing that he had ever heard me get off. We got one, too, that's pretty fair, but he's getting a little bossy, and unless he squares himself with me I'm afraid we'll have to bounce him. But I'm so tired of this changing business that I'm going to try and stand him for a while."

THE G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

GENERAL ORDERS ISSUED FOR THE MEETING OF VETERANS.

The Encampment to Be Held at Atlantic City in June and Will Be Attended by President McKinley and Other Notables.

Department Commander E. C. Stahl, of the New Jersey G. A. R., has issued General Orders No. 8, in reference to the observance of Memorial Day on the 31st inst., and the thirtieth annual encampment of the department in June, at Atlantic City.

He calls the attention of the Posts to the provisions of "An act to encourage and promote patriotism," approved April 3, 1894, and to the necessity of an active co-operation in its observance by the members of the Grand Army of the Republic. Comrades, see to it that on the Friday preceding the coming Memorial Day, suitable patriotic exereises are held in every schoolhouse throughout this State, and, wherever this be possible, a delegation of members of the G. A. R. in uniform should attend and by their presence and participation in these exercises teach an object lesson of patriotism to those who are destined some day to manage the affairs of our land.

"The beautiful custom of the Grand Army of the Republic," says the commander, of attending divine service on the Sunday preceding our Memorial Day exercises should be this year especially observed by the posts of this department because of the fact that Sunday, the 30th, will be in reality the national holiday. Comrades, let us make it such in deed as well as in name, by gathering in God's houses, and prepare our minds for the solemn duties of the morrow.

"Post chaplains are directed to forward their reports of the manner of the celebration of Memorial Day by their respective posts, to C. H Hill, Department Chaplain, Red Bank, N J."

In reference to the encampment, the order continues that the Council of Administration will meet at Schauffler Hotel on June 8th. The encampment will continue through the 11th. A canvas camp will be in the rear of Schauffler's Hotel, where free quarters may be secured, but members must furnish their own blankets.

The following detail on credentials is announced: Wm. H. Carman, P. P.C., of Post 23; Comrade M. V. Kennelly, of Post 3, and E. P. Southwick, A. A. General, of Post 23. This detail will meet at headquarters on Thursday, June 10th, at 9 a. m. Post Commanders will report at headquarters immediately upon their arrival for badges.

The commander of Joe Hooker Post, No. 32, at Atlantic City, will detail one officer of the day, one officer of the guard and twelve comrades, uniformed and equipped for duty, during the encampment. The officer of the day will report to the assistant Adjutant General for instructions on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock.

The Department will assemble for parade on Wednesday, June 9th, at 2 o'clock p. m. The formation, line of march and review by the President of the United States, Comrade McKinley; Commander-in-Chief, Comrade T. S. Clarkson: Governor Griggs and other distinguished guests, will be on Atlantic avenue. Joe Hooker Post, No. 32, has been detailed for escort duty to Department Headquarters. Members of the Department Staff will appear mounted; horses will be furnished upon requisition made to the Assistant Adjutant General not later than June 1st. Further orders as to details of parade will be issued from Department Headquarters on the morning of June 9th.

A reception will be tendered guests on the evening of June 9th at the Hotel Dennis.

The Department camp fire will take place at the Academy of Music on the evening of June 10th. Admission for non-members of the G. A. R. will be by tickets only. Distinguished speakers and an excellent programme will be provided.

EXAGGERATION OF NEWS

RELATION OF THE PRESS TO JUSTICE DISCUSSED IN COURT.

Middlesex County Officials Indulge in Criticism of Newspapers in the Report of the Alleged Oak Tree Assault.

Judge Woodbridge Strong, Prosecutor John S. Voorhees and Geo. Silzer, a lawyer, indulged in an exchange of opinions in the Middlesex County Court yesterday afternoon over newspaper tendencies of the day and the assistance or injury which newspapers rendered to the cause of justice. It was brought about by the trial of Wm. Tighe and James McCann for breaking and entering the house of Noah Schumacher, near Oak Tree, at midnight on April 2d, and atrociously assaulting and beating Schumacher.

At the time of the occurrence the newspapers told how Tighe, McCann and a third person, named Manson, had driven to the house, beaten Schumacher, and dragged his sister, Kate Schumacher, clad only in her nightdress, out of the house, forcing her into a wagon, and later throwing her out on the road. The next day she was found wandering aimlessly about the county.

As the trial yesterday was on an indictment for assaulting Noah Schumacher, the evidence regarding Kate Schumacher, of course, figured little in the case. McCann was on the stand, and Judge Strong said to him: "The reports sent broadcast over the country make the people look up to me for a rigid enforcement of the laws and penalties, thus protecting the community. The stories indicated a most horrible outrage. Are these stories at all true?" McCann denied them, saying that the woman had entered and left the wagon of her own free will.

Judge Strong then denounced sensationalism and exaggeration in newspapers, and remarked that such reports were calculated to injure the cause of justice. Mr Silzer, who defended the two men, also characterized the reports as highly exaggerated and unwarranted, and said that their gaining general credence would tend to induce jurors to follow public belief rather than the evidence. Prosecutor Voorhees took strong exception to the opinion of Judge Strong and upheld the newspapers, asserting that they frequently were instrumental in bringing criminals to justice by gaining information which it was difficult for officials to acquire. He denounced the Schumacher occurence as a heinous outrage, and asserted that the newspapers had served the public well in giving the facts.

STRUCK THE DETECTIVE?

A FIRE COMPANY FOREMAN CALLED BEFORE THE CITY JUDGE.

John Blackford and L. M. Dunavan Were at Odds and Wednesday Evening There Was a Row—Dunavun Pleaded Not Guilty

The trouble between State Detective John L. Blackford and Foreman L. M. Dunavan, of the fire department, at the Werner fire has been brought to the attention of the police. A warrant was issued and, this morning, Dunavan was arraigned before City Judge DeMeza, charged with being disorderly and striking Blackford. He pleaded not guilty to the charge and his trial was set down for Saturday morning, June 5th.

It seems that there has been some enmity between the two men ever since Blackford left the fire department, some time ago. Wednesday evening, Dunavan was running to the fire along the sidewalk. Blackford was standing on the sidewalk leaning on his wheel. Dunavan tripped over the wheel and nearly fell. He made some remark and Blackford replied. Dunavan walked over to Blackford and struck him on the chest. That was the only blow struck. After a few more words the men separated and Dunavan went to his duties at the fire. Blackford ordered Dunavan to appear before the city judge yesterday morning, but Dunavan declared that Blackford was no city officer and had not the right. Then it was that a warrant was sworn out.

Graduates Social Time.

Another of the very successful social evenings of the class of '97 of the Plainfield High School, was held at the home of Miss Lilla Livezy, of Park avenue, last evening. About forty, including a number of the friends of the different members of the class, were present. A donkey party formed the event of the evening and the contest was an exciting one. Miss Mary A. Luckey was the most suceessful, while Miss Adeline Manning received the booby prize. The rest of the evening was spent in dancing and playing games. Refreshments were served at the close.

FIFTEEN YEARS OF LIFE.

PLAINFIELD COUNCIL, R. A., CELEBRATED ITS ANNIVERSARY.

Charming Entertainment Held in its Honor at Y. M. C. A. Hall—First Appearance of the Mandolin Club a Success.

A double anniversary was celebrated in Y. M. C. A. Hall, last evening, when Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, held an entertainment there in honor of the fifteenth anniversary of the formation of the council and the twentieth anniversary of the organization of the Royal Arcanum.

The entertainment was given to the members and their friends by invitation and proved a very delightful one. At the entertainment, the mandolin club, which was organized by Rev. W. C. O'Donnell of local talent some time ago, made its first public appearance. The audience was prepared to look charitably on the first efforts of their townsfolk, but they did not need to for the club made a fine showing and rendered the different selections with spirit and excellence. The "Handicap March" and "Rastus on Parade" were particularly well received.

Mr. O'Donnell is the leader of the club, which is composed of Rev. W. C. O'Donnell, Frank E. Richards, Bert Littell, Edgar I. Serrell, J. Caspar Kirkner, and Bronson Smith, mandolins; Fred. G. Smith and Fred Van Eps, banjos; D. W. Littell, guitar; Frank MacDonald, piano.

Another very pleasant feature of the programme were the recitations of Miss Agnes M. Taylor, of New York. Sentiment, humor and pathos were all given with great skill and the audience gave the well deserved applause.

A quartette, composed of Elmer E. Runyon, Herbert Schutt, Charles L Lewis, and Arthur A. Freeman, sang several selections in a very acceptable manner. The voices blended well together.

D. Stuart Pope showed his ability as a pianist in two solos, and Prof. A. G. Carpenter also assisted in the programme by giving a violin solo.

"Our German Cousins," by F. H. Drake and Henry A. Murphy, of New York, was something new. The young men are amateurs, but were gotten up after the fashion of the German specialty artists. They sang a parody on several popular songs, clogged a little, and cracked jokes for the benefit of the audience. Their costumes were wonderful to behold. They broke crackers by shooting at them with blank cartridges, and then one of the pair fired his revolver at the reflection of a cracker in a mirror, and when it broke under the pressure of the hand of his comrade who held it, explained to the audience that that was crack shooting. They were loudly applauded.

The committee in charge of the entertainment consisted of Arthur E. Crone, Murray Burtis and J. H. Rogers.

JOKE AND DANCE

An Amateur Minstrel Show Given by Colored Young Men.

The young men who serve in the capacity of waiters at the Revere House gave a most amusing entertainment and dance in T. A. B. Hall last evening. The first part of the entertainment took the form of a minstrel show.

Wm. Wilson, John Taylor, Louis Mohn and Samuel Conway acted as end men and their comical songs, witty remarks and peculiar dancing pleased those present. Sentimental songs were rendered by Wm. Randolph, Charles Henry and Robert Toney. A comedy sketch was well given by Louis Mohn, which was followed with a song and dance by John Taylor and Wm. Wilson. Prof. Ardis and T. T. Toney gave mandolin and guitar selections. The appearance of the Blackfield Keystone quartette, consisting of Messrs. Taylor, Wilson, Randolph and Nelson, was a feature. A stump speech followed by Charles Henry, in which some very practical advice was imparted. "Two Quarrelsome Lovers" was the title of a comical sketch given by Messrs. Taylor and Wilson, and a song and dance followed by Samuel Conway.

One of the most laughable parts of the entertainment was the old-time picnic and cake walk, which concluded with a buck dance by Messrs. Taylor and Wilson The cake walk was great.

Central Railroad Improvements.

Several officials of the Central Railroad were in town a few days ago for the purpose of investigating the proposed changes to be made at the North Avenue station, and while they had nothing to say regarding the changes, it is believed that before long the work of improvement will be started. Tunnels will be erected underneath the tracks and a station will be erected opposite the present station.

ENDEAVORERS OLDER.

WARREN CHAPEL SOCIETY CELEBRATE AN ANNIVERSARY.

F. H. Andrews Delivered an Address Complimenting the Members on Their Good Work—Encouraging Reports Made

The anniversary of the Christian Endeavor Society of Warren chapel was celebrated in the chapel last evening in a most auspicious manner. The chapel was decorated prettily with all kinds of flowers while a profusion of bunting added greatly to the general beauty.

The devotional exercises were in charge of the pastor, Rev. J. O. McKelvey, while the exercises of the evening were under the direction of John Herman, an officer of the society. A feature of the event was the presence of a vocal quartette from Cranford and several very fine selections were given.

The principal number on the programme was the address given by F. H. Andrews, of the Crescent Avenue church. Mr. Andrews complimented the members of the society highly for their earnest labors and the amount of work accomplished during the past year. He gave some excellent advice to the members and urged them to put their trust in God and push forward in the grand work of the society.

The various reports presented showed that the society is doing a great deal, both in the home and foreign field. A goodly amount of money has been raised during the year and expended wisely. The membership has increased considerable and many have become active members who were formerly on the associate list. The officers of the society have been faithful in their attendance as has also the members, and the average attendance has been most encouraging. Whenever possible the members have assisted the regular societies of the chapel in carrying on their work and thus all have worked in unison. The new year for the society starts off with prospects that are bright and all feel inspired to do much for the Master this coming year.

FOR THE HOSPITAL'S BENEFIT.

Mt. Olive Baptist Church Members Energetic for a Good Cause.

At Reform Hall, last evening, an entertainment was given under the auspices of the Mt. Olive Baptist church for the benefit of Muhlenberg Hospital. It was a most creditable affair and a good-sized audience was present to enjoy it. The programme, which was in charge of Rev. P. S. Gibson, pastor of the church, was as follows:

Selection, Martin Brothers; recitation, Miss Mary Miles; mandolin selections, Prof. Ardis and T. T. Toney; sleight-of-hand performance, Prof. Bolden; vocal solo, Miss Mary Williams; recitation, "Woman's Suffrage," Miss Cora Morris; guitar selections, Mr. Twine and Mr. Lathan; selections, Martin Brothers; recitation, 'Don't Be In a Hurry," Mrs. Twine.

The following women composed the refreshment committee: Miss Logan, Miss Brown, Miss Swam, Miss Alice Oliver, Mrs. Frank Scott, Mrs. Lathan and Mrs. Scott. After the entertainment was over the above-named women served refreshments to those present. James Scott was the efficient seller of tickets, while Frank Smith received them at the door. The proceeds will be devoted to Muhlenberg Hospital and it is thought that a goodly sum will be realized.

DANCE OF THE GERMANS.

A Good Time Enjoyed at Saengerbund Hall Last Night.

A dance and entertainment was given in Saenger and Turner Hall last evening under the auspices of the Germania Beneficial Society for their own benefit. The hall was thronged with dancers who had a jolly time. Interspersing the dancing there was vocal music by the glee club from the Skandia Society. Music was furnished by Frank Conde's orchestra. At midnight supper was served after which the dancing continued until the small hours of the morning. The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Charles Ficke, chairman; Augusta Reupert, Henry Uhrich, Antione Stenzenberger and Ernest White. A. Wolf was the efficient floor manager.

An All-Day Outing.

Physical Director C.E. A. Heywood, of the Y. M. C. A., is arranging for an all-day outing for the members of the association for Decoration Day. LOWRIE STILL MISSING.

THE DUNELLEN MAN'S ABSENCE CANNOT BE ACCOUNTED FOR.

The Way He Left Would Seem to Indicate That He Intended to Stay Away—Much Sympathy Felt for His Family.

The town has been set agog for the past week by the reported disappearance of G. Elston Lowrie, district clerk and the former proprietor of this paper, says the Dunellen Call. An inquiry at his home regarding the many rumors, only tend to strengthen the belief that he has departed unawares, but the cause of his disappearance is a mystery to his parents and relatives, and they are firm in the belief that he will soon return and be able to explain his absence. The board of education were in a quandary as to what course to pursue, and at a special meeting, called on Monday evening, elected a clerk pro tem, so that the business could be conducted legally.

The facts of the case are as follows: Mr. Lowrie has been suffering with the chills and obtained a leave of absence about three weeks ago. He and his wife went to Scranton, Pa., and from there to Stockton, this State. On Friday, the 7th, he told his wife he thought he would go to Philadelphia to visit a friend and would meet her on a certain train on Saturday morning on the return home. Instead of going to Philadelphia he came to Dunellen, arriving about 9 p. m. and during the night packed up his valise and left on the 3:50 a. m. train. He has not been heard from since and the articles taken both from the office and the house would seem to indicate that he had intended to leave with no thought of returning. Much sympathy is expressed for his aged parents, wife and three children, and although there are many unauthenticated rumors afloat, no real cause can be found for his strange actions. He is not believed to have had much money in his possession and the condition of his school books and accounts show very conclusively that his departure was as sudden as it is strange.

To Help the Children's Camp.

A number of little children have arranged to conduct a cake and candy sale at the home of Mrs. Percy Philips, 921 Madison avenue, tomorrow afternoon, for the benefit of the Children's Camp, which will soon be opened on Johnston's drive. There will be lots of things to interest those who attend the event. A base ball will be given to the most popular juvenile club, to be determined by vote. Miss May Bellis, of this city, left today for a two weeks visit to her sister, Mrs. J. Z. Dinsmore, of Brooklyn.

DEATH VISITED A CELL.

MARTHA EVANS ENDED HER LIFE IN THE ROOKERY.

She Was Looked Upon the Charge of Drunkenness and Passed Away During the Night—Death Caused by Alcohol.

A chapter of death has been added to the long and eventful history of the city jail, familiarly known as the "rookery." Last evening, a woman arrested for drunkenness was placed in one of the cold, damp cells, and there breathed her last, the victim of wood alcohol poisoning. When the policeman came to see how she was getting on, he found her lying in a heap on the floor of the cell and her cold, staring eyes directed toward the ceiling. The officer did not realize he was in the presence of death, but summoned the Sergeant with the tidings that the woman was very ill. They found the illness was past and that death was there in that gruesome place.

The clock had just struck half-past five, yesterday afternoon, when the telephone bell in the office of Chief of Police Grant rang. Chief Grant answered the summons. It was from Mrs. S. A. Cruikshank, of Belvidere avenue. She said that the cook had been intoxicated all day and that they were unable to do anything with her; therefore she requested the Chief to send an officer to the house and take charge of the woman.

When Patrolman Lunger went on duty at the Netherwood beat, he was instructed to go to the residence of S. A. Cruikshank and take the woman to the station house and lock her up. When the officer reached the house, he learned that Martha Evans, the cook, had been drunk all day. She had refused to rise in the morning and had spent the day in her room in an intoxicated condition.

Through the efforts of the officer and Mr. Cruikshank, the woman was at last persuaded to dress. She was brought downstairs, being unable to walk straight herself, and a carriage summoned from Keely's stable. The woman and the policeman were driven to the station house.

Chief Grant visited her cell a few minutes after she had been placed there and conversed with her for several minutes. She evidently recognized him for she called him "Chief." After leaving the station house, Grant ordered the roundsman to instruct the officer on duty in the neighborhood to visit her occasionally during the night. Patrolman Saffron had that beat.

It was 11 o'clock when Saffron went into the corridor of the jail and looked into the cell. The dim light showed the form of the woman lying on the floor of the cell, where she had slipped from her seat on the bench on which the Chief had left her. Saffron went out of the jail to find Sergeant Kiely just entering. He told the Sergeant that the woman was very ill and the latter went in to investigate.

He opened the door and leaned over the prostrate form. He felt the hand. It was cold and there was no sign of life. Further investigation showed that the woman had died there in the cell soon after the Chief left her two hours before. Her body was cold when the Sergeant examined it.

Chief Grant was summoned from his home and word was sent to County Physician Wescott who gave the necessary permission for the removal of the body to Cole's undertaking rooms.

When the prisoner had been brought in, Chief Grant had noticed the odor of wood alcohol. On inquiry it was learned that Martha Evans had found a large demijohn of wood alcohol in a closet and had partaken largely of its contents. That had intoxicated her and finally caused her death as wood alcohol is poisonous. Such was the opinion of Dr. Westcott, who investigated the matter this morning.

The woman who thus met her death had only been in the employ of Mrs. Cruikshank for three weeks. She came her from New York. She was an English woman of apparantly forty years of age, slight and of fair complexion. She was quite good looking. She had $10 in money and some clothing. The police, thus far, have been unable to find any relatives or friends of the deceased.

Red Men Visited.

A delegation from Miantcnomoh tribe and Iona Council went over to Carteret by stage, last evening, to attend the first anniversary of the formation of Quinnipiac tribe of that city. The party arrived safely and was hospitably entertained by the Red Men of that place. An entertainment occupied the first part of the evening and then followed a banquet. The braves reached home at 4:30 o'clock this morning.

A BIG FIRE IN JERSEY

The Destruction of R. H. Macy's Factory In Hoboken.

OTHER BUILDINGS WERE DESTROYED

Many People Were Rendered Homeless by the Rapid Spread of the Flames, and Some Have Narrow Escapes. The Loss Is Very Large.

Hoboken, N. J., May 21.—This place has been visited by one of the most disastrous fires in its history. One whole block was reduced to ashes, and 140 families were rendered homeless. A big factory was also destroyed. The Hoboken fire department was totally unable to cope with the flames, and help was summoned from every portion of Hudson county, and later in the night, when the big drydocks at Seventeenth street caught fire, the only hope of saving them was from tugs called to the scene by the flames.

The first fire broke out in the big factory building in the block bounded by Thirteenth and Twelfth streets and Washington and Hudson streets. From the factory the flames leaped to the apartment houses on the block, and they were swept away.

The factory in which the fire was first discovered was 400 feet long by 50 feet wide. It extended the full length of the block. On the other three sides of the block were apartment houses. The factory was a six-story building.

The apartment houses were of five stories, double, with brownstone fronts and brick side walls. The factory was occupied by Strauss & Co. (R. H. Macy & Co.), cut glass and similar lines; Gallagher & Palmer, toilet articles and mirrors, and Darton & Heath, big wall paper manufacturers. There were 14 flats. Each of the flat-buildings was valued at $15,000. The factory building, with its contents, is estimated to have been worth over $250,000.

Discovery of the Fire.

The fire was first discovered in the airshaft of the factory building. No cause for the fire is known, but it is supposed that somebody dropped a lighted cigar or cigarette in the toilet rooms, and this smoldered in the woodwork until it broke into a blaze.

So rapid was the spread of the flames that when the first fire apparatus arrived the flames had been drawn up through the airshaft and had broken into the factory at every floor and were wildly traveling toward both ends.

Another alarm brought every piece of fire apparatus in Hoboken.

Then a call for help was sent to the other places in Hudson county. The entire fire departments of Union Hill, West Hoboken and Weehawken responded to the call for help, as well as three engines from Jersey City.

Despite the big aggregation of fire fighters, the flames spread with terrific fury.

The occupants of the apartment houses saved but little of their household effects. A policeman carried out two children from one of the houses after they had been forgotten in the flight of the other occupants.

A dying woman was rescued from one of the buildings after the fire had reached the bedclothing, but she was not harmed.

The people for blocks around were almost panic stricken, and the police had great difficulty in keeping the frenzied tenants from rushing back into the flames for valuables left behind.

The factory building was separated from the flats in places by an alley less than 30 feet wide, and it was across this gulf the fire leaped to attack the houses. The firemen first on the scene tried to fight the flames there, but the heat and smoke soon drove them out. Then all their efforts were directed toward saving the adjoining blocks.

Mayor Fagan of Hoboken reached the scene early and started the work of supplying the destitute with shelter and clothing, and at a late hour the many families were made as comfortable as families can who have lost everything in the world.

Suicide of a Banker.

St. Louis, May 21.—George A. Taylor, who has been in the banking business in St. Louis for 13 years, was found dead in bed at the Normandie hotel. An empty bottle labeled "hydrocianic acid" and a number of letters showed that he had committed suicide in a most deliberate and dramatic manner. The dead man clasped in his hands the picture of a woman not his wife. He had had trouble with his wife, whom he married in Charles City, Ia., and she entered suit for divorce, later having the case dismissed. Mrs. Taylor now lives in Eldorado, Ia., with their child.

Governor of Texas Advises Economy.

Austin, Tex., May 21.—Governor Culberson has vetoed the general appropriation bill on the ground that the body had been too extravagant in its appropriations and that a deficit of nearly $500,000 would be brought about within the next two years unless the pruning knife was applied. The governor informed the legislators that if they would pass a bill that will curtail the fees of all county and district officers the deficiency can be overcome. The message created a perfect uproar in the house.

Leather Manufacturers Assign.

Lynn, Mass., May 21.—The Globe Manufacturing company has made an assignment to Junius Beebe of the Lucius Beebe company for the benefit of creditors. The creditors are chiefly Boston parties. Liabilities are not known. The company manufactures leather coats and vests, butchers' frocks, sporting jackets, etc. John D. Wentworth is proprietor.

Slaughter of Dogs.

Middletown, N. Y., May 21.—A mad dog ran through Bellvale on Monday, biting a large number of dogs. He attacked Farmer Richard Cisco, who shot him twice with a revolver and finally killed him with a club. The other dogs are showing signs of rabies. Nine were killed, and every dog found at large in this vicinity will be shot.

Sudden Death of a Farmer.

Southport, Conn., May 21.—Simon Banks, a wealthy farmer and shipowner here, dropped dead just after discharging a shotgun at a cat. He was a sufferer from heart disease. Mr. Banks was 67 years of age.

THE BANK ROBBERY.

Story of the Institution Whose Employee Decamped.

THE SCENE OF A FORMER ROBBERY.

The Walls of the Building Were Cut Through and the Vaults Emptied of Their Valuables—Further News of the Latest Crime.

Boston, May 21.—The Boylston National bank, whose messenger, Albert M. King, left this city with $30,000 of the bank's money in his possession, was the victim of the biggest robbery ever committed in Boston on Sunday morning, Nov. 2, 1869. On that date the vault of the bank was entered, and nearly $400,000 in cash abstracted.

The guiding spirit in this attack upon the bank was Charley Bullard, alias Piano Charley, a well known bank robber, who had for his associates three men as daring as himself. They were Adam Worth, Ike Marsh and Bob Cochrans.

Shortly before this robbery Bullard had broken out of jail at White Plains, N. Y., where he was confined with others on a charge of looting an express car on the New York Central railroad.

Bullard came to Boston, and under the name of William A. Judkins, purchased for $800 a barber shop which adjoined the offices of the bank on the second floor of the building at the corner of Washington and Essex streets. The purchase price was obtained from goods stolen, and as soon as the men were established in the shop, under the pretense of conducting a patent medicine business, they cut through the wall into the vault of the bank and emptied it of all the money it contained. Gold and notes to the value of $400,000 were divided on the spot, and the men fled in different directions.

Nearly $50,000 in silver was left among the debris in the room, as it was too heavy to carry.

Later Bullard was arrested and sentenced, but he escaped, and, attempting to rob a bank in Canada, was arrested and sentenced there.

On completing his term he went to Europe. Marsh is the only one of his pals who was arrested. He is now serving a 17 years' sentence in Eastern penitentiary for the robbery of a bank in Pennsylvania.

Traces of the Messenger.

Word has been received from Lowell that the pocketbook of the Boylston National bank, which King was accustomed to carry, was found in a Boston and Maine railroad car. From the information at hand Chief Watts of the local police thinks King may have left the New York express at Willimantic, Conn., and, taking a train for Lowell, made his way towards Canada.

Chief Watts expresses considerable certainty that King will be located in Montreal or some other place in the provinces very soon. It has come to light that the messenger who handled so many thousands of dollars daily received a salary of $33 a month. Considerable comment on the fact is heard as well as upon the fact that so young a man should be intrusted with so much money.

Naval Cadets In Trouble.

Annapolis, May 21.—Warrants have been issued for several members of the engineer division of the return class of naval cadets charging them with assaulting Police Officer Thomas and resisting arrest. The cadets had finished the examinations and started out to serenade their friends and celebrate. Officer Thomas attempted to arrest them, and a scuffle ensued, in which Thomas and one of the cadets received cuts about the head. Two of the cadets spent the night in the lockup.

Death of a Retired Banker.

New Haven, May 21.—Treadwell Ketcham, a retired banker and probably the wealthiest man in New Haven, died at his residence here. He was born on Long Island, and for many years he was prominent in financial circles in New York. He was the American correspondent of George Peabody, the noted London financier and philanthropist. He retired in 1870 and has since resided in New Haven with a daughter, wife of the late Professor Eaton of Yale university.

Marvelous Escape.

Nyack, N. Y., May 21.—Benjamin Dejong of Nyack, while driving through Sparkill collided with a rapidly moving train. His wagon was broken to kindling wood, and he was hurled 40 feet, escaping without any injury except a mashed nose. The horse was not even scratched.

PAINLESS
DENTISTRY.
During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.
Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.
Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.
The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.
Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.
(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)
Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Walter Runyon, of Dunellen, is improving from a very severe illness.

Mrs. William Chamberlain, of Westfield, is visiting her parents in this city.

Rheumatism Cured in 24 Hours.
T. J. Blackmore, of Haller & Blackmore, Pittsburg, Pa., says: "A short time since I procured a bottle of 'Mystic Cure.' It got me out of the house in twenty-four hours. I took to my bed with Rheumatism nine months ago and the 'Mystic Cure' is the only medicine that did me any good. I had five of the best physicians in the city, but I received very little relief from them. I know the 'Mystic Cure' to be what it is represented and take pleasure in recommending it to other poor sufferers." Sold by T. S. Armstrong, druggist, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

—The work of laying sidewalks in the borough is progressing finely. The Borough Council has taken hold of this matter in earnest and those who will not put down their own walks will have them put down for them with cost and interest.

THE TERMS OF PEACE

The Powers Will Require Greece to Pay £5,000,000.

STIPULATIONS OF THE ARMISTICE.

A Neutral Zone Between the Combatants to Be Established—A Military Commission Also Provided For—Pitiful Plight of the Crown Prince.

Rome, May 21.—It is learned upon unquestionable authority that the powers have agreed upon the chief conditions of peace—namely, indemnity to the amount of £5,000,000, guaranteed by a control of the Greek customs, and the rectification of the frontier, details as to which have not yet been fully settled.

Armistice Formally Signed.

Volo, May 21.—The Greek delegates appointed to arrange an armistice met the Turkish representative, Seyfoullah Bey, formerly Turkish consul at this place, and after a conference Seyfoullah Bey promised to lay the Greek proposals before Edhem Pasha immediately.

It was subsequently announced that the armistice between Turkey and Greece had been definitely concluded. The armistice is general and includes the land and sea forces of both combatants.

The armistice agreement stipulates that a mixed commission of officers of superior rank shall establish a neutral zone between the two armies and that no advance on either flank shall be permitted. It is understood that Turkey wants the commission to be constituted of the foreign military attaches with the two armies.

Italian Socialist Arrives.

Athens, May 21.—Signor Cipriani, the Italian Socialist leader who headed the first detachment of Italian volunteers which crossed the Greek frontier into Macedonia and who subsequently disbanded his followers, has landed here. He was wounded in the knee and lay six hours on the field of battle, losing much blood, before he was removed.

M. Ralli, the premier, in the course of an interview, said:

"The indemnity which Greece will pay Turkey will be in proportion to the resources of Greece and her financial position. The cession of territory is out of the question. Greece cannot accept a modification of the strategic frontier, which would render easy the raiding of Greek territory by armed bands and which would compel Greece to maintain a numerous army in order to prevent such incursions.

The Prince's Pitiful Plight.

London, May 21.—The Times' correspondent at Athens says:

"When the crown prince arrived at Lamia, he had been practically abandoned by his army. Colonel Mastrapas and his division had already quitted the town, directing their flight toward Alamana, Molo and Atalanti.

"After vainly trying to collect the remnants of his army at Lamia the crown prince, with his staff, went to Alamana, where another attempt was made to rally the fugitive troops, but this was only partly successful, and during the whole of Tuesday Lamia lay deserted and at the mercy of the Turks, who, however, made no attempt to occupy it."

As to the Future of Crete.

Athens, May 21.—The former Greek consul at Khania, who has returned here, says that, when the Greek troops have left the island, delegates of the Cretan people will meet to constitute a provisional government and to proclaim the political union of Crete with Greece. He adds that Admiral Canevaro, commander of the Italian fleet in Cretan waters, told the Cretans that if, after a time, autonomy proved unsuccessful the Cretan people would be free to fulfill their own destiny.

To Settle Their Difference Themselves.

London, May 21.—It is expected that in the negotiations for the establishment of peace Turkey will deal directly with Greece, and in accordance with the precedent made at San Stefano a treaty between Turkey and Greece will be submitted to a conference of the European powers, which will probably be held in Paris.

Greek Volunteers From America.

London, May 21.—A dispatch to The Standard from Athens says that 500 Greek volunteers from America have arrived there.

Reward Offered For Stolen Cannon.

West Point, N. Y., May 21.—Captain Bellinger, assistant quartermaster, has circulated a poster offering $50 reward for the apprehension of the persons who stole the four bronze cannon from Fort Clinton. The theft mystifies the entire department. A short time ago a large quantity of old lead pipe was found in the railroad tunnel. It had been stolen and secreted there until it could be removed with safety.

Fire In a Hotel.

Meridian, Mass., May 21.—The Southern hotel was damaged to the extent of $150,000 by fire. The hotel was well filled with guests, and a panic ensued when the alarm was sounded, but no lives were lost. There were a number of stores and offices on the ground floor of the hotel building, all of which suffered great damage from fire and water.

Shot Himself Twice.

Auburn, N. Y., May 21.—Charles Shelters, a farmer, 42 years of age, living about four miles east of this city, committed suicide by shooting himself twice, once above the right eye and once through the left breast. Despondency brought on by years of sickness is assigned as the cause of his act.

Bellevue's Mysterious Patient.

New York, May 21.—It has been learned that the man in Bellevne hospital who was thought to be suffering from aphasia and who would say nothing regarding himself, is Morris Gedney, recently employed as an engineer's assistant in this city.

To Pay a Dividend.

Nashua, N. H., May 21.—The Nashua Savings bank has voted to pay a 10 per cent dividend July 15, with the sanction of the bank commissioners.

TO PROTECT THE CRANBERRY!

Even the little cranberry will play an important part in the tariff bill which is now occupying the attention of the statesmen at Washington. At any rate, it will be of much importance so far as New Jersey is concerned, for New Jersey, with Massachusetts, raises nine-tenths of all the berries consumed in this country.

On Monday next a committee from the American Cranberry Growers' Association will go to the national capital to try and induce Congress to place a duty on their product. As the tariff bill was originally drafted it contained a clause providing for a duty of two cents a quart on all berries coming into this country." The clause was stricken out by the Senate committee because it was thought it might interfere with importations of strawberries from tropical climes. It is anticipated, however, that a clause can be inserted on the floor of the Senate to cover cranberries only.

The Dominion of Canada charges a duty of 25 per cent. on all cranberries going into its provinces, and it is thought likely that a similar clause will be put into the tariff bill. Both U. S. Senator Smith and U. S. Senator Sewell have written to Prof. Rider, who is secretary of the American Cranberry Growers' Association, stating that they will use their efforts to have the clause inserted.

THE LEGISLATURE'S DUTY.

Assemblyman Codington expresses himself as follows concerning what should be done at the special session of the Legislature next week:

Sir: My opinion is that the Legislature at the special session should do the work for which they are called together and adjourn, unless it should appear that the members have concluded they have made a mistake in not passing the Voorhees judiciary amendments, in which case they should correct their error and then adjourn.

A PROGRESSIVE CAREER.

The Plainfield (N. J.) Daily Press, in commemoration of its tenth anniversary, on May 10th, issued a miniature paper, a fac similie illustration of its progressive career. It is neat and readable and reflects great credit on the management.—Newspaper Maker.

Another meeting was held Monday on a bridge along the avenue over Middlebrook, about a mile and a half from Bound Brook.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore equires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Y. M. C. A. Bowlers Victorious on Newark Alleys Last Night.

The Plainfield Y. M. C. A. bowling team went to Newark and rolled three games against the Newark Y. M. C. A. team. The games were bowled on the Montgomery alleys, which are considered the best in Newark. The Plainfield boys went to Newark with the expectation of losing each game and they were more than elated to think that they captured every one themselves. William Scholoss and C. Sutphen were high men for the Plainfielders, while Crane and Peal occupied the same poition for the Newarks. The Plainfielders say that they were neve treated better. Below are the scores of the games:

FOOD STRENGTH.

IT COMES FROM THE RIGHT FOOD PROPERLY DIGESTED.

Food strength is natural strength. It is new strength; created strength. That is, it is not stimulation.

The real strength of your body is your constitutional strength, your reserve strength. It is the result of eating proper food and digesting it.

Eating food does no good at all: rather harm—unless it is digested. So that everything narrows itself down to one proposition: How is your digestion?

One person in three of us have indigestion in some form or another. It is not really a disease, but a condition; a condition which may become serious.

We all wish to be strong, and we might all become so if we digested our food. The loss of your strength is a serious matter. It may be the beginning of a dangerous disease. It may mean that you cannot go on with your work.

Shaker Digestive Cordial is an aid to digestion. It is a strength maker. It makes your food nourish you. It makes you strong. It relieves at once all the symptoms of acute dyspepsia, tones up the system and creates flesh, energy and strength. Taken regularly it will permanently cure indigestion and make the weak, thin, irritable, nervous dyspeptic, strong, fat, hearty and well again.

A 10 cent bottle will show you what it will do.

Sold by druggists at 10, 25, 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle.

THEATRICAL.

"The Mysterious Mr. Bugle" has entered the fifth week of its run at the Lyceum Theatre, New York, and not only continues but increases the measure of its success in Mr. Frohman's charming little house. There have been no changes in the cast of "The Mysterious Mr. Bugle" and, as upon its first presentation, the company includes Annie Russell, Joseph Holland, Guy Standing, Chas. Craig, John Wooderson, Edgar Norton, Henry Phillips, Charles Peckham, Master Michaelson, Agnes Findlay and Grace Fischer. This whimsical, diverting, brilliant, amusing, deft and witty piece of nonsense has proven to be exceptionally popular and the business at the Lyceum Theatre shows no diminution as the weather grows warmer. The little house is as cool, cheerful and pleasant as a drawing room, and there seems to be really no good reason why "The Mysterious Mr. Bugle" should not upset all precedents and keep the Lyceum Theatre open all summer.

At Daly's Theatre, New York, "The Circus Girl" has begun a fourth week of the supplemental season. Especially at the matinees has its success been apparent. Children take to it as a real, live circus, while their aunts and sisters find interest in the Parisian gowns. Aside from all this, the piece has the usual attractiveness of a musical farce, and its charms are by no means lost in presentation at the hands of Nancy McIntosh and Virginia Earle.

Harry Werner's Business.

Harry Werner, the clothier, has established an office over his store where those who have business with him can transact it until such a time as his insurance is adjusted and his store is ready for occupancy again. He desires to thank the firemen for their efforts to subdue the conflagration of Wednesday night, and especially for the rescue of the money drawer with considerable cash in it.

Dr. I. C. Whitehead died suddenly at his home on Summit avenue, at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, of heart failure. Although Dr. Whithead did not practice medicine, he was well-known and highly esteemed in this place, where he has lived for the past four years. He was 77 years of age, and a member of St. Paul's Episcopal church. Mrs. Whitehead was visiting friends in Delaware, and consequently was not present at her husband's bedside at the time of his death. Mrs. Hubert, of Summit avenue, is a daughter of Dr. Whitehead. The time at which the funeral will take place has not yet been announced.

A slight accident to the gas machine, resulting in a blaze, caused a scare among the attendants at the Westfield Club Hall while the Musical Society's concert was in progress last evening. It was discovered about nine o'clock by those on the first floor of the club house. Some excitable person yelled "Fire!" but fortunately the audience upstairs did not hear the word, and a possible panic was averted. A telephone call was sent to the firemen as soon as the blaze was discovered, but before they could respond another was sent, saying that the fire had been extinguished.

At the special meeting of the Westfield Fire Department, held last evening, the question of administering discipline to members of the different companies who have been delinquent in attendance at fires, was discussed. About twenty of those charged with neglect of fire duty appeared at the meeting and offered excuses, some of which were of a very amusing character, causing considerable merriment among the members of the board. A spirit of harmony pervaded the meeting and it was decided to suspend action on the present cases of delinquency. The resolution also instructs the secretaries of the various companies to submit to the department at regular intervals, complete records of the fire attendance of members.

Four small Westfield lads played truant from school on Wednesday, and to break the monotony of the day paid a visit to the Embree estate, about a mile from Westfield on the Jerusalem road. There they smashed glass in the windows of Embree Cottage, and did other damage about the place. A. C. Fitch, in whose care the estate is left, learned of the occurrence, and securing the names of the young vandals, made complaint to Justice Hart. The boys were ordered to appear for examination yesterday at 4 o'clock. At the time set only two of them were on hand, however, and a search by an officer failed to reveal the whereabouts of the others. The value of the glass broken was estimated at $7, which amount the Justice ordered the lads to pay in shares of $1.75 each. The money was promptly paid by their parents. A watch is being kept for the boys who failed to appear at the trial, and if captured they will be locked up for contempt of court. One of these, John McIntyre, is the youngster who ran away and went to Newark last week to hunt Indians. He is said to have left town yesterday before the trial, declaring that he would not return and would not allow himself to be captured alive.

The Westfield Musical Society's second and last concert of the season, which was given in Westfield Club Hall, last evening, proved a social and artistic success and was an event in the musicial history of the town. The pretty auditorium was completely filled by an audience representative of the music-loving people of the town. A source of diappointment was the absence of Miss Nellie Knight, soprano, who was down on the program for several solos. Her absence was the result of a sudden illness. Miss Florence Adele Mulford took Miss Knight's place and completely won the hearts of the audience. Among her solo selections were "The Bud Was a Rose," "Midsummer Dreams," and "My Little Love." Miss Mulford was enthusiastically encored, and had reason to be much pleased with the way in which she was received. George E. Clauder is well-known in this place as a vocalist and 'cellist and hardly needed an introduction to his audience. His two 'cello solos were both sincerely encored. The chorus numbered about fifty voices. Its selections were a bridal chorus from "The Rose Maiden," "The Bee and the Dove," "Invocation," "Love and Spring," "Last Night," and "The Ballad of the Oysterman." These pieces were well received by the audience, and called forth a number of encores. The really excellent singing of the chorus gave evidence of long and thorough practice and skillful leadership on the part of Director Arthur G. Drake. Mrs. Stephen S. Mapes acted as accompanist to the singers. The business arrangements of the concert were in charge of E. G. Hanford.

ARRESTED ON AN OLD CHARGE.

A Baltimore Man Is Held For Alleged Wrongdoing Three Years Ago.

Baltimore, May 21.—The suspension of the Fort Stanwix National bank of Rome, N. Y., in January, 1896, and the suicide of George Barnard, the cashier, was recalled when George Louis Shaw, a woodenware dealer of 419 North street, this city, was arrested by United States Deputy Marshal Zinkand on the charge of having aided and abetted Cashier Barnard to embezzle or misappropriate $32,000 of the funds of the bank.

Mr. Shaw was taken before United States Commissioner Rogers and was held in $15,000 bail to appear before the United States district court for the northern district of New York, which sits at Rochester. Mr. Shaw is making an effort to get bail.

The indictment charging Mr. Shaw with having aided and abetted Cashier Barnard in having misappropriated the funds of the bank does not throw much light upon the way in which the work was accomplished. It simply states that it was done through a series of checks presented to the bank by the accused through the years of 1894-5.

The other road is the Saratoga Lake Railroad company, with a capital stock of $150,000, and it will run from Broadway and West Congress street to Moon's Corners, on the west side of Saratoga lake, with a branch to the race course.

They were tramping along the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad tracks when a train rushed around a curve, and before they could get out of the way they were struck down. YOUR KIDNEYS if they are healthy filter the uric acid and poisons out of the system through the urine. If they are not acting right the results are Bright's Disease, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Bladder Trouble, Dropsy, etc.

A short time ago I received a box of Sparagus Kidney Pills from you and took them according to directions. I found such relief from them that I can safely recommend them to any one suffering from kidney troubles. Before taking your Sparagus Kidney Pills I had suffered a great deal with my kidneys and bladder together with a pain in my back, although I have taken a great many different kinds of medicine. I have recommended your Sparagus Kidney Pills to others, and while I am writing this, one of my friends has gone to get a box of your Sparagus Kidney Pills, believing they will relieve him. Wishing you every success, I am, ROBERT M. PRIOR, Shroopsville, N. Y.

will look a hundred times better, last many years longer, and fetch a higher price in case you wish to sell if you keep them well and handsomely painted. A fine coat of paint is like a dress suit, and puts a building in proper shape for show. Nothing pays better than keeping a house up. It costs something to build and paint is a cheap preservative.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the orginal color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. CUBA IS RECOGNIZED.

Passage of the Belligerency Resolution Amid Enthusiasm.

OPPOSITION IN SENATE IS OVERCOME

Thurston of Nebraska Tells of the Horrors on the Island and Says They Should Cease—Original Morgan Resolution Passed.

Washington, May 21.—The senate has, by a vote of 41 to 14, adopted the Morgan resolution, extending to the Cuban insurgents recognition of belligerent rights. The detailed vote on the passage of the Morgan resolution follows:

Nays.—Allison, Burrows, Caffrey, Fairbanks, Gear, Hale, Hanna, Hawley, Hoar, Spooner, Wellington, Wetmore, White, Wilson—14.

The following is the text of the resolution:

Resolved, That a condition of public war exists between the government of Spain and the government proclaimed and for some time maintained by force of arms by the people of Cuba, and that the United States of America shall maintain a strict neutrality between the contending powers, according to each all the rights of belligerents in the ports and territory of the United States.

This action was preceded by a five hours' debate, which was one of the most notable and spirited that has recently occurred in the senate, and was listened to with marked attention by the spectators who crowded the galleries.

Senator Thurston (Rep.) of Nebraska made the principal set speech in support of the resolution, and his outspoken stand for belligerent rights was a great surprise to the opposition. It had been expected that he would be pacific and conciliatory. To make his position plain, he read the Cuban plank in the St. Louis platform. He said that Senator Hoar's interpretation of this plank was wrong. He criticised sarcastically the attitude of Senator Hoar and insisted that all existing conditions warranted recognition by this country.

Thurston Quotes Senor Sagasta.

Mr. Thurston read from the morning papers the report of Senor Sagasta's speech in Madrid declaring that the Spaniards were not even master of territory trodden by their soldiers in Cuba, and that the picture could not be gloomier. This was not, Mr. Thurston said, the statement of a newspaper correspondent, but of a former premier of Spain.

"If," he exclaimed, "there is peace in Cuba, it is the peace of devastated fields. If there is peace in Cuba, it is the peace of razed homes; it is the peace of starving children. No, Mr. President, there is war in Cuba—bloody, sanguinary, awful war. Our ears cannot be deaf to its roar. We cannot lightly put aside the fact. War is in Cuba. War has been maintained in Cuba for 2½ years, and today Spain is no nearer to the subjugation of the revolutionists than she was at the moment of her first engagement with them.

"What then? All the conditions of international law are met. That being the case, I state as an absolute and unanswerable proposition that this government has the right to recognize the belligerency of the revolutionists. And in availing itself of that right it does not offer any affront under the law of nations or any cause of offense to the government of Spain."

Mr. Thurston insisted that it was time this government by its action gave the Cuban cause a proper position before the world—the right to carry their flag on land and sea, the right to stand beside Spain in the money markets of the world, the right to struggle in an honorable way. Then the senator closed as follows:

"These things the United States of America can constitutionally and lawfully do. Let us do them now. Let us dispatch the mightiest battleship of the United States to Cuba. Let us station her in the harbor of Havana. There her crowning guns may disturb the spirit of tyranny by night, and by day her shining stars may cheer the hearts of those who are struggling to be free."

The gallery broke into applause at the closing reference to a battleship, but the presiding officer quickly checked the demonstration.

Elkins Counsels Delay.

Mr. Elkins (Rep.) of West Virginia followed in a speech urging that the senate should not act precipitately, but should await the inquiries now being made by the officials of the government. He insisted that there was nothing before the senate to warrant action at this time. Mr. Elkins went on to say that the possibilities of war were being treated very lightly, and he added, "Spain can declare war and not fire a gun, and it will cost this nation $500,000,000."

Mr. White (Dem.) of California opposed the resolution and was led into several lively and amusing exchanges with Mr. Chandler. He argued that recognition was exclusively an executive function.

Mr. Hawley (Rep.) of Connecticut spoke briefly on the desirability of conservative and cautious action at a time of serious emergency. At the close of his speech a vote was taken on the pending question, which was Mr. Hale's motion to refer the Cuban resolution to the committee on foreign relations. The vote was followed with intense interest by the crowded galleries. Senators who had taken leading parts in the debate moved hurriedly about the chamber, marshaling their forces. The Hale motion to refer was defeated by a decisive vote of 19 yeas to 34 nays.

This was the first test vote on the question which has engrossed the attention of the senate for several days and clearly foreshadowed the final passage of the resolution.

A hum of excited comment ran through the galleries as the vice president in calm tones announced the defeat of the motion to refer, adding that the question now was on the adoption of the resolution.

Fairbanks Offers a Substitute.

It seemed likely that a final vote would be taken at once, but Mr. Fairbanks took the floor for his first speech in the senate. He was glad, he said, to observe that there was no difference among senators in regard to their desire for freedom in Cuba. All were anxious to see liberty established on the desolate island. The only difference was as to the means to that end. He thought that the ordinary course should be followed, of waiting for the report of a commissioner. The most desirable course to pursue, he said, was to tender the good offices of the United States in the cause of peace and the ultimate independence of the island.

Referring to the St. Louis platform, Mr. Fairbanks declared that he utterly and entirely repudiated the interpretation of Mr. Thurston on the Cuban resolution adopted at St. Louis. The platform was for the exercise of the good offices of the United States; the pending resolution was for a recognition of Cuban belligerency.

Mr. Fairbanks then offered a substitute for the pending Morgan resolution—a substitute asking the president to offer the intervention of the United States to end the war.

Mr. Caffery (Dem.) of Louisiana spoke in opposition to the Morgan resolution and said the fate of the Fairbanks substitute was plain in view of the vote just taken.

Morgan Moves to Table the Substitute.

Mr. Morgan then moved to lay on the table the Fairbanks substitute. A yea and nay vote was then taken on this motion, which resulted as follows: Yeas, 35; nays, 15. This again cleared the way for a vote on the resolution. Mr. Hale (Rep.) of Maine, who has been the recognized leader of the opposition to the resolution arose for a final word of protest. He spoke with intense earnestness and feeling, with a tinge of bitterness in his tones. It was evident, he said, that nothing now could stay the course of the senate in passing this resolution. In the votes just taken the following policy of this administration had been dictated, and dictated by those in opposition to it. "I believe," continued Mr. Hale, "that the passage of this resolution involves the United States possibly, and I fear probably, in war in the near future." He declared that the elements opposed to the administration—Democrats and Populists—had furnished the bulk of the vote in favor of the resolution, and that the foreign policy of the administration was thus to be dictated by its opponents.

Mr. Spooner (Rep.) of Wisconsin added his protest against tying the hands of the administration.

Mr. Gorman (Dem.) of Maryland closed the debate, resenting the suggestion that party lines were drawn on the resolution, and asserting that the administration should have dispatched a war vessel to Cuba to protect our officials on the island.

The final vote was then taken, and the senate adjourned until next Monday.

House Passes Cuban Relief Resolution.

Washington, May 21.—Cuban affairs furnished the house with a day of bitter partisan debate. The resolution appropriating $50,000 for the relief of American citizens was adopted without a dissenting vote, but the Democrats endeavored to force consideration also of the Morgan resolution for recognition of the belligerency of the insurgents. They accused the Republicans of endeavoring to evade this issue, but the dominant party, through its spokesman, Mr. Hitt, made the important statement that the Republicans desired not to embarrass negotiations which were being projected by President McKinley to secure the independence of Cuba.

While Mr. Hitt disclaimed presidential authority for his statement it was well known that he had been in consultation with Mr. McKinley on the question and knew whereof he spoke.

The programme was that forecasted in these dispatches. The committee on rules presented a report giving two hours' debate on the relief resolution. Mr. Bailey endeavored to present the views of the minority of the committee and to move a recommittal, but was declared out of order by Speaker Reed. He made a strong speech and was given the unanimous support of Democrats, Populists and silverites, while but three Republicans—Messrs. Cooper of Wisconsin, Colson of Kentucky and Robbins of Pennsylvania—voted to consider the senate resolution.

The galleries were packed and manifested their usual sympathy for Cuba. The speeches were made by Messrs. Dalzell of Pennsylvania, Bailey of Texas, Hitt of Illinois, Grosvenor of Ohio, Williams of Mississippi, Livingstone of Georgia, Wheeler of Alabama, Adams of Pennsylvania, Clayton of Alabama, McMillin of Tennessee, Bell of Colorado, Simpson of Kansas, Hull of Iowa, and Brown of Ohio. Mr. Robbins of Pennsylvania gave a graphic description of the situation in Cuba based on a personal visit.

The house rejected the third conference report on the opening of the Utah gilsonite lands and instructed its conferees to support a plan proposed by Mr. Lacey of Iowa, by which the secretary of the interior would lease the lands, the government receiving a royalty, and provisions against a monopoly being made.

Membership, May 13th, League of American Wheelmen: New, 2,037; total, 75,840; New Jersey Division, new, 101; total, $4,791.

The Plainfield Cycle and Sporting Company, of North avenue, are having a great run on Keating wheels and all kinds of sporting goods.

The suggestion has been made by a New Jersey rider that now that the railroads of that State are carrying bicycles without charge, the work of the train hands would be lightened and time also saved to the owner of the wheel if each machine were tagged, showing the destination. This would enable the assortment of the wheels between stations and insure their readiness when called for.

Captain Cuming escorted four members of the Y. M. C. A on the league cycle run to Passaic last evening. Many others would have accompanied them, but the threatening weather kept them home. The entire distance covered was fifty-six miles, and the usual good time was enjoyed at Passaic. The next league run to Plainfield will be on Friday, June 4th. The other New Jersey Associations were represented last evening by the following number of men: Orange, 7; New Brunswick, 5; Plainfield, 4; Montclair, 16; Morristown, 3; Summit, 5; Elizabeth, 15; Madison, 5; Paterson, 25; Rahway, 16. Total 101.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

George Proctor Smith and Carroll L Runyon, of the athletic team of the Plainfield High School, have both been making considerable progress in throwing the hammer. Runyon has been steadily improving during the week and is now in fine form. His throw was 105 feet, eight inches, which is a scholastic record for the city and state. Smith's throw was 104 feet.

A meeting of the committee in charge of the coming meet of the Y. M. C. A. in New Jersey, of which Physicial Director C. E. A. Haywood, of the Plainfield Association, is a member, has been held. It was decided to hold the meet in Newark on the track of the Riverside Athletic Club. The advantages of Plainfield were considered but they were not sufficient to bring the meet to this city.

The second annual field meeting of the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association will be held, tomorrow afternoon, at the grounds of the New Jersey Athletic Club, Bergen Point. The games begin at 2 o'clock. Plainfield will be represented by a team, the members of which will take part in the jumps, weight contests and bicycle races. In the running events, Plainfield will be unrepresented. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance from this city and for that purpose, a special section has been reserved for the Plainfield contingent. Reserved seat tickets for this section may be obtained from Carrell L. Runyon, George P. Smith, Walter T. Serrell and the sporting department of The Daily Press.

AROUND THE BASES.

Two nines, captained respectively by J. Sullivan and M. Kane, played and exciting game of baseball on the Washington avenue grounds, yesterday afternoon. There was $50 up to go to the winning side and the game was, in consequence, a very hot one. Kane's team finally won by a score of 10 to 9, but the other side lay the cause of their defeat to the umpire. The teams were composed of the following: Sullivan's Team—Sheirdan, 2b; Green, c.; Cooney, 3b.; Perkins, 1b.; Townley, ss.; Fleming, p.; Muldowny, c.f.; Mallison, l.f.; King, r.f. Kane's team—Goff, c.f.; Freeman, 1b.; D. Kane, 2b.; Moran, s.s.; Scott, 3b.; Dunavan, r.f.; Winn, c.f.; Peterson, p.; Erickson, c. The same teams will meet again on Thursday afternoon to play for a stake of $100.

The Plainfield Athletic Club had a game scheduled at Westfield on Saturday, but the Plainfield Athletic Club management received notice this morning that the game would have to be called off on account of some unavoidable circumstance. The Plainfield Athletic Club have arranged a game with a picked nine from the West End, which will be played on the Washington avenue grounds at 3:30 p. m. Jack Freeman will play his first game at second base, having recovered from his sprained leg. Manager Firstbrook has also added to the teams strength by signing Lou Frentz, of Scotch Plains, who will play in the outfield. Winn and Eriksen will be the P. A. C. battery.

FLYING TRIP BY WORDS.

Ernest R. Ackerman's Second Talk on a Trip Around the World.

The second appearance of Ernest R. Ackerman on the lecture platform, last evening, in the First Presbyterian church, when he gave a lecture on "A Trip Around the World," for the benefit of the Sunday-school of that church, was as successful as the first. The lecture was somewhat similar to the other one which formed part of the Star Course of entertainments of the Y. M. C A., but a number of new views added to the interest, and the large audience, that filled the main body of the church, thoroughly enjoyed the evening's entertainment.

Mr. Ackerman took his listeners on a flying trip through the West Indies, South America and Mexico. He then passed up the western coast of the American continent and set sail for the west, stopping at the Sandwich Islands and other interesting places. Brief visits were paid to China and Japan and othes Asiatic countries, including at last Ceylon and India.

Still toward the west, the tour was continued with a glimpse of the Holy Land and neighboring regions, until the visitors were brought back to the land of their home. The lights were turned on and the lecture was over. Mr. Ackerman was accorded hearty applause by the audience.

Chief Doane is to make several tests of the fire alarm box system, tomorrow morning, at 10 o'clock. One round will be sent in from boxes 42, 45, 48 and 49. The whistle has been adjusted and the tests will be held to find out if the whistle is in good working order again.

She Knew Her Business.

That there is honor among thieves is an exploded theory, but that they have an appreciation of sharpness is not denied.

A nicely-dressed young man called at a fashionable residence one afternoon, and asked if the master of the house was at home.

A bright-looking maid responded that he wasn't. The young man then wanted to write a note, and tried to send the maid out of the richly-furnished parlor. She smiled and remained, and, after biting his lip in vexation, the young fellow wrote and sealed the note to the gentleman. This is what the latter read on his return at 2 a. m.:

"Your maid is a Jim dandy. Keep her and you are all right. A Burglar."—Golden Days.

Dog Remembered It Well.

George F. Barton, who died at Green's Hotel on November 1, leaves a $30,000 estate and provides in his will that his executors shall "find a good home for my dog 'Cay,' pay his board and at his death place his body in a box and have him properly buried." The residue of his property is left to relatives.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A LIVING FLY TRAP.

One Old Alligator that Caught about a Million, More or Less, at a Time.

"The big alligator in our menagerie," the old circus man said, "didn't always take his feed very well. Sometimes he wouldn't open his mouth at feeding time, and then we had to resort to strategy. Alligators are very sensitive about the nose. When this alligator wouldn't open his mouth we used to rub the top of his nose very gently. That always made him mad, and he'd throw back his upper jaw like a cellar door on hinges. Then we'd throw a chunk of beef, may be five pounds or so, down his throat, and down would come the cellar door shut again, and he would swallow the beef. In that way we used to give him about twenty-five pounds of beef at a feeding without much difficulty.

"The old alligator was very fond of flies. You might think a fly would be pretty small game for a twelve-foot alligator, and one fly would be; but this old alligator would throw his upper jaw back and go to sleep, apparently. Flies would light around inside the alligator's mouth, just the same as they would anywhere outdoors, and when there was about a million there the alligator would shut his upper jaw down, with the flies all inside. Pretty soon he'd throw the cellar door back and set the trap again."—New York Sun.

"See yar, nigger; doan' yo' go tryin' to play no Napoleon Bonyparte tricks on me," said Mrs. Johnson.

"W w'y, w'ot yo mean by dat, Melindy?" remarked Mr. Johnson.

"W'y, de books say dat feller wus grand, gloomy and peculiar. An' I notice yo' bin actin' de same way lately eb'ry time I ax yo' to bring up a hod ob coal."

"It was a great enterprise," said the enthusiastic manager. "When we opened with that show we had two Uncle Toms, two Little Evas, two Aunt Ophelias and two bloodhounds."

"Yes," replied Mr. Stormington Barnes dreamily, "and $2."—Washington Star.

"Do you love me?" she asked fondly.

"Dearly," he replied.

"Would you die for me?"

"No, my precious one. Mine is an undying love."

The Clown—Say, Bonesy, how did the fat woman come to marry the India-rubber man?

The Living Skeleton—I guess she wanted a husband she could twist around her finger.

BEERBOWER NOT GUILTY

HOTEL KEEPER'S VICTORY OVER THE CHARGES OF THE POLICE.

The Trial Attracted Widespread Attention Yesterday and Was Decided by a Jury of Extraordinary Standing in Community.

After many adjournments, the long expected trial of John E. Beerbower, proprietor of the City Hotel, charged with the illegal sale of whiskey, came up in the City Court yesterday afternoon, and twelve of the best citizens were called to pass judgment on the testimony offered in the case. Considering the high standing of Mr. Beerbower in the community, the prominence of his hotel, and the vigorous defence put up by the defendant, the case was one of the most important that has been tried before City Judge DeMeza since his election to the office of chief magistrate of the city.

The trial was an exciting one and lasted the entire afternoon. The Council Chamber, where the trial was held, was crowded with an interested audience. A jury had been demanded. After listening to the testimony, it needed but ten minutes for the jury to settle on a verdict of not guilty.

During the latter part of March, John E. Beerbower was arrested on the charge of selling whiskey on Sunday. The complaint was made by Chief Grant. The case was laid over from one date until another for various reasons until City Judge DeMeza announced that the trial would take place yesterday afternoon. Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh was present as attorney for the city while Mr. Beerbower was represented by his attorneys, Senator Charles A. Reed and ex-Judge William A. Coddington. Herbert W. Knight, court stenographer for Union county, was present to take a report of the proceedings. City Judge DeMeza presided.

The jury was first empanelled. Sergeant Kiely called the following twelve: John D. Runyon, Edward H Holmes, Joseph D. Spicer, George Burgess, James Smith, Fred H. Andrews, John V. Beekman, Joseph T. Vail, Jos. Sattells, Geo. W. Goddard, Oscar A. Dunham and Chas. H. Herring. Mr. Holmes was the first to be challenged by the defendant's counsel. Leonard Spangenberg was called to fill his place. Mr. Spicer was also peremptorily challenged and his place was filled by Laurens H. VanBuren. Mr. Runyon was challenged for cause and was asked by Senator Reed if he and Mr. Beerbower had not had trouble over some bills. Mr. Runyon admitted that fact and said, after being questioned, that his mind would be biased against Beerbower. After a short controversy Mr. Marsh consented to Mr. Runyon being excused. John VanEps was substituted in his place.

Mr. Beekman was also challenged for cause and a lively wrangle resulted. Mr. Reed objected to him because he was opposed to liquor licenses, but Mr. Beekman declared that such would not affect his judgment and the Judge would not sustain the objection.

Mr. Goddard was peremptorily challenged and his place on the jury was filled by George Belcher. The jury was then sworn by the Sergeant and the trial was ready to begin.

Corporation Counsel then explained that the city intended to prove that on Sunday, March 21st, Mr. Beerbower sold a pint of whiskey personally to Hammond Bowser. The ordinance, calendar, and Mr. Beerboer's licence was then offered in evidence by the agreement of both lawyers.

The city's first witness was Hammond Bowser, a colored man formerly in the employ of Mr. Beerbower. Drawn forth by questions from Mr. Marsh, Bowser's story was that he was at present employed in Asbury Park and that he had been discharged by Mr. Beerbower on March 3d. He said that he met Beerbower on the corner on the afternoon of the 21st and that his former employer had asked him to come over to the hotel. Bowser had gone and then Beerbower had asked him if he wanted to come back and work for him. Bowser declared that he had answered in an indecisive manner and then asked Mr. Beerbower to sell him a pint of whiskey on which to think over the matter. According to the testimony of the colored man, he accompained Beerbower to the bar room where Beerbower sold him the pint of whiskey for twenty-five cents. He told Bowser, so the latter said, to put the bottle in his pocket and not say a word to anybody. He also said that he was afraid that Bowser would give him away by getting drunk, but Bowser promised not to do that.

Bowser next testified that he took the bottle to the office of Chief Grant where he turned it over to that official

GREAT LITERARY MEN.

REV. MR. KEMBEL TALKED ABOUT REILLY AND FIELD.

Described the Personal Characterestics of Each and Something of Their Early Life —Several Selections Creditably Recited.

The members of the Epworth League of the First M. E. church enjoyed an entertainment of real and genuine merit last evening when Rev. Mr. Kembel, pastor of the M. E. church, of Bayonne, gave a talk concerning the works of James Whitcomb Reilly and Eugene Field. Of the two men Mr. Kembel said that their works were the most widely read of the average writings of today. The writers resembled each other somewhat, except as to height. Reilly was short and neat in appearance, while Field was tall and inclined to be careless as to dress. He said Reilly was born a poet with little or no education. He didn't care to study much and his desire to recite led him to write poetry. He started out in life as a sign painter with a patent medicine doctor. The reason for this was that his physician had ordered him to travel for his health and not having a great deal of money he sought the opportunity to travel with the patent medicine man. Later in life he became engaged in newspaper work and it was then that he began to write poetry which has become famous the world over. Mr. Kembel gave several selections from Reilly's works and the audience thoroughly appreciated the selections. Mr. Kembel is an entertaining talker and reader, and he assumed the right dialect for each selection. A very beautiful and pathetic selection was "Little Boy Blue," which Mr. Kembel sang, accompanied by Miss Sharp on the piano; in fact the speaker interspersed his talk with an occasional song which was pleasing.

The last part of the evening was devoted to a sketch of the life of Eugene Field. The many little characteristics that made up the life of Field were given with much force, and frequent applause gave evidence that the audience was appreciative. Mr. Kembel read and recited a number of selections from Field's works, both pathetic and amusing.

The concluding number on the programme was a vocal selection by Miss Jenkins, Miss Lucy Palmer Davis, Robert Davis and Thomas McDonald, accompanied on the piano by Mr. McDonald.

GUILTY OF ABDUCTION.

THE OAK TREE ASSAULT CASE FINSHED N MIDDLESEX COURT.

The Three Young Men Who Carried Off Miss Schumacher in Her Night Dress Are Convicted—Turned State's Evidence.

John McCann and William Tighe were found guilty yesterday morning of abduction by the jury which has been investigating the case of Miss Kate Schumacher, who was dragged from her home at Oak Tree the night of April 2nd by Tighe, McCann and Harry Manson. The last named turned State's evidence and will probably be discharged. Sentence was suspended on Tighe and McCann.

The crime of which Tighe and McCann were convicted was the result of a spree. The three young men drove in a wagon to Oak Tree and forcibly entered the Schumacher home. Noah Schumacher, who tried to keep them out, was knocked down with a heavy kettle. Then Kate Schumacher was carried from her room attired only in a thin night dress. The young men drove away with her in the wagon with them. After they had gone a short distance the wagon was overturned and the men deserted the woman. The next day she was found wandering about the woods near Oak Tree half demented.

George S. Silzer, counsel for the defence, tried to prove that the men did not go to the Schumacher house with the intention of committing crimes Manson made a clean breast of the affair, implicating both Tighe and McCann. The only excuse he offered was intoxication.

Judge Strong in charging the jury told them to consider what their feelings would be if their houses had been entered as Schumacher's was. The jury returned in half an hour with a verdict of guilty.

$3 For His Forgetfulness.

Either the cycling population of this city has learned a lesson or else the strict enforcement of the cycling ordinance is not being observed as formerly, for the offenders of that order that are brought before the City Judge are much less in number than several weeks ago. One plucky man, named B. W. Smith, ventured on the sidewalk in the neighborhood of an officer, and this morning the Judge sentenced him to pay a fine of $3 for his forgetfulness.

THE JUVENILE SHARE.

CHILDREN ARE INTERESTED IN THE COMING FETE CHAMPETRE.

The Young People Will be Permitted to Take Part in the Great Open-Air Affair Both as Performers and as Spectators.

"Keep off the grass, that is the fountain," was the chiding remark of some children, as they saw their companions stepping within a circle, marked out by wooden sticks, on the plot of ground in the rear of the Public Library that has recently come to be known as the City Park. Confiding childhood had such implicit trust in the possibilities of our new park, with its promised fountain, walks and seats, that they talked of the fountain as if it were an accomplished fact. The vision of the children is a sight that the women of the Town Improvement Association are endeavoring to make something more than a dream of the imagination, and the Fete Champetre to be given Saturday afternoon and evening, June 5th, on the grounds of Johnston Park, Mrs. Pierre Malli's country home, will have this object in in view.

The Auxiliary, formed of the children of the city, is a valuable adjunct to the Town Improvement Association, and it is only fitting that children shonld share in the entertainment, both as performers and pleasure-seekers. For the latter, there will be boating on the winding stream and drives in pony carriages, besides the winding of the May pole, at 4 o'clock, by small children under charge of Mrs Louis G. Timpson, and at 5 o'clock older children will continue their "winding way" under charge of Mrs. William L Patten.

That all children may avail themselves of the pretty scene, special tickets have been prepared, price 10 cents each. These will not be for sale at the gate, but can be procured at the homes of Mrs. William L. Patten, 122 West Fifth street, and Mrs. Louis G. Timpson, East Sixth street.

MAINTAINED A NUISANCE.

Another Flagrant Violator of the Health Ordinance Fined.

Another flagrant violator of the ordinances of the Board of Health discovered it to be rather expensive work, this morning. The man in question was Charles McCarty, of 211 Plainfield avenue, who was arraigned before City Judge DeMeza on the charge of violating that ordinance. He had pleaded not guilty and his case came up for trial.

McCarty was complained of by the Inspector of the Board of Health for maintaining a nuisance on his property and for not removing it when ordered to by the Inspector. McCarty said that it was all a lie, with a certain prefix, but the witnesses did not agree with him. He had been given time to get a lawyer, but did not take advantage of the opportunity. He made no defence except to call all the statements of the Inspector lies.

City Judge De Meza decided that McCarty was guilty and made the sentence of the court a fine of $25, or sixty days in jail. McCarty paid the fine.

Tumbled off a Bicycle.

Yesterday afternoon while John VanDyke, of East Front street, was riding his wheel between Millington and Basking Ride, on his way home, the rim of his front wheel collapsed and he was thrown with considerable force over the handle bars of his wheel. For a few minutes he was dazed and and, being alone, there was no one around to assist him. However, he managed to reach a house in the vicinity of where he received proper treatment. His face, hands and body were bruised a great deal and it was with difficulty that he could walk. The wrecked wheel was shipped from Dover to this city and Mr. VanDyke was brought home in a carriage by a friend. He is now confined to his home and it will be several days before he can ride his wheel again.

Many Attractions.

Besides the attraction of drinking tea poured by a full blood Indian maiden, there will be ice cream and cake served by young ladies attired in Indian costumes at the Indian tea to be given under the auspices of the Young Women's Mission Band of Trinity Reformed church in the lecture room of the church next Tuesday evening from 7 to 10 o'clock. An interesting musical programme has also been prepared. An admission fee of ten cents will be charged.

His Tour of Inspection Completed.

Health Inspector Addis has about completed his tour of inspection among the Plainfield homes. He has not yet made his report to the Board of Health. Wherever Mr. Addis finds that a place is not sanitary he immediately takes steps to have it made so.

A NURSERY TALE ACTED.

CINDERELLA PRESENTED BY SEVERAL CLEVER LITTLE PEOPLE.

The Romantic Story of Love and Jealousy Portrayed Before an Audience That was Impressed by the Talent of Performers

Never was a shower more unwelcome than that of yesterday afternoon, beginning just before the time set for the presentation of the good old-fashioned play of "Cinderella" by a club of 12 children called "Willing Workers," at the beautiful home of George W. Goddard, on East Ninth street. Notwithstanding thunder, lightning and rain, however, the spacious hallway facing the drawing-room which was to serve as the stage, was crowded to its utmost.

When the sliding doors were opened the proud sisters of Cinderella, personated by Miss Elsie Goddard and Miss Marjory Fleming, were discovered dressing for a ball. Cinderella, Miss Wilhelmina Patton, is called in to assist, and then left to mend clothing and clean boots for her sisters, while they go off to enjoy themselves. As she weeps over her hard fate, her fairy godmother, Miss Dorothy Fleming, appears, presents her with a ball dress, and sends her to the ball.

The second scene showed the ball in its full glory. The dancers were Cinderella and her sisters, the prince, Master W. Corwin, the Duchess of Rattletrap, Miss Marie Finch, and other ladies and gentlemen of the court, Miss Ida Borsum, Miss Charlotte Finch, Miss Martha Robert, Master Charles Robert, Master Harold Robert, Master Pendleton Rogers.

The prince is very attentive to the unknown beauty, and finally conducts her to her carriage, just before the clock strikes 12. The stage presented a very pretty appearance during this scene, with the court ladies and gentlemen moving about in the back ground, and in the foreground Cinderella in a pale pink gown, and the prince, a veritable stage hero in pale blue cloth, lace, and a blond wig.

In the next scene, Cinderella is at home. Her sisters come in and describe their pleasure and the beautiful stranger. The ball scene of the next night follows, showing the prince more in love than ever. Cinderella does not realize the flight of time, and the clock chimes 12. She flies from the room, dropping a little white shoe, which the prince picks up, as he hurries after her. At the outer gate he finds her, but does not recognize her, as she now wears her everyday appearance. She says she is the servant of some ladies at the ball, and he treats her kindly and sends her home in a carriage, that she may arrive before them and escape a scolding.

In the next scene the proud sisters are discovered at breakfast. They hear the trumpeter of the prince, Master Pendleton Rogers, proclaiming that the prince is searching his kingdom for the owner of the shoe lost the night before, whom he desires to make his wife. Every woman, high or low, must try on the shoe, till the right one is found. The sisters are sure they can wear the shoe, but the prince comes in, they make the test, and, of course, are disappointed. Cinderella is called in, slips on the shoe and produces its mate, after which the fairy godmother appears to see justice done her favorite, the prince claims his bride, and the play ends with a grand ball scene and tableau.

The young actors thoroughly pleased their audience by their knowledge of their parts, the spirited way in which they entered into them, and by their dainty appearance and natural, unaffected manner. Everything went smoothly, and the young Auxiliaries undoubtedly cleared quite a sum for the Children's Home. In their presentation of the play they had the efficient help of Miss Newton as stage manager, and of Mrs. Wm. L. Patton as pianist. The audience included many well-known Plainfield women, and a large number of young people and little children.

The sum of $40 was realized by the entertainment.

More About the "Pink Teas."

Again Adam Beek's "pink teas" obtained new publicity in the city court, this morning, when two of the frequenters of the teas were brought before the City Judge on the charge of fighting on Richmond street, last Sunday morning, while returning from the tea. The offenders were John Staats and George Pize. They pleaded guilty to the charge and their story regarding the famous "teas" at Beek's were substantially the same as those of their companions who were arraigned last Monday morning. The Judge meted out the same judgment to them as he had to the others, a fine of $8 or 25 days in jail. Both paid the fine.

COST TO RUN THE COUNTY

APPROPRIATION MADE BY THE BOARD OF FREEHOLDERS.

The Taxpayers Will Raise $200,000 for the Various Departments—Assets of $22,000 at Present to Be Used During Next Year.

The board of freeholders has decided that there should be levied for taxes for the county government $200,000. There are assets to the amount of $22,000, and by adding that sum to the proposed levy the freeholders believe all the obligations for the coming year can be met, provided they exercise judgment and economy.

This money is to be divided between the several departments as follows: Court, $36,000; county jail, $6,000; coroners, $1,000; election, $17,000; stationery, $3,000; printing and publishing, $2,000; burial of soldiers, $1,200; principal on bonded debt, $27,000; interest on bond, $18,500; interest on temporary bonds, $1,000; hospitals, $5,000; public grounds and buildings, $7,000; bridges, $23,000; county roads, $17,000

The board also decided to acquire the Sheridan House property and the lot adjoining owned by the Hetfield estate. The Sheridan House property will cost $25,000, and the adjoining lot $2,000.

A resolution was adopted directing an issue of $28,000 worth of bonds for the purchase.

County Road Inspector James W. Finck submitted his annual report, showing that during last year $14,003-21 was expended for the county roads. For this expenditure 6¼ miles of road were repaired with 1½ inch stone, 1½ miles top dressed with stone, 15¾ miles of gutter cleaned, and 33 miles of road top dressed with clay.

The board accepted the bond of Collector Wood. The amount is $20,000 and the sureties are John W. Whelan, Meline W. Halsey, John Kean and E C. Woodruff.

A communication from the state superintendent of the New Jersey Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, claimed that the society in Elizabeth has never received from the county the share of the fines in cases of conviction, as provided by law. In other counties the societies have no difficulty in this matter, and the county of Union will be held liable.

Freeholder Roll said he was in favor of the society receiving all its due. It is doing a humane work and is worthy of support. He moved that the matter be referred to the county attorney for an immediate report upon the law involved.

The committee appointed to confer with the Somerset county board in reference to line bridges at Watchung and Sycamore avenues in Plainfield, recommended that the bridges be constructed at a cost not to exceed $8,500 to the county of Union.

Director Hubbard said he was sorry it would be necessary to build two new brides this year, but it could not be avoided. The streets were opened and the law requires the county to build the bridges.

AN ACTION FOR SLANDER.

EDWIN NEAL SAY MISS ANNA SHERMAN CALLED HIM A THIEF.

Mrs. Sherman Was a Victimized Person in the Thieving Raids and She Told the Police That Neil Was the Man Seen by Her.

During the burglar scare in the West End, there was a rumor current that a certain resident of Clinton avenue had been seen in one of the houses and had been identified as the burglar. The man whose name was coupled with such ugly rumors was naturally indignant. He was able to prove that on the night in question, he was far away from the scene of the burglary and had nothing to do with it.

The woman whom he alleges started these rumors about him is Mrs. Anna Sherman, of 1307 Astor place. She declared, he states, that when she was awakened from her sleep by the noise of a strange man moving about the room, she was able to recognize the burglar by the faint light as Edwin Neil, of Clinton avenue. The story gained rapid credence and it is alleged that the police visited Mr. Neil's house to learn the truth of the statement.

Mr. Neil declared it is his intention of learning who started the rumor which has sadly reflected on his character and citizenship. He claimed that it was originated by Mrs. Sherman herself and he has started proceedings in the district court of Union county in a suit for slander. Monday, the case comes up for trial and the developments in the suit are looked forward to with much interest by the residents of the West End and all other citizens as well.

The suit is brought for $200. The plaintiff is represented in the case by Senator Frederick C. Marsh, while the defendant has retained City Judge DeMeza as her counsel.

A SHORT CUT TO DEATH.

A PLAINFIELD WOMAN KILLED AT WESTFIELD LAST NIGHT.

Mrs. Jacob Schleif Was Walking Along the Track to Save Time When She Was Struck by a Freight Train—Died in Half an Hour.

Mrs. Jacob Schleif, aged 23 years, whose home is at 319 West Front street, was struck by a freight train on the Central Railroad, near the Westfield station at 9:15 o'clock last night, and died half an hour afterward in terrible agony.

She went from this city to Westfield on the train, to visit a relative, who lives on North avenue, Westfield. The house is only a few feet from the railroad tracks, and as it was late when the woman alighted from the train, she decided to walk up the track in order to save time. A short distance from the station she was struck by west bound freight train number 411.

Ten minutes later another train passed on the same track and the trainmen discovered the body lying near the track. One leg was nearly severed from the body, and the skull was badly crushed. Physicians were summoned and she was taken to her relative's house. Little could be done by the doctors in her behalf, however, except to attempt to alleviate her suffering. She died at 10 o'clock in agony.

Jacob Schleif, the husband of the dead woman, is a baker doing business on Park avenue, in this city. He is now ill in Muhlenberg Hospital, and his wife had been to visit him yesterday and had then left to spend the night with relatives in Westfield.

Schleif has not yet been informed of his wife's death, as it is feared that his strength is not sufficient to bear the shock.

HEAVY SENTENCES.

Italian Assailants Sentenced in Somerville Yesterday.

Antonio Pivorotti, the Italian who nearly murdered his wife with an axe last winter in Raritan and who pleaded guilty to a charge of atrocious assault and battery with intent to kill, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Bartine to ten years in State prison, the full extent of the law.

Antonio Macacio, who fractured the skull of Robert Bruno, at Rocky Hill, was sentenced to State prison for seven years.

A Friend Found at Last.

In searching the effects of Mrs. Martha Evans, the woman found dead in a cell in the police station, Thursday night, Chief Grant came across the address of Mrs. Tyler, who conducts an employment agency at 342 Sixth avenue, New York. This morning the Chief visited Mrs. Tyler and learned that she knew the dead woman. She said Mrs. Evans was an English woman and was a widow. She had no friends in this country.

Mrs. Tyler ordered the Chief to see that the body was interred in a respectable manner, as the dead woman carried a small insurance and that could be used to pay the expenses.

This afternoon the Chief expects to get word as to where the remains shall be taken.

Youth and Age.

Young people have a dread of becoming old, and yet they recklessly incur one of the worst attributes of old age by indifference in the care of their eyes. Remember that youth in old age is best assured by care of the sight, and that the correct method of doing this is explained to you by a free examination at Collier's.

Interred in This City.

Undertaker Cole received the body of Mrs. Colutet, nee Miss Louise Giles, which was brought to this city from Garfield, Essex county, yesterday afternoon. Interment was in Hillside cemetery, and Rev. Dr. Rodman officiated. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends at the grave.

—The proper thing just now in belts can be found at Peck's.

—Workmen, under the direction of Street Commissioner Gavett, are today cutting down the roadbed on Washington street, between East Second and East Third streets, to the proper grade.

—A meeting of Miantonomoh Tribe, Improved Order of Red Men, was held last evening. The entertainment committee made its report and told something of the treat in store at the entertainment on Monday evening.

—A young man, whose name is not known, fell down the stairway in front of VanSickle's butcher shop last night and was severely cut. He was under the influence of liquor at the time and stumbled headfirst down the opening. "Tony" Lusardi, the fruit dealer, assisted by two or three other men, succeeded in getting the man out of his trouble, after which he was sent home.

TO DISCUSS TARIFF.

Republican Members Will Hold a Caucus to Consider It.

TO RECONCILE SOME DIFFERENCES.

The Principal Object Is to Agree Upon a Plan For the Limitation of Debate—Programme as Far as Arranged.

Washington, May 22.—The Republican senators will hold a caucus Monday after the adjournment of the senate to consider various questions in connection with the tariff bill. The first effort will be to devise plans to expedite the consideration of the bill, and there will also be an attempt to reconcile differences of opinion as to the merits of some features of the bill. Some of the schedules are objectionable to many of the senators, and the suggestion has been made that it is advisable to settle such differences in caucus rather than in the open senate.

The principle object of the caucus, however, is to agree upon a plan for the limitation of the time for debate, and under the present rules it is recognized that this can only be done by mutual consent. What the tariff leaders will first attempt is to secure an agreement among Republican senators to restrain any desire they may have for general speeches and thus throw the responsibility for whatever delay may occur upon the opposition.

So far as agreed upon, the programme is to have Senator Aldrich make his statement on Monday or Tuesday of next week and to follow this by immediately taking up the schedules and making no other set speeches on the Republican side of the senate. If this plan could be indorsed by a caucus, it would of course be materially strengthened. This agreement may be to prevent some amendments of the bill, but the advocates of the caucus plan believe these changes may be secured in caucus and the work expedited.

There are now indications that the debate may not be so greatly prolonged as at first seemed probable. The Democrats, Populists and silver Republicans all aver that they will consume no unnecessary time with speeches. The Democrats profess to be especially anxious that there should be no delay.

The Democrats will also hold a caucus soon to decide upon a line of action with reference to the tariff, especially upon the subjects of amendments. A Democratic member of the finance committee expressed the opinion that a month would be sufficient time for debate. A number of wool commission men from Philadelphia were at the capitol, seeing members of the finance committee to secure a revocation of the committee's action in lowering the rates on first and second class wools. They say that the increase on third class wools will be of no benefit and that the reduction on higher grades will work very serious mischief to the wool interests.

Roosevelt's Inspection.

Washington, May 22.—Assistant Secretary Roosevelt has returned to Washington from a visit of inspection to the Norfolk navy yard and the shipbuilding works of the Newport News company. The primary purpose of Mr. Roosevelt was to look into complaints that had been rather numerous of violation of the spirit of the labor employment rules in the navy yard. Like the complaints that had been made in the case of the Brooklyn navy yard, the assistant secretary found that in only a very few cases was there any substantial foundation for complaint, and even these will require further consideration before judgment can be passed upon their sufficiency. As to the yard generally the conditions were excellent, and such discontent as manifested itself among the workmen is attributed to the fact that owing to the lack of money and work it has been found necessary to make heavy reductions in the force of workmen. When a force of 2,000 men is reduced suddenly to about 600 it is no matter of surprise, in the view of the assistant secretary, that the unfortunates who are dismissed should feel that they have been discriminated against. Another similarity to the complaints made in the case of the Brooklyn navy yard was that the bulk of the Norfolk complaints are as to discharges made since the present administration came into power. Mr. Roosevelt spent a day in the examination of the plant of the Newport News Shipbuilding company and was much pleased with the character of the work being done for the navy in that yard as well as with the rapidity with which it is being prosecuted.

NOTED CROOK CAUGHT

Arrested In London, He Is Recognized as a Notorious Forger.

LED A REGULAR CRIMINAL'S LIFE.

Some Interesting Facts Connected With the Career of the Man In Custody on the Other Side of the Atlantic.

New York, May 22.—Captain O'Brien, chief of detectives in this city, has received a communication from the assistant commissioner of police at Scotland Yard, London, telling of the arrest there for shop breaking of a man who gave his name as Edward Simpson. He was sentenced to six months at hard labor.

The communication also contained a photograph of the prisoner, which was recognized by Captain O'Brien as that of the notorious forger, Charles Fisher, who is wanted here for the robbery of United States mail boxes and who escaped from the Cincinnati jail, where he was incarcerated pending his trial, in November, 1895.

There is a reward of $1,000 for his arrest by the postoffice authorities and another reward by the authorities of Cincinnati. His picture is 1,461 in the Rogues' gallery in this city.

Fisher, who is also known under the names of Purdy, Foutain and Palmer, is one of the most notorious criminals in this country. He has not only carried on his operations here, but he has been arrested in almost every country in Europe.

His arrest in London is considered a most important one, as he is one of the last two of a gang of robbers which caused the police authorities all over this country no end of trouble.

The other man wanted now is John McCarthy, alias Brooklyn Jimmy, who is still at large.

Fisher was the leader of the gang in this country who made it their business to duplicate the keys of mail boxes in cities all over the country, abstract checks from letters and secure the cash from them. It is estimated by the police that the amount of money realized by the gang by this method foots up to more than $100,000.

Began a Life of Crime.

Fisher began his criminal career as a boy, when he was sent to the house of refuge for stealing. He was born in 1859, and after he served his time in the house of refuge he started on the career that has made him world notorious.

In 1879 he was arrested for grand larceny and sentenced to 2½ years in prison. Soon after he was released he went to Chicago, where he was arrested with a gang of forgers, but was released because he turned state's evidence against his colleagues. In 1885 he was arrested in Boston coming out of a bank, but was released because no evidence could be obtained against him that he had done anything wrong. He was next arrested in this city and sentenced to 10 years in prison for passing a forged check. He was released in 1892.

It was while Fisher was serving this long term that he concocted the scheme organizing the gang to rob letter boxes. Fisher was at the head of the gang, which comprised Robert Wallace, William Hartley, Billy Hamilton, Barney Kelly, William G. Wheeler, Johnny Tobin, John McCarthy, alias Brooklyn Jimmy, and a well known shoplifter known as Sheeney Rachel.

The gang began its operations in the east and went from city to city all over the country, making duplicate keys to letter boxes, taking out the letters and abstracting the checks. Fisher always did the forging by indorsements of the names of men to whom the checks were made out.

Fisher, Hartley and Wallace were arrested in Baltimore on June 26, 1895, and while they were under arrest Hamilton, Kelly and Wheeler were arrested in this city by Captain O'Brien and Detective McCauley while in the act of robbing a mail box. Captain O'Brien got a confession from Wheeler at that time, and he implicated the men under arrest at Baltimore.

Hartley and Wallace were taken from Baltimore to Stillwater, Minn., where they were wanted for a forgery of a $1,100 check on the Northwestern bank of that city, and Fisher was taken to Cincinnati, where he was wanted for robbing mail boxes. In his pockets were found a number of keys which were duplicates of those to the Cincinnati boxes, and while he was awaiting trial there he made his escape and has been hunted for ever since.

Wallace and Hartley were sentenced to six years each at Stillwater for the crime they had committed there.

The three men arrested in this city were also convicted and sentenced to terms of imprisonment.

Tobin was arrested as a burglar while attempting to rob a doctor's house in this city and was sent away, and Sheeney Rachel was arrested and sent to prison for shoplifting. The only two at large were McCarthy and Fisher, and the arrest of Fisher makes the last of the gang at large Brooklyn Jimmy.

Captain O'Brien has communicated with the postoffice authorities and they will communicate with the Scotland yard authorities. When Fisher has served his sentence out in London he will be brought back to this country to stand trial for his crimes here.

Doings of Railway Trainmen.

Toronto, May 22.—In the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen's convention two important changes were made in legislation. The first reduced the age of admittance from 21 years to 18 years, and the second made a trainman eligible for admission after six months' service instead of one year as heretofore. The latest city to ask for the next convention is Peoria, Ills. The mayor and council have telegraphed the trainmen an invitation to meet there and in addition to the usual inducements offer them free transportation from Chicago and St. Louis by special trains. Atlanta and New Orleans are also fighting for the convention.

Wine From a Wreck.

New York, May 22.—The wrecking steamer I. J. Merritt arrived at the Merritt wrecking station, Stapleton, N. Y., with the barge Henry Seymour in tow, bringing a portion of the cargo, consisting of wine, from the ship Francis, which took fire and was beached May 8 at Little Egg harbor inlet.

The Pimples
That Bloom in
The Spring

At no other season are Pimples and Humors so abundant or so annoying as in the Spring.

An unseasonably warm day, before change of winter clothing, heats the blood, and these Pimples and Humors itch and burn, and their annoyance, the suffering they cause, is known only to those afflicted.

At no time is a blood purifying medicine more effective than just before and during this season.

If your blood is not right (and whose is?) you are liable to be one of these sufferers this Spring.

A course of Hood's Sarsaparilla begun now and faithfully pursued will save you suffering and give you rugged health, so that you can thoroughly enjoy all the pleasures of the coming summer.

Pimples on the Face.

"I have been troubled for three years with pimples on my face and body. I tried several remedies with only temporary relief. I am now taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and it is doing me a wonderful amount of good. My general health is greatly improved, and I feel very thankful for what Hood's Sarsaparilla has already done for me." MISS JANE JABROSKY, Burnham, Illinois.

A Clear Complexion.

"I have had a bad complexion owing to impure blood. I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and my skin is now clear. Hood's Sarsaparilla has done me much good by purifying my blood." ANNIE D. MCCOY, Watsonton, Pennsylvania.

Boils, Blotches, Sores, Pimples.

"I have been afflicted for many years with impure blood, which manifested itself in erysipelas, boils, blotches, sores and pimples. I have used many medicines and found Hood's Sarsaparilla to be the best. I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all who are affected with impure blood." ISAAC P. MARTIN, Walnut Hill, Ill.

Annoyed by Eruptions.

"I had eruptions caused by impure blood and at times they were very annoying. I was treated by physicians without benefit, and last winter I took a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and found it helped me. I kept on until I had taken five bottles, and I am no longer annoyed with eruptions." W. R. HUDSON, Natrona, Pa.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.
(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. MISSING PROPERTY FOUND.

Discovered by Detectives While Searching For a Missing Man.

Attleboro, Mass., May 22.—Detective Riopelle of Montreal and local officers have located nearly $1,000 worth of property at Hebronville that has been missing from Montreal for several weeks. Some time since Francis Xavier Gervais, formerly a dry goods merchant at 136 St. Lawrence street, Montreal, was reported as missing.

Prior to his disappearance it is alleged that he secured from Alfred Raves, a jeweler on Notre Dame street, Montreal, jewelry valued at over $400, for which he tendered a 30 day note, which has not been met, and from other merchants other goods.

On March 30 a piano was shipped to Hebronville from Montreal, and by that shipment detectives got track of the property. They expected to find the missing man here, but instead located two of his sons. In their possession was found the property. The jewelry was seized and taken back to Canada by the detectives.

HOT SPANISH BLOOD.

Personal Violence In the Senate Chamber at Madrid.

THEY DISCUSSED AMERICAN AFFAIRS.

The Commotion Arising Was So Great That the Sitting of the Senate Was Suspended Amid Tumultuous Uproar.

Madrid, May 22.—In the Spanish senate there was a heated and tumultuous debate on the resolution of Senator Morgan passed by the United States senate, and the debate here was followed by an excited discussion in the lobbies. This led to a dispute between the Duke of Tetuan, the minister for foreign affairs, and a Liberal senator, which ended in the duke boxing the senator's ears. A great commotion ensued, and the sitting of the senate was suspended.

The Liberal minority afterward held a meeting to consider the situation, and ex-Premier Sagasta, the Liberal leader, was summoned to confer with his followers.

An urgent message was also sent to the premier, Senor Canovas del Castillo, by the Ministerialists.

The Duke of Tetuan, minister of foreign affairs, has resigned as a result of the incident in the senate when he boxed the ears of Senator Comas.

Senor Canovas, the premier, will take the portfolio ad interim.

The Liberal senators have decided to attend no more sessions of the senate until full satisfaction has been accorded Senator Comas and the Liberal party by the Duke of Tetuan.

Senor Moret y Prendergast, former minister, asked the government on behalf of the Liberals in the chamber of deputies to submit all the papers relating to the rebellion in Cuba and to the diplomatic relations of Spain with the powers.

Blames American Papers.

Senor Canovas, the premier, replying, said the government could only attach credit to such information as was sent by Captain General Weyler. He severely blamed the American newspapers for disseminating false news and cited as a point recent statements attributed to Consul General Lee.

The premier said: "Spain's relations with other powers continue cordial, but the advice which the Americans are offering us as to Cuba cannot be followed, because Spain will never accept any intervention in a matter which peculiarly concerns herself. The documents which have been asked for would only refer to this advice. The government has accepted full responsibility for everything which has been done by Captain General Weyler."

Senor Moret y Prendergast asked if it were true that the United States senate had recognized the belligerency of the Cuban insurgents.

The premier replied that the report to this effect was not a surprise to him, as it was a question of creating more difficulties for President McKinley in connection with the tariff bill but, he said, he believed President McKinley, like Mr. Cleveland, would decide for himself in such a matter.

In the course of his reply to the interpellation, Senor Canovas said that the exchanges of opinion between Spain and the other European powers on the subject of Cuba had always been unofficial. The powers had shown great reserve in defining their views, and this attitude had led the government to believe that they were unwilling to offer any effective intervention between Spain and the United States. The exchange of views had been friendly, but Spain had refused the proffered mediation.

The guarded tone adopted by the premier in reference to the belligerency vote of the senate has made a profound impression, but the general opinion in the lobbies is that President McKinley and Secretary Sherman will not allow the senate to drive them into conflict with Spain.

David and James Ballard and Alonzo Smith were each sentenced to the penitentiary for 12 years and William Reid and James Corbett to eight years. The Ballards were the leaders of the gang, and it was proved against them that they had caused at least a dozen fires and had collected many thousand dollars insurance money.

Boston, May 22.—General A. P. Martin, chairman of the board of police commissioners, has resigned the presidency of the Pearl Hill Lithia company. He had formerly resigned the presidency of the Fremont Mining company. These are the two companies upon which most stress was laid before Governor Wolcott and council at the recent investigation of General Martin's actions in engaging in business outside of his office.

COST OF EDUCATION.

The average cost per pupil of maintaining the public schools of New Jersey for 1893 was $9.59. The counties exceeding this average were the following: Bergen, $15.03; Essex, $11.79; Ocean, $11.25; Sussex, $10.89; Union, $10.80; Monmouth, $10.74; Camden, $10.60; Gloucester, $10.39; Hunterdon, $9.62. Here are the average salaries paid to female school teachers in a number of towns: Somerville, $450; North Plainfield, $480; Orange, $509; Westfield, $575; Cranford, $521; Morristown, $586; Bloomfield, $537.70; Rutherford, $600. These figures naturally do not give a fair idea of the individual salaries because one or two highly paid persons in a small town raise the average considerably. But it should be laid down as a settled principle that money saved by paying school teachers less than they earn is the poorest kind of economy. A good teacher is not merely a machine to communicate her knowledge to the children; she should have such qualities of mind and heart as will enable her to wield a powerful influence for good on pupils at their most susceptible age, and to get and retain the services of the right kind of teachers fair compensation should be paid.—New York Tribune.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore equires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manu'actured by F. J. THE SUNDAY-SCHOOL HOUR.

An Important Contemplated Change by the Congregationalists.

The teachers of the Sunday-school of the Congregational church gathered at the home of their superintendent, Joseph A. Robinson, of East Fifth street, last evening, and made plans for the summer and discussed others for the betterment of the condition of the school.

It was decided to unite with the First Presbyterian Sunday school for an excursion to Asbury Park about July 15th. The most important question that called for an answer was the changing of the hour of meeting during the summer months. It has been the custom of the Sunday-school for several years to hold its session directly at the close of the morning church service, continuing from 12 to 1 o'clock. Several of the teachers favored a different arrangement this year and it was finally decided that the session of the Sunday-school should be held before church, beginning at 9:30 o'clock.

The success of a rallying day in the fall, as shown last year, decided all in favor of holding another this fall to end the morning session period. The date was not decided upon. The change to the morning session of the Sunday-school will begin after Children's Day, which is the second Sunday in June.

A very novel review service was proposed for the next review Sunday, and it was decided to hold the proposed service on the evening of that Sunday and hold a missionary service in the afternoon.

after making a special mark in the cork which he could identify. He also said that he could identify the bottle by the number which was blown into the bottom. The number was 179 S. Grant produced the bottle at this point and Bowser identified it as the one he had secured from Beerbower. Grant, he said, had paid for the whiskey, but he did not expect any compensation for giving this evidence, but was doing it to get even with Beerbower.

Then began the cross-examination by Senator Reed. There were numerous wrangles between the attorneys and the audience was kept smiling by the sarcastic remarks of one and the other. Under cross-examination, Bowser said that he did not know that the complainant received half of the fine. Senator Reed then asked him if he had not told Margaret Buckley that he only made the complaint to get square and that he expected to get the half of the fine and go to Philadelphia and marry a girl and sport all the summer. The witness admitted that he did have ill feeling against Mr. Beerbower, but that he had never made the alleged remark. To Noah W. Pike he admitted having said that Beerbower had done him and now he was going to try to do Beerbower. He denied having told Tommy Timbo that he was sorry that he had made the complaint and that there was no truth in it. In reply to a question, he said that he had purchased the beer sometime between two and three o'clock.

Chief Grant was next sworn and testified that he had received the bottle, which he produced, on March 21st and that he had kept it in his desk every since. There was a lively battle between the counsel as to whether Chief Grant was capable to knowing whether it was whiskey in the bottle. The Chief had said that it was, according to his opinion. At last, Thomas Armstrong, chemist, was brought and testified that the contents of the bottle was whiskey. Grant, in answer to a juror's question, said that he had received the bottle from Bowser at 7 o'clock. Bowser was called back and explained that he had called at the Chief's office three times that day before he found him. At this point the city rested its case.

Ex-Judge Coddington made the introductory statement for the defence, saying it would be brief, denying the sale and showing that it was merely an attempt made in spite. Senator Reed asked for a verdict for his client at this point, claiming that there had not been sufficient proof advanced but the Judge denied the motion.

Mr. Beerbower was first sworn in his own defence. He said that he might have seen Bowser on the day in question, bnt that he did not sell him anything. He testified that Bowser was in the habit of running away when in his employ and that he was compelled to chide him for it. He had warned him and on March 3d discharged him. He said that one week day he had asked Bowser to help him out for the day as he was short handed in the dining room. He didn't remember whether Bowser ever asked to buy any whiskey on Sunday, neither did he remember whether Bowser was around the hotel on the day in question. He was completely ignorant, he said, of the marks on the bottom of the bottles. At this stage, Mr. Marsh offered in evidence a reference for Bowser which stated him to be perfectly honest and which Beerbower admitted having signed after he discharged him.

Bar Tender Davis, of the City Hotel, testified that it was the usual custom of Bowser to buy a bottle or two of whiskey on Saturday evenings.

Margaret Buckley, a dishwasher at the hotel, said that Bowser had said to her that he intended to get even with the boss by buying two bottles of beer on Saturday evening and then claiming that he bought them on Sunday and that with half of the fine he was going to Philadelphia to sport for the summer and get married. On cross-examination, she said that she had only told two women of what he had said.

Noah W. Pike objected to taking an oath but affirmed that Bowser had said that he had made the cemplaint through malice. Mr. Marsh said that he did not believe Bowser knew what the word meant and Bowser declared that he did not.

According to the testimony of Tommy Timbo, Bowser told him that he had bought the whiskey on Saturnight and showed it on Sunday. Here the defence rested their case. Senator Reed asked for a verdict of not guilty and was again refused.

The case was summed up in two eloquent speeches by Senator Reed and Mr. Marsh, and then the Judge charged the jury very impartially. After being out ten minutes the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty and the prisoner was discharged.

LINCOLN.

Quite a surprise was given the residents this morning when Richard Donnelly, superintendent of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, Shreve Ackley, suburban agent for the above company, and a number of the railroad officials stopped at this hustling little town. They came to consider the advisability of erecting a station at this place on the line of the railroad, and after due deliberation they decided to erect a suitable station and to have the same completed by Decoration Day. It will be opened on that day and the trains on the above road will stop here in accordance with a new schedule to go into effect at that time. Mr. Drake, the very much alive hustler, is pleased with the decision for he wants to give the residents the best service possible.

PIKE'S PEAK'S GREAT TUNNEL.

To be Completed in Seven Years and Cost $20,000,000.

Two gangs of workmen have begun digging in Colorado the longest tunnel which man ever attempted to construct. The main bore will be twenty miles long, and, connecting with this are subsidiary tunnels with a total length of thirty miles. So, in reality the task that has been put under way is that of digging fifty miles of tunnels, and every foot of this vast system will be under Pike's Peak and the mountains that tower on each side.

The starting point of the main tunnel is at the foot of the mountain leading up to Pike's Peak, near the old town of Colorado City. This point is but a short distance from the railroads which span the country between Colorado Springs and Manitou. Two gangs of men, as stated, are working on the tunnel, one at each end. Just at present they are making progress at the rate of 30 feet a day. It is believed that the mammoth task they have undertaken will be completed in seven years.

The main tunnel will pass directly under the cone of Pike's Peak at a depth of nearly 7,000 feet, and 2,700 feet beneath the town of Victor. Its average depth from the surface will be 2,800 feet, and it is designed to test the mineral deposits of the territory at these great depths. Thirty miles of laterals are contemplated, and these will pass underneath all the Cripple Creek district at an average depth of 2,800 feet. Cripple Creek, Victor, Gillette, the various small towns and a thousand mines are to be made tributary to this vast system of subterranean passages.

Under present circumstances the distance—the shortest way—from Colorado Springs to Cripple Creek is fifty miles. By way of the tunnel the two cities will be only sixteen miles apart.

A feature of the transportation system of the tunnel as it is planned is that electric locomotives will be the power before the freight trains. The tunnel will, of course, be lighted by electricity.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

QUEEN AND PRIMA-DONNA.

Tact Shown by Jenny Lind When the Situation was Embarrassing.

There is a pretty story told of Queen Victoria and Jenny Lind. It belongs to the year 1848, and shows how the modesty of two women, the Queen of England and the queen of song, caused a momentary awkwardness which the gentle tact of the singer overcame. It was on the night when Jenny Lind was to sing at Her Majesty's Theatre that the Queen made her first public appearance after the memorable Chartist day. For the great artiste, too, this was a first appearance, for it was the beginning of a season at a place where, the year before, she had won unparalleled fame. It happened that the Queen entered the royal box at the same moment that the prima-donna stepped upon the stage. Instantly a tumult of acclamation burst from every corner of the theatre. Jenny Lind modestly retired to the back of the stage, waiting till the demonstration of loyalty to the sovereign should subside. The Queen, refusing to appropriate to herself that which she imagined to be intended for the artiste, made no acknowledgment. The cheering continued, increased, grew overwhelming, and still there was no acknowledgment from either the stage or the royal box. At length, when the situation became embarrassing, Jenny Lind, with ready tact, ran forward to the footlights and sang "God Save the Queen," which was caught up at the end of the solo by the orchestra, chorus, and audience. The Queen then came to the front of her box and bowed, and the opera was resumed.

Big Profits From the Porcupine.

Porcupine quills are a necessary of life to anglers, for they make excellent floats for bottom-fishing. Also scores of penholders are made from the black and white spikes, and many kinds of ornamental screens and fans are pieced and knitted of these quills.

Something like two million porcupine quills reach Britain every year, and they chiefly come from India, also a few from Spain. The animal has to be hunted and killed before the quills can be obtained, and many hundreds of porcupines are slain for this purpose every year. The quills are carefully extracted and dried, packed in crates, and shipped away to Europe, where they are used for all manner of things in the way of tackle and ornamentation. A porcupine is always worth killing, for every "spike-pig" carries ten shillings worth of quills on his fretful back.

The Prince not Nervous.

Nervousness is a thing with which the Prince of Wales is but little afflicted. Once at a scientific carnival while Dr. Playfair was showing the Prince and his party round, they came to a big vat of chemicals, which were hissing and fizzing away in a very forbidding fashion. The Prince seemed much interested in this. Dr. Playfair asked the Prince to dip his fingers in the liquid. There was a titter and some dismay among those who heard; but the Prince, having looked the doctor straight in the face, put his hand into the hissing caldron, and found the liquid as cold as ice. The explanation was that some chemicals, when they boil, give out cold instead of heat.—Tid-Bits.

"I really think that the 'bike' was the cause of MacNab marrying Miss Smithers."

"That's odd."

"Not at all. You see, they were thrown so much in each other's society."

YOUR BUILDINGS

will look a hundred times better, last many years longer, and fetch a higher price in case you wish to sell if you keep them well and handsomely painted. A fine coat of paint is like a dress suit, and puts a building in proper shape for show. Nothing pays better than keeping a house up. It costs something to build and paint is a cheap preservative.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt, as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drives will receive your work.

MURDERED IN HIS STORE.

A German Storekeeper Shot by a Supposed Insane Man.

New York, May 22.—John Sauerbrei, who kept a delicatessen store at 666 avenue D, Bayonne, N. J., was shot and killed in his place of business today by James Marks, a painter of Newark, who is supposed to be insane. Sauerbrei died on his way to the hospital, after identifying the man who shot him.

Marks' father at one time owned the business conducted by Sauerbrei, selling out to the latter. The son wanted to get the business back and has been threatening to do mischief for some months past. This morning he walked into the store and ordered Sauerbrei out. On the storekeeper's refusal to leave Marks drew a revolver and fired two shots, one bullet taking effect in Sauerbrei's left breast. There were no witnesses, and after his arrest Marks declared that Sauerbrei attacked him with a knife, and he shot him in self defense.

The prisoner was by far the coolest of any one having any connection with the tragedy until he was told the storekeeper was dead. Then he became very much agitated, and said he did not mean to kill the man. He was remanded by Justice Neill for the coroner's jury.

The murdered man leaves a widow and three children.

The total number of inmates cared for in these institutions is 2,336.

Queen Victoria Opens a Town Hall.

Sheffield, May 22.—Queen Victoria, accompanied by Princess Christian of Schleswig-Holstein and the Duke of Connaught, arrived here to open the new town hall. The city was gaily decorated and all work suspended. Prior to the opening ceremony the queen and the royal party drove through the city, and her majesty received addresses from the municipal corporation, the guilds of the city and numerous societies, reviewed a procession of 50,000 children of the public schools and witnessed the operation of rolling armor plate at the Cyclops works. Her majesty was in the city about two hours and then proceeded to Balmoral castle. The queen was apparently in excellent health.

Accident on Welland Canal.

St. Catherins, Ont., May 22.—The first serious accident on the Welland canal this season occurred when the steam barge J. H. Outhwaite crashed into the head gates of lock 7. The collision forced the gates open, but the force of the water in the 1½ mile level above caused them to rebound. The right gate was forced back before the left, the water rushed through the opening and tore the big gates from their fastenings and carried them away. The water broke over both banks, tearing them out outside of the stone work, and, rushing over the lands as far as the city limits, did much damage. Navigation will be resumed in two or three days.

Struck by a Cable Car.

Washington, May 22.—Representative Thomas G. Tongue of Oregon was struck by a cable car and painfully injured near the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Sixth street. He received a number of severe cuts and bruises. Mr. Tongue has just returned from a trip with a number of senators and representatives to Charlottesville and Monticello. He was taken to Providence hospital, where it was found he had sustained a cut on the left cheek and another over the left eye.

Death of Father Kneipp.

London, May 22.—A dispatch to The Daily Chronicle from Paris says that Father Kneipp, well known throughout the world through his water cure, is dead. He had been suffering for some days from inflammation of the lungs and received the last sacraments of the church a week ago at Worishofen, Suabia. Subsequently, however, he rallied, and it was thought early in the week that he would recover.

The Boston Police Troubles.

Boston, May 22.—General Augustus P. Martin, police commissioner, has resigned from the presidency of the Fremont Gold Mining company, and George T. Bosson succeeds him. This indicates that General Martin will resign other offices held by him, and it is probably brought about by the recent investigation of his commissionership.

The Davis Will Case.

San Francisco, May 22.—A will declared to be a forgery and discovered in the urn containing the ashes of the testator's dead wife is one of the sensational features that will be presented in the contest over the estate of the late Jacob Z. Davis, the San Francisco millionaire, philanthropist and patron of arts and sciences.

VIOLATING THE TRUCE

Both Greeks and Turks Charged With Bad Faith.

MOSLEMS ACCUSED OF OUTRAGES.

Embassadors of the Powers Still at Work on the Peace Stipulations—They Declare That Thessaly Must Be Retained by Greece.

London, May 22.—A dispatch to The Daily Mail from Berlin says The Post publishes a telegram from Salonika asserting that in spite of the armistice a Greek warship has fired upon and sunk a vessel flying the Turkish flag. Five of the crew were drowned.

The Athens correspondent of The Daily Telegraph says:

"Small bodies of the Turkish right wing in Thessaly have advanced toward the village of Divri. This is a flagrant breach of the armistice.

"The Turks have also pillaged the estate of the heirs of Photiades Pasha, late Christian governor of Crete, near Sofalis, taking away 38 wagon loads of furniture, burning dwellings, violating women and committing many other acts of pillage and outrage."

Fixing Terms of Peace.

Constantinople, May 22.—The embassadors are still waiting instructions from their respective governments as to the capacity in which they are to act when presenting the note which it is understood will be presented within the next 24 hours, whether as advisers or as negotiators.

It is understood that the powers will consent to the demand of the Turkish government that the gulfs of Volo and Arta be opened for the revictualing of the Turkish troops and that peace negotiations will be conducted here.

The note, it is asserted, will refuse to permit the abolition of the capitulations in the case of Greek subjects or the annexation of Thessaly to Turkey, but will consent to a strategic rectification of the frontier and to an indemnity of not exceeding 115,000,000 francs.

White Flags In Both Armies.

Athens, May 22.—A dispatch from Lamia says that white flags have been hoisted along the lines of both armies and that the Crown Prince Constantine has formally announced the armistice to his troops.

In spite of the armistice the Turks have advanced to Daitza and occupied and fortified several positions. The government has formally protested against this.

It is said that the Turks are pillaging and burning in all parts of Thessaly.

The boule will be convoked as soon as the terms of peace have been arranged.

Strike of Italian Laborers.

Boston, May 22.—A special to The Globe from Portsmouth, N. H., says: Fifty Italian laborers employed on the new government fortifications at Newcastle struck for increased wages. The men have been receiving $1.20 per day and were paid off yesterday. The men assert that they have been overworked and that the manner in which the blasting of the ledge is conducted is hazardous to their lives. During the short time that the work has been in progress several workmen have been injured by premature explosions.

Graded Tax Law Vetoed.

Albany, May 22.—Governor Black has vetoed the Dudley graduated inheritance tax bill, which was passed by the last legislature. The measure was introduced to carry out State Comptroller James A. Roberts' ideas upon the question and was suggested by him as a means to tax personal property at the death of its owner. The action of Governor Black was not unexpected, as it was announced several days ago that the measure did not meet his approval.

Incendiary Fires In Vermont.

Brattleboro, Vt., May 22.—The fourth incendiary fire in Brattleboro within two weeks burned the sawmill and contents of D. P. Prescott, destroying property valued at $6,000, upon which there was $3,000 insurance. Besides the mill and its machinery there were burned 50,000 feet of boards, 2 horses, 3 cows, 2 hogs, wagons, harness and tools. About 200,000 feet of lumber stacked near the mill were badly damaged by fire and water.

Italian Cruiser Visits Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, May 22.—The cruiser Degali, one of the finest vessels in the Italian navy, has anchored off the city front. The Degali is on a regular cruise. There is no especial significance in her visit to Philadelphia at this time. She was to have represented the Italian government at the Washington monument ceremonies last week, but needed repairs to her machinery detained her in New York.

Presbyterians In Session.

Pittsburg, May 22.—There was a long discussion over the admission of Rev. John W. Scott, a native of India. By an enabling act passed two years ago India was made a presbytery with limited powers. THE STARVING MILLIONS.

DOCUMENTARY PROOF THAT THE INDIAN FAMINE IS GREAT.

The News Editor Refused to Publish the Truth and, as a Matter of Justice, The Press Gives the Facts in the Case.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—Beheving your columns to be open to any legitimate subject of general interest, I take the liberty of addressing you.

Last week there appeared in the editorial columns of another paper a clipping from a religious newspaper of Boston which reflected upon the excellent work being done by a rival religious newspaper of New York, in raising funds for the Indian famine cause. Among other things, this article stated, without quoting any facts in proof thereof, that there was little need of contributions and that the rival newspaper referred to was exaggerating the facts. The article in question was so manifestly biased that no judicial mind would give any credence whatever to the statements made; and the writer, deploring the lack of judgment which prompted its insertion in the News, especially as the editor, according to his own admission, had no personal knowledge of the facts, took him to task and quoted indisputable facts to to show that the famine now existing in India has reached gigantic proportions, and showing the imperative need of generous contributions.

The editor of the News, entirely ignoring the main question and the facts cited, descended to sarcasm and personalities, anything but becoming in an editor, and only succeeded in increasing the public misunderstanding on the subject.

Let me give briefly a few of the many proofs in my possession, tending to show the dire need of starving India.

An investigation was made a few days ago by the secretary of a prominent Sunday-school of this city. It was ascertained that the press agencies had no facilities for securing accurate news of the situation, but that the best sources of information were the large missionary organizations. Accordingly, my informant interviewed the following well-known men: Dr. C. C. Creegan, of the American Board of Foreign Missions; Dr. Louis Klopsch, of The Christian Herald; Dr. S. O. Baldwin, of the Methodist Board of Foreign Missions; Dr. Larrabee, acting secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions and Dr. Burlingham, of the Baptist Missionary Union.

With the exception of Dr. Burlingham, who had no personal knowledge of the facts, all of the above gentlemen produced documentary evidence, in the shape of recent letters from missionaries on the spot, which showed that the famine is the most severe that has darkened the pages of modern history.

In closing, let me quote from two sources, not missionaries: Robert E. Speer, secretary of the Presbyterian Board, who is now making a tour of the mission stations of Asia, recently wrote from India, stating that the death rate was enormous and appealing for increased efforts in behalf of the starving millions he saw all around him.

Lord Elgin, the British Governor of India, cabled to The Christian Herald, as late as May 10th, stating that, while they had succeeded in greatly checking the plague, great efforts must be made for six or eight months to come.

I hope these facts will convince the skeptically-inclined of the urgent necessity of the case; if not, I can produce more. T. H. Cuming.

The following well-known church workers endorse what Mr. Cuming says above: Lloyd E. Vannatta, Alfred W. Day, Miss Alice Spangenberg, superintendent of Park Avenue Baptist church Sunday-school, and T. H. Cuming, secretary of the Sunday-school.

Bicycle Mud Guard.

A proof of how easily inventors may wander away from the straight path is seen in the evolution of the bicycle mudguard. Manufacturers have for years been endeavoring to find a way of disposing of the mud after it was thrown from the wheel. The idea of taking the mud off the wheel seems to never have struck them. This is what an inventor has now done, and the problem on which so much gray matter has been expended is solved, with a simplicity especially mortifying to those whom it has so long baffled. The new guard consists of a sheet metal plate, carrying a thin rubber strip, which brushes the mud off the tire, and prevents it from flying upon the clothing of the rider. The guard is held in position by V-shaped carriers of wire, which straddle the wheels, being secured to the forks of the bicycle. The guard plate has a spring tension fitted upon the carrier, and the brush can be thrown on or off the tire by touching the plate with the foot. The brush, which is renewable, is about one-sixteenth of an inch thick, and when in use it bears upon the tire so lightly that the friction is inappreciable. It keeps the mud from both the rider and the wheel.—St. Louis Democrat.

Played a Mean Trick.

At a Sunday school service, the other afternoon, a godly man, who had but one small boy under his roof tree, was addressing the scholars on the necessity of family worship. His own precious urchin, Jimmie, occupied a conspicuous position on a front seat. Closing his remarks, the preacher said:

"Now, I have talked to you of family prayers, and I would like to know just how many families represented here have family prayers. I will begin with this little class right here in front, where you can all see them. Will all the little boys in this class whose fathers lead in daily prayers at home please stand up."

All the little boys in the class save one arose. Jimmie, the preacher's little boy sat still.—Indianapolis Journal.

LABOR-SAVING JUSTICE.

Mexicans Have a Method, Short and Effective, for Avoiding a Trial.

"The administration of justice in Mexico has certain phases which might startle those who are accustomed to the law's delays in this country," remarked a Chicagoan the other day who has spent the last three years in the sister republic.

"There is no unnecesary delay at any stage of the game. If there is no doubt about the prisoner's guilt technicalities were never alowed to interfere with his prompt punishment. And very often the Mexican authorities manage to save the expense of a trial. Whenever a notorious desperado, for instance, is captured he is turned over to a couple of rurals to be transferred to another jail at some little distance. On the way the prisoner always tries to escape—at least, that is the report made by the guards.

"It is unnecessary to add that no prisoner ever did escape under such circumstances or that no prisoner ever could do so. The guards simply report that their man tried to give them the slip and that they felt compelled to riddle him with bullets to prevent his escape. This dispenses with a trial and a legal execution. No investigation ever is made; it is strictly legal in Mexico to shoot down an 'escaping prisoner.' It is a labor-saving device, that's all, but it is as effective and as expeditious as it is economical."—Chicago Times-Herald.

A SEPTUAGENARIAN STUDENT.

A Rare Instance of Perseverance and Determination.

At Warsaw a student has just graduated at the ripe age of seventy-five! After passing his matriculation many years ago, lack of funds prevented him from at once proceeding to the university, and he was compelled to work as a tutor twenty years in order to save enough money to enable him to continue his studies. At the end of that time he presented himself at Warsaw Medical Academy, and passed the entrance examination with distinction. Before he could begin his studies, the Polish rebellion of 1863 broke out, and Borysik, who was forty-one years of age, threw himself into the movement with all the enthusiasm of a youthful revolutionist. The revolt was suppressed, and Borysik was exiled to Siberia, where for thirty-two years he underwent hard labor in the silver mines. In 1895 he received a free pardon, and returned to Warsaw. In spite of his age and the hardships he had endured, Borysik lost none of his enthusiasm for medical work, and took up his studies where he had left off in 1863. After a two years' course this remarkable man has now, at the age of seventy-five, pased the final medical examination with honors, and will begin to practice in Warsaw.—London Daily Mail.

HAM-EATING IN PARIS.

The Bones Used with Pork Cut into Shape to Imitate the Genuine Article.

Parisians of a certain class are inordinate eaters of ham; in fact, almost as many hams are eaten in Paris as could be furnished by all the pigs killed throughout the whole of France, even allowing for both shoulder and leg being ham-cured in accordance with French practice. The demand was formerly—and may be now—met in this wise. The dealers in cooked hams bought up the old ham-bones at a couple of sous a-piece, and ingeniously inserted them in pieces of pickled pork, which they trimmed into shape, and coated with grated bread-crusts. In this way many bones did duty hundreds of times over, lasting, in fact, for years. They would leave the dealers in the morning and frequently return to them the same night, to quit them again the following day. Nevertheless the supply could hardly keep pace with the demand. Only fancy the inconvenience of having to wait for your ham until your neighbor's servant took back the ham-bone which the charcutier relied upon receiving yesterday! It was to obviate such a state of things that an ingenious individual conceived the idea of manufacturing ham-bones wholesale, and ere long he drove a thriving trade, at ten sous the dozen; since which time the stock of hams has augmented, and the delicacy has become less difficult to procure.

THE PIANO OF THE FUTURE.

Electric Current Substituted for the Old Levers and Hammers.

No more hammers in pianos. The old-fashioned method of pounding music out of wires by the aid of a wonderfully complicated system of lever keys has been branded as a back number.

Dr. Richard Eisemann of Berlin has patented a system which does away with the levers entirely. He calls this new appliance the electro-phonic piano, its distinctive principle consisting in the fact that the vibrations of the chords are not produced by hammers, but by an electric current and by means of microphones acting as interrupters of the current.

All the delicate and complex mechanism of the old piano is done away with. The little electrical devices are arranged on the crosspiece extending over the strings. Upon this electric magnets are placed, so as to be only a hair's breadth from the strings.

Pressing down the key sends the electric current into the corresponding electro-magnet. This attracts the metallic string below, but the microphone interrupts the current and therewith the attraction. The string returns to its former place, and this continued attraction and interruption of the current is carried on, the number of vibrations being regulated by the pitch of the string.

The high sounds produced by this method have a decided harp tone, and the lower and middle registers suggest the 'cello or the organ. In reality, the installation of this new system creates a new instrument, so different are the qualities of sound produced by the new method and the old.

ADOPTED THEIR OWN SON.

The Child was Stolen and Lost to the Parents for a Number of Years.

In 1876 a careless nurse deserted the perambulator in which she was wheeling the two-year-old son of M. F. Britton, at Montreal, Canada, while she went for a short walk with a soldier sweetheart from the local English garrison. When she returned her charge was gone. The family made every effort to recover the little one, but without avail.

As has recently developed, it was stolen by a man named Myers in the hope of securing a reward. After the crime was committed he became so much alarmed that he never dared to claim money from the family, and the child reached the age of seven years under his care.

In 1883 Myers died, and for a year his wife kept the boy with her. She was greatly troubled in her conscience and finally resolved to devise some plan of returning the lad to his family. She feared to go directly to them with her story, and by way of reaching them secured employment as a domestic in their household.

The Brittons were without a child of their own, and when Mrs. Myers suggested that they adopt her "son," a bright lad of ten at the ime, they readily fell in with the plan. Mrs. Myers soon afterward left their employ. She kept up a desultory correspondence with them for several years and finally dropped out of sight.

In the meantime the Brittons and their supposedly adopted son removed to a farm in northern New York, and afterward to another near Akron. A short time ago they received a letter from Mrs. Myers, in England, giving full particulars of the abduction of their child twenty-one years ago, and the method she adopted to return him to his own father and mother.—Philadelphia Record.

DISPOSAL OF GARBAGE.

PLANS OF THE PLAINFIELD SANITARY COMPANY.

How the Work of Scientifically Gathering Refuse Will Be Carried On—Several Methods for Householders to Choose From.

The Plainfield Sanitary Company has issued the following circular, which will be interesting as a description of what taxpayers may expect from the company:

We take this method to introduce to you the great sanitary benefits and improvements our city will have by the householders adopting the system below set forth, and most respectfully request your patronage.

It is the purpose of the company to collect and dispose of all garbage, swill, offal, dead animals, ashes, rubbish, sweepings, cut grass, leaves, tin cans, waste paper, and in fact all kinds of household wastes, in a manner that will effectually do away with all nuisances and danger of foul gases escaping from garbage around the house or while being taken away. The company will furnish each subscriber with a tight galvanized iron can. This can will be taken away by the collector and a thoroughly clean can left in its place. The can, as soon as emptied at the plant, will be submitted to steam at a very high temperature, thus destroying all disease breeding germs and disagreeable sour smells.

The ashes and all other wastes will be removed in tight covered carts made especially for the service. If the householder desires, the company will furnish a large galvanized iron can with a tight-fitting cover for a small extra monthly compensation as below set forth. Everything will be taken to the crematory and there treated, and all organic matter thoroughly incinerated. The business will be carried on so as to conform in every respect to the rules and regulations adopted by the Plainfield and North Plainfield Boards of Health (particularly as to gathering).

The carts will have the company name and a number on each side, and the collector will have a distinguishing cap and uniform, so that if everything is not done satisfactorily a report should be immediately sent to the office of the company, and a thorough investigation will follow. A copy of the rules and regulations of the Plainfield and North Plainfield Boards of Health will be furnished to every subscriber respectively. These rules are very clear and to the point, and it is very important that every housewife should see that they are carried out in the kitchen

The company will make the following charges for their service:

We hereby agree to take and pay for the services of the Plainfield Sanitary Company as herein set forth, designated by numbers inserted opposite our names.

No. 1—Garbage can, 12x18, service at 50c. per month.

No. 2—Ashes and rubbish removed at 10c. per barrel.

No. 3, 1 and 2—Combined with can 18x24 service, for ashes and rubbish, can to be furnished by the company and contents to be removed as often as may be required, at $1 per month.

No. 5—Ashes and rubbish removed at 10c. per barrel.

"Death a Happy Release."

Such was the comment of friends and relatives on Saturday afternoon, when at 5 o'clock the soul of Miss Mary S. MacCarty passed from this earth to her Heavenly home. She was a patient sufferer for several years with that terrible affliction, consumption, and everything that medical aid and constant attendance of loving friends could do, was to make her comfortable as possible, which they did to the last hour of her life. She realized her condition and having made her peace with God when a child, she had no fear of death, rather longing to go and be at rest. A few days before her death she calmy conversed with the lady who had been her constant companion and made known all the wishes she desired to be carried out after her death. A short funeral service, conducted by Rev. Dr. Rodman, will be held at her late residence, No. 166 Manning avenue, tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock, and the remains will be taken to Princeton, her former home, in the afternoon for interment in the family plot.

A HORSE'S FEARFUL RUN.

THREE MIRACULOUS ESCAPES IN A BOROUGH RUNAWAY.

A Farm Horse Became Frightened and Pitched a Woman and Little Girl Out of the Wagon and Then Ran Over a Baby.

A runaway occurred on Grove street yesterday which almost resulted in the in the loss of three lives. The escape was, indeed, a miraculous one. Mrs. Albert and her seven-year-old daughter, who live over the mountains, were on their way home and to avoid the trolley cars they passed through Grove street. The horse Mrs. Albert was driving was a large one, attached to a Rockaway wagon. Before they reached Linden avenue the animal took a notion to run and in spite of every effort which Mrs. Albert put forth she was unable to hold him. He was frantic and as they passed through Grove street the animal plunged from one side of the road to the other. After passing Rockview avenue, the horse made a wild dash for the sidewalk and for a distance of seventy-five feet the horse and wagon traveled at breakneck speed. Finally, the wagon was thrown with such force against the fence that Mrs. Albert and her daughter were thrown out and the wagon upset. This seemed to urge the frantic horse on and in a few minutes the wagon was a complete wreck and was left in the rear, while the horse kept up his wild run.

Neighbors at once ran to the assistance of the woman and her daughter and they were taken into Jerry Rowe s house. Mrs. Albert was unconscious, while the child was in a semi-conscious condition. Dr. D. C. Adams, of Grove street, was called and he was obliged to take several stitches in a very deep scalp wound which was inflicted in Mrs. Albert's head. She was bruised about the body and face, as was also her daughter, and the doctor found it necessary to sew a laceration on the head of the little one

The horse and wagon in its flight ran over the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luebeck, of Grove street, and it was at first thought that the little one's leg was broken. An examination proved that aside from a few bruises and cuts the girl was not severely injured

In a little while Mrs. Albert became conscious and both she and her daughter were removed to their home in another wagon. Their horse was caught on Somerset street and returned to them.

DID NOT SEEM HERSELF

STRANGE ACTIONS OF MRS. JACOB SCHLEIF BEFORE SHE WAS KILLED.

She Told Mrs. Samuel Hedden That She Did Not Care How Soon the Lord Called Her Home—Mind Worried.

Regarding the killing of Mrs. Jacob Schleif, which occurred last Friday night on the tracks at Westfield, there now seems to be a supposition that the woman was not responsible for her actions that night. It appears that she was laboring under a severe mental strain as a result of worrying over the condition of her husband, who is critically ill at Warrenville.

Friday afternoon about 5 o'clock Mrs. Schleif called at the home of Mrs. Samuel Hedden, of Duer street, and remained there for two hours. Mrs. Hedden was probably the last woman in this city who talked to Mrs. Schleif before she started for home. While visiting Mrs. Hedden, Mrs. Schleif told her that she was discouraged and she didn't care how soon the Lord called her home She also said that the doctor gave her no encouragement regarding her husband, and this was a source of anxiety to her. She told Mrs. Hedden that half the time she did not know what she was doing.

Mrs. Hedden says that she has known Mrs. Schleif for many years, and that when she made the last visit to her house she did not act natural. There seemed to be something on her mind which caused her much trouble. About 7 o'clock that night she left Mrs. Hedden's place to go home. It is probable that after getting off the train at Westfield her mind was occupied with her troubles and that in walking down the track she paid little attention to the approaching train which took her life. It is not thought that she intentionally put herself in the way of death, but her mind being engrossed with many things which worried her was probably responsible for her death.

Mrs. Schleif's husband is a brother of S. H. Schleif, the Park avenue baker, and previous to his ill-health worked for the latter in this city.

The funeral services of Mrs. Schleif took place at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the home of her parents on North avenue, Westfield.

THE EXTRA LEGISLATURE

NO ONE SEEMS TO KNOW WHAT THE MEMBERS WILL DO.

It is Not Probable, However, That More Than the Error Will be Corrected and Action Taken on Judiciary Amendment.

The discussion as to just what the Legislature should do when convened in extraordinary session tomorrow still goes on, and still it is difficult to say just what will be done. The sentiment among the members appears to be favorable to adjournment after the correction, first of the anti-gambling constitutional amendment bill, for which the Legislators were called together, and second, of what many persons now regard as an error of the recent session by the adoption of a judiciary constitutional amendment.

There is a growing sentiment among the lawmakers that it is their duty to make some alteration in the antiquated judiciary system of New Jersey. The Voorhees amendment to the Constitution, which was defeated in the House, is daily growing in favor. This amendment was adopted by the 120th Legislature, and if adopted by the extraordinary session, can then be incorporated in the other constitutional amendment, and be voted upon by the people at the special election to be held this fall. No other amendment could be adopted having for its object the simplification of New Jersey's judiciary that would be of any avail, the constitutional requirement being that before the proposition to amend the Constitution can be submitted to the people, it must have passed two consecutive Legislatures without alteration. The Voorhees proposition, now pending, was adopted by the Legislature of 1896. The Johnson amendments which were introduced at this session, and which resulted in the defeat of the Voorhees amendment, could not be presented to the people this fall even if adopted at the extra session tomorrow. The failure of the Legislature to adopt the Voornees proposition touching the judiciary means simply that the present system must stand for five years more, because the constitution limits to once in five years the submission to the people of amendments to that instrument.

It is learned that notwithstanding reports to the contrary, the Governor has not filed with the State Librarian the eighty-nine bills which he has vetoed, and this fact has led to some discussion as to his real intention regarding certain of the measures which he admitted would make good laws, but which he was obliged to veto because of the "incompetency of the engrossing clerk and the carelessness of the legislative committees." If the vetoed bills are not filed with the State Librarian by tonight, it is certain that they will be returned by the Governor to the House in which they originated. In this event, judging from the temper of the majority of the House, it is believed that legislation other than that for which the session is called will be enacted.

The Governor, as well as his advisers, is somewhat in doubt as to his right to file the vetoed bills since the calling of the Legislature passing them. The leaders are of the opinion that they can control the lsgislators, even to the extent of having them merely receive the vetoed bills, and then permit them to die a natural death, without discussion.

There will certainly be, however, an effort to push the Teachers' Retirement Fund bill through the House Senate. This measure has not received the Governor's attention except in so far as he declared the record showing its passage to have been incorrect.

The correction of this record means the repassing of the bill. The repassing of this bill may mean the starting of the ball rolling, and no man can tell where the ball will stop once it is started.

Falling Star to be There.

The Young Women's Mission Band of Trinity Reformed church are planning a tea to be held Tuesday evening, May 25th, from 7 to 10 o'clock, in the lecture room of the church. The decorations and costumes will be of an Indian nature, and "Falling Star", a young Indian woman of the Abenaka tribe, will be present dressed in an elaborately embroidered Indian robe. A musical programme and recitations will be rendered during the evening, while the young women, dressed in costumes in keeping with the affair, will serve ice cream and cake. The admission will be ten cents.

CHILDREN'S LAWN FETE.

GIVEN FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE SUMMER CAMP.

It Was a Lucky Affair Despite the Fact That Thirteen Little People Were Its Promoters—Some of the Attractions.

The lawn fete, held on the lawn of Percy Phillips, of Madison avenue, proved a great success despite the fact that the number thirteen played an important part in it. It was given by thirteen little girls for the benefit of the Children's Home and incidentally to give them something to do.

The fete, or fair, was a departure from the regulation sale of candies, cakes, ice cream, and fancy articles. There were several new attractions that found great favor with the young people and gave ideas to those who are planning similar events for the future.

The entire lawn, with its fine grape arbors, was utilized for the affair. Just inside the house were the candies and cakes which were sold by the young girls. Several of them were also in charge of a flower booth, which stood close to the house. Beneath the shade of the large trees were arranged tables on which were served ice cream and cake. Roy T. Phillips and Augustus Fisk presided over this department with much skill. In the barn was an establishment, under the supervision of Paul Kimball and Harold Phillips, which the youthful visitors labeled the "bar." Lemonade, soda water, root beer and the like were the only beverages sold, however, to the thirsty crowd that constantly surrounded it.

One of the novel attractions was a see-saw, on which the visitors might ride for the payment of a small sum The see-saw was built for the occasion and was an ingenious affair. It was under the personal supervision of Alexander Rickard, of Brooklyn.

In one of the arbors, a rack of canes was so arranged that the visitors could try to throw rings over the heads of the canes. This was an exciting amusement and some of the young people fared well. Harvey Fisk was in charge. A similar amusement was prepared in another of the arbors, only in the latter case, knives were used instead of canes. Percy Phillips was manager of this latter attraction.

The most attractive of them all to the youths of the neighborhood was "Aunt Sallie" A frame had been placed at the end of one of the arbors, and in the frame were a number of small square openings. In the openings were to be seen little figures, differently dressed. The visitors were allowed the use of three baseballs for a small sum which they might throw at the figures. Those who were successful in striking one of the figures, which were labeled anything from "Aunt Sallie" to "McKinley" and "Bryan," received a ticket for a glass of Randolph's soda. The tickets were furnished gratuitously by Mr. Randolph. Jack Hall and John Phillips were in charge and they were kept busy the entire afternoon for "Aunt Sallie" was in great favor with old and young.

Two voting contests had been arranged for the afternoon. One was for the most popular girl present. Of course that made no end of excitement and the boys were called upon to invest their savings for the benefit of the Children's Home and the young lady of their choice. Miss Edna Smith, of Grove street, was the victor.

The other contest was for the most popular baseball team and the Alis Club was victorious after a close race with the High School team and the nine from Leal's School.

The grounds were prettily decorated with flags as was also the house. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips lent a hand on every side and looked after the young folks.

Financially the affair was a great success. Over three hundred tickets were sold and everything that had been placed on sale was purchased. Twenty-eight quarts of ice cream were disposed of at that department.

THEY WORKED WHILE VICTIMS ATE.

Guests at a Borough Party Had Wearing Apparel Stolen.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hanigan, Jr., of Somerset street, entertained a few friends at their home Saturday evening by giving a dance. The affair was a very informal one and the guests included just the intimate friends of the host and hostess. An unfortunate circumstance happened while the guests were in the dining room partaking of refreshments. The front door was not locked and some mean thief took advantage of the absence of the guests and entered the hallway. There they found several hats and coats. Two derby hats and a light overcoat were stolen. The coat belonged to Carl Gallup, of West Front street. As yet no information has been secured that would lead to the detection of the thief.

AN ARRAY OF OFFENDERS

CITY COURT IN SESSION FOR AN HOUR AND A HALF.

Several Were Arrested for Being Drunk and Disorderly—A Trio of Disturbers Who Got Into a Fight While Moving

A half a dozen offenders kept City Judge DeMeza busy for an hour and a half this morning. Patrolman McCarty made a complaint against James Ross and William Knowland for being drunk on West Front street, Saturday evening. They pleaded that they had been drinking, but were not disorderly. Ross was fined $3, while Knowland, who had never been up before the Judge before escaped, sentence being suspended.

John Johnson pleaded that he was not guilty to the charge of being disorderly on Grant avenue, Sunday evening, as preferred by Patrolman Meyers. When he heard the officer tell how he had found Johnson lying asleep on the sidewalk with his head in close proximity to the gutter, Johnson suddenly remembered that it had happened after all and changed his plea. The Judge find him $3.

Clarence Whepley, John Philmore and Owen M. Holmes lined up in front of the railing, all charged with causing or taking part in a disturbance, Saturday evening. Holmes was brought before the Judge, yesterday afternoon, but his tongue was so disobedient to the orders of the Judge that he was locked up for trial this morning. All three appeared and related their stories. Philmore was trying to move to East Third street and Whepley was assisting him. They carted the goods to the rooms and were setting up the stove when Holmes, Philmore's son-in-law, began to abuse his own wife, who had come to live with her father. Whepler commented on it and told Philmore that he ought to interfere but Philmore thought not. Then they came out on the sidewalk and a discussion arose as to who was to take the truck home. Loud talk resulted and attracted the attention of Patrolman Totten, Cash and Special Officer Denny Carney. Whepley and Philmore were arrested and then Mrs. Holmes made a complaint against her husband who she said was to blame for all the trouble. The trial was a lively one. The prisoners, Whepley and Philmore were represented by Walter L Hetfield and the cross-questioning of Carney by that lawyer was exciting and humorous.

The Judge declared everybody guilty and suspended sentence on them all.

FANNIE IS A BAD GIRL.

A FOURTEEN YEAR OLD MISS SENTENCED TO THE COUNTY JAIL.

The Bush Girl is a Terror to the Neighbors and Defiant to the City Judge—Absolutely Refuses to Behave Herself

The surroundings at the City Court, yesterday afternoon did not awe Fannie Bush in the slightest when she was arraigned before City Judge DeMeza, on the charge of being disorderly and using profane language.

Although Fannie is but fourteen years old, she has been arrested several times before. She returned only a short time ago from a trip to Elizabeth when the local authorities made an effort to have her committed to an industrial home. Her mother tried to keep the girl at home, however, and promised that hereafter she would behave herself. Fannie came back and continued her career. She called a neighbor all sorts of unpleasant names and a complaint was made against Fannie. Fannie took to Somerset county, but was captured Saturday evening by Patrolman Saffron, armed with a warrnt.

Fannie was not abashed when the Judge talked to her, and even attempted to "jolly" him, which nearly resulted in Fannie taking another trip to jail without delay.

She told the Judge that she had been arrested before and expected to be arrested a good many times yet. She did not care whether she was sworn in her own defence or not, and put on a very bold front.

The Judge sentenced her to pay a fine of $25, or go to jail for forty days. She declared that her friends would surely pay the fine, but the friends were not forthcoming and she had no money herself.

FIRST OF THE DANCES.

SUMMER SOCIAL SEASON OPENED AT THE HOTEL HUNTERSTON.

The Spacious Parlors of the Hotel Filled With a Gay Throng of Pleasure Seeking People—Some of the Guests There.

The summer social season was most auspiciously opened last Saturday evening at the Hotel Hunterston, Netherwood, when this popular place was the scene of a dancing reception. It reminded one of old times to see the large and spacious parlors filled with merry dancers, all of whom seemed to thoroughly enjoy the return of former days.

The exterior of the hotel and the grounds was brilliantly illuminated with Chinese and Japanese lanterns and the scene was, indeed, charming as one approached the hotel from the winding roads below. Upon entering the hotel the guests were met by that genial person, Manager Hall, and his assistant, M. B. Doughty, while former Councilman Spangenberg proved a most admirable member of the reception committee.

Everything about the hotel looked bright and attractive and many pleasing compliments were expressed by the guests present, of which there was a large number, including the best people from Plainfield and vicinity.

In the parlors was seated Rogers' orchestra and during the evening the best music was discoursed. The guests were all fond of dancing and as soon as they heard the attractive music they sought the opportunity to enjoy it. The two-step and the waltz were the favorites and frequently the orchestra was obliged to respond to an encore. About 10 o'clock the guests were invited to adjourn to the dining room where a pleasing supper was served. Everything about this part of the programme was enjoyed and the menu was all to be desired.

Following the supper the guests returned to the parlors where dancing was continued until nearly 12 o'clock, and when the guests departed they were profuse in their thanks to the management for their general hospitality.

Among the prominent people present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Dyett, Mr. and Mrs. Hill, Leonard Spangenberg, C. W. Ellis, Miss Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Beal, Miss Beal, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Hyde, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Vandeventer, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Sandford, Mrs. S. A. Cruikshank, Miss Cruikshank, Miss Green, Miss Dryden, Miss Patten, Miss Thompson, Miss Edith Clapp, Dr. and Mrs. Stanton, Dr. R. J. Shaw, Miss Daniel, Miss Cross; Arthur Freeman, E. Serrell, Maxwell Honeyman, Henry Brower, Mr. Simpson, Clement Morgan, Mr. Kirkner, MacCready Sykes, W. L. Brown, Bert Holly, Harry Patten, Fred Smith, Meridith Dryden, of Plainfield; Mr. and Mrs. Lee, Long Island; Mrs. Havens, Misses Havens, Mrs. Emily Holbrook, Mrs. Phillips, Miss Lulu Wright, of New York; Miss Louise Sloate, of Middletown, N. Y.; W. B. Toucey, Mrs. R. S. Wiggs, Miss Sergeant, Miss Camp, Charles Harbson, Nelson Coryell, Chase Coale, of Westfield.

From now on every other Saturday night there will be a hop at the hotel, and on other Saturday nights there will be concerts.

MISS E. KIERNAN, PRESIDENT.

Borough Teacher Chosen as President of County Association.

At the annual meeting of the Somerset County Teachers' Association held Saturday in the North Plainfield Public High School, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: President, Miss E. Kiernan, of North Plainfield; Vice-President, Miss R. G. Brokaw, of Somerville; Secretary, B. D. VanSycle, of Bound Brook; Treasurer, Miss Higgins, of Washingtonville.

A very touching and appropriate part of the programme was the adoption of a resolution and a tribute in memory of the late Miss Ginn, who was a teacher in the North Plainfield school.

Miss Acock, of the borough school, was the pianist for the day, and there were also piano selections by Arthur VanArsdale, Miss Agnes Bailey and a vocal solo by Miss Lottie Benner.

Miss Miller, the retiring president, was a most efficient officer and under her supervision the Association was led through the year successfully. The new president, Miss Kiernan, is equally efficient and she will make an excellent chief executive for the Association.

—At the annual meeting of the American Baptist Publication Society, held last week at Pittsburg, Rev. J. W. Sarles, of Stelton, was elected one of the vice-presidents to serve the ensuing year.

AGAIN THE TARIFF.

The Senate Will Take Up the Bill and Try to Act Upon It.

PROBABLE BUSINESS OF CONGRESS.

Strong Opposition Is Expected to Some of Its Schedules, Especially on the Part of Republicans—Programme of Proceedings of the House.

Washington, May 24.—To-morrow, ten weeks and a day after the beginning of the session, the senate will take up the tariff bill, for the passage of which the session was especially called. The bill was to have been called up today, but the death of Senator Earle of South Carolina will render necessary an adjournment for a day. Senator Aldrich will call up the bill, move its consideration and make a speech in its support. The Democratic amendment striking out the internal revenue features of the bill will be introduced by Senator Vest.

After this the course of procedure is somewhat indefinite. The Democrats are not clear as to whether they will permit the immediate taking up of the schedules or will demand an opportunity to make set speeches bearing upon the general policy of the bill. The prevailing opinion among the Democratic leaders is against the policy of general speeches at the beginning of the discussion, but they will not attempt to restrain individual senators who may wish to be heard. There are some Democratic senators who are disposed to discuss the general features of the bill and who incline to the opinion that the best time for such speeches will be while the debate on the bill is young.

Senator Vest does not expect to make a speech in presenting the motion to strike out the revenue features, but the motion may lead to immediate debate, and in case exception is taken to it the Missouri senator will be heard from. The Silver Republicans and Populists will seek opportunity during the pendency of the bill to present some remarks of a political nature, and some of them may be heard during the week.

The general sentiment among straight Republicans is adverse to the inauguration of any discussion of the bill or to long speeches on the schedules, but no party policy has yet been decided upon.

The Republican Opposition.

A caucus has been called for this purpose. There will immediately be strong opposition to some of the schedules on the part of the Republican senators, and amendments will be firmly pressed. Some of these amendments will be offered to the chemical schedule, the first of the list, and they will probably be reached during the present week.

Other features of the bill which the Republican senators will attack are those affecting the sugar and wool duties and taking hides from the free list. Senator Pettigrew's amendment against trusts is also certain to prove fruitful of much general debate when reached.

Senator Aldrich says he will not speak to exceed an hour in time on Tuesday. He will give for the first time the estimates of the Republican members of the finance committee of the amount of revenue the bill will produce and will explain the committee's plan of action, giving the reasons for some of the more important amendments made. His statement is anticipated with much interest.

In reply to a question, Mr. Aldrich, who will have charge of the bill in behalf of the Republican side of the senate, said that when the bill was once taken up he would press consideration to the exclusion of all other business except conference reports until it should be finally disposed of.

The conference report on the sundry civil appropriation bill probably will be considered some time during the week. The conference committee has practically agreed upon a compromise on the forestry reservation provision, which they hope will prove satisfactory to all parties, but whether it will or not can only be determined when the report is presented to congress.

Programme of the House.

The Morgan resolution recognizing the belligerency of the Cuban insurgents, which passed the senate on Thursday, will be acted upon in the house this week. That is the decision of the Republican leaders. They have decided to block the resolution until the plans of the president, which are now maturing, are formulated.

There will doubtless be a demand on the part of the minority for immediate action, but they are powerless to secure consideration unless the rules committee will report on special order. This the rules committee will not do. The majority will antagonize any attempt to force the order with a motion to adjourn until Thursday.

On Thursday the conference report on the Indian and sundry civil bills may be ready. If one or the other is not ready, the house will adjourn until the following Monday.

Large Distillers Assign.

Cincinnati, May 24.—William Tarr of Lexington, Ky., a noted distiller, has made an assignment to R. P. & J. S. Stoll. Assets, $600,000; liabilities, unknown. The William Tarr company also made an assignment to the same persons. Assets, $100,000; liabilities, about $60,000, $50,000 of which is in first mortgage bonds to run 20 years.

Bishop Andrews Celebrates.

New York, May 24.—Services commemorating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the ordination of the Rev. Edward Gayer Andrews, D. D., LL. D., to the bishopric of the Methodist Episcopal church were held in the Metropolitan temple last evening in the presence of a large assemblage.

Steamer Pulled Off the Rocks.

St. Johns, N. F., May 24.—The Hamburg-American liner Arcadia was pulled off the rocks near Cape Ray by the British warships Cordelia, Pelican and Buzzard, assisted by five tugs. She is now safely anchored in Port aux Basques harbor, having reached there under her own steam.

Blaze In Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, May 24.—The four-story brick building at Tulip and Tioga streets occupied by William B. Abbott as a furniture factory was destroyed by fire, causing a loss of $40,000 on building and contents; partially covered by insurance. Origin unknown.

ACCIDENT AT A BLAST FURNACE

Workmen Terribly Injured and Crushed by an Explosion.

Newcastle, Pa., May 24.—The big Rosena furnace in this city, owned by Senator Mark Hanna and ex-Senator Caneron, let go, and a great volume of coke, iron ore and coal came crashing through the roof of the casting house, burying 30 men under the debris. Manager Reis was taken out with the skin hanging in shreds from his hands and arms and his legs terribly burned and bruised.

The others injured are Samuel Moody, burned and bruised; Mike Petro, head cut in half a dozen places and bruises and burns about the hands and arms; William Hanna, head cut and arms almost severed by falling sheet iron; Joseph Love, head a mass of cuts, laying the skull bare in three places; Frank Sheard, head badly cut, legs badly bruised and back and arms terribly burned, may result in death. Half a dozen other men were also more or less injured, but the above are the worst cases.

About 20 minutes after the accident at the Rosena furnace a cave in occurred at the big 70 foot cut of the Newcastle Traction company, which is engaged in making a track to the Newcastle park. Michael Curdy was buried under 75 feet of sand, gravel, clay and rocks and was dead when taken out. Peter Herinski was terribly bruised about the shoulders and hips, while his chest was crushed.

TERRORIZED BY SAFE BREAKERS

City of Syracuse Visited Weekly by a Bold Gang.

Syracuse, May 24.—One or more gangs of safe crackers, more or less expert at the business, have operated in Syracuse every Saturday night but one since April 8, and their cash booty to date reaches somewhere between $1,500 and $2,000. In every case nothing but money has been taken.

Saturday night last the burglars succeeded in slipping through a cordon of five watchmen and two policemen about some Walton street blocks and cracked three safes. They got nothing as far as can be learned now, but escaped without leaving a clew.

The police have been on the alert for a month, each night squad being augmented by day men in citizen's clothes, but Chief of Police Wright has thus far failed entirely in getting a trace of the marauders. A panic has started among merchants, and they are hiding their Saturday receipts in all conceivable places except in their safes.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

The first view of the heavens through the great Yerkes lens was taken at the observatory at Williams Bay, Wis.

Samuel Lacombie, 2 years old, fell five stories through an airshaft in a New York east side tenement house and will probably live. Both legs and several ribs were broken.

Peter S. McNally, the well known long distance swimmer, has sailed from Boston on the Cephalonia for England where he will make an attempt to swim the English channel.

William R. Morse, aged 47 years, a bookkeeper, was arrested at his residence in Brooklyn on a warrant issued by Justice Williams of Watertown, N. Y., charging him with forgery.

The monument which Charles Broadway Rouss presented to the Confederate Veteran camp in honor of the dead soldiers of the south was dedicated at Mount Hope cemetery, New York city.

Frank Quinn, 10 years; Charles Coats, 11 years; James Coats, 8 years, and Charles and Albert Svic, twins, 9 years old, were drowned in the Chicago river while trying to cross on an improvised raft.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.
(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)
Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Loretta Darby, of Alton, has returned home after spending a few days with relatives in Rahway.

Chronic Rheumatism Cured
Dr. H. B. Hettinger, Indiannapolis, Ind., says: "For several months after spraining my ankle I was severely afflicted with Rheumatism. I finally tried Detchon's 'Mystic Cure' for Rheumatism, and in four days could walk without my cane; two bottles cured me sound and well. I take pleasure in recommending the 'Mystic Cure' to all who are afflicted with Rheumatism." Sold by T. S. Armstrong, druggist, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

—Rapid progress is being made on the new residence of Rev. Dr. A. H Lewis, on West Seventh street. It is to be completed about the first of July.

The Westfield (Ind.) News prints the followtng in regard to an old resident of that place: "Frank McAvoy, for many years in the employ of the L., N. A. & C. Ry. here, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy for ten years or longer—am never without it in my family. I consider it the best remedy of the kind manufactured. I take pleasure in recommending it." It is a specific for all bowl disorders. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—The annual meeting of the Eastern Association of Seventh-day Baptist churches will be held at New Market next Saturday.

According to the newspapers, an Ohio husband became the happy father of seven children not long ago. Of the seven all lived but one. It is to be hoped he laid in a a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, the only sure cure for croup, whooping-cough, colds and coughs, and so insured his children against these diseases. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—Painters are now at work at the residence of Rev. J. W. Richardson, of Prospect avenue.

Old People.
Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic or alterative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 50c and $1 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

—The residence of Dr. M. B. Long, on Park avenue, has been improved by being repainted.

Something to Depend On.
Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says, that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

—The regular meeting of Queen City Lodge, No. 226, I. O. O. F., will be held this evening. Routine business will be transacted.

Read It.
If you have any trouble with your back, if it aches, is lame or weak, the cause nine times out of ten is from the kidneys. Read about the free distribution of Doan's Kidney Pills in this paper, and call at L. W. Randolph's, prescription druggist, 143 West Front street, Plainfield, N. J., Thursday, May 27th.

THAT BANK ROBBER.

King, the Boylston Messenger, Gives Details of His Trip.

ENJOYS A GOOD NIGHT'S REST IN JAIL

Tells How He First Conceived the Idea of Robbing the Institution Against the Advice of One of His Intimate Friends.

Farmington, Me., May 24.—After the unusual excitement caused by the arrest of Albert M. King, the messenger of the Boylston bank of Boston, who disappeared with $30,000 of the bank's funds, the town was quiet. King enjoyed practically the first night's rest since his hasty flight from Boston last Tuesday with the funds of the Boylston bank in his pockets. He was considerably refreshed, but still his looks betrayed weariness and anxiety about his possible future.

He says he left Boston Tuesday at 11:50 a. m. for Lowell, but does not remember the exact time of his arrival there. He did not buy a mileage ticket to any place and did not use one in his whole wanderings. He did not go to Rangeley with any conceived idea that he might reach Canadian soil; did not know where Rangeley was and found out for the first time when he got there that it was the terminal station of the road.

When asked how many miles he rode from Lowell into New Hampshire on his bicycle, he said: "I don't remember. I rode until I could go no farther from fatigue. I never owned a bicycle before myself, but was a fairly good rider. I figured quite prominently in two local races, and in one I had a narrow escape."

When pressed closely as to the date when he first conceived the idea of making way with the bank's money, King admitted with some hesitation but with perfect frankness that it was about two weeks previous to his actual flight last week. Said he:

His First Step Toward the Crime.

"I began to stay away from home until very late at night. My father found fault with my conduct, saying that I must either comply with the rules of the house or stay away entirely. I knew it was from no harsh feeling on his part that he spoke to me in this way.

"He wanted to impress me, but I paid no attention to his admonitions then. My pride was hurt, and I staid out more nights. One night, on getting home at midnight, I was locked out and had to get a policeman in order to enter the house.

"My mother let me in. About that time I confided to one of my chums that I might have a good chance some day to skip with a large amount of money. My friend persuaded me not to do anything of the kind, as I would surely be caught and punished.

"This friend admonished me again about this conversation the day previous to my departure last week. The Kelly bank robbery had nothing whatever to do with my plans in any way. I have left a kind father, a good mother, a good home, kind employers, and no one else is to blame but myself. The thought of giving myself up was uppermost in my mind from the time I reached New Hampshire, but I hardly knew what to do."

King is thoroughly repentant and thinks President Torrey will be pretty severe on him.

The latter get rid of the dealers and return to the saloon for the valises. Many complaints have been made of losses in this way. No proof was brought against the men, and they were let go, with fines of $10 each.

New Milford, Conn., May 24.—A fire which broke out in the limekilns owned by Charles Griffin of Danbury and located at Portland Bridge, about three miles north of New Milford, caused a loss of about $15,000. Insurance $12,000. The fire was due to the high wind that prevailed, and it flashed up so suddenly that the several workmen on duty were obliged to flee without being able to save any of their effects. The office building and company's store, a storage building and three box cars on a siding, one of which was filled with grain for the company, were destroyed.

EDHEM'S CONTENTION

Turkish Commander Insists Negotiations Must Be Through Him.

DENIAL FROM GENERAL SMOLENSKI.

Says That He Followed the Instructions of the Crown Prince In Ordering a Retreat—Denies Also Capture of Guns at Reveni and Velestino.

Athens, May 24.—It is again semiofficially asserted that Edhem Pasha, the Turkish commander in chief, has repeated his statement that peace must be negotiated with him and is now pressing for the appointment of a Greek plenipotentiary to conduct the settlement of terms.

M. Deligeorgis, a former foreign minister, has been elected president of the Cretan central committee.

General Smolenski has sent telegrams to the Athenian newspapers denying that he ordered a retreat except in pursuance of the commands of the Crown Prince Constantine and adding, "I earnestly beg you not to publish inaccurate statements calculated to create dissensions in the army."

He also denies that any guns fell into the hands of the enemy during the retreats from Reveni and Velestino.

The Berthet column (Italian) insisted on coming here, several of the volunteers refusing to return to Italy on the ground that they are liable to arrest as deserters. The government has decided that the column must return to Italian territory and will undertake to board and lodge only those liable to arrest.

Greece Recalls Soldiers From Arta.

London, May 24.—The Athens correspondent of The Times says:

"Owing to the disquietude caused by the presence in the city of large bodies of volunteers the government has hastily recalled the force of gendarmes sent to Arta and will take measures to deport these dangerous allies to their various countries at the earliest possible date.

"Most of the volunteers making up the Berthet column are anarchists, and the government has done wisely in refusing to allow them to come here, although they insisted on the privilege.

"The government sent them from Arta to Zaverda and there disarmed them, with orders to leave for Italy in Greek vessels. Thereupon they began to indulge in all sorts of excesses and got into conflict with the inhabitants, with the result that one Italian was killed and six were seriously wounded.

"Finally, after a great deal of trouble, they were sent to Brindisi under the escort of two Greek men-of-war."

The Powers' Instructions.

London, May 24.—The correspondent of The Times at Constantinople says:

"The powers have instructed their embassadors to act as their representatives in mediating between Turkey and Greece. A collective note will be handed to the porte forthwith. Palace circles now realize that great maladresse has been displayed on the Turkish side. The question is how to retreat from the present situation without humiliation, and a change of ministry is being discussed as the best way to save appearances."

To Act Direct With Greece.

Athens, May 24.—It is reported here semiofficially that Edhem Pasha, commander of the Turkish army in Thessaly, has informed the Greek officers, who in conjunction with Turkish officers are arranging the neutral zone, that he is empowered to negotiate the terms of peace with Greece direct.

Will Extend Time For Negotiations.

Paris, May 24.—Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria has had a long conference with M. Hanotaux, minister of foreign affairs.

New Line of Steamers.

San Francisco, May 24.—Arrangements are being made for the establishment of a new line of steamers to ply between this city and South American ports. It is proposed to bring hither from the east for service a fleet of large ocean liners. J. S. Kimball & Co., shippers and commission merchants of this city have the project in hand and are said to represent certain stockholders of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway company. They say that their venture is not in opposition to the Pacific Mail, but is primarily designed to level up trade between California and Mexico, Central and South America.

Charred Bones Near Leutgert's Home.

Chicago, May 24.—Charred bones and some old clothing, said to be blood-stained, were taken by the police from a building in the rear of the home of Adolph L. Luetgert, the wealthy sausage manufacturer who is accused of wife murder. The bones will be examined to determine if they are from a human body, and the stains on the clothing will be put under chemical test to ascertain whether they are blood-stains. The police attach great importance to this find.

NO MORE TOLL ROADS.

No more toll roads will be found in New Jersey. The legislature passed and the governor signed the bill abolishing turnpike companies and providing that the State pay one third of the purchase money extinguishing the few charters remaining. The abolition of the toll roads is a good thing In their day they were excellent; they served their purpose, but are now obsolete. The main objection to the bill was that part which provided payment for the charters. Perhaps it was a necessity, but it enabled the old turnpike companies to sell at pretty fair figures that which had little or no especial value, and was fast losing what little it had. —Elizabeth Journal.

GOOD HORSE RACING.

Spirited Contests at the Gentlemen's Driving Park Saturday.

There was good trotting at the Gentlemen's Driving Park, Saturday afternon, and a large crowd of the local horsemen were present and witnessed the sport. The track was in good condition.

John Osbourne's brown mare, "Magnolia," and John Hays' brown gelding, "Andy," met in a special match. "Magnolia" was driven well and passed under the wire first in both heats, making the miles in 2:40 and 2:39½.

The fastest time of the day was made in a match between Thomas Brantingham's bay mare "Myrtle Twig" and William Smalley's brown pacing mare, "Belle." The bay mare made the pace and won the match after three exciting heats. The time for the heats was 2:27½, 2:26½, and 2:28.

There was a lively brush between three of the horses. Newton Smalley had his sorrel pacer in line, "Daisy M., the gray mare, owned by Harry Gynette, was there, as was "Sunday." Douglas Darby's sorrel mare. Smalley's horse failed to get off properly in the first heat and the gray and the sorrel had everything their own way. Darby's sorrel mare won the first heat with "Daisy M." a close second. The result of the second heat was the same. In the third heat, Smalley's mare started off good trim and forged ahead at the halt. The harness to Darby's rig broke and he was forced to withdraw, but it did not make any difference, for Smalley's mare had found her gait and left the others far behind. The times for the three heats were 2:38; 2:37½; and 2:33.

Andrew Lutkins' brown pacer won two straight heats from Fred Hand's bay pacer, "Ned," in 2:40 and 3:42.

The racing ended for the day with a match between Ed Walters and Isaac Randolph in road wagons. Walter's horse was driven by Ed Campbell who finished first in the one heat in an even three minutes.

BOROUGH DISTURBERS.

Several Delinquents From Law and Order Before Recorder Thomas.

For the first time in many weeks the borough court this morning was a scene of activity. Charles Williams was the first prisoner arraigned before Recorder Thomas. He had been rushing the "growler" from a residence in the rear of French's carriage factory, but after repeated warnings he still persisted, besides being noisy and disturbing the peace. He was arrested by Chief Wilson. He was given sixty days to sober up.

The next on the docket was a happy quartette, consisting of George Zeisz, Calvin Sutton, William MacConnell and Albert De Nise. Early Sunday morning this quartette was stationed on the Watchung avenue bridge, and all of them, being somewhat the worse for drink, persisted in giving an open-air concert much to the annoyance of the neighbors. The programme was a varied one and was not wholly harmonious. Chief Wilson heard the noise on Somerset street and at once started to hunt up the origin. At the same time Sergeant Kiely was given a tip and he searched for the disturbance on this side of the brook. In a few minutes the men were discovered and were quick to learn that the officers were after them. They made an attempt to get on this side. The Sergeant was on guard, however, and the men remained where they were until Chief Wilson and Marshal Kliner took them in charge. It cost Zeisz $15 for his part in the concert, while Sutton paid $10, and McConnell was fined $2. DeNise was allowed to go with a reprimand.

—Tomorrow afternoon and evening a strawberry festival will be held under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. in their rooms on Watchung avenue.

A Man From Hacknsack Looking for Work Found in an Unconscious Conditi n.

Two school boys found an unconscious man lying on the sidewalk in front of the home of Nathan Saunders, of Grove street, this noon. They told Mrs. Margaret Wilson, who lived near by, and she brought some water. The man was then partially conscious and could talk a little. Chief Marshal Wilson was notified by telephone by Allan Wilson, son of Mayor Wilson, who happened to be passing on his wheel and the chief came and took charge of the man.

He said that his name was A. R. Ward and that he had walked from Hackensack since Saturday, looking for work. He refused to go to the Hospital and explained that he was subject to fainting spells. The neighbors took up a collection for his benefit and he continued on his way after a short rest.

A MORNING SONG.

From the apple trees' bloom
The south wind is flinging
Delicious perfume,
And a medley of singing.

Around me a throng
Of bright birds are winging,
Yet I hear but the song
That the brown thrush is singing.

Almost within reach,
On a spray he is swinging;
And plainer than speech
Is the song he is singing.

"'Tis a wonderful thing
That to you I am bringing:
I bring you the spring".
So the brown thrush is singing.

Aye! sweetest of all
The notes that are ringing,
Is the brown thrush's call,
And the song he is singing.

YOUNG HERO DROWNED

AFTER RESCUING HIS COMPANION HE LOST HIS OWN LIFE.

Little Michael Liebig Pulled Michael Oliphant Out of a Whirlpool Only to Lose His Balance and Drown Himself.

Michael Liebig and Michael Oliphant, four and five years old respectively, strayed from their homes, in Raritan, late Saturday afternoon and found their way to a dangerous place on the bank of the big water course which feeds the mills on the Raritan river. The conduit has an outlet into the Raritan river through an underground pipe, five feet in diameter, and thence through a sluiceway with a bed of rocks. The water rushes from the conduit to the river with terrific force and creates a whirlpool of large dimensions near the outlet in the conduit. The two boys climbed down the bank near the whirlpool and were amusing themselves by throwing chips in the water, when Oliphant lost his balance and plunged headfirst into the whirlpool. Leibig held out a long stick, which he had in his hand at the time, and shouted: "Now, Mikey, hold on and I'll pull you in sure."

The little fellow tugged away for dear-life and had succeeded in drawing his playmate to the shore when Oliphant suddenly released his hold on the pole. Liebig fell backward and fell down the entankment into the whirlpool from which he had just resued Oliphant. He was twirled around like a straw, and in the twinkling of an eye he shot through the underground pipe and was precipitated upon the jagged rocks in the sluiceway below. His little body was tossed like a cork on the leaping waters, which bore him rapidly to the river, one hundred yards away. He was still struggling for life when caught up by the swift current of the river.

Antony Pascale, who sat on the river bank, saw the body shoot by on the surface. He was so horrified by the accident that he made no attempt at rescue. Pascale watched the body until it sank below the surface, a quarter of a mile down the river. The body was recovered an hour later in a shallow part of the river, near where Pascale saw it disappear. The child was the son of Michael Leibig, assistant master machinist in the Raritan Woollen Mills.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore equires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. THE AMERICAN QUEEN COMPETITION!
A Columbia FREE!

A lady's Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, will be given to the winner in THE AMERICAN QUEEN competition, which will be open to all the subscribers to THE AMERICAN QUEEN until June 30, 1897.
The Columbia, the standard bicycle of the world, has been selected for this competition, because the publishers of THE AMERICAN QUEEN are convinced that it is the best and that the woman who wins it would have it in preference to any other make.
The Columbia is now on exhibition at our store, and will remain on exhibition until June 30th, when the competition will close and the Columbia will be awarded to the fortunate winner.
The contest which we have just inaugurated, by or through which some subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN is going to win a fine, high-grade $100 Columbia Bicycle, is already well under way. The contest will remain open until June 30, 1897. The conditions and plan of this contest are simply these: We purpose presenting a Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, to the lady subscriber who furnishes the best menu, for one week, for a family of five, the cost of such menu not to exceed $10 for the week. The merits of the menus submitted will be passed upon by the Editor of THE AMERICAN QUEEN, Miss Mary L. Bisland, and the person furnishing the best menu, in Miss Bisland's judgment, will be presented with the bicycle.
The menus submitted should be enclosed in one envelope and the name of the sender in a separate one, the two being handed in or sent in together, addressed to us. The envelopes containing the menus will then be numbered and sent to Miss Bisland and the envelopes containing the names reserved by us, and when Miss Bisland makes her choice of the menus we will inform us of the number of the winner and we will then announce the result in local newspapers and THE AMERICAN QUEEN.
The only requirement necessary to admit you to this contest is that you be a subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN.
The splendid wheel which will go to the winner is on exhibition in the store and may be seen at any time.
We want everybody to feel free to go into this contest and we hope that hundreds of our customers will fix their minds on good things to eat and mould them into an acceptable menu for the week, and at the same time keep the cost down to $10.
THE COMPETITION.—Our aim in offering this competition is to have every lady we can reach with this announcement become a reader of THE AMERICAN QUEEN. THE QUEEN is published at $1 a year, but to give all our friends a chance to get this splendidly useful home publication for the ensuing year and at the same time have a chance to become the proud possessor of the standard cycle, we shall until the 30th day of June receive subscriptions (only one, however, will be taken from each family) for the nominal fee of 25 Cents a year. Come to the store at once, register your name, receive your receipt for 25 cents and try to win the Columbia.

DAINTY LINGERIE.

Silk Underwear Fashionable Again After a Period of Eclipse.

(By Special Arrangement with the N.Y. Sun.)

Women's undergarments are exquisitely dainty and beautiful this spring. Beruffled and befrilled lingerie has held its own against vigorous attacks made by dress reformers, health culturists, and short-skirted sisterhoods, to say nothing of the organized efforts of new women to oust it.

The finest articles of underwear are made of silk, nainsook, and linen lawn. It makes a woman glad she is a woman just to look at them, whether she can afford to indulge herself in a single piece or not. For a time silk lingerie fell somewhat into disrepute, but is now possibly more fashionable than any other. Word comes from Paris that the latest fad there is for undergarments of flaming red silk in all the new shades, varying from the soft reds to the brightest scarlets, but these Mephistophelean freaks have not yet reached this shore. It is said, however, that they will be landed later on. Pale pink, pale blue, purple, and yellow China silk sets, both figured and plain, are displayed in some of the most exclusive shops and are being much worn. They consist of the four regulation pieces and two underskirts, one being very short.

Dimity underwear, in white, pink, light and dark blue and lilac, is being worn. It is much betrimmed with lace and the colors are fast. It saves lining thin dresses and freshens them up after being laundered. These sets are far cheaper than those made of silk and are almost as effective.

The night dress with the square yoke shown in the illustration is also made of French nainsook. The trimming is of fine beading and Maltese lace, and it is as practical and comfortable as it is pretty.

That little garment, the corset cover, plays an important part in the success or failure of the summer girl's wardrobe, for upon it depends the fit of her sheer dimities, gauzy organdies, and dainty Swisses and batistes. All of the newest models are gathered into a belt at the waist and can be let out or drawn in at will. Most of them are laid in plaits or finely tucked behind but they are marvels of elaborateness in front. Some are V shaped, some round, others square, and others droop from the shoulders in the quaintest old-fashioned way.

While tea jackets do not properly come under the head of underwear, they are close kin. The newest models are made of handsome brocaded silks, yellow being in the lead when it comes to color. They are cut with a straight box back and a loose front, and are trimmed with handsome lace or plaited chiffon and lined with thin soft silk. Jackets of a silk and wool mixture or fine French flannel are trimmed with frillings of wash net edged with wash ribbon.

DOGS OF WAR IN REALITY

Training Great Danes to Drag Soldiers from Bicycles.

To let loose the dogs of war is to be a veritable military manoeuvre, for dogs are now being trained by the German army to do actual battle. The bicycle is responsible for this. Since its introduction into the armies of Europe, German officers have been considering the best method of securing it, and the result has been a decision to train dogs to drag bicycle riders from their wheels.

The Great Dane has been selected for the purpose, as his size and strength make him a powerful and effective antagonist.

At Berlin there are now 1,000 of these great dogs in training. Every day for the past three months they have been taken to the parade ground and been given lessons in distinguishing the German and Austrian uniforms from the French, Italian and Russian, for it is necessary that they should discriminate between friend and foe. Then they are taught to rush upon a bicycle mounted enemy and dismount him.

When it is remembered that nearly all the armies of Europe have adopted the bicycle, the necessity of the best method to lessen their effectiveness can be appreciated, and the German army officers believe they have discovered the method.—New York Herald.

Get a Stateroom on the Sunny Side.

Rooms on the south side of the ship as she crosses are the best. That is the side that the sun shines on, and it always seems to be less wave-beaten than to the north; one's chances of having the port open, if the weather is tolerable at all, are, therefore, better. On the big ships there are staterooms on four decks; the promenade deck, from which one can slip into the open air at once; the salon deck, where the public rooms and the officers' cabins are, and also most of the bad smells; the main deck given up almost entirely to staterooms, and the lower deck, where people do not stay unless they must.—Scribner's.

Not an Agnostic.

A colored gentleman who occupies the proud position of janitor in a public building has as his guest an uncle, who is a Baptist minister in a Georgia town.

"Uncle Mose," said the nephew, "de reason why I done hab got ter de top ob de wurl is dat I don' talk no stock in dem foolishness dat I used ter hab down in Georgy. Now all dem signs an' superstitionistic notions am done gone."

"I dunno, Dave," said the reverend uncle. "I hope yo' ain' done los' none ob yo' 'ligion, while disquistioning wid de white folks. Of co'se, I don' believe in no signs dat ain' 'cordin' ter Scriptur, but dey is sumpfin' 'bout dem. Now, dar am de lef' hin' foot ob de grabeya'd rabbit."

"I didn' mean no sich ting as dat, Uncle Mose," interrupted the nephew. "I mean dem signs an' superstitions. Ob co'se, de lef' hin' foot ob de grabeya'd rabbit brings luck. Eberybody knows dat, but dat ain' no sign, jess a fac', laik ef a dog crosses yo' path some one gwine do yo' wrong, or anyting dat ebery man knows am so."

"Glad ter heah yo' say dat, Dave. I was sure 'fraid yo' got ter be one o' dem agnostics," replied the uncle.—Washington Star.

Extraordinary Memory.

Hortensius, the great Roman lawyer and orator, had a memory of extraordinary scope and tenacity. After composing a speech or oration he could repeat it, word for word, exactly as he had prepared it. On one occasion he went to an auction where the business was carried on during an entire day, and at evening, for a wager, he wrote down a list of the articles that had been sold and the prices, together with the names of the purchasers, in the order in which the purchases had been made.

All In the Same Boat.

"The Mississippi River is receding," observed the snake editor.

"The farmers along its banks will have to do the same," replied the horse editor.

"How is that?"

"They will have to reseed, too."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Woman's Ills

are as often caused by kidney disease as by affections of the womb.

Among the most certain symptoms of this disease are Backache, Bad Complexion, A Tired Feeling, Depressed Spirits, Headache, Nervousness, Sideache, Neuralgia, Too Frequent Urination, Dragging Pains, etc.

I have been troubled with my kidneys for more than five years. I had terrible pains in my back, so that I would often have to stop my work and lie down for a time. I have also had great trouble with incontinence of urine, being compelled to get up as often as twenty-four (24) times in one night. I got a sample box of Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills from Mr. George A. Gorgas, Druggist, Harrisburg, Pa., and they have done wonders for me. The pain in my back and sides is almost gone. I can now do all my work, and must get up only from once to twice at night. I also suffered with female weakness which is apparently all gone. I have just gotten another box of Pills from Mr. Gorgas which I think will cure me entirely. I would also state that I have been treated by five doctors none of whom have done me any permanent good. I cannot recommend your pills too highly. MRS. H. D. STAHLNECKER, Middleburg, Snyder Co., Pa.

YOUR BUILDINGS

will look a hundred times better, last many years longer, and fetch a higher price in case you wish to sell if you keep them well and handsomely painted. A fine coat of paint is like a dress suit, and puts a building in proper shape for show. Nothing pays better than keeping a house up. It costs something to build and paint is a cheap preservative.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drive. will receive your work.

LIVES LOST AT A FIRE.

Two Killed and Three Seriously Injured In a Blaze In New York City.

New York, May 24.—Two persons were killed and three seriously injured in a fire which started shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday morning in the four-story and basement brownstone building 149 West Twenty-third street. Several persons narrowly escaped death. The dead are: Mrs. Catherine Mossway, 32 years, died at the hospital from suffocation and burns; Beatrice Mossway, 4 years old, daughter of the former, suffocated in her room.

The injured are: Mrs. Mary C., or Carrie Bowles, boarding house keeper at 28 Hollis street, Boston, dangerously hurt by jumping from a window on the third floor, taken to the New York hospital; Miss Macdonald, slightly burned on face; F. S. Phelps, slightly burned on face.

The building was occupied both for business and dwelling purposes. In the basement is an all night eating house. The Weser Piano company occupy the first floor, and the upper part of the building is a furnished room establishment, conducted by Mrs. Minnie Curtis.

HISTORIC BUILDING DESTROYED

The Oldest Church In Georgia Burned to the Ground.

Savannah, May 24.—Christ church, the oldest church in Georgia, founded by John Wesley before he promulgated the Methodist faith, was burned almost to the ground. The building contained all the records of Savannah and practically of Georgia since 1825, most of which are a total loss. Christ church parish was founded soon after the settlement of Savannah. The first edifice was begun in 1743, but was not completed until 1750. The founder of the church was Rev. Henry Herbert, who came over from England with Oglethorpe.

John Wesley was its third rector, and on the site of the present edifice stood the rude church in which he ministered as chaplain to the colonists.

Postal Congress Members' Outing.

Washington, May 24.—The members of the Universal Postal congress returned to Washington after a cruise down the Chesapeake. There were about 135 persons in the party, and visits were made to Fortress Monroe, Newport News, Norfolk and the navy yard at Portsmouth, Va. The party went via Baltimore, special trains being placed at their disposal, and the water trip was made on the York line steamer Charlotte. The congress will be taken on a trip through the west about the first week of June. The plan at present contemplates a visit to Yellowstone park and stops at some of the leading cities.

One Negro Murders Another.

Shrewsbury, N. J., May 24.—James Rosier, a negro, clubbed and shot David Locker, another negro, to death on the road between Red Bank and this place. Both men lived here and were farm laborers. The killing, it is alleged, resulted from the fondness by Rosier's wife for the company of other men, one of whom was Locker. Mrs. Rosier was in Red Bank, and Locker was returning home with her when they met the woman's husband. Rosier attacked Locker, beating him about the head with a revolver. Rosier then shot him in the head, Locker dying soon after. The murderer gave himself up.

Edict Against Sunday Labor.

Cleveland, May 24.—It is announced that John D. Rockefeller has issued an edict against Sunday labor by the men employed on his ore docks in the upper and lower lakes. While the men are expected to respond to calls to load or unload vessels at any hour of the day or night they will not be asked to work between midnight Saturday and midnight Sunday.

Carter Set the Pace.

Chicago, May 24.—Mayor Carter H. Harrison, riding a wheel and escorted by eight officers in knickerbockers, led the annual Sunday run of Chicago's bicycle clubs yesterday. The parade started from Thirty-fifth street and Grand boulevard and ended at the loop in Garfield park and was participated in by 3,000 cyclists, of whom 150 were women.

Yale's Oarsmen Selected.

New Haven, May 24.—Captain Bailey of the Yale varsity crew has announced that the following candidates would be given seats: Bailey, Griswold, Campbell, Greenway, Langford, Marsh, Mills, Rogers, Whitney, Allen and Green, coxswain. This practically settles the membership of the Yale crew for the season.

Dr. Huckel Resigns.

Amherst, Mass., May 24.—Rev. Dr. Oliver Huckel has resigned as pastor of the First Congregational church to accept a call to become pastor of the Associate Reformed church at Baltimore. His resignation will take effect the last Sunday in July, and he commences his duties at Baltimore in September.

Fire In Worcester.

Worcester, Mass., May 24.—Fire gutted Cronin's block in Millbury, entailing a damage of $15,000. The block was owned by Cronin Bros. and occupied by them as a grocery store and restaurant. The A. O. H. division and A. O. F. of A. lodge occupied the top floors. Partially insured.

Congressman Tongue Improving.

Washington, May 24.—Congressman Tongue of Oregon, who was struck by a cable car, is improving. No serious consequences are expected from his injuries.

BOTH FOUND GUILTY.

Conviction of Sholes and Mrs. Turpie of Perjury.

CLOSE OF A CELEBRATED TRIAL.

More Developments Expected Shortly In the Suspected Poisoning of Young Ebenezer Sholes, Who Was to Have Testified In the Case.

Norwich, Conn., May 24.—Ransom S. Sholes, father of the young man who died suddenly from suspected poisoning, who has been on trial in the superior court for subornation of perjury, has been convicted and sentenced to three years in state prison. Mrs. Emily Turpie was also sentenced to two years' imprisonment. The case of young Herbert McAllister, who confessed to perjury and thus testified strongly against Sholes, was not pressed.

Sholes, Mrs. Turpie and McAllister, who is only 18 years old and was employed by Sholes on one of his farms, testified in the superior court in New London last February in a divorce suit brought by Sholes. They declared that Mrs. Sholes had been guilty of improper conduct with Peter Senay, a farmhand. The convictions of Sholes and Mrs. Turpie are the result of perjury at that time.

Pathetic Scene In Court.

The proceedings brought about a pathetic scene. Sholes was confident of acquittal and during the trial had sat near his lawyer with apparent stoical indifference to the evidence.

The jury was out less than 30 minutes, and at their verdict of guilty Sholes nearly fainted. Mrs. Turpie received her sentence with a great demonstration of grief.

Counsel for Mrs. Turpie and Sholes, immediately after sentence was passed, gave notice that an appeal to the supreme court would be made.

The court in the meantime fixed bail in each case at $2,500. This Sholes was able to furnish, when he was released, but Mrs. Turpie has not secured bail, and she remains in jail.

As to Ebenezer Sholes' Death.

New developments in the investigation into the cause of the mysterious death of Ebenezer Sholes, a son of Ransom Sholes, was reported. Coroner Brown said that he had evidence which practically proved that a person whom he refused to name was the murderer of the young man.

An additional analysis is being made by the state chemist, and a report is expected soon. This will have a direct bearing on the case.

It is confidently asserted that the death of young Sholes will turn out to be one of the most sensational murders brought before the state courts in many years.

The fact of the death of young Sholes has been laid before the New York Life Insurance company by a local agent, and it is understood the company is making an investigation. A policy on his life was taken out only a short time ago for $5,000, payable to Ransom S. Sholes.

Drowned Trying to Beat the Record.

Stockton, Cal., May 24.—Charles Caville, the Australian champion swimmer who recently swam around the Seal rocks at the Cliff House and across Golden gate, was drowned while swimming in Jackson's baths here. He was trying to beat his record of five minutes and five seconds under water. When seven minutes had elapsed, an assistant went down for him and brought him up. His friends rolled and worked over him for more than an hour. Doctors came and worked over him, using every appliance known, but could not bring him to life. He was showing in seven feet of water and was in fine condition.

Said to Have Been a Defaulter.

Altoona, Pa., May 24.—Eugene Sebastian Fleischer, who was murdered in Pittsburg Friday morning, leaves a wife and son in this city. It is said that he deserted them in Hollidaysburg 14 years ago for another woman, whom he took away with him. At that time it was charged he was a defaulter to an insurance company and several secret societies with which he was officially connected.

Killed by Her Husband.

Chicago, May 24.—Lying helplessly ill, with her 3-year-old child asleep at her side, Mrs. Nellie Dawson, 25 years old, was shot and killed by her husband, John Dawson. The shooting followed a quarrel. The murderer is at large, but the police declare he will soon be captured, as he is well known to them.

Centenarian Dead.

New York, May 24.—Mrs. Jessie Salinsky, who is said by her relatives to have been about 105 years old, died suddenly in her home in an east side tenement. She had been in full possession of all her faculties up to the time of her death. She was born in Poland and came to this country 30 years ago.

Death of an Ex Confederate Commander.

Abilene, Tex., May 24.—General John Sayle, a well known ex-Confederate commander, author and jurist, is dead of heart failure, aged 77. He has written more books on Texas law than any other author in the state, and his works are found in every library. He was born in Vernon, N. Y., in 1825.

Tennessee's Fair Booming.

Nashville, May 24.—Saturday closed a most successful week at the exposition. Official figures are not obtainable, but competent judges give the night attendance as the largest yet experienced. Fully 20,000 people visited the grounds on Saturday, and the week's attendance foots up over 50,000.

AROUND THE BASES.

The match game between the first teams of the Plainfield High School and Leal's school will be played on Wednesday afternoon of next week instead of Saturday afternoon as was expected.

The Plainfield High School will play its last game in the contest for the championship of the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association next Saturday at Montclair, when the Plainfield boys will meet the High School boys of that city.

A very hotly contested game of baseball was played Saturday afternoon between the team from Berkley Heights and a team from New Providence. The game was played at Berkley Heights and the visitors were severely beaten by the score of 15 to 6. It was the opening of the base ball season in that locality and there was a large crowd at the game.

The Plainfield Athletic Club won a great game of baseball from the Westfields on the latter's new grounds on Saturday afternoon. This was the first appearance of the Westfields on their new grounds and in their new uniforms. The game was very close up to the seventh inning, because of the inability of the Plainfield players to connect with Higgins curves, which were very deceiving. Cooney got to first base on balls, and was followed by Firstbrook and Fleming with singles, which filled the bases. The Westfield rooters at this moment were not to be heard. Symons then came up to the bat and batted out the longest hit of the day, bringing in the three men on bases and reaching third himself. The P. A. C.'s got two more runs in this inning and four in the eighth, which clinched the game. Both batteries did good work. Moran, Cooney and Guinee put up a good game. Roth and Crooke carried off the batting honors for Westfield. Following is the score

BY INNINGS.

Plainfield A. C.	0	4	0	1	0	1	6	4	*	—16
Westfield B. B. C.	0	3	0	0	1	2	0	1	4	—11

Three-base hits—Symons. Two-base hits—McDede, Roth, Crooke (2). Struck out—By Higgins, 12; by Winn, 8. Passed balls—Kelly 3. Umpire—Mr. Moran.

Boys Not Guilty.

The case of the State against William Mague, Frank Mague and Archie Larmour, of this city, charging malicious mischief on March 8th, was tried this morning, at Elizabeth, before Judge McCormick and a jury. Lawyer Brady represented the Mague boys, and Larmour turned State's evidence. The jury was out fifteen minutes when they brought in a verdict of not guilty.

LOCAL ATHLETES WON.

PLAINFIELDERS SECURED FOUR FIRST PRIZES AT SCHOLASTIC GAMES.

George Proctor Smith Again Distinguished Himself by Winning the Individual Championship by Scoring Most Points.

The second annual field meeting of the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association was held at the grounds of the New Jersey Athletic Club, Saturday afternoon. Although only four contestants went from Plainfield as representatives of the High School, they succeed in capturing four firsts and two seconds. George Proctor Smith again won the individual championship of the State by scoring the most number of points of any one contestant.

C. A. Sulzer and H. E. Manvel, of Pingry's school, had everything their own way in the runs and divided the honors. In the hurdles, P. Jones and S. H. Plum, Jr., both of Newark Academy, won the events. W. N. McCully, of Pingry's, won the mile bicycle race, with L. M. Hillman, of the Plainfield High School, half a length behind. Hillman and Harry Cuming won their heats and Cuming had a fine show for third in the final when he was thrown by a collision with one of the other riders. The time was 2:42 3 5.

In the field events Plainfield made its best showing. There was no one from the High School in the high jump and Smith made no showing in the broad jump. The other events were as follows: Pole Vault for Height—Won by George P. Smith, Plainfield High School, with 9 feet 6 inches; Roger Moore, Bordentown Military Academy, second, with 9 feet 5 inches; W. Lawson, Montclair High School, third, with 8 feet 6 inches. Throwing Twelve Pound Rammer—Won by Carroll L. Runyon, Plainfield High School, with 102 feet 11 inches; Geo. P. Smith, Plainfield High School, second, with 98 feet 5 inches; E. P. Underwood, Pingry School, third, with 96 feet 8 inches. Putting Twelve Pound Shot—Won by George P. Smith, Plainfield High School, with 37 feet 11½ inches; E. P. Underwood, Pingry School, second, with 36 feet 6 inches A. M. Lindley, Montclair High School, third, with 36 feet 2½ inches. Throwing the Discus—Won by George P. Smith, Plainfield High School, with 92 feet 11½ inches; E. P. Underwood, Pingry School, second, with 84 feet 11½ inches; W. F. Barrows, third, with 81 feet 5 inches. In each case the State record was broken. Runyon's defeat of Smith in throwing the hammer was not a great surprise, as it was known that Runyon was doing by far the best at practice. Smith excelled his own record in the pole vault. The scores by points were as follows: Pingry School of Elizabeth, 47; Newark Academy, 44; Plainfield High School, 26; Montclair High School, 11; Bordentown Military Academy, 4; Stevens School, 3; East Orange High School, 0.

Growth of Bible Study Classes.

The Bible classes in the various cities and towns conducted by Rev. George C. Needham are growing in interest and attendance. There is a demand for more classes. Rev. D. M. Stearns, the leader of the Plainfield class, is now in Japan.

—The first strawberry festival of the season is being held this afternoon in the W. C. T. U. rooms. It will be continued this evening.

THE TROLLEY'S PLACE.

FRANK BERGEN BELIEVES IN PUTTING TRACKS ON THE COUNTY ROAD.

A Trolley Road on an Independent Right of Way, He Says, Would Not Fulfill its Duties to the People as it Should Do.

Frank Bergen, Esq., of Elizabeth, has recently given public expression to his views on the growth of the trolley system and how to deal with it. After expressing the opinion that within the next few years, a double track street railroad will be built from the county seat to Plainfield, in response to the growing demands of the public, he answers the objections to using the new county roads and incidentally gives his views on the general subject of trolley extension and municipal ownership of gas works, water works, etc., as follows:

"It is useless to argue that Westfield or North avenues are too good for a trolley road when such roads exist on Broad street, Elizabeth, Broad street, Newark, and in fact on nearly every important street in the country. No doubt it would be a pity to throw the telford in the ditch which the Board of Freeholders put upon the county roads a few years ago at an expense of $10,000 a mile, but it cannot be helped.

"It is useless to talk of constructing a street railroad on an independent right of way or along muddy streets where there are but few buildings. A street railroad, to be useful to the public, must be on built-up streets, where people can step on or off the cars without wading through mud or snow. A trolley road on what is called an independent right of way would be simply a steam road operated by electricity, and if street railroad companies were compelled, as steam roads are, to acquire right of way by purchase, they would have to charge four or five times as much as they do now, and the particular service that railroads now render could not be furnished The fact is that no class of corporations pays so highly for its franchises as street railways. They agree to carry people almost anywhere for five or ten cents, in consideration of receiving from the public a right of way for their tracks. I do not know of anything in actual operation that so nearly complies with the communistic notions of Bellamy, Henry George and others as a street railroad."

UNDER THE CUBAN STAR.

An Interesting and Instructive Lecture Delivered Last Night.

Plainfield people were given a chance, last night, to hear something of Cuba and learn the real facts concerning the war and the combatants, at the illustrated lecture, "Under the Cuban Star", by E. A. Havers, for the benefit of the athletic association of Leal's School. The entertainment was above the usual excellence. The views were certainly fine while Mr. Havers, who has travelled all through the island, knew exactly what he was talking about.

He opened with a description of the country when first visited by Columbus, four centuries ago. He first called the attention of his audience to the part of the island occupied by the conquerers, the Spanish, showing views of the castles and fortresses there and the instruments of torture in use, giving a description of the causes for which they were applied. Views of the towns and country before the war began were shown and then compared with other views taken since the beginning of the rebellion. He told something of the manners and customs and the condition of the country before and after the beginning of the war, showing very plainly the devastating effects.

The conflict itself and the combatants were next considered. Photographs of the leading generals of both sides were shown while Mr. Havers gave a brief sketch of the life of each. He gave the description of several battles and showed pictures taken on the spot. The death of Maceo was described and illustrated. The methods of warfare used by both sides were explained and the audience was given a good idea of what life and war in Cuba is like.

The hall was not filled as well as it deserved to be but those that did come were very enthusiastic.

Jollification at Policeman's Home.

A jollification was held at the home of Patrolman Saunders on Berckman street, last evening, in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Saunders. It was arranged by Mrs. Joseph Saunders. About forty guests were present and spent a delightful evening together. Mrs. Saunders received a number of gifts in remembrance of the occasion.

Can't Come Too Soon.

The Daily Press is informed that within the next six weeks new quarters will be secured for a city police station. The committee having the matter in charge are doing all they can to effect a change as quickly as possible.

BICYCLE AND GOSPEL.

A WHEELING SQUAD ORGANIZED BY THE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS.

The Young Christians to Prosecute There Good Work Awheel—The First Organization of its Kind Ever Formed.

Something quite new in Christian Endeavor has been originated by the up to-date Plainfield Local Union. At the business meeting of the Union held last night at the home of one of the vice presidents, Miss Ernestine Smith, plans were perfected for the organization of a Christian Endeavor bicycle squad, the first one ever known to have been formed. This squad is to consist of all the bicyclists in the Endeavor Societies of Plainfield and vicinity, who will meet, at intervals through the summer months, and enjoy pleasant and sociable evening runs, to visit out-of-town societies.

The squad will be led by a colorbearer, who will display the pennant of the Union, with its gold C. E. The captain is Miss Ernestine Smith, who will be assisted by lieutenants, whom she will appoint, and who will help her to manage the runs. No very long rides will be undertaken, and a very moderate pace will be set, in order that those who cannot ride either very far or very fast will be able to participate in the runs.

The first visit made by the squad will be to the Mount Pleasant Society, on Tuesday evening, June 15th. The Endeavorers of the city will assemble at the Seventh-Day Baptist church, and ride to the Park Avenue Baptist church, where the Endeavorers of the east side are requested to gather. The road to Mount Pleasant leads straight out Park avenue as far as Avon Park, then follows the cross-road for a little over a mile. The date was set on account of the moon being full at that time. All Endeavor wheelmen and wheelwomen are requested not to make any other engagement for that night. Of course, should the weather be threatening, the party would not go. However, the Weather Bureau will be solicited to prepare an especially fine night.

While the business meeting gave especial attention to the organization of the bicycle squad, they did not neglect other matters. No spring languor seems to have overtaken the Local Union. The executive committee is vigorously pushing the preparations for a missionary extension lecture to be given in Dunellen early in June, and also for the spring rally of all the societies. The plan is to hold the latter in the Congregational church, some time during June; to induce the well-beloved State vice-president and delightful speaker, Rev. Cornelius Brett, D. D., to give a talk on the subject "The Christian Endeavorer on His Summer vacation;" to have a brisk open Parliament, and some fine music. The programme committee will consist of Miss M. G. Morse, Miss Ernestine Smith, Irving L. Brady.

Mr. Anthony had some very enthusiastic words to say on "Paterson, '97," in regard to low rates, excellent accommodations, and a magnificent programme. He also urged the Endeavorers to attend the county conference to be held in Rahway on Thursday night of this week. The bicyclists desiring to go to Rahway are requested to meet at the Y. M. C. A.

An Old Rounder Home Again.

Johanna Haley, famous in the annals of the police court, has returned to her home in this city after a visit to the Elizabeth Hospital. She was arrested in Elizabeth, some time ago, on the charge of drunkenness. After being locked up for several days she complained that her head was injured and she was sent to the hospital. It was thought that her skull was fractured, but it afterwards proved that she had only met with a heavy fall while wandering about the street in an intoxicated condition and received a heavy blow on the head. She gradually recovered and was discharged from the hospital several days ago.

For Sabbath Reform.

The Eastern Association of Seventh-day Baptist churches will hold its annual meeting at New Market on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. There will be three services daily. Dinner and supper on those days will be served in Friendship Hall. A number of well-known ministers of that denomination will be present and make addresses. The principal feature of the meetings will be the movement for Sabbath reform. J. D. Spicer, of this city, is the present president of the association, and Miss Ernestine Smith, of this city, the corresponding secretary.

Making Open Cars Ready.

The motors from the closed cars on the street railway are being transferred to the new open cars. All but two of the new cars are now in service.

TO THE PACIFIC SLOPE.

GREAT TRIP BEING ARRANGED FOR CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS.

As Laid Out the Route to and From the Great Convention Takes in 8,219 Miles—The Special Train Will Be Fine.

The New Jersey Christian Endeavor Union Transportation Committee has issued a circular letter to all the societies giving full information regarding the special train which will take the State delegates to the great convention that will be held in San Francisco in July.

The following table gives the railroads used and number of miles traveled on each: Central Railroad of New Jersey, 30; Philadelphia and Reading, 60; Baltimore and Ohio, 494; Baltimore and Southwestern, 536; Missouri Pacific, 287; Rock Island, 624; Denver and Rio Grande, 456; Rio Grande and Western, 328; Southern Pacific, 1,605; Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, 120; Northern Pacific, 2,254; Chicago and Northwestern, 408; Baltimore and Ohio, 1,017; total miles, 8,219. Delegates will be given the privilege of returning via six different routes from San Francisco.

All inquiries should be made to Rev. S. E. Davis, manager, Bound Brook, as soon as possible, that assignment of berths may be made. They will be announced on June 15th. The letter in closing says:

"The advantages of this New Jersey Christian Endeavor special are worthy of the careful consideration of every one who is planning to go to California. The finest Pullman palace cars and a baggage car will be used on this train. Do not fear that some old, defaced, wornout cars will be used. No finer train than the New Jersey Christian Endeavor special will run to the Pacific coast. Well-trained, polite and efficient porters will be in attendance. A manager will be furnished by every railroad over which we travel to aid in making the trip pleasant and comfortable. Each car will be under the personal care of a member of the New Jersey Christian Endeavor Union, who will supply each person with illustrated literature and printed information of the entire route and side trips. All the arrangements for meals, visiting places of interest, etc., will be made by this committee. No person, therefore, need have any anxiety or even thought regarding the details of this trip. Dr. W. R. Ward, of Lyons Farms, has been chosen by the committee to accompany this special train, and his services will be given free, and he will carry a full supply of medicines. In case of sickness one one or more of the drawing-rooms on the train will be devoted to the use of the patients."

The committee of '97 has adopted as the official flag of the convention the old "Pioneer Bear Flag," and will use it for decorating the convention hall and public buildings.

A MISSING BOY LOCATED.

UNABLE TO SPEAK ENGLISH HE FOUND HIS WAY TO NEW YORK RELATIVES.

Julius Schrager's Ten-Year-Old Son Left Home Last Sunday With $6—His Parents Unable to Get Trace of Him Till Today.

A lad, ten-years-old, unable to speak scarcely a word of English, ran away from his home on Spooner avenue, Sunday afternoon and managed to find his way to New York and there locate some relatives living on Broome street. The boy disappeared Sunday but it was not until yesterday afternoon that his parents learned of his whereabouts.

Julius Schrager is a Russian Jew, who is employed as janitor in the office of the Potter Printing Press Company on South Second street. Schrager emigrated to this country not very long ago and then brought a family. He lives on Spooner avenue. Although he has a fair command of the English language, his children know only their native tongue.

Last Saturday afternoon, Harry, the ten-year-old son, disappeared. The sum of $6 that belonged to his mother also disappeared. He was traced to the station but there all trace was lost. It was supposed that he paid his fare on the train. Yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Schrager received a letter from relatives living on Broome street, New York, saying that the missing boy had gone there and was still there.

This afternoon, the father of the lad will go to New York after him.

Borough School Census.

The taking of school census was started in the borough March 3th, and was completed last Saturday, just nine days before the time required by law. The table shows that there are 1,087 names on the list, of which number 87 are five years old, and eighteen are eighteen years old. These figures are an increase of considerable over last year.

GRADUATES' RECEPTION.

THE SOCIAL SIDE OF THE HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.

Members of the Classes of '95 and '96 Met and Arranged for the Details, Which Will be About as Usual.

The leading social event of the year in the Plainfield High School is the reception to the graduating class. This year it will be held in the Casino of the Union County Country Club on the evening of June 24th, Commencement Day at the High School. The reception is given by the two preceding classes.

Last evening the members of the classes of '95 and '96 held a meeting at the High School building and made the necessary arrangements for the reception to the class of '97. There had been some talk of returning to the old custom of holding the reception in one of the school buildings, but there was a decided opposition to it and the classes decided to follow the precedent of the last two years and hold it in the Casino. The reception will be from 10 to 1 o'clock.

It was decided to issue 300 tickets. Each member of the classes of '95 and '96 will receive four tickets, each member of the graduating class will receive the same number and the rest will be distributed among the subscribers. The Juniors will receive no tickets.

The committees were then appointed by the chairman as follows: Finance committee—Charles Burdette Morse, chairman; John V. Beekman, Jr., Henry B. Drake, Henry Eggerding, Charles M. Dolliver and Raymond V. Carroll; Casino and caterer committee—John V. Beekman, Jr., chairman; George A. Horne; music order committee—Miss Grace E. Overton, chairman; Miss Mary Hull; printing committee—Chas. B. Morse, chairman; Edward O. Clark; decorating committee—Miss Grace E. Overton, chairman; Miss Etta Raybert, Miss Hattie King, Miss Florence Bowman, Miss Mamie Steiner, Miss Clyde Burnett, Miss Elizabeth Cahoone, John V. Beekman, Jr., Geo. A. Horne, Chas. Squires, and Fred J. Squires.

The meeting was presided over by Henry B. Drake, secretary of the class of '95, the president and vice-president both being out of town. Chas. B. Morse was appointed secretary pro tem.

Central's Popular Excursions.

Next Monday the Central Railroad Company will commence their popular excursions to Mauch Chunk, Glen Onoko and the famed switchback. These excursions each year have become more and more popular and the number of people taking advantage of them has increased. The train will leave Plainfield next Monday morning at 9:28 a. m., and the fare for the round trip is $1.75 for adults, and $1 31 for children. You cannot spend a day more profitably than to go on one of these excursions.

Camera Club Outing.

The regular meeting of the Plainfield Camera Club was held last evening in the rooms of the club in the Babcock building. One new member was elected and an outing was arranged for Decoration Day morning. The members will go on the outing on their wheels and expect to ride up through the Gap and over the mountains in the direction of Mt. Bethel. All who are to go on the outing whether members or not are invited to start with the party.

Fell in a Faint.

Otto Tumb, living at the corner of West Fourth street and Morris avenue, was standing at the corner of Park avenue and Front street, Saturday afternoon, when he fell in a fainting fit to the sidewalk. Chief Grant and Patrolman McCue hastened to assist the man and he was taken in Laire's hardware store, where he soon became conscious. The man was removed to his home a little later in a carriage from Coles' livery stable.

A Developing Athlete.

Raymond A. McGee, of Washington Park, is making a great reputation for himself as an oarsman at Yale. He was one of the leading candidates for the freshmen crew, but his splendid physique and great strength and quickness has resulted in his being transferred to the 'varsity crew, in which he is now rowing as No. 6. He is looked on as a sure candidate for the position.

The Fire Alarm Fixed.

A test of the fire alarm system was made on Saturday and all of the difficulty was found in the clock arrangement at the electric light station. As soon as the difficulty was found it was repaired quickly. Saturday afternoon the gong tooted once and for a minute it was thought that there was a fire. Inquiry revealed the fact that men were working on a line which broke, thus causing the blow.

T. I. A. INCORPORATED.

AN IMPORTANT STEP TAKEN BY PROGRESSIVE WOMEN.

The Old Officers Re-elected as a Matter of Formality—Interesting Report Read—Encouraging News of the Fete.

A public meeting of the Town Improvement Association was held this morning in the Y. M. C. A. building. The first business taken up was the adoption of the resolutions which are necessary so that the association may be incorporated, as decided at a recent meeting. It was also necessary to elect officers and the same officers now serving were elected.

Following this, Mrs. S. R. Krom presented her report of the recent convention of the Woman's Health Protective Association of the United States, which was held in Philadelphia. The report was a complete one. At the convention it was decided to form an international association. Plainfield is not yet a member of this association.

Mrs. Mali said that it had been suggested that the coming fete champetre be opened on Friday afternoon instead of Saturday afternoon, but there seemed to be considerable opposition to the proposition, and it has been decided to follow out the original plan.

Mrs. Lemuel William Serrell offered an excellent suggestion in connection with the general work of the Association. She said that in Roger William Park, Providence, R. I., there were several bicycle stands where persons could have their wheels checked and locked by dropping a dime in the slot. The Plainfield Association decided to look into the matter, and if possible secure the same arrangement for Plainfield.

The latter part of the meeting was devoted to a preliminary discussion of the coming fete, and it was stated by the president that everything was gradually getting in shape for the important event.

DIED SUDDENLY.

Though Sick, Horace Doty's Condition Was Not Considered Precarious.

Horace Doty, of Somerset street, died very suddenly last evening about 9:30 after an illness lasting two weeks. Mr. Doty was taken with heart trouble at first and Dr. Zeglio, who was attending him, felt confident that he would recover. A few days ago pneumonia set in and from that time Mr. Doty grew worse until the end came last evening.

The deceased was thirty-seven years old, and was born at Mt. Bethel. Early in life he came to Plainfield where he has lived ever since. He learned the harness maker's trade and followed that business for several years. Of recent years he was employed on the street railway as motorman and conductor. A wife and one child survives him. The notice of funeral will be given later.

MADE THE NIGHT HIDEOUS

A Man With the Nocturnal Desire to Sing Ribald Songs.

There was a solitary offender in the city jail this morning to be arraigned before the City Judge for trial. Michael Dincko was locked up last evening by Patrolman Totten for disturbing the peace of Paradise alley. Dincko, the officer alleges, was drunk and could not walk straight. Neither did he seem able to take care of himself. He sang for the residents of the alley in tones that caused the feline inhabitants to slink away in horror and he then had a mistaken idea that he wanted to fight the policeman. Totten soon changed his mind in regard to the latter wish and Michael went peaceably to the jail.

The Judge heard his story and suspended sentence on him, thinking that a night in the rookery was sufficient punishment.

For the Fresh Air Fund.

An ice cream and candy sale, for the benefit of the fresh air fund, will be held at the home of Miss Eleanor T. Van Deventer, 2 Willow avenue, on Friday afternoon. In connection with the sale, which has been arranged by Miss Eleanor T. Van Deventer and Miss Grace E. Overton, there will be a Punch and Judy show, conducted by the same young ladies on an original plan.

A Silver Sociable.

The Ladies Aid Society of the First M. E. church will hold a silver sociable on Thursday evening in Vincent chapel. A pleasing programme has been provided and a good time is assured to all who attend. No admission will be charged but an offering of silver will be received. There will also be ice cream and cake on sale.

—The 800 silk weavers attached to the Ashley & Bailey silk mills, at Paterson, returned to work under the wage compromise yesterday.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS.

A Wide Divergence of Opinion Among Senators on Tariff.

IN SESSION NEARLY FOUR HOURS.

Debate on the Various Schedules Consumes Most of the Time—Especial Opposition to Increased Tax on Beer.

Washington, May 25.—The Republican caucus emphasized the fact that there is a wide divergence of opinion among the Republican senators on rates of duty fixed in the various schedules of the tariff bill. The senators were in caucus nearly four hours. The only official announcement that was made after the caucus adjourned was that it was decided to appoint three senators in addition to the Republican members of the finance committee, who are to act as a committee to assist in getting the tariff bill through the senate.

A resolution or memorandum offered by Senator Burrows was agreed to by those present, which sets forth that the sense of those present, there not being a full attendance at the caucus, was that Republican senators having amendments to offer should present them to the Republican members of the finance committee, and if the amendments are approved by the committee they are to be offered in the senate. If disapproved, the senators presenting them are to have the right to submit them to the Republican caucus which is to be called upon each schedule if amendments to it are proposed. The finance committee is to hold sessions each evening for the purpose of hearing propositions from Republican senators and to decide upon the advisability of presenting such amendments in the senate.

The object of this proposition is to prevent the Republicans from dividing upon various schedules which might be presented. The necessity of this arrangement was developed by the debate and the various contentions of senators.

Aldrich on the Sugar Schedule.

In the early part of the caucus Senator Aldrich was called upon for an explanation of the bill and some of the amendments. During the remarks Senator Cullom called for a statement on the sugar schedule, over which there had been so much controversy. The explanation presented was largely technical, but the senators who heard him understood that the house schedule would largely exclude the coarse and low grades from Java, the Philippine Islands and other points.

The protection in the senate bill was 75 per cent and equalized the high protection on low grades and high grades.

The effect of the house schedule would be to shut out the lower and cheaper grades of sugar, the system of compound duties presented by the senate bill being for the purpose of making this equality. The average rate in the senate bill was 75 per cent, with a differential of one-eighth of a cent on refined sugar. Senator Aldrich said that this was not as advantageous to the sugar refiners as the house bill. The explanation seemed to cause general satisfaction, at least no one questioned the senator further.

There was some discussion upon the length of time the bill should be under discussion in the senate. Senator Mason suggested that as soon as the opening speeches were made a move should be taken toward having a vote on the bill in two weeks. It was decided to ask that after the debate had run along for a week that the senate begin its sessions at 11 o'clock and sit until 5:30 and have evening sessions from 8 to 11 p. m.

Debate on the various schedules consumed the time of the caucus. A great deal of opposition was developed to the increased tax on beer and duty on tea. Senators Platt of New York, Hanna of Ohio and Spooner of Wisconsin were especially vigorous in their opposition to the increased tax on beer. It was pointed out that the Democrats had already stated their opposition to this tax and would make an effort to have the senate committee amendment eliminated. They thought it would be wise to have an arrangement effected which would relieve Republican senators of embarrassment. It was determined that effort should be made to secure the revenue both from beer and tea by a stamp tax, which would accomplish the same result.

Western Men on the Wool Schedule.

Western senators referred to the wool schedules. Senator Warren of Wyoming, appearing as the spokesman for the woolgrowers of the west, said that the duties proposed by the committee were, in his judgment, inadequate, and he thought there should be increases on the lines of amendments proposed by western senators.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts spoke against the duty on hides, saying he did not see how he could avoid voting for an amendment which proposed placing hides on the free list. This statement raised a storm among western men, who said that if such a method was proposed they would be compelled to vote for placing certain articles on the free list or for reducing the duty upon them. They did not expect that the Democrats would vote with them to increase duties.

The westerners announced that to settle with the eastern men who voted to reduce duties on their products they would vote to reduce the duty on articles which their people purchased and did not produce. It was this state of affairs that brought forth the proposition of Senator Burrows to submit proposed changes to the Republican members of the finance committee and then to the caucus. There was no talk of bolting, and no senator said he would vote against the bill as a whole. It was on the matter of schedules that they disagreed.

The question of abrogating the Hawaiian treaty caused a lively debate. Senator Aldrich stated that the committee intended to bring in an amendment to this portion of the bill. Senator Frye opposed the abrogation in the strongest possible terms, while Senator Nelson of Minnesota made a vigorous speech in support of the committee amendment, declaring that the revenue which would be raised from the duty on Hawaiian sugar would be greater than that which the committee expected to get from tea. He declared the admission of Hawaiian sugar free was in the interest of the sugar refiners, and the consumers received no benefit from it.

MRS. ACKLAN FREE

The Delaware House of Representatives Grants Her a Divorce.

Dover, Del., May 25.—The house of representatives by a vote of 8 to 6 passed the bill divorcing Mrs. Laura Crocker Acklan from her husband, William H. Acklan, of Washington. The bill recently passed the senate. The divorcee is a daughter of ex-Judge Crocker, the Cleveland millionaire.

She was married to Mr. Acklan last June, and after the marriage accompanied her husband to Europe. Soon afterward they separated, and in March of this year Mrs. Acklan came to Delaware with the avowed intention of taking up a residence here in order to apply for a divorce.

It was not long before the application was made, and out of it grew many sensational charges against the members of the legislature in their failure to pass the resolution. It was charged that it could have been passed had those interested put up sufficient money.

Mrs. Acklan appeared before the committee and said it was her intention to make Wilmington her permanent home. She testified that while in Europe her husband treated her with cruelty and brutality, at one time throwing her over a chair. She further said that, owing to the publicity given the case, she could not possibly return to Cleveland or Washington to face former friends.

INTERESTING DECISION.

Removal From Office Question Settled by New Jersey Court of Appeals.

Trenton, May 25.—The court of errors and appeals has just made public one of the decisions which it has reached. The effect of this decision is to hold as constitutional the different acts which grant special exemption from removal from office of soldiers of the late war. The decision was in the case of Ebenezer Francis, who was about two years ago removed from the position of clerk in the auditor's office in the city of Newark.

The supreme court decided against Francis on the ground that he was not an honorably discharged soldier. The court of errors reverses this finding and also goes into the constitutionality because of its special application to honorably discharged soldiers of the late war. There has always been considerable question as to whether these several acts with reference to veterans were constitutional, and this is the first time that the court of errors and appeals has passed upon the point.

Will Allow Football.

Annapolis, May 25.—It is authoritatively asserted here that Secretary of the Navy Long is not averse to allowing the annual football games with the West Point cadets which were prohibited by former Secretary Herbert on the plea that they created bad feeling between the soldier boys and the naval cadets. Pages from the Diary of Capt. John W. Moore, Newbury, Ind.

Jan. 9.
"Our little boy, who has suffered for six years with lameness in his hip, continues to grow worse, although we have applied many kinds of liniments. The family doctor has decided that the boy has hip joint disease, and he urges us not to meddle with the case, saying it is best to allow it to take its own course. We feel very anxious about him. I wish we could find something which would effect a cure. I fear it will develop into a very serious affair." J. W. MOORE.

March 22.
"A sore has broken out on the under side of my boy's hip, and it has discharged very freely and left an opening about an inch deep, the size of a silver dollar. He has to be given constant attention. Our physician tells us to keep the sore running. A second sore has appeared on his groin and broken. The boy is very low. I asked the doctor about giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla, which has cured so many such cases, but he said he could give him medicine that is four times better and does not cost as much." J. W. MOORE.

May 10.
"The doctor's medicine which I have been giving our boy has not proved of any avail. The child continued to grow worse and I have stopped giving it to him, and now he is taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. I got a bottle from the druggist a few days ago and I believe I can see that the boy is improving under the treatment." J. W. MOORE.

Oct. 5.
"How glad I am that I ever tried Hood's Sarsaparilla for my boy's hip disease. When he had finished taking the first bottle he looked fifty per cent better. I continued giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla and now he is quite well. He runs and plays with the other children and we can hardly believe he is the same child, thanks to Hood's Sarsaparilla, which we have proved to be indeed the One True Blood Purifier." J. W. MOORE.

Pages like those above are penned in the personal records of thousands of people.

In the memories of many more the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is indelibly imprinted. The cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla are literally written in blood — in blood made pure, enriched and vitalized, cured of scrofulous taints, salt rheum, boils, pimples, spring humors — in blood which properly builds up the nerves, strengthens the stomach and gives that tonic to the system so imperatively needed in the Spring.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.
(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)
Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Ry. here, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy for ten years or longer—am never without it in my family. I consider it the best remedy of the kind manufactured. I take pleasure in recommending it." It is a specific for all bowl disorders. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—The regular meeting of the Plainfield Board of Health will be held this evening.

According to the newspapers, an Ohio husband became the happy father of seven children not long ago. Of the seven all lived but one. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic or alterative. Something to Depend On.
Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says, that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

TO VISIT PHILADELPHIA.

President McKinley Will Go There to Attend the Museum Opening.

Washington, May 25.—The president has finally decided to accept the invitation of the business men of Philadelphia to visit that city on June 2 to attend the opening of the Commercial Music museum and other functions that have been arranged for that date. Whether or not Mrs. McKinley will accompany him is not yet settled, but there certainly will be some members of the cabinet and some foreign ministers in the party.

A special train will be provided for the president and his party. He will leave Washington at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, June 2, arriving in Philadelphia at 11:25. At the Academy of Music he will respond to a greeting and will also make some appropriate remarks upon opening the museum and upon visiting the School of Industrial Arts. He has also promised to attend a banquet at night at the Bourse. The president expects to return to Washington early Thursday morning.

ON HIS TRAIL.

Followed Her Alleged Husband and His Companion For Three Years.

Saratoga, May 25.—Chief of Police Blodget of this city was notified by Vice President Balbridge of the Associated Charities, Covington, Ky., that Mr. and Mrs. Robert Charles of Saratoga were under arrest at that place. The complainant against them is another Mrs. Charles, who followed the couple to Covington. She alleges bigamy on the part of Charles. She has caused their arrest several times before.

About three years ago Charles eloped with Mrs. Florence J. Becker, the woman now under arrest. They each left two children behind them in Saratoga. Becker subsequently secured a divorce from his wife. Charles claims that he secured an Oklahoma divorce from Mrs. Charles No. 1 and married Mrs. Becker at West Troy, N. Y., in October, 1894. This is denied by his wife and Chief Blodget.

THE TAILORS' STRIKE.

The Men Are Sanguine of Ultimate Success In Their Fight.

New York, May 25.—Leader Schoenfeld of the striking garment workers said that he was sanguine that the strike would be short lived and would end in victory for the tailors. Three large contractors have already capitulated, and a number are expected to agree to terms in a day or two.

Notice was given the United Brotherhood of Tailors that 3,000 members of the Pants Makers' union would strike. A number of the Progressive Tailors' union have signified their willingness to join issues with the strikers, but the union as a whole is opposed to a strike at the present juncture.

The Lithuanian tailors decided to remain out until the demand of 25 per cent increase in the daily wage scale is conceded by the contractors.

Agreement on Sundry Civil Bill.

Washington, May 25.—The conferees on the sundry civil appropriation bill have agreed. The most important amendment to the bill was that revoking the order of President Cleveland of Feb. 22, setting apart 21,000,000 acres of land as forest reservations. The senate amendment has been modified by providing that the president may modify or revoke the proclamation, and it is provided that the lands embraced in the reservations not disposed of before March 1, 1898, shall be subject to operations of the order of Feb. 22, or as they may be modified by the president. The general provisions for the government of the forest reservations are retained, as provided in the senate amendments.

Troops Celebrate the Queen's Birthday.

Halifax, May 25.—The British troops garrisoned here assembled on the Halifax common and went through the imposing spectacle of "trooping the colors," winding up with three hearty cheers for her Britannic majesty Queen Victoria, which were taken up by 10,000 or 12,000 spectators on the edge of the common and on Citadel hill. The soldiers at noon fired a feu de joie, and the citadel cannon belched forth a royal salute of 21 guns in honor of the queen's birthday. There were games of various kinds in the afternoon.

Liquor Tax Law Operation.

Albany, May 25.—During the first 20 days of the operation of the amended liquor tax law there was collected in the state, with 17 county treasurers yet to report their receipts for the ten days between May 10 and 20, $12,387,442.34. This is an increase of over $1,000,000 more than was collected during the entire first 12 months of the liquor tax law's operation. Of the tetal amount collected during the 20 days in May of this year $5,207,431.67 comes from New York county and $2,217,480 from Kings county.

Roosevelt Still Investigating.

Washington, May 25.—Assistant Secretary Roosevelt is pursuing his investigation of the state of the laboring forces in the navy yards with vigor. He has gone to Philadelphia and will spend tomorrow and Thursday in looking into the conditions at the League island navy yard and in visiting and inspecting the steel works at Bethlehem, Pa., where naval armor and supplies are made.

Pardoned by the President.

Washington, May 25.—The president has pardoned, in order to restore citizenship, Harry H. Kennedy, sentenced in Pennsylvania to ten years' imprisonment for misapplication of national bank funds. Kennedy was sentenced in 1891, and President Cleveland commuted his sentence to seven years' imprisonment, with deductions for good behavior.

Sir Julian Unable to Attend.

Boston, May 25.—Governor Wolcott is in receipt of a letter from Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British embassador, saying that he will not be able, owing to the pressure of his public and private affairs, to visit Boston on the occasion of the presentation of the Mayflower log by ex-United States Embassador Bayard next Wednesday.

Examination For School Director.

Albany, May 25.—On June 12 the civil service commission will hold an examination in this city for the position of director of schools in the Elmira State Reformatory. The position pays between $1,200 and $1,500 per annum.

THE SPANISH SENATE

Absence of the Liberal Members Causes Dissension.

SENOR CANOVAS TALKS ABOUT CUBA.

He Says In Relation to the Sale of the Island That "Spain Is Not a Nation of Merchants, Capable of Selling Its Honor."

Madrid, May 25.—In the senate, in reply to a Conservative senator who asked why the Liberals were absent, Senor Canovas del Castillo, the premier, said:

"In the opinion of the government, the matter which the Liberals plead as an excuse for their absence from the senate is an incident of a purely personal character, which has already been arranged.

"The government respects the opinion of the Liberal minority, but rejects their theory of the incident and their demands for the resignation of the minister of foreign affairs as contrary to the constitution of parliament.

"Formerly I governed in the absence of a minority, but under the present circumstances the responsibility belongs to all parties. It is impossible to face the negotiations now on foot without serious detriment if we change the foreign minister."

The Marquis of Perales, on behalf of the dissident Conservatives, declared that under the circumstances they felt compelled to absent themselves until the Liberals had received satisfaction.

In the chamber of deputies the premier repeated the statement he had made in the senate, adding that he regretted the absence of the Liberals because it prevented Senor Sagasta from defending himself against certain accusations arising out of an erroneous interpretation of one of his speeches.

Spain Not a Nation of Merchants.

Senor Canovas referred to the bad impression which had been produced in this way at Washington, where, he said, it seemed to be supposed that the sale of Cuba was a possible thing. "Spain," said Senor Canovas, "is not a nation of merchants, capable of selling its honor."

Senor Francisco Silvela, leader of the dissident Conservatives in the chamber, who quarreled with Senor Canovas in 1891 over the expediency of reforming the municipal abuses in Madrid, accused the Duke of Tetuan of a grave error, which could not be righted by a few eloquent words. He said the foreign minister ought to expiate his offense by resigning.

In the course of his speech he described the action of the United States senate in recognizing the belligerency of the Cuban insurgents as a "great iniquity" and characterized the diplomatic conduct of the government as altogether blameworthy, adding an expression of his doubt as to the intelligence of Senor Canovas in retaining the Duke of Tetuan under the circumstances.

A Congressman Indicted.

St. Paul, May 25.—The grand jury returned another sensational indictment. Congressman F. C. Stevens being named and charged with an overdraft of $2,200 in his account with the Minnesota Savings bank at the time when he was a trustee and acting president of the bank. According to the receivers of the bank, the books show that Mr. Stevens at the time of the overdraft was a creditor of the bank for $2,350 as attorney's fees, and there are also two cash credits of $1,000 each for 1892-3. The receivers also explain that the technical overdraft was repaid within one month of the time when called to Mr. Stevens' attention. Mr. Stevens through his attorneys will demand an immediate trial.

College Trustees Assign.

Terre Haute, Ind., May 25.—The trustees of Coats College For Women, founded by the late Jane Coats of Greencastle, have made an assignment. The liabilities amount to $14,000, while the assets consist chiefly of unpaid subscriptions to the college, which will be hard to realize on. The college will be continued until the end of the present term, in June, when an effort will be made to maintain it under different management. Governor Mount is one of the trustees of the college.

Pronounced Insane.

Y., whose erratic conduct here for several days demanded the attention of the police, has been pronounced insane by the examining physicians. He is 72 years old and the uncle of the Rev. Dr. S. V. Leech of Crawfordsville, Ind.

The pumps were kept going, and the vessel put in here for repairs. She is leaking about 500 strokes per hour. She has a cargo of salt fish.

Jefferson City, Mo., May 25.—Elmer C. Sattley, who last year began a four years' sentence in the state penitentiary for illegal banking as cashier of the Kansas City Safe Deposit and Savings bank, which failed in 1893 owing depositors over $2,000,000, was pardoned by Governor Stephens and left for Chicago in company with his brother. He will go to Los Angeles, where his wife is said to be dying.

REFORM NEEDED HERE.

Governor Griggs has pointed out the incompetency of the Legislative engrossing department. This ancient system has caused all the trouble. There have been repeated efforts for a number of years to abolish the engrossing department of the House and Senate. Nearly all errors in bills which the Governor vetoed were made by this department. The engrossed bill is never closely scrutinized by the committees, and it frequently happens that amendments made to the printed bill are never inserted in the engrossed bill. It is the engrossed bill upon which the Governor acts. When a bill is certified to the Governor as having passed the House or Senate, as is the custom, the Governor takes it for granted that amendments made and reprinted in the printed bill have been inserted in the engrossed copy. He is without authority to act upon the printed bill. Therefore it frequently happens that measures which have received the approval of the House and Senate, and which would be approved by the Governor, are nullified by the carelessness of the clerks of the engrossing department of either the House or the Senate.

BICYCLE ETIQUETTE.

There are many ways of distinguishing the gentleman on the bicycle, says the New York Press. The selfish way in which many of the wheelmen act is enough to give one the impression that they are hogs. They want the whole street or the whole road, and do not care to turn out for any other cyclist. They will glide away from a vehicle, however, not so much because they want to, but because they recognize that a collision would prove the worse for them. They want to monopolize everything, and do not care to get out of the way of a lady, even though she be in the right. They never have a kind word for anybody, even for the driver who turns out on occasions, a courtesy that should always be appreciated, so seldom is it granted. Their language is anything but model, and their action in keeping with their talk. Some people who do not ride judge all cyclists by these few, and every rider suffers in consequence.

MUST REINSTATE VETERANS.

The Court of Errors and Appeals yesterday decided constitutional the law of 1889, which provides that in certain cases honorably discharged soldiers and sailors of the civil war may not be removed from office except for cause. The decision was given in the case of Ebenezer Francis, a veteran, who seeks reinstatement as clerk in the City Auditor's office of Newark, from which he was removed two years ago. The decision is important, as deciding for the first time that the object of the different acts bearing on the subject is not unconstitutional. The Supreme Court did not decide the question of constitutionality, but decided the case on other points. There are many cases pending in the courts that will be affected by the decision.

JAMES.

Hospital's Handy Man Immortalized in Rhyme.

James, the handy man at the Muhlenberg Hospital, has been immortalized in rhyme before and now comes another ebullition by one who knows his worth. The poem follows:

Who is that man crossing the street
With the white coat on and dressed so sweet?
What an honest face, what a kind eye,
Are the words I heard while passing by.
The question was answered by a man in serge.
Why! That is James, the Orderly, of Muhlenberg:
He is honest, faithful and not sly,
Are the words I heard while passing by.
He's quick as a flash, 'round before you can think,
With milk and water for the patients to drink:
All their wants he is ready and quick to supply,
Are the words I heard while passing by.
He learns his friend Hickey how to walk,
Who is lame in leg and white as chalk;
Tells him he ought to get up and fly,
Are the words I heard while passing by.
May the blessings of Heaven fall on him in showers,
And his troubles be as the fairest of flowers;
May sorrow and darkness never come nigh,
Are the words I heard while passing by.

PASSING COMMENT.

Judging from the many queer postal cards and letters received by Agent William N. Pangborn of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, one would suppose that his position was not a pleasant one. Recently he received a postal card from a party in Westfield which reads as follows:

Mr. Pangborn:—Mrs. Blank, of Westfield, N. J., would like to have five cats removed. Would you kindly, if it's possible, call and remove them. If it's impossible would you kindly advise us by postal how we could get them to you.

No name was signed to the above and Mr. Pangborn hardly thinks that it is necessary, for he is not in the business of cat killing.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore equires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Robert Woodruff, a well-known business man of Westfield, had a novel and somewhat amusing experience last Saturday evening, when he visited the house of H. B. Clark, on Union street, and was mistaken for a burglar by Clark's young son. Mr. Woodruff, who is proprietor of a large moving van and storage business, called about 8 o'clock to see Clark on a matter of business, and was invited by the latter's son, a boy about sixteen, to enter the house and await his father's return. Woodruff is a large, powerful-looking man. He took a seat in the parlor and passed the time quietly in looking over the evening paper. As the minutes passed and his father did not return, young Clark began to grow uneasy. Who could this gigantic stranger be, that had established himself so cooly in the house? he asked himself. The recent burglaries in the town were fresh in the boy's imagination, and every passing minute left him more uneasy. Another quarter of an hour went by and, as his father did not return, young Clark decided that something must be done to dislodge the intruder. He accordingly slipped quietly out of the house, ran to the Methodist parsonage, across the street, and confided his fears to Rev. W. H. Ruth. The pastor seized a heavy walking stick and went to investigate. A few of the neighbors joined him and the party marched in force upon Woodruff, who for a few minutes was a much-surprised man. The relief party luckily recognized the so-called burglar before any hostilities took place, and the affair ended up with laughter and explanations all around.

THE SUPREME COURT

Important Cases Heard and Decided by That Body.

SOME LAND AND RAILROAD CASES.

One Land Petition Was Made by ex-Vice President Morton, Who Claimed to Be Successor to One Lorenzo In the Ownership of a Tract.

Washington, May 25.—Several important cases were decided in the United States supreme court on appeal from the court of private land claims. One of these, in which the opinion was rendered by Chief Justice Fuller, involved the title to the San Miguel del Bado land grant, including 315,000 acres of land in New Mexico.

Two cases were included in one decision, one of these being an appeal by the United States versus Julian Sandoval and the other an appeal by Hon. Levi P. Morton versus the United States.

The original petition was filed in the case by Sandoval, and subsequently another was introduced by Morton, who asked for confirmation as successor to one Lorenzo. Both claim that Marquese took the title to the entire grant, as the other 51 were not named in the grant.

The supreme court held that at the date of the treaty of Guadalupi Hidalgo neither the settlers nor the town on the grant could have demanded the legal title to such lands of the former government, and that the court of private land claims was not empowered to pass the title to either, remarking that it was for the political department to deal with the equitable rights involved. The decree in the Morton case was therefore affirmed, while that in the Sandoval case was reversed.

Interstate Law Involved.

Another case, involving the interstate commerce law, was that of E. M. Parsons versus the Chicago and Northwestern railway, in which Parsons, an Iowa shipper, sued for $1,550 on account of alleged discriminations in freights on corn and oats between Iowa and Nebraska points to the eastern seaboard.

The company in 1887 charged 21 cents per 100 pounds from Iowa to Chicago and 11 cents from Nebraska to Chicago on goods bound for New York, Boston, Philadelphia or Baltimore, and Parsons, claiming that the value of corn and oats at Chicago was the seaboard price less the freights, attempted to recover 10 cents per 100 pounds on 241,710 pounds.

The court, in the judgment given by Justice Brewer, sustains the circuit court of appeals, which decided in favor of the railroad company. Justice Brewer said that there was no averment that the rates were unreasonable; that Parsons is not seeking to recover money inequitably taken from him, but on account of the wrongful conduct of the company.

Regarding the failure to publish the tariff, the court held that the Iowa stations were not "competitive points" with Nebraska. Before a shipper can recover under the interstate commerce act he must show not only the wrong done by the carrier, but that it operated to his injury, says the court. "If he had shipped to New York and been charged local rates, he might have recovered any excess thereon over through rates. He did not ship to New York, and yet seeks to recover the extra sum he might have been charged if he had shipped. Penalties are not recoverable on mere possibilities."

Discrimination Charged.

In the case of the interstate commerce commission versus the Detroit, Grand Haven and Milwaukee Railway company, appealed from the circuit court of appeals for the Sixth circuit by the commission, the decree of the court below was affirmed; opinion by Justice Shiras. The case was based upon a petition of Stone & Carten, retail merchants of Ionia, Mich., alleging violations of the interstate commerce act. The interstate commerce commission sustained the petition, but the courts did not. The specific charge was that the railroad company furnished cartage free of charge to the merchants of Grand Rapids and did not furnish similar service to the Ionian merchants.

The court held that "the fourth section of the act has in view only the transportation of passengers and property by rail, and that when the passengers and property reached and were discharged from the cars at the company's station at Grand Rapids for the same charges as those received for similar service at Ionia the duties cast upon the company were fulfilled and satisfied." Justice Shiras said that it was competent for the commission to "direct by a general order that railroad companies should thereafter regard cartage and include it as such in their schedules." In that event, he says "such an order might be regarded as a reasonable exercise of the commission's powers. But we are not persuaded that the defendant company has acted in any intentional disregard of the sixth section."

The case of the United States versus James C. Reed, involving the liability of the United States for rent and other office expenses for Reed as shipping commissioner of the United States at New York, was decided favorably to Reed.

In a decision by Justice Brewer in the case of the Merchants and Manufacturers' National bank of Pittsburg versus the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the court affirmed the validity of the state law of 1891 in respect to the taxation of banks.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drive.s will receive your work.

TO KIDNEY SUFFERERS.

An Opportunity Worthy of Your Notice.

If you suffer with kidney disease or any ailment arising from an improper action of the kidneys or urinary organs this offer we make to the people of Plainfield should interest you. In the advancement of medical science, the kidneys, being almost organs of the greatest importance to human health, have not been neglected, and in placing before you such a cure as Doan's Kidney Pills, the proprietors recognize how far so many statements of the makers of similar preparations have fallen short of their claims, being convinced that no remedy for kidney complaints in existence equals Doan's Kindey Pills for such ailments; strengthened in these convictions by letters that are daily received of the work they are doing for mankind's benefit, old backs and young backs are being constantly freed from never ceasing aches, and many a lame and shattered one, stooped and contracted, is strengthened, invigorated and infused with new life. With such a medicine, an offer of this kind can be made without hesitancy, for while we lose the box we give to you, we make a friend that assists us in the sale of many others.

ONE FULL BOX

of Doan's Kidney Pills will be given free to 200 persons suffering with kidney ailments at the undersigned address. First come, first served, and only this one chance offered. Remember this is not a sample box, but a regular size box of Doan's Kidney Pills, which retails at 50 cents. For those in the country who cannot call in time, a full box will be mailed on receipt of five cents in either coin or stamps, to defray expense of postage and mailing, in response to all letters received up to and including May 28th.

BLOCKED BY GERMANY

Young War Lord Stands In the Way of Peace Negotiations.

RUSSIA AND THE WAR INDEMNITY.

The Moslems Owe the Muscovites, Who Want a Big Share of the Money to Be Paid by the Hellenes.

The Sultan Objects.

London, May 25.—The Athens correspondent of The Times says:

"The intentions of the sultan are greatly distrusted here, and it is believed that he is avoiding negotiations for peace through the powers because he wants Edhem Pasha to march to Athens."

The correspondent of The Times at Constantinople says:

"The sultan, when telegraphing to the Emperor William his thanks for the latter's advice, begged him to continue it and expressed the hope that the advice, which was founded upon the strong friendship uniting the emperor and himself, would show Turkey the way to obtain the full recognition of her rights as a victorious power."

A dispatch from Athens denies the statement that the government of Greece has rejected the basis of the peace negotiations suggested by the powers and says that as a matter of fact the suggestions of the powers have not yet been officially communicated to the Greek cabinet. It is true, however, that there has been an informal exchange of views between the Greek government and the foreign representatives, in the course of which the diplomats were told that the payment of indemnity by Greece was a sheer impossibility in view of the fact that the resources of the country were exhausted.

In addition to this state of affairs it has been learned from a correspondent in Vienna through a dispatch received here that Germany refuses to join the other powers in the matter of the conditions of the establishment of peace between Greece and Turkey as long as Greece declines to accept beforehand the decision of the European governments.

Sultan Objects to Russian Interference.

Berlin, May 25.—The correspondent of the Frankfort Zeitung at Constantinople says:

"Count Nelidoff, the Russian embassador, made the proposal, as a condition of the international control of the Greek debt, that Russia should take over the Greek indemnity as a set off to the Turkish indemnity due Russia, but the sultan will probably refuse, as he wants possession of the cash himself."

Cretes Want to Join Greece.

Athens, May 25.—The Cretan chiefs have sent a document to the government declaring that they are unanimously in favor of political union with Greece, but asking the advice of the government as to the best course to pursue consistent with due regard to national interests.

King George Reasserting Himself.

Rome, May 25.—It is announced that the king of Greece is beginning to reassert himself and will soon be able to dismiss M. Ralli and to appoint M. Katapano as premier.

Turkish Decree Suspended.

Constantinople, May 25.—The decree of the Turkish government calling for the expulsion of all Greeks from the Ottoman empire has been suspended in view of the peace negotiations.

Bank President Arrested.

Hutchinson, Kan., May 25.—The announcement of the consolidation in Kansas City of the Metropolitan National bank and the National Bank of Commerce was followed by the arrest of Samuel P. Canterbury, president of the Bank of Hutchinson, which failed recently, charged with receiving money when the bank was insolvent. Bookkeeper Metz was also arrested. The Metropolitan was a large stockholder and principal unsecured creditor of the Bank of Hutchinson. President Canterbury came here a year ago with backing from the Metropolitan and attributes the failure of his bank to the withholding of promised support by the Metropolitan.

C. T. Smith & Co. Suspend.

New York, May 25.—C. T. Smith & Co., operators of discretionary pools, this city, retired from business. Their mode of operation was similar to that pursued by the E. S. Dean company. Circulars were sent to the country districts advertising the formation of "blind pools" to operate in wheat stocks and cotton. F. A. Phillips, Jr., a member of the Consolidated Exchange, who recently failed, was at one time connected with C. T. Smith & Co. After his failure charges were preferred against him for violating the rules of the Exchange in being associated with a discretionary pool concern. These charges are still pending.

Sudden Death In a Hotel.

Syracuse, May 25.—A man who registered on Sunday night at the Globe hotel in this city as O. Miller, Buffalo, N. Y., was discovered dead in his bed. A derby hat, in which was stuffed a towel soaked in chloroform, rested on his face. He wore a black coat bearing the trademark of N. Peters & Co., Syracuse. In his pockets were $60.66 in money, a gold watch, knife, ring and jewelry. He measures 5 feet 8 inches, has a sandy mustache and is thick set. The coroner is investigating.

Put Into Port In a Leaky Condition.

Booth Bay Harbor, Me., May 25.—The schooner E. H. Foster (Br.), Captain Wilcox, from St. John, N. B., for Providence, with lumber, put in at this port for repairs, having sprung a leak in a gale when about 30 miles east-northeast of Martinicus. The vessel filled rapidly, but her cargo kept her afloat, although she lost part of her deckload. She will repair here and proceed.

Pardon For Political Prisoners.

Dublin, May 25.—It is believed to be certain that many, perhaps all, the political prisoners, including James Fitzharris, Larry Hanlon and Joe Mullett, the "Invincibles," will be pardoned early in June in commemoration of the sixtieth year of the reign of Queen Victoria.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

TEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage

Louis Eaton, of East Fifth street, has purchased a new Spalding wheel of Rogers, the North avenue cycle dealer.

The "Boys Bicycle Brigade" of the Y. M. C. A. was represented by ten of its members on Saturday in taking a run to Cranford under the care of F. Bonny and C. Heywood. Runs will be taken every alternate Saturday.

Starbuck, who did such wonderful riding at the night meet on the Crescent Oval two years ago, will be here again on Decoration Day. He is counted on as one of the strongest candidates for the two mile handicap.

There will be a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. bicycle enthusiasts this evening at 8 o'clock at the above named association to consider trips for social runs and how to make the evenings pleasant. A local league will be formed.

About a dozen members of the Crescent Wheelmen enjoyed a century run Sunday from this city to Randolph road and back. Captain Charles Lister chaperoned the party and Clifford Pierson acted as color bearer. It required two hours to make the run and when the members returned home they felt very tired.

There has been a rush among the racing men to send in their entries for the different racing meets on Decorarion Day and the Crescent Wheelmen have not come out behind. The list of prizes for the Crescent's meet is better in the professional events than the other meets while the amatuer prizes are up to the limits. That had of course attracted many. Ray McDonald, the fast young rider from Staten Island, has promised to be present and ride in the professional events. Ray is in good condition and will make some fast time this season

Are you a member of the L. A. W.? If not, consider now the advisability of joining. We want 150,000 members by January 1st. We have 75,840. "In Union there is strength" (this does not apply to Union county). The N. J. State Division can only contribute 4,791 so far, and in Plainfield alone we must at least have half that number of riders who are not members of the League; this fact ought to make us blush with mortification for we are reaping benefits produced by the efforts of others. The benefits of reduced rates at hotels, a bright illustrated paper full of practical news, improved roads, a road and touring book containing over 100 maps, guaranteed legal protection of your rights, $25.00 reward offered for capture of the man who steals your mount, courtesies from the best wheelmen in any town you may visit, reduced rates at repair shops, should be sufficient to insure the membership of all application blanks at this office.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

Plainfield was again honored at the annual meeting of the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association, held at the clubhouse of the New Jersey Athletic Club, Bergen Point, Saturday evening, when George Proctor Smith, of the Plainfield High School, was re-elected to the presidency of the associatian for his third term. Smith has been president of the association ever since its organization and was largely instrumental in its formation. It was at his suggestion that the High School issued the call for the convenion at which it was formed, and it seems but right that Smith should thus stand at the head of the organization which owes so much to him. The other officers elected were: Vice-president, Allan Lindley, of Montclair High School; secretary, Charles A. Sulzer, of Pingry's School; treasurer, A. B. Higgins, of Newark Academy.

GOLF.

The golf experts of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club played their first match of the season in Morristown, Saturday afternoon, against the team from the Morristown Field Club on the links of the latter club. The Plainfield players were defeated by 17 down. At the last moment, Fred W. Walz, captain of the Hillside team, found that he could not go and Howard W. Beebe took charge of the team instead. The team was composed of Mr. Beebe, J. H. P. Wharton, Evarts Tracy, J. S. Anthony, and Willard Wadsworth.

AROUND THE BASES.

Dennis Kane will play first base for the Second Ward Athletic Club of Jamacia, L. I., tomorrow.

The St. Mary's Cadet base ball team of this city will play the Black Diamonds at Morristown next Thursday.

STRUCK BY A LOCOMOTIVE.

Narrow Escape of a Jersey City Man From Meeting a Fearful Death.

There came very near being another name added to the list of those who have met death on the railroad, this morning, when a citizen of Jersey City deliberately walked in front a passing train at the North avenue station.

The 6:30 train was slowing up preparatory to stopping at the station when a middle aged man walked down the platform to meet it. He was walking along the board walk that is built between the tracks and next to the approaching train. He kept close to the side of the track on which the train was moving. The engineer saw him and rang the bell but supposed that the man must see where he was going.

The stranger never moved from the path in which he had started but kept on until the front of the locomotive struck him on the shoulder and threw him to the ground. He was unconscious for several minutes but finally recovered and declared that he was all right. He gave his name as J. Stewart, of Jersey City, and insisted that he must leave at once for that place.

THE SPECIAL SESSION.

Legislature Convened Today to Correct a Typewriter's Error.

[Special to the Daily Press.]

Trenton, N. J. May 25.—The Legislature convened in the State House this noon in special session in responce to the call of Governor Griggs to rectify the error in the bill fixing the date for the election to vote on the constitutional amendments. All the Union and Somerset county representatives were present, as well several Republican leaders from those counties.

In accordance with the decision of the Senate caucus last night, the only business to be transacted is the correction of the error, which is being rushed through under a suspension of the rules.

Upset in a Ditch.

Robert Murphy's drive home to Scotch Plains from Plainfield, last evening, was of a novel and not particularly pleasing order. The colt attached to his wagon wandered from the road and landed in the ditch, upsetting the wagon and throwing Murphy out. The colt ran off, leaving Murphy behind with a dislocated ankle. He managed to hobble home, but the colt was not found until morning.

Funeral of Miss McCarty.

The funeral services of the late Miss Mary S. McCarty were held at her home on Manning avenue, this morning. The Episcopal service was conducted by Rev. Floyd Appleton. The floral decorations were very beautiful, and included a wreath and pillow of flowers. The remains were taken to Princeton for interment on the 12:09 train.

THAT COSTLY RATS' NEST.

Built in the End of an Old Box Car Out of Five $100 U. S. Treasury Notes.

The famous rats' nest, which was built out of five $100 United States Treasury notes in the end of an old box car on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad in 1868, again becomes a matter of public record in the Senate files. John Veeley, a carpenter of Louisville, found these notes while tearing out the end of the aforesaid old box car. While the notes were pretty badly mutilated, there seems to have been no difficulty in determining their character, their denomination and date, and the issue and series to which each belonged.

Upon the advice of a friend Veeley took the notes to the Louisville Custom House, and at his request they were forwarded to the Treasury Department for redemption, but the department refused to redeem them, and with the approval of the Secretary they were returned to him by express in February, 1869. He then sold them to one Julius Wellman, a broker, for $300.

In March, 1869, Wellman had them sent again to the Treasury Department, and the matter was referred to the First Comptroller, who decided on the 31st day of July, 1869, that they should neither be redeemed nor returned to Wellman. Veeley then returned the money to Wellman and renewed his efforts to secure payment from the Treasury Department. Repeated refusals were made until 1890, when a bill was introduced in the Fifty-Fifth Congress authorizing the redemption of these notes. In each succeeding Congress the bill has come up, but has never yet been passed.

Senator Pasco, from the Committee on Claims, made a favorable report, declaring that his committee was impressed with the justice of the claim; that although more than 27 years have elapsed since the find and the circumstances were published in the newspapers at the time, no claimant has appeared for the notes. Each note is plainly described and, in the opinion of the committee, the United States ought to redeem its just obligations.—Washington Post.

Salaries of Rulers.

"The divine right of kings" does not prevent them from asking and obtaining a good salary for the work they do. Even a king has to eat, and in order to do that, he must have money. Usually rulers get enough salary to make life a pleasure.

The Czar gets $25,000 every day he rules; the Sultan $18,000; the Emperor of Austria only $10,000, and Emperor William $2,000 less.

Queen Victoria has $35,000 to spend every week, while her son spends as much, although his income is less than half that sum.

VOORHEES' PLAN FAILED

ATTEMPT MADE TO REORGANIZE THE HIGHER COURTS.

After a Hot Fight and an Adverse Opinion by the Attorney-General the Plan Failed to Succeed--Typewriter's Error Corrected

The special session of the Legislature began at noon and ended a few minutes past 7 o'clock, yesterday. The only business transacted was the passage of a new bill providing for a special election on September 28th to vote on the three amendments adopted at the regular session. The delay in getting the bill through earlier was caused by an attempt on the part of the friends of the Voorhees plan to reorganize the higher courts to get the rejected Voorhees amendment through yesterday. They got together yesterday morning, and after a count found that they had a majority of the Republicans, and asked Leader Derousse to call a caucus. This Mr. Derousse objected to doing, as he believed the House had no power to act on the amendment now, having rejected it in regular session. The friends of the amendment insisted, and threatened to call a caucus by petition, and Leader Derousse gave way.

The caucus lasted nearly two hours, and decided by a vote of 28 to 25 in favor of attempting to pass the amendment, but with the understanding that it was not to be made a caucus measure. Then the friends of the biennial sessions amendment brought that before the caucus, which refused, by a vote of 25 to 26, to indorse it. In the meantime the Senate had passed the new Election bill and taken a recess. When the bill was received in the House action was postponed until the Voorhees amendments had been disposed of. Mr. Demarest, of Hudson county, presented the amendments and moved their adoption, whereupon they were antagonized by Messrs. Gledhill, Lloyd and Goldenhorn, and advocated by Roll, Demarest and Klink. After a long discussion the House voted 38 to 18 to refer the matter to the Attorney-General for an opinion on the right of the House to again act on the once rejected amendments.

After a recess the House reconvened at 6 o'clock and received an opinion from Attorney-General Grey, in which he held that having once rejected the amendments, the House was without power to again consider them. The friends of the Voorhees amendments had enough votes to pass them before the opinion was read, but the majority melted away after it was read, and Mr. Gledhill's motion to indefinitely postpone the amendments was adopted by a large vote without division, and after passing the Senate election bill the members of the House marched over to the Senate chamber and the Legislature was once more adjourned without day.

The election bill passed will save over $50,000 to the various counties, so that the error made in the bill passed in the regular session was not a costly one. Under the original bill three registration days and an election were provided for, and the election officers were to receive $5 a day for each registration day and $10 for election day. The new bill requires but a single registration day, and the pay of the election officers is fixed at $8 for all their work in connection with the election.

A large delegation of teachers was on hand, having received assurances that if any new legislation was adopted their amendment to the teachers' pension fund law would be considered. It failed to become a law because the Governor found sixteen serious mistakes in the engrossed copy and was compelled to veto it. The hopes of the visiting teachers were high during the day, but the opinion of the Attorney-General shut them out.

Memorial Day Enthusiasm.

A meeting of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., was held last evening when all arrangements were completed for the celebration of Memorial Day. There was a very large attendance of comrades at the meeting and the interest taken and enthusiasm manifested was marked. Each one feels as though the celebration this year ought to be the best of any previous years and they are all striving to make it so.

A Subscription Dance.

An informal subscription dance has been arranged by a committee of the junior members of the Park Club for Friday evening, to be held at the club house. The patronesses will be Mrs. J. W. Reinhart, Mrs. S. A. Cruikshank, Mrs. Pfeiffer and Mrs. J. P. Taylor. The committee in charge of the dance is composed of E. Maxwell Honeyman, J. P. Welles Taylor and Arthur Murphy.

NOW GOES TO THE COURTS

TROLLEY MATTERS IN BOUND BROOK BECOME MORE TANGLED.

New York and Philadelphia Traction Company Say They Will Proceed Under an Old Charter—Supreme Court Writ Served.

It now looks as if the trolley situation at Bound Brook can only he untangled by the courts. During the past week the Naw York and Philadelphia Traction Company have unloaded ties along Talmage avenue, and made other preparations prior to beginning work, although they have not as yet been granted any franchise by the present Council. Accordingly, a large lobby was present at the regular meeting of the Council last night and an exciting meeting was expected.

After the routine business was disposed of Alvah A. Clark, attorney for the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company, arose and declared the determination of his company to begin the laying of ties, rails and other necessary fixtures of an electric road, as they considered the franchise granted in 1894 to the Central New Jersey Traction Company, and by that company assigned to the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company, to be valid and in full force.

He also declared this to be a sufficient notice to all, who thought otherwise, so that if the aforesaid work should be interfered with, the matter could be taken into court. The representatives of the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company then withdrew and the balance of the meeting was taken up with the second reading of the ordinance of the New Brunswick Traction Company, which was finally accepted and passed with a few minor charges.

Just before adjournment a writ ordering the various papers, etc., in the case to be brought before Chief Justice Magie was served by Counsellor Voorhees of the New Brunswick Traction Company. This will act as an injunction and will stop all work until settled. Council then adjourned until Friday evening, when an interesting session is expected.

WINDING THE MAY POLE.

ONE OF THE ATTRACTIVE FEATURES FOR THE FETE CHAMPETRE.

Many Little People are Now in Training for Their Pretty Play—The Gypsy Camp to be an Interesting Spot at that Time.

"Merrie England," with its May parties, will surely be brought to mind when, a little later in the calendar, June 5th, the children will wind the May pole on the beautiful lawn of Johnston Park, where the ladies of the Town Improvement Association will hold the largest fete ever planned in this section of the country. Mrs. Louis G. Timpson has charge of the following little ones, who are training for their pretty play which will be given at 4 o'clock: Misses Eleanor Waring, Helen Timpson, Anna Garragues, Ruth Fredericks, Elizabeth McGee, Helen Joy, Ruth Van Vliet, Louise Saunders, Jean Saunders, Alice Titus, Katnarine Titus, Margaret Lowe, Margaret Drayton, Anna Fisk, Dorothy Fisk, Madeline Reed, Frederica Mead and Masters Johnston Male, Morris Timpson and Ogden Rogers.

At 5 o'clock, Mrs. Wm. G. Patten will conduct the winding of the May pole by the following young girls: Misses Eva Brown, Margaret Van Deventer, Frances Van Deventer, Gennie Derric, Jennie Dunham, Marie Finch, Charlotte Finch, Marjory Fleming, Dorothy Fleming, Elsie Goddard, Maida Hyde, Ethel Kinnie, Percy Love, Grace Miller, Grace Peck, Wilhelmina Patton, Troltie Smith, Florence Taylor, Mildred Thayer and Grace Wilcox.

Mrs. William L. Saunders is in charge of the gypsy performers who, we are bound to believe, will be more attractive than even the flapjacks and fortune telling that are features of the gypsy encampment. The gypsy dancers will be Misses Katharyn Reinhart, Annie Murphy, Elizabeth Hull, Mary Hull, Mabel Van Deventer, Hallie Van Deventer, Mary Tracy, Marion Henderson, Grace Barlow, Alice Barlow, Adelaide Ball, Dottie Long and Messrs. Laurens Van Buren, Alfred Holmes, Harry Curtis, Carl Brown, Harry Johnson, Harry Patten, Howard Turrill, Allen Wilson, Frederick Ball, Willis West, Arthur Murphy and Orville Waring.

Special attention is called to the 10 cent tickets for children under ten years of age. These can be procured at the homes of Mrs. Wm. L. Patten, 122 West Fifth street, and Mrs. Louis G. Timpson, 117 East Sixth street, also at the gate and of the members of the Children's Auxiliary.

Miss Frentz, of Scotch Plains, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank Putnam, of Elm place.

WANTED CACK'S BLOOD.

A HOT TIME AMONG THE COLORED POPULATION LAST NIGHT.

A Plainfield Swagger Coon in Bad Odor at a Dance and Had to Leave Suddenly—His Friend in Trouble, Too.

There was a hot time in New Brunswick last night, all right. In fact, it grew so warm, that Wm. Carter, the famous colored crap shooter of this city, departed for parts unknown, and his friend, Matthew Blair, tried to hide his identity under the seat of Captain Hand's stage, while a mob of New Brunswick's indignant colored gentry called for his blood outside. Carter hasn't been seen since, and Blair has turned several shades lighter from fright.

Some of the New Brunswick waiters planned a ball for last evening and their dusky friends from far and near assembled to do honor to the occasion. The ball was held in Zimmerman's hall. A party of Plainfielders went from here by Hand's stage early in the evening. Just as the party prepared to start, Wm. Carter, who is better known to fame by the title of "Cack," came along and wanted to go with them. Sam Conway wanted to go also, but as neither had the necessary funds, they footed it to New Brunswick behind the stage.

Now "Cack" has been in New Brunswick before. The people of that city have been treated to a view of that famous walk of his that is a record breaker there. The Brunswick people tell hard tales of Carter's last visit before last night. They say that he came over and tried to own the town. He slapped one of New Brunswick's dusky belles in the face and made himself generally obnoxious.

The dance was in full sway when the Plainfield delegation arrived and soon they were lost in the crowd. There was a prize waltz, which was the event of the evening. The couples followed each other in gliding about the room in languishing fashion until the judges decided that Mrs Hattie Wilson, of Plainfield, and Tom Jackson, of New Brunswick, were "hot stuff" and ought to have the prize.

Then the tongues of the New Brunswick maids began to wag. Then they saw "Cack" shine forth in all his dark glory and recounting tales of his wonderful exploits in the past. It is even said that he drew forth a black jack with which he announced he could do all New Brunswick with one hand, but that is mere rumor. As "Cack" swaggered across the room, a lank darkey informed him that he wasn't wanted. Then came more words and then came the dusky hosts of the New Brunswickites, in dress suits and high collars, who fell upon the unlucky crap thrower with both feet, as the saying is.

"Cack" shook off his assailants and jumped for the door. Matthew Blair saw the fun and started to the rescue of his fellow-citizen. He wished he hadn't. "Cack" cleared three steps at a time and ran for the street with thirty howling darkeys in the rear calling for blood and vengence. "Cack" vanished into the New Brunswickan darkness, which is several shades darker than that of Egypt, and disappeared from the view of friends and foes. It is supposed that he is running yet.

Blair retired to a corner to watch but the eagle-eyed revengers spotted him and suggested that he would do as well as Carter. A policeman objected to so many men murdering one victim and begged them to desist. Blair lit out for the stage with the crowd in pursuit. He left his hat behind. Under the obscurity of the stage seat he hid, locking the door behind him. But he had been seen and it was only after great persuasion that the New Brunswick men departed. Blair waited in the stage for the rest of the party, who arrived in Plainfield at about 5 o'clock. The only trace of "Cack" was his hat, which was divided into souvenirs by the New Brunswick belles.

Graduation of Professional Nurses.

The people of Plainfield and vicinity are cordially invited to attend the graduation exercises of the Muhlenberg Hospital Training School, to be held in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, Thursday, evening, May 27th, at 8 o'clock. The exercises will comprise the granting of diplomas, interesting addresses and appropriate music. A large attendance will be gratefully appreciated by the young women graduates—arrayed in full professional uniform—and by their personal friends, and also by the hospital governors and officials.

Half Holiday Considered.

The coal and lumber dealers are considering the closing of their yards at 12 o'clock on Saturdays during the summer season. It is expected that the movement will be inaugurated on Saturday next, thus giving the employes from Saturday noon to Tuesday morning.

"FALLING STAR" THERE

A REAL INDIAN WOMAN AT A TRINITY CHURCH AFFAIR.

The Indian Tea Given by the Young Ladies Mission Band Was a Great Success—Participants and the Features.

The unusual attraction of a real live Indian woman, combined with the many other pleasing features of the Indian tea, filled the lecture room of the Trinity Reformed church to overflowing, last evening, and showed that the proposed enlargement of the room is greatly needed. The Indian tea was the first effort of the Young Ladies Mission Band of the church, which was only recently formed, but the success of the tea showed the society to be a very enterprising one.

The first sight to greet the eyes of the visitor was a young Indian brave—David Wyckoff is his name when in citizens clothes—who collected the tickets in true Indian style. Then the room with its gay decorations of American flags and Indian tepees came into view. Around the room flitted brown skinned Indian maidens and charming "Americas," gowned in the national colors, serving ice cream and cake.

Right near the entrance was a curiosity that attracted considerable attention. It was a miniature tepee, made by the Indian boys at the Carlyle Indian School, and was a perfect representation. The small opening in the top, the only means of ventilation that the real tepee has, was used to receive the contributions of the visitors for the missionary cause. The tepee was placed on a table covered with sod, on which stood two Indian dolls and a toy pack horse.

In the centre of the room, under a large American flag, stood the tea table, at which "Falling Star," a member of the Abenaka tribe, who is now in New York posing for an artist. She was introduced to the many guests by Mrs. Frank E. Woodruff, and they found "Falling Star" a quiet woman of great intelligence, who was able to converse fluently on the leading topics of the day. At the same table was Miss Minnie Arnold, costumed as an Indian, and Miss Emma Grace Nevius in the National colors.

A tepee, made of real Navahjo blankets, had been erected in a corner and here Miss Emma Gillem and Mrs. Bertha Richards, dressed in Inian costume, sold baskets of Indian make. The tepee was quite a curiosity while hanging on its sides were a diamond rattle snake's skin and the skin of a fox of rare kind.

A tripod of three sticks supported an old-fashioned kettle in another corner, and out of the kettle Mrs. Harry W. Marshall, as an Indian maiden, and Mrs. Will F. Williams, as an American, served lemonade.

The cake table was thoroughly American in style and decoration. So were those in charge, Miss Etta Krymer and Miss Minnie Williams.

Small tables were arranged through the room and the visitors were invited to seat themselves and buy ice cream and cake. Miss Grace Emmons and Miss Maud Van Dyke were the two Indian waitresses, while America's colors were prominently displayed by the others. Miss Edna DeVere, Miss Jennie Ross, Miss Adelaide Baxter, and Miss Cora Laire. Miss Laura Emmons presided at the cashier's table. Fred Bowden had charge of the serving of the ice cream.

While the sale of the different articles continued all the evening, a programme formed a pleasing diversion. There were several selections by a male quartette, composed of Robert M. Clark, Edward O. Clark, Wm. Holmes and B. T. Barnes. A vocal duet was given by Miss Etta Krymer and Miss Florence Kline, Miss Lillian A. Force acting as accompanist. F. S. Cutter sang a bass solo, Miss Emma Line gave a recitation and Miss Krymer a vocal solo. All the numbers were well rendered and received a hearty round of applause.

The object of the entertainment was to raise funds for the support of the church's missionary, Rev. Frank H. Wright, in Oklahoma. Pictures of that missionary, his mission and some of his converts were shown. The tea was given under the direction of two committees. The programme committee consisted of Miss Lillian A. Force, chairman; Miss Minnie Arnold, Miss Grace Nevius and Mrs. Frank E. Woodruff. The entertainment committee consisted of Miss Etta Krymer and Miss Laura Emmons. The two committees united to decorate and arrange the room, in which they were given valuable assistance by Corra Ryno.

Special Council Meeting.

A special meeting of the Common Council will be held Friday evening for the purpose of taking action towards the enforcement of the Martin Act.

CITY NEEDS A SPRINKLER

STREET COMMITTEE TO ASK THE COUNCIL TO BUY ONE.

At Present the City Has to Hire One and it is Not Considered a Paying Investment—Other Street Work Considered.

The committee on streets and sewers held a meeting last evening and considered many important matter. One thing decided upon to ask the Council for at the next meeting is a street sprinkler. At the present time the committee is obliged to hire one and this they do not think is a paying scheme. The members talked over the progress being made on the streets and formulated plans to continue the same. It was also decided to keep the steam roller running as much as possible and not to have such a large gang of men on the streets. Street Cleaner McFadden and his side-partner will be kept busy as formerly, but they will not direct their efforts to the centre of the city. It was noted that the business men in the city allow papers, etc., to be thrown about the streets, and the committee decided that these same streets are not to be cleaned but once a week, no matter how much paper is thrown out. They think that there are other parts of the city where people pay as much tax and sometimes more, and the streets in front of their property will be looked after.

The committee have adopted a system for the repair of the streets and this plan is being carried out. It provides for the repair of roads in order and in this way the whole city will be reached.

SURRRISED THE STATE.

Westfield Disorderly House Keepers Pleaded Guilty.

It was expected that the trials of the Westfield tavern keepers, charged with keeping disorderly houses by selling illegally and on Sundays, would begin in the court of general quarter sessions yesterday morning and occupy two days.

The defendants were Wm. Clark and Nuzzito Violani, the "big fat woman," as she is known in Westfield. Prosecutor Marsh was ready, and had subpœnaed for the State a large number of witnesses, most of whom were Italians. Both defendants were in court, and surprised the prosecutor by withdrawing their former pleas of not guilty. They pleaded guilty and the date of sentence was fixed for Saturday.

The woman's bondsman surrendered her and she was taken back to the county jail. Clark renewed his surety for appearance on Saturday.

The trials being thus declared off, the petit jurors were not needed, and they were discharged until Monday, June 7th, when several cases are on the calendar for trial.

Falsely Accused.

Miss Agusta Hanson, aged 19 years, was arrested yesterday on the complaint of Vetell Missicks, of Plainfield avenue. The latter charged that the young woman stole one dollar from his room. The defendant was arrested by Constable Rockafellow and taken before Justice Mosher. The evidence was insufficient, however, to hold the girl and she was released. Mrs. Volkman, the Park avenue florist, was present at the time the case was brought up, and she took an interest in the girl, and engaged her as a servant at her home.

Protest Against a Trolley Franchise.

Gideon E. Ludlow and Frank Woodruff, representing the Union County Board of Agriculture, appeared before the Township Committee of Cranford, Monday night, and protested against the granting of a trolley franchise over the county road. The reasons given for opposing the trolley were that it unnecessary, and that the road cost $10,000 a mile. On behalf of the Town Committee, Chairman Hunt said there was no probability of the committee acting favorably on the application for a franchise.

THE PLAINS TERRORIZED.

DARING BURGLARIES COMMITTED EARLY THIS MORNING.

Two Men Arrested Suspected of Having Done the Work—Held on a Disorderly Charge—The Places Which Were Entered.

The quiet town of Scotch Plains was startled this morning by five daring burglaries which took place in rapid succession in the heart of the village between 1 and 2 o'clock.

The cracksmen entered the home of Freeholder John Robinson, on Forest avenue, and carried away about $60 in money, a silver watch, a pair of diamond ear-rings belonging to Miss Robinson, a diamond shirt stud and a pair of gold eyeglasses.

At the home of Alexander Macauley, on Bartle avenue, entrance was accomplished through a front parlor window. The family slept soundly and knew nothing of the mischief that was done until this morning Mr. and Mrs. Macauley awoke and found their clothing missing. A search revealed it scattered about the lower part of the house. A pocket book containing $6 was taken from Mrs. Macauley's dress, and was found on the floor rifled of its contents. A pair of gold eyeglasses with a chain attached, 20 cents in change and a silver watch were also taken.

At the house of George Randolph, on Grand street, the front parlor window was pried open and $6 in money was taken from the pockets of Mr. Randolph's trousers. Bureaus and closets were also ransacked, but little of value was taken.

Mrs. Louis Morel, of Springfield avenue, was awakened at 1:30 o'clock by the noise of someone in her room. A man, who was examining the contents of the bureau, turned at that moment and walked into the hall, where he stood for a brief time, giving the frightened woman a side view of his face. She awoke her husband, but the burglar ran quickly downstairs and escaped through an open window. In this house they secured $1.

The thieves also entered the houses of N. O. Chapin, on Stanbury avenue, and that Judge George R. Nicholas, on Park avenue, but were frightened off without securing any booty. It was said that at the latter house a daughter of Mr. Nichols was awakened and saw the intruders.

When a Press reporter called at the house no member of the family was at home and no information could be secured.

The barn of Frank Allen was also visited and a quantity of harness stolen.

Freeholder Robinson is of the opinion that he and his family were chloroformed by the burglars, as they did not hear the slightest noise, although the invaders worked very freely. When the news of the burglaries spread this morning, Constable Wm. Trainor and Deputy Tom Emery remembered having seen a couple of suspicious looking men loitering about the town yesterday and last night. The citizens complained that these men had been guilty of disorderly conduct after nightfall, and the two officers started in a carriage after the men, who had left town about 9 o'clock. They were overtaken and arrested about two miles out of town on the Washington Valley road.

Detectives Keron, of Elizabeth, and Marsh, of Westfield, were telegraphed for, and at 12:30 o'clock they arrived and cross questioned and searched the prisoners. The suspected men gave the names of James Simmons and John Clark, and both claimed to belong in Elizabethport. Mrs Morel who caught sight of one of the burglars last night, was called to take a look at the men, but she was not able to identify either one positively.

She describes the man whom she saw as being about five feet eight inches tall, of a dark complexion, and wearing black clothes and a black derby hat. The search conducted by the detectives did not reveal any stolen articles in the men's possession. The formal examination and hearing was conducted by Justice of the Peace Clark in the parlors of Emery's Hotel. A complaint of disorderly conduct was preferred against the suspected men by Wm. H. Turton, a storekeeper.

After hearing the testimony the Justice sentenced the men to pay a fine of $20 or spend 60 days in the county jail. As they were unable to furnish the money they were sent to Elizabeth in the care of constables. Both prisoners are known to Detective Keron, and have "done time" in the county jail.

Mrs. J. M. Dryden, of West Seventh street, is visiting relatives in Baltimore.

Miss Bertha Needham, of Jackson avenue, has secured a position with Reed & Coddington.

THE TARIFF PROBLEM

Debate Begins In the Presence of a Large Assemblage.

SENATOR VEST OPPOSES ALDRICH.

He Criticises the Schedules In Detail and Especially Attacks the Lead Duty. Senator Cannon Asks Aid For the Farmer—More Amendments.

Washington, May 26.—The debate on the tariff bill began in the senate, with crowded galleries, a large attendance of senators and the tariff leaders of the house.

Minor business claimed attention up to 2 p. m., when Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island, in charge of the tariff bill, had the measure laid before the senate and took the floor for the opening speech. At that time every available seat in the galleries was occupied. The Republican side of the floor showed an almost solid representation, there being but three or four vacant seats. The Democrats also presented full ranks, and the scattered seats of the Populists were occupied, with but one exception. Mr. Dingley, chairman of the ways and means committee and author of the house bill, took a seat immediately beside Mr. Aldrich and listened attentively. Other Republican members of the ways and means committee and Representative Simpson of the Populist contingent occupied the rear lounges. Speaker Reed was not present.

Mr. Aldrich spoke for almost an hour and a quarter, adopting an easy conversational style. His speech was the official utterance of the finance committee and in a sense the Republican side of the chamber. Without making invidious distinctions between the two bills, Mr. Aldrich clearly stated as the belief of the finance committee that the house bill would not yield revenue adequate for the needs of the government.

Mr. Vest of Missouri, one of the Democratic members of the finance committee, followed with a statement in opposition to the bill. He spoke of the futility of piling up taxes on an overburdened people when there was a balance of $129,000,000 in the treasury.

He criticised the schedules in detail, declaring that some of them were designed to be prohibitive. He severely attacked the increase in the lead duty, declaring it was for the benefit of the "cormorants" of monopoly and against the people.

Mr. Cannon of Utah, a Silver Republican, closed the debate for the day by urging that the protection should be so distributed as to aid the farmer.

Mr. Pettigrew presented the amendment, of which he has heretofore given notice, that when articles are manufactured by a trust articles of such character imported from abroad shall be free of duty. He said he would ask its consideration immediately after the committee amendments.

Mr. Mallory, the new senator from Florida, was sworn in and took his seat.

The Silver Men's Amendment.

Senator Cannon of Utah offered the following as an amendment to the tariff bill: "And from and after 60 days from the passage of this act there shall be paid out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated to any exporter of wheat or wheat flour, rye or rye flour, corn, ground or unground, cotton, hops or tobacco produced wholly in the United States and exported by sea from any port in the United States to any port of other country the following bounty by way of an equalization to agriculture of the benefits of this act to encourage the industries of the United States—to wit, 10 cents per bushel on wheat, 50 cents per barrel on wheat flour, 10 cents per bushel on rye, 50 cents per barrel on rye flour, 5 cents per bushel on corn, 10 cents per cental on corn, ground; 1 cent per pound on cotton, 2 cents per pound on hops, 2 cents per pound on tobacco—and all shall be made upon negotiable vouchers issued by the collector of customs at the port of clearance upon presentation at the treasury or any subtreasury of the United States, and the secretary of the treasury is hereby charged with making and enforcing such regulations as may be necessary for the full protection of the exporters and of the government according to the true intent and meaning of this law."

This amendment is a result of a conference of Silver Republicans, Populists and some Democrats and may be said to represent the sentiments of the element in the senate which puts silver above all other subjects of legislation.

Senator Pettigrew offered an amendment to the tariff bill providing for the abrogation of the Hawaiian reciprocity treaty, as follows:

"That the treaty concluded Jan. 13, 1875, and proclaimed June 3, 1875, and the convention extending the duration of said treaty, concluded Dec. 6, 1884, between the United States and the king of the Hawaiian Islands is hereby abrogated, repealed and annulled."

Denial by ex-Senator Edmunds.

Philadelphia, May 26.—Ex-Senator George F. Edmunds has most emphatically denied the published report that he had been offered the Spanish ministership by President McKinley. When asked if he would accept the position if it were offered, he said: "President McKinley and the members of his cabinet understand my sentiments in reference to holding public office. I retired from the United States senate to enjoy the rest and quiet of private life. I am averse to holding any public office and have no inclination to go abroad in any capacity."

Germany's Opposition Withdrawn.

Vienna, May 26.—The Neue Freie Presse publishes a dispatch from Constantinople today saying that Germany has finally approved the conditions of peace and that the identical note of the powers on the subject would be presented to the Turkish government at once.

Bicycle Company In Trouble.

Chattanooga, May 26.—The Coliseum company, organized here to join the southern circuit of bicycle riders, is in financial trouble and will either go into the hands of a receiver or become the property of the local bicycle dealers. The company has lost nearly $1,000 so far.

Railway Accident In Jamaica.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 26.—An engine on the Jamaica railway ran into a trolley car in a tunnel today, killing three persons and injuring four others.

MURDER AND SUICIDE

Bodies of a Brooklyn Man and His Son Found at Their Home.

BOTH SHOT THROUGH THE HEAD.

The Tragedy Was Not Known For Hours After the Act Was Committed, When the Housekeeper Made the Awful Discovery.

Brooklyn, May 26.—A double tragedy was enacted in the big brownstone front house at 212 Greene avenue, this city, which was brought to light by the finding of the dead bodies of Charles K. Hillyard, a lawyer, and his 13-year-old son, William K. Hillyard, in their sleeping apartment. The boy was attired in his night clothes, while the father was partly dressed. Both had a bullet wound near the right temple.

By the side of the father was found a five chambered 38 caliber revolver with two discharged cartridges. Father and son were last seen alive at 8 o'clock Monday night, when Hillyard took his boy up stairs, saying that it was time to go to bed.

The bodies were discovered by Miss Neim, Hillyard's sister-in-law, who alarmed at the prolonged silence in the room, and failing to get a response to her knocking, broke in the door. The bodies were cold and stiff. It will never be known for how long they had lain there. Miss Neim had heard no sound of shooting. The servant girl, the only other person in the house, had also slept undisturbed.

According to Miss Neim's story, Mr Hillyard seemed agitated at the supper table. After supper the boy went to work cleaning his bicycle, saying he was going out riding in the morning and about 8 o'clock retired with his father. This was the last seen of either of them alive.

Mrs. Hillyard died in October last. Since that time the lawyer has acted peculiarly at times and on several occasions locked himself in his room, remaining there for hours at a time. He was greatly attached to his son, and it is believed that the deed was committed during a fit of insanity brought on by brooding over his wife's death.

Shortly after her death Mr. Hillyard made his will, bequeathing, it is said, about $70,000 to the boy.

Mr. Hillyard was about 50 years of age. He was well known in legal and social circles in Brooklyn, where he had lived from boyhood.

A search of his papers has so far resulted in the discovery of nothing which might throw light on his motive for taking his own life and his son's.

Spanish Liberals Will Not Attend.

Madrid, May 26.—The president of the chamber of deputies, Senor Pidal, in the name of the majority, has begged Senor Sagasta, the Liberal leader, to persuade the Liberals to attend the sittings of the cortes. Senor Sagasta replied that the question was between the government and the Liberals and not between the Liberals and the majority. Consequently the chamber of deputies again met without the Liberal members. The minister for the colonies, Senor Castellano, read a bill introduced to provide for the expenses of the wars in Cuba and the Philippine islands.

Verdict Against Street Car Company.

Chicago, May 26.—Mrs. Susan St. John, a New York portrait painter, has been awarded $25,000 damages against the North Chicago Street Railway company. In 1895 she was visiting Chicago, and August 30, while dismounting from a North State street electric car, the motorman started the car before she had reached the ground, and she was thrown to the stone curbing. She claimed that her injuries resulted in a continual tremor, which unfitted her for doing any further good work with her brush.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.
(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)
Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. Oliver Voorhees, of East Front street, is entertaining relatives from Somerville.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured in 3 Days
Morton L. Hill, of Lebanon, Ind., says: "My wife had Inflammatory Rheumatism in every muscle and joint, her suffering was terribe and her body and face were swollen almost beyond recognition; had been in bed for six weeks and had eight physicians but received no benefit until she tried the Mystic Cure for Rheumatism. It gave immediate relief and she was able to walk about in three days. I am sure it saved her life." Sold by T. S. Armstrong, druggist, cor. Park and North avenue, Plainfield.

—Martha Washington Council, Daughters of America, will hold a strawberry festival in Salvation Army Hall, June 3d.

The Westfield (Ind.) News prints the followtng in regard to an old resident of that place: "Frank McAvoy, for many years in the employ of the L., N. A. & C. Ry. here, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy for ten years or longer—am never without it in my family. I consider it the best remedy of the kind manufactured. I take pleasure in recommending it." It is a specific for all bowl disorders. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

The Misses Thorn, of Elizabeth, have returned home after a visit with Plainfield relatives.

According to the newspapers, an Ohio husband became the happy father of seven children not long ago. Of the seven all lived but one. It is to be hoped he laid in a a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, the only sure cure for croup, whooping cough, colds and coughs, and so insured his children against these diseases. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 50c and $1 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

—The entertainment given at Reform Hall last week, under the auspices of the Mt. Olive Baptist church, netted $43 for the hospital.

Something to Depend On.
Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says, that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Miss Florence Smith, of Brooklyn, is a guest at the home of C. J. Baxter, of Putnam avenue.

GREEKS IN TURMOIL.

Scandalous Disclosures Are Expected to Follow Investigation.

Athens, May 26.—The torrent of recrimination and bitter invective which was checked by the fear of the immediate Turkish advance to Athens has broken out afresh, now that this danger has been removed by the armistice. The authors of the war policy, equally with those who are held responsible for the disasters, are being dragged before the bar of public opinion. So far as the official culprits are concerned, it is believed that the government will appoint a commission of inquiry to punish the guilty. A thorough investigation into the ambulance and commissariat departments will probably entail scandalous disclosures.

A dispatch from Lamia says that 300 Ghegs intruded upon the neutral zone, but were driven back by the Greek gendarmerie. The Crown Prince Constantine has strongly protested against this as a violation of the armistice.

The Ethnike hetairia is bitterly denounced, and the government is urged to seize its funds, to confiscate its stores and arms and to compel it to render an account. The government is not likely to accede to this suggestion, because many persons prominent in political life are closely connected with the organization, and the hetairia, conscious of its strength, has decided to remain silent and to preserve its mysterious and invisible character. Possibly smitten with compunction, however, the society has donated 60,000 drachmas for the relief of the Thessalian refugees.

The Embros publishes a sensation in a telegram from Lamia declaring that the British men-of-war at Volo prevented the landing of guns and ammunition from a Russian man-of-war for the use of the Turks. The story is probably untrue, but it indicates the prevailing distrust of Russia.

PROGRESS OF THE STRIKE.

Several More Manufacturers Sign the New Agreement.

New York, May 26.—The executive board of the striking tailors were in session yesterday afternoon to receive overtures from the contractors and manufacturers. Members of the board state that signatures of six manufacturers were obtained to the new agreement, but decline to disclose their identity.

Of 60 dispossess cases that were brought up before Justice Goldfogle in the Fifth judicial district court, 24 were against strikers. The attorneys for the landlords informed the judge that action was taken purely as a matter of form and that nothing would be done toward removing tenants in arrears till after the strike was settled.

Two firms have begun work, putting upward of 700 men to work.

The latest firms to sign the new scale are Marks Bros. of 187 Bowery and Abraham Cohen of East Broadway and Gouverneur street. Marks Bros. alone employ 500 hundred hands.

BOILER EXPLOSION.

Four Men Killed at a Lumber Mill Near Lowellton, Me.

Lowellton, Me., May 26.—As the steam lumber mills at Caswells, situated about a mile east of here, were starting, one of the boilers exploded, killing four men. They were F. W. Gushea, engineer, of Burlington, Vt.; Ernest Nichols Edgar of Island Pond, Vt.; Frederick Cheverier, watchman, of Maxwell, Ont., and J. King, laborer, St. Cecile, Que. The foreman, Stephen Nichols, was severely injured, probably fatally, and several other millhands were hurt.

All the bodies were horribly mutilated. One of the boilers was blown clear through the mill roof. The other boiler was blown 100 feet into the millyard, and the mill was badly wrecked.

Meeting of Grecian Sympathizers.

Boston, May 26.—There was an important and well attended meeting here of persons interested in the cause of Greece and the condition of the Greeks in and around Athens. The object of the gathering was to stir the people of Boston to contribute money to aid the union of Greek women in caring for thousands of sick and destitute refugees in Athens and providing hospital accommodations for wounded soldiers.

Will Commute a Death Sentence.

Baltimore, May 26.—Governor Lowndes has decided to commute the death sentence in the case of Simon Hommer, who was to have been hanged at Cumberland on June 25 for the murder of Samuel M. Carner. The murder was committed in a barroom in Cumberland in March, 1896. The commutation will be made on the recommendation of the state lunacy commission. The report states that Hommer is an imbecile.

A Horrible Suicide.

Chicago, May 26.—An unidentified man, while walking around the corridor of the Chamber of Commerce building, corner of Lasalle and Washington streets, suddenly drew a revolver and shot himself. He then threw himself over the railing into the court, 13 stories below.

FOR RELIEF OF CUBA.

Officials Await a Report From Consul General Lee.

Washington, May 26.—Assistant Secretary Day, who is charged with the execution of the president's wishes respecting the Cuban relief measures, has had a long interview with President McKinley at the White House.

The conclusion was reached that, having advanced Consul General Lee funds to meet all probable immediate necessities, there was no opportunity for the adoption of further steps until he had been heard from. The consul general in turn is advising with his subordinate consuls in Cuba preparatory to recommending to the state department a definite plan of action in the distribution of relief.

He has called a meeting at Havana of all the United States consuls in Cuba who can reach that capital conveniently for the purpose of consultation. These officers are expected to come with all the facts and figures as to the extent of the relief demanded in their respective localities, and upon that basis a pro rata distribution of supplies and money can be made.

The question of sending forward supplies being again under consideration here, General Sullivan, the commissary general of the army, has been called to give the benefit of his experience to the state department officials in that line.

Realizing that owing to different climate conditions the same ration that is sufficient in the United States would not do at all in Cuba, it was found prudent to call upon General Lee for a statement of the kind of food supplies that would be most acceptable and proper for the distressed Americans on the island.

When his answer is returned, the state department probably will ask General Sullivan to make the necessary purchases through the well equipped depots of the commissary department. It is felt that all the supplies necessary can be procured in New York at short notice. If the money at hand—about $40,000—does not suffice, as it is feared it may not, then congress will be called upon once more.

COMING EVENTS.

May 27—Meeting of Parliamentary club at Y. M. C. A. Hall at 10 a. m.

FLOWERS OR NO FLOWERS

The matter of the display of flowers at the school commencement in Newark is being considered and causing a good deal of interest, as most of the principals have practically left the question of flowers or no flowers to the graduating classes to decide. Superintendent Gilbert does not favor floral tributes to graduates because of the expense, which may be greater than some parents can afford.

Some of the principals differ from the Superintendent, however, and say that since the city sets the example in expending the taxpayers' money in conducting the commencement exercises they deem it proper to allow the children to have all the flowers they may wish or receive at the commencements.

SHOULD BE A LAW.

The "Sunset" Election law passed both houses of the Legislature last winter by an overwhelming majority, but was recalled for amendment and after again passing the Assembly without opposition was defeated in the Senate by a trick of the Hudson County Senator, which he was able to carry out because of the absence of two or three Republican Senators, says the Camden Telegram. The bill is yet before the Senate, and can be taken up and passed within ten minutes. It was defeated not by a vote upon the bill itself, but through the refusal of Senator Daly to permit it being taken up.

SOMERSET COUNTY MAN NAMED.

Governor Griggs yesterday appointed Cornelius S. Hoffman, of Somerset county, a member of the Board of Managers of the Trenton Insane Asylum. Mr. Hoffman is a wholesale coal agent at Somerville. He is a prominent Republican in Somerset county, and was formerly a member of the House of Assembly.

"PLAINFIELD DAY."

The Date of the Fete Champetre to be Known as Such.

The Town Improvement Association having been duly incorporated, begins the second year of its existence with most encouraging prospects. While the membership has increased over last year, it is desirable that all the women of Plainfield should identify themselves with an association that is so directly interested in the welfare of the city. A mistaken idea prevails in some quarters that women need a personal invitation to become members; such is not the case as Article III of the Constitution reads, "Any woman may become an active member of this association by the annual payment of fifty cents. The Association needs the co-operation of all women to make its working entirely successful.

Just now when so much time and thought are given to the coming Fete Champetre, the street committee would call particular attention of all good citizens and of the Council to the advertising signs nailed on the trees in direct violation of the law. Before the numerous expected guests arrive would it not be well to have all these unsightly objects removed? On this "gay and festive" occasion how much it would add to the beauty of our city if our citizens decorated their houses with flags etc., in honor of Plainfield Day.

THEY ATE GOOD THINGS.

STRAWBERRY AND ICE CREAM FESTIVALS LAST NIGHT.

One Held in the W. C. T. U. Rooms and One in the Monroe Avenue M. E. Church—The Social Side to Each Affair.

The rooms of the W. C. T. U. never looked prettier than they did yesterday afternoon and last evening when the members of the Union held their first strawberry festival of the season. A large variety of the choicest plants and flowers, very kindly loaned by Mrs. L. J. Denton, were used to decorate the rooms and a pretty scene was presented. In each of the front windows were banked all kinds of wild flowers, while the various tables were made beautiful by an adornment of these choice flowers.

In the afternoon a goodly number of people were present and enjoyed the strawberries, cake and ice-cream which was served by those in charge. A much larger crowd attended in the evening and the attractions were increased by the rendition of a pleasing programme of music. Those who furnished piano selections were Miss Jennie Quick, Miss May Thompson, Miss Swain and Harold Smalley. The musical numbers interspersed the social features of the evening and everybody had a thoroughly delightful time. Those present spent their money freely and thus a good cause was assisted in a grand work.

Mrs. Parse, president of the Union, was chairman of the affair and assisting her were Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson, Mrs. S. R. Krom, Mrs. J. W. Yates, Mrs. Silas Yerkes, Mrs. R. K. Case, Mrs. M. C. Dobbins, Mrs. J. Newton Honeyman, Mrs. S. A. Cahoone, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. O. B Leonard, Mrs. Ramsey Blair, Mrs. Clinton Randolph and Miss Anna Boice, while the waitresses were the Misses Cahoone, Miss Smith and Miss Noe.

The affair was in every way successful and a good sum of money was received from the sale of refreshments.

Among the first strawberry festivals of the season was the one held last evening in the Monroe Avenue church under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church. The pretty little church was attractively decorated with flowers and the tables were also decked with beautiful plants.

Mrs. Israel P. LaRue, president of the Society, was in charge, and she was ably assisted by various members of the Society. In the kitchen looking after the cakes were Mrs Kriney. Mrs. Grant and Mrs. Wenzel, while Mrs. A. D. Pearson attended to the strawberries. The apron table was in charge of Mrs. Rogers, and Miss Smith, Miss Adams and the Misses Foster presided at the candy table. That all-important article, ice cream, was carefully attended to by M. Eaken and Mr. VanPelt. The waitresses, were Mrs. Pugh, Mrs. VanPelt, Mrs. Ackerman, Mrs. Fulton, Mrs. Eakin, Miss Brower, Mrs. Hayes, Miss Foster and Miss Stafford. Mrs. Brown sold tickets, while Mrs. Brouard received the ever-desirable cash.

There was a large attendance and the sale of articles and refreshments was excellent. The proceeds of the affair will be devoted to the church work and the ladies feel much encouraged for their efforts. A feature of the evening was the genuine sociability on the part of all, and everybody complimented those in charge in arranging such an enjoyable event.

THE RIGHT STORY.

Mrs. Helen C Whitlock Says Her Boy Was Not Influenced by Miss Phelps.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—I was surprised and pained at the statements made in your issue of the 20th, relating to the law case of Miss Allan C. Phelps. As my son was the means of putting the matter in a false light, involving the character of an innocent women, I feel it my duty to state a few plain facts.

1. On the night of the accident, last October and before Miss Phelps had ever seen my son, he told me the same story that he told under oath at the trial.

2. He was afterward influenced by William Sweeney, who locked my son in a lawyer's room and threatened him if he did not make certain statements contradicting some things that he had sworn to at the trial. He did so with the aid of the Sweeney boy. William Sweeney then took my son to the office of Justice Nash when this paper that you published was found and my son was afraid not to sign it. He was charged to keep all of this a secret.

3. My son is deeply sorry that he did not have courage enough to resist all such influences. He tells me and others privately what he affirmed under oath, in the recent investigation at Elizabeth, that he told the truth on the day of the trial.

4. Miss Phelps went after my son the day before the trial, and kept him at her home over night, as he had no other convenient place to stay. I was absent and gave Miss Phelps an order to do exactly what she did. She did not instruct him what to say, but left him to tell his story in his own way.

5. Not a dollar or cent was ever promised to me or my son for a bicycle or anything else in consideration of his being a witness for Miss Phelps.

I am willing to do anything I can to make this matter all right before the public and vindicate Miss Phelps from false accusations.

Mrs. Helen C. Whitlock.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore equires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. WESTFIELD

TOWNSHIP BOND ISSUE.

WESTFIELD TO OBLIGATE ITSELF FOR $30,000 FOR SEWERS.

Several Property Owners Desire to Pay Sewer Assessments on the Installment Plan—Other Official Matters Recorded.

The Westfield Township Committee at its meeting in the town rooms, last evening, received inquiries from a number of New York stock brokerage firms concerning the proposed issue by the township of $30,000 of sewer bonds. Fifteen property owners informed the committee that they desired to pay sewer assessments on the installment plan. Superintendent of Sewers E. W. Chamberlain presented his monthly report, showing the sewers to be in good condition, and delivered a check for $39, the amount collected in sewer fees during the past month. A sum not to exceed $20 was appropriated to John Dickson to be expended in the erection of a cattle shed at the township farm. A communication from the Suburban Electric Company stated that work would be commenced today on the erection of the extra street lights ordered for the township. Committeeman Harden, in behalf of the residents of that section of North avenue known as the West End, asked for street lights and sidewalks in that district, which has been sadly overlooked heretofore. In the course of his remarks Mr. Harden stated that it was the opinion of many citizens that the death of Mrs. Jacob Schleif, who was killed on the railroad last Friday night, was due indirectly to the neglected condition of North avenue, as the woman was forced to walk on the railroad to avoid the darkness and the mud which she would have encountered on the street in question. The committee as the result of Mr. Harden's remarks ordered the placing of two lights on North avenue above Charles street. The township clerk was instructed to send a communication to the Union Water Company requesting it to lay water pipes so that connections can be made with the sewer flush tanks on South Broad street and on Spring street, corner of Rahway avenue. This action was prompted by the fact that property owners in these sections have refused to pay sewer assessments until the sewer is put into proper condition for them to make house connections. The bill of H. H. Morrell for $150 for legal services rendered the township in its suits against the tax assessor and former tax collector, was also discussed. It was decided after discussion that Green and Codding and not Mr. Morrell, had been retained by the township in these cases, and that they were therefore the only ones whom the committee could recognize as having a valid claim for the services. Mr Morrell's claim that he was a partner of Green and Codding at that time might constitute a cause of action against them, but did not give rise to a claim against the township. A complaint concerning the condition of the sidewalk on Orchard street along the property of C. A. Decker was received and placed on file.

There will be no cooler or more enjoyable place of amusement in New York this summer than Proctor's Twenty-third Street Theatre, New York. On warm days all the doors that lead into the capacious courts on each side of the auditorium will be thrown wide open. Huge ventilating fans moved by machinery will keep up a most enjoyable breeze. The seats are unusually commodious and comfortable, and ice water will be passed around by courteous ushers. Mr. Proctor has not only taken special pains to insure physical comfort for the patrons of his Twenty-third street house, but has made ample preparations to entertain them with the very best vaudeville attractions in the grand continuous performance that will be in progress every day throughout the summer, from noon to near midnight. There will be no deterioration from the acknowledged excellence of the continuous bills presented during the winter season. On the contrary, Mr. Proctor intends to have the performances at his Twenty-third Street Theatre surpass in point of novelty and attractiveness anything that may be offered this summer on roof gardens or other places of amusement.

LOST IN A DENSE FOG

Sixteen Cape Cod Fishermen Believed to Have Perished.

ADRIFT ON THE OCEAN IN DORIES.

Left the Schooner Johnson In Small Boats, Were Enveloped In the Treacherous Fog and Could Not Be Found When It Lifted.

Provincetown, Mass., May 26.—Of the 19 men of this town who sailed on the schooner Joseph E. Johnson for the fishing grounds, on the Western bank, so called, which lies southwest of Sable island and about 200 miles off the Nova Scotia coast, last week, only three came back. The other 16 men are either still adrift in their dories off the Western bank, have found a watery grave or happily have been picked up by some passing steamer.

All 16 put off from the schooner early Friday morning, but the fog that settled down over the ocean three hours later swallowed them up, and when, after three days of waiting, it lifted no trace of the men could Captain Biers discern from the masthead of the schooner.

It is seldom that so many families have been called to mourn for lost ones in this old fishing hamlet at the same time. Provincetown has lost many of her sons through the treacherous fog, but such a wholesale disappearance is exceptional.

The Captain's Story.

The story told by Captain Biers is in substance that of a pleasant run from this port to the Western bank last week. Early Friday morning 16 men put off in dories to set trawls, the farthest off being set about three miles from the schooner. Two men besides Captain Biers remained on board. The air was clear for a couple of hours, when suddenly a bank of fog rushed down upon the sea, shutting out of sight the boats. Captain Biers began blowing the fog horn, and blowed it continually for hours, but no response came. Later in the day the schooner was run up about two miles, to about where the dories were last seen, and there anchored. During the night the fog lifted, and at daybreak Captain Biers went to the masthead and with his glass swept the horizon. No boat was seen, and the fog again came down. With a shift of the wind Saturday afternoon the fog blew away, and then Captain Biers found that the vessel had drifted before the wind. Sunday morning, there being no trace of the boats, course was set for Provincetown. During this time the three men on the schooner were without sleep, and they reached here nearly exhausted.

There are, however, quite a number of old fishermen here who are of the opinion that the men will be seen again, either by being picked up or perhaps by a long row to the mainland of Nova Scotia, almost 200 miles distant.

The missing men are as follows: Joseph Enos, John Caton, Frank Joseph, Joe Frad, Joe G. Miles, Frank Veara, August Frates, Manuel Souza, Jesse Carbal, George Silveira, August Lima, Frank Delgoda, Joe Bretano, Frank Alver, Joe Rose and Henry P. Silver.

Object to Issuing Road Bonds.

Albany, May 26.—Application has been made before Deputy Attorney General Hasbrouck for permission to restrain Queens county from issuing $202,000 worth of bonds for road purposes. The application was made by John Murray Mitchell on the allegation that this issue of bonds would bring the total amount of bonds outstanding against the county beyond 10 per cent of the assessed valuation of the county, which is prohibited by the constitution. George J. Greenfield and John J. Kenny, representing the board of supervisors, opposed the application. Deputy Attorney General Hasbrouck reserved decision.

Zouaves Will Dedicate a Monument.

Hagerstown, Md., May 26.—On May 29 the Hawkins zouaves, the Ninth New York volunteers, will dedicate the New York monument on the field of Antietam and transfer it to the government of the United States for perpetual custody and care. The monument stands upon a position which was held by the zouaves with great slaughter. The structure is of blue granite, solidly constructed and designed with special reference to endurance and resistance to unfavorable climate conditions. The completed structure stands 51 feet and 8 inches above the ground level. It was erected by the state of New York.

One Prisoner Stabs Another.

Lewiston, Me., May 26.—Serious trouble occurred in the county jail at Auburn between Royal Branch, a negro, and James Kelly, an Irishman, both of whom are serving sentences for intoxication. Kelly was stabbed three times with a square bladed knife by Branch, and at least one serious wound was inflicted. The assault took place in the presence of 40 prisoners, who attempted to seize Branch, but the latter escaped into the corridor, and, jumping into a cell, slammed the door after him and thus saved himself from being roughly handled.

Prominent Kentuckian Dead.

Owensboro, Ky., May 26.—Dr. J. F. Kimbley, late surgeon general of Kentucky, died at this place of apoplexy. He was surgeon of the Eleventh Kentucky infantry and for many years a Republican leader in the Second Kentucky district.

Wife Murder In Baltimore.

Baltimore, May 26.—Kate Monahan, aged 50 years, was brutally murdered by her husband, Peter, aged 61. The weapon used was a rusty ax, and the unfortunate woman's head was crushed to a jelly by the blows. Monahan made his escape.

Strike at India Rubber Works.

Bristol, R. I., May 26.—Part of the National India Rubber company's works in this city were shut down owing to a strike of the operatives of the lawn tennis shops. They demand a promise from the company not to dock the pay in future for blistered work.

Bishop Newman to Speak.

Saratoga, May 26.—It is announced that Bishop Newman will probably deliver the Memorial day address at Grant cottage, Mount McGregor.

Novel Lamp Wick.

A remarkable lamp wick has been invented, which is made entirely of clay. It is preforated by very minute holes, through which the oil passes upward through the action of capillarity. This wick, needless to state, does not need to be trimmed, nor does the oil, which has a perfect passage upward, emit any odor. The inventor says that its consumption of oil is but one-third that of the cotton wick, while producing the same amount of light.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Beaten.

"Those traders look very weather-beaten."

The other savage frowned gloomily.

"An optical illusion, I fancy," he rejoined. "They are pretty hard to beat."

There was a suggestion of pique in his manner, and he nervously fingered the brass watch he had taken in barter for three and a half tons of ivory and two bushels of gold dust.—Detroit Journal.

When He was Honest.

Babbling Brooks—See here, Dobbs; aldough dere may be a feud in yer fambly agin soap, I wisht ye'd drop de subjec'. I onct lived a week on a bar of soap w'en I wuz honest.

Dusty Dobbs (incredulous)—D'ye mean ter say yer eat it?

Babbling Brooks—Nit! I cut it up in little squares an' sold it ter farmers' wives as de "Sure-cure corn salve."—

He Was Grateful.

Freddy, the small son of a well known minister, had misbehaved, and to punish him he was not allowed to eat at the family table. A small table was set for him in the corner of the dining room. When his dinner was placed before him Freddy said very solemnly:

"Lord, I thank Thee that Thou hast spread a table before me in the presence of my enemies."—Judge.

Repartee.

"One time," said the travelled boarder, "I got snowed in on the Rocky Mountains, and the only thing seven of us had for two days to sustain life was a half barrel of pickled pigs' feet."

"You were, indeed," said the Cheerful Idiot, "reduced to extremities."—Indianapolis Journal.

Following Precedent.

"I'm too practical to do as heroes do in books, Miss Slight, so I'll just ask you bluntly, will you be my wife?"

"No, thank you, Mr. Terse. I myself don't believe in those silly bookish notions, and as the silly heroines always say yes, why, I'll tell you bluntly, no, sir, I won't."—Philadelphia North American.

A Milk Can for a Bicycle.

A Michigan man designed a milk can of such form that a milkman with not too many customers can use a bicycle to make his rounds. The can, which is flat, is made just the size of the frame of the bicycle, so that it fits exactly, and is fastened to the tubing with straps. A faucet at the bottom is provided to draw out the milk.—New York Tribune.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable. NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

MYSTERY IN THE CASE

Both Principals In a Washington Shooting Affair Silent.

THE ASSAILANT HELD UNDER BAIL.

Interesting Developments May Be Expected if the Case Is Brought to Trial—No One Seems to Know the Cause of the Trouble.

Washington, May 26.—Mr. Leonidas Schoofey, formerly private secretary to Representative Franklin Bartlett of New York and now a resident of New York city, has been held in $3,000 bail for attempting to shoot Howe Totten, a young lawyer, in the offices occupied by the latter and his father, Colonel Enoch Totten, in the Columbia Law building.

Schoofey was arraigned in the police court on a warrant charging assault with intent to kill sworn out by Totten. When the assault was committed, Schoofey was accompanied by his sister-in-law, Miss Millie Lonsdale, who lives with her mother, Mrs. Ada L. Lonsdale, at 2018 R street Northwest. He went to the door of Colonel Totten's office and asked for "Mr. Totten." J. S. Flannery, who is connected with the firm, asked which Mr. Totten he wanted, and on being informed that it was "young Mr. Totten" admitted him.

Howe Totten was looking over some papers at his desk, and he arose and accompanied the two into an inner room. Schoofey entered the room last and shut the door, locking it after him. This excited the suspicions of those who were in the other room, and in a few minutes they heard the two men talking very excitedly, while Miss Lonsdale seemed to be endeavoring to quiet Schoofey. Soon they heard Schoofey shout, "You're a liar!" followed by "I will kill you!"

Mr. Flannery, with W. C. Johnson, an attorney; Paul Hines, the former baseball player, and J. H. Cathell, broke open the door of the room, in which a struggle was apparently going on. They found Schoofey with a revolver in his hand. Young Totten had grasped him around the waist from behind and was holding him to keep from being shot. Schoofey was struggling violently, and Miss Lonsdale was in front of him trying to calm him.

All four men sprang at Schoofey, and he was disarmed and powerless in a moment.

People in the hall had in the meantime called for the police, and in a few seconds several patrolmen and Detective Hartigan arrived on the scene. The latter immediately placed Schoofey under arrest.

Before Schoofey was taken away, young Mr. Totten took Miss Lonsdale into his private office and held a long conversation with her. He also talked with Schoofey, and the entire party went to police headquarters. There Schoofey attempted to conceal his identity by giving the name of Frank Black, but the police insisted on his right name, and he gave it. The patrol from the Sixth precinct station house was summoned, and he was taken there and locked in a cell, Totten preferring a formal charge of assault with intent to kill against him.

All Parties Uncommunicative.

Totten refused absolutely to say anything about the matter, and Schoofey and Miss Lonsdale were equally uncommunicative. Schoofey was very willing to talk about the assault, but would not say what led him to attempt it.

"It was merely a little business matter," he said. "It is all a blank to me now." But to that he added, "I don't see what kept me from killing him."

From statements made by Schoofey and others it appears that his wife, who was Miss Louise Lonsdale and whom he married secretly in Baltimore after an elopement about six months ago, was acquainted with young Totten before her marriage. For some time past Schoofey and his wife have been living in New York, and Mrs. Schoofey is at present very ill in a New York hospital.

A couple of weeks ago Mrs. Schoofey's condition became so serious that her mother and sister went to New York, and the former remained with her until last Saturday, when she returned to Washington. Sunday morning, however, she went back to New York, leaving her daughter, Miss Millie Lonsdale, here.

Schoofey, who had been at the bedside of his wife for over a week, came from New York Sunday night, he says, for the purpose of seeing Totten. Accompanied by Miss Lonsdale, he went to Totten's office. Some demand was made by him on the young lawyer, which was refused. The refusal so enraged Schoofey that he drew the revolver and perhaps would have killed Totten had not the latter caught him and held him in such a position that he could not use the weapon.

Said He Did Not Intend to Kill.

What this demand was neither Schoofey nor Totten would divulge, and Miss Lonsdale is equally reticent. Schoofey at first stated that it was in relation to money matters, but this he afterward denied and said it was a small business matter. He declared that he had no intention of killing Mr. Totten when he entered the office and drew the revolver on an impulse. He admitted, however, that he was not in the habit of carrying a revolver.

Miss Lonsdale stated through a friend that she did not know what Schoofey wanted when he asked her to go with him to Totten's office. She was uneasy because of his excited manner and accompanied him. What the trouble arose over she either did not know or would not divulge. She said her only connection with the affair was that she tried to prevent trouble between the two men.

Schoofey was well known about the capitol when he was Representative Bartlett's private secretary, and his elopement and marriage created considerable talk at the time. It was not made public until about two weeks after it took place, even the relatives of the young lady being kept in ignorance of it. Mrs. Lonsdale and her daughter boarded until last Saturday with Mrs. Drake at 1110 L street Northwest.

Mr. Turner, who was once known in New York as the "Tammany Iceman," said: "I will not reveal the motive which acutated Schoofey, but this I will say, had Schoofey shot and killed Totten no jury in the world would have found Schoofey guilty. If Totten presses Schoofey to trial, a very scandalous story will be related."

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

TEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage

The Triumph Wheelmen, of New York, had a run to this city, Sunday afternoon.

The Elizabeth Athletic Cyclers will send a team to Plainfield next Monday to compete in the Crescent Wheelmen's race meet.

Samuel Brock, one of the crack men of the Hunter racing team of Brooklyn, is now training at the Crescent Oval for the races on Decoration Day.

There is a movement among a number of the young men of the city to form a bicycle club for the purpose of taking runs one evening every week

The bicycle track at Crescent Oval is in fine condition, and every day crowds of racing men are to be found there getting in shape for the Decoration Day meet.

The Epworth League of the First M. E. church has decided to give a bicycle run for its members and friends. The date of the run will be announced in a few days.

The entries for the race meet of the Crescent Wheelmen on Decoration Day close tonight. They have been pouring in all day and the evening mails will bring many more.

L. M. Hillman and Harry F. Cuming, two crack riders of the Plainfield High School, have entered the two mile handicap in the Crescent Wheelmen's Decoration Day meet.

Fred W. L. Fullerton, of Montclair, formerly of this city, is entered to ride at the Crescent Wheelmen's racemeet on Decoration Day. Fullerton is a fast little rider and is up in all the tricks of the track.

The F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company has just received two handsome Cleveland tandems, enameled olive green. They are combination tandems. There has been a change in the steering gear of the Cleveland tandems this year, which is a great improvement over the old.

The New Jersey Road Book for 1897 will be issued about June 1, so that those not already members should secure an application blank at this office and join at once. All new members will receive one. Old members can secure it by sending twenty-five cents to the secretary-treasurer.

Those who are planning a Decoration Day outing on their wheels find themselves greatly in need of a reliable road book. The road book, which the New Jersey Division of the League of American Wheelmen offers to all its members, is the right thing in the right place. It free to all League members.

William McCutcheon, one of the most popular young riders of Plainfield, has entered for the Crescent Wheelmen's Decoration Day races and will come down from New Haven to attend them. He will bring with him a fellow member of the Yale track team named Howard, and the two will give the local cracks something to think about. They will ride in the amateur events, including the two mile tandem.

While riding down one of the hills between Metuchen and New Brunswick, Sunday afternoon, an unknown cyclist from New York fell and was seriously injured. His head was badly gashed and he received internal injuries. He was carried by his companions to the Stelton station, several miles away, and taken by train to New York. At the time of his accident he was riding without hands on the handle-bar and looking behind at his friends.

There will be plenty of attractions for wheelmen on Decoration Day this year. The main feature of the day, will of course, be the annual Irvington-Milburn road race, and in addition there will be races under the auspices of the Crescent Wheelmen in this city and the Atalanta Wheelmen at the Waverley track, the meet of the Excelsior Boat Club at Clifton, and the bicycle races at the events of the New Jersey Athletic Club at Bayonne. On the Saturday previous, the Boonton Athletic Club and the Hammonton Athletic Association will have races, also the Athletic Park Association at Millville.

The chief topic of conversation in local cycling circles at present is the coming race meet of the Crescent Wheelmen which is to be held on the Crescent Oval next Monday afternoon. For the last three years the Decoration Day meet in Plainfield has been a regular feature despite the strong rivalry of Rahway which has on two occasions tried to get the sanction. This year, there are more opposition meets in the vicinity, but the number of fast riders has increased and there will be enough for all. The Crescents are planning to have the cream of the racing circles for their meet and are constantly receiving entries from many well-known riders. If the local people stand by the club, there is no doubt but that the meet will be a great success from every point of view.

Herbert W. Knight, the court stenographer of Union county, who attended the Beerbower trial in this city last Friday, is one of the most prominent L. A. W. men in the State. He was much delighted with the appearance of Plainfield as a cycling city and remarked on the great number of wheels ridden here. He was greatly astonished when he learned that Plainfield had the smallest percentage of league members of any city in the State. Mr. Knight told some of his Plainfield friends of the practical advantages of being an L. A. W. member. He rode here from Elizabeth, accompanied by his wife. While passing through Westfield her pneumatic saddle met with an accident and a Westfield dealer, after seeing Mr. Knight's membership card, lent them a new saddle until the old one could be fixed. On arriving here Mr. Knight materially reduced the size of his hotel bill by presenting that wonderful membership card again. Every rider should be a member of the League. Application blanks may be obtained at this office.

Mrs. J. K. Myers has recently adopted the wheel as a source of pleasure.

Among the women of Plainfield who enjoy riding a wheel is Miss Julia Stelle, of Central avenue.

TENNIS.

A tennis court has been laid out by the Misses DuBois next to their home, on Park avenue, and every day a number of the young people assemble there for a friendly game.

The tennis courts of the Grace M. E church have been greatly improved by the removal of the large tree that stood close to the court and by the moving back of the guard nets. The court itself has been improved and the game grows more popular every day with the young people of the church. A croquet ground has been laid out next to the court, where those who do not care for such vigorous exercise can spend a pleasant afternoon.

There will be an active season among the tennis players of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, this year. Already the courts of the club, in the vicinity of their clubhouse on Plainfield avenue, are daily visited by the members. The courts are in good condition and promise to rival the old courts of the club in a few weeks. The season will be formally opened on Monday when the first tournament will be held. The tournament will be for men's doubles, open to residents of Plainfield and North Plainfield. Play will begin at 10 o'clock, Monday morning. The tournament has been arranged by the tennis committee of the club which is composed of Carl Pfeiffer, chairman; Leonidas Dennis, Horace E. Moore, Henry V. Ryder and Willard Wadsworth.

SUPPOSED ROBBERS CAPTURED.

Three Young Men, Wanted by Philadelphia Detectives, Arrested.

A telegram was received by the police of this city at an early hour, this morning, asking that three men be removed from a freight train that was then almost due. The three men were arrested by the officers and gave their names as John and Charles Michael and John Leonard, all of Philadelphia.

Chief Detective O'Brien, of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, and other detective of the same force, arrived this noon and told the officers that the men captured last evening were suspected of committing a series of freight car robberies at Philadelphia. City Judge DeMeza sent them to county jail for thirty days, charged with trespassing, while the railroad detectives are looking for the necessary evidence to hold then on the charge of entering the cars.

Mrs. Burke left her horse and wagon in front of a Grove street residence this morning. During her absence the horse was attracted to a nice grass plot, and in his efforts to get something to eat the wagon was almost upset. Hackman Charles Barry happened along and hastened to the rescue of the horse and wagon.

While he was getting things straightened out Chief Marshal Wilson came along and took charge of the rig. At that time the owner of the rig was not known. Mrs. Burke appeared while the officer was tieing the horse to a post, and she took charge of the rig. The officer warned her not to leave her horse untied again.

Twenty Days to Think it Over.

Marshal Kliner arrested Andrew Dougherty, of Catasaqua, Pa., at the corner of Greenbrook road and Harrison street, yesterday afternoon. Dougherty was under the influence of liquor and was inclined to be disorderly. Recorder Thomas gave him twenty days in which to recuperate.

AGAINST THE SUSPECTS.

EVIDENCE LOOKING TO DETERMINATION OF SCOTCH PLAINS BURGLARS.

The Authorities Believe That They Were on the Right Track When Clark and Simmons Were Arrested and Held in Jail.

A few interesting bits of evidence have come to light in connection with the series of burglaries at Scotch Plains, yesterday morning, which tend to strengthen the belief of the detectives that Clark and Simmons, the two men who were committed to jail yesterday, are directly implicated in the robberies.

The officers are now making every effort to discover the identity of the two suspicious looking men who were loitering around the village on Tuesday in company with Clark and Simmons. The four were continually together, during the day and evening, and acted like pals. These two unknown men, who are supposed to have committed the burglaries, have not been seen in the town since Tuesday evening. Two men answering to their description were seen in Sprinfield at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, but quickly disappeared. The theory of the detectives is that Clark and Simmons were not drunk on Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, as they claim to have been, but that they were acting their part in order to attract the attention to themselves while their pals were rifling the houses. It is thought that Clark and Simmons, when captured on the Washington Valley road, were on their way to join the other two men in whose possession the booty probably is.

Shortly before their capture by the constables the two suspects visited the houses of Loftus Hollingsworth and T. J. Walsh, on the mountain road, and frightened the woman who were at home. Mrs. Walsh was out visiting a neighbor and on her return home found Clark standing in her kitchen. She asked him to leave, which he did without saying anything more.

To the detectives Clark and Simmons admitted having passed some time during Tuesday evening in a barn on Park avenue, leased by Fred Clark. A number of burned matches were found there of a peculiar manufacture and different in shape from any matches to be had in the vicinity of Scotch Plains These were compared with the burned match-stems left by the burglars in the house of George Randolph, on Grand street. They were found to be of the same manufacture.

Both men are old jail birds, especially Clark who was in State prison, until recently, "doing time" for his share in the robbery of Connor's Hotel, at Garwood.

Miss Lizzie Nichols, daughter of George R. Nichols, one of the victims of the Scotch Plains robberies, seems to be the only one who was able to get a good look at the burglar. Miss Nichols, when awakened by the noise of the burglar's footsteps in her room, called and asked:

"Is that you pa?"

The burglar put his hand up to his face and mumbled something which could not be understood and started to back out of the room.

Miss Nichols, still thinking it was her father, asked if he was sick.

The burglar started to go down stairs, turning up his coat collar so as to conceal his features.

Miss Nichols then ran to her father's room and found him sleeping peacefully.

The Judge jumped from the bed, picked up his revolver and went down stairs only to find that the burglar had left by the open window through which he had made his entrance.

Judge Clark's action in connection with the two suspects meets with the approval of the public in general. County Detective Keron searched them at Emery's, but found nothing of a suspicious character about their person, but upon their arrival at the county jail they were again searched and a razor was found attached to a string around Simmon's neck.

Of course there was the usual talk last night of "what will be done for protection?" Many want a special officer appointed, or, if the people have got to protect themselves, then a vigilance committee.

Preliminary Work Being Done.

Preliminary work is being done at South Plainfield by the new water company preparatory to putting their plant into operation. The barn situated near the three driven wells has been torn down and trenches are being excavated for the laying of pipes from the wells to certain points.

For Both City and Borough.

The officers of the Town Improvement Association wish it known that the Association has a membership in Plainfield and North Plainfield. It is not a city affair alone as some people have supposed.

ST. JOSEPH'S FESTIVAL.

SAENGER AND TURNER HALL THE SCENE OF A JOLLY AFFAIR.

A Mixture of Good Things to Eat and Amusing Attractions to Enjoy Made the Event a Most Successful One.

The annual strawberry festival under the auspices of the women of St. Joseph's church was held last evening in Saenger and Turner Hall, on Somerset street. The women in charge had, at the cost of much time and effort, decorated the hall prettily with flowers and bunting. A fancy table, filled with an endless variety of both useful and fancy articles, occupied an important position, and on each side was a large tree upon which were hanging oranges, imitated so perfectly by the use of paper that one was unable to tell the difference until they were oxamined. In each orange was a ticket which entitled the purchaser to a prize on the fancy table. This table was in charge of Mrs. Richard Boyce, Mrs. Mary Reilly and Mrs. J. A. Blatz. The ice cream was looked after by Mrs. Andrew Kenney, Mrs. David Kenney and Mrs. Harper, and these women were kept busy throughout the entire evening supplying the wants of all. At the lemonade table was Mrs. Ryan, and she found many customers ready to quench their thirst. The soda table shared with the lemonade table in the patronage accorded, and J. A. Blatz and Richard McCullough found plenty to do in serving all who wished to drink the beverage on sale.

A novel and pleasing attraction was the gypsy tent which was in charge of a genuine gypsy from New York. She was induced to come to Plainfield by Richard Boyce who met her several weeks ago while she, together with a number of friends, were stopping in this city. She was sought a great deal during the evening by nearly everyone who wanted their fortunes told, and of course all were satisfied with their fate as told to them.

One of the principal attractions of the evening was the dancing music, which was furnished by Eugene O'Reilly. This portion of the programme was greatly enjoyed by a large crowd, and in fact the hall was thronged with people the entire evening. The receipts from all sources were gratifying and in view of the fact that the affair will be continued this evening the women ought to realize a good sum to aid them in their church work. The floor manager for dancing was James Daly, and he made a good one. Everybody present had an enjoyable time and they will want to attend again this evening.

Two Men at Odds Get Into a Costly Suit in Court.

The case of Peter Neilson against John Gaddis, which has been circulating through the different courts of the State for the last year and a half, and in which judgment has been entered in favor of the plaintiff, the judgment docketed, an execution is sued and a levy made by the Sheriff, again made its appearance in Somerset County Court. It was placed on the Common Pleas list for this term, and more will be heard from it anon. It is a forcible entry and detainer case, involving a couple of stalls in a stable. The rental value of the stalls for the time in dispute was probably not more than 25 cents. The costs in the case already aggregate more than $100, and there are more in sight. "What fools these mortals be!"

A Kindly Act Acknowledged.

Mrs. M. E. Kimball, president of the Board of Managers of the Children's Home Association, desires to acknowledge the kindness of a gentleman whose name is not known to the officers, for the contribution of $5 to be expended in buying admission tickets for the Fete Champetre for the children who could not otherwise go.

High Chief Ranger Coming.

Court Plainfield, No. 1144, Independent Order of Foresters, will meet as usual tomorrow evening when it is expected that High Chief Ranger James Febrey and staff will be present. A fine programme has been prepared for the good and welfare and a large turn out of the members is desired.

Profit of the Indian Tea

Tax Matter to be Considered.

At the special meeting of the City Council tomorrow evening nothing but the subject of back taxes will be considered as relating to the Martin Act.

BICYCLE FOR THE PASTOR

A PRACTICAL PRESENT GIVEN TO REV. A. E. MAIN.

The Gift Was a Surprise and Was Made at the Sociable Last Night, Which Was Under the Direction of the Young Men.

The young men of the Seventh-day Baptist church had their turn at entertaining, last evening, when they took charge of one of the regular sociables of the Christian Endeavor Society and made all the arrangements themselves. They surprised the congregation by giving a programme that included selections by some of Plainfield's best talent, they surprised their pastor by presenting him with a new wheel, and finally surprised themselves with the general success of the attempt.

The first part of the evening was devoted to the programme. There were several selections by an instrumental trio, composed of Charles Davis, violin, Lindley L. Hillman, violin, and Walter H. Serrell, flute. Miss Jessie Utter acted as accompanist. The numbers were excellently rendered for the young men kept good time and played together.

Frank O. Bristol was new to most of the audience but his recitations were much enjoyed. His impersonations were excellent, while his original dog song was really new. He also showed that humor was not his only forte but that he could recite pathetic selections with great feeling and power.

Mr. Holmes sang twice and his baritone voice found general favor with his hearers.

After the programme, Henry M. Maxson stepped to the platform and in a neat little speech presented Rev. A. E Main, the pastor of the church, with a new Spalding bicycle as a gift from his friends in the church. Mr. Main responded and thanked the donors of the gift. A collection was taken and then the guests were invited into the next room to partake of light refreshments.

The refreshment room was prettily decorated even if it was the work of the men. Green and white were the prevailing colors. Daisies were also used in decorating.

In the centre of the room was the table, which was also decorated. At one end of the table was Dr. Marc L. Clawson pouring coffee, and at the other George B. Titsworth pouring boullion. Both wore white lace caps, white lace collars and white aprons. Their assistants who passed the refreshments were also attired in white caps and aprons, after the full fledged witresses. They were Arthur J. Spicer, Nathan E. Lewis, Robert Randolph, Asa Randolph, and Harry L. Maxson. Frank T. Clawson was chairman and head-waiter.

The coffee and boullion were made by Frank J. Hubbard, whose practical experience on a ranch stood him in good stead.

AN EXCITING RUNAWAY.

H. S. Thatcher's Horse Got Fractious on Park Avenue.

An exciting runaway occurred yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock when a horse owned and driven by H. S. Thatcher, the contractor, became frightened in passing under the Park avenue railroad bridge and ran as far as Justice Nash's office. The animal's running propensities were increased by the fact that the shafts dropped from their position and struck his hind legs. Mr. Thatcher remained in the wagon, which was filled with lumber, as long as he could and tried very hard to guide the horse. He failed, however, and the horse left the wagon after swinging it with great force against the supporting beams to the awning in front of Mr. Nash's office. The front part of the wagon was somewhat wrecked and Mr. Thatcher was thrown into the street. He was not injured and escaped without a scratch or bruise. People standing near caught the horse before he could get away and thus further damage was averted. The lumber in the wagon was scattered about the street and things in general were sadly mixed. H. C. McVoy, the plumber, assisted Mr. Thatcher by taking his lumber to its destination, while he took his horse home and his wagon to the repair shop

Plainfield Talent Made a Hit.

John H. Carney gave his droll and eccentric monologue in German dialect to a large audience at Fairfield, N. J., for the benefit of the piano fund for the public school of that place. Prof. Sherwood was also present and mystified the audience with sleight-of-hand tricks. The professor made many new friends. Harry C. Runyon gave several pleasing selections.

Mrs. H. Beltz and Mrs. F. Anmann, of Elizabeth, who have been visiting Mrs. Charles Westphal, of South Second street, have returned home.

LAW WON ON A BICYCLE.

A RACE BETWEEN THE BOROUGH MARSHAL AND AN AGENT.

The Pace Set Was a Hot One and Marshal Wilson Finally Caught His Man—Let Him Go With a Warning to Stay Away.

The appearance of two agents in the borough yesterday afternoon selling zithers was an occasion for much amusement on the part of the residents. The two men sold a number of musical instruments before they were detected by Chief Marshal Wilson. The latter approached the men and asked them what kind of a business they were doing. They replied that they were only taking orders for the zither and were to deliver them in so many days. They were asking $1 down and 25 cents a week until paid for. With this understanding the officer allowed them to proceed. It was not long afterward before a complaint was made that the men were selling from their stock. They stored several zithers in J. P. Humble's grocery store on Somerset street, and carried one for a sample, supposedly. As a matter of fact they were selling them as fast as possible.

Chief Wilson became acquainted with their scheme and soon hunted them up. The two men saw the officer coming and they started to run. One ran through Manning avenue to Watchung avenue and crossed the brook to this city. The other man made his escape through Chatham street to Somerset street and was heading for the city when the officer gave chase. There was a large crowd on Somerset street at the time and they were much amused to see the race. Chief Wilson was on his wheel and had the advantage of the agent, and before the latter could reach the line the officer had him. The agent begged so hard and said that he was going to New York that the Chief let him off with the warning that if he ever came around that way again he would arrest him if he was caught selling any such articles without a license.

The other agent was not seen again, but it is supposed that when they reached this side of the brook they met somewhere.

While the race was in progress on Somerset street the crowd yelled and cheered, some for the agent and some for the officer. It is safe to say that the two men will give North Plainfield a wide berth in the future.

MR. FOWLER EXPLAINS.

THE CONGRESSMAN'S IDEA OF HOW THE TARIFF TAX SHOULD WORK.

As Prosperous Times Approach, and Government Revenue Increases, Taxes Should be Abated From Year to Year.

Representative Charles N. Fowler, of the VIIIth New Jersey District, sends a letter explaining his Tariff Commission bill. Allusion was made a few days ago to this additional argument offered by Mr. Fowler. Permission is granted by him to use any portion of the letter desired, and the following extracts may be of interest not only to New Jersey men but to others in connection with the subject of the tariff, now under consideration in the Senate, In part Mr. Fowler says:

"Any tariff measure that will produce sufficient revenue to support the Government under present conditions will, with the natural increase of population and the greater consumption incident to prosperity, bring us in a few years a hundred millions more revenue than will be required to meet expenses. It should not be taken from the people. It would naturally lead to national extravagance.

"The taxes should be abated from year to year and taken from one schedule at a time. Hence the President, who is responsible for the proper administration of the Government, with the recommendation of the Tariff Commission, ought to have the power to suspend any portion of the taxes, and the country not be compelled to wait until the Executive, the House of Representatives and the Senate were in political conjunction, which might not happen for several years. They were not in conjunction from 1875 until 1889.

"The duty of the Commission to investigate all Federal taxation and domestic and foreign conditions, and annually recommend changes calling for legislation, will make a most valuable adjunct to a wise administration of our National affairs. Its establishment cannot do any harm, while it may prove the greatest possible blessing to the American people in securing stability to our varied business interests and continued and equal prosperity to all sections of our common country."

CYCLISTS BADLY HURT.

WERE COASTING DOWN A STEEP HILL FROM FELTVILLE.

Mrs. Willard in the Hospital and Percy V. Wheeler at his Home Suffering with Serious and Very Painful Injuries.

The steep hill on the road from Feltville, or Glenside Park, as it is now called, has been the scene of many bicycle accidents. Another occurred there last Saturday afternoon, with very serious results. One of the victims is now confined to Muhlenberg Hospital and the other lies at his home seriously, if not dangerously, injured.

Mrs. Willard, of Watchung avenue, who has charge of the office of Dr. Frank S. Wells, of Central avenue, is one of the most enthusiastic wheel women in the city. Last Saturday afternoon Mrs. Willard, accompanied by Percy V. Wheeler, of LaGrande avenue, started for Glenside Park. Wheeler is a young man of eighteen years, but a constant rider. They reached the Park in safety and after a rest started home by the road that leads over the hill and joins the Springfield road a mile from Scotch Plains.

After walking up the sharp ascent, they rode along the level stretch and then started to coast down the long and steep hill that finally ends at the Springfield road. There are several sharp curves on the road. Mrs. Willard went first and Wheeler followed.

They were flying down the hill when Mrs. Willard attempted to turn out to the right. Perhaps there was a stone in the way, or perhaps a rut; at any rate Mrs. Willard was thrown heavily from her wheel and struck on the road way on her face and shoulder. Wheeler was close behind. He attempted to avoid the prostrated wheel woman in front and turned to one side. The wheel was far beyond his control, however, and he, too, was thrown with great force on the stony road.

Wheeler lay still but Mrs. Willard was able to rise. Her collar bone was broken and a portion of the flesh on the side of her face had been torn out by the force of the blow on the rough surface of the road. Although her injuries were very painful, she managed to crawl up the hill to a solitary house and tell something of her predicament. The man of the house hitched up his horse and drove down the hill to where Wheeler still lay in the road unconscious.

Wheeler was carefully lifted into the conveyance and driven to Plainfield. Mrs. Willard was taken to the Muhlenberg Hospital where her wounds were dressed and where she still remains. Wheeler was taken to his home on LaGrande avenue. There were but trifling injuries on his body but it is supposed that he was seriously injured internally.

The hill where the accident happened is a very dangerous one, and while there are many who ride over it every day, the risk is a great one. Many accidents have happened there heretofore, but luckily none of them have been as serious as this one.

WANTED IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Charles Drake Accused of Procuring Clothes Under False Pretenses.

The New Brunswick authorities sent an officer to this city this morning after a man they wanted. It was't "Cack" Carter, the colored crap shooter who was summarily driven out of town by the enraged Brunswickites, the other evening, but Charles Drake, who is now working as a carpenter in the city. He was wanted on the charge of procuring clothing of the New Brunswick branch of L. Sternberg & Co., under false pretenses. The complaint was made by Isaac Gansler, manager for that company in New Brunswick.

The complainant alleges that Drake purchased a suit of clothes on the installment plan from him on Dec. 5th. He claims that Drake represented himself as employed by C. A. Kelly, of Oak Tree, when he was not. Drake explains that he was employed by Kelly at that time, but left Kelly's employ soon after. It is on this charge of giving a false residence that the complaint is brought.

The New Brunswick officer came to this city this morning with a warrant from the Recorder of New Brunswick. He appeared before Justice Newcorn, who indorsed the warrant and then the officer served it on Drake. Drake was brought before Justice Newcorn and was able to give bonds for his appearance before the recorder in New Brunswick.

Work of the Boys.

All those interested in the industrial work of the Boys Club are cordially invited to attend an exhibition of the year's work in their new building on Sycamore street, Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. It is hoped by the executive committee that all the friends and supporters of the institution will make an effort to be present.

SEVENTH-DAY ADVOCATES

ANNUAL CONVENTION OF EASTERN ASSOCIATION.

The Meetings Being Held in New Market—President Spicer Presiding—The Standing Committees Announced.

The sixty-first annual session of the Eastern Seventh-Day Baptist Association convened in the Seventh-Day Baptist church at New Market this morning at 10:30, when the devotional services were conducted by Rev. T. J. VanHorn, of West Hallock, Ill., after the session was called to order by the president, J. D. Spicer, of this city. Following the devotional services the president offered his address. It was a very interesting paper of a historical nature. When the association started there were four churches, and at present there are sixteen. The present membership is 4,000, and during the past few years the increase has been marked.

The introductory sermon was preached by Rev. George Seeley, of Berlin, N. Y., who is a recent convert to the Sabbath. He is a native of Nova Scotia and has lived in this country for several years.

The text for his sermon was "Seventh-Day Baptist Principles or Our Peculiar Views?"

President Spicer announced the standing committees as follows:

Nominating—Rev. I. L. Cottrell, Shiloh, N. J.; J. W. Satterlee, Berlin, N. Y.; Rev. O. D. Sherman, Germanville, Conn.; Petitions—Rev. J. G. Burdick, New York City; Randolph Dunham, Plainfield; Rev. S. H. Davis, Westerly, R. I.; Finance—A. S. Babcock, Rockville, R. I; G. B. Carpenter, Ashaway, R. I.; Rev. H. A. Potter, Waterford, Conn.

The above committees will report at the session tomorrow afternoon when the officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

The afternoon session was devoted to hearing communications from sister associations and reports from the delegates A sermon was delivered by Rev. O. S. Mills, of New York, after which a short business session was held.

The session will be continued until Sunday night when the closing meetmeeting will be held. Interesting services have been provided for the entire session. At present there are about fifty delegates in attendance and more are arriving on each train

ALUMNI TO GREET GRADUATES.

Arrangements for Commencement Reception in the Borough.

Twice a year the alumni of the North Plainfield Public School gather for a reception and entertainment. One of the meetings is held in midwinter and the other at commencement time. Last evening, the committee in charge of the commencement reception met at the home of the vice president, Miss Nora Williams, of Somerset street, to arrange for the the affair. The president, Harry L. McGee, was absent and so the meeting was presided over by Miss Williams, the vice president. Henry B. Drake acted as secretary.

The committee decided ta hold the reception on the evening of Friday, June 25th, the day after the Commencement exercises. The reception will be held ih the school building according to the usual custom.

Regarding the entertainment of the guests, it was decided to depart from the usual custom in several ways and make some needed improvements in the order of things.

The committees were appointed. Miss Alice Carroll was made chairman of the refreshment committee, Miss Miss Nora Williams will have charge as chairman of the committee on decorations. The question of entertainment was left to a committee of which Stacy Raynolds is chairman. Henry B. Drake was made chairman of the committee on printing and Warren Church chairman of the committee on music.

Mountain Park Inn Improvement.

A great improvement is being made to Mountain Park Inn, in the construction of an addition to the already commodious building, which is to serve as a smoking, billiard and pool room. The addition is being built in the rear of the hotel, almost directly back of the office, and will be entered from the further end of the office lobby. It is expected that the hotel will be opened some time next week, and a prosperous season is already assured to the management.

Argument to Save Murderer.

Judge Magie could not be present to hear the argument of counsel in the application for a new trial for Chalbi, the Bound Brook uxoricide, on Monday in Somerset county court. Evidence has been taken before Special Master W. V. Stelle, and the case will probably be argued on Friday.

THE FIRST TEST VOTE

Taken In the Senate After a Two Hours' Tariff Debate.

IT WAS LARGELY ON PARTY LINES.

The Secretary of War Authorized to Employ a Suitable Vessel to Convey Supplies to India—Reports on Vivisection.

Washington, May 27.—The first vote on the tariff bill has been taken in the senate. It came after a two hours' debate on the item of boracic acid, which, although comparatively unimportant, afforded an opportunity for the first alignment of the various elements.

Mr. Vest of Missouri, a Democratic member of the finance committee, moved to make the rate on boracic acid 3 cents instead of 5 cents per pound, as provided by the committee. This presented a direct issue between the committee and the opponents of the bill. The amendment was defeated by the following vote:

Yeas—Berry, Caffery, Chilton, Clay, Cockrell, Gorman, Gray, Jones, Kenney, Lindsay, Morgan, Murphy, Pasco, Rawlins, Roach, Smith, Turpie, Vest, Walthall and Heitfeld—20.

Nays—Aldrich, Allison, Baker, Burrows, Carter, Chandler, Cullom, Davis, Elkins, Fairbanks, Foraker, Frye, Gallinger, Gear, Hanna, Hansbrough, Hawley, Lodge, McMillin, Nelson, Penrose, Perkins, Platt of Connecticut, Platt of New York, Shoup, Spooner, Wellington, Wilson, McEnery, White, Cannon, Jones, Stewart and Quay—34.

The vote was largely on party lines. The affirmative was made up of 19 Democrats and 1 Populist, Heitfeld. The negative was made up of 29 Republicans, 2 Democrats, McEnery of Louisiana and White of California, 2 silver Republicans, Cannon of Utah and Jones of Nevada, and 1 Populist, Stewart of Nevada.

The debate was participated in by Senators Vest, Jones of Arkansas, Aldrich, Perkins, White, Caffery, Gray and Stewart. Mr. White, a Democratic member of the finance committee, opposed Mr. Vest's amendment, urging that the California industry required the rate allowed by the committee.

Seven paragraphs of the bill were considered during the session, the committee being sustained in each instance.

The resolution was agreed to authorizing the secretary of the navy to employ any suitable ship in forwarding relief supplies to India.

Report on Vivisection.

Washington, May 27.—Secretary of Agriculture Wilson has sent to the senate committee on agriculture and forestry a report on vivisection in the District of Columbia. In this he calls attention to the injurious effect upon the scientific investigations of the department and of the various agriculture experimental stations in the country which the senate bill, to prevent cruelty to animals in the District, would have, as under the guise of a local measure it undertakes to regulate the general investigations of the diseases of animals. The bill is characterized as the British antivivisection act, slightly modified to make it applicable to our institutions and with its important safeguards omitted. The objections made are that it has not been shown that there have been any cruel experiments performed in the District of Columbia or that any are now in progress or likely to be in the near future; that the bill, if made a law, would absolutely prohibit important and necessary lines of experiments and would greatly restrict some others which were not prohibited, and that this legislation is unanimously opposed by the great scientific institutions of the country.

Horrible Dynamite Explosion.

Duluth, May 27.—Frank Lucek, a farmer living at Hermantown, near here, was thawing some dynamite, when it exploded, tearing the house almost to pieces and killing Lucek and two young sons. His wife and another small son escaped alive, but are badly hurt. The boy was blown through a window, and the remains of the house caught fire and were totally destroyed.

Accidentally Shot.

New York, May 27.—Max Schmittberger, the 15-year-old son of Police Captain Schmittberger, was accidentally shot in a shooting gallery connected with a fair in the basement of St. Vincent Ferrers church, Fifty-sixth street and Lexington avenue. The bullet from a rifle, shot by some boy unknown, struck young Schmittberger in the left temple. The wound is considered dangerous.

Chinese Embassador at London.

London, May 27.—A great crowd was at the wharf to witness the landing of Chang Yen Hoon, the Chinese special embassador who will represent China during the queen's diamond jubilee. The appearance of the embassador and his suit, together with their exchange of oriental courtesies, excited great curiosity.

Derelict Schooner Discovered.

Washington, May 27.—The secretary of the treasury has received a telegram from Captain Phillips of the revenue cutter Perry from Kitchiken, Alaska, stating that he had discovered the derelict schooner General Siglin ten miles west of Graham island. No survivors or bodies were found.

Lost Fishermen Rescued.

Provincetown, Mass., May 27.—The 16 members of the crew of the Provincetown fishing schooner J. P. Johnson, which went astray on the Western bank last Friday, have arrived here on a vessel which had picked them up. All were well, although they suffered much from hunger.

A Strike Ended.

Bristol, R. I., May 27.—The strike at the National Rubber company's shops here is over. The strikers went to work on the same terms as before and without any promise regarding the docking of pay for defective work.

Suicide by Drowning.

Antwerp, N. Y., May 27.—Mrs. George Kelsey, a young married woman, committed suicide by throwing herself into Indian river. The cause is unknown. The body was recovered.

WAR TO BE RENEWED

Prospects of More Fighting Between Greece and Turkey.

MAY INVOLVE ALL EUROPE IN STRIFE

Serious Hitch In the Peace Negotiations. Russia and Germany Seemingly Indorse the Sultan's Demand For the Possession of Thessaly.

Vienna, May 27.—It is asserted here that the Turkish government has mobilized 50,000 additional troops, who are now in readiness to advance into Thessaly, and that the government is making active preparations for a Turkish administration of the province.

Probable Renewal of Hostilities.

London, May 27.—The Athens correspondent of The Times says:

"It is believed that complications have arisen, owing to the advocacy by some of the powers, including Russia, of a Turkish occupation of Thessaly until the indemnity is paid and to England's firm resistance to such a project. The Greek government is preparing for a possible renewal of the war."

A dispatch to The Times from Larissa says the impression is general among the Turkish troops that there will be more fighting. A brigade of redifs has started for Phourka, armed with mausers.

The correspondent of The Standard at Constantinople says:

"The council of ministers has decided to prolong the armistice. It will refuse even to discuss the retrocession of Thessaly, but will leave the other points for consideration to the powers. So far as the note to the European arbitrators is concerned, there can be no doubt that whether the sultan is only bluffing or is the victim of popular pressure, a peace such as Europe expects cannot be arranged without the risk of the gravest complications.

"The grand vizier on Saturday presented a report to the sultan, urging that the whole of Islam was fully determined to retain Thessaly, and adding 'Your majesty proved victorious in Armenian and other matters when you firmly refused to be dictated to by Europe. Therefore you should be equally firm on this occasion. But if my views are unpalatable to your majesty I beg of you to accept my resignation.'

"The story is current that a wounded Turkish soldier at the Yildiz hospital on being invited by the sultan to proffer a dying request, implored him not to yield up Thessaly. The sultan grew pale, and his eyes filled with tears.

"Seyfullah Bey, chief of staff to the sultan and the Von Moltke of the campaign, has been summoned to Constantinople to give the military commission the benefit of his advice."

Socialist Leader Expelled From Greece.

Athens, May 27.—When Signor de Felice, the Italian socialist leader, was being conducted, under arrest by the order of M. Ralli, whom he had insulted, to the Piræus, to be placed on board the Italian warship Sardegna, a number of the Garibaldians attempted to rescue him, and a fierce fight ensued, in which a soldier and a civilian were severely wounded. As soon as he was on board the ironclad Di Felice was liberated at the request of the Italian minister, the Duke of Avarna on his solemn promise to quit Greece without provoking further incidents.

Greece Will Pay Interest.

Athens, May 27.—The government announces that it has deposited in the National bank £110,000 to pay the coupons falling due on June 15 next.

Bondsmen Must Pay.

Worcester, Mass., May 27.—The jury in the case of George T. Johnson of Brookfield, receiver of the Brookfield Savings bank, against Hiram P. Gerald and his bondsmen have returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the superior civil court. This suit was brought by the receiver of the bank to recover on the surety of the former treasurer of the bank, Gerald, who is serving a sentence in state prison for embezzlement of the funds of the institution. The defendant claimed that the bond was never properly delivered to the trustees of the bank, and it appeared in evidence that it was found back of a bottle in the defaulter's drug store.

Wholesale Fraud Charged.

Logansport, Ind., May 27.—The federal grand jury has found nine indictments against John F. Johnson late president of the State National bank of this city. He is charged with violating practically every section of the national banking law, including forgery. Fifteen counts in all have been prepared, and six additional indictments are to be found and returned with the other nine. It is found that the directors of the bank cannot be indicted for stupidity and incompetence which the federal authorities indicate is the chief trouble with them.

BLADDER TROUBLES

are inconvenient during the day and destroy rest at night. They make life a misery instead of a blessing. They affect many persons after they reach the age of 40, and are usually accompanied by a decay of vital power.

They can be

CURED

I wish to express my gratitude for the good results which Dr Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills have effected in my case. I have suffered from kidney disease for the last eight years. Every movement would cause such intense pain, that I would almost fall down. I was also obliged to get up six or eight times a night. The pain and weakness of my back interfered with my work as porter. I also suffered from rheumatism, mostly in my ankles. I have taken the Sparagus Kidney Pills for the last two months, with the result that my back is strong and the pain has disappeared. I have been able to be out all winter for the first time in six years. The rheumatism has almost disappeared. I still have to get up once or twice a night, but expect a complete cure by continuing the treatment a little longer. WM. WILSON, 104 Tanner ave., Harrisburg, Pa.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says, that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism,
(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty-five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. THE M'KEE SCRIP CASE.

Reversal of a Former Decision In the Chicago Lake Front Litigation.

Washington, May 27.—Mr. Binger Hermann, commissioner of the general land office, announced his decision in the Chicago lake front case, reversing the decision of Commissioner Lamoreaux and denying and rejecting the application of Harvey M. Lafollette and Mathias Benner to locate McKee scrip on the lands.

The decision involves many millions of dollars' worth of property along the shore front of Chicago and is the most stubbornly contested case that has been before the department for years. It will be appealed immediately to the secretary of the interior, whose decision, however, in any event, will not be final, as the case will be carried through the courts, it already having been begun in the courts of Illinois.

Mr. Hermann's decision is a long one and is technically described as involving title to land alleged to be opposite section 10, township 39 north, range 14 E. M., Illinois.

The decision holds that no consideration is deemed necessary as to the protests of Peter T. Johnson, in which he asks permission to renew his former application to make homestead entry and also to file Valentine scrip in case the McKee scrip owners are sustained.

The same disposal is made of the protest of George W. Streeter, who asserts a claim in himself under his application to locate a military bounty land warrant and also to make homestead entry on a portion of the land involved, and who asks that he be allowed to intervene and to renew his said application in the event this office should decide said lands to be subject to disposal by the United States.

The appearance of W. H. Cox in this case and the arguments submitted in his behalf are not referred to in this consideration, as it is understood that the decision says that his relation was that of an amicus curiæ in these proceedings.

DISAPPEARANCE OF A PASTOR.

Reported to Have Been Found Short In His Accounts.

Washington, May 27.—Rev. A. G. Harrison, pastor of the People's tabernacle, and his family disappeared from their home here, and it is reported that the reverend gentleman is $9,000 short in his accounts.

He was given entire charge of the church funds, and, according to the charges, failed to pay bills for furniture, carpets and a church organ, for which the money was given him, and also borrowed large sums from his parishioners. W. L. Bruen, the builder of the tabernacle, is a loser to the extent of $7,000.

When Mr. Harrison learned that an investigation was to be made by the church, he departed, leaving his household goods. He came to this city from Texas three years ago, engaged in mission work and gained so large a following that the tabernacle was built, chiefly through the efforts of Bruen.

SAID HE WAS DRUGGED

Alleges He Was Married While Under Influence of Opiates.

HAS A WIFE AND CHILDREN LIVING.

Charges That the Second Wife Knew of That Fact When She Took Him as Her Husband—The Ceremony Was a Blank to Him.

Jersey City, May 27.—Gustave Herzig, 29 years old, a salesman for a New York cloak manufacturing house, was arrested in Harrisburg on a charge of bigamy and brought to this city.

The complainant in the case is Maud Towsen, head saleswoman in a cloak factory at Lancaster, Pa.

Miss Towsen, or Mrs. Herzig, as she claims to be, says she was married to Herzig on the night of April 27 last by the Rev. Arthur Randolph in Trinity Methodist Episcopal church in Sussex street.

Herzig, who has a wife and two children living in Harrisburg, says that if he was married to Miss Towsen he has no knowledge of the fact.

According to the story which Herzig told Chief of Police Murphy, he was drugged, and the ceremony was performed while he was unconscious.

Herzig in the course of his business called frequently at the place where Miss Towsen was employed.

While there, he alleges, he first made the acquaintance of Miss Towsen. She aspired to a position in a large cloak house in New York and asked Herzig, so he says, to use his influence to place her with the house with which he was connected.

Obtains a Position For Her.

Herzig says that he returned to New York and secured for Miss Towsen a situation in a cloak manufacturing establishment.

He then notified her to come to New York, and she arrived on the morning of the 27th of April. Herzig met her at the railroad depot, and they proceeded to Riverside drive to view the Grant memorial ceremonies. After the parade, Herzig alleges, they went to a hotel in Forty-second street, the name of which he doesn't remember, and had dinner.

While here, Herzig asserts, Miss Towsen urged him to drink whisky, saying that the day had been cold and raw and that he must need it. Herzig says he is not in the habit of drinking, but as he did feel chilly he assented and drank three glasses of liquor, the woman drinking a similar quantity.

After drinking the liquor, Herzig says, he remembers nothing until the morning of the 28th, when he awoke in a room of the hotel with a splitting headache.

He was then confronted with a certificate of his marriage to Miss Towsen signed by the Rev. Arthur Randolph. He says he was thunderstruck, and said:

"Why, Maud, you know I am married and have two children. You have made me commit bigamy."

He and Miss Towsen then went to Boston. While there, he says, Miss Towsen received a telegram from her father, James Towsen, from Harrisburg, telling her to come home, as her mother was very sick. Miss Towsen took the first train for Harrisburg, and Herzig accompanied her as far as New York, where they parted.

Two days later, Herzig alleges, he received a telegram from Miss Towsen summoning him to Harrisburg. He went and was met at the station, so he says, by a tall young man, who said he was his brother-in-law, Edward Towsen. Towsen had a carriage in waiting, and they proceeded to the Towsen home, 1401 South Eleventh street. When they arrived there, Herzig says he was brutally assaulted by Towsen, his brother James and another man whose name Herzig forgets.

Beaten Into Insensibility.

Herzig says they beat him into insensibility with clubs, and when he recovered consciousness he was in the City hospital at Harrisburg. He was quite badly used up, and when he left the hospital he immediately procured warrants for the arrest of Towsen and his two sons.

They were arrested and said that Herzig had come to the house a perfect stranger and had insulted Mrs. Towsen, who was sick in bed. They said that they had given him a severe thrashing on this account.

The three men are now held by the Harrisburg police on a charge of assault and battery preferred by Herzig.

Herzig says he saw no more of Miss Towsen.

Miss Towsen came to this city last week and swore out the warrant for Herzig's arrest on a charge of bigamy.

Justice Potts held him for examination.

The Rev. Dr. Randolph of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church was seen, and he said that there seemed to be nothing the matter with the young man at the time of the marriage.

"They came to the church on the evening of April 27 last, and at the time the young man seemed to be perfectly rational," said the minister.

"The young man gave me the usual fee and turning to his bride kissed her, saying, 'It is my privilege, now.' He seemed to act like any other person, and I had no reason to suspect him of anything extraordinary."

Several New Jersey newspapers speak approvingly of a proposition to tax each bicyclist $1 and devote the money to road purposes. If that were to be done it wouldn't take long to raise money enough to build a cycle path from Jersey City to Camden, says the New York Tribune.

There are more square inches of politics in New Brunswick and Middlesex county in general than any other spot in New Jersey. Politics is an all-the-year around game over there and its players are never happy unless fighting.

The efforts of the members of the Town Improvement Association are for Plainfield's improvement, and it is, therefore, quite appropriate that the date for their Fete Champetre should be distinguished as "Plainfield Day."

Y. M. C. A. Cyclers.

The Y. M. C. A. cyclers are preparing for an active season this year. The first meeting of the year was held at the Y. M. C. A. building on Tuesday evening. Captain Thomas U. Cuming presided and Walter Long acted as secretary. The officers for the season were elected as follows: Captain, Thomas U. Cuming; first lieutenant, Clarence Brouard; second lieutenant, Phillip Suffern; first sergeant, S Clinton Crane; second sergeant, Henry Vogeler; color bearer, Charles Smith; bugler, C. E. A. Haywood; secretary-treasurer, Walter Long. A committee on runs was chosen to consist of Cuming, Long and Haywood. It was decided to hold runs on alternate Thursday evenings so as not to conflict with the runs of the Y. M. C. A. Cycling League of New Jersey. The finances of the club were discussed and an assessment was decided upon. The club decided to go to Boynton Beach on Monday if a sufficient number care to go. The season will close with a ten mile road race open to members of the club only. It will be run on the Park avenue course. The date of the League run to this city was changed from Thursday, June 3d, to Friday, June 4th, as there will be a meeting of the Board at the building on Thursday evening.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore equires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. A CONCERT IN THE CATACOMBS.

An Idea Carried Out by Some Fun-Loving Young Bohemians of Paris.

A fantastic idea took possession of certain young painters, musicians and writers in Paris a few weeks ago, and they carried it out to a very successful conclusion.

It was at midnight that the concert took place, and a little before that hour about one hundred invited guests presented themselves at the gate of the catacombs in the Rue Dareau. The descent down the damp stairway of ninety-four steps was lighted by candles here and there. Then the guests were escorted along the main gallery past the great piles of bones and skulls arranged tier upon tier. There were a number of women in the party, and some of them developed symptoms of nervousness, with now and then a mild tendency in the hysterical line, but they were soothed and consoled by their escorts.

The catacombs are deep down in the bowels of the earth, and contain the bones of over three million dead people, collected there between 1780 and 1796, from the Cemetery of the Innocents and from other ancient burial places. The air is heavy and tainted with an oppressive charnel-house odor. It tries the nerves of some people who visit the place even in the regular orthodox way, let alone going to it mysteriously and in the dead of night, as did these seekers after the horrible.

In addition to Chopin's Funeral March, Saint-Saens's "Danse Malabre," and the Funeral March from Beethoven's Heroic Symphony were played, and Mariet recited a poem of his own entitled "Aux Catacombes."

It was not until 1:30 that the concert actually began, although mystic midnight was the hour fixed, and it was between 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning when the audience returned to the upper air once more.—New York Journal.

RESCUING GAME IN THE ALPS.

How the Mountaineers Shovel Deer from Beneath Avalanches.

Deer and such large game suffer greatly in the Alps from the avalanches. When everything which they are accustomed to seek for nourishment is covered several feet under snow, hunger adds its pangs to those of cold. Some Samaritans of the forest are in the habit of scattering food about in more sheltered places. This, however, cannot be of great service, and thousands of deer perish annually from hunger. In the Alps the avalanche is the third danger which confronts the wild game, especially in the springtime. A very little thing, as a stone, a snowball, the falling branch of a tree, may precipitate them. In an instant a mass of snow and ice weighing tons starts down from the heights with overwhelming force. Usually a sure instinct keeps the deer out of their path, but they are not infrequently surprised. Often through the peculiar rotary motion at the sides of the snowslide, and the consequent churning up of materials, the game is landed at the foot of the mountain in such a position that a rescue is possible. This is well known to the foresters. After an avalanche they hasten to the rescue. It is necessary to accomplish the work in great haste. Wherever there is a visible trace of game the snow is eagerly shoveled away, and very often an imprisoned deer is brought to light. Frequently the animals are half dead, and rude surgical aid must be given to broken limbs.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Alaska's Boiling Springs.

Dr. Spencer Harris of Circle City, Alaska, reports the discovery of immense boiling sulphur springs near the arctic circle, seventy miles from Circle City. The discovery was made by a party of gold miners, who were looking for claims. At the time the discovery was made the thermometer registered 46 degrees below zero. Surrounding the springs are immense deposits of solid brimstone, and in the same vicinity a mastodon tooth, perfectly preserved and weighing fourteen pounds, has been found. The enamel on the tooth has not been broken and is perfect in every way. The boiling sulphur water bubbles up out of the ground, furnishing warmth to those who approach near it. All about the springs the ground is frozen, and never thaws under the covering of Alaska moss, even during the summer time.—Tacoma Correspondence St. Louis GlobeDemocrat.

ESCAPED BY A STEP.

A Lincoln Farmer Almost Run Down by a Lehigh Valley Train

W. H. Smock, seventy-five years of age, who runs a farm near Lincoln, seven miles from this city, had a narrow escape from instant death yesterday while driving a number of cows over the tracks of the Lehigh Valley Railroad. Smock lives on one side of the track and pastures the cows in a meadow on the other side of the railroad. Just as he was crossing the tracks, yesterday, a fast passenger train approached, and Smock, who is of poor sight and hearing, was not aware of the oncoming train until it was a hundred feet away. He jumped off the track just as it whizzed by. The suction of air caused by the passing of the cars threw him off his feet and stunned him for a few minutes. Though bruised by the fall he was able to walk home. A cow, valued at $50, was killed at the same time.

Together with that, is a carefully prepared report by the warden, of the receipts expenditures, number of prisoners, ages, sexes, nationalities, commitments, discharges, and cost of maintenance for each prisoner, per day, etc.

Receipts amount to four thousand, four hundred and thirty-seven dollars and seventy three cents ($4,437.73.) The average cost per prisoner is twenty-one cents per day.

During the year the prisoners are daily employed about the buildings, in cleaning and attending the furnace, storing coal and being generally useful. The very limited expenditures and good management of the county jail is wholly due to the efficient services of the warden, matron and deputy-warden, who have conducted proceedings agreeably to the entire satisfaction of your committee.

This condition, in the opinion of your committee, is highly creditable to the County, and no doubt gratifying to the Board.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture. We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

CHARGED WITH FORGERY.

A Former Assemblyman Arrested on That Charge.

Newburg, N. Y., May 27.—Former Assemblyman Grant B. Taylor has been arrested here on the charge of forgery in the first degree. It is alleged in the complaint that on April 20 of this year he represented to Mrs. Elizabeth McClung of Newburg that Charles Curie of Brooklyn desired to raise $6,000 on a bond and mortgage on Idlewild, at Cornwall, his summer home. It is further alleged that Mrs. McClung gave Taylor a check for the money, which he cashed for himself, and in return gave her a bond purporting to have been signed by Curie.

The latter, in an affidavit, alleges that the signature is forged. He denies ever having received the money or ever having authorized a loan. Taylor declares his innocence and that the arrest grows out of a misunderstanding. He heard that proceedings of some kind were to be taken against him, and he put off a business trip to be here to face whatever charge might be made.

Charged With Counterfeiting.

Gouverneur, N. Y., May 27.—Detective Frank Esquirell of the treasury department arrested Henry Mashaw and George Flint of this city for making and passing counterfeit coins. The treasury agent has been in town the past three weeks and has been quietly working on the case. Bogus money has been passed very freely in town, with the above result. They were brought before United States Commissioner E. H. Neary and pleaded not guilty to the charge of making and passing counterfeit money, although a quantity of the stuff was found in their possession and also the plaster of paris molds and dies for making the same. Several more suspects are being watched and will soon be arrested.

Another Assassination In Florida.

Tampa, Fla., May 27.—William Edwards was assassinated at his home near Trilby. He and his two children were eating supper, when parties concealed in the woods fired through a window, killing Edwards instantly. He was a one armed ex-Federal soldier. This is the seventh man killed in the Whitehurst-Whiddin-Stevenson feud. Bud Stevenson was assassinated in his field two months ago. It was thought Edwards did it, and he was marked by the friends of Stevenson.

Voters Must Be Able to Read.

Hartford, May 27.—The Connecticut senate has passed a resolution which provides that every person shall be able to read in the English language any article of the constitution or any section of the statutes of this state before being admitted as an elector. The house previously passed the resolution. The senate likewise concurred with the house in rejecting the resolution permitting the use of voting machines in elections in this state.

Frightfully Burned.

Buffalo, May 27.—Miss Clara Warren, 27 years old, residing on Elm street, was frightfully and it is believed fatally burned. Attired in her nightrobe, she was attempting to light the kitchen fire, when a sleeve of the garment caught from the blaze. Miss Warren's body was almost instantly enveloped in flames. Those who came in response to her screams found her prostrate on the floor covered with torturing burns.

Alleged Fugitives From Justice.

Chicago, May 27.—Ozerow W. Clapp, once a well known and wealthy board of trade operator, and his son, Dwight O. Clapp, have been arrested at the request of the New York police department charged with being fugitives from justice. It is said they are wanted in New York to answer to a charge of illegally transferring property for the purpose of defrauding creditors, the amount involved being $10,000.

Militia Officers Removed.

Boston, May 27.—Governor Wolcott has signed the bill removing the present Brigadier Generals Peach and Bridges of the state militia and limiting the terms of their successors to seven years. He first obtained the opinion of the attorney general that the bill was constitutional. The bill was the result of a recent investigation into the methods of the state troops.

Killed by a Train.

Buffalo, May 27.—Edward C. Shott, a prizefighter, 26 years old, was killed by a Lake Shore train in the south suburb of the city. The body was found on the track with the head severed. Letters and newspaper clippings in the dead man's pockets indicate that he had friends in Cincinnati and that he had attained some prominence as a pugilist.

Must Admit the Critic.

Albany, May 27.—Justice Edwards, at Troy, on the application of Corporation Counsel Delehanty of this city, has issued a perpetual injunction restraining F. F. Proctor, lessee of the Leland Opera House in this city, and his employees from excluding J. C. Mullaney, the dramatic writer of The Morning Express, from the Leland.

Injured In a Panic.

Chicago, May 27.—Three men were injured as the result of a panic which followed the breaking out of a fire in the Johnson Chair company at North Halstead and Phillips streets. They were Joseph Larson, Adolph Kroeger and Frank Wolski, all employees. The fire caused a loss of $40,000.

Suicide of a Bank Clerk.

Chicago, May 27.—Sick and discouraged over his inability to meet payments on his home, Alexander T. Beckett, formerly a clerk in the National Bank of Illinois, which collapsed a few months ago, shot and killed himself. This is the third suicide from the failure of the bank.

Japan Don't Want Hawaii.

Montreal, May 27.—Count Ito, in an interview, stated that the talk in the United States about the desire of Japan to annex Hawaii is all foolishness. "Japan would not have Hawaii," he said, "if it could be had for asking."

Armor Plate For the Navy.

Bethlehem, Pa., May 27.—Seventy tons of armor plate and gun material were shipped from the Bethlehem Iron company to the United States navy yard at Newport News.

TUCKER IS CONVICTED

The Salvation Army Commander Guilty of a Misdemeanor.

WAS DEFENDED BY A. OAKEY HALL.

The Judge's Charge Unfavorable to the Accused—The Commander Makes a Statement Charging Malicious and Willful Prosecution.

New York, May 27.—Frederick de la Tour Booth Tucker, commander of the Salvation Army in the United States, has been convicted of maintaining a disorderly house at the big army barracks in West Fourteenth street. Sentence was postponed until June 8, and the commander was liberated on the same bail as he has been under.

Complaint was made by residents of the neighborhood of the barracks, who alleged that they were greatly disturbed by the singing and band playing at the Salvation Army meetings, especially those that lasted all night.

Booth Tucker was defended by ex-Mayor A. Oakley Hall, who quoted from the Scriptures to show that Miriam was the first hallelujah lassie and that trumpets, cymbals, harps, castanets, cornets and timbrels were used by the ancient Hebrews in the worship of God.

Assistant District Attorney Welch spoke for an hour. He said that Commander Booth Tucker and his counsel had confessed the offense charged in admitting that there was a nuisance, which, however, they contended was a private nuisance and not a public nuisance. The all night meeting on April 13 Mr. Welch referred to as "a night of riot, got up not for the glorification of God, but for the glorification of Booth Tucker."

Judge Newburger's charge was considered to bear against the defendant. He said that this was a most important case and involved important consequences. There were two questions to be answered by the jury: Did the defendant maintain a nuisance? Was it a public nuisance? "It is for you to determine," he said, "whether or not the holding of a service from 8 o'clock in the evening until 4:30 o'clock in the morning, with the accompaniment of music and the singing of 2,000 persons renders the enjoyment of life and property uncomfortable to a number of the people of the city. If the services held by the defendant were conducted within reasonable hours and did not interfere with the peace and comfort of the residents about, then your verdict must be not guilty. Otherwise it must be a verdict of guilty."

The jury was out five hours.

Booth Tucker Makes a Statement.

Commander Booth Tucker gave out a statement, the first half of which was written while the jury was determining upon the verdict. He declared that the importance of the case was because it was manifestly an attempt to create a precedent, which does not now exist, or an effort to manufacture a new crime by stretching the provisions of the existing law. The statement begins by asking: "Are the precisely similar services conducted in our other 730 halls throughout the United States to be branded as brothels? Are the hundreds of similar services held by us in the principal churches of the land to be similarly branded?"

The statement then declares that there was not one fraction of evidence offered that the headquarters was a disorderly house in the usual sense attached to the word, and that a new law has been manufactured by the conviction, the immediate abrogation of of which should be the duty of every citizen who has an atom of care for religious liberty, and concludes as follows, "Can I not trust the kingdom's interest with him, who brings good out of evil, gain out of loss, joy out of sorrow?"

Narrow Escape of a Steamer.

St. Johns, N. F., May 27.—The steamer Benedick, a 3,000 ton vessel, with a large cargo and 35 passengers, bound for Liverpool by way of St. Johns, narrowly escaped becoming a total wreck in Tropassoy bay during a dense fog. She struck Mistaken point, staving in her port bow and filling the forepeak with water. But for the timely sighting of land and the reversing of the engines she would have run right ashore. Her sister ship, the Capulet, was lost there last summer under similar conditions.

Lamp Explosion Causes Damage.

Newburyport, Mass., May 27.—A fire which resulted from the explosion of a lamp in Charles W. Ladd's barber shop on the second floor of the Washington Hall building caused a loss of $20,000 to the building and surrounding property. The damage was caused mostly by water. All the losers are well insured. The fire department in pouring water into the building deluged the Mechanics' bank and the Merchants' bank buildings.

Mrs. Dean Off to Europe.

New York, May 27.—Mrs. Emilie Goebel, known as the Mrs. Dean of the E. S. Dean company, the discretionary pool firm, has sailed for Europe on the St. Paul. It was only recently that Mrs. Goebel was indulging freely in threats of revenge against the persons composing the E. S. Dean company and W. Kellogg, the manager of Kellogg's Market Register. Her reasons for going to Europe are only conjectured.

Fined For Employing Children.

Middletown, N. Y., May 27.—Edward Hunter, an onion grower of Mombasha Lake, has been fined $50 for allowing boys and girls under 14 years of age to work in his fields, in violation of the compulsory education law. This law is causing considerable disturbance in the black dirt districts, where it has been customary for children to work.

Levees Weakening.

El Paso, Tex., May 27.—The river has risen two inches. It is still kept within the temporary levees, but the levees are gradually weakening, and fully 400 men are employed in filling up behind what the water washes away in front. The city built five miles of levee yesterday.

Fire In a Small Town.

Knoxville, May 27.—Eight frame buildings, comprising the principal business portion of Coal Creek, Tenn., have been burned. Insurance small. Origin is a mystery.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

ITEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ball, of Linden avenue, have purchased Pierce bicycles of E. F. Vail.

Several cycling parties have made arrangements to stop at the Hotel Hunterston next Monday.

E. A. Vermeule, of Jackson avenue, has bought a Wolff American wheel of A. M. Griffin, the Plainfield agent.

Miss Elizabeth Allis, of West Fifth street, has just received a brand new '97 Spalding wheel as a birthday gift.

E. H. Booth, of Central avenue, has purchased wheels for his son and daughter of the Eldridge Cycle Company.

The F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company has added another triplet to his stock. The new machine is a Cleveland, red enameled, with single steering gear.

Mrs. D. T. Kenney, of Grove street, has joined the great army of cycle riders and has selected the Pierce bicycle from among the many offered.

Tickets for the Decoration Day meet on the Crescent Oval under the auspices of the Crescent Wheelmen are now on sale at Mallison's drug store.

If a rider is run into on the road by a careless driver, his case will be pushed without cost to him if he is a member of the L. A. W. Application blanks may be obtained at this office.

A shipment of Crescent wheels has just been received by the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company. The Crescent wheel is very popular this season and there are many of that make to be seen on the road.

The transparent ruby enamel of the Wolff-American wheel is attracting much attention. Bateman Thatcher has bought one of them of A. M. Griffin, the Plainfield agent, and finds it greatly to his satisfaction.

Fred Bettman, of Willow avenue, whose wheel was recently stolen from his barn, has bought a new mount. He has selected a Spalding, which he intends to put in a safe place out of the way of future bicycle thieves.

Thomas U. Smith has been appointed chief of ushers for the race meet of the Crescent Wheelmen on Decoration Day. He will be assisted by a number of the young men belonging to the club, who will attend to all the wants of the patrons of the meet.

Out of the thirty-seven candidates for the bicycle squad at Yale University, Captain Hill has chosen eleven riders to ride in the inter-collegiate championships. Among them is Wm. M. McCutchen, of this city. McCutchen will ride in the quarter and half-mile events.

Pressure is being brought to bear upon Fred Titus to induce him to ride in the Atlanta wheelmen's race at Waverly on the 31st. Mr. Titus would also please a great many if he would tackle the races of the Crescent wheelmen at Plainfield on the same date. Titus has many friends in Plainfield, and it may possibly be that he will ride there.—Westfield Standard.

Physical Director Haywood of the Y. M. C. A. has arranged a series of bicycle runs for the junior members of the association. The first of these was held last Saturday when ten riders went to Cranford and return under the charge of Mr. Haywood and Fred Bonny. The other runs of the series will be held on the following Saturday afternoons to the given destinations: June 5th, Metuchen; June 19th, Springfield; July 3d, New Brunswick; July 17th, Elizabeth; July 31st, Summit; August 14th, Rahway; August 28th, Bound Brook and Metuchen. The colors of the juniors are blue and white.

AROUND THE BASES.

St. Mary's Cadet baseball team are contesting for honors with the Black Diamonds, of Morristown, this afternoon.

The Irving School baseball nine played a game with the Darktowns on the West Fourth street grounds yesterday afternoon. The former were the victors by a score of 24 to 9. The batteries were: Irving School—Sprague and Hartfelder; Darktowns—Kline and Huff.

The Black Diamonds of the West End will play the second team from Bound Brook, Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The batteries are Black Diamonds, T. Wearren and H. J. Soden; Bound Brook, Harvey Moynihan and J. Hogan. The teams are evenly matched and a good game is expected.

Johnson's school baseball nine won an exciting and close game from the Prospects second yesterday afternoon on the Park avenue grounds, and Capt. Whitney Baker is to be congratulated on the fine stick work of his team. The score was as follows:

John Rafferty has brought his trotter home from Bound Brook where the horse was kept during the winter and is now preparing him for the summer races.

CONTESTING A WILL.

Original Document Destroyed and its Substitute Objected To.

A remarkable will case is now being tried in the Chancery Chambers at Newark, in which "Count" John K. VanNest, of East Front street, plays a prominent part. The will is that of the late Ann E. Martin, of Mt. Horeb, and the estate included amounts to about $10,000.

It seems that a number of years ago Count VanNest drew up a will for Mrs. Martin and that she signed it. He made a copy of it and took the original will home with him. It will be remembered that his house was destroyed by fire some time ago. At that time the original will was destroyed by the flames that consumed the house. VanNest had the copy and the notes, which he offered in place of the original will. Some of the heirs who were not largely remembered in the destroyed will objected to the admission of the copy of the will, and the suit that is now being tried was the result.

Accused of Stealing a Hat.

J. E. Bailey, a hat mender from Philadelphia, left the Commercial Hotel, Somerville, Tuesday, without paying his board bill for the last week. S. J. Treat, the proprietor, says that Bailey stole his silk hat when he departed. Bailey was located in Plainfield, this afternoon, and taken before Justice Newcorn who held him for the Grand Jury.

—Additional local news on the third page.

—The Memorial Day exercises of the Bryant and Lincoln schools will be held in the Bryant school tomorrow.

—Little eight-year-old Ethel Lorton, of West Fifth street, was climbing over a high fence, yesterday morning, when she caught her heel in the pickets and fell forward. She put out her hand to stop the fall and snapped the collar-bone. The bone was set by Dr. Rushmore.

Trees Grow Bread and Towels.

The most wonderful tree that grows is found in the Pacific Islands. From this tree the natives procure towels, cloth, tinder, and bread. It is about as tall as a three-story house, and the branches, which come out straight from the tree like so many arms, are covered with leaves and fruit not unlike apples in appearance. This fruit is used as bread, and it is in season during eight months of the year, the natives finding a good living in it.

As for glue, it oozes from the trunk of the tree, and is found useful for many purposes; the leaves make excellent towels for the natives who care to use them; and from the inner bark of the tree a kind of coarse cloth can be made. Besides this, its dried blossoms are used for tinder in lighting fires, and the wood is in great demand for building purposes.

ANECDOTES OF ARTISTS.

Made Pigeons Drunk in Order to Give the Desired Effect in a Picture.

The memorial exhibitions bring out some interesting anecdotes of the painters represented at them. Here is one concerning Leighton: In painting "Summer Slumber," where every accessory depicts somnolence, he was much troubled with the pigeons which rest on the balustrade behind the figure. They were in the most wide-awake mood until, upon some one's suggestion, he gave them some grain steeped in whiskey, whereupon they satisfied his requirements as long and as often as he wished.

Here is another concerning Alfred Hunt: He was at the same time both a very slow and a fastidiously punctilious sketcher from nature—a combination which is said to have hastened his end. For he had a block for every hour of the day and every condition of weather, and, overladen with these, he would often trudge a lengthy distance to his work. He would then start, say, on an incomplete morning effect in sunshine, to be cast aside for a similar subject in shadow if the scene clouded over, or for a noon-day one directly that the hour was reached. It is said that he consequently sometimes carried as many as a dozen varieties of the same view.

None to Waste.

The author of "Campaigning in South Africa and Egypt" gives a pertinent illustration of the virtue there is in necessity. He had been asked by a friendly Boer in Africa to go out shooting. Accordingly, he writes, I took a rifle and a bag of cartridges and set out for the appointed spot. When I met my friend he said:

"What have you got in that bag—your dinner?"

"No," I answered, "cartridges."

Whereupon he roared with laughter.

"You Englishmen must be very rich," said he. "They cost sixpence apiece here."

"Where are yours?" I asked.

"In this," he answered, tapping his double-barrelled rifle.

"You don't intend to shoot much?"

"Two spring buck are all I can carry."

"Suppose you miss?"

"Nobody misses when a cartridge costs sixpence."

There was something instructive in the remark. It perhaps proved why the Boers had, in 1881, beaten the English, for the Boer, unwilling to waste his ammunition, will aim and take down his rifle a dozen times, until he is satisfied that he is going to get something for his cartridge.

On the occasion in question my friend got his two bucks, while I fired five cartridges and got none.

Glass to Keep Out Heat.

Glass of a peculiar quality—that is, non-conductive for heat rays—has been invented by Richard Szigmondy of Vienna, the statement being that glass a quarter of an inch thick absorbs 87 to 100 per cent of the heat striking it, in contrast to plate glass, which absorbs only about 5 per cent.

This glass is designed to insure windows which will keep dwellings warm in winter and cool in summer, especially adapted too, for skylights, etc., and also for blue-glass spectacles to be used by furnace men.

Remarking upon the invention in question, the Scientific American calls attention to the peculiar conducting power of ordinary glass, which would seem to render Szigmondy's glass an impossibility, in some respects at least.

Thus, standing by a window on which the sun shines, the warmth of the sun is felt, but, on touching the window, it is found to be cold; then, if a light of glass be placed between the person and an ordinary open fire, it will screen from the heat, but becomes rapidly heated itself—that is, in the first case it transmitted most of the heat, and in the latter it absorbed.

A Champion Lightweight.

Remarkable in many ways, the "tule gnat" of the far West is most curious for its almost total lack of weight. The little insect has a nearly microscopic body but a relatively huge spread of wing, which gives it the aparent size of a mosquito.

In some parts of California "tule gnats" swarm so densely about burning lamps that several times during an evening the dead must be cleared away to give the light a chance. In brightly illumined stores the gnats are veritable pests, and it was in a Lake County (Cal.) drugstore that a curious experiment was recently made. As many gnats were collected as could be heaped upon a pan of the apothecary's scales; the smallest weight in use to measure the most delicate drugs was then put upon the opposite pan and was found to overbalance the mountain of gnats.—New Orleans Times Democrat.

Russian Hunting Dogs.

Harding Cox writes about laika, or northern dog, to the London Field.

"The duties of the true laika," he says, "are of an extremely varied nature. Among the Chinese about 1,000,000 are eaten every year, while in Russia the beast is trained for all sorts of hunting—squirrels, bear, deer, snipe, capercailzie, ermine, sable, and all the other beasts are taken with them, even the wolves. It is estimated that nearly 1,000,000 rubles worth of game is taken every year with the aid of the laikas in Russia.

"In the Polar swamps the laikas are used in drawing sledges as well as hunting by the natives, while their warm pelts are made to serve as coats and trousers after death."

Zebra Culture.

On several South African farms experiments have been tried with Burchell's zebra. The zebras become as tame as ponies, and are readily broken in for draught work. The object of their tamers has been to breed a mule which, like the zebras, is proof against the tsetse-fly. The zebras themselves run well enough in a mule team, though they cannot stand overdriving.—From the Spectators.

"I hear that Judge Blucketts is studying mind reading," said the lean lawyer.

"If that is the case," said the fat lawyer, "I am going to leave town before I get arrested for contempt."—Indianapolis Journal.

THEIR DUTY TO THE SICK.

THREE PROGESSIONAL NURSES GRADUATED LAST NIGHT.

Came From the Training Class at the Muhlenberg Hospital—Very Appropriate Exercises Rendered For the Occasion

The professional trained nurse is becoming more and more a recognized factor in the world, and that the skilled surgeon or physician would not be able to get along without her has been clearly evidenced. Plainfield has been doing her share in assisting in such work and the graduation exercises of three nurses from the Training School of Muhlenberg Hospital, which took place last evening in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church was an event of the most importance. This school has been established three years and during that time good work has been accomplished under the direction of the Board of Governors of the Hospital.

Last evening the chapel of the church was thronged with an interested and appreciative audience who enjoyed the somewhat novel features attendant upon such an occasion.

George H. Goddard, president of the Board of Governors, occupied the seat of honor and presided with dignity. Behind him were seated the graduates of the Training School nine in all, and with them was Miss Moss the very efficient superintendent of the Hospital. The exercises opened with a fervent prayer by Rev. Dr. Rodman, after which President Goddard made a few remarks. He paid a compliment to the workers in the school and cited the very earnest and faithful labors of those connected with the various branches of the Hospital. Mr Goddard then introduced Miss Lavinia French who executed with skill a difficult piano selection. Following this, Mayor Charles J. Fisk was introduced, and His Honor said in part:

"I presume the reason that I have been asked to speak tonight is not that I am a public speaker, but because I represent the city as its chief executive officer; and I am proud to be the chief executive of a city having such an institution as Muhlenbeag Hospital. I met one of the Board of Governors the other day and I asked him what I was expected to say tonight and he replied that the least I said the better the people would like it, and that I must flatter from beginning to end. It is not necessary for me to tell you that man was Col. Cock. I have learned that the Hospital does not need flattery, for it is the best to be found anywhere. The Hospital needs further support and the Board of Managers are ready to make it more efficient just as soon as the people give it more support. It is a free institution open to all and the object is to make it large enough so that no one will have to be turned away. The Board of Managers desire to extend the building and add a sufficient number of wards so that all cases can be handled. I hope that this year a movement in this direction will be made.

"I congratulate you all that you have within the borders of the city such a well-governed institution as Muhlenberg Hospital."

The remarks made by the Mayor were enjoyed and heartily applauded by the audience. The presentation of the diplomas by Mr. Goddard then followed. He stated that Miss Eleanor G. Trembly was the only one of the three graduates who had completed the course. Her time was out last December. Miss Emma R. Hartranft would complete her course next month and Miss Catherine Edman's time would be finished next September. Diplomas donoting these facts were given to the graduates. Mr. Goddard said that it was impossible to have the graduates complete their course at the same time for the reason that they commenced their studies at different times. When the diplomas were presented the graduates received a round of applause. In part Mr. Goddard said: "It gives me great pleasure to present you with these diplomas. The doctors and laymen feel grateful that material made of such true steel has come to them. Your experience and hardships have fitted you to the best work and may you carve out a record of usefulness to others and honor and profit for yourselves."

At the conclusion of President Goddard's remarks Drs. Murray and B. VanD. Hedges, and E. H. Ladd, Jr., presented each of the graduates with large and beautiful bouquets of flowers. This was followed with another piano selection by Miss French which was equally enjoyable with the first production.

The next speaker was Dr. T. H. Tomlinson, who addressed the graduates on behalf of the Hospital Staff.

LIKE A CHARIOT RACE.

AN EXCITING HIPPODROME CONTEST AT LINCOLN TODAY.

The Outcome of Good Natured Bantering Between Well-Known Somerset County Men—Abraham Gulick Won the Race.

Bereft of the spectacular effect, it is doubtful that if even in the Roman coliseum during the reign of King Nero there was ever a chariot race that was more fiercely contested and watched with more intent by the onlookers than the hippodrome contest that took place at Lincoln, seven miles from this city, this morning, between two well-known Somerset county citizens. The race was the outcome of some good natured bantering between the two contestants, and though a screaming burlesque in every way, it stirred the residents of that community into a high pitch of excitement.

William D. Voorhees is one of Bound Brook's influential citizens, and is the second vice-president of the New Jersey Realty Company, as well as a director in the First National Bank of that place. Abraham Gulick is one of Somerset county's substantial farmers who lives a short distance from Lincoln station. The two men met causally at Lincoln this morning and after passing the time of day, started joking one another about horses and horse racing, both being enthusiasts in that line.

"Now, Abe," said Voorheees patronizingly, "I'll tell you what I'll do with you You've got two lumber wagons and two teams of farm horses over there in your barn. We'll go over and hitch the teams to the front wheels of each wagon. You stand on the crossbar of one set of wheels and I'll do the same thing on the other set of wheels. Then we'll drive out Lincoln avenue to Red Cedar lane and race back, the winner to be declared the crack-a jack and the loser to—well, set 'em up. What do you, say, now?"

"It's a go," said Gulick.

Suiting the action to the word the two men adjourned to the barnyard and made ready for the race. In fifteen minutes they appeared on Lincoln avenue in their shirt-sleeves astride the crossbars of the two sets of front wheels. In the meantime the news of the forthcoming race had spread and fully a hundred of the residents and workingmen of the neighborhood gathered at the station. The two contestants were greeted with all kinds of admonition and hope for their success as they jogged their horses down the avenue and disappeared at the turn of the road in a clump of trees that skirt the highway.

For five minutes the waiting crowd at the finishing point, opposite the Central railroad station, looked anxiously down the course from whence the embryo Olympians were to come. Then the obeervers noticed a cloud of dust circle above the trees beyond the turn of the road and heard the hoarse shouts of the drivers as they were urging their steeds to a faster pace. After a moment of suspense, the two queer rigs made their appearance, both teams on a wild gallop, with drivers plying their whips with one hand and with the other guiding the animals along a road that was none too wide for the two vehicles. Voorhees' team was a little in the lead as they emerged in view, but it was only by a few feet. Two hundred yards from the station there is a small culvert over which is placed a plank. At this point the roadbed narrows so that two wagons cannot pass without striking hubs. Frantically the racers urged their horses on until it seemed that a collision and a spill, with probable serious results, was to occur.

Thirty yards from the culvert Voorhees saw the impending danger. Being ahead he reined his team to the right and pulled them up. He passed the culvert with one wheel in the ditch and the cross bar on which he was seated at about an angle of forty degrees. It seemed as though he had lost his equilbrium and was to be pitched out of the seat when he righted himself and went to the finish, still urging his team to win. But the culvert had cost him the race by about two lengths.

The finish was greeted with great enthusiasm on the part of the assembled people. The horses were bedecked in foam, the drivers dust begrimed and minus hats. The drivers shook hands all-around and retired to Gulick's house where they made their toilet and Voorhees went home to return some other time and pay his bet.

SONG OF THE MILK MAIDS

MUSICAL AND SPECTACULAR FEATURES IN VINCENT CHAPEL.

The Entertainment Arranged by the Ladies' Aid Society—Grecian and Roman Tableaux Were Given to Dazzle the Eye

"A Milk Maids' Chorus" and a series of Grecian and Roman tableaux were the principal features of the entertainment at the silver sociable given in Vincent chapel last evening by the Ladies' Aid Society of the First M. E. church. Of course, the sociable was a success, as all affairs that the Ladies' Aid arrange are bound to be, and the large audience that filled the chapel was very enthusiastic in its reception of the programme.

In the parlors in the rear of the chapel tables were arranged, and on them ice cream and cake were sold. The programme was so arranged that the audience was given a change to partake of the good things in the intervals between the different parts of the programme. The refreshment department was under the charge of a committee composed of Mrs. Henry A. McGee, chairman; Mrs. Garrett Q. Packer, Mrs. L. M. French, Mrs. Noah W. Pike, Mrs. O. L. Jenkins, Mrs. Charles W. Lyman, and Mrs. D. E. Davis. They were assisted in serving the ice cream by the "milk maids" who took part in the chorus.

The first number on the programme was the "Milk Maids' Chorus," which was given under the charge of Miss Jessie Utter, organist of the church. Those taking part in it were the Misses Etta Raybert, Cora Shepard, Eva Jenkins, Alice Jenkins, Lizzie Stafford, Edna Harris, and Lucie Palmer Davis. Dressed in bright costumes, they passed through a drill with milk pail and stool, singing a catchy chorus. The effect was very pretty and every body enjoyed it.

The other part of the programme consisted of a series of tableaux arranged by six young women in Grecian costume. Those taking part were the Misses Edna Harris, Bertha Jenkins, Etta Raybert, Elsie Horne, Maud French and Sadie Blimm. The affair was under the charge of Miss Bertha Whitney and Mrs. J. R. Joy, to whom much credit is due for the very artistic appearance of the tableaux and the charming effect produced. Ray T. Snodgrass and J. Vincent Ritten house assisted in the management of the curtain.

The loose flowing robes of those taking part in the tableaux were colored, and, with the gay settings, the combination of colors was very striking and very pleasing. The names of the tableaux were as follows: "Music of Olden Days," "The Trio," "Fortune's Favorite," "A Roman Singer," "A Grecian Study," "They Wound Their Brows with Leaves of Kallistephanos," and "A Venetian Dream."

After the programme a social hour was enjoyed.

DOUBLE ACHIEVEMEGT.

PUBLIC GOOD AND PERSONAL PLEASURE AT THE SAME TIME.

By Patronizing the Fete Champetre You Will Benefit a Movement That is Going to Make Plainfield a Better City.

Killing two birds with one stone has, from time immemorial, been considered the perfection of economics and sound business management. When the joint achievement of public good and one's own pleasure can be attained by the same act, no persuasion should be needed to induce the average mind to grasp the opportunity. The Fete Champetre to be held Saturday, June 5th, on the grounds of Mrs Pierre Mali's country home on East Front street, offers the consummation of the two objects, public good and personal pleasure. Plainfield, with all its beauty, has no park, except in name. Washington Park in North Plainfield is merely a residential quarter, with private ground surrounding private property. In all Plainfield there is no real park, a pretty sort of a playground place that is no man's private property, but belongs to the city, and is everybody's—the poor man's even more than the rich man's.

Now that the city has the ground for such a park in the rear of the Public Library, the ladies of the Town Improvement Association ask the public, you and you, gentle reader, to attend the Fete on June 5th, which will assuredly be a pleasant thing to do, and will fill the coffers (so far a small tin box is all that has been necessary) of the treasury.

For the accommodation of those who wish to ride, stages will be run from the Y. M. C. A. building on Front street to Johnston Park; fare, 5 cents.

The price of admission will be as follows: Adults, 50c.; young people under 16 years of age, 25c.; children under 10 years of age, 10c.

A MAY DAY MARRIAGE.

MISS ANNA SPIER BECOMES MRS WITLIAM HENRY TITUS.

The Ceremony Performed at the Home of the Bride's Parents—Reception Held Later at the Couple's New Home.

A quiet wedding was celebrated yesterday afternoon when Miss Anna Spier, daughter of Justice and Mrs. Spier, of Washingtonville, and William Henry Titus, of the borough, were united in marriage by Rev. J. H. Johnston, pastor of Grace M. E. church, at the home of the latter. The ceremony was performed at 3:30, and the bride and groom were attended by Miss Carrie Bullman, of Washingtonville, as maid of honor, and Harry Coddington, of the borough, as best man.

Last evening a reception was held at 12 Howard street, where Mr. and Mrs. Titus have taken up their residence. The home was furnished throughout, so that everything was in readiness for them to go to housekeeping. The bridal party received their guests in the parlor, and after congratulations supper was served. Throughout the evening the guests enjoyed genuine sociability.

A great many useful and pretty gifts were received by Mr. and Mrs. Titus from their friends and relatives. Nearly all of the guests were from the borough and Washingtonville and included:

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Titus, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Winans, Mr. and Mrs. George Winans, Mrs. Spier, Mr and Mrs. Andrew Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Will Demler, Mr. and Mrs. George Demler, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Coddington, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Billyeau, Miss Katy Billyeau, Mr. and Mrs Henry Kliner, Miss Lizzie Elwood, Miss Minnie Smalley, Miss Jessie Coddington, Miss Bessie Bullman, Miss Carrie Bullman, Mrs. Eunice Coddington, Miss Anna Bolong, Miss Rose Bartell, Miss Nettie Beeching, Francis Bartell, Theodore Bartell, Walter Titus, Allan Coddington, George Spier, Henry Rogers, Robert Rogers, David Clark, William Acker, Samuel Titus and Burt Simpson.

WAYLAID BY FOOTPADS.

Washington Tyler Beaten and Relieved of His Cash by Thieves.

Washington Tyler, of Roselle, while on his way home Wednesday night, was waylaid by footpads in a lonesome part of the road. He was knocked unconscious.

The thieves secured his gold watch and chain and a sum of money.

Tyler later made his way to the office of Police Justice Tiernan and told his story.

Constable Sloan yesterday arrested Michael Morris. Tyler was unable to positively identify him.

Sloan had a struggle with three men, one of whom was Morris, before he captured the latter. One of the gang fired at the officer, who returned the shot. Morris stopped running when the shooting began.

Justice Tiernan committed him to await the Grand Jury's action.

UNKNOWN MAN KILLED.

Struck by a Central Passenger Train and His Body Mangled.

An unknown Hungarian, about 40 years of age, who was working on the tracks of the Central Railroad between Flagtown and Neshanic yesterday morning, was struck by Engine No. 129, of the South Branch passenger train No. 4, and instantly killed. The whistle and bell on the engine were sounded the man did not evidently hear either. His body which was horribly managled was viewed by the County Physician who gave a burial permit.

The Ark and Mercy Seat.

The stereopticon talk on "The Tabernaele," which was to have been given by Rev. George C. Needham at his Bible class meeting Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Hall, will be postponed one week. The subject of the lesson to be given this coming Monday will be "The Ark and Mercy Seat." Everybody is cordially invited to attend this Bible class meeting.

To Be a Fierce Race.

The Battalion of the East of the New Jersey Naval Reserve will hold a cutter race at Newark on Monday afternoon. Crews have been entered from the Second and Third Divisions and the race will be a fierce one between the two crews. Ensign Walter B. Rittenhouse, of East Sixth street, is a member of the Third Division crew, and will take part in the race.

The prizes for the Decoration Day race meet of the Crescent Wheelmen are now on exhibition in the window of the jewelry store of J. Hervey Doane, of Park avenue. The medals for the novice race are the finest ever offered in this city. The other prizes for the amateur events are diamonds.

FEET MAY TOUCH SOIL.

LIABILITY OF A SIDEWALK BEING RIPPED UP IN WESTFIELD.

A Contractor Exceeded His Orders and Because the Township Will Not Pay For His Error He Says He Will Undo It.

The refusal of the Westfield Township Committee, Tuesday evening, to pay a bill presented by Adam Huffman for sidewalk flagging on Elm street, may have an unpleasant sequel for people who are obliged to use the sidewalk in question. The affair had its beginning a year ago when the Committee ordered John C. Henry to lay a stone sidewalk along his property which extends a block on the east side of Elm street. Mr. Henry complied cheerfully, and awarded the contract to Huffman at so much a running foot. The contract did not specify the exact length of the walk, but merely provided that it should extend the entire length of the property. Mr. Henry was traveling in the west at the time, and did not personally oversee the laying of the walk. When the bill was presented, however, it was found to be too large, and investigation showed that the contractor had not only constructed the walk along the Henry property, but had extended it about twenty feet further at each end to the curb lines of the intersecting streets. The owner refused to pay for this additional length of walk. The contractor then sent the bill to the Committee with the result already noted. Accompaning the bill was a communication from Huffman stating that unless the Committee settled for the amount, he would remove the additional forty feet of sidewalk. As the Committee has refused to pay the bill the citizens who use the walk are expecting daily to find it removed. The prospect of forty feet of earthen sidewalk on one of the town's principal streets, with its inevitable incidents of dust and mud is not a pleasant one to contemplate, and if the contractor's threats are carried out the Committee will probably find it necessary to relay the walk.

THREW HIS CRUTCH AWAY.

Tramp Scared by a Dog Proved Himself to Be an Impostor.

A tramp, who to all appearances was scarcely able to walk, even with the aid of a crutch which he carried, asked for aid in a Park street house in Westfield yesterday afternoon. As he was leaving the yard he was unexpectedly confronted by a huge dog. In his haste to get away he threw the crutch at the dog and ran like a sprinter. In a few moments he returned for the crutch, but the dog would not let him touch it, and when the woman of the house refused to call the dog off the tramp became abusive.

When an officer was sent for the vagrant ran to the woods, and as he went gathered some clothes from the clothesline in a neighbor's yard, declaring that he would get even for the crutch. The officers hunted for the fellow for two hours, but could not find him.

Euchre the Amusement.

The members of the Thursday Evening Euchre Club were entertained, last evening, by Robert M. Clark and Edward O. Clark, at their home near Washingtonville. Progressive euchre was the event of the evening. The first prizes were won by Miss Etta Krymer and Edward O. Clark, and the second prizes were taken by Miss Ada Chandler and Miss Clara Williams. The rest of the evening was devoted to refreshments, music and singing. The evening proved a delightful one. All the guests gathered at the home of Miss Krymer and were given a straw ride up to Mr. Clark's home. The return was made in the same way.

Life Reflected on Canvas.

The bio cinematoscope made its first public appearance in the rooms of the Plainfield Camera Club, last evening. There was a fair-sized audience but the numerous a tractions of the evening kept many away. While the operators were a trifle inexperienced in the operation of the machine at the start, they soon learned how to handle it successfully and the different moving pictures were shown to the great interest of the audience. During the intervals between the moving views, many handsome pictures were shown with a stereopticon.

Special Summer Rates.

Now is the time to join the Young Mens's Christian Association in order to gain the benefit of the special summer rates. Just think of a delightful swim in the pool after a warm ride on your wheel. For the small sum of $2 you may become a member of the association for one year, and from June 1st to Sept. 15th, 1897, you may have full use of the gymnasium, bowling alleys, shower baths, swimming pool, bicycle room, tennis court, bicycle club runs, basket ball, etc. They want 500 new members.

WILL PEDDLE NO MORE.

TWO ZITHER DEALERS ARRESTED FOR HAVING NO LICENSE.

One of Them Used His Tongue Too Freely and Suffered For It—They Will Only Take Orders Hereafter.

The zither peddlers were in trouble again, this time on this side of the brook. They failed to heed the warning of Chief Marshal Wilson, of the borough, and make their way back to New York, but came into Union county to continue the sale of musical instruments. They evidently were not acquainted with the Plainfield police or else they might have done otherwise.

Roundsman Flynn has been on their track for several days, for they have been carrying on operations on both sides of the brook, and he has been waiting to secure the necessary evidence. This morning, the necessary evidence was forthcoming and Flynn started out to look for the zither peddlers. One was found having his shoes polished in a neighboring barber shop and the other was found on the street.

Both were arrested by the Roundsman and arraigned before City Judge DeMeza in his office. The charge made against them was for peddling musical instruments without a license. At first they thought that they had been merely collecting orders, but then they decided to plead guilty.

There were two witnesses who were called upon to testify against them. They were DonPedro Randolph and William VanSickle, who had both seen a sale consummated and the zither delivered. The prisoners were indignant at some of the testimony and spoke their mind. One was particularly heedless in his language and interrupted judge and witnesses without regard to appearances. The Judge decided that the man were guilty and fined Isadore Knox, who had been quite free with his language, $8, and George Weirnberg $5.

Knox demanded to know why he was any more guilty than his companion and was informed that he talked to much.

The fines were paid and the men started off again declaring that hereafter they would merely take orders for the zithers and would peddle no more in Plainfield at least.

MIDDLESEX SUFFERS, TOO.

Thieves Visit Houses and Secure Money and Jewelry.

Several residences near the village of George's Road, on the outskirts of New Brunswick, were entered by burglars Tuesday night. At Alonzo Bowman's the thief stole Mr. Bowman's trousers from a chair beside the bed. In the pockets were $28 in money and a valuable gold watch.

At Alexander Meserole's the burglars must have been familiar with the fact that the family hid money under the dining-room carpet. They also went upstairs to a room where members of the family were sleeping and tore up the carpet in that room, getting $21 in money.

An attempt was also made to enter the houses of Jacob Young and Thos. Buckalew.

Unable to Hear Mayor Wilson.

Mayor Wilson, of the borough, was expected to be present at the Crescent Avenue church last evening and represent the borough at the graduating exercises of the nurses from the Training School of Muhlenberg Hospital. His Honor stated, however, that he would be in Nashville, Tenn., and it would be impossible to attend. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Wilson went to New York and was able to defer his trip to the south. It was then too late to change the programme and the audience missed a treat in not being able to hear the Mayor speak.

New Bridge Across the North Branch.

The ancient bridge which crossed the North Branch river on the road leading to South Branch and Readington has been torn down, and the stone piers are now being constructed for the big iron bridge that will replace it. A fence rail placed across the roadway near Stephen Garretson's farm and a sign which reads: "Bridge Off" warns the traveler that the best way around is the longest.

A Bicycle Stolen.

The bicycle thief was in town, last night, and visited West Seventh street. He found the '96 Cleveland wheel belonging to Meredith Dryden standing in front of the latter's home on that street. The thief walked off with the wheel and now Dryden is walking until he gets a new mount. The wheel was missed at 9:30 o'clock, but there is no trace of the wheel or the one who took it.

DOINGS IN CONGRESS.

The Tariff Occupies the Time of the Senate.

GOOD PROGRESS WAS MADE WITH IT.

The Sundry Civil Bill Report Agreed to After Some Discussion—In the House Mr. Lewis Asks to Have the Cuban Question Heard.

Washington, May 28.—The senate made good progress on the tariff bill, disposing of about 10 pages. Several votes were taken during the session, the finance committee being sustained in each case by majorities varying from 6 to 15. The drug schedule was under discussion, and the debate was largely technical. Occasionally, however, it branched off to general phases of the tariff, although at no time was there a speech of more than five minutes' duration.

Mr. Jones of Arkansas tenaciously resisted the rates of the opium schedule, saying great increases had been made on a drug of universal use. He moved to amend the rate on morphia from $1 to 50 cents per ounce and said he would later move to place crude and unmanufactured opium on the free list. Mr. Jones' amendment was disagreed to—yeas 24, nays 39.

Mr. McEnery (Dem.) and Messrs. Pettigrew, Kyle and Stewart voted with the Republicans and Mr. Heitfeld with the Democrats. In other respects the vote was on party lines.

The final conference report on the sundry civil bill was agreed to, including the provision suspending until March 1, 1898, the executive order creating extensive forest reserves.

Some provisions of the amendment were objected to by Senators White, Cannon, Shoup, Kyle and Stewart, and these objections were met with explanations by Senator Allison, in charge of the report. Senator Berry of Arkansas, in his anxiety for the bill to go into effect on account of the $3,000,000 appropriation which it contains for the improvement of the Mississippi, counseled the acceptance of the forest reservation amendment as being the best measure of relief that the house would agree to.

Mr. Stewart declared that the setting apart of 21,000,000 acres as a forest reservation was "a dedication to folly and barbarism;" that the bureau which advised it ought to be abolished, and that the act itself was "the most barbarous outrage perpetrated in the last half century."

Cuban Question In the House.

The final vote on the adoption of the conference report was: Yeas, 32; nays, 25.

In the house Mr. Lewis (Dem.) of Washington rose to a question of privilege and sent to the clerk's desk a resolution setting forth that the senate having passed a resolution recognizing the belligerency of Cuba the house should proceed to express its sentiments upon the subject.

Mr. Dingley made the point that that was not a matter of privilege, but the speaker permitted Mr. Lewis to state his point.

This he did at some length, citing precedents both in parliament and congress to the effect that a matter affecting the foreign policy of the government was a question of the highest privilege. The latest precedent he referred to was that in the Fifty-third congress, when the gentleman from Maine (Mr. Dingley) introduced a similar resolution regarding the policy with regard to Hawaii. Mr. McCreary of Kentucky, chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, made the point of order that it was not a question of privilege, and the present occupant of the chair (Mr. Reed) was quoted as observing that a matter touching the foreign policy of the government was a question of privilege of the highest order.

Mr. Lewis' remarks were greeted with applause by the Democrats. The speaker sustained Mr. Dingley's point of order, suggesting that the gentleman from Washington could get consideration of his resolution by introducing it in the regular order, having it referred and getting the report of a committee thereon.

Mr. Lewis appealed from the decision of the chair, and on motion of Mr. Dingley the house voted 91 to 57 to lay the appeal on the table. Not satisfied with this, Mr. Lewis demanded and secured a vote by the yeas and nays.

The vote resulted: Yeas, 88; nays, 51. This was not a quorum, and in view of this disclosure, on motion of Mr. Dingley, the house adjourned until Monday next.

Mr. Wheeler of Kentucky introduced a bill for taxing certain occupations. The taxes proposed are based on the amounts of capital invested. Companies engaged in the petroleum business in any form are to be taxed from $500 on $100,000 to $25,000 on $5,000,000. Other branches of business to be taxed are iron and steel railways and street railways, banks, stock exchanges and glass, wool, silk, paper, leather and sugar manufacturing.

Illegal Entry of Chinese.

Washington, May 28.—In response to a resolution of inquiry, the attorney general has sent to the senate the correspondence relating to the illegal entry of Chinese into the United States. The documents inclosed cover the smuggling in of Chinese at the ports of Plattsburg, New York, and St. Albans, Newport and other points in Vermont on the pretense that the immigrant Chinamen are natives and therefore citizens of the United States, the plan of proceeding being to have Chinamen at the port of entry swear that they are the fathers of the immigrants and that the "sons" were born in the United States. This oath under the law assures the release of any Chinaman arrested for violation of the restriction law.

In a letter from United States District Attorney Poucher dated Oswego, N. Y., he says the practice of importing Chinamen after this manner has long been in practice at St. Albans and other places in Vermont.

He says there are attorneys regularly engaged in assisting Chinese immigrants to evade the law and that some of those in Vermont are making from $5,000 to $20,000 per year in the business. He adds the remark that he has no doubt that the Chinamen come in under a stipulation to pay the lawyers a stated compensation upon their release. San Francisco is almost always given as the place of birth, and it is impossible to discredit the evidence. The Chinese seek arrest in order to have the matter settled in the courts after this manner.

District Attorney Senter of Vermont in a letter strenuously denies the report of a combination to promote this class of immigration in order to increase the fees of federal officials and says he is anxious of finding a means to put a stop to it. Special Examiner Chalmers says there are a number of Chinese brokers engaged in the business. An amendment to the law is suggested to remedy the evil.

End of the Havemeyer Trial.

Washington, May 28.—"Certainly I am satisfied with the verdict," said Mr. Havemeyer a few minutes after the jury had returned a verdict of not guilty. "The verdict," he continued, "ought to be satisfactory to every decent man in this and every other community." That was the only expression the president of the American Sugar Refining company would make upon the result of his trial, which had been in progress for three days before Judge Bradley.

The verdict was the culmination of a long legal battle which began three years ago, when Mr. Havemeyer declined, as a witness before the senate sugar investigating committee, to furnish the committee with data as to the political contributions made by the company of which he is president to the local and state campaigns of 1892 and 1893.

Broker Chapman, around whom the preliminary battle waged, was found guilty and is now serving a 30 days' sentence in the District jail. The conclusion of the trial was abrupt. The defense produced no witnesses. When the government rested its case, the defense moved that the court instruct the jury to order an acquittal on six grounds, the principal one of which was that the committee did not have jurisdiction, and that the question asked was not pertinent.

The district attorney made a valiant attempt to induce the presiding judge to overrule the motion. But the court, after taking an hour and a half to weigh the arguments, sustained the motion.

In rendering his decision, which was very lengthy and consumed over an hour in its delivery, Judge Bradley declined to rule on the main question, as to the jurisdiction of the senate committee. He said the questions involved in that proposition were of such grave importance that he would not rule on that point without further and more careful examination. But he held it was unnecessary to rule on the main contention. Practically he sustained the motion upon the single ground that the question—calling for data to state and local contributions—demanded information not within the knowledge of the witness, which he had testified he had no personal knowledge of, and which, if given at all, must have been procured from books and of which the books themselves were the best testimony. Although the verdict of "not guilty" was given by the jury, it was a verdict returned under the court's direction and amounted practically to the judge throwing the case out of court.

DANGER FROM FLOODS.

The Rio Grande River Rises and Causes Serious Apprehension.

El Paso, Tex., May 28.—The Rio Grande river has risen about two inches, and the outlook is more ominous than ever. The river washed away a large portion of the bank protecting the head gate of the big irrigation canal, and it seems impossible to prevent it going out altogether and letting the water rush through the Santa Fe yards and the business portion of the city. All of the residences in the neighborhood have been vacated, and the families have gone to the foothills in the vicinity.

The big levee protecting the southern portion of the city is being strengthened, but it is feared a windstorm, so common this season of the year, may come up and force the water over it. The situation in Juarez, Mexico, opposite this city, is even more precarious, the levee being considerably weakened by the terrible force of the current running against it.

Rheumatism Cured in 24 Hours.

T. J. Blackmore, of Haller & Blackmore, Pittsburg, Pa., says: "A short time since I procured a bottle of 'Mystic Cure.' It got me out of the house in twenty-four hours. I took to my bed with Rheumatism nine months ago and the 'Mystic Cure' is the only medicine that did me any good. I had five of the best physicians in the city, but I received very little relief from them. I know the 'Mystic Cure' to be what it is represented and take pleasure in recommending it to other poor sufferers." Sold by T. S. Armstrong, druggist, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Volney F. Green, of Mercer avenue, and William Buckalew, of West Fifth street, have returned from their canoe cruise down New York bay.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic or alterative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 50c and $1 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Frank Van Winkle, of Newark, is the guest of Plainfield relatives.

Mr. Conklin, of Somerville, has been visiting Plainfield friends.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says, that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

—The street improvements being made at the corner of Park avenue and Second street were completed yesterday. A good job was made and it is appreciated.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.

(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty-five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—An ice cream sale in aid of the "Tribune" Fresh Air Fund, will be held at 39 Willow avenue, tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock. The committee in charge of it is composed of Leslie Hallock, John Valiant, and Ralph E. Hallock.

According to the newspapers, an Ohio husband became the happy father of seven children not long ago. Of the seven all lived but one. It is to be hoped he laid in a a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, the only sure cure for croup, whooping-cough, colds and coughs, and so insured his children against these diseases. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—A new drink has been introduced at Randolph's soda water fountain. It is the Alhambra glace or frappe, named in honor of the Alhambra Club of this city. The new beverage is a delightful one and very refreshing on a warm day.

The Westfield (Ind.) News prints the followtng in regard to an old resident of that place: "Frank McAvoy, for many years in the employ of the L., N. A. & C. Ry. here, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy for ten years or longer—am never without it in my family. I consider it the best remedy of the kind manufactured. I take pleasure in recommending it." It is a specific for all bowl disorders. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Collision Between Passenger and Freight Trains.

LIST OF THE KILLED AND WOUNDED.

The Worst Wreck That Has Occurred In Idaho In Years—The Airbrakes, It Is Thought, Were Tampered With.

Pocatello, Ida., May 28.—A head end collision between a freight and a passenger train at American Falls, 25 miles west of here, caused the death of nine men and the serious injury of eight others. Two of the latter will die. This is the worst wreck that has occurred in this section in many years.

The west bound passenger train was waiting for the freight at American Falls, standing in front of the station building. The freight, coming east, ran away on the hill west of the Falls. It is thought the airbrake was tampered with.

The freight, running 50 miles an hour, crashed into the passenger train, which was already backing up right in front of the station.

Two men were on the station platform. One was killed and the other fatally injured. The station building was shattered. Both engines were converted into scrap iron and 20 freight cars piled up in a heap.

Eight box car passengers, sheep shearers and tramps, were crushed to death.

George Moore, the engineer of the freight, is seriously injured. The fireman, Dick Cosgrove, had a leg broken, and C. E. Heckman, engineer of the passenger, sustained slight injuries. He staid by his engine until he had reversed it. The conductor and brakeman were on top of the freight, setting the brakes, and Fireman Cosgrove had climbed back to help when the crash came.

The dead are: C. W. Shields, about 35, residence unknown; D. L. Thompson, Dayton, Washington; John R. Cooper, Wellsville, Utah; J. Steflen, Dillon, Mon.; five unknown men, all sheep shearers, beating their way.

The injured, besides trainmen already mentioned, are: G. W. Brennan, Pearl, Ida., leg broken; F. D. Springer, Dayton, Wash., leg broken; John Borgan, Brigham, Utah, leg broken; John Peters, residence unknown, leg broken; William Connelly, Great Barrington, Mass., crushed and injured internally, will die.

Cornell Student Drowned.

Ithaca, N. Y., May 28.—Charles Vernon Wanzer, son of ex-Alderman Daniel H. Wanzer of Ithaca and a senior at Cornell university in the course of electrical engineering, was drowned in Cayuga lake. Wanzer and Harry L. Hepburn of New York city, another student, went out in an ordinary rowboat with a sail out. The boat capsized just off the drydock, near Renwick park. Hepburn kept hold of the boat and young Wanzer caught one of the oars and started to swim ashore. Hepburn saw Wanzer sinking, but was unable to help him. Wanzer was probably seized with cramps. The body has not yet been recovered.

Singular Suicide.

Rochester, May 28.—Mrs. Charles Stahnackel, 61 years old and a resident of Rochester for many years, committed suicide by cutting her throat in three places. She had been seen a few minutes before the fatal deed was committed and was apparently in good health. No reason for her suicide is known. The woman was discovered by her husband when he returned from church. Coroner Kleindienst was summoned and is investigating the case.

For a New Steel Arch Bridge.

Niagara Falls, May 28.—Bids for the construction of a new steel arch bridge have been opened by the officers of the new Suspension Bridge company at a meeting held at the Canadian end of the bridge. The contract will probably be awarded in a few days. The specifications call for the completion of the bridge by April 1, 1898. The arches will be on the parabolic principle, and it is expected it will be one of the greatest engineering feats of the world.

To Be Deported.

Buffalo, May 28.—The first Celestial to be deported from this city in two years under the Chinese exclusion act, is Ah Ling Wah Kee. Deputy United States Marshal Aldrich will start for Tacoma with him on Saturday. From that port he will be sent to Hongkong. Kee is one of 50 Chinamen arrested in this city during the past year for violation of the act. The others have established their right to be here.

Dividend Declared.

Rome, N. Y., May 28.—The comptroller of the currency has ordered a further dividend of 10 per cent. to depositors of the Fort Stanwix National bank of Rome, which failed in January, 1896. This will amount to 60 per cent paid to depositors, with something more to come.

Attorneys Disbarred.

Washington, May 28.—Attorneys George W. Sparling of Whigville, O., and J. B. Denworth of Williamsport, Pa., have been disbarred from practice before the interior department. The charges are demanding and receiving illegal fees from pension claimants.

Depew's Sister-in-law Dead.

New York, May 28.—Apoplexy caused the sudden death of Mrs. Julia Paulding Farnham at Great Neck, N Y. She was a sister-in-law of Chauncey M. Depew. Mrs. Farnham was born in Kingston in 1838. Her family is well known in literary and social circles.

Landslide Delays Traffic.

Hadlow, Que., May 28.—Traffic on the Intercolonial line across the river was suspended for a while on account of a landslide which took place near here. An immigrant train passed only a few minutes before.

CHARGED WITH THEFT

The Son of ex-Governor Robinson of New York Indicted.

SAID TO HAVE USED INSURANCE CASH.

Alleged to Have Purchased Real Estate With Money Belonging to the Mutual Life—The Company Now Foreclosing Mortgages.

New York, May 28.—David Robinson, son of Lucius Robinson, former governor of this state, was summoned before the grand jury to give testimony to a specific charge that he misappropriated the sum of $30,000 of funds belonging to the Mutual Life Insurance company.

The grand jury returned an indictment against Robinson. It was a very lengthy document and contained six counts.

Robinson has surrendered himself to the district attorney. Bail was fixed at $10,000. Edward Haffett and A. P. Eusted of Elmira promised to go on his bond, and he was paroled in custody of his counsel.

Robinson was the general agent for the Mutual Life Insurance company in Elmira. The specific charge that was brought to the attention of the grand jury is termed larceny.

Lawyer De Lancey Nicoll appeared for the company.

Assistant District Attorney Lindsay said that the defendant was charged with obtaining money from the insurance company under false pretenses. The amount, he said, was $30,000. The money, he said, was misappropriated in August, 1892. Robinson was then a trustee of the company. The alleged methods of misappropriation were as follows:

Robinson applied for a loan from the company in the name of Robert W. Bush of Elmira. The application set forth that Bush owned property, one piece worth $24,000, the other worth $60,000.

The company afterward, it is alleged, learned that Robinson had purchased the property while the negotiations were in progress. He paid $17,000 for one piece and $6,000 for the other. Then, it is said, he transferred the property to Bush. The company did not learn of this transaction until the mortgage was foreclosed.

A Prominent Man In Politics.

Elmira, N. Y., May 28.—David C. Robinson is the son of ex-Governor Lucius Robinson and was his father's private secretary. He was the chief actor in the proceedings to remove County Clerk Gumbleton of New York city in 1877 and brought about the division in the Democratic party which made John Kelly a bolting candidate for governor in 1879.

Colonel Robinson succeeded his father as a trustee of the Mutual Life Insurance company. After entering upon his duties he began buying property right and left in Elmira, including many large and valuable pieces of real estate, the Elmira Waterworks company, Elmira and Horseheads Street Railway company, Electric Light company, Elmira Gas company, Elmira Illuminating company, etc., at a cost of over $1,000,000.

The purchases were largely made with Mutual Life money. The Mutual Life company was obliged to take all his property here to save the company from great loss.

The Mutual Life company is now foreclosing real estate mortgages given by Robinson here for amounts reaching $500,000. Besides that a legal notice has been published that property and securities of the nominal value of $1,375,000 would be sold on Thursday, June 3, at 111 Broadway, New York city, by Adrian H. Muller & Co., auctioneers. Judgments far in excess of $500,000 were entered recently in the Chemung county clerk's office against Robinson and in some cases against his wife and sister.

The two women have been on the rack for many days in supplementary proceedings.

A big judgment creditor is the Western National bank of New York. Other banks in New York and Albany have big judgments. Robinson made an assignment in 1893, but before he failed his affairs caused the closing of the Elmira National bank, which is now in a receiver's hands. For months Comptroller Eckels tried to secure Robinson's indictment in the bank case, but Robinson's influential friends saved him. He lately lost his retainers as an attorney of the Erie railway and of the Mutual Life. His financial operations here were on a mammoth scale for several years.

Gunboat For Patrol Duty.

Brooklyn, May 28.—The navy department has given orders that the new gunboat Helena be put in commission on June 15 instead of the gunboat Annapolis—that is, if there shall be only enough men for one crew, as is expected will be the case, the Helena will take them. The boat is to be employed in the patrol of the Florida coast instead of two revenue cutters now serving in that capacity. The Helena is chosen instead of the Annapolis because she is of lighter draft.

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt Inspects.

Bethlehem, Pa., May 28.—Theodore Roosevelt, first assistant secretary of the navy, inspected the works of the Bethlehem Iron company. Flags floated over the works in his honor. During his stay Mr. Roosevelt was the guest of President Linderman. He was greatly pleased with the progress of government contract work and the excellent facilities for turning out armor plate and guns.

Betrothal of a Princess.

Copenhagen, May 28.—The Princess Imgeborg Charlotte Frederica, second daughter of the Crown Prince Christian of Denmark, has been betrothed at Bernstorff castle to Prince Carl, duke of Westergotland, third son of King Oscar II. of Norway and Sweden. The princess was born Aug. 2, 1878, at Charlottenlund and Prince Carl at Stockholm on Feb. 27, 1861.

BICYCLE UNDER CANADIAN BAN.

In strange contrast to the rest of the country the bicycle seems to be in bad odor in Montreal, Canada. A tax of two dollars is levied on every wheel ridden within the city limits, wheelmen are forbidden to ride past street corners at a speed exceeding that of a horse walking, and have been debarred from the most frequented park and summer resorts of the city. And now the Turnpike Trust gives notice of application to the Provincial Legislature for power to levy toll on all bicyclists using any of the country roads leading out of the city. At this rate the bicycle may yet be replaced by the horse in Montreal.

A REMARKABLE WOMAN.

That talented and pleasant woman, well-known to many Plainfielders, Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, enjoyed the honor yesterday of celebrating her seventy-eighth birthday and being elected president of the New England Woman's Suffrage Association. Although close to the four-score mark in the matter of years, Mrs. Howe has lost none of her brilliancy of thought, and, happy to record, enjoys hale health as might be expected from one thus advanced in years. Plainfield congratulates itself for being the home of a daughter who has inherited the intelligence and high ideals of her mother.

HEALTH IS WEALTH.

That "health is wealth" is truly illustrated in the person of John I. Blair, one of New Jersey's most famous and wealthiest citizens, who is rallying from his illness. The other day he had brought a draught of water from a favorite spring of his youth, nine miles from his Blairstown residence. After quaffing it he said it did him more good than anything his riches could buy.

ANOTHER COMPLIMENT.

A minature copy of the Plainfield Daily Press, commemorating its tenth anniversary, has been received. It is an evidence of the enterprise which has made the success of the paper possible—Hunterdon Gazette.

IMPORTANT.

The meeting of the Common Council this evening, to take action looking to the enforcement of the provisions of the Martin act for the collection of delinquent taxes due the city, will be an important one.

—Fine creamery butter 16 cents per pound at MacDonald's. 5-28 2

—The sewing school of Reform Hall will close this afternoon.

—All bills against the city must be in the hands of the City Clerk by Tuesday evening.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore equires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

First Lesson Begun on College Avenue, New Brunswick, Yesterday.

The building of the first of the United States Government's macadam roads was begun at New Brunswick, yesterday morning. College avenue, a residential thoroughfare, was the scene of the commencement of the road-building school.

The plan of the Government is to build model roads at the different agricultural experiment stations throughout the country. The New Brunswick road will be constructed in conformity with the results of the latest governmental researches, and will be similar to the sample bits of road built for demonstration at the Atlanta Exposition of 1895. The material for the substructure is obtained in the immediate vicinity. The material for the superstructure will be brought from Plainfield or the Oranges.

BE STRONG AND HEARTY.

HOW TO BE STRONG AND FULL OF LIFE AND VIGOR.

If you starved for two days you would feel as weak as a cat.

Proof enough that your food is the cause of your strength.

If your stomach is sick, you're starving away your strength. Slowly perhaps, but none the less surely.

You fill it yourself.

You have nausea, loss of appetite, headache, giddiness, pain in the stomach, loss of strength, spirits and ambition.

What do you think? That it's your head?

But it's not. It's simply your stomach.

Food is strength. Stomach makes it available. If stomach won't work, food does not become available strength.

Shaker Digestive Cordial will, in a few doses, make your stomach well and help your food make you strong.

Who wouldn't be strong? Whoever won't take Shaker Digestive Cordial.

Sick, tired, weary men and women, those who are working their bodies and brains too hard, will find relief and strength in Shaker Digestive Cordial.

It makes strength. It makes health. It makes happiness.

It's not an ordinary medicine, it's a cordial.

It's pleasant to take, and more than pleasant in its results.

PIES THAT WEIGH A TON.

Denby Dale is in the Habit of Making and Eating Them.

This country has long been pleased to consider itself the land of pies. But, as a matter of fact, a certain region of the English county of Yorkshire produces pies beside which no American pie would dare to make its appearance for very shame.

Denby Dale periodically makes pies weighing a ton and upward. There was a pie last summer which weighed only fifteen hundredweight.

The last Denby Dale pie was made, cooked, carved and distributed only last summer, in celebration of the jubilee of the repeal of the Corn laws. The meats of which it was composed weighed nearly fifteen hundredweight. Half a ton of steel plates went to form the dish in which it was baked, and the flour for the crust added an equal weight. The oven that received this burden of nearly two tons measured thirteen feet in length by nine feet in width and two feet in depth. When nicely browned, the giant pie, gayly decked with flowers and guarded by mounted police, was drawn in procession by fourteen horses to the place of feasting.

Here, at a fixed hour, it was solemnly carved with a knife close upon three feet long and a fork of proportionate size, and served on commemoration plates to all persons who paid for the privilege of thus tasting it. The edacious crowd numbered thousands, and few returned from the scene of festivity without a souvenir.

That was the sixth big pie to delight the epicures of Denby Dale. The first, which dates back more than a hundred years, was intended to mark the thankfulness of the inhabitants for the recovery of George III. from mental derangement. Nearly thirty years elapsed before another event occurred worthy of such signal regard. This was the battle of Waterloo. The oldest inhabitant cannot recall the Waterloo pie, but it was, no doubt, a famous affair, for, when another generation had come to maturity, it found a pattern for the great pie of '46, by which Denby Dale testified satisfaction at the repeal of the Corn laws.—New York Journal.

LUCK OF A BRIDESMAID.

She Caught the Bride's Bouquet and Discovered a Profitable Occupation.

Under ordinary circumstances, painting flowers in water colors isn't a source of immense profit. Nevertheless, there is a girl in Boston who is reaping a rich harvest from it. It all began in this way. The young artist was one of the bridesmaids at the wedding of a wealthy friend; and was the lucky one who caught the bride's bouquet when it was thrown to the maids. The idea occurred to her that it would be a graceful thing to make a sketch of the bouquet and give it to the bride; and being clever with her brush and having a keen sense of artistic possibilities, she succeeded in combining the rather stiff bouquet, a fan, a polished table, and a shimmering pale green scarf into a delicious bit of color and sentiment.

The bride was in ecstacies. So were her friends. Soon one of the bridesmaids needed bridesmaids of her own. It wasn't the artist, in spite of her luck in catching the bouquet. This bride refused to be happy unles she, too, could have a sketch of her bridal bouquet. The artist charged a good price this time, and, to her surprise, found herself the originator of a social fad. She became as much a part of a swell wedding as the caterer, florist, or bridegroom. Being gifted with a share of the wisdom of the serpent, she saw that the thing was too good to last, and that the opportunity must be improved while it did last, so she boldly put her prices up to a most extravagant figure. That only set the seal upon her popularity, and made her still more necessary to a wedding. She momentarily expects the frost to strike her, but, meanwhile, she gathers her harvest of shekels and sings hymns of praise to the ancient and honorable institution of matrimony.—New York Sun.

A Cousin by Adoption.

A correspondent of the Bookman suggests an incident about Irving that is novel and interesting: That Irving was a friend of the Knickerbockers of Schaghticoke is well known, but not, I think, the reason why he adopted himself into the family. While Harmon Knickerbocker, who was presumably upon intimate terms with Irving, was a member of congress, he had occasion to present Irving to President Madison, and in so doing facetiously introduced him as his "cousin-german, Diedrich Knickerbocker, from old Schaghticoke." Irving was rather taken aback, but the sobriquet so took his fancy that he made use of it as a pen name when he wrote his famous history of New York, in which he refers several times to his "cousin the congressman."

Monkey as an Imitator.

At Cheltenham, England, there lives a retired Admiral and his wife, who have a favorite monkey. One day recently the lady, hearing a strange noise in the dining room, looked in to see what it was. The sight which met her eyes was a ludicrous one. Seated in the armchair, with the Admiral's smoking cap on his head, and the Admiral's spectacles on his nose, was the monkey, and in his hand was the open newspaper, which he shook and patted, while he jabbered and gesticulated with great emphasis at the cat, which lay blinking on the hearth rug. It was a clever and carefully studied imitation of the testy old Admiral's tone and manner when reading to his wife some passages from the newspaper which excited his wrath or indig.

better worth following than any other will bring you direct to our store when you want anything in the line of paints. When a mistake is easily avoided it's scarcely worth while to run the risk of making one. Buying poor paint is a needless waste of money. It's paying for something you don't want, because it won't answer the purpose. Only paint that wears and is proof against the exposure of our climate is worth the cost of putting on. Ours are best and cheapest.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

HERMANN'S INSURANCE.

His Widow Unable to Collect the Policy on His Life.

New York, May 28.—Mme. Hermann, wife of the dead magician, has been unable to collect the $10,000 insurance policy on her husband's life from the Connecticut Indemnity association, and her attorneys have transmitted the matter for investigation to the state department of insurance.

"My husband died suddenly in a sleeping car," said Mme. Hermann. The company demands a certificate of death from the attending physician. There was no physician in attendance, and such a certificate is out of the question."

Charles Henry Butler, who is attorney for Mme. Hermann, said: "The fact of Professor Hermann's death is generally known. The circumstances surrounding his death were such that a physician, whose certificate of death is now required, could not be got to his bedside.

"Two weeks after death we filed the necessary proofs and were informed that the company had 90 days in which to pay the policy. Ninety days passed, and further delay was asked on the ground of insufficient proof of death. Certificates of death were then presented from the widow, the clergyman who conducted the funeral services and the undertaker. Then we were informed that the matter was referred to the Waterbury office for adjustment, and finally, after waiting five months, it was referred back to the New York office.

"An attachment was then sworn out against the company, but the sheriff could find nothing on which to levy, and now the superintendent of insurance will decide the case."

Professor Hermann died in his private car at Ellicottville while on the way from Rochester to Bradford on Dec. 17, 1896, of heart disease. The body was buried here.

GAS WORKS BURNED

Merchantville, N. J., May 28.—Fire destroyed the gas plant at this place. The bursting of the gas pressure gauge in the fireroom started the trouble. The gas escaped in a large volume and caught fire, and in a moment the room was a mass of flames.

Engineer Groves was enveloped and dashed through the door, with his clothing burning fiercely. He saved himself by rolling over and over in a ryefield near by. Another man on duty escaped by leaping from the window.

The fire destroyed the entire works with the exception of the main gas tank.

The loss is about $20,000.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS.

Felt at Different Points at About the Same Hour.

Burlington, Vt., May 28.—The most pronounced shock of earthquake felt in this city for several years was felt here about 10:13 last evening, the shock lasting about 15 seconds. Most of the business places were closed, but buildings were swayed enough to awaken people and rattle bottles on the shelves, especially in high buildings. The vibrations seemed to be from north to south.

A dispatch from Montreal says an earthquake shock was felt here about 10:15 last night. It lasted five seconds and was violent enough to send people rushing into the streets, shake windows and knock down dishes.

Christians Attacked In China.

San Francisco, May 28.—Private advices per the steamer Glenavon, which has arrived from Yokohama, states that the province of Kweisan, China, was the scene of an attack upon the Christian missions recently, and it is rumored that Rev. Father Mazell, who was in charge of the chapel at Loli, was murdered. It is feared that other whites were massacred. Owing to the remoteness of the scene it was impossible to obtain any details of the affair.

Drowned In the Canal.

Cumberland, Md., May 28.—William R. Percy, one of the wealthiest men in Alleghany county, was drowned in the Chesapeake and Ohio canal near Frostburg. It is thought that while riding along the towpath his horse became frightened and threw him into the canal. He was 56 years old and leaves a widow and three children.

Mills Kept Busy.

Hudson, Mass., May 28.—The Hudson woolen mills, which have been running night and day for some time past, have found it necessary to double the capacity of their plant, and new machinery is now being set up. The mills are rushed with orders, which will cover operations for many weeks to come.

No Pardon For a Murderer.

Boston, May 28.—The pardon committee has reported to the executive council that August Langner, the murderer of Miss F. Person at Dedham in 1893, should not be pardoned. Langner is undergoing a life sentence for his crime.

Newark Strike Ended.

Newark, N. J., May 28.—The strike of 1,500 garment workers of this city is at an end. There are five of the contractors who have not signed, but they have no work on hand, and it is announced that they will sign as soon as they receive orders.

EASTERN WARCLOUD

Russia Is Now Irritated at the Attitude of Germany.

SHEIK UL ISLAM FOMENTING TROUBLE

The Head of the Moslem World Would Precipitate a Religious War—Insists That Thessaly Shall Be Retained by Turkey.

London, May 28.—The correspondent of The Times at Athens says:

"The dispatches which the government has received from the representatives of Greece abroad all indicate that the peace negotiations have taken a turn more favorable to Greece. Turkey's proposal to occupy Thessaly no longer receives any consideration, owing to England's attitude, while the proposal to abolish the capitulations in the case of Greek subjects in Turkey is rejected, and the suggested extradition treaty is apparently set aside.

"The powers have fixed £6,000,000 as the highest limit of indemnity and will allow only such a strategic alteration of the frontier as will not involve the subjection of any inhabited district to Turkish rule. Germany's demand for international control of Greek finances has not been favorably received, as the government hopes to raise a loan abroad, on the guarantee of England, Russia and France, at low interest, to pay the indemnity, conceding certain revenues, but not accepting the principle of foreign control."

The Position of Sheik ul Islam.

The correspondent of The Standard at Constantinople says:

"The immediate entourage of the sultan favors restoring Thessaly to Greece. The Turkish foreign minister has spoken on the subject in a conciliatory tone to the Baron de Calice, the Austro-Hungarian embassador, asking only a little delay in order that public excitement may subside.

"On the other hand the whole official and religious world, including the Sheik ul Islam, denounces the idea of restoration, while every military measure points to retention. Even those who had supposed that the sultan was manufacturing the excitement in order to exact better terms from the powers are beginning to think that he has gone too far and lost control of the situation.

"Russia does not conceal her extreme irritation at German policy, which is so openly and persistently directed against Russia that many Turks accuse Germany of deliberately plotting to produce a rupture between the two countries."

The Grand Vizier Is Belligerent.

London, May 28.—A dispatch to The Times from Constaninople says:

"The attitude of the grand vizier is the subject of much comment. He was regarded as merely the obedient instrument of the sultan, but he nows shows unexpected vigor as an advocate of an exacting policy toward Greece.

Excise Commissioner's Statement.

Albany, May 28.—Colonel H. H. Lyman, state excise commissioner, in answer to inquiries as to how many less places there are in the state where liquors are now sold than two years ago, as to the amount of tax collected, the method of collection and distribution of the same and the cities' proportion thereof, etc., has made a statement. He says, on April 30, 1896, when the law went into effect, there were 33,437 licenses in force, and on November 1, 1896, there were 26,593 in force, being a reduction of 6,844 to that date. The reports thus far received indicate that there will be issued about 25,000 during the present tax year.

Drowned Bodies Recovered.

Montreal, May 28.—The search party that went to Cedar Rapids, Maskinongo river, about 130 miles north from Montreal, have returned with the bodies of Dr. Gentles of this place and Fred Epps, a companion. The bodies were raised on Wednesday, after dynamite had been used. On the 24th inst. Dr. Gentles and an Indian guide were upset from a heavily laden canoe at the foot of the rapids. The Indian reached shore safely. Epps sprang into the water to aid his friend, but both soon sank.

Found Guilty of Receiving a Bribe.

Lockport, N. Y., May 28.—"Guilty as charged in the indictment" is the verdict of the jury in the case of the people against William D. Davis, ex-alderman and ex-chairman of the aldermanic committee on streets of this city. Davis was charged with receiving a bribe in the shape of a percentage on the prices of bricks sold to the city by the Canton State Brick Exchange through a local company, the total amount alleged to have been paid to Davis being about $1,000.

Republican League Instructions.

Chicago, May 28.—The National Republican league has served notice upon the leagues in the western silver states that delegates to the National Republican league convention in Detroit in July must be in accord with the party platform. The basis of representation to the July convention was made four for each congressional district and ten at large in each state. President Woodmansee of Cincinnati presided over the meeting.

Canadian Fisheries' Report.

Ottawa, May 28.—The annual report of the department of fisheries just published shows that the value of Canadian fisheries for 1896 is computed at $20,199,338, being a decrease of more than $500,000 as compared with the previous year. With the exception of British Columbia, showing a surplus of nearly $500,000, and New Brunswick, which shows a slight increase, all the provinces yielded less than last year.

Traveling Salesman Killed.

New Milford, Conn., May 28.—John F. Murphy, a traveling salesman well known throughout the state, was killed by being thrown out of his carriage among a pile of rocks, fracturing his skull, as he was coming down a steep hill on the outskirts of the town. He was driving a colt owned by him, which became unmanageable. He leaves a wife and four young children.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

TEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage

W. H. Sprague, of Spooner avenue, has just purchased a Credenda wheel of W. H. Rogers.

Mrs. F. O. Herring, of Park avenue, is learning to ride a wheel and will soon be seen on the road with her many friends who already ride.

Remember that it only costs $2 for the first year and $1 thereafter to become a member of the L. A. W. The value of the privileges are far above that. Applications may be made on blanks obtainable at this office.

The Racing Board of the L. A. W. has issued its weekly bulletin. There are the usual number of riders transferred to the professional class and suspended and a number of sanctions granted. No local wheelmen are mentioned in any way.

Jay Eaton's challenge issued to race any man in the United States for $300 will be accepted by Shafer in behalf of one of his string of seven men. Probabilities point to MacFarland, the lanky Californian, as the man, as he is in the best condition, and is on even terms with Eaton in the races at the San Francisco Pavilion and along the southern circuit. Others are anxious to take up the challenge, and Eaton will have his hands full. This was the reason he issued the challenge, as he will make match racing his business the coming season, that being his strong point in the cycle game.

Earl Kiser reconsidered his withdrawal of entry from the Waltham after his victory of Saturday over Bald. The Dayton lad left for Boston, yesterday. Should he prove victorious at Waltham over both Bald and Cooper, as he is likely to do in his present condition, it is said Kiser will leave for the National circuit in the west and avoid Bald and Cooper on the New York State circuit. Dave Shafer is after the scalp of Eck's men, and will follow to the National circuit in that case, strengthening his team greatly by the addition of either Bald or Cooper for that trip Trade reasons are the cause of this fight. Kiser is well known in Plainfield

Eddie Bald did not sign the articles submitted to him by the Springfield Bicycle Club, of Springfield, Mas. The president of the club, Mr. Miller, came down with them and saw Bald in his training quarters at Manhattan Beach. The club offers $500 for the purse, and Cooper has signed and deposited $500 as a side wager for a race June 15, or thereabouts. Bald is entered for the New York State circuit and is under agreement with his firm to ride all along that circuit. He may not be able to arrange to make the date required and has agreed to give an answer within a few days. Bald leaves for Boston within a day, where he will meet Cooper in three races May 31st.

AROUND THE BASES.

The P. A. C.'s will play a game of baseball at Bound Brook tomorrow and at Flemington on Monday.

The Plainfield A. C. Club of this city will play at Albany, N. Y., July 24. The game is under the management of George Firstbrook.

The single and married men of Potter's will contest in a game of baseball on the Washington avenue grounds tomorrow morning.

The long-expected game between the baseball teams of the Plainfield High School and Leal's School was played on the Washington Avenue grounds, Wednesday afternoon. The High School nine won by a score of 20 to 16.

AT THE TRAPS.

The members of the Climax Gun Club held their first shoot of the season Wednesday afternoon on the Crescent Oval. There was a large attendance of members and friends from New York and an afternoon of genuine sport was enjoyed. Some excellent scores were made by the members. Charles Smith was in hard luck. Just as he was about ready to shoot the hammer on his gun broke and he was barred from shooting.

TENNIS.

Several young people enjoyed playing tennis yesterday afternoon on the grounds adjoining Grace M. E. church.

MEMORIAL DAY IN SCHOOLS.

Special Exercises Held in the City and Borough.

Special Memorial Day exercises were held at the High School, this morning. There was singing by the school under the leadership of Charles Lewis and an address by Rev. Floyd Appleton. There were a number of visitors.

A delegation of G. A. R. men, in command of I. L. McVoy, visited the North Plainfield Public High School this morning in commemoration of Decoration Day. The following selections were sung by the scholars: "Tenting Tonight," "America," "Battle Field," "Slumber Song," "Heroes Beloved" and "Our Gallant Company." Interspersing the above, stirring remarks were made by the comrades, which the scholars were interested in. Dr. Warde was pleased that the comrades visited the school and conducted such interesting exercises.

The exercises at the Bryant School this morning were very interesting. The programme consisted of singing by the scholars also recitations. Dr. Probasco and other members of the Board of Education were present and had a few words to say regarding the the celebration of Memorial Day. The feature was the remarks by the comrades of the G. A. R. present under the direction of Commander McVoy.

The school was decorated by the teachers under the direction of the principal, Miss Shattuck. The scholars of the Lincoln School were present and joined in the exercises.

HALF THE MONEY PAID

End of the Workingmen's Suits Against the Babcock Estate.

The suit brought by Fred R Haberle against the estate of George Babcock has been settled. Mr. Haberle was one of a dozen carpenters who worked on the Babcock building, and when it was about completed demanded wages from the executors. The latter refused to pay and claimed that they were in no way liable to the carpenters who they said must look to John Chandler, the contractor, for their money.

The men employed Reed & Coddington and the executors retained Craig A. Marsh. A test suit was brought in the name of Mr. Haberle and on the trial before Justice Newcorn he won. The executors took an appeal to the court at Elizabeth and on the trial there they were again beaten. They then took the case, which involved less than $100, to the Supreme Court.

It would have come up there in June but as the expenses were likely to exceed the amounts involved, the carpenters have accepted a settlement of fifty per cent of the face of their claims, including the case on which suit was brought, each side paying its own costs. Reed & Coddington today received a check for the amount agreed upon and the hard fought battle is ended.

Borough Finances Considered.

A meeting of the borough Finance Committee was held last evening in the council rooms when the members discussed matters pertaining to the tax map and the taxes of the borough. There was not a great deal of business to consider and the largest part of the evening was passed in a social manner. Cigars were passed around and amid smoke and sociability, the members enjoyed themselves.

Thinking of a Seashore Trip.

At the meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41. Jr. O. U. A. M., held last evening the following persons were appointed on the excursion committee: Firman Long, Isaac Squires, Harry M. Cooke, Peter Bogert and Theodore Kurzhalls, Jr. One proposition for membership was received and the members made arrangements to initiate the two hundredth member at the meeting to be held June 2d.

THEIR DUTY TO THE SICK.

The Doctor spoke somewhat as follows:

"It affords me great pleasure to speak to you on this occasion. The class has been small and the advantage of this is noteworthy. It brings the scholar in close touch with the teacher in the transmission of knowledge. Tonight you stand on the doorsill of life ready to go forth and receive the approbation of patients and physicians, with a consciousness of knowing that your work will be well-done. A trained nurse is a recognized factor on the battle-field or in the hospital, or anywhere her administrations may bring peace and consolation to those who need it. It is the Spirit that quickens all she does and helps her.

"Be ambitious to keep posted and in the advance in your profession. I say farewell on behalf of the staff. Each of you have been faithful, conscientious and womanly. Miss Moss, your superintendent, the Board of Governors and the Hospital Auxiliary, and everybody connected with the hospital have worked in harmony for the best results."

The last speaker was E. B. Clark, of the Board of Governors. He presented the graduates with a gold pin bearing the insignia of the profession they represent. It was in a circle and in the centre was a red cross, the symbol of the hospital. The pins bore inscriptions, "Training School for Nurses, Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield, N. J.," while on the back was the date. Mr. Clark stated that the red cross was significant, from the fact that it admitted the wearer within the lines to administer to the sick and dying.

This concluded the exercises and President Goddard thanked all for their attendance. Nearly everyone remained to congratulate the graduates and to shake hands with the members of the school, the Superintendent, Miss Moss, and the members of the Board of Governors. Nearly all of the members of the Board were present as well as the doctors who are associated with the hospital.

An attractive feature was the appearance of the members of the Training School and the superintendent in full pr fessional uniform.

THEATRICAL.

Du Souchet's funny farce, "The Man From Mexico," is moving along prosperously towards the celebration of its fiftieth performance at Hoyt's Theatre, New York. This is probably the first time on record that a comedy has run so far into the summer without having been produced earlier in the season. The summer runs in New York up to this time have been confined to plays that had been produced early enough to keep going on the strength of the advertisement gained by a long run; therefore, when "The Man From Mexico" was put into Hoyt's at the begining of the heated term many predicted it was an unwise venture. The fun of the comedy, however, is so thoroughly novel and spontaneous, and Willie Collier, with the rest of the excellent cast, have made so much out of their splendid opportunities, that all these calculations have been knocked into a cocked hat. It was not an unusual remark before the production of "The Man From Mexico," that Du Souchet could not possibly write an act so funny as the second act of "My Friend From India." That he has managed to do this, however, is shown by a remark made by a member of the audience the other night. After the second act he expressed the opinion that he might well go home, as he had laughed until he was tired. Nevertheless, he stayed to see the next act and discovered that there were many more laughs left in him.

MAY-30TH -1897-

THE BLUE AND THE GRAY.

By the flow of the inland river,
Whence the fleets of iron have fled,
Where the blades of grave-grass quiver.
Asleep are the ranks of the dead;
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day—
Under the one, the Blue;
Under the other, the Gray.

These in the robings of glory,
Those in the gloom of defeat,
All with the battle-blood gory,
In the dusk of eternity meet;
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day;
Under the laurel, the Blue;
Under the willow, the Gray.

From the silence of sorrowful hours
The desolate mourners go,
Lovingly laden with flowers,
Alike for the friend and the foe;
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day;
Under the roses, the Blue;
Under the lilies, the Gray.

So with an equal splendor
The morning sun-rays fall,
With a touch, impartially tender,
On the blossoms blooming for all;
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day;
Broidering with gold, the Blue;
Mellowed with gold, the Gray.

Sadly, but not with upbraiding,
The generous deed was done;
In the storm of the years that are fading,
No braver battle was won;
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day;
Under the blossoms, the Blue;
Under the garlands, the Gray.

A CHANCE FOR HIS LIFE.

JOSEPH CHALBI GRANTED A NEW TRIAL IN SOMERSET COUNTY.

Argument Made by the Counsel Yesterday and the Points Considered by Judges Magie and Bartine on the Bench.

In the Somerset Court yesterday morning Chief Justice Magie listened to the argument of counsel for a new trial in the case of Joseph Chalbi, who was convicted of murder in the first degree.

The evidence of two witnesses had been taken in the meantime before a master, the defence endeavoring to show by them that there was no premeditation. This testimony was read and J. J. Bergen, who has been added to the counsel for the defence, submitted a brief, in which he held that a motive for the killing was wanting in the evidence and no malice had been shown. The only premeditation, he said, was in the evideuce of one witness, and that was contradicted in the later testimony.

Justice Magie, after a conference with Judge Bartine, said that the Court had no doubt that the guilt of the defendant was established by the evidence beyond any reasonable doubt, but the difficulty was as to whether there was no reason for a new trial with respect to the degree. The threat made by the defendant to kill his wife to be effective should be made in anger. One witness said it was another said he was fooling and in good humor. The Judge regretted, he said, that the case should be tried again, but the defendant could have no other redress except an appeal to the Court of Errors or the Court of Pardons. The prisoner is willing to enter a plea of nolle contendure to murder in the second degree but Prosecutor Dungan has not consented to accept it.

ON EVEN FOOTING NOW.

BOUND BROOK TROLLEY WAR TAKES ON A NEW PHASE.

The Ordinance of the Cross-State Line Accepted and Advanced Satisfactority to Stockholders—Disposition of Certiorari

At the adjourned meeting of the Bound Brook Borough Council last night the ordinance of the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company was accepted and passed on its second reading after b ing amended by the ordinance committee. The clause permitting use of under grade crossing was stricken out, and a clause allowing use of Main street extension substituted. This change will have the effect of cutting off South Brook, as that town cannot now be reached except by a round about route.

The two traction companies are now on an equality, the ordinances of both having been accepted; and the matter will now probably rest until the decision of the Supreme Court, regarding the writ of certiorari, recently issued, is known. Since the serving of this writ, the New York and Philadelphia Company have removed all ties within the borough, but have continued the work of planting poles west of the borough limits.

Wheelmen in a Collision.

Benjamin H. Pitcher, an office boy at Scott Press Works, met with an accident Thursday evening in front of the Y. M. C. A. building. He was riding his wheel and run into an unknown wheelmen from out of town. Both received several scratches and bruises and the unknown man was obliged to stop in town for several repairs. Neither rider had any bones broken but they were badly shaken up.

Epworth League Parade.

A most important event of the season will occur on June 8th, when all of the members of the Junior Epworth League of this city will join in a grand parade, after which they will march to some suitable open air place and hold a mass meeting. Arrangements are now being perfected for the event and it will be undoubtedly one of the largest of the kind ever held in this locality.

THE CRESCENT'S RACES.

CYCLING ENTHUSIASTS TO HAVE A DAY OF SPORT MONDAY.

A Good Many Crack Riders Have Been Entered and Some Fast Time is Expected to be Made—Local Riders Also to Contest.

The bicycle racing season will open in Plainfield on Monday afternoon when the Crescent Wheelmen will give their Decoration Day meet in their track at the Crescent Oval. The weather promises to be pleasant and the wheelmen will look after the rest of the arrangements and see that they are satisfactory.

Considering the fact that there are so many meets scheduled in this neighborhood for the same day, the Crescent Wheelmen have been unusual lucky, over eighty riders having entered the different events. There are a number of familar names on the entry list while the novices will be represented.

William M. McCutchen and R. R. Howard, of the Yale bicycle squad, are coming down to try to carry away some of the prizes. They will appear in most of the events, including the tandem race. Charles O'Conner and W. H. Owen, the crack team from the Knickerbocker Athletic Club, are entered and are looked upon as likely men for winners. J. Sorensen, Harry Lister, Olaf Sangstad, William Havens and Albert Price Simmonds are among the local riders who will compete. Then there is Thomas U. Cuming, of the Crescent Wheelmen, and the fast pair from the Plainfield High School Lindley M. Hillman and Harry T. Cuming. Hillman is on the track team of the New Jersey Athletic Club this year.

Fred W. L. Fullerton, of Montclair, who won everything at the race meet in Morristown, last fall, is entered and will give his competitors a hustle. There are several scores of other good men and good fair racing is assured.

Church Officers Elected.

The Board of Trustees of the First Baptist church has organized for the current year, electing the following officers: President, L. V. F. Randolph; treasurer, Alexander Gilbert; secretary, John D. Runyon.

ADJUSTING THE TAXES.

SCHEDULE ADOPTED BY THE COMMON COUNCIL LAST NIGHT.

Delinquents Previous to 1880 are Divided Into Four Classes, Allowing Settlements That are Hoped Will be Satisfactory.

The special meeting of the City Council held last evening was not a drawing one; in fact, it was so uninteresting to the average person that there was scarcely anyone in the lobby. During the early part of the evening two or three persons dropped in, but they did not stay long.

E. T. Barrows acted as president pro tem in the place of J. B. Dumont, who is out of town. The other members absent were Messrs. Baker and Westphal. The call of the meeting was read, which was to take further steps to secure the adoption of the Martin Act for the collection of back taxes prior to 1880. At the suggestion of Councilman Runyon, Corporation Counsel Marsh stated in brief the position of the city regarding the Act and and the present necessary steps. He said that the Council was acting under a law of 1887, whereby the Legislature gave common councils jurisdiction in the collection of real estate taxes to settle, adjust or compromise the same. This the Council was now doing in view of the irregularities prior to 1882. Under the act of 1887 many persons have asked the Council to adjust, settle or compromise with them in the matter of taxes within the next thirty days. If it is not settled in that time other steps will have to be taken to collect the taxes. The resolution which was adopted at the last meeting which referred to the schedule was somewhat incomplete, for it did not give a description of all the property and the figures were in some cases incorrect. The committee did not think it necessary to include the description of the property and it was therefore left out.

At this time Mayor Fisk returned the previous resolution for amendment as suggested by the Corporation Counsel. It was referred to the committee on collection and assessment of taxes. In the meantime Mr. Marsh stated for the benefit of the members that originally the collector of taxes had no authority to issue certificates where a property changed hands, but at the present time he has that power and has had since 1894. After a recess of thirty minutes, during which time the committee was preparing their amended report, Mr. Serrell moved to reconsider the original resolution. He then moved that a substitute resolution be adopted in its place. The new resolution and schedule consists of four classes as follows: Class A, all those who have petitioned to settle for the full face value of the tax; Class B, those who are poor and unable to pay the full amount can settle for $10, Class C, where property has changed hands several times and is now being held by innocent persons 50 per cent. will be received in settlement; Class D, those who can show receipts or certificates that their tax has been paid will pay $1 if they wish the tax erased from the books.

The above schedule was examined several times by the members and finally was adopted by them. Just previous to its adoption Mr. Runyon, who had voted against the above, arose and stated that he would like to offer a motion that all taxes prior to 1880 be settled for 5 per cent. on the dollar. Mr. Barrows did not think that the motion was in order and several Councilmen were of the same opinion. The Mayor was present and had a few words to say on the subject. He said that upon investigation he had learned that the city has no right to make such a compromise and that it would not stand. He also stated that the Council could not enforce the payment of these back taxes prior to 1880 unless the delinquents desired to pay. If they would not pay the tax would remain the same as it is on the books of the city. Under the Martin Act there is a provision that the Collector's books shall be turned over to the commissioners and that a number of public hearings shall be given so that all can be heard. If a person does not like to settle at our figures they can go to the commissioners and settle with them.

Mr. Runyon still pressed his motion and it was lost by a vote of 6 to 2. Messrs. Runyon and Newman supported it. Mr. Frost made a few remarks on the subject and thought that all should be treated alike and that persons who owed should pay. He thought that the ones who have been owing the city for the past twelve years, and who have had the use of their money during that time, should be willing to settle at the figures offered by the city.

In a petition presented by J. B Coward he stated that property owned

MARTIN ACT COMMISSIONER.

The Appointment Made by Judge Van Syckle This Morning.

Corparation Counsel Craig A. Marsh appeared before Judge Van Syckle of the Supreme Court today and made application for the appointment of three commissioners to proceed under the Martin Act for the collection of back taxes. According to the law only one of the commissioners can be selected from Plainfield. Judge Van Syckle appointed Frank Bergen and Comptroller A. P. Carlton, of Elizabeth, and Joseph A. Hubbard, of this city. These commissioners will take into consideration all properties coming under the Act and will then report back to the Supreme Court. The latter will either accept or reject the report. In case the report is accepted all those who fail to pay their taxes will have their property disposed of by the Court. The property will be sold outright and there will be no redress after the Court has decided the matter.

The Inn to Open Next Tuesday.

Manager Moulton will open the Mt. Park Inn next Tuesday morning with twenty-five guests. At present there is a family of six persons who are occupying one of the cottages and are waiting for the Inn to open. A large number of people have engaged accommodations for the entire season.

THE HOLIDAY EVENTS.

PLENTY TO AMUSE AND INTEREST PLAINFIELDERS NEXT MONDAY.

The Time-Honored Custom of the G. A. R. Members and Their Friends Will be Carried Out—Outdoor Sports.

Although tomorrow is the thirtieth of May, and therefore Decoration Day, that holiday will not be generally observed until Monday, which is the day fixed for the regular celebration of Decoration Day, or Memorial Day, as it is frequently called.

Decoration Day is usually looked upon as the opening of the season for wheeling and other out-door sports in this part of the country. Such is the custom in Plainfield, and so there are a number of attrattions scheduled for Monday which the public will have a chance to enjoy, provided the weather is pleasant.

The veterans of the Civil War will continue their time honored custom of decorating the graves of their comrades, who have fallen in life's battle, and of holding exercises in remembrance of them. In the morning there will be the decorating of the graves and the parade of the Grand Army men, the school children and the local cadet companies. The parade will begin at 9 o'clock, starting at the corner of East Front street and Watchung avenue, following the line of march already published in The Press. The order of march has also been published. In the afternoon, public exercises will be held in Music Hall. There will be an appropriate address and singing by a chorus of school children.

To the cycling public, the event of great interest for Decoration Day is the Irvingtor Milburn road race, which is to be held on the course between the two towns named, in the morning, starting at 9 o'clock. That race is the cycling derby of the Metropolitan district and to the course throng thousands of wheelmen. Plainfield will be well represented among the spectators, this year, as she always has been in the past. Olaf Sangstad will be the only rider to enter from this city, however.

In the afternoon, the wheelmen will flock to Plainfield, Waverly and the other places where bicycle meets are to be held. Of course, all Plainfield cyclists will show their loyalty and give their support to the race meet of the Crescent Wheelmen which is to be held at their Crescent Oval, beginning at 3 o'clock. The programme is an excellent one for many of the fastest men in this region have entered and good sport is assured. The Crescent Wheelmen will entertain their friends well and every comfort for spectator and participants alike has been looked after.

Those interested in tennis will find plenty to interest them at the courts of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club. The courts are located on Plainfield avenue and Randolph road, near the new club house. A double tournament will be in progress all day. It will be opened to teams from Plainfield and North Plainfield and some exciting matches will undoubtedly be played.

Lovers of golf will also be interested at the club grounds which include golf links. The Chapman cup will be played for by the members, the preliminary round for which contest is to be played this afternoon.

The baseball cranks will be allowed to indulge in their favorite hobby on Monday morning when the Crescent Baseball Club will open the season on their new grounds at the corner of LaGrande avenue and Richmond street with the Stelton team. Ample grand stand accommodations have been provided and the comfort of the spectators will be remembered. The Stelton team is largely composed of college graduates who have kept up their practice in the national game and play a rattling good game of ball. The home team will be a strong one and the result will be watched with interest Then there are a number of other games.

There are scores of private parties who have planned all day outings. There will be picnics and wheeling parties. The Plainfield Camera Club has arranged an outing on wheels for the morning to which all their friends are invited. The trip will be over in the direction of Mt. Bethel, where there is much beautiful scenery.

Class Color.

The color chosen by the graduating class of the North Plainfield Public High School is crimson, and the gold class pins have been made in the shape of a triangle encircled with a wreath. The color is in the centre while outsides is gold and enamel. It bears the class motto and the name of the school and the date.

Miss Helen Savage, of Rahway, is the guest of Miss Leila Cruiksank, of Belvidere avenue.

A MOTHER'S CRIME.

She Tries to Poison Her Two Children With Paris Green.

ADMINISTERED IT IN SODA WATER.

The Three Conveyed to the Hospital, Where the Physicians Are In Doubt as to Their Ability to Save the Patients' Lives.

Brooklyn, May 29.—Mrs. Annie Brown, a good looking, well dressed woman, 25 years old, of 54 Herkimer place, attempted to poison herself and two children in Behren's drug store, corner of Clermont and De Kalb avenues, yesterday morning.

Mrs. Brown, leading her two little sons, Charles H., aged 7, and John H., aged 4, by the hands, walked into the drug store and smilingly asked R. Herman, one of the clerks, for two glasses of soda water with vanilla flavor.

The soda water was placed before the woman, who had lifted the children up on stools on either side of her and started to sip the beverage.

She paid for the drinks, and then Mr. Herman left the main room of the store to get some flavoring extracts from a rear room.

He had scarcely passed beyond the door when he heard a shrill scream, and rushing back into the store saw Mrs. Brown gesticulating wildly and shouting: "Goodby; I've done it!"

There were the dregs of a green powder in both glasses and more of the substance on the lips of the woman and the children.

She confessed that she had taken paris green and given some to the children, intending to kill both of them and herself.

She produced a round box in which she had carried the poison.

There was some of the powder in it yet, not more than a teaspoonful.

Clerks Administered Antidotes.

An ambulance call was sent out, and by the time the ambulance arrived from the Homeopathic hospital the drug clerks had succeeded in plying their three patients with dialyzed iron, mustard and hydrated oxide of iron as antidotes and emetics. They took effect apparently upon the smaller boy only. The elder boy, when questioned, said that he had taken "five or six good swallows" of the soda water. The woman had drunk only about a quarter of her glass when the clerk dashed it from her hand.

When the police came, the woman was able to tell them her name. She said that she was a German, 25 years old. The children, she said, were her sons, Charles H., aged 7 years, and John H., aged 4. Then she refused to say another word, and she was in such a state of collapse the police forebore to question her further.

In the woman's purse were a key and 23 cents and in the pocket besides was the small box partly filled with paris green. The label was rubbed off the box. The woman had not bought it at Behren's.

The woman and her two children were taken to the Homeopathic hospital. The physicians there have little hope of saving the lives of either the mother or the elder child. The little one is likely to recover.

Chemist's Discovery In Leutgert Case.

Chicago, May 29.—Professor Mark Delafontaine, the expert chemist, has made a discovery in his investigations into the contents of the vat in the Luetgert sausage factory which is considered by the prosecution to be of a nature most damaging to the defense. In the sediment, not only has he found traces of teeth, but also a number of flakes of a composition only found in the human tooth. This, together with the broken false tooth found by the police near the vat, the prosecution holds, establishes the corpus delicti, which the defense has maintained was wanting in the state's case.

Spanish Prisoner Released.

Lafayetteville, Ark., May 29.—Ona Melton, the newspaper correspondent who was captured with the Competitor crew by Spanish officers and held in prison at Havana for a long time has been released. He has reached his home in Madison county, near Huntsville, Ark., where he was born and raised. He is said to be arranging his plans to go on a lecturing tour, after spending a short time at his old home.

Colored Murderers Hanged.

Chicago, May 29.—William T. Powers and John Lattimore, both colored, were hanged in the county jail, the first double execution since the hanging of the anarchists in 1887 and the first double colored execution ever held in Chicago. William T. Powers was executed for the murder of John J. Murphy, a saloon keeper, in December, 1896, and John Lattimore for the murder of Louis Marwoc, near Summit, Nov. 29, 1896.

Ex-Assemblyman Removed to Jail.

Newburg, N. Y., May 29.—Former Assemblyman Frank B. Taylor, arrested on Wednesday on the charge of forgery in the first degree, was removed from police headquarters to the county jail here, having been unable to procure bail. Judge M. H. Hirschberg of the supreme court fixed the amount of bonds at $7,500. Taylor waived examination and was held for the grand jury, which sits at Goshen June 7.

Killed by a Vicious Dog.

Ottawa, May 29.—A 7-year-old daughter of a farmer named Landry, living at Aumond, on the Getinau river, while in the house was attacked by a vicious dog belonging to a neighbor, which had strayed in the open door. A leg and an arm were literally devoured by the brute, and the child survived but a short time after being rescued.

Alleged Insurance Swindlers Held.

Boston, May 29.—George E. Litchfield and Charles Barbour, who have been arrested charged with conspiracy to defraud the Massachusetts Benefit Life association out of $7,800, were arraigned in the municipal court before Judge Ely and held in $12,000 bonds for the superior criminal court.

For a Monument to N. P. Banks.

Boston, May 29.—Governor Wolcott signed the resolve providing for a statue in memory of the late General N. P. Banks to be erected on the grounds surrounding the statehouse.

Pages from the Diary of Capt. John W. Moore, Newbury, Ind.

Jan. 9.
"Our little boy, who has suffered for six years with lameness in his hip, continues to grow worse, although we have applied many kinds of liniments. The family doctor has decided that the boy has hip joint disease, and he urges us not to meddle with the case, saying it is best to allow it to take its own course. We feel very anxious about him. I wish we could find something which would effect a cure. I fear it will develop into a very serious affair." J. W. MOORE.

March 22.
"A sore has broken out on the under side of my boy's hip, and it has discharged very freely and left an opening about an inch deep, the size of a silver dollar. He has to be given constant attention. Our physician tells us to keep the sore running. A second sore has appeared on his groin and broken. The boy is very low. I asked the doctor about giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla, which has cured so many such cases, but he said he could give him medicine that is four times better and does not cost as much." J. W. MOORE.

May 10.
"The doctor's medicine which I have been giving our boy has not proved of any avail. The child continued to grow worse and I have stopped giving it to him, and now he is taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. I got a bottle from the druggist a few days ago and I believe I can see that the boy is improving under the treatment." J. W. MOORE.

Oct. 5.
"How glad I am that I ever tried Hood's Sarsaparilla for my boy's hip disease. When he had finished taking the first bottle he looked fifty per cent better. I continued giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla and now he is quite well. He runs and plays with the other children and we can hardly believe he is the same child, thanks to Hood's Sarsaparilla, which we have proved to be indeed the One True Blood Purifier." J. W. MOORE.

Pages like those above are penned in the personal records of thousands of people.

In the memories of many more the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is indelibly imprinted. The cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla are literally written in blood — in blood made pure, enriched and vitalized, cured of scrofulous taints, salt rheum, boils, pimples, spring humors — in blood which properly builds up the nerves, strengthens the stomach and gives that tonic to the system so imperatively needed in the Spring.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Is the Ideal Spring Medicine—The One True Blood Purifier.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic or alterative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 50c and $1 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

—The Advance Circle, King's Daughters, of the First Presbyterian church, met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Howard Pope, on West Fifth street. Ice cream and cake were served after the business was transacted.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says, that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Miss Ella Blish, of West Seventh street, is still confined to her home and probably will be for several weeks yet as the result of a tumble from her wheel, last Friday. She is a new rider. While out for a little spin, she lost control of the wheel and fell, badly spraining her ankle.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.
(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty-five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—Monday, June 21st, will be class day at the North Plainfield Public School, and exercises will be held in the evening.

—The dangerous board walk in front of the Buchannan property on Duer street has been removed and it will be replaced by a stone walk.

According to the newspapers, an Ohio husband became the happy father of seven children not long ago. Of the seven all lived but one. It is to be hoped he laid in a a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, the only sure cure for croup, whooping-cough, colds and coughs, and so insured his children against these diseases. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Miss L. A. Smalley, of East Front street, is confined to her home by illness.

Volney F. Green, of Mercer avenue, has accepted a position in New York and will begin his duties on Tuesday.

The Westfield (Ind.) News prints the following in regard to an old resident of that place: "Frank McAvoy, for many years in the employ of the L., N. A & C. Ry. here, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy for ten years or longer—am never without it in my family. I consider it the best remedy of the kind manufactured. I take pleasure in recommending it." It is a specific for all bowl disorders. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

A GIGANTIC STRIKE.

Fifty Thousand Men Are Likely to Be Called Out.

COAL AND IRON MINES INVOLVED.

Work In the Whole Pittsburg Region May Be Discontinued—The New York Striking Tailors Are Winning Their Battle.

Altoona, Pa., May 29.—The executive board of the National Mine Workers' association has decided to call a strike of 50,000 men, employees of 13 coal companies controlling the lake trade. The strike is against a proposed reduction in pay to the rate of 54 cents per ton.

The companies involved are M. A. Hanna & Co., the Ellsworth Coal company, Cuddy, Miller & Co., the W. L. Scott mines, the Ohio and Pennsylvania Coal company, the Moon Run Coal company, Osborne, Saeger & Co., Morgan, Moore & Bain, Pickens, Mather & Co., W. P. Rend, the Robbins Coal company, the Pittsburg and Chicago Coal company and the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company. Their mines are largely in the Pittsburg district.

Patrick Dolan, president of the Pittsburg district miners, says: "The men in this district have become hardened to hunger and suffering and are in as good a condition to strike now as they ever were. If they can succeed in cutting off the supply for the lake trade when it opens for a short time only, there are good prospects of winning. We expect the sympathy and help of the small operators, whose business is being injured by these big ones controlling the lake trade."

Orders for the strike are to be issued next Monday.

New York Strikers Gaining.

New York, May 29.—The number of clothing manufacturers who are yielding to the demands of the east side striking tailors speedily continues to increase. Eighteen more manufacturers have yielded, and it looks as if as many more would sign the agreement within the next 24 hours.

The 18 manufacturers added to the 30 who had previously surrendered makes a total of 48 who have acceded to the demands of the strikers. As there are only about 250 manufacturing firms in the city, the strikers have gained their point with nearly a fifth of them.

Thirty-two more contractors have also given in. They employ among them in the neighborhood of 500 men, all of whom have gone back to work.

It is learned that several of the local manufacturers are endeavoring to get their work done by contractors in Boston. The leaders will endeavor to get the Boston tailors to refuse to handle such work.

Ran Into an Open Switch.

Glenwood Springs, Colo., May 29.—An extra freight on the Denver and Rio Grande railroad, going west, ran upon the Cabasa siding to allow No. 4 passenger, the Atlantic express, to pass. The switch was left open. The first section of No. 4 ran into the open switch, derailing the engine, mail and baggage car and one passenger coach. Engineer John West and Fireman Denny Donahoy were instantly killed. The passengers were badly bruised and shaken up. Some had to be rescued through holes cut in the coaches. Some were cut with broken glass and badly scratched, but it is thought that none is seriously injured.

Flood Still Causes Suffering.

El Paso, Tex., May 29.—The flood situation is deplorable, but everything possible is being done to aid the sufferers. Tents have been secured from the government. The board of health has provided free medical attention for the ill, and a large amount of money and provisions have been contributed. The water is still pouring through the break which has occurred and is flowing steadily through the southern half of the city. No fatalities have occurred. The river dropped six inches, and it will probably drop a foot more. The water will shortly be under control and turned back into the regular channel.

Convicted of Conspiracy.

Philadelphia, May 29.—Bushrod W. J. Redheffer and his father, Aiman A. Redheffer, were convicted in the United States district court on charges of conspiracy and devising a scheme to defraud and using the mails therefor. The elder Redheffer walked out of court and is at large. Sentence was deferred. The method of the defendants was to advertise for business partners, those persons who accepted the proposition being subsequently victimized of money.

King George Again In Danger.

Constantinople, May 29.—The embassies received word from their respective ministers at Athens that the position of the Greek royal family is now critical. King George is practically barricaded in the palace, and it is reported that he is making his preparations to leave Athens in order to evade the fury of the populace. The relations between the king and M. Ralli, the premier, are very much strained, and the general situation is extremely serious.

Suicide by Shooting.

Montreal, May 29.—Corporal Rutherford of the Royal Canadian artillery, while alone in the canteen of which he had charge, shot himself three times in the region of his heart and died. He was 30 years of age and a native of Woodstock, Ont. Temporary insanity is alleged as the cause.

Seizure of Smuggled Cigarettes.

Montreal, May 29.—About 100 packages of cigarettes have been seized here by the officers of the international revenue department because they were smuggled in from the United States. The three people in whose stores they were found were each fined $50.

Pottery Proprietor Assigns.

Trenton, May 29.—Joseph S. Mayer, proprietor of the Arsenal pottery, has made an assignment. The liabilities are $30,000, with nominal assets of the same amount. The cause of the assignment is depression in real estate owned by Mayer.

A CLEVER IDEA.

That was a clever idea of the Plainfield (N. J.) Press in presenting its patrons with a souvenir copy of the paper in miniature, on the occasion of its tenth anniversary. The fac-simile pages of the Press measure 9½ by 7 inches, the reduction to this size making possible to read every word in the paper. The miniature Press was enclosed in a neat little cover.—News paperdom.

NO PRESS NEXT MONDAY.

The Daily Press will not be issued next Monday, but the interesting features in the way of news happenings that will be reported in Tuesday's paper will serve to soothe the pangs of disappointment that may ensue among those citizens who are accustomed to look to The Press each day for a truthful and bright word reflex of the local events.

HAPPY PLACE FOR POLITICIANS

There are more square inches of politics in New Brunswick and Middlesex county in general than any other spot in New Jersey. Politics is an all-year-around game there, and its players are never happy unless fighting.—Plainfield Press.

That's about right. If anybody wants to have some real enjoyment in politics, New Brunswick is the place to locate.—New Brunswick Fredonian.

TONING DOWN THE NEWS.

Among the objects of the new Taxpayers' Association at Asbury Park not set forth in its articles is a censorship of the press. The Executive Committee expects to keep scrutinizing eyes upon correspondents of out of-town newspapers and keep news of the Park "toned down."

TO MAUCH CHUNK.

One of the Central Railroads Popular Excursions.

Citizens of Plainfield will have an opportunity to visit Mauch Chunk, Glen Onoko and the Switchback Railroad, on Monday next, when the Central Railroad of New Jersey will run the first of its 1897 low rate holiday excursions to these popular resorts. It is the liberal patronage accorded these excursions that has justified their continuance by the Central. All that have spent a day riding to and from Mauch Chunk, the old town of antiquated associations and Indian legends, and visited beautiful Glen Onoko, the fairest spot along the Lehigh River, and enjoyed a pleasant ride on the Switchback gravity railroad, agree that no cheaper or more thoroughly pleasant a way could be desired for spending a holiday than this. Plainfield people have been to Mauch Chunk by the Central and many of them go annually by these cheap and highly respectable Jersey Central excursions. The special train, which leaves Plainfield at 9:28 a. m., will have attached a lunch car, from which food and refreshments can be procured at reasonable cost. Adult round trip tickets are $1 75. Children's tickets, $1.31. Switchback tickets, which should be purchased on the train, are, adults, 10c., children's, 25c.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore equires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manu'actured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken int nally in doses from 10 drops to a t aspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. SWEENY NOW HAS A WORD

He Replies to the Charge That He Influenced Young Whitlock

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—I have seen the article published in your issue of the 26th instant headed "The Right Story" signed "Mrs Helen C. Whitlock."

It seems that the writer intends to show that I am responsible for the voluntary confession made by her son Arthur. While I do not wish to be dragged into a newspaper controversy, prefering to wait until the courthave looked into the whole matter. I must say that the article is full of false statements, especially the statement that Arthur Whitlock was influenced and threatened by me to make the confession.

The truth is that he told to me, without any inducement or suggestion on my part, the exact facts he afterwards stated in his affidavit made to Justice Nash, therefore his attempted denial at the recent investigation at Elizrbeth is so "thin" that it merits no consideration.

The statement in the second clause of Mrs Whitlock's letter that "William Sweeny then took my son to the office of Justice Nash where this paper that you published was found and my son was not afraid to sign it" is absolutely foise. No paper was "found," but the Justice in his private office took Arthur's confession as has appeared, after having in my presence cautioned him to tell the truth only. Arthur's own testimony that he was not taken to Justice Nash's office until the third day after his confession is enough.

He had three whole days and nights to tell his mother or his friend, Miss Phelps, of any alleged influence or thereto.

Did he do it? The charge to keep all this a secret is, so far as I know, another absolute falsehood.

That Arthur is sorry that "he did not have courage enough to resist such influences" may, perhaps, be true, but he must be referring to the influences exerted by Miss Phelps for I could not, and did not, attempt to exert any. If he told the truth on the day of the trial why should he not have stuck to it.

There is no positive assurance that Arthur told the truth to his mother and I cannot see how she can so positively speak of him.

Regarding what may have been promised him, his own sworn statement is sufficient, or insufficient, as the case may be. With the same intention Mrs. Whitlock is anxious to show, I too, desire to set this matter right before the public, if the public cares enough to give it consideration.

Wm. Sweeny.

JUNIORS DANCED.

A Subscription Affair Given at the Park Club Last Night.

A very successful junior subscription dance was held in the Park Club house, last evening. The dance was arranged by a committee composed of J. P. Welles Taylor, E. Maxwell Honeyman and Arthur Murphy, and was independent of the Park Club.

The number of subscribers had been limited and a very pleasant feature of the dance was the fact that the number of guests corresponded with the size of the room. Refreshments were served at 11 o'clock and then the dancing continued until after 1 o'clock this morning. The committee was congratulated on its success in managing the affair and on the delightful evening they had arranged.

The patronesses were Mrs. J. W. Reinhart, Mrs. S. A. Cruikshank, Mrs. Pfeiffer and Mrs. J. P. Taylor.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

A large crowd assembled at Higgins' Hall last evening to witness the pool contest between players from Metuchen, New Brunswick and Plainfield. There was an extra large attendance at the meeting of Central Council, No. 131, Jr. O. U. A. M., last evening, and the affair proved a most enjoyable event in the lodge's history. The initiation of Bro. John L. Aiken took place first, and the meeting then threw off its formal character and assumed the character of a smoker and entertainment. A. R. A. Woidt rendered violin solos, William H. Ward furnished some excellent organ music, and Martin Snyder showed what wonderful things could be done with the cornet. Addresses suitable to the occasion were delivered by Bros. L. Hendrickson, of Elizabeth, S. W. Reese and E. W. Affleck. W. M. Stamets sang with excellent effect "The Death of Ellsworth," and as an encore, "The fellow that looks like me," and Samuel Knapp executed an interesting fling with his heels. Refreshments were next passed around, and for a time all other matters were forgotten in the pleasures of the feast. Several selections on the phonograph, given by H. Pearsall after the feast, were roundly applauded. The report of the fair committee was rendered, and a check for $210.74, representing the proceeds of the recent fair, was presented to the Council. The pipes were lighted for the last time at midnight, and the company dispersed, well pleased with the evening's enjoyment.

FALL OF RICHMOND.

THE FORTY DAYS FIGHT WHICH ENDED AT APPOMATTOX.

Greatest of All Campaigns, in Which Both Armies Fought With a Fury Born of the Knowledge That One Cause or the Other Must Find Final Defeat.

With the spring of 1864 the armies were set in motion across half a continent, and the iron leaders grasped the confederacy by the throat. Within a year afterward it had yielded up the ghost.

In the advance, the Army of the James, under Butler, was the left flank; the Army of the Potomac, under Grant, with Meade as the commanding general, was the center, and the Armies of the Ohio, the Cumberland and the Tennessee, under Sherman, were the right wing. Sherman was to sweep down from Chattanooga into Georgia, and carry the war into sections where a Yankee force had never penetrated. Butler was to operate in conjunction with the Army of the Potomac toward Richmond from the sea coast. Grant, marching southward, was to drive Lee backward toward Richmond and compel him to fight wherever he found him. Sigel, with a cavalry corps, was to devastate the Shenandoah Valley, burning the granary of Southern armies and creating a diversion in the rear of the Army of Northern Virginia.

Closing In.

It was literally a ring of fire that was drawn about the confederacy, when at last the northern columns got under way. Sherman led out from Tennessee 60,000 men, the flower of the Western armies. His campaign against Johnston through Georgia and his march to the sea gave to the literature of the rebellion its most romantic episode. When he cut the wires at Atlanta, abandoned his communications and his supplies, and disappeared from view he added a new science to the chapter of warfare. A month afterward Tecumseh and his "bummers" appeared before Savannah and the city, with its stores of cotton and provisions fell into his hands, "a Christmas present to the North," as he telegraphed President Lincoln. Then he swept up the coast toward the rear of Lee's army, having demonstrated, as he said afterward, that the confederacy was a "hollow shell," through which a hostile army could march anywhere.

Sigel was worsted in the Shenandoah Valley. Not until Grant had put Sheridan over his cavalry did it become the instrument of victories. But then it flashed back of Lee's army, tore up his railroad communications, and completed the campaign of 1864 by sending Jubal Early, defeated in every engagement, whirling out of the valley of the Shenandoah. Its decisive victories were potential in the Presidential elections of November.

With 130,000 men Grant himself crossed the Rapidan and plunged into the Wilderness. He found Lee waiting for him there with 70,000 men. For forty days his army wandered in a grimmer wilderness than that through which the freed Israelites passed. Every day there was a battle. Every night there was an advance. Step by step Lee was forced back from one intrenched position to another, until his army retired inside its last line of fortifications, and the long siege of Petersburg was begun. Thenceforth Lee never emerged from his intrenchments until that forlorn flight westward that ended at Appomattox Court House.

Forty Days' Fight.

The forty days' battles, bloody beyond description, contested amid the gloom of the forest and the miasma of the swamps, made the pulse of the world stand still with horror. Grant lost 55,000 men—killed, wounded and missing. Lee had fought from behind breastworks, on ground of his own choosing, and had retired always on interior lines. His losses were less, but they were too great for the waning confederacy ever to restore. The enlistments made to replace them, as Butler sententiously remarked, "robbed the cradle and the grave."

The fifth advance upon Richmond, with such bloody and indecisive incidents as the two days' fighting in the Wilderness proper, and the engagements at Spottsylvania Court House, on the North Anna, and at Cold Harbor, was successful because it ended with the Federal lines drawn about Petersburg instead of with a confederate army menacing Washington, and because the Army of Northern Virginia was never able to take the field again after the battering it had received while contesting that advance. And thus the year 1864 came to a close with Grant and Lee facing each other over the earthworks at Petersburg.

When the spring of 1865 permitted the renewal of hostilities, the Army of the Potomac, long baffled by the generalship of its opponent, came into its own. On March 29 Grant ordered a forward movement, and flung Sheridan at Five Forks. The war was over in eleven days. Three days after the movement began, Petersburg was evacuated. Richmond fell the next day, and Lee hurried southward by forced marches, in the hope of joining Johnston in North Carolina, and crushing Sherman before Grant came up. No braver or more pathetic picture than his flight presented has been set on an American background. Like a hunted fox the confederate turned hither and thither. His men, famished by insufficient rations, worn out by marching night and day, were dropping off by thousands and returning to their homes. His foragers fell into the enemy's hands or returned without food from the devastated country. When the half-starved columns would reach a provision train or a storehouse, they found it possessed by Federal troops, and their maddened sallies, more like bread-riots than assaults, were beaten back. Still they hurried on, and always on their heels thundered the Union cavalry, and the tramp of infantry grew louder. The rear guard was a perpetual battle scene, but the vanguard fled before, not halting to repel any enemy. In that headlong retreat, besides the grim casualties of the bullet and the desertions of whole brigades, 20,000 men were made prisoners before the shattered remnant of the once superb Army of Northern Virginia, 23,000 strong, was brought to a stand.

The End of All.

The end came suddenly. On the morning of April 9 Lee's advance guard reached Appomattox Court House, and there found Sheridan's cavalry drawn right across his path. He ordered a charge, and for the last time the veterans in gray raised the rebel yell and dashed at the enemy. But the cavalry was drawn aside like a curtain, and behind it in solid array stood the Army of the James. The chase was up. All around him the confederate saw the ring of fire. On the north and east lay the Army of the Potomac; on the south and west were the dusty legions of Sheridan and Ord. Would the last scene of civil war reveal its most awful tragedy? It was not to be. The white flag was run up, and that afternoon, in a little farmhouse near the apple orchard, Lee sheathed the sword of rebellion, and by his great magnanimity Grant converted it into the instrument of lasting peace. An hour later cheers in the captive army announced the arrival of beef, cattle and provision trains sent them by their generous foe. The officers of the Army of the Potomac were there already greeting old friends who had worn the gray. At last the shadow of war had passed from the land, and out of the blood-stained soil there was springing a grander nation.

THE PEACE COMMISSION.

President Lincoln's Preliminary Terms Precluded Further Negotiations.

From Personal Memoirs of U. S. Grant.

On the last of January, 1865, peace commissioners from the so-called Confederate States presented themselves on our lines around Petersburg, and were immediately conducted to my headquarters at City Point. They proved to be Alexander H. Stevens, Vice-President of the Confederacy; Judge Campbell, Assistant Secretary of War, and R. M. T. Hunter, formerly United States Senator and then a member of the Confederate Senate.

It was about dark when they reached my headquarters, and I at once conducted them to the steamer Mary Martin, a Hudson River boat which was very comfortably fitted up for the use of passengers. I at once communicated by telegraph with Washington and informed the Secretary of War and the President of the arrival of these commissioners and that their object was to negotiate terms of peace between the United States and, as they termed it, the Confederate Government. I was instructed to retain them at City Point, until the President, or someone whom he would designate, should come to meet them. They remained several days as guests on board the boat. I saw them quite frequently, though I have no recollection of having had any conversation whatever with them on the subject of their mission. It was something I had nothing to do with, and I therefore did not wish to express my views on the subject. For my own part I never had admitted, and never was ready to admit, that they were the representatives of a government. There had been too great a waste of blood and treasure to concede anything of the kind. As long as they remained there, however, our relations were pleasant and I found them all very agreeable gentlemen. I directed the captain to furnish them with the best the boat afforded, and to administer to their comfort in every way possible. No guard was placed over them and no restriction was put upon their movements; nor was there any pledge asked that they would not abuse the privileges extended to them. They were permitted to leave the boat when they felt like it, and they did so, coming up on the bank and visiting me at my headquarters.

I had never met either of these gentlemen before the war, but knew them well by reputation and through their public services, and I had been a particular admirer of Mr. Stephens.

After a few days, about the 2d of February, I received a dispatch from Washington, directing me to send the commissioners to Hampton Roads to meet the President and a member of the Cabinet. Mr. Lincoln met them there and had an interview of short duration. It was not a great while after they met that the President visited me at City Point. He spoke of his having met the commissioners, and told them that there would be no use in entering into any negotiations unless they would recognize, first: that the Union as a whole must be forever preserved, and second, that slavery must be abolished. If they were willing to concede these two points, then he was ready to enter into negotiations and was almost willing to hand them a blank sheet of paper with his signature attached for them to fill in the terms upon which they were willing to live with us in the Union and be one people. He always showed a generous and kindly spirit toward the Southern people, and I never heard him abuse an enemy. Some of the cruel things said about President Lincoln, particularly in the North, used to pierce him to the heart; but never in my presence did he evince a revengeful disposition—and I saw a great deal of him at City Point, for he seemed glad to get away from the cares and anxieties of the capital.

THE CONFEDERATE COW.

The Way She was Impressed into the Union Service and Paroled.

"Our regiment, the First Delaware, was on picket, and confronting the enemy. Barney, our Sergeant-Major, espied a cow, which had just escaped from the rebel lines, with a reb in hot pursuit, both coming towards neutral territory. Barney, seizing his sword, rushed towards the scene. Secesh, seeing the advance, halted. Barney ran up to the cow, and, waving his sword, gave her a gentle poke with it, and started her towards our lines. The rebel, astonished at the audacity, cried out: 'Hey, you damned Yank! bring that cow back here!' Barney flourishing his sword, looked back towards him, and responded: 'Who are you cursing, you darned rebel? The animal has seceded!' Giving the cow another reminder with his sword that she was needed in our bivouac, he brought her in triumphantly—several of the rebs, who had been drawn out by the colloquy, laughing at the signal discomfiture of their companion in arms. Barney, having milked the cow, turned her back toward the rebel lines, and cried out to the defeated Johnny that he didn't need her any longer. The last seen of her she was wending her way slowly to the enemy in quest of her calf, which was tied to a tree."

"THE ANIMAL HAS SECEDED!"

THE GRAND REVIEW.

General Grant's Modest Description of the Last Review.

"On the 18th of May orders were issued by the Adjutant-General for a grand review by the President and his Cabinet of Sherman's and Meade's armies. The review commenced on the 3d and lasted two days. Meade's army occupied over six hours of the first day in passing the grand stand which had been erected in front of the President's house. Sherman witnessed this review from the grand stand which was occupied by the President and his Cabinet. Here he showed his resentment for the cruel and harsh treatment that had unnecessarily been inflicted upon him by the Secretary of War, by refusing to take his extended hand.

"Sherman's troops had been in camp on the south side of the Potomac. During the night of the 23d he crossed over and bivouacked not far from the Capitol. Promptly at 10 o'clock on the morning of the 24th his troops commenced to pass in review. Sherman's army made a different appearance from that of the Army of the Potomac.

M'LEAN'S HOUSE, APPOMATTOX.

In which Gen. Lee met Gen. Grant and signed the terms of surrender written by the latter.

"The latter had been operating where they received directly from the North full supplies of food and clothing regularly. The review of this army therefore was the review of a body of 65,000 well-drilled, well-disciplined and orderly soldiers, inured to hardship and fit for any duty, but without the experience of gathering their own food and supplies in an enemy's country, and of being ever on the watch.

"Sherman's army was not so well dressed as the Army of the Potomac, but their marching could not be excelled. They gave the appearance of men who had been thoroughly drilled to endure hardships, either by long and continued marches or through exposure to any climate, without the ordinary shelter of a camp. They exhibited also some of the order of marching through Georgia where the "sweet potatoes sprung up from the ground" as Sherman's army went marching through. In the rear of a company there would be a captured horse or mule loaded with small cooking utensils, captured chickens and other food picked up for the use of the men. Negro families who had followed the army would sometimes come along in the rear of a company with three or four children packed upon a single mule, and the mother leading it.

"The sight was varied and grand. Nearly all day for two consecutive days, from the Capitol to the Treasury Building, could be seen a mass of orderly soldiers marching in columns of companies. The national flag was flying from almost every house and store; the windows were filled with spectators; the doorsteps and sidewalks were crowded with colored people and poor whites who did not succeed in securing better quarters from which to get a view of the grand armies.

"The city was about as full of strangers who had come to see the sights as it usually is on inauguration day when a new President takes his seat."—From "Personal Memoirs of U. S. Grant."

THE ARMY CROSSING THE JAMES.

A Stragic Movement of Grant in His "On-to-Richmond" Campaign.

The work of laying the great pontoon bridge across the James river began at four o'clock one afternoon in June and was finished before midnight. The bridge was 2,100 feet in length, and required one hundred and one pontoons. Gen. Horace Porter in an article in Century draws the picture of the memorable incident:

As the general-in-chief stood upon the bluff on the north bank of the river on the morning of June 15, watching with unusual interest the busy scene spread out before him, it presented a sight which had never been equalled even in his experience in all the varied phases of warfare. His cigar had been thrown aside, his hands were clasped behind him, and he seemed lost in the contemplation of the spectacle. The great bridge was the scene of a continuous movement of infantry columns, batteries of artillery, and wagon trains. The approaches to the river on both banks were covered with masses of troops moving briskly to their positions or waiting patiently their turn to cross. At the two improvised ferries steamboats were gliding back and forth with the regularity of weavers' shuttles. A fleet of transports covered the surface of the water below the bridge, and gunboats floated lazily upon the stream, guarding the river above. Drums were beating the march, bands were playing stirring quicksteps, the distant booming of cannon on Warren's front showed that he and the enemy were still exchanging compliments; and mingled with these sounds were the cheers of the sailors, the shouting of the troops, the rumbling of wheels, and the shrieks of steam whistles. The bright sun, shining through a clear sky upon the scene, cast its sheen upon the water, was reflected from the burnished gun barrels and glittering cannon, and brought out with increased brilliancy the gay colors of the waving banners. The calmly flowing river reflected the blue of the heavens, and mirrored on its surface the beauties of nature that bordered it. The rich grain was standing high in the surrounding fields. The harvest was almost ripe, but the harvesters had fled. The arts of civilization had recoiled before the science of destruction; and in looking from the growing crops to the marching columns, the gentle smile of peace contrasted strangely with the savage frown of war. It was a matchless pageant that could not fail to inspire all beholders with the grandeur of achievement and the majesty of military power. The man whose genius had conceived and whose skill had executed this masterly movement stood watching the spectacle in profound silence.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drives will receive your work.

SENATORS ACCUSED.

They Are Charged With Having Speculated In Sugar Stock.

RESOLUTION CAUSES EXCITEMENT.

Senator Tillman Asks For a Committee to Investigate—He Is Answered by Senator Aldrich, Who Denies the Insinuations—Tariff Considered.

Washington, May 29.—After a long period of silence Senator Tillman of South Carolina startled the senate by a speech no less dramatic in its delivery than sensational in its allegations. He preceded it by presenting a resolution for the appointment of a special committee of five senators to investigate charges of speculation by senators while the tariff bill was before the finance committee.

In advocating the resolution, Mr. Tillman threw aside the usual conventionalities of the senate and with a plainness of speech seldom heard about the halls of congress called on his associates to investigate the published charges of senatorial speculation and if found true purge the senate of those who debauched it. The senator had published articles read from the desk stating that senators had recently made large sums of money in speculating in sugar stock, and in one instance the name of a senator was mentioned. Mr. Tillman spoke for nearly an hour, every line of his speech being punctuated with intense invective.

Mr. Aldrich, in charge of the tariff bill, answered Mr. Tillman in a sweeping denial of all irregularity on the part of the finance committee, and a specific denial of charges that the Sugar trust had dictated the sugar schedule of the tariff bill.

The Tillman resolution was referred to the committee on contingent expenses of the senate.

Considerable progress was made on the tariff bill, 13 pages being covered. Several votes were taken during the day, but the finance committee had a liberal majority in every instance. The Democratic members of the finance committee made a strong effort to reduce the rates on window glass, but their amendments to this effect were defeated.

Consideration of Tariff Amendments.

Washington, May 29.—The members of the Republican side of the senate are generally pleased with the success of their plan for considering amendments to the tariff bill at night and are beginning to think they will be able to complete the consideration of the measure without any serious disagreement in their ranks. The finance committee generally conceded amendments which are insisted upon in the interest of party harmony.

It has, however, become apparent that many amendments will be necessary as progress is made, and the tendency is to in a general way increase the rates. Among the more important changes under contemplation are those affecting the Hawaiian treaty, the general reciprocity treaty, tea, beer, etc. The proposition in connection with tea and beer is to substitute for the proposed duty on tea and the proposed tax on beer a tax on bank checks, deeds, mortgages and other conveyances which will compensate for the loss of revenue which these two articles would produce.

The first proposition was to provide a tax only on bank checks, but this has been broadened so as to include other instruments indicating a money transaction. The committee has not definitely decided upon the substitution, but inquiry is asked as to the amount of revenue that could be counted upon from the source indicated, and senators familiar with the situation predict with the utmost confidence that the change will be made.

There is no doubt that the bill will, when concluded, carry some reciprocity provision, but the form of the terms of it are not yet determined. The friends of Hawaii are also very confident that the treaty between this country and that will be protected in some way.

An Investigation Probable.

Washington, May 29.—Senator Jones of Nevada, chairman of the committee on contingent expenses of the senate, has not yet called a meeting of his committee for the purpose of considering the Tillman resolution, making sensational charges in relation to the sugar schedule of the tariff bill.

It is believed to be probable that the resolution will be reported back to the senate and that that body will order an investigation. There may be some delay on the part of the committee in acting on the resolution, but the presumption is that if a report is not soon forthcoming a motion will be made to discharge the committee and bring the resolution before the senate. That would mean a direct vote, and it is believed that on such a proposition the senate would vote to consider the resolution and order the investigation.

An effort to discourage an inquiry is being made, and it is quite apparent that many senators do not want any, but if there is an insistence upon an investigation it can scarcely be avoided. The declaration of Senator Aldrich that the members of the subcommittee on finance courted the fullest investigation is regarded by some senators as a challenge which must be met and which can be met only with an investigation.

Searles Likely to Go Free.

Washington, May 29.—The trial of John E. Searles, secretary of the American Sugar Refining company, followed that of President Havemeyer, who was acquitted by order of Judge Bradley. The government presented its case very briefly, whereupon the defense, following the tactics pursued in the Havemeyer case, moved that the judge order an acquittal for three reasons, viz.:

That the questions Mr. Searles refused to answer were irrelevant to the inquiry, that they were individual, not committee questions, and that even if they were authorized by the senate resolution the senate did not possess jurisdiction. The motion was argued at length by the counsel on both sides after which the court adjourned until Tuesday, when Judge Bradley will deliver his ruling. A very strong impression exists that the judge will sustain the motion and throw the case out of court.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

TEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage

Lawyer Walter Williams rode his wheel to New Brunswick yesterday on a business trip.

A party of cyclists rode their wheels from New Brunswick to Plainfield yesterday and called on friends.

Messrs. Tallamy, of this city, have returned from Jamesburg, where they have been visiting relatives. They rode their wheel each way.

The plumbers and their many friends will meet at the corner of Front street and Park avenue on Monday at 9 a. m. for a cycle run to the Milburn races.

Peter B. Matthews, of Grove street, has examined the leading wheels of the year, but he has decided that the Apollo is the wheel for him. He has just received his new Apollo.

The entries for the Irvington-Milburn road race have closed. The list is a much smaller one than in previous years, numbering but seventy-five contestants. H. M. Alexander, the winner of last year's race, has entered again, and will be the scratch man. The contestants will be arranged in bunches this year, each being started half a minute apart, from nine minutes down to the scratch man. The course is rough and somewhat torn up in places, so that it is more than likely that the course record of 1:08:21 will not be lowered. Despite this drawback there will be much better facilities for witnessing the race, as several large grandstands have been built on each side of the starting point, which will assure a clear course at the finish. The policing of the course will also be much better, as some 500 wheelmen will be stationed at intervals from Irvington to Millburn.

AMONG THE STEPPESR.

Next Monday at the Dover Land and Driving Park Association there will be several good races. N. B. Smalley has entered his horse. "Bolette," in the three-minute class for a purse of $75, and W. L. Smalley, Jr., has entered his horse, "Belle," in the 2:35 class for a purse of $150.

The suit of Reed et als was discontinued. Summons were issued in the contract cases of Suhr against Totten, Reed et als against Frey, returnable June 8th, and the case of Green against King, returnable June 1st.

BLUE LAWS MAY BE ENFORCED.

Elizabeth Players Threaten to Retaliate on Golfers and Wheelmen.

County Detective Keron was instructed yesterday by Prosecutor Marsh to take steps to prevent any ball game being played next Sunday on the Linden racetrack. Detective Keron will have a force of deputies at the track on Sunday, and will arrest, under the Disorderly House act, the managers and members of the opposing teams if they undertake to play.

The manager of the Elizabeth ball team says that if his men can not play, then he will retaliate by stopping golf playing on Sunday at the Suburban Club grounds, of which association Prosecutor Marsh is president. For the past month golf playing has been freely indulged in by this club, without any interference from the authorities. The ball players claim they are being unfairly discriminated against in this matter by the County Prosecutor. They point out that in Newark, Paterson, Jersey City and other places Sunday ball is allowed by the authorities.

Threats are also being made to stop cycling on the Union county roads and streets of Elizabeth if ball playing is to be prohibited, because cycling, it is claimed, also comes within the blue law statute.

PUNCH HIT JUDY IN A GOOD CAUSE.

A Clever Entertainment Given for a Fresh Air Fund.

A sale and entertainment for the benefit of the "Life's" Fresh Air Fund was given at the residence of Augustus VanDeventer, of 3 Willow avenue, yesterday afternoon. The affair was arranged by Miss Eleanor T. VanDeventer and Miss Grace E. Overton, who had general supervision over it and took the leading parts in the entertainment, which consisted of a "Punch and Judy" show. It was given several times during the afternoon and proved very successful. It was given in a very effective manner.

The candy table was under the charge of Miss Mabel VanDeventer and Miss Halla VanDeventer. Miss Lucie Palmer Davis presided over the lemonade table, while the waitresses in the ice cream department were the Misses Emily Gould, Annie Jennings Marguerite VanDeventer and Frances VanDeventer.

The affair proved quite successful financially, over $30 being cleared.

In the City Court.

Most of the cases that were to come before the City Judge DeMeza, this morning, were adjourned until a later date as the necessary witnesses were not present. Several complaints were dismissed as the complainant was not present. The case of Albert Pruden for peddling flowers without a license came up, the Judge heard the testimony and reserved his decision. George Florence, of Somerville, Mass., was sent to Elizabeth for fifteen days for vagrancy and peddling without a license.

Wheel Slipped on a Wet Roadbed.

G. F. Brown, of Grove street, met with a painful accident early this morning while riding his wheel to the North Avenue station. He was riding through Grove street, which had just previously been sprinkled, and the extreme moist condition of the street caused his wheel to slip. Mr. Brown was thrown and sustained several severe sprains. He was obliged to return home and make a change of clothing. While his injuries are not serious, it is with great difficulty that he is able to walk.

ADJUSTING THE TAXES.

by himself had changed hands and there is due taxes which he is willing to settle with the city. Mr. Serrell offered a resolution that the claim be settled for 50 per cent. of the face value of the amount without the costs or interests. The above petition was the last one received and as the parties were willing to settle, Mr. Serrell thought it wise to effect a settlement at once.

Mr. Frost moved that certified copies of the schedule be furnished by the City Collector, and Mr. Serrell moved that all of the papers necessary be placed in the collector's hands.

This concluded the business of the evening and the council adjourned.

Percy Wheeler's Injuries

Percy V. Wheeler, who was injured in a fall from his wheel on the drive from Glenside Park, last Saturday, did not receive as serious injuries as was first supposed. They are bad enough, however, and will confine him to his bed for many weeks. He snapped the ligaments to one of the muscles of the abdomen and strained the others so that they are very painful. Mrs. Willard, who was his companion in misfortune, is still confined in the Muhlenberg Hospital where she is getting along very well under the excellent treatment. Her collar bone was broken in her fall and a portion of the flesh of her cheek was torn out.

—A tax on bicycles will be imposed by all assessors in Burlington county this year, but it will probably require an expert to determine the value of some of the wheels.
